ELEVATOR WEIGHT DECAPITATES YOUTH

Thos. Davidson's Fearful Sudden Death While at Work in the Traders' Bank Building--Nobody saw the Accident.

Toronto, Aug. 25. While the body of Thomas Davidson descended down the elevator shaft of the Traders' Bank building, his head rested on a cross-beam on the ninth floor, having been severed as though by a guillotine by one of the heavy weights of the elevator.

Davidson, who had been but a short while in this country, engaged at the Traders' Bank building about two weeks ago, to do general work about the building.

Saturday afternoon about 3 o'clock he was washing windows and cleaning about one of the elevator shafts, and to do this had to stand on top of the elevator and move it along as he cleaned.

He had reached the ninth floor, when in some way he stuck his head too far out and the weight of the elevator in the next shaft struck him on the back of the neck. His head was severed by the blow, and the headless trunk fell down the shaft, while the head remained on a crossbeam at the ninth floor.

Nobody seemed to be aware of the accident at the time it happened, but a young man who sells papers in the building on the ground floor heard the body fall to the bottom of the shaft and gave the alarm.

Full Moon Crisis Past--Crop Prospects are Good

Wwyburn, Sask., Aug. 25.—With the present high prices this province must certainly have the greatest development of its history.

Alread land prospectors from south of the boundary, who have been hanging back all spring and who have experienced bad crops and hard times this year in their own particular section of the American middle west, are flocking into the country here by the carload lot, and if this crop pulls through there will be a record movement north from the States next spring.

As to the crops and the probable average yield. The World has driven through the surrounding territory during the past week, and, on a conservative estimate, the whole yield will go at least 18 bushels on early seeding, and as much as 25 on late seeding, provided, of course, that the latter escapes killing by frost.

That estimate allows for 10 per cent. loss on total acreage by reason of sloughs and gopher damage, and is based on government reports and personal inspection.

Wyburn is, of course, famous over the whole continent as being the center of the red clay belt of the Canadian west, and the wheat crop in this district will run, on summer fallow and breaking, as much as 40 bushels to the acre. But this is one of the favored spots.

Now that the critical full moon season is over we can look for a month of fine weather.

Funeral of Late Miss Irene Hogan

Interment Took Place in the Little Lake Cemetery Yesterday Afternoon

The funeral of the late Miss Irene Hogan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hogan, took place from the family residence on McDonnel street, at three o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The floral tributes in sympathy with the bereaved family were numerous and costly. Some being sent and brought from Toronto, where the family resided many years before coming to this city some two years ago.

The obsequies were attended by a large number of friends and acquaintances both from a distance and of Peterborough.

The beautiful Anglican funeral services at the house and at Little Lake cemetery were conducted by Rev. Canon Davidson, rector of St. John's church.

Mr. and Mrs. Hogan and family are consistent and highly respected members of St. John's church, and have in the hour of their affliction the earnest sympathy of a large circle of friends by whom they are held in much esteem.

Lake Scugog is Low

The water in Lake Scugog is said to be lower than for many years past, and our fishermen are apprehensive that if a severe winter occurs the result will be another general freeze-out of fish. The people of Port Perry and the country roundabout, seem to have forgotten that the Trent canal is supposed to extend to that village. They should get busy and petition the government to maintain the level for navigation purposes.—Lindsay Post.

Bad Dreams

Frequently Due to Coffee Drinking

One of the common symptoms of coffee poisoning is the bad dreams that spoil what should be restful sleep. A man who found the reason says:

"Formerly I was a slave to coffee. I was like a morphine fiend, could not sleep at night, would roll and toss in my bed and when I did get to sleep was disturbed by dreams and hobgoblins, would wake up with headaches and feel bad all day, so nervous I could not attend to business. My writing looked like hard tracks. I had sour belchings from the stomach, indigestion, heartburn and palpitation of the heart, constipation, irregularity of the kidneys, etc.

"Indeed, I began to feel I had all the troubles that human flesh could suffer, but when a friend advised me to leave off coffee I felt as if he had insulted me. I could not do it. The idea it had such a hold on me and I refused to believe it the cause.

But it turned out that no advise was ever given at a more needed time for I firmly consented to try Postum and with the going of coffee and the coming of Postum all my troubles have gone and health has returned. I eat and sleep well now, nerves steadied down and I write a fair hand (as you can see), can attend to business again and rejoice that I am free from the monster coffee.

Ten days' trial of Postum in place of coffee will bring sound, restful, refreshing sleep. "There's a Reason." Read, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. Some physicians call it "a little health classic."

The Lindsay Post Waxes Sarcastic

Citizens Refrain from Lowering Peterborough Water Supply

Peterborough citizens are not suffering much from low water in the river. The papers of yesterday, referring to an excursion, says: The steamer left on her return trip about eight o'clock, and the journey home was somewhat slow on account of the condition of the water, which is about six inches below its normal height — Just fancy! Here the Scugog has dwindled to a shallow creek and citizens of high principle feel a sensation of guilt when they have occasion to dip a pail or two. That is because they realize that the water may be needed for Peterborough's industries.—Lindsay Post.

Senator Cox Had Large Party of Guests

Insurance Men View the Beauties of Kawatha Lakes

The representatives of the Canadian and American insurance companies, who have been in Toronto, attending the annual convention of the Nation Association, to the number of over 100, were on Saturday, guests of Hon. Senator Cox at Stony Lake. In the morning they passed through the city on a special train of three Pullman coaches and a day coach, to Lakefield, where they took the steamer Stoney Lake, which had been chartered for the day. The visitors were taken to Hon Senator Cox's new cottage at the lake, where refreshments were served by Mr T. H. Hooper of this city. They returned in the evening to Toronto by special train.

City Water Was Not to Blame

Dr. Bingham, M. H. O., Speaks Regarding Typhoid Cases

As there seems to be some uneasiness throughout the city, caused by the many cases of typhoid that have broken out recently, it may assure those who are nervous about using the city water works water, that Medical Health Officer, Dr. Bingham, noted on Saturday that in all one instance has the fever been traced direct to the use of this water. He says that each and every case has been contracted outside the city limits. It is reassuring to note that our drinking supply is not at fault. He further added that there are no cases of infectious disease in the city.

Norwood Makes Great Improvement

Mr. Cotton, of Orillia, who had the contract of putting down the cement walks in town, completed his work for this season last Saturday. Altogether about 37,000 feet has been laid, totalling, including cross building a concrete crossing at the corner of Peterborough and Colborne streets about $1,000. The balance of the $7,000 will be expended next season. The delentures have not yet been disposed of, but the council expects to find a purchaser before long. They have received an offer of ninety-two fifty from a Toronto broker but expect to do better than this.—Norwood Register.

PETERBORO HAS SWAT FEST BARRY DRIVEN TO THE BARN

Peterboro Bingle Hitters Slaughter Sailors at Riverside Park on Saturday Afternoon--Cobourg, with the Assistance of Barry of Providence and Toft of Toronto, Eastern League Battery, Meet Their Waterloo

Peterborough scored a notable victory over the Cobourg nine at Riverside Park on Saturday afternoon the score being 14—6. Just doubled the Cobourg score with an inning and one run to the good. Yes, and they hammered Barry, the clever Providence twirler, who held the Rochester team down to four hits, allowing but one run, in a ten innings game Friday, right off the dump. Then Forge, a Port Hope twirler, was tried and was found wanting. He was simply hammered all over the lot. The locals certainly had their batting clothes on, and were out to win. Jack Toft, the ex-Toronto Eastern League veteran catcher, has it that Manager Kelly could win the pennant if he would draft a few of our good ones. Poor, old Toft! It was not like this in the olden days (wonder if it was the Johnstown sweater!) Jacks says he was never at such a swatting bee during his ball career. "Why did I leave Toronto," were Johnny's remarks as he cast a longing look at the brewery. Well! It was just another of those good ones gone bad that so often fall to the lot of some of the big leaguers when they run up against a good snappy bunch of amateur ball players.

Let it be mentioned that the crowd was a record one, but it has taken a long time to wake up the local fans to the fact that we have a winning ball team that calls for the support of every true sport in the city. In previous games the locals have been playing just as good ball but their support from the citizens has not been up to the mark However, the fans have caught on and aroused from their lethargy, and now for the finals with Port Hope. The Riverside Park should be so crowded that the ground rule will have to be brought into force.

"Yebby" Flaherty and "Cap" Burridge, were the battery for the locals pitted up against the Eastern League battery—Barry and Toft—Result 14 to 6 in Peterborough's favor. This was not all the big guns that Manager Muthall of the visitors had imported as a few other players from the land of the Stags and Stripes were on the Sailors' lineup.

"Yebby" Flaherty, Peterborough's clever twirler, pitched in superior style to that of his opponents. Barry, who was unmercifully hammered all over the territory until he was taken out of the game in the 6th and Forge and Moffitt replaced him only for the locals to hand it out to them in the same fashion. Yebby pitched great ball all the time, and received good support.

A feature of the game was Anderson's running catch for a fly over second which he caught in one hand with his back to the ball. Cheatham's work at short was of the sensational kind, and his work with the stick was just as good. Another feature was the severe pounding the locals gave Barry the Eastern League star.

Only two Peterborough players failed to get over the home plate, while Cheatham, Burridge and O'Hearne scored three runs each.

Cobourg was first up and scored two, Moffitt getting over on Burn's drive, and Burns scoring on Callaghan dropping Turpin's fly.

Peterborough went right after Barry, the big leaguer, Burns starting the batting by hammering the first ball pitched for two sacks. Cheatham drove out another with a 2nd-bag tag on it, Burns going to third, O'Hearne tore off a long one to the suburbs scoring Burns and Cheatham, and going to 3rd on Hickey's sacrifice and scoring on Anderson's single. Callaghan beat out a liner to first but Anderson was caught cold on second and retired the side.

Flaherty dazzled the first three men up in the second and the best they could get were squibs. Peterborough also drew a blank in the 2nd, Cobourg doing likewise in the 3rd. Peterborough got back in their batting stride and Burridge sent one to to the brewery for three hops, came in on O'Hearne's single, O'Hearn stole 2nd, but was caught cold, Hickey fanned and retired the side.

Cobourg got two in the fourth and two in the fifth which ended their scoring.

fourth but went right after Barry in the 5th and 6th, with hammer and tongs, Cheatham and Burridge scoring in the 5th on O'Hearne's drive. In the sixth goor Barry met his Waterloo, he was pounded into the drink several times and the crowd went wild. It was more than Manager Muthall could stand for and his $100 prize was taken from the pedestal and Forge, a Port Hope twirler took the mound after Haliburton had scored on Cheatham's single and Burridge's 2-bagger brought in Burns and Cheatham, but the locals had a bat.

ing streak on and jabbed Forge hard. O'Hearne bringing in Burridge on a single, stole 2nd and came home on Anderson's hit. Callaghan drove one to the bullrushes for three sacks and Anderson scored. Forge was taken out of the box and Moffitt finished the twirling. Haliburton singled and brought in Callaghan and stopped the ascension by being caught on 2nd. 13—6. Peterborough added one more in the ninth, O'Hearne scoring. Final score 14—6.

Peterborough—Floyd took in Burns' fly, Cheatham grounded safe to center, and stole second, Burridge singled, Cheatham went to 3rd. O'Hearne's drive to the right garden brought in Cheatham and Burridge. Hickey fanned, Anderson lent out a grounder to 3rd. Callaghan out on forced run. 6—4.

SIXTH INNINGS—

Cheatham fumbled Burge's grounder, McKinnon flew to Flaherty and Burge was doubled up at 2nd. Barry made a long drive, getting 3rd, but Bentley spoiled things by flying to Flaherty 6—4.

Peterborough—Haliburton sit safe, Flaherty sacrificed, Haliburton going to 2nd, Burns singled, sending Haliburton to 3rd Burns stole 2nd, Cheatham singled bringing in Haliburton Burridge rapped one to the cow path and Cheatham and Burns came home—Barry was taken out of the box and Forge a Port Hope slab artist went in O'Hearne singled bringing in Burridge, stole 2nd and came home on Anderson's single, Callaghan walloped one to the drink for a 3-bagger, Anderson scored. Forge was taken off the dump, and Moffitt went in the box, Haliburton singled, bringing in Callaghan, but was caught stealing 2nd. 13—6

There was nothing doing for Cobourg in the 7th, 8th or 9th Flaherty just delivered three balls in the eighth to retire Cobourg.

In Peterborough's half of the eighth, O'Hearne first man up put the ball to the willows, and making the circuit This was all the run getting that was going, and the game

POP FLIES.

It was a terrible slaughter.

Every man on the local team deserves great credit, as they put the game of their lives.

Father Toft looked for the shands in the seventh when Burridge drove the ball to the brewery. It kept him "hopping" some.

Now for Port Hope! It will be an exciting run for the championship.

Invitations will be issued to the Eastern League outfit to witness the game with Port Hope. Just to see how amateur ball is played in the Midland League.

Surplus is claimed to be the best twirler in the Midland League.

Cobourg—"Oh! Why did we spend our money."

Cal Burridge prevents Toft from scoring.

Cure For Typhoid Drink Tea

New York, Aug. 25.—People riding home to the Bronx on the Third avenue elevated never dream, as their train up with the customary bump and snort at One Hundred and Twenty-ninth street that the quiet-looking gateman pacing up and down the platform with his eyes watching out for trouble, is a humanitarian—a benevolent angel disguised in the uniform of one of the Interborough's special officers. But such is the case.

Peter Buhr is his name, and he is one of the handsomest men on the line—the handsomest man on the East Side, 'tis said.

Last week when the Mayor of Trenton, N.J., was worried almost out of his official dignity by the spread of typhoid fever in his part of the State, he received a special delivery letter, and inside was a slip of paper marked "Cure for Typhoid Fever." Of course he opened it with trembling fingers, as was meet. Inside was the single sentence, "Drink cold tea and you won't have typhoid fever."

Signed to the letter was the name Peter Buhr, No. 1086 Second Avenue, New York.

"Yes, I sent the receipt to the Mayor of Trenton," said Peter Buhr, gateman at the One Hundred and Twenty-ninth street station, "and if he uses it he will find that it is a good thing. Years ago, when I was a little fellow in Austria, I got the secret from an old English army doctor who had fought through the Crimean war. Down there the soldiers died like flies on the cold side of a barn door, and the doctors found that cold tea was the only medicine that would help them. Whoever drank cold tea lived to fight again. It was a sure preventive. I have cured many people with this remedy. A few years ago, when I was a policeman stationed at Chatham square, my brother's children were taken ill at Los Angeles, Cal., where I still own some lots of land, and I wrote to them to drink cold tea. They took my advice and were saved."

Fifty Chinamen Live in One Small Room

Horrors of Vancouver's Chinese Quarter which Mr. Kier-Hardie Recently Visited--Cost $1.00 Per Week to Live.

In a general way the citizens of Vancouver know there is an Oriental quarter in the heart of the city infested by from 8,000 to 10,000 Chinese, says the Saturday Sunset of Vancouver, B.C. That the district occupies less than a fifth of the area that would be ordinarily occupied by that number of whites is also easily recognized. That the district is dirty, unsavory, ill-odored in the literal literal sense, and unfit for respectable white people to inhabit, is also understood. Women who pass through part of it on the way to the Great Northern depot gather up their skirts and step gingerly along the outside of the sidewalks as far from the odorous doorways of the Oriental hogs as may be.

50 IN ONE SMALL ROOM.

We invaded one room about 18 feet square, and in it got a practical demonstration in the art of herring packing as applied to Chinese. In one corner was a tiny cookstove, which was like everything else, encrusted with dirt. On it were tiny pots and pans alike innocent of soap. In the corners, in the middle of the floor, ranged wherever they could be put, were bunks upon each of which several Chinese sleep. These bunks are like low tables, being almost square in shape. Some of them are covered with filthy oilcloth, some with nondescript rags. Each bunk accommodates three to five Chinamen when they sleep or smoke their opium. There is no window or other ventilation in that particular den. In order to increase the accommodation sort of gallery is built between the floor and the ceiling. This gallery covers more than half the space of the room, and to walk beneath it a man must stoop. In the gallery are more bunks, thus increasing the sleeping "accommodation" of the apartment by fifty per cent. The stench of the place was horrible. In this hole fifty human beings eat, sleep, smoke opium and have their being.

RATS PLENTIFUL.

In this environment the Chinese, who next morning cook our breakfasts, exist. There are absolutely no bathing or washing facilities in these rooms. The only sanitary arrangements there are are located in the middle of the flat opening to the hall. Here the Chinese do such washing as they ever do. The arrangements are in a disgusting condition of filth, and the vile odors compel strong men to hold their noses when passing it. Rats run freely about the place. I doubt if a broom could be found in the entire building and soap was nowhere in evidence. Only dirt and rottenness, filth and decay; only squalor and unsanitariness, degradation and brutishness, meet the eye on every hand.

Ask That Trust Company Take Charge of Affairs

Toronto, Aug. 25.—Eric Armour, attorney for the bulk of the Italians holding claims against the Banco Gianetti, will move before the high court at Osgoode Hall, on Monday morning, asking that the Toronto General Trust Co. be appointed administrator of the estate of R. A. Giannetti. This is done so that the affairs of the bank may be reduced to something like order as soon as possible.

Bail in the sum of $400 was accepted after police court Saturday morning for D. Conforti, the Toronto clerk of the bank, $200 of this was his own bond. Rev. Merril, Italian missionary, supplied another $100, while the balance was put up by an Italian. Crown Attorney Corley, however, refused to consider bail, even at $20,000, the figure fixed Saturday, in the case of Vetromile and Martirano. They are lodged in the jail, on remand for a week.

The chief points of disquiet now are the possible disposition of any funds of the bank, which may lie in Fort William and New York. For the purposes of clearing up the American end of the matter, no stops will be taken until an administrator is appointed.

Apprehension with regard to the deposits and other assets of the Fort William branch of the bank is increased by the failure of Gratino Vetromile and Mario Giannetti, manager and clerk of that branch. These were expected at Inspector Duncan's office Saturday morning, but have not not shown up. It is feared that they may have eloped with the funds of the branch.

How much these funds total cannot be even approximately ascertained. It is known that thousands of dollars were sent there from the Toronto branch prior to the middle of June, and it is believed that the deposits made there were large.

A New York despatch says:

When Giannetti was last seen in New York he was preparing to open a bank at No. 48 Spring street, on the site until recently occupied by an Italian saving bank. Why the business was not opened is not explained, except that Gianuetti had not time to begin business here before he was killed, or killed himself.

Italian bankers in New York cannot understand the failure of the Toronto bank because Giannetti was regarded as being worth sufficient money to tide him over a crisis such as the one in his bank proved by investigation to be. He had, according to one banker here, money to pay the $48,000 and plenty to spare. He was rated in New York as being worth $200,000

Dentist Killed Patient

Broke His Neck in Pulling Difficult Tooth

Chicago, Aug. 26.—George Davis, 38 years of age, died in the County Hospital today of what was diagnosed by the physicians as a broken back. Davis came to the hospital about one week ago complaining of a pain in his back. His right arm was paralyzed, and the day following his arrival he was attacked with severe pains in the spinal column.

He told the physicians at the hospital that he had gone to a dentist to have a tooth extracted. The tooth was difficult to pull, and Davis said that the dentist had jerked him severely. It is believed by the physicians that the dentist dislocated a portion of the spinal column at the neck by his jerks.

Another Steel Plant Idea

British Columbia May Also Have a Big Steel Plant

Vancouver, B.C., Aug. 26.—J. T. Shadforth, of Newcastle-on-Tyne and one of the organizers of the North Pacific Iron & Steel Corporation, is here arranging for the amalgamation of the coal and iron interests preparatory to the erection of a modern steel works. They will make steel of all grades, including steel rails and ship plates, with a big shipbuilding plant. The initial capital will be raised in British Columbia, and a greater amount in Manchester and London.

The company will be registered for $15,000,000, of which $1,000,000 will be initial expenditure on plant, with a site near Vancouver. All the raw material is now found in British Columbia.

Little Boy Has Eyes Blown Out

Receives Dreadful Injury While Watching Father Blow Up Stumps

Vancouver, B.C., Aug. 26.—Having his both eyes blown out and his face smashed in great part to pulp was the penalty inflicted on little Charlie Mills, aged 13, son of Mr. D. Mills, of Central Park, and nephew and name sake of Charles Mills of Mills & Williamson, Ltd., of this city. The lad's father had been engaged for some time in clearing the property surrounding his residence. On Wednesday he had a stump prepared for blasting. He warned all the family to get around on the opposite side of the house from that on which the stump was located. They all did so but little Charlie. He had been all the time talking about this wish to see the stump go up in the air and to gratify his curiosity he sneaked away from the others and went back to watch the operations from a basement window. Part of the stump went up all right, but a large chunk was blown directly into the window from which little Charley was observing the operations with the terrible result above stated. Another little son of Mr. Mills had an arm broken in a fall a few days ago.

A Narrow Escape

On Sunday afternoon a young lady and her escort who were canoeing in Little Lake, had a rather wet time of it. They came in contact with a log and their canoe was overturned. The lady clung to the log but the young man had to swim. However, Ald. Duncan played the hero and saved them from their peril.

What Does It Mean?

Dr. Hamilton Gives a Full and Satisfactory Explanation.

Look at your tongue!

Sometimes it's heavily coated sometimes it's clear and red.

Study this out and you'll find some interference with the functional activity of the body.

This means the bowels are not regular, the liver is sluggish and the blood is contaminated.

Strong cathartic pills act so destructively on the intestines as to provoke deathly sickness; this often frightens people from taking medicine when they badly need it.

To the multitude of dangerous purgatives now on the market, Dr. Hamilton's Pills are a notable exception, they neither gripe, cause sickly feeling or headache, yet they cleanse and purify the entire system in one night. No other laxative acts with such mildness and certainty. Giving proper stimulus to the liver and kidneys, strengthening the stomach and lending valuable aid to digestion, it's small wonder that such marvelous results accompany Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

Mr. Geo. O'Hagerty, of Amherst, N. S., writes; "Last winter I worked in a lumber camp and neglected my health. I was dreadfully constipated and had a headache that fairly made me reel at times. I was sick and miserable, and hadn't the slightest ambition to work or stir around. I felt heavy and dull and had a bad taste in my mouth. I sent into the city for Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which I knew were good for my condition. They fixed me up very quickly and have kept me in good condition ever since. There are other men in the camp that use Dr. Hamilton's Pills also. They say they wouldn't be without the pills for ten times their price."

Every dealer in the land sells Dr. Hamilton's Pills—25c. per box or five boxes for $1.00. By mail from N. C. Polson and Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

AN IMPENDING CONFLICT

Canadian and British newspapers are now beginning to realize the dangers involved in the awakening of the Orient. The leading papers in Toronto and Montreal concede that there is more danger ahead from the source mentioned than they have hitherto been prepared to admit, and in the strength of their protests put their western contemporaries somewhat in the shade. When we look at the capital of the Empire, we find a growing appreciation of the nature of the situation. The Times says that the question involved is "one of economic competition in the same area of races differing wholly in habits and standards of living and disinclined to amalgamate." The Telegraph says that "the standard of life among the Australian American democracies would be utterly undermined by unrestricted Asiatic competition and the unrestricted ingress of labor from the Far East would be more insidiously and totally destructive of white labor than war itself. In a word, this is not a color question; it is fundamentally an economic question." Further elaborating its view, the Telegraph says;

We may wish that it were possible that the Britons overseas would be willing to count the Japanese as white men, and consider them as fit to be assimilated into their communities. Whether we like it or not, however, we have got to admit the fact that the opinion is not held by the inhabitants of Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, or the Pacific provinces of Canada. The inhabitants of these communities realize, in view of the immense capacities of the Japanese for emigration, that if they were once to allow the Japanese full and free rights of access and occupation, they would be obliged to look forward in the future to a mixed European and Japanese polity, and to abandon their ideal of a white Anglo-Saxon self-governing state. Much as we respect the Japanese, much as we detest the usual phenomena of racial and color prejudice, strongly as we condemn and sternly as we would punish the monstrous outrages, which have occasionally been committed by the white man on the yellow man, we are bound to say that in the last resort we cannot wonder that the self-governing English-speaking communities of the Empire are determined to remain white men's countries, with all that that involves, and will not run the risk of letting the land they live in and the land they love be made a ground for an experiment which has never before been tried in history—the experiment of a community of mixed European and Asiatic blood founded on a fusion of the social, religious and moral ideals of the two continents.

People sometimes talk as if it were possible to segregate the Asiatic and the European, and to let each live his own life side by side without jealousy or interference. Those who argue thus do not realize the conditions of colonial life. It is, no doubt, quite possible in Egypt or in India for a small number of highly-paid officials to segregate themselves and to produce a European community governed by European ideals within the Asiatic polity. When, however, working men of the yellow race live side by side with working men of the white race, no such life in water tight compartments is possible. The races must either mix, or one must go. Let our readers, who are made indignant with the logic of these facts put themselves for a moment in the position of a working man in Australia or New Zealand.

Can they honestly say that they would like to live as gentleman in a relation of proximity side by side, and on an absolute equality, with men and women of the yellow race, with their children in hourly intercourse with the children of that race, and with those children and themselves called upon almost daily to choose whether they would conform to the moral, intellectual and social standards set by Asia upon all sorts of questions, including matters of religion and sex, or those set by Europe? We do not wish to argue here whether the European standards are necessarily better, and we are fully aware that a Japanese may often put to shame a European in matters of morality, temperance and self-restraint. The fact remains, however, that the moral and social and political ideals are different, and we, at any rate, have no hesitation whatever in declaring that for our people the Christian civilization is infinitely the better, and that every effort and sacrifice must be made to maintain it, and to reject its dilution with that which we think is lower, and which, at any rate, all must admit is conflicting in essentials."

Has Been Committed To a Sanitarium

New York, Aug. 21.—The Baroness Annie Harden-Hickey, daughter of John H. Flagler, has been committed to a sanitarium in Connecticut by order of the Probate Court in Stamford. There is said to be little hope of cure. Her mental breakdown is traced back to the death of her husband.

John H. Flagler, her husband, has been appointed conservator of her fortune, which is said to be almost entirely in Standard Oil stock.

The Baroness Harden-Hickey was Miss Annie Flagler. She married the French nobleman in 1899. The Baron was shipwrecked on the island of Trinidad and got an idea of becoming king of Trinidad. He took the title of James I, but England objected, and a cruiser of that country took away the entire kingdom to the United States.

The Baroness was Queen of Trinidad then for a time, the kingdom being supported on her money. When her husband died she went abroad, but was brought back from France to this country when her health began to be impaired.

Millions In a Razor

New York, Aug. 21.—W. J. Anderson, who arrived here last night from the Panama canal zone, has in his possession a razor that may identify him as the heir to an estate in Ireland worth millions. Just where the vast property is not known, but family history has passed the implement on from youngest son to youngest son for many generations, with the expectation of the ultimate reward.

Mr. Anderson came on the Royal Mail Packet liner Tagus, in from Colon and Kingston, Jamaica. He had been employed on the canal as an engineer, and is on his way to his home in Columbus, Ohio. The family is of Scotch-Irish descent. The mysterious razor is over two hundred years old. Anderson received it from his father, with the admonition that, according to the traditional custom, the young man must hand it down to his youngest son, and, if he has none, must will it to a cousin. The final purpose, according to the tradition is to have the razor identify its owner as the heir to the mysterious estate.

British Journalists Eulogize the West

Winnipeg, Aug. 23.—The government party of British journalists arrived at Winnipeg this afternoon, having travelled over 1,100 miles through the wheat growing country served by the Canadian Northern Railway. Mr. McConkey, chairman of the party who visited the West four years ago, before the Canadian Northern Railway main line was completed one-third of the way to Edmonton, expressed gratification with the remarkable developments of the country in the interval and mentioned as a striking, though by no means unique demonstration, the case of Vonda which tendered the visitors a cordial reception and presented them with an address from which it was learned that in 1905, when the railway reached that district, one hundred thousand bushels of wheat were reported that last year the quantity was five hundred thousand and this year it is expected to be seven hundred and fifty thousand. Mr. McConkey pointed out that this was equivalent to one pound of grain for each man, woman and child in the British Isles, and let no hand a surplus of five million pounds.

Tomorrow morning the party leaves by special train from Winnipeg by the Canadian Northern Railway for Port Arthur, en route to the Maritime Provinces.

MILTON'S MOTHERS.

By W. F. BRYAN.

Copyright, 1907, by E. C. Parcells.

Bess gazed through the open window, out past the school yard with its well beaten earth, trampled hard and smooth by the play of generations of children, through the orchards, now pink and white with the promises of fruition, down to where the river wound its silvery length between green banks and tiny islands.

It would be hard to give it all up, and yet before her on the desk was the formal communication from the school board of Milton township notifying her that her services would not be required during the ensuing term.

The note was cold and formal, but for weeks past she had known of the battle being waged against her. The only objection was her age, but every mother with a marriagable daughter or son had urged this objection upon the school board. Milton township was not overwell stocked with young men, and this girl from the city, with her self possessed ways, her stylish clothes and her bright face, constituted a menace to the mothers.

For once they united in a common cause and urged Bess' removal. The dimple in her chin, the soft color of her cheeks, the laughing brown eyes, the rippling hair and the delicious curves of her throat each constituted an objection that found common expression in the cry that she was too young to manage the young men who formed the upper class in the winter term.

"There's Jed Stroughton," urged Mandy Mills. "Why, he's two years older'n she be. And him trottin' over to her house every evenin' t' git help with his Latin! What does the boy want of Latin anyhow? Of course it was the teacher he wanted. When I was a girl and taught school, you c'n remember I used to whale the boys good. They never had a chance to flirt with th' teacher then."

Si Judson, chairman of the board, told himself that that was in part responsible for her continuation in a single state of blessedness, but Mandy was the sigteer of the editor of the Banner, and Si wanted to be town clerk at the next election.

So each of the other members had been approached, and the result was the letter that lay on the desk in front of the girl. Had she been re-engaged she might have spent the summer in Milton. Now she must go back to the hot city and, haunt the teachers' agencies until something else offered for the coming year.

Slowly she rose to her feet and went to the door. At the threshold she paused a moment and looked around. Her eyes filled as her glance swept the empty benches and the ghastly white walls with the faded maps. She had been happy hre in Milton. She was looking at her schoolroom for the last time.

She slipped across the road to Judson's house and delivered the keys into the keeping of the grim faced Mrs. Judson.

"I should like to say goodby to Mr. Judson," she faltered. "He has been very kind to me this winter."

"I sent him over to the Center," his mother said stiffly. "Si ain't got no call to be gaddin' about with young girls. 'Tain't decent."

She closed the door with a nice shade of emphasis that just avoided a positive slam, and Bess turned away toward the river. She loved the river. It was both companion and comforter, and as she reached the bank she sank into a little nook formed by a screen of bushes, and the tears that had been sternly repressed all day flowed unchecked.

When she had first come she had looked forward to the long summer days which she would spend by the river. Then she had been full of enthusiasm, and there was no question in her mind as to her continuance in the position. Now, just as the river seemed at its best, she was going back to the city. She recalled with a shudder her struggles of the year before. Her father had died just after she had graduated from college. When the small estate was settled it was found that he had lived up to every penny of his income. There was just enough left to pay his outstanding debts and leave a couple of hundred dollars for the girl. The half of this had gone for board while she sought a position. The rest, together with her small savings, must go this year. She had commenced the drudgery of life. She could meet it bravely, but it tore her heart to leave the river and the country that she loved so well.

She should see the river in town, she knew, a broad, silent stream, covered with shipping and discolored by the tides and refuse. It would be a gray ghost of her old friend, a tantalizing reminder of the river she had lost. She was still sobbing when a sharp staccato bark resounded and a small terrier bounded into view.

Bess rubbed her eyes confusedly. The dog was fawning upon her in a very paroxysm of joy. Surely it would not be Tony, and yet—on the glistening collar plate she read the name, "I am James Harvey's Tony. Tell him he's lost me." Tony was a ghost from her other life, and she threw her arms about his wiry little neck and buried her head upon his shoulder.

James Harvey, coming softly up to see what cause the dog had tracked, paused a moment to contemplate the picture. Another instant he had sprung forward.

"Where did you drop from, Bess?" he demanded. "I have been searching the four corners of the globe for you."

"I have been right here," she said steadily as she offered a cool, soft hand. "I had to do something, so I decided to put to use my only talent. I am—or, rather, have been—the teacher of district 4."

"And the terror of every mother with a son or daughter of marriageable age," he completed, with a laugh. "I have been hearing about you, but 'the teacher,' never Miss Mayo."

"They are all wrong," she cried bitterly. "I did not want their sons, nor the [illegible] wanted to be left alone to earn my living, and they would not do it."

"I understand," he said gently. "I studied in old school 4 myself when I was a shaver. This is my home town, you know."

"You came from Milton?" she asked. "Somehow I thought you had been born in the city."

"I am a traitorous son," he laughed. "This is my first visit here since I left for college. I have bought up the Milton pulp mill and am going to settle down here for the summer. I suppose you realize that you are a trespasser on my land this very minute?"

"It won't be for long," she smiled sadly. "I am leaving for town in the morning to find a school for next year."

"Why not stay here?" he urged. "Bess, you must know that I love you, dear. I felt I ought to wait until you left Bryn Mawr before I spoke, but I thought you understood."

Scarlet flooded her face. She had thought she understood, but when the crash came Harvey had given no sign.

"I was in Europe when your father died," he went on. "I was on a pedestrian excursion, and word did not reach me until well toward the end of summer. Then I hurried home, and you had left no trace. May I say now what was in my heart then? Will you marry me, dear?"

She restrained her impulse to yield. "It is not because you are sorry that I have lost the position?" she demanded.

"It's not a question of sympathy," he said. "It is love—love that was born long ago."

"Do you know," she said pensively, "I was trying to realize what it would mean to go back to the city and leave the river behind? I have grown very fond of the river, Jim."

He took her in his arms with a happy laugh. He was familiar with her oddity of expression and knew that, while she spoke of the river, there was a deeper reason.

"Now let the alarmed mothers set their minds at rest," he said as he settled himself with his arm about her. "A most dangerous person has been made harmless by Ivan Cupid. I think I am a public benefactor to Milton."

"You are more than that to me," she whispered contentedly as, with her head against his shoulder, she looked out across the silvery blue water and realized that through it she had found peace and the man she loved.

COPPER A 5c. POSSIBILITY

Always the persons who make fortunes are those who seize opportunities. Trudge along in the conventional rut and you will never get away from the counter or the desk.

Fortunes—the greatest mining fortunes in the world—are being made to day by the men who own Copper Mines. You couldn't buy stock in one of the big-paying, developed mines. You CAN buy stock in a mine undergoing development, and if you BUY IN THE RICHT PLACE the fortune will come.

I want you to come in and see me about the proposition I have in the Guggenheim Greenwater Copper Company's two properties at Ely and at Greenwater, Nevada. The recent copper finds at Ely are attracting the interest of a whole continent. The property which this Company owns there is in the best section. The workings are now down fifty feet, and the prospect brightens with every foot. The manager tells me he expects to strike it rich any day. So soon as he does, up goes the stock with a bound.

I still can offer a limited number of shares at 5 cents each. It's the easiest chance at a fortune you've ever had. See me about it at once.

THE CONQUEST of CANAAN

By BOOTH TARKINGTON,
Author of "Cherry," "Monsieur Beaucaire," Etc.

COPYRIGHT, 1905, BY HARPER & BROTHERS

quartet of those dark strollers who never seem to go to bed, who play by night and playfully pretend to work by day:

You know my soul is a-full o' them-a-trub-bils
Er-ry mawn!
Then le'se go on—
Keep walkin' on!
These times is mow'owful, an' I am pow'owful,
Sick an' fo'lawn!

"Mamie?" she called.

"Hush!" Mamie lifted a warning hand. "The windows are open," she whispered. "They might hear you!"

"Why haven't you gone to bed?"

"Oh, don't you see?" Mamie answered in deep distress. "I've been sitting up for you. We all thought you were writing letters in your room, but after papa and mamma had gone to bed I went in to tell you good night, and you weren't there nor anywhere else, so I knew you must have gone out. I've been sitting by the front window waiting to let you in, but I went to sleep until a little while ago, when the telephone bell rang, and he got up and answered it. He kept talking a long time. It was something about the Tocsin, and I'm afraid there's been a murder downtown. When he went back to bed I fell asleep again, and then those darkies woke me up. How on earth did you expect to get in? Don't you know he always locks up the house?"

"I could have rung," said Ariel.

"Oh, oh!" gasped Miss Pike, and after she had recovered somewhat asked: "Do you mind telling me where you've been? I won't tell him, nor mamma, either. I think, after all, I was wrong yesterday to follow Eugene's advice. He meant for the best, but I"—

"Don't think that. You weren't wrong." Ariel put her arm round the other's waist. "I went to talk over some things with Mr. Louden."

"I think," whispered Mamie, trembling, "that you are the bravest girl I ever knew—and—and—I could almost believe there's some good in him since you like him so. I know there is. And I—I think he's had a hard time. I want you to know I won't even tell Eugene."

"You can tell everybody in the world," said Ariel and kissed her.

CHAPTER XVII.

"NEVER," said the Tocsin on the morrow, "has this community been stirred to deeper indignation than by the cold blooded and unmitigated brutality of the deliberate murder committed almost under the very shadow of the courthouse cupola last night. The victim was not a man of good repute, it is true, but at the moment of his death he was in the act of performing a noble and generous action, which showed that he might have become if he lived a good and law fearing citizen. In brief, he went to forgive his enemy and was stretching forth the hand of fellowship when that enemy shot him down. Not half an hour before his death Cory had repeated within the hearing of a dozen men what he had been saying all day, as many can testify: 'I want to find my old friend Fear and shake hands with him. I want to tell him that I forgive him and that I am ashamed of whatever has been my part in the trouble between us.' He went with that intention to his death. The wife of the murderer has confessed that this was the substance of what he said to her and that she was convinced of his peaceful intentions.

"When they reached the room where her husband was waiting for her Cory entered first. The woman claims now that as they neared the vicinity he hastened forward at a pace which she could not equal. Naturally her testimony on all points favoring her husband is practically worthless. She followed and heard the murdered man speak, though what his words were she declares she does not know, and of course the murderer, after consultation with his lawyer, claims that their nature was threatening. Such a statement in determining the truth is worse than valueless. It is known and readily proved that Fear repeatedly threatened the deceased's life yesterday, and there is no question in the mind of any man, woman or child who reads these words of the cold blooded nature of the crime. The slayer, who had formerly made a murderous attack upon his victim, lately quarreled with him and uttered threats, as we have stated, upon his life. The dead man came to him with protestations of friendship and was struck down a corpse.

"It is understood that the defense will in desperation set up the theory of self defense, based on an unsubstantiated claim that Cory entered the room with a drawn pistol. No pistol was found in the room. The weapon with which the deed was accomplished was found upon the person of the murderer when he was seized by the police, one chamber discharged. Another revolver was discovered upon the person of the woman when she was arrested on the scene of the crime. This upon being strictly interrogated she said she had picked up from the floor in the confusion, thinking it was her husband's and hoping to conceal it. The chambers were full and undischarged, and we have heard it surmised that the defense means to claim that it was Cory's. Cory doubtless went on his errand of forgiveness unarmed, and beyond doubt the second weapon belonged to the woman herself, who has an unenviable record.

"The point of it all is plainly this: Here is an unquestionable murder in the first degree, and the people of this city and county are outraged and incensed that such a crime should have been committed in their law abiding and respectable community. With whom does the fault lie? On whose head is this murder? Not with the authorities, for they do not countenance crime. Has it come to pass that, counting on jugglerles of the law, criminals believe that they may kill, maim, burn and slay as they list without punishment? Is this to be another instance of the law's delays and immunity for a hideous crime, compassed by a cunning and cynical trickster of legal technicalities? The people of Canaan cry out for a speedy trial, speedy conviction and speedy punishment of this cold blooded and murderous monster. If he is not dealt with quickly according to his deserts the climax is upon us, and the limit of Canaan's patience has been reached.

"One last word, and we shall be glad to have its significance noted. J. Louden, Esq., has been retained for the defense! The murderer before being apprehended by the authorities went straight from the scene of his crime to place his retainer in his attorney's pocket! How long is this to last?"

The Tocsin was quoted on street corners that morning, in shop and store and office, wherever people talked of the Cory murder, and that was everywhere, for the people of Canaan and of the country roundabout talked of nothing else. Women chattered of it in parlor and kitchen; men gathered in small groups on the street and shook their heads ominously over it; farmers, meeting on the road, halted their teams and loudly damned the little Canaan jail; milkmen lin-

Troubles of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—mean Stomach weakness, always. And the Heart, and Kidneys as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. Immigration Figures.

Immigration from Great Britain is increasing, and immigration from the United States is decreasing.

The immigration department has noted this for some time, and the figures for May last emphasize it.

During May, 1906, there were 37,191 immigrants of all classes, and during May of this year there were 45,677, which is an increase of 23 per cent.

Advices from the Northwest state that the cause of the decrease of American immigration is the rapid rise in land values.

Already 200,000 immigrants have arrived in Canada this year, and it is expected that the total immigration will reach the unprecedented figure of 300,000.

Warned by a Thistle.

It was thought by the Danes to be cowardly to attack an enemy after nightfall, but on one occasion they deviated from their usual rule. On they crept, noiselessly and unobserved, in their bare feet, upon the unsuspecting Scotchmen. When near the camp one of the Danes trod upon a thistle and in his pain cried out. This aroused the sleeping Scotchmen, and they gave the alarm. The Danes were defeated with terrible loss of life, and ever since that time the thistle has been the insignia of Scotland, with the motto, "Nemo me impune lacessit."

PAIN

Pain in the head—pain anywhere, has its cause. Pain is congestion, pain is blood pressure—nothing else usually. At least, so says Dr. Shoop, and to prove it he has created a little pink tablet. That tablet—called Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablet—causes blood pressure away from pain centers. Its effect is charming, pleasingly delightful really, though safely, it surely equalizes the blood circulation.

If you have a headache, it's blood pressure.

If it's painful periods with women, same cause.

If you are sleepless, restless, nervous, it's blood congestion—blood pressure. That surely is a certainty, for Dr Shoop's Headache Tablets stop it in 20 minutes, and the tablets simply distribute the unnatural blood pressure.

Bruise your finger, and doesn't it get red, and swell, and pain you? Of course it does. It's congestion, blood pressure. You'll find it where pain is—always. It's simply Common Sense.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry must be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made on certain conditions, by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of the homesteader resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Six months' notice in writing should be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of intention to apply for patent.

Even Her Blood Turned to Water

When Dying of Pernicious Anaemia Her Life Was Saved by

..Ferrozone..

Probably very few cases are on record in which an absolute cure has been made of pernicious anaemia.

But Ferrozone did cure Miss Elaine Stanhope—cured her absolutely, and her mother Mrs. G. Stanhope of Rothesay, Ont., says the following:

"My daughter complained of feeling tired. She was very pale and listless, and kept losing strength till too weak to attend school. The doctors prescribed different bottles of medicine but Elaine kept getting worse instead of better. She had Anaemia and we were afraid for a while that she might never rally. We read of a similar case, that of Miss Descent of Stirling, Ont., being cured by Ferrozone, and this induced us to get it for Elaine. It took three boxes of Ferrozone to make any decided improvement, but when six boxes were used my daughter was beginning to be her old self again. It didn't take much longer to make a complete cure, and I am convinced that there is no better blood-maker than Ferrozone. It has made a new girl of Elaine. She has gained ten pounds in weight and looks the picture of perfect health. She is stronger and enjoys the best of spirits. The credit of her recovery is entirely due to Ferrozone."

Every young girl and young woman can make herself strong and healthy with Ferrozone.

Complexion soon becomes perfect, nerves get new strength, tiredness vanishes—perfect health is the reward for using Ferrozone, which is sold by all druggists—price 50c. per box; don't fail to try it.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

CANADA A HOAX.

Dissatisfied Immigrant Relates His Experiences Out West.

A resident of Huntingdonshire who came to Canada intending to settle, but returned to the Old Land dissatisfied, thus describes the Dominion. The country, he says, is "a hoax" and civilized people cannot live there at all events with comfort. Our friend relates his sad experiences. He travelled by colonist tram as far west as Calgary, and found the journey long. The train proceeded by night as well as by day, and the sleeping accommodation in the cars was not first-class, owing to the crowd and the absence of pillows and mattresses. Food was purchased at way stations and was dear - twopence for an apple, two-pence half-penny for an orange, and the same price for a box of matches.

At Calgary everything was wrong. There was no city employment to be had, and for laboring work elsewhere the pay offered was but $18 a month, with all found. The homesteads are terrible places. The settler occupies a shack, a rough wooden structure, and his furniture is rude and primitive. He lives on plain food, and often goes for days without a shave. In fact he is a worn-out and listless looking fellow, who has perforce to revert to a condition of life akin to that of the savage. "I tell you," adds the critic of Canada, "there is not one man in a hundred who, like myself, goes out in entire ignorance of Canadian farming and gets on. He may tell you he does, in his letters, but that is due to his British pride." There is a disposition on the part of friends of Canada in England to attack this dissatisfied visitor, who returned by the next ship. But this attitude is scarcely fair. The fact is the wrong man went to the wrong place. We are not all built on the same plans, and persons who are educated for city life are not likely to find happiness on the homestead in its pioneer days. What this writer proves is that there must be care in the selection of settlers. Instead of inducing city people, or persons brought up without any knowledge of agriculture, to emigrate, the Government must bend its efforts to the introduction of farmers or farm laborers with a little money to pull them through the preliminary difficulties. To such, life in a shack is no drawback, while the accompanying hardships, seeing that they point to something good in the future, are not matters of serious complaint.

All pioneer work is accompanied by drawbacks of the kind referred to, but these can be avoided if the settler has sufficient money with which to begin operations in better style. If the money is not at hand, it may be saved by "roughing it" for a few years. There can be no doubt that the newly-arrived western settler, if not well provided with means, has to put up with many things that are irksome. But his lot after all is smooth compared to that of the pioneer in older Canada who had to clear his land of trees and stumps before he could plant his corn. That the position of the settler calls for patience under difficulties, and for a readiness to bear hardships, there can be no question, but these qualities, thus invested, bear good fruit, as the many successes achieved on the prairies abundantly prove.

Round-Up Wild Horses.

Ranchers and prospectors along the boundary have gone into the hills of Southern British Columbia to round-up several bands of wild horses which the Legislative Assembly of the province have branded as pirates, authorizing any one to shoot or capture them at stated periods of the year, after notifying horse owners so that tame animals may be claimed. Range riders say there are more than 2,000 wild animals in the bands.

The nucleus of the herd was formed in the fifties, veteran horsemen say, when explorers and prospectors rode on horseback from eastern to southern States. Many pioneers perished in the search for gold, but their horses survived.

When the gold fever was at its height in the Caribou district in the sixties many horses were brought in from the south for pack and saddle purposes, and as there were no roads it was the easiest thing for these animals to leave the trail and join those enjoying the freedom of the wilds.

The horses seen in the hills along the border little resemble the stock from which they sprang. They are long-haired, savage creatures, and show speed that would cause a sensation on a race course. They weigh not more than seven hundred pounds, all bone, muscle and sinew.

The ranchers have declared war against the pirates as a means of protecting their own animals which are frequently lured into the hills.

Shooting In "The Rockies."

"I was shooting goats in the Rocky Mountains, and came very near indeed to death. The largest of those I had shot was only badly wounded. I ran forward to despatch him, forgetting where I was. He struggled—a poor beast, and I, anxious to end his sufferings, never marked where I was going till I saw the goat vanish, and felt myself slipping slowly and steadily after him down a steep slope, which ended abruptly on the edge of a precipice.

With desperation I dug my feet and my rifle into the snow, arresting my progress, but only for a moment. Then I realized, with sickening conviction, that the shale beneath the snow was slipping, and that I must slip with it into the gulf below.

I lay perfectly still, dumb with horror, and I well remember shutting my eyes for the inevitable plunge.

And then, on the very ragged edge of eternity, I came to a blessed full stop. I do not remember how I crawled back to life and sound ground, but I was dripping with perspiration, as if I had just come out of the hottest room in a Turkish bath.

Next day the wounded goat was found, stone dead, some 3,000 feet below the spot where he had disappeared.—Horace Annesley Vachell, in The Windsor Magazine.

ELECTIONS

THE ROYAL BABY.

King Alfonso XIII.'s Son and the Spanish Succession.

The birth of a male heir to the Spanish throne has for the present simplified the question of the succession, a matter that has been responsible for much disturbance in the empire as well as in the rest of Europe.

The trouble was acute so long ago as 1700, when Charles II. of the house of Hapsburg died childless after making Philip, grandson of Louis XIV. of France, his successor. This first Bourbon king of Spain was not recognized by the other powers till after a long war, concluded in 1713. Philip, known as the fifth of Spain, proclaimed the Salic law the next year, limiting the succession to his male descendants.

His great-grandson, Ferdinand VII., one of the royal victims of Napoleon's ambition, was restored to the throne in 1813. In 1829 he married his fourth wife and abrogated the Salic law in spite of the protests of his brothers and of the French Bourbons.

His daughter Isabella, born in 1830, was proclaimed queen on his death, three years later, with her mother as regent. Isabella's uncle, Don Carlos, asserted his claim to the throne under the Salic law, but the regent succeeded in maintaining her daughter's position. Don Carlos' descendants have ever since been pretenders to the Spanish throne. The present Carlist claimant is his grandson.

Queen Isabella was driven from Spain by a revolt in 1868, and two years later the Spanish succession caused a fresh commotion in Europe. The proposition to call to the throne a prince of a branch of the Prussian royal house of Hohenzollern was the apparent though not the real cause of the great war of 1870 between France and Germany.

The throne was offered to Prince Amadeo, a son of King Victor Emmanuel of Italy, but the task of governing Spain was too much for him, and after a few years he abdicated. Then a republic was set up, but it lasted only two years, and Alfonso XII., the son of Isabella, was restored to the throne without the shedding of a drop of blood.

On Alfonso's death in 1885 his daughter Maria succeeded him and was queen till Alfonso XIII., the present king, was born a few months later, the ninth of the house of Bourbon to rule over Spain.

If the new prince should die and Alfonso have no other children his sister's son would succeed him, and in the remote contingency of the direct line of descent from Ferdinand VII. becoming extinct the Carlist claimant would become king.—Youth's Companion.

MONTREAL PAPER MALIGNS THIS CITY

Important Metropolitan City Paper Contains Gross Errors as to the Moral Standing of the Citizens of Peterborough.

Peterborough is just now in that advanced stage of advancement, both commercially, industrially and socially, that unfair and unjust criticism throughout the press of Canada might combat to our serious disadvantage.

Now Peterborough, beyond dispute, for a manufacturing center, with a population of over 15000 is a decent and law abiding community far beyond the general average. In making this statement one has to discriminate between, or compare the efforts of the local police and the general morality and sobriety of the local community. Still look at this matter, as one may, Peterborough, as a community, is, in the first place, well policed by a staff far below the average number as compared with the population; Chief Roszel has attained a record all over the Dominion for the efficient work done in arresting local or transient offenders. In the second place the number and class of arrests, and the causes therefore are a matter of record in black and white, and no city in the world, has need to be ashamed of the record of Peterborough.

Still a Montreal daily paper of recent issue, has the following, almost slanderous statement regarding the decency, sobriety and morality of a city rapidly, on her own merits climbing the ladder reaching to national distinction. This Montreal paper which must have received its intelligence from some writer who drew on his imagination, irrespective of what the city's reputation may suffer.

The Montreal article reads as follows;

"Peterborough, Ont., Aug. 22.—Peterborough is suffering at the present time from an epidemic of crime among the women At the police court this morning the prisoners' dock was filled with women, who monopolized the attentions of the magistrate, not a male offender being on hand to the eight or ten female prisoners company. The charges against them ranged from keeping a dog without a license to assault, one of the number being in court on a charge of giving one of her neighbors a thrash ing. One of the women, charged with being drunk and di sorderly, came to the city yesterday on a "Methodist excursion from Belleville."

Now whilst not desiring to quarrel with the Montreal paper for printing what it possibly received in good faith, we must add that patriotic citizens of our universally beloved city must regret to see such exaggerated accounts, sent out broadcast at "so much per."

Western Frost Croakers Should Be Shown no Quarters.

Winnipeg, Aug. 27.—A gentleman of the highest standing in the grain trade has within the past week concluded by special train a tour of about 1,000 miles through many of the finest wheat sections in Manitoba and portions of Saskatchewan.

"I did not see any sign of damage by frost," was his statement to a correspondent. "The tenderest garden stuff and flowers were untouched, and it is, therefore, reasonable to suppose that the wheat has not been damaged.

"It is impossible to say in a day or two what damage might be done to wheat by an examination of the wheat plants, but all outward evidences go to show that the wheat is perfectly safe and sound.

"The country is looking fine, and prospects are very good, but no one, not even the most expert of present day prophets, can foretell the ultimate result of the harvest."

There is a strong feeling among many grain men that frost croakers should be shown no quarter.

They have no ground for their scares up to date, and their predictions so far have not been fulfilled.

The trouble with most of them is that they are loaded with wheat.

Little can be added to the above. The situation today is perfect, so far as the weather is concerned.

If frost keeps off, harvesting will be general in ten days.

WILL MR. SIFTON RETURN TO CABINET?

If He Surrenders It Will Only Be in Response to the Persuasions of the Premier and Western Liberals--Charles Devlin Succeeds Scott

Ottawa, Aug. 27.—The great question of the moment here is whether or not Mr. Sifton will re-enter the government. It is known that Sir Wilfrid Laurier is anxious to have him accept a portfolio and that Mr. Sifton is very reluctant to do so. It is understood, also, that Western Liberals generally are pressing for Mr. Sifton's return and insist that without his capable administration and strong managing hand the government will not do nearly so well in the West next year as it did in the two previous general elections. It is not believed, however, that Mr. Sifton would re-enter the government as minister of the interior. If he should yield to Sir Wilfrid Laurier's request he would probably become minister of railways or minister of public works. Mr. Sifton is now deeply involved in important business interests and even if he were so disposed could not readily return to the government. It he does surrender it will be in response to the strong and persistent persuasion of the premier and the urgent representations of [illegible] nothing in the story that if he should decline to accept a portfolio he would stand for an Ontario constituency. He would continue to sit for Brandon, and thus the West would have no fewer than three members in the government. If Mr. Graham accepts a portfolio he will no doubt be the candidate for Brockville Mr. Derbyshire retiring and accepting a senatorship after a judicious term in retirement. Mr. Devlin will succeed Mr Scott, while it is understood that Sir Richard Cartwright will remain in the government. He is reported to retire and certainly his hand will not be forced by the prime minister. It may be that at the expiration of Sir Mortimer Clark's term of office as lieutenant-governor he may be succeeded by Sir Richard and thus opportunity for filling his place in the cabinet may offer before the next general election. Mr. Pugsley becomes a minister and will be the government candidate for St. John, N.B.

Are Hard Times Coming?

A Contraction in Business in the United States Is Generally Conceded--Pace Has Been Too Fast

New York, Aug. 27.—Are conditions such throughout the country that hard times are coming? The World, through its correspondents, has asked this question of merchants, bankers, manufacturers, capitalists and farmers in every section of the United States. The answers given show a wide divergence of opinion as to the present situation. In the financial centers of the East a contraction in business is generally conceded. That it will lead to hard times is not believed. General manufacturing, however, even in the East, is reported to be enjoying high prosperity, the textile industry being especially favored.

In the West the reports show that commerce is still going on at high pressure. Counting on fairly good crops, the fear of hard times is generally scouted. In the Northwest prosperity is relied on to continue.

The South also reports conditions looking to a continuance of good times.

Here and there a warning is sounded and by the few the prediction is made that hard times are coming. In nearly all sections a reasonable conservatism is urged, and the remark frequently is made that the "pace has been too fast."

Rich. Davis Let Iron Fall on Foot and Severely Injured His Toe

Yesterday morning one of those unfortunates, but seemingly inseparable accidents that occasionally occur in large factories, occurred in the C.G.E. Co. shops when Richard Davis was hurt. It seems that he let a was hurt. It seems that he let a large casting fall on his left foot and his big toe was so badly smashed that it was found necessary to amputate it at the second joint. The accident occurred shortly after nine o'clock. The Dan Spence ambulance was called and the injured man was taken to Nicholls hospital where Drs. Young and Bradd performed the operation.

PROBE THOMAS CASE.

Wiarton Citizens Would Investigate the Affair to the Bottom--Attorney-General's Instructions

Wiarton, Aug. 27.—In the case of the woman, Agnes Thomas, held for the shooting of Philip Gilbert last week there is a strong disposition in Wiarton to push the prosecution. The story told by Mrs. Thomas that she shot in the air is not believed.

People do not want the raider prosecuted, for it is felt that there is a certain amount of justification for their action because of the inactivity of the authorities.

It is understood that Crown Attorney Dixon, of Wiarton, has received instructions from the attorney-general that the case be prosecuted.

Rev. Wm. Smythe, in his sermon Sunday night, scored the authorities for not taking action, and advocating the forming of a vigilance committee to take up such matters.

Mr Geo. Schneider Writes from Germany

Interesting Letter from a Well Known Peterboro Business Man.

The following letter addressed to Mr. W. H. Robertson, of The Times, from Mr. George F. Schneider, who is travelling in Germany, will be read with interest. Mr. Schneider and his sister, Mrs. C. Reshor, his sister-in-law, Mrs. Frank Schneider, and his father, Mr. George Schneider, are on a prolonged visit to England, France and Germany.

Bischweiler, Alsace, Aug. 12, 1907.

Dear Mr. Robertson,—As it is some time since we were in Peterborough, perhaps a few of the folks would like to know what we are seeing out here. Everything is very different to what it is in Canada. This town is very old. The houses are very solidly built, and some of them date as far back as 1587. They are all built solidly on the street line close together, like store fronts. To get into the yards you have to go through heavy wooden gates set in the walls; the streets also are very crooked. The houses are built of timber frame and between the beams brick are laid rough, and then afterwards plastered. The timbers of the frame not being covered with plaster, shows all over these old houses and gives them a very picturesque appearance. The windows and door frames are usually of brown cut stone, and the roofs are covered with red tiles. The windows are covered with heavy solid wooden shutters.

The streets are mostly of rolled gravel, but the government road through the town is paved with squared stone. The sidewalks,—well, in this place every one has to build his own, and the result is comical—a very few have cement walks, the most are of gravel, sand or cobble-stones set in sand, with the result that most people take the middle of the road in preference to the sidewalks. The gutter on the outer edge of these walks is constructed of cement all over the town, just like that piece in Peterborough in front of J. R. Stratton's house. The roads all through the country are, for military reasons, kept in the pink of perfection. At every little dip are heaps of broken and crushed stone ready to fix up any bad spots, and men are going over these roads constantly keeping them in repair.

In this town, although it numbers over 10,000 inhabitants, you could not tell where the main street is. Stores are in any old place; everyone has the old fashioned shutters. There is no such a thing as an awning in the whole place. If the sun shines too strong on one side of the street, all the shutters are put up. The storekeepers and the clerks seem to take things leisurely, and the windows do not look as if window dressing was cultivated as an art.

As this place is close to the French frontier, it has a large garrison of soldiers. Just now they are getting ready for the autumn manoeuvers. Going along the country roads you will meet whole battalions marching along the way singing as they go, making for the positions assigned to them. Although the weather is very warm, it is no go-as-you-please march. Every coat is buttoned tight, belts, knapsacks, etc. in order. You can see the perspiration running over the boys' faces, but no one ever stops to even rest and wipe it off as they swing along. The idea of the German government is to have the soldiers so hardened that they will be ready to take the field at a moment's notice. Around here you will see the soldiers drilling, marching through the country, and target practicing constantly.

The people here all seem to be working at something or other. The hours in the factories and working at the trades are longer than in Canada. In a cabinet and furniture factory I saw here, they started work at 6 o'clock, in the morning and work until 12 o'clock, knock off one hour for dinner, then work again from one until seven. They do this every day of the week, Saturday included.

The highest wages in this place are for carpenters 4 marks a day. A mark is the same as our quarter. Plasterers get from 6 1-2 to 4 marks, painter about the same. The girls working in the cotton, wool and jute bag factories make about 2 marks per day.

The market days here are a curious sight. They are usually held Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays at 7 in the morning and are over by 10. Early you will see the women coming into town pushing little four-wheeled carts with wicker tops, something like large baby carriages. These are full of all sorts of country products. They just spread their goods out on the cobble stones of the street and sidewalks and wait for customers. Fruit is sold by weight, and eggs at so much apiece. The first customer you will see tackling a basket of eggs, sorts them all over to get the largest. Then merchants bring their cloth, crockery, tinware, etc., and also have it spread out all over the road.

In this country around here is said to be some of the best land in all Germany. The country looks beautiful, there being no fences to be seen, except in the villages, towns and cities. The land is all divided into little patches, each cultivated by a different owner. These patches are in all sizes, 10, 15 or 20 spades wide and from 100 to 200 feet long. They are divided from each other by a furrow furrow. Thus one patch will have grain, another clover, or hops on pole for grapes, etc., as the case may be. As these patches are so small they are all cultivated by hand. Just now you will see men and women in the fields reaping and mowing with sickles and scythes. This seems strange to Canadians, but in a place like this you will see more women working in the fields than men. As most of the men work in the factories and the women are left to cultivate the fields and thus add to the family income. (Another thing, you will see more cow teams than horse teams. There seem to be no pastures like in our country. The cows are all kept in stalls and fed in the stable. The clover or corn is cut daily as they need it. The floors of these stables are usually of hard clay or cement, and gutters are made which run from them to a large open cemented tank in the yard to which all swill and waste water from the house is conducted, and into which all the manure is thrown. As the manure is wanted it is drawn from them to the land, the solid part in wagons and the liquid, which they consider the best, in large barrels.

As there are so many people living here, they have to work close. Thus we say in Canada we have not population enough to develop the country, but too much population seems to me to be a great deal worse for the majority of the inhabitants; it enforces competition until everything is forced or cut down to a bare living standard.

The fields at present look fine; every thing is cultivated like a garden. Coming down the Rhine you will see on the steep hillside miles of little stone walls running in tiers up the sides of the hills. These walls are for keeping the soil from being washed by the rainstorms off the hills into the river. Fancy going to the trouble of building stone walls most from 5 to 6 feet high, all up and along the sides of rocky hills to keep soil on them, but on these hills are grown the finest grapes in all Germany. The hills are so steep that fertilizers, etc., have to be carried up to the land on baskets strapped to the back.

London, Aug. 27. —William Henry Battle, F.R.C.S., in a remarkable lecture delivered at St. Thomas Hospital declared his belief that the bread of appendicitis was due to the world-wide use of American steel-rolled flour Such an authority as the Lancet says, "We are inclined to think there may be good foundation for Prof Battle's theory."

Several theories have been suggested lately to account for the enormous increase in the prevalence of the disease. After discussing some of the suggestions, Prof Battle brings forth the idea that minute particles of iron are the real cause He shows that the great increase in appendicitis first occurred in America just after steel and iron rollers had been introduced for grinding wheat. The increase in appendicitis occurred first, he says, in towns where rolled flour was first used. Then it spread to villages, and lastly to negroes, who earlier had escaped and this spread corresponded with the spread in the use of rolled flour An invasion of England followed The much lower cost of American flour made it almost impossible for any extensive grinding of flour to take place in this country

If Prof Battle's explanation be correct is should be expected that iron particles would be found in the centre of the appendical concretions, and so they are Prof. Battle says that in a typical case of appendicitis in which an operation was performed he found in the center of the concretions irregular fragments of iron

Farmer's Rig and Contents on Fire

Shirts, Curtains, and Other Goods Partly Destroyed

Yesterday morning at about eleven o'clock a farmer and his wife had an experience that would remind those who have had a similar disaster at sea of "the ship afire." This farmer and his wife, whilst driving south on George street called at several stores and purchased sundry supplies, including a large number of drygoods. It seems that the farmer, who has seen the summer and winter sun rise and set for many years, must have dropped a cigar or match, but his wife alleged the former, among the paper wrapped articles recently purchased. Shortly after leaving a George street store, the farmer's wife, with that intuition generally accorded to women, noticed a smell of burning drygoods. Under her directions, the good agriculturist got busy in trying to discover whence the smell of fire came. This was quickly discovered at the rear of their rig in which the carefully stored packages were merrily burning, the flames being augmented by the rig's progress through the air. The driver quickly turned at Charlotte street and driving up the alley way at the rear of Messrs. Demetrie Bros., confectionery store, pulled the horses to a halt.

Then the rig was rapidly unloaded of its contents and partly burnt sheets, collars, calico and other drygoods were quickly unloaded and the flames extinguished. The buggy was badly scorched, in fact burnt. The bottom of the rig was almost burnt through and many square feet of paint and varnish were blistered and will require many shekels to replace in their former condition. However, the good farmer was able to leave for home during the evening, after duplicating some of their purchases.

Looal Man Optomistlo Regarding the West

Dr. Morrison Met Several from Peterborough in the West

Dr. Morrison, who with his good wife has been visiting in the far west has returned. Dr. Morrison went to Brandon and then throughout the country. In the district around Brandon and Souris and in the southwest part of Manitoba generally the doctor reports that the crops are splendid and the farmers expect a yield of from 20 to 25 bushels per acre. "The report that there was frost last week in the west is not true," said the doctor. "The farmers are beginning to cut their wheat this week. There will not be such a hard time in the west this winter as last, as the farmers are getting in their supply of coal."

Dr. Morrison met Mr. B. F. Ackerman in Souris, and in Winnipeg, where he spent a day, he had a chat with Mr. R. M. Denniston, who is busy all the time. Dr. Morrison also spent a day at Fort William. He enjoyed his trip very much, and he thinks the west a great country, and a land of opportunities.

A Live Eel in a Looal Water Pipe

Yesterday morning as water was being drawn through a Peterborough water works pipe in front of a hotel on Hunter street, an eel (not a microbe of a maskinonge, but a wriggling slimy, but edible cross between a fish and a snake) was captured The eel in question measured about 14 inches in length—a moderate length for such aquatic hybrids, when captured in a mill race—but a good length to get through a water works pipe The eel spoken of here is now in possession of Mr. Vason Berry of the hotel staff, who has it in a bottle. A leak was discovered yesterday in a pipe and the men under Foreman Dick Martin, have been repairing it. While engaged at this work the eel was thrown out by one of the shovellers during the afternoon. At first the men thought the thing was a snake, but it turned out to be a lively eel This discovery of future stewed eels may save consumers the trouble of going angling, but it is not every day that such a rare prize as an eel is captured.

Still, whilst such an inexplainable resident may have occurred, and the squirming "critter" found, it is better to get a live edible eel than an twentieth of a milligram of suspicious typhoid germs Godd Ceasor's ghost! Keep up from microbes, but send us, (preferably by express) all the eels and lunge that our limited exchequer will permit.

Terrible Vengeance

Carrolsburg, Penn., Aug. 26.—James Jack and Charles Davis, employees of the Standard Tinplate Company, quarrelled in the mill yesterday and Jack, who is of powerful physique, seized his antagonist, carried him bodily to a cinder pile and hurled him into a mass of red hot cinders. Davis was probably fatally burned. Jack was arrested.

The Feeling Is Running Very High in British Columbia

Vancouver, Aug. 27.—At a meeting of the Japanese Exclusion League last night it was urged that a strict boycott should be established against all umber sawed by Orientals, all mines worked and all fish handled. All the canneries are worked by these people. The situation is daily becoming more alarming.

Ottawa, Aug. 27.—Hon. T. Nosse, Japanese consul-general, was shown a despatch in which it was stated that violence is threatened on the part of the citizens of Vancouver if more Japanese are landed. In reply he furnished your correspondent with the following statement;

"The enactment of any anti-Japanese immigration law in Canada would give immediate rise to an international question between Britain, Canada and Japan, for the reason that, by the treaty of friendship, commerce and navigation made last year between Japan and Canada, this country is bound, under article 2, to give to the Japanese the same entire freedom of entry, residence and business occupation as the Dominion extends to any of the European nations, to say nothing of our position as an ally of Great Britain, to which bond Canada herself is a party.

AGAINST DISCRIMINATION.

"The Japanese government, moreover, would never entertain any idea of allowing their people to be discriminated against.

"As to the special arrangement between us in the matter of immigration, by which you claim we are still bound, I should explain that this voluntary understanding was made some time since, and that by it the number of Japanese coming to the Dominion was restricted to five or six hundred per year, exclusive of merchants, students, and of those of our people, about three thousand in number, who have been naturalized in this country, together with the families of the latter, and that there is no obligation on the part of the Mikado's government to observe it.

A VOLUNTARY RESTRICTION.

"It is a purely voluntary restriction on the part of the Japanese government made out of sympathy to the Canadian government, for the benefit of our own people, and with the desire of preventing any irritation on the part of British Columbia by the flooding of the labor market.

"Under this understanding the number of Japanese immigrants into Canada was limited to five or six hundred yearly exclusive of students, merchants, and of Japanese who have been previously naturalized in this country, whose number is some three thousand.

"This understanding has been faithfully observed by the Japanese Government, and I have no fear of its being departed from on the part of the Dominion government, as I have perfect confidence in its good faith and in the sound and impartial judgment of its distinguished leaders."

Dogs Are Acting Like the Australian Dingoes

Lindsay Post says;

A pack of savage, half-wild dogs has infested the farms and woods of North Ops, and are overrunning the country, subsisting on the domestic animals and flocks of the farmers, and are causing the latter endless worry and trouble.

The canines hunt in packs and the victims are generally chickens, ducks, geese, small pigs, etc. Mr. John Jackson, one of the farmers who is losing considerably by these depredations, made a complaint to Chief Vincent recently He stated that several farmers had suffered to some extent from the ravages of the dogs Mr. W. J. Lee had 24 ducks killed. Mr T Helm had one killed, and he (Jackson), actually saw a turkey being carried off by a lean-looking hound Pigs, calves, and not even cattle, are immune from the savage attacks of the marauding pack The farmers have endeavored to shoot them, but with little success, the dogs being extremely sly and wary. They hide in the grain, poking their heads up to see if the farmers are approaching.

One theory that has been advanced is that the dogs are the half-strayed animals that crept the streets of Lindsay. It is thought that when hunger presses them they form into a pack and go hunting for prey. The nuisance is one the farmers are determined to stamp out because if the town dogs once form the habit of visiting the country farmyards and sheep folds the situation will be intolerable.

Police Court

Yesterday was a busy day at the police court as "drunks and disorderlies" helped to swell the city treasury funds to the extent of $19.00, and this was all paid in cash. As is known the drunks who do not, or will not, nor will their friends, pay up, become a charge on the community or their subsistence, as their board has to be paid at Castle Nesbitt by the city.

The $19 was made up as follows, Chas. McGrath paid $2 for having been d. & d. Saturday. Then James Malcolm, Alfred Dabbs and John Baker were each assessed $5 for the charge of d. & d. This $15 was put up. Baker also got it where the chicken gets the axe for $2 extra for destruction of property; said destruction was the breaking of a bicycle bell and a cell window at the police station cell department. John also raised the additional $2

Yesterday afternoon word was sent to the police station that a drunk was raising hurry mell at the corner of Stewart and Simcoe streets. Constable Chas McGinty, who happened to be in the station, went to the scene at once On arrival he found the man acting in a disorderly manner The officer proceeded to put the d & d under arrest The man however put up a stiff fight, and McGinty was impelled to draw his club After giving the disorderly one a tune or two over the shins and a slight tap on the cranium, the man accompanied the constable to the station On arrival, and while being locked up in a cell, the drunk put up another fight P C McGinty got his muscular frame to work and landed his prisoner behind the bars, where he at once succumbed to the efforts of Morpheus and went asleep He will face the magisterial music this morning.

Watery Blood

Nerves are Weak
Face is Pallid
You Lack Strength
You Look Sickly.

Until You Ironize and Fortify the Blood There's No Hope of Cure.

Thousands of tired workers need the invigoration, the strength, the nerve-force which Ferrozone can supply.

Ferrozone imparts strength because it nourishes.

Once the blood is vitalized, its tonic influence is circulated to every nook and corner of the blood, carrying new life with it.

Cases on record prove that Ferrozone builds up when else fails. Mr. Alonzo W. Douglas, of Woodbridge, Ont., says: "I desire to state the results I derived from the use of Ferrozone. Two years ago I was stricken with pneumonia. So severe was the attack and so reduced was my strength that my life was despaired of. I had the very best medical attention, but made no progress towards recovery. When reduced to practically a skeleton, a kind friend told me of the remarkable powers of Ferrozone. An improvement began almost at once. I gained steadily in weight and strength until Ferrozone made me a new man. I will gladly answer inquiries from other sufferers if they care to have further particulars about my recovery. Ferrozone deserves its great measure of success."

When a man in Mr. Douglas' low condition can be quickly cured, aren't the chances good for you? Don't fail to try Ferrozone. Price 50c. per box at all dealers.

PETERBOROUGH, AUGUST 26 1907.

A BRITISH SOCIALIST M. P.

Victor Grayson, a young man of twenty-five is entitled to the distinction of being the first avowed Socialist to obtain a seat in the British parliament purely and simply as a Socialist. Other Socialists, more or less pronounced, may have attained to seats in that body, but chiefly because they were candidates of the Independent Labor party. Mr. Grayson cut himself free from all organizations and went before the electors as a Socialist. The constituency was Colne Valley Division and the fight was three-cornered, a Conservative and a Liberal being in the field, the latter being a son of the late John Bright. The vote stood; For Grayson, 3,848; for the Liberal candidate, 3,496; and for the Conservative, 3,221. Mr. Grayson is an educated man and was at college with a view of becoming either a school teacher or a Unitarian minister. He became interested in the condition of the working men and in a recent labor dispute handled their case so successfully as to win them an increase of wages; in addition to being well educated, he is described as personally attractive, sincere and zealous. As a speaker he is direct and forceful, rather than eloquent and yet he possesses the power which sways masses of people. England has had too many instances of young men, who have become popular idols not to feel that the triumph of Mr. Grayson is not an event which can be lightly treated. The London Times says: "No one can deny the significance of this election, which it thinks indicates that the Liberals have lost the support of the working men. The Chronicle says it shows that "Socialism is winning ground among an intelligent and not unprosperous community." The Pall Mall Gazette thinks it indicates that Socialism is being driven like a wedge between the two great parties, and that these will have to unite upon lines in regard to which there is no material difference of opinion between them. The Westminster Gazette says the election shows that public men must be sought out by the existing parties who will make their public work part of their association with the poor and who will be able to supply the sympathy and knowledge without which political doctrine becomes a dead formula for the working class."

The Daily Chronicle cites another aspect of the election. The Scottish and Liberal candidates declared themselves for free trade. The Conservative pronounced for protection. Out of more than 10,000 votes cast, less than a third were for the protectionist candidate. The Daily News seems inclined to think that the trade question was a distinct issue in the campaign.

Some of Mr. Grayson's ideas may be of interest. They include woman suffrage, the gradual nationalization of the land, free schools and free maintenance of school children, a progressive income tax, so gradual as to put the burden of maintaining the state upon the shoulders best able to bear them, national ownership of railways and canals and payment of members of parliament. When A young, brilliant man, holding these views wins a seat in parliament, after a struggle in which he had no organized backing whatever, it is very clear that he will be well worth watching.

Another comical sight is the dogs! There are not running around loose like in our place. They have a great many two wheeled hand carts in use here, and in many cases underneath they have a dog hitched in harness to help pull the cart along, in some cases milk carts are drawn by dog teams. The reason why horses are not more common in this part of the country is that he is not regarded as good an economical animal as a cow. They can hitch the cows to wagons or ploughs and use them all day and then likely get some milk from them. The cows are trained to walk rather fast, and seem to understand what is wanted off them.

Another thing I noticed around here you will not see any very disgusting poor people like I noticed in London and in Havre in France. I never saw such and getting worn down to such a pity as in London, or more dirty and ragged beggars than in Havre. The police keep a sharp look out for tramps, and if they think they can work they give them a job at fixing up the roads if nothing else.

If I was going to make another excursion in this part of Europe, I think I should do as I saw an American school teacher and his oldest boy doing who came over with us from London to Rotterdam. He and his boy both had their bicycles with them and were going to tour the country awheel. You can travel much cheaper by rail in Germany than in Canada. I suppose by reason of the towns and villages being so close together on account of the denser population, but the cheap rates on the railways is offset by the high charges of the hotels catering to the tourist trade. These hotels, the natives tell me, they never go near. The common hotels of the country are much cheaper, and a person touring on bicycle or walking, as I see a lot of German students doing, can go over the sights at half the cost an American tourist would be held up for. The roads are everywhere simply grand. Around here they are just like a street after our steam roller has got through working on it. Besides that large trees are planted on both sides of most of them, shading the way most pleasantly. Also most of those old castles you see all over on the tops of the Vosges mountains and on the banks of the Rhine have pleasant walks cut through the woods and sign boards at every branching of the paths, in order to direct you to the right spot. These walks are mainly constructed and kept up by various tourist clubs and by the towns near which the castles happen to be situated. Thus at Roppoltsweiler there are three old castles, perched on the hills close together. These the municipality have fixed up, that is, cemented the tops of the walls to prevent further damages from the weather, placed iron fences and bars on the dangerous spots, and constructed stairs to the tops of the old towers. You see a few old castles are quite an asset to the place, as an attraction for tourists.

It must have been quite a job for the old knights to get the stone, etc., in position on the steep hills in order to build these places. The paths do not run straight up to them, as the grade would be too steep. They zigzag up the hillsides at an easy grade; thus you would walk two miles to reach a place probably than more than half a mile away in a straight line.

One municipality has presented a castle near it to the Kaiser, who is having it fitted up as a place of residence in fine style. It is called Hoh Konigsburg, and is situated on the top of a conical mountain 2475 feet high. At Heidelberg the old castle is situated on the mountain side, and to reach it, they have a wire railway running up to the castle and on the top of the hill 1860 feet high. This castle has one old tower that shows how solidly they constructed these works. It was blown up by the French in 1693, but instead of going to pieces it merely split in two, and half the tower fell into the moat where it still lies a solid mass. The walls are 21 feet thick solid stone and mortar; the tower is 93 feet in diameter.

At Bingen on the Rhine is a fine old castle, the foundation of which dates from the time of the Romans. This building is situated in the middle of a very pretty park and is used as a museum for the old Roman remains found in the vicinity. They have quite a large collection of coffins of stone, altars, Roman tombstones, old swords, parts of armour and household utensils, urns, etc. Across the Rhine is the famous German National monument on the Niederwald, erected in commemoration of the war with France at a cost of over a million marks.

Around Dusseldorf you see evidences of the present commercial prosperity of Germany. New tall chimneys and factories are going up in every direction on both banks of the Rhine as far as Cologne. These works are mostly being constructed for the iron, tile and brick making industries.

From the rate of wages and the working hours, you can understand why Germany is becoming such a competitor of England on certain lines. The government seems to take great care of the people in railroad and factory matters. I noticed one of the boys in the furniture factory making up the weekly wages of the men. Each man had a little book, and into this book he put stamps something like our postage stamps. These were for the government insurance for accidents, part of the cost of stamp being defrayed by the party insuring the factory and the other part by the men insured. The policeman who is also the insurance agent, comes around and examines the books frequently around, and examines the books frequently to see if they are all right.

On the railroads you are not allowed to cross the tracks. At the stations you have to go through underground tunnels lined with tile and so get to the other side. Even in changing cars at country places you have to go through these tunnels instead of crossing the tracks.

In going from one part of the country to another in stopping at a hotel, the landlord gives you a printed slip to fill in with your name, age, business and place of residence. This must be turned in to the local police office, and in this way they keep tab on everyone in the country.

The trains here are made up of 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th class cars. The first is something like our parlor special car, the second like our ordinary plush upholstered, and the third like a colonist sleaper with mat seats. The fourth is a car divided into two or three compartments with seats around the sides. If the seats are full you can either stand up the middle and hang on the straps or sit on your valise.

As this letter is getting rather long, I will stop before it gets too prosy, and at a future time I will write another letter of my experiences here. I remain,

Yours truly,
GEO. F. SCHNEIDER.

The JEST THAT RECOILED.

By LOUISE J. STRONG.

Copyright, 1907, by F. C. Eastment.

Ellison had sometimes imagined what "might have been" had Millicent Waring been other than the only child of a multimillionaire. What would have been, rather, for he would have encompassed heaven and earth to accomplish it, and in his inmost heart he had felt that the accomplishing would not have been difficult.

At times wild pictures had presented themselves of the possibility of the beastly money taking the proverbial wings, opening for him the gates to paradise, but in his saner moments he derided such fancies, for with Mr. Waring to the fore there was not the slightest probability of such an occurrence. Instead, he had arrived at a condition where the wings were a necessity to himself if he would retain a rag of self respect. This cherished self respect was suffering considerably now in the yielding that had brought him back, and he had sternly limited himself to a week, even while calculating how often he might contrive to see her in the time without too greatly transgressing convention.

He was hurrying to his hotel to make himself presentable for an immediate call when, as he whipped into the broad, main avenue, a sight presented itself at which he reeled as from a blow in the face. Leaning limply against a doorway he stared, muttering, "Impossible, impossible!"

His wildest imaginings had materialized before his eyes, but he scornfully rejected the suggested explanations of his reason, repeating again and again, "Impossible!"

He was unconscious of the passing throng and too deeply shocked and absorbed to feel surprise when a hand clapped him upon the shoulder and a hearty voice cried: "Hello, old man! When did you blow in?"

Ellison seized the speaker and drew him around the corner.

"Fred," he demanded, "is that Miss Millicent Waring? My eyes tell me so, but I cannot believe them."

"Sure, that's Miss Waring."

"But—but—good heavens! What's she doing in the confectionery shop?"

"Selling, same as other shopkeepers."

"But why? Of course I see she is selling, but why?" He shook the other vehemently.

"Necessity, I suppose, same as the other shopkeepers again," he grinned, winking at a newcomer over Ellison's shoulder.

"Necessity!" yelled Ellison. "You don't mean—you can't mean"—

"Better moderate your emotion, Ellison," the newcomer advised, indicating a bluecoat who was regarding them suspiciously.

"Of course, boys"—Ellison's voice was a murmur—"of course I know you can't mean that she is obliged to do it."

"Why not? Couldn't old man Waring come a financial cropper, same as thousands of others just as astute as he?"

"The world could come to an end," Ellison jeered, but his heart had set up a sudden pounding that dizzied him.

"Comes to an end every day, dear boy, for those money kings when their little card houses tumble. It's a new world for them and their families, too, after that."

"You bet!" exclaimed one of another couple of youths who had added themselves to the group. "Miss Waring is finding it a new world, all right."

Sundry sly winks and nods were exchanged by the four young fellows, acquaintances to whom Ellison had forgotten to give a greeting.

"Where's Mr. Waring?" he asked.

"Oh, he's around. He's plucky. He'll pull it off again some time, I reckon," one said, with a laugh.

"That's so," affirmed another. "But in the meantime there must be bread and butter."

"But wasn't there somebody—or something else for Miss Millicent"—

Fred Wilson interrupted Ellison's indignant outburst:

"Nothing by which she could so quickly and easily rake in the shekels."

"She's pulling them in by the handful, too," said Hughes. "She seems a natural saleslady—has the gift for trade."

Ellison flushed resentfully. "But it cannot be pleasant"—

"Oh, her position has its unpleasant features, of course," Strean interrupted lightly. "Some of the 'climbers' snub her, and disapproval riots on all sides, but Miss Millicent carries it off well. She might have married—that is, I suppose so," he insinuated, with wicked eyes.

"Yes, she might have married while the old man's pile was intact," Forrest assented.

"But she didn't. And a wife with prospective millions and one with nothing but expensive habits and passable beauty are two very different things," Strean asserted.

Ellison turned a furious face upon him and half raised a clinched fist; then, mastering himself, he remarked, "I suppose that's the way the world sees it," and strode away.

The four rascals burst into exuberant delight, digging each other in the ribs and chuckling hilariously as he disappeared down a side street.

Ellison had no coherent thought at first as he tore along. The knowledge that the barrier between them was removed dazed him. But soon he began to turn things over in his mind, to even consider the possibility of his own thousands, which had seemed puerile before, now serving as a foundation for a new beginning on which Mr. Waring might build. The other, the infinitely greater possibility of winning Millicent, he tried to keep in the background until a proper hour for its consideration.

Having at last adjusted himself somewhat to the new conditions, he felt that he could trust himself to see her. They shook hands quietly. There was little opportunity just then for words, but there was a humorous yet tender glint in her eyes as she occasionally glanced at his averted profile while she served a bunch of school children.

The four conspirators let her into the secret and departed to spread broadcast the jest, the prank upon Ellison, whose sentiment toward Miss Waring was an open secret. And presently, by twos and threes and in squads, her old friends and former associates began to saunter by. Some purchased of her with simpering patronage, some with a cold nod of recognition, while others passed with haughty, sneering oblivion of her. Some of the smart youths inclined to a familiarity that almost amounted to rudeness.

Ellison noted it all, his heart growing hotter until it burst all restraint.

"Miss Waring — Millicent!" he breathed with low intensity as they were alone for a moment. "I cannot bear this! It may be presumption—improper even, for me to speak here—I cannot help it! I am sure you have long known of my deep love for you, though you cannot realize how it is my very life and soul—I have had so little to offer, I felt I could not presume to ask you to give up for me your luxurious position, to—but I can provide you with a comfortable home, and my whole life shall be devoted to"—

"Ha, ha! Look at him!" "Oh, the easy mark!" "Has he offered you his purse, Millicent?" "Ha, ha! The idea of Mr. Waring"—"Failed!" "As if"—"Ha, Ha!"

Unheeding the swirl, Miss Waring calmly began counting money from the drawers and piling it in heaps upon the counter. "There," she said at last, "$427.10. That means $854.20 for the hospital from you fellows. You folks who dared me to do this promised to double the amount I took in, you know." She beamed at them sweetly.

"My hat! I never dreamed you'd pull in so much!" gasped Stream. "It's sure up to us, boys! But, oh, Ellison, sonny! Ellison—you—you—!" He doubled with joy. "Your face pays for it all! See it now, don't you? Catch on to it? It was such a chance as comes once in a lifetime! Oh, my! Oh, my!"

Ellison perceived, and turned a blank, mortified face to apologize to Miss Waring, but she laid a gentle, restraining hand upon his arm and again addressed the gurgling, crowing crowd very sweetly, but distinctly, "I claim your congratulations upon my success as a saleslady, and"—(she blushed adorably)—"and also upon my engagement to Mr. Ellison."

SIREN WAFERS DEVELOP THE BUST

SHE'S A QUEEN! SHE'S A SIREN!

Is an expression that is always heard at sight of a well developed woman. If you are flat chested, with BUST undeveloped, a scrawney neck, thin lean arms the above remark will never be applied to you. "SIREN" wafers will make you beautiful, bewitching. They DEVELOP the BUST in a few weeks from 3 to 6 inches and produce a fine firm, voluptuous bosom. They fill out the hollow places. Make the cheeks plump and rosy, and arms handsome and well molded and the neck and shoulders shapely and of perfect contour.

Send for a bottle today and you'll be pleased and grateful. "SIREN" wafers are absolutely harmless, pleasant to take and convenient to carry around. They are sold under guarantee to do all we claim or MONEY back.

Price $1.00 per bottle. Inquire at good drug stores or send DIRECT to us.

FREE!

During the next 30 days only—we will send you a sample bottle of these beautifying wafers on receipt of 10 cents to pay cost of packing and postage if you will mention that you saw the Advertisement in this paper. The sample alone may be sufficient if defects are trivial.

I OFFER YOU A 10c STOCK FOR 5c

In the month of September the price of GUGGENHEIM-GREENWATER COPPER STOCK goes to 10 cents. All who buy shares from the Company will pay that for them.

I secured an option on a block of stock to sell at 5 cents. Until this block is exhausted I can fill orders at 5 cents. I can give those who buy of me for 5 cts., what others will be paying 10 cts. for.

Everyone who sees this advertisement surely has read of Greenwater and Ely, the wonderful new copper districts. The Guggenheim-Greenwater Copper Company owns groups of claims in both places. Work is in progress, and the indications are the best.

Here is a chance for little money to make a fortune. Other mines in the same district have made fortunes, and they have been less promising before development than the Guggenheim Greenwater Company's property.

See me at once about this. One hundred shares will cost you only $5; one thousand shares, $50. The block of stock which I have will not last long. Get for 5 what others are glad to pay 10 for.

COPYRIGHT, 1905, BY HARPER & BROTHERS

gered on back porches over their cans to agree with cooks that it was an awful thing and that if ever any man deserved hanging that there Fear deserved it his lawyer along with him. Tipsy men hammered bars with fists and beer glasses, inquiring if there was no rope to be had in the town, and Joe Louden, returning to his office from the little restaurant where he sometimes ate his breakfast, heard hisses following him along Main street. A clerk, a fat shouldered, blue aproned, pimple checked youth, stood in the open doors of a grocery and as he passed stared him in the face and said "Yah!" with supreme disgust.

Joe stopped. "Why?" he asked mildly.

The clerk put two fingers in his mouth and whistled shrilly in derision. "You'd ort to be run out o' town!" he exclaimed.

"I believe," said Joe, "that we have never met before."

"Go on, you shyster!"

Joe looked at him gravely. "My dear sir," he returned, "you speak to me with the familiarity of an old friend."

The clerk did not recover so far as to be capable of repartee until Joe had entered his own stairway. Then, with a bitter sneer, he seized a bad potato from an open barrel and threw it at the mongrel, who had paused to examine the landscape. The missile failed and Respectability, after bestowing a slightly injured look upon the clerk, followed his master.

In the office the red bearded man sat waiting. Not so red bearded as of yore, however, was Mr. Sheehan, but grizzled and gray and, this morning, gray of face, too, as he sat, perspiring and anxious, wiping a troubled brow with a black silk handkerchief.

"Here's the devil and all to pay at last, Joe," he said uneasily on the other's entrance. "This is the worst I ever knew, and I hate to say it, but I doubt yer pullin' it off."

"I've got to, Mike."

"I hope on my soul there's a chanst of it! I like the little man, Joe."

"So do I."

"I know ye do, my boy. But here's this Tocsin kickin' up the public sentiment, and if there ever was a follerin' sheep on earth it's that same public sentiment."

"If it weren't for that"—Joe flung himself heavily in a chair—"there'd not be so much trouble. It's a clear enough case."

"But, don't ye see," interrupted Sheehan, "the Tocsin's tried it and convicted him aforehand? And that if things keep goin' the way they've started today the gran' jury's bound to indict him and the trial jury to convict him? They wouldn't dare not to. What's more, they'll want to. And they'll rush the trial, summer or no summer, and"—

"I know; I know."

"I'll tell ye one thing," said the other, wiping his forehead with the black handkerchief, "and that's this, my boy: Last night's business has just about put the cap on the Beach fer me. I'm sick of it, and I'm tired of it. I'm ready to quit, sir."

Joe looked at him sharply. "Don't you think my old notion of what might be done could be made to pay?"

Sheehan laughed. "Whoo! You and yer hints, Joe! How long past have ye come around me with 'em? 'I b'lieve ye c'd make more money, Mike'—that's the way ye'd put it—'if ye altered the Beach a bit. Make a little countryside restaurant of it,' ye'd say, 'and have good cookin', and keep the boys and girls from raisin' so much hell out there. Soon ye'd have other people comin' beside the regular crowd. Make a little garden on the shore, and let 'em eat at tables under trees an' grape arbors'".

"Well, why not?" asked Joe.

"Haven't I been tellin' ye I'm thinkin' of it? It's only yer way of hintin' that's funny to me, yer way of sayin' I'd make more money, because ye're afraid of preachin' at any of us, partly because ye know the little good it'd be and partly because ye have humor. Well, I'm thinkin' ye'll git yer way. I'm willin' to go into the missionary business with ye!"

"Mike!" said Joe angrily, but he grew very red and failed to meet the other's eye, "I'm not"—

"Yes, ye are!" cried Sheehan. "Yes, sir! It's a thing ye prob'ly haven't had the nerve to say to yerself since a boy, but that's yer notion inside. Ye're little better than a missionary. It took me a long while to understand what was drivin' ye, but I do now. And ye've gone the right way about it, because we know ye'll stand fer us when we're in trouble and fight fer us till we git a square deal, as ye're goin' to fight fer Happy now."

Joe looked deeply troubled. "Never mind," he said crossly and with visible embarrassment. "You think you could not make more at the Beach if you ran it on my plan?"

"I'm game to try," said Sheehan slowly. "I'm too old to hold 'em down out there the way I yoosta could, and I'm sick of it—sick of it into the very bones of me." He wiped his forehead. "Where's Claudine?"

"Held as a witness."

"I'm not sorry fer her!" said the red bearded man emphatically. "Women o' that kind are so light headed it's a wonder they don't float. Think of her pickin' up Cory's gun from the floor and hidin' it in her clothes! Took it fer granted it was Happy's and thought she'd help him by hidin' it! There's a hard point fer ye, Joe—to prove the gun belonged to Cory. There's nobody about here could swear to it. I couldn't myself, though I forced him to stick it back in his pocket yesterday. He was a wanderer, too, and ye'll have to send a keen one to trace him, I'm thinkin', to find out where he got it so's ye can show it in court."

"I'm going myself. I've found out that he came here from Denver."

"And from where before that?"

"I don't know, but I'll keep on traveling till I get what I want."

I will mail you free, to prove merit, samples of my Dr. Shoop's Restorative, and my Book on either Dyspepsia, The Heart or The Kidneys. Troubles of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—mean Stomach weakness, always. And the Heart, and Kidneys as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerves." Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion, use Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Write me today for sample and free Book. Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. The Restorative is sold by all dealers.

An Ishmaelite of the Plains.

The dead thing, wherever it lies, still remains the coyote's choicest feast. A creature without a friend, an Ishmaelite whom men and animals have combined in despising, the ideal thief and vagabond of the animal world, this gray, gaunt figurehead of the western world still survives, as much the owner of his empire as he was in the days when his ancestors looked with cock eared astonishment and staccato exclamations upon the expedition of Lewis and Clark feeling its way slowly across that transmissouri wilderness whose future was then undreamed.—James W. Steele in Outing Magazine.

Snuff Taking in London.

Snuff taking is a common habit among certain classes of the London poor. It shows its effects in rambling speech, pallid aspect and dejected demeanor, resembling the symptoms of the morphia taker. The practice is especially common among women, and an observer says that women in the prisoner's dock in the police court will have their hair decorated with curl papers which contain each the pinch of snuff needed for consolation.

Its Advantage.

Knicker—Why do you prefer serial stories?

Not Very Flattering.

She—Emma is the prettiest, but Lena is the smartest. Now, which would you rather marry, beauty or brains? He (very far gone)—Neither. I'd rather marry you.

PAIN

Pain in the head—pain anywhere, has its cause. Pain is congestion, pain is blood pressure—nothing else usually. At least, so says Dr. Shoop, and to prove it he has created a little pink tablet. That tablet—called Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablet—eases blood pressure away from pain centers. Its effect is charming, plus-ingly delightful namely, though safely, it surely equalizes the blood circulation.

If you have a headache, it's blood pressure. If it's painful periods with women, same cause. If you are sleepless, restless, nervous, it's blood congestion—blood pressure. That surely is a certainty, for Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets stop it in 20 minutes, and the tablets simply distribute the unnatural blood pressure.

Bruise your finger, and doesn't it get red, and swell, and pain you? Of course it does. It's congestion, blood pressure. You'll find it where pain is—always. It's simply Common Sense.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry must be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made on certain conditions, by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of the homesteader resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Six months' notice in writing should be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of intention to apply for patent.

RECURRING HEADACHES

Do They Bother You ?

You fine life a miserable affair because you have headaches, but you have neither nausea nor are you weak —You know if you could only prevent headaches you would enjoy perfect health.

Such headaches indicate a general lowered condition, because they arise from a general decay of the nervous system.

This depressed condition of the nervous system has its origin in the reduction of the quality and quantity of the blood.

If you had used Ferrozone you would know how powerfully all the digestive and assimilative functions of the body are stimulated.

Ferrozone does more—it supplies all the elements that are essential to the rebuilding of the body—supplies the reconstructive forces that contribute to the formation of rich, red blood.

You see, Ferrozone doesn't treat a symptom—it remedies a cause—and that's why a month's treatment will absolutely remove every vestige of recurring nervous headaches.

Nothing like Ferrozone to build you up, to give the reserve of force, that happy health that contributes so much to happiness and contentment.

Ferrozone will make you feel like new, try it—sold by all druggists in 50c. boxes.

—Yesterday a number of men were engaged in locating a bad break in the water main on Hunter street, outside the Oriental Hotel.

—The Government steamer Sovereign left yesterday for Hastings with Supt McClellan, Overseer Gordon and Mr. Mothersell, of Ottawa, on board.

—There will be a special attraction at the Charlotte street roller rink this evening, when an attractive prize will be given for the best gentleman skater On Thursday evening there will be a carnival.

—The City Council's committee room is now turned upside down. Contractor Irwin has torn down the partition and taken out the wash room. It will only be a few days when the work in this room will have been completed.

—At the Peterborough Industrial Fair this year, on school children's day, all children under ten years of age will be admitted to the grounds free. This is a new departure and one that will be much appreciated.

—The priests of the diocese of Peterborough went into retreat at the rectory of St Peter's cathedral yesterday evening. The retreat will continue until Saturday morning, and will be attended by all the clergy of the diocese.

—At a meeting of the officers and teachers of St Andrew's church, it was decided to continue the sessions of the Sunday school at ten o'clock in the morning throughout the month of September.

—Today Mr. Tuffield Delaire, one of Peterborough's veteran experts in the lumber business, who has been here for some months on vacation, leaves for Toronto, en route to retake his position with the Canadian Lumber Co.

—Street Commissioner Harry Evans is now putting the finishing touches on the remodelled bridge over the creek on Dalhousie street His men have been working there for several days and will be through early this week. They have raised the bridge about a foot and have put a concrete top on so that it is now a first-class structure.

—Messrs W. B Hill, Central Ontario manager of The Sun Life Assurance Co., and D. B Moore of the same staff, yesterday left for Montreal to attend the annual outing of the company to be held at Richelieu.

—Mr. Thos. L. Anderson, 516 Water street, has bought the house occupied by Mr. Wm. G. Freeburn at 71 Homewood avenue, and will shortly take possession.

—Mr Courtland Poussette yesterday called at the police station and notified the officers that a small automobile had been stolen from his residence. The police have the attempted recovery, and finding out of who took it, in hand.

—The Bell Telephone Company's construction gang have started to dig the trench up George street towards Brock Part of the conduits have been laid on Hunter street and the trench filled in again. The foreman, Mr. Leach, is making a good job of the filling in and is carting away all the material not used.

—A meeting of the Life Insurance Underwriters' Association was held in the offices of the Toronto Savings and Loan Company yesterday evening when the report of the recent Canadian and National Association convention held in Toronto, was presented by the delegates from Peterborough.

Leaves for Toronto

Mr. Thomas Marshall, the well known local lumber Jack, left yesterday, per C.P.R. for Toronto, he will meet and spend some time with Mrs. Marshall. Tom's many friends, whilst regretting his absence from the city will be pleased to learn that he has been able to once more reunite family connections. Mr. Marshall is one of the most generally popular lumber men in this district. It will be remembered that Mr. Marshall discovered, and now controls one of the best properties in the Cobalt district, which it is expected will soon be exploited, thus in the near future placing this local citizen in the millionaire class.

A Good Spender.

General Kuroki, the great Japanese warrior, went about this country scattering yen as an ordinary man might scatter bird seed. A yen is a Japanese coin, and, while not of great value, put with a bushel basket full of them a man may have quite a pleasant time for several days.

Kuroki threw them at bellboys, waiters and most any one who looked as though he would like a yen until he got a reputation as a fine man to have about a hotel. Indeed, some of the waiters are convinced that it is well worth while to build a world's fair just to have Kuroki attend.

Of course the Japanese government is rich, and it was paying the bills, but at that it couldn't afford to carry on a war with Russia and have Kuroki traveling at the same time. Still he wouldn't have been away in such an event. No, indeed. He would have been at the front scattering cold lead in the direction of the enemy, with as liberal a hand.

What He Wanted.

"Did you get your money's worth from the fortune teller?"

"Yes, and much more."

"I suppose she promised you a large fortune."

"Oh, better than that. She said I was to be pursued by a blond lady."

Fitting.

Or devastates a pretty hedge?

Who caricatures every face
That's pictured in a public place
And leaves of beauty not a trace?
The vandal.

Who should all mercy be denied
And shingled till his blooming hide
Is tanned and justice satisfied?

Wanted Instructions.

"Here, boy, take this penny and run to the corner and get a paper for me"

"Yes, sir."

"Well, what are you standing around for? Why don't you go?"

The Knock-out Blow.

The blow which knocked out Corbett was a revelation to the prize fighters. From the earliest days of the ring the knock-out blow was aimed for the jaw, the temple or the jugular vein. Stomach punches were thrown in to worry and weary the fighter, but if a scientific man had told one of the old fighters that the most vulnerable spot was the region of the stomach, he'd have laughed at him for an ignoramus. Dr. Pierce is bringing home to the public a parallel fact; that the stomach is the most vulnerable organ out of the prize ring as well as in it. We protect our heads, throats, feet and lungs, but the stomach we are utterly indifferent to, until disease finds the solar plexus and knocks us out. Make your stomach sound and strong by the use of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and you protect yourself in your most vulnerable spot. "Golden Medical Discovery" cures "weak stomach," indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver, bad, thin and impure blood and other diseases of the organs of digestion and nutrition.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" has a specific curative effect upon all mucous surfaces and hence cures catarrh, no matter where located or what stage it may have reached. In Nasal Catarrh it is well to cleanse the passages with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy fluid while using the "Discovery" as a constitutional remedy. Why the "Golden Medical Discovery" cures catarrhal diseases, as of the stomach, bowels, bladder and other pelvic organs will be plain to you if you will read a booklet of extracts from the writings of eminent medical authorities, endorsing its ingredients and explaining their curative properties. It is mailed free on request. Address Dr. R.V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. This booklet gives all the ingredients entering into Dr. Pierce's medicines from which it will be seen that they contain not a drop of alcohol, pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead.

A Complaint Against Fire Brigade

Mayor McWilliams has received a letter from the Peterborough Hydraulic Power Co., asking why the fire brigade did not turn water on the sawdust pile when the alarm was sent in. It is alleged that the chief of the department told the men not to bother with it, as it was not then dangerous on account of the then prevailing wind. A copy of the letter has been sent to the chief.

$100 REWARD, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood an dmucous surfaces of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

IRISH MEMBER ARRESTED WITH 40 OTHERS

They are Being Tried for Taking Part "in an Unlawful Assembly"--Are Now Being Tried by a Special Court.

Longford, Ireland, Aug 28.—James P. Farrell, Irish Nationalist member of parliament for North Longford, and forty other persons were arrested early yesterday morning, and are now being tried by a special court, convened for the purpose, on the charge of taking part "in an unlawful assembly likely to cause a riot."

Mr. Farrell had been holding meetings throughout his constituency, at which exciting scenes occurred between Nationalists and members of the Sinn Fein Society. In addition many cattle have been driven from the grazing lands district, which the prosecution alleges was encouraged by Mr. Farrell and other speakers. Large forces of police are being dispatched here, trouble being anticipated.

Mr. Farrell is editor and proprietor of the Longford Leader, a Nationalist newspaper circulating in the counties of Longford, West Meath, Roscommon and Leitrim, and is the author of a "History of the County of Longford" and other books. At the general election of 1900 Mr. Farrell was returned unopposed from North Longford, succeeding Justin McCarthy, who resigned.

Library Officials and Others En Tour

Will Visit Western Cities to Get Ideas For Local Public Library

In view of the generous offer made by Mr. Rich. Hall, trustee of the Nicholls estate to give certain property on Simcoe street to the city, on condition that the beneficary makes certain improvements, it might be added that now a deputation consisting of the members of the Property Committee, two members of the Public Library Board, and Mr. Rich. Hall, trustee of the Nicholls estate, will leave on a two-days' trip to western Ontario, to inspect some of the public libraries there for the purpose of gathering information for use in connection with the new library to be built here. It is probable that most of the members of the Property Committee will be with the deputation and that the Public Library Board's representatives will be Dr Burnham and W. Pringle.

The deputation will inspect the libraries in Berlin, Paris, Brantford, Guelph and other places in Western Ontario.

Had His Foot Torn Off

Belleville, Aug. 28.—A painful accident occurred at the docks here last night when Morgan Terrill, 50 years old, had his foot caught in the cable the steamer Salabery. The foot was pulled completely off, and the leg afterwards amputated

A Perplexing Problem.

The seriousness of the situation created in Western Canada by the influx of Japanese is only beginning to be appreciated by the Canadians of the East. A Province of large dimensions, with less than 250,000 of a population, is tense with excitement over the arrival of a constant stream of yellow immigrants, and demands that steps be taken to check it. The Provincial authorities cannot take the necessary measures, as previous legislation with that object in view has been vetoed. The Dominion authorities are impotent because they are bound by Article 2 of the treaty with Japan to give full liberty to Japanese to enter and reside in this country. Britain is also bound by alliance with Japan, and the only hope of the incoming tide being stayed is by sympathetic action on the part of the Mikado's representatives, or by failure of the immigration syndicate bringing them in to make profits. One despatch intimates that the first large shipment of Japanese has already entailed serious loss on those who brought them here, and that other shipments will be cancelled. The question, however, is not one that will down. British Columbia and Japan border on the same ocean and the yellow man will continue to come if he can. No country is foolhardy enough to needlessly rush into war with such a fighting nation as Japan on this or any other question, while the attitude of the Japanese government, as indicated in the statement given a press correspondent yesterday by its consul-general in Canada, is that it will "never entertain any idea of allowing its people to be discriminated against." Altogether, Canada has a perplexing probelm on her hands, and will be fortunate if no rash act of violence being on a crisis.

Article 2 of the treaty of commerce and navigation between Britain and Japan, to which Canada is now, by her own consent, a party, provided that "the subjects of each of the two high contracting parties shall have full liberty to enter, travel, or reside in any part of the dominions and possessions of the other contracting party, and shall enjoy full and perfect protection for their persons and property."

SIR WILFRID ANXIOUS TO FILL VACANCIES

But Sifton Will Not Enter Cabinet--Positively Declines to Accept Any Portfolio--Graham and Pugsley are Chosen.

Ottawa, Aug. 28. — The governor-general will not be back to Ottawa until Thrsuday evening, but on the day following (Friday) the oath of office will be taken by the two men who are to become minister of railways and canals and minister of public works respectively. Mention has been made of the name of Hon. Clifford Sifton in the latter connection, and it is known to your correspondent that Sir Wilfrid would be glad to avail himself of the brilliant gifts and the sound business sagacity of his former minister of the interior But Mr. Sifton is immersed in business affairs to a point which makes it absolutely impossible to accept office at the present time, and has definitely expressed himself on the subject.

The new minister of railways will be Hon. Wm. Pugsley of St. John, N.B., and the new minister of public works is almost as certain to be Hon Wm. Pugsley of St. John, N.B. and the new minister of public works is almost as certain to be Hon. George P. Graham of Brockville, although owing to his excellency's absence from the Capital, no official announcement can be made in either case till Friday.

The prime minister was in consultation with his colleagues on the subject of the Ontario appointment yesterday.

Paris, August 23.—King Edward's recent conferences with rulers of various nations are the subject of much discussion in French official circles. It is recalled that in many alliances are many entanglements. Is Edward VII. powerful enough, or what is more important, skillful enough to keep the skein of European politics from getting into a snarl?

That is the disconcerting question which the diplomatic world is discussing in the light of the momentous developments of the past fortnight.

When England abandoned her policy of splendid isolation she went to the opposite extreme. She began by making friends with the United States, no closer relationship being possible.

She made Japan her ally on terms so sweeping that she already regrets them. She bound herself to France in an entente which virtually is an alliance. She entered into compacts with Italy, Spain, and Portugal, which made a close community of interest.

She has just negotiated a rapprochement with Russia, and to complete the circle, she has now reached a friendly understanding, to characterize it with the mildest diplomatic term, with her natural rival, Germany.

ARBITER OF WORLD'S PEACE.

England, in a word, is now everybody's mutual friend. The connecting link in each one of her complicated relationships is the personality of King Edward. He alone has created this unprecedented world coalition. He alone can maintain it. His position is unique in the history of mankind, and in theory it is ideal. How will it bear the test of experience?

National rivalries and ambitions have not been destroyed. Racial prejudices still exist. Human nature remains much the same as it was in the nineteenth century. The real arbiter of the world's peace at the present moment is King Edward. His self-imposed task is greater in responsibility and more arduous than ever laid upon the shoulders of a single man.

MOTIVES GIVEN FULL CONFIDENCE.

This is the situation which absorbs the attention of the statesmen of the old world, as well it may. It would not be true to say that they regard the future with misgiving. Any situation depending largely upon the life of one man already advanced in years must be described as uncertain.

The principal requisite for the success of King Edward's mission is present in abundant measure, namely, full confidence, both in his capacity and his bona fides.

The expression "perfidious Albion" has disappeared from European politics since he came to the throne.

The most suspicious of his continental rivals now credit the English sovereign with a sincere desire to develop his empire along peaceful lines, and with this in view, to reduce the heavy military burden which is beginning to cripple his country's industrial and commercial progress.

NATIONS IN PEACEFUL SPIRIT.

Another factor promises to be King Edward's potent ally for a considerable time to come. The prevailing spirit of the nations has been for peace. No one has been able to understand or control the strange laws governing the psychology of public opinion which usually decide questions of peace or war. No one has been able to explain why an incident or situation which at one moment will cause a nation to spring to arms will, at another time, scarcely ruffle popular passion.

That King Edward will know, perhaps better than any other man, how to use his great influence to soothe and mitigate such outbursts is conceded by all who understand his tactful ability.

This, however, must be included among the greatest of the unknown difficulties which he must expect to encounter.

DANGER LURKS IN KING'S PATH.

Other more definite dangers lie before him. How will he deal with the great Crisis which inevitably will arise when Francis Joseph's sceptre passes, perhaps to his unpopular legitimate successor, perhaps to another's hands?

How will he safeguard the world's peace when Japan develops covetousness? Unforseen quarrels will also arise, and the role of everybody's friend, and that friend not a disinterested one, is as full of embarrassments between nations as between individuals.

It is a thorny but noble path which King Edward has marked out for himself, but he enters upon it encouraged by the hearty good will of all mankind. The world may well speed him on his way with the earnest cry of "Long live the king." If he be spared to gain the highest achievement that ever inspired man's ambition, then indeed will history crown him Edward the Great.

Is Sanitary Inspector Ball Being Much Maligned?

It seems that Mr. Ernest Carveth, proprietor of the Victoria House, at McCracken's Landing, is figuratively, "out gunning" for Inspector George Ball. The cause, or alleged cause of this hunting expedition is because the civic official judging by the gentleman's statement, presented a certain report to the local Board of Health. Mr. Carveth seems to think that Inspector Ball has made a false return to the Board. He says that the reports spread were untrue, and he further said that Mr. Ball knew very little about the conditions existing around McCracken's Landing, but seemed to reach conclusions immediately, at variance with those which other men had come to after long experience. The hotel proprietor claims that Mr. Ball drank from the spring noted in his report, and further stated that if he were staying at McCracken's Landing, he would drink often from the same source. The complainant goes on to say that the inspector, later on, condemned the spring as being a cause of typhoid fever.

Now this is a matter between man and man and our readers can take their choice as to credibility. Mr. Ball's record in this city, since his inauguration to office, is too well known to need comment and the public are in a position to decide.

The English Press on the Canadian Girls Abroad.

As Miss Birdie Thompson of this city, was not only a member of, but held, by the votes cast for her, a leading position among the successful candidates who has since April enjoyed a splendid European outing at the expense of The Toronto World, the following report of the London, England, Morning Leader will not only be interesting to her large circle of personal friends, but to every citizen of Peterborough, which sent a member of the "Maple Blossoms" as the World's excursionists were patriotically, euphoniously and practically termed. This great English paper says as follows, the copy having been received by Mrs. Chas. James of Sherbrooke street;

"At the supreme moment yesterday at the Tower there were no less than 17 large brakes, all waiting for the different parties of American, Continental and Colonial tourists, who were inside doing the relics. In fact, there are at present in London quite enough visitors to make a city of a very imposing size.

"So at the Tower, unless your holiday is as long as the queue which waits at the ticket office, you stand no chance of getting inside nowadays, which is a pity as the Tower is at present by far the most modern aspect of London. Milwaukee, Chicago, Toronto and Sydney, N.S.W., bring it right up to date, and three days in advance, as soon as the gates open. A London visitor is apt to feel in his own Tower only like one of the dusty relics.

The Maple Blossoms were among the visitors there yesterday, as were also many other ladies with charming botanical names from the New World.

If there is one thing the Maple Blossoms are angered with, it is the fact that the British press has fallen into the mistake of reporting their opinions in words of Yankee guise—the fault of the girls themselves really (it is easy to tell them so in print), because, although the boundary between the State and the Dominion is remarkably rigid as Britishers are proud to remember yet accent, idiom and emphatically descriptive slang (that salt without which conversation is flavorless), are all regardless of frontiers, happily.

The Morning Leader representative assured them that we all love the American tongue, of which we are aware English is only an obscure and dying dialect.

"Oh, come down off those stilts. Besides that Maple Blossom rubbish show you don't know maple from corn. We are Leaves, not blossoms."

Frankly, Miss Lizzie McGregor of Toronto, who headed the poll in the "Toronto World" newspaper, and the ten other Canadian girls from Toronto, Peterborough, Kingston, Hamilton and Ottawa, who yesterday and today are seeing the sights of "the homeland" (as one of the girls prettily expressed it) is nothing but praise for our city.

"It is great" to see the centre of London." The Abbey is "great" and St. Paul is great. But though they come from the most hustling city of the Dominion and thought we should be found laggard and dragging with the traditions a wrecks of [illegible] years behind us, the uproar and strenuous purpose of London have won their respect.

"Why, you are as young here as you are in Canada."

Yesterday, Mr. Albert Smythe of the Toronto World, acted by "Cook's expert, took his party to the Tower, Paul's and the West End. By tomorrow night they will be on their way to Paris by Thursday they will be in Windsor. From young ladies who can see Paris in that way, any testimonial as to continued perennial vigor, is highly valuable.

Must be Married by the Priest

Rome, Aug. 28.—A high church official is authority for the statement that within a few days an extraordinary and revolutionary law, interesting all Catholic clergymen and laymen, will be announced. It will directly affect all Catholics in America, and will be promulgated by the Vatican authorities.

Until the present the Vatican law has been that American Catholics can contract a marriage validly although illicitly, by going before a justice, or even a Protestant minister, when duly licensed by civil authorities. Under the new Vatican law all these marriages will be regarded null and void among Catholics.

The new law which is contained in a decree of the congregation of the council was drafted by special request of his holiness, the Pope. It ordains that from next Easter all marriages among Catholics shall not be valid unless contracted before a duly authorized priest in the presence of two witnesses.

There are only two exceptions to this law, which is to be universal for all countries on the globe. These exceptions are when there is imminent danger of death and no duly authorized priest is obtainable, then any obtainable priest can perform the ceremony in the presence of two witnesses.

The second exception is revolutionary. It is when there is no priest obtainable in the district, the man and woman can contract marriage that will be valid merely by announcing their consent in the presence of two witnesses.

The latter is the most important change made in the marriage laws of the Catholic Church during the past three centuries.

It introduces a radical overturning of legislation in every country in the world, and it is to be regarded as the very first indication of sweeping changes that are to be introduced by the new code of Pius X., which has engaged the labors of the most learned body of ecclesiastical authorities in the Catholic Church for the past four years, and which eventually will cover the entire field of church legislation.

Japanese Influx Into the Dominion May Soon Cease

Ottawa, Aug. 28.—Further immigration of Japanese into British Columbia from Honolulu will be prevented by an arrangement which is likely to be reached, it is said, between the Dominion government and the government of Japan. There exists an agreement by which the emigration of Japanese direct to Canada shall not exceed a certain limited number each month, and it is understood that Japan has stated her intention of adhering to this. As to the influx from Honolulu, it is probable that the desired result can be attained, with the assistance of Consul Nosse.

ENCOURAGE WHITE LABOR.

Vancouver, Aug. 28.—As a preclude to squaring itself with the electors of British Columbia on the Oriental immigration question, the Dominion government will use its influence in behalf of securing the employment of white labor exclusively on all railway construction in the West. This is indicated by the arrival in the city of Mr. E. Blake Robertson, assistant superintendent of immigration, Ottawa.

Mr Robertson will interview railway contractors and other large employers of labor in regard to their future requirements, with a view to continuing the policy of the government in favor of encouraging the emigration of white labor from the British Isles.

"Several years ago the department undertook to secure from the United Kingdom and several European countries a supply of farm laborers and domestic servants to meet the deficiency existing throughout the Dominion," said Mr. Robertson. "Our efforts were successful, and the work will be continued with special regard to the wants of the West."

STOP THE RUSH.

Hon William Templeman has declared himself in thorough sympathy with Mr MacPherson in his stand on the immigration question. He says:

"Any people who for any reason cannot be assimilated into the body of the Canadian nation, no matter what their nationality, should be excluded from this country, or at least their entry in large numbers should not. I think, be permitted." He stated that Sir Wilfrid Laurier had been very much concerned over the reports from this province concerning Japanese immigration and was now in communication with the Japanese government, with good hope of stopping the rush.

NOT EASILY DISCOURAGED

Mr George Gear, a Honolulu lawyer, is in charge of the Japanese who came over on the steamer Indiana. He has been retained by Mr. Mikino charterer of the Indiana and man in charge of Japanese laborers from the islands, to look over the local field and see whether there is room for the Japanese here.

Consul Morikawa called to Consul Saito at Honolulu after the arrival of the Kumeric, asking him to do all in his power to stop the sending of Japanese here.

Consul Saito gave out the statement that the Japs were not acceptable to the people of British Columbia, but this did not stop them. They were however, afraid of starvation and disease, reports having been spread that the Japanese who arrived on the Kumeric had been stricken with dysentery and had been starving in Quarantine camps.

"GUNS IN OUR HANDS."

The situation with reference to the arrivals of Asiatics reached an acute stage Sunday night, when men cried at the meeting of the Oriental Exclusion League, "Let us go to the next boat which brings in Orientals with guns in our hands and prevent them landing."

A LOSING PROPOSITION.

Senator C. F. Chillingworth, the Honolulu lawyer, who has engineered the Jap invasion, says there will be no further organized efforts to bring Japs from Hawaii to Canada. Even the Kumeric venture, which landed over 1,300 people here, was a losing proposition, and the Jap boarding house keepers who organized the movement he says, will be heavy losers. The charter costs $10,000, but Chillingworth declares this was a bagatelle compared to the expense incurred and losses sustained. He is of the opinion however, that there will be a large movement of individual Japanese to Canada by every steamer, as wages in Hawaii are only $18 per month.

A REMARKABLE ADMISSION.

Mr. S. R. Maruyama, a young Japanese law student, who accompanied the 1,300 Japanese who reached here on the Kumeric from Honolulu several weeks ago, made an emphatic announcement to the reporter of a local paper.

"The protests against the importation of Japanese from Hawaii resulting in agitation by the white population of British Columbia against their exclusion has emanated from a certain Japanese element in Vancouver. Well, honors will soon be even, for I am collecting evidence to the effect that a large percentage of the Japanese brought in here every month are under contract. I have not collected all the proof, but expect to have it ready for presentation to Commissioner Ishii, of the Japanese foreign office, who will reach here shortly from Honolulu and San Francisco."

"My principals, the Japanese boarding housekeepers of Honolulu, do not intend to ship any more Japanese to British Columbia, although every one of the recent arrivals secured work. My people had nothing to do with the chartering of the Indiana, which arrived on Sunday with over three hundred Japanese from Hawaii.

A Wild Woman Lives in the Woods

Ottawa, Aug 28.—Professor MacAuley of Harvard University, who has been spending a few weeks in the country around Blue Sea Lake, tells a strange story of a wild woman.

While hunting one day in the woods a face peered at him from the shadows. It was a wild face, framed to a dark brown by the sun, framed by masses of dark coarse hair, and unmistakably that of a woman. Before he could speak to this eerie inhabitant of the woods, she had fled. She seemed to be dressed in nothing but leaves entwined in a sort of outer covering.

He enquired as to the truth of his sight from a habitant, and he was assured that such a person existed. She lived in solitude, in a small hut. The poor creature has not a companion save a number of dogs, who help her in procuring food. She lives mostly on the fruits of her hunting excursion. A rifle is included in the list of her possessions, but although she had made several attempts to obtain ammunition, it has been refused.

It appears that owing to some injury done the woman some years ago, she has shunned human society ever since.

Blue Sea Lake is in Quebec, nearly a hundred miles north of Ottawa.

Buckhorn Men Lost in the Woods

Two Men on the Dam Found Wandering in the Woods

A Buckhorn correspondent says that two men working on the Buckhorn dam, a few days ago went for a walk and got lost. Whether their compass had a jag on or not, our detonent sayeth not. Still the alleged facts are that the two wanderers got far from the delights to be found at Mine Host Tom Eastwood's carnivorsery. They wandered further and further afield, or rather through the woods until a search party went out and discovered them as they were blindly going further and further from their seat of commiserat. They started out to find Sandy Lake, a short distance north of Buckhorn, and when the "Stanley Discovery Party," went after them, they were heading for Scott's Mills. When located, they had wandered several miles out of their way.

Who Knows Mr. Albion Davis Pike?

Young Man Leaves Harvard College Through Pique

Chief Rouze yesterday received a circular letter from the Pinkerton Detective Agency, Boston, Mass., asking information concerning Albion Davis Pike, Lubec, Me. The circular expresses in most emphatic terms that there is no criminal record of any kind against Mr. Pike. The facts are that he was a student at Harvard College, Cambridge, Mass., and on March 15th last left suddenly because the college authorities had criticized the way in which some branch of his studies was conducted. The young man is described as 21 years of age, 5 feet 5 inches in height, weighed 140 pounds, of medium complexion, grey eyes, dark hair, clean shaven face. His parents are naturally very anxious as nothing has been heard by them of their son since his strange disappearance last March. His father's name and address are A. B. Pike, Lubec, Maine.

A New England Minister's Comparison

A peculiar remark made by a minister at a New England dinner, caused some comment. He was being served for the first time with Grape-Nuts food. He looked up and asked what it was, and being told, said. They might have named it Millenium." The hostess, a lady then on the editorial staff of a Boston paper, further remarks;

"Since the "Millenium" came to our cuisine, we have no further occasion to take into our stomachs the masses of pastry, partly cooked food that we used before Grape-Nuts came.

"I speak directly for myself.

"I had been for a long time the victim of gastric indigestion, brought on by steady mental work and a lack of proper food. I passed sleepless nights, and took in the daytime was exceedingly difficult. Many spells of vertigo came on and my nerves and temper were in anything but a normal condition.

"I finally had three successive night attacks and I verily thought the end had come. I would throw out at midnight the lunch of Scotch porridge eaten the noon previous, unchanged, except that it had turned intensely bitter. Violent vomiting continued for hours and the after exhaustion was all but deathly.

"I could see plainly that utter breakdown was ahead of me. Just at this time I was led to use Grape-Nuts and I found the food cure. I quickly gained strength and flesh, my gastric troubles were relieved, and my sleep sweet again.

Aside from the powerful nutritive value of Grape-Nuts food, do you know that it will impart its delicious, nutritive flavour to almost any dish that it is added to? For instance, a spoonful or two stirred into a bread pudding before baking, gives it a marvelous flavour far superior to apicns; also, a little cooked in custard for lunch or supper, not only adds special relish, but special sustenance." "There's a Reason."

Deer Swam Across Stony Lake Waters

On Monday the summer outers at the upper end of Stony Lake, saw a sight that might cause a nimrod to take convulsions. Those summering at the north end of the lake saw a buck deer swimming, in full view, across Young's Bay and pass to the lake via the narrow channel, known to those of our readers who can, once a year, dig up, say, 75 cents, to take a day's outing. We do no business with any man owning over ten millions unless he wants to advertise or get "job work" done.

Peterborough baseball and athletic circles yesterday gained a new addition in the person of Mr. Wesley Armstrong, of Brussels, who has accepted a position in Mr. Bruce Patterson's George street tonsorial parlors.

Pale Faced Girls

Thousands Using Successful Cure For Paleness and Anaemia.

The pallid girl always lacks appetite. What little she eats is badly digested.

At night she is restless, she dozes, but doesn't sleep soundly.

Vital force must be increased, new blood must be applied and a general rebuilding take place before she will feel like she ought.

Dr. Hamilton had invaluable experience in these cases and found nothing so prompt in building up the young women as his vegetable pills of Mandrake and Butternut.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills begin by cleansing the system and purifying the blood; they also improve digestion and render food ready for absorption. Additional nourishment is quickly supplied and the patient is fast strengthened and invigorated.

"In using Dr. Hamilton's Pills I find my system is wonderfully built up. It is certainly the most effective remedy I ever used. I have now a good appetite, sleep more soundly and awaken in the morning feeling quite refreshed.

"Formerly I felt tired and depressed. I looked as if a severe illness was hanging over my head.

"Nothing could give quicker results than Dr. Hamilton's Pills and I strongly advise every young woman to use them."

All dealers sell 'Dr. Hamilton's Pills, 25c. per box or five boxes for $1, by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

THE HAGUE CONFERENCE

The deliberations of the International Peace Conference at The Hague will not, we think, be likely to impress observers with any great belief in the permanent utility of the labors of such a body. There are, of course, some directions in which such a conference can act with advantage to the peace of the world. But the limitations are plain, and the results of the present conference show that they cannot be overcome under the international conditions which prevail. The ultimate resort to force in many of the disputes which arise between one nation and another cannot be avoided in the present condition of the world by anything that any conceivable arbitration tribunal could devise. In regard to any matter touching its honor or dignity, a nation naturally refuses to be bound by any outside authority. The world is also largely governed by material desires or aspirations. It is the pressure of the material needs of a people which makes it aggressive. We see this illustrated in the case of Germany, Russia and Japan. The industrial development of Germany compels her to seek for foreign markets for the disposal of her surplus productions, while her rapidly increasing population make colonial opportunities a necessity to her people. Japan is under even a greater necessity to relieve the pressure for more territory and new avenues for the employment of her redundant population. The results we see in Japanese expansion territorially in Korea, and the emigration of Japanese to this continent and elsewhere. Russia needs access to the sea, and when this was made impossible in Europe, through the opposition of other Powers to the absorption of Turkey by Russia, the movement to the Far East and the Pacific Coast became the feature of Russian policy. Great Britain, France and the United States have ample territory, either in their own lands, or in their colonies, and are not impelled to seek additional areas. Now, if it is material and not moral considerations which move nations, then the question between peace and war is also a material one, and arbitration is neither likely to be accepted by those interested not likely to prove satisfactory to them even if they have been induced to submit their case to an independent tribunal.

A recent American writer of great repute insists that the Spanish-American war was waged by the United States on moral grounds alone. The American people believed that Spain was misgoverning Cuba and that it was their duty to interfere on behalf of the Cubans. Some of us may not accept that view, but be inclined to think that the war was caused by the desire of a great nation to show that they would not allow such a state of things to go on. But supposing the case had been carried by the United States, on behalf of the Cubans, to The Hague Tribunal. Instead of sending ships or troops to Cuba, how could the matter have been settled by arbitration? There is no international law which provides that if a power misgoverns part of its territories, its neighbors should interfere and eject it, from that part of its domains. Yet the only alternative to a refusal of the offending power to submit to a decision of the arbitration tribunal, would be the application of force, that is, the declaration of war against it by the powers which intended to see the court's decision maintained. Arbitration is a great step in advance when it is practicable, but as we have said, when applied to international questions, has limitations which cannot be overcome.

THE PHILIPPINE ELECTIONS

The result of the general election in the Philippine Islands can scarcely be agreeable to the people of the United States. The Nationalists have been victorious, and that means a protest against American domination and American policies. The vote was not large. Manila and other towns elected opponents of the present regime to represent them, and may be regarded as voicing the better educated section of the community. It is probable that the action of the United States senate in the last congress in killing the Philippine Tariff Bill had a good deal to do with the result of the election. A modification of the fiscal arrangement between the Islands and the United States, with more favorable consideration of the interests of the Islands would probably weaken the strength of the Nationalists and lessen the movement for independence by removing the feeling that now exists that the welfare of the Islands is subordinated to the advantage of influential commercial interests in the United States. So far the different peoples, supposed to be benefited by the action of the United States in freeing them from the Spanish yoke, do not seem to appreciate the change by which they have become wards of the republic that fixes the conditions on which they can trade with the outside world.

The Engineering Magazine

The Engineering Magazine for September gives the leading place to a study of the Value and Economic Influence of Railway Improvements, by Morrell W. Gaines, statistician for Brown Bros. & Co. There has been so much loose speaking and careless thinking on the subject of the physical valuation of American railroads that a well-informed and well-balanced argument of this kind, recognizing and estimating correctly all the elements o The problem, both engineering and financial, has great and timely significance. Similar authority attaches to the review of Trade Opportunities and Handicaps in South America, by Lewis R. Freeman, the fruit of eighteen months' observant travel and study of industrial conditions in Argentina, Brazil and Uruguay. He shows how much must be done by American merchants and bankers before the diplomatic victories of Secretary Root's visit can lead to any large opportunities for engineering exports from the United States to the Southern Continent.

P. H. Ashmead, secretary of the Philippine Railways, in a finely illustrated paper, describes the progress made in construction of the lines and the excellent promise of the country and its people. Another illustrated feature of note is D. C. Newman Collins' study of the new materials and methods for construction o findustrial buildings. Wm. O. Webber contributes an analysis of the comparative costs of steam and hydro-electric power; H. L. Whittemore describes a very interesting and useful Graphical Wall Record for the Production Department; and C. U. Carpenter continues his exposition of Profit-Making Management for the Factory, with a discussion of wage and shop systems. The number has also the full Review of the Engineering Press, and the Engineering Index.—The Engineering Magazine, New York.

"I know something even more necessary than that," declared the flippant one.

"Perhaps you refer to strength, good heart action, etc. All very necessary, it is true, but not the one essential."

"No, I was thinking of something else."

"And pray what is it?" asked the professor, with a note of impatience in his voice.

"Water."

TENDERS FOR DREDGING

Tenders addressed to the undersigned and endorsed "Tender for Dredging at Port Hope," will be received up to and including Saturday, August 31st, 1907, for dredging required at Port Hope, Durham County, Ont.

Combined specification and form of tender can be obtained at the Department of Public Works, Ottawa. Tenders must include the towing of the plant to and from the works. Only dredges can be employed which are registered in Canada at the time of the filing of tenders. Contractors must be ready to begin work within thirty days after the date they have been notified of the acceptance of their tender.

Tenders will not be considered unless made on the printed form supplied, and signed with the actual signatures of tenderers.

An accepted cheque on a chartered bank, payable to the order of the Honorable the Minister of Public Works, for one thousand dollars ($1,000) must accompany each tender as security deposit in connection with the dredging to be performed. The cheque will be returned in case of non-acceptance of tender.

The Department does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

By order,
FRED GELINAS,
Secretary.

Department of Public Works,

SIREN WAFERS DEVELOP THE BUST

SHE'S A QUEEN! SHE'S A SIREN!

Is an expression that is always heard at sight of a well developed woman. If you are flat chested, with BUST undeveloped, a scrawney neck, thin lean arms the above remark will never be applied to you. "SIREN" wafers will make you beautiful, bewitching. They DEVELOP the BUST in a few weeks from 3 to 6 inches and produce a fine firm, voluptuous bosom. They fill out the hollow places Make the cheeks plump and rosy, and arms handsome and well molded and the neck and shoulders shapely and of perfect contour.

Send for a bottle today and you'll be pleased and grateful. "SIREN" wafers are absolutely harmless, pleasant to take and convenient to carry around. They are sold under guarantee to do all we claim or MONEY back.

Price $1.00 per bottle. Inquire at good drug stores or send DIRECT to us.

FREE!

During the next 30 days only—we will send you a sample bottle of these beautifying wafers on receipt of 10 cents to pay cost of packing and postage if you will mention that you saw the Advertisement in this paper. The sample alone may be sufficient if defects are trivial.

I OFFER YOU A 10c STOCK FOR 5c

In the month of September the price of GUGGENHEIM-GREENWATER COPPER STOCK goes to 10 cents. All who buy shares from the Company will pay that for them.

I secured an option on a block of stock to sell at 5 cents. Until this block is exhausted I can fill orders at 5 cents. I can give those who buy of me for 5 cts., what others will be paying 10 cts. for.

Everyone who sees this advertisement surely has read of Greenwater and Ely, the wonderful new copper districts. The Guggenheim-Greenwater Copper Company owns groups of claims in both places. Work is in progress, and the indications are the best.

Here is a chance for little money to make a fortune. Other mines in the same district have made fortunes, and they have been less promising before development than the Guggenheim Greenwater Company's property.

See me at once about this. One hundred shares will cost you only $5; one thousand shares, $50. The block of stock which I have will not last long. Get for 5 what others are glad to pay 10 for.

THE CONQUEST of CANAAN

By BOOTH TARKINGTON,
Author of "Cherry," "Monsieur Beaucaire," Etc.

COPYRIGHT, 1905, BY HARPER & BROTHERS

"That's right, my boy," exclaimed the other heartily. "It may be a long trip, but ye're all the little man has to depend on. Did ye notice the Tocsin didn't even give him the credit fer givin' himself up?"

"Yes," said Joe. "It's part of their game."

"Did it strike ye now," Mr. Sheehan asked earnestly, leaning forward in his chair—"did it strike ye that the Tocsin was aimin' more to do Happy harm because of you than himself?"

"Yes." Joe looked sadly out of the window. "I've thought that over, and it seemed possible that I might do Happy more good by giving his case to some other lawyer."

"No, sir!" exclaimed the proprietor of Beaver Beach loudly. "They've begun their attack, they're bound to keep it up, and they'd manage to turn it to the discredit of both of ye. Besides, Happy wouldn't have no other lawyer. He'd rather be hung with you fightin' fer him than be cleared by anybody else. I b'lieve it, on my soul I do! But look here," he went on, leaning still farther forward, "I want to know if it struck ye that this morning the Tocsin attacked ye in a way that was somehow vi'lenter than ever before."

"Yes," replied Joe, "because it was aimed to strike where it would most count."

"It ain't only that," said the other excitedly—"it ain't only that! I want ye to listen. Now, see here, the Tocsin is Pike, and the town is Pike—I mean the town ye naturally belonged to. Ain't it?"

"In a way, I suppose—yes."

"In a way!" echoed the other scornfully. "Ye know it is! Even as a boy Pike disliked ye and hated the kind of a boy ye was. Ye wasn't respectable, and he was. Ye wasn't rich, and he was. Ye had a grin on yer face when ye'd meet him on the street." The red bearded man broke off at a gesture from Joe and exclaimed sharply: "Don't deny it! I know what ye was like! Ye wasn't impudent, but ye looked at him as if ye saw through him. Now listen and I'll lead ye somewhere. Ye run with riffraff. Now, I ask ye this: Ye've had one part of Canaan with ye from the start—my part, that is—but the other's against ye. That part's Pike, and it's the ruliu' part"—

"Yes, Mike," said Joe wearily. "In the spirit of things. I know."

"No, sir," cried the other. "That's the trouble; ye don't know. There's more in Canaan than ye've understood. Listen to this: Why was the Tocsin's attack harder this morning than ever before? On yer soul didn't it sound so bitter that it sounded despirt? Now, why? It looked to me as if it had started to ruin ye this time fer good and all! Why? What have ye had to do with Martin Pike lately? Has the old wolf got to injure ye?" Mr. Sheehan's voice rose and his eyes gleamed under bushy brows. "Think," he finished. "What's happened lately to make him bite so hard?"

There were some faded roses on the desk, and as Joe's haggard eyes fell upon them the answer came. "What makes you think Judge Pike isn't trustworthy?" he had asked Ariel, and her reply had been, "Nothing very definite, unless it was his look when I told him that I meant to ask you to take charge of things for me."

He got slowly and amazedly to his feet. "You've got it!" he said.

"Ye see?" cried Mike Sheehan, slapping his thigh with a big hand. "Oh my soul I have the penetration! Ye don't need to tell me one thing except this: I told ye I'd lead ye somewhere. Haven't I kept me word?"

"Yes," said Joe.

"But I have the penetration!" exclaimed Mr. Sheehan. "Should I miss my guess if I said that ye think Pike may be scared ye'll stumble on his track in some queer performances? Should I miss it?"

"No," said Joe, "you wouldn't miss it."

"Just one thing more." The red bearded man rose, mopping the inner band of his straw hat. "In the matter of yer running fer mayor, now"—

Joe, who had begun to pace up and down the room, made an impatient gesture. "Pshaw!" he interrupted, but his friend stopped him with a hand laid on his arm.

"Don't be treatin' it as clean out of all possibility, Joe Louden. If ye do, it shows ye haven't sense to know that nobody can say what way the wind's blowin' week after next. All the boys want ye; Louie Farbach wants ye, and Louie has a big say. Who is it that doesn't want ye?"

"Canaan," said Joe.

"Hold up! It's Pike's Canaan ye mean. If ye git the nomination ye'd be elected, wouldn't ye?"

"I couldn't be nominated."

"I ain't claimin' ye'd git Martin Pike's vote," returned Mr. Sheehan sharply, "though I don't say it's impossible. Ye've got to beat him, that's all. Ye've got to do to him what he's done to you and what he's tryin' to do now, worse than ever before. Well, there may be ways to do it, and if he tempts me enough I may fergit my troth and honor as a noble gentleman and help ye with a word ye'd never guess yerself."

"You've hinted at such mysteries before, Mike," Joe smiled. "I'd be glad to know what you mean if there's anything in them."

"It may come to that," said the other, with some embarrassment. "It may come to that some day if the old wolf presses me too hard in the matter o' tryin' to git the little man across the street hanged by the neck and yonself mobbed fer helpin' him. But today I'll say no more."

"Very well, Mike." Joe turned wearily to his desk. "I don't want you to break any promises."

Mr. Sheehan had gone to the door, but he paused on the threshold and wiped his forehead again. "And I don't want to break any," he said, "but if ever the time should come when I couldn't help it"—he lowered his voice to a hoarse, but piercing, whisper—"that will be the devourin' angel's day fer Martin Pike!"

CHAPTER XVIII.

It was a morning of the warmest week of mid-July, and Canaan lay inert and helpless beneath a broiling sun. The few people who moved about the streets went languidly, keeping close to the wall on the shady side; the women in thin white fabrics; the men, often coatless, carrying palm leaf fans and replacing collars with handkerchiefs. In the courthouse yard the maple leaves, gray with blown dust and grown to great breadth, drooped heavily, depressing the long, motionless branches with their weight so low that the four or five shabby idlers upon the benches beneath now and then flicked them sleepily with whittled sprigs.

I will mail you free, to prove merit, samples of my Dr. Shoop's Restorative, and my Book on either Dyspepsia, The Heart or The Kidneys. Troubles of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—mean Stomach weakness, always. And the Heart, and Kidneys as, well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerves." Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion, use Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Humor and Philosophy

By DUNCAN M. SMITH

THE BEST MEDICINE.

All pills and powders I forsake
All patent lotions give the shake,
For every one I count a fake.
Their sellers only on them make,
But there's one thing I like to take,
And that's vacation.

With bait and hook and fishing line,
A case of bottles and a stein,
A hammock for my weary spine,
I trip off feeling mighty fine.
With bundles also, I opine,
With some elation.

Far from the city dry and hot
I pick a cool and quiet spot
Of paradise a corner lot.
There with congenial souls I plot
Against all terms, well paid or not,
Of occupation.

I gladly say goodby to toil,
Get near to nature and the soil,
And all my hard earned savings spoil,
All worry and its kindred foil,
According to the rules of Hoyle
Spend my vacation.

Care of Linoleum.

Good linoleum, properly cared for, should wear at least five years on a kitchen or dining room floor, provided of course that the usage is not extremely hard.

In cleaning this floor covering the fact should be borne in mind that the dirt is only on the smooth varnished surface and needs no scrubbing with soap or other strong agent to remove it.

Wiping with flannel wrung from warm water or half water and half milk, will remove all germs. A mop is not good for wiping floors unless a cloth is used to wipe the baseboard and molding after the mopping. If this is not done, the wood soon becomes streaked and dirty. A good furniture polish applied twice a year will be beneficial to the linoleum.

Seals Are Following the Buffalo.

From latest reports it is clear that our great seal herd is rapidly disappearing.

Constipation

Baked sweet apples, with some people, being prompt relief for Constipation. With others, coarse all wheat bread will have the same effect. Nature undoubtedly has a vegetable remedy to relieve every ailment known to man, if physicians can but find Nature's way to health. And this is strikingly true with regard to constipation.

The bark of a certain tree in California—the cascara Sagrada—offers a most excellent aid to this end. But, combined with Egyptian Senna, Slippery Elm Bark, Solid Extract of Prunes, etc., this same Cascara bark is given its greatest possible power to correct constipation. A toothsome Candy Tablet, called Lax-ets, is now made at the Dr Shoop Laboratories, from this ingenuous and most effective prescription. Its effect on Constipation, Biliousness, Sour Stomach, Bad Breath, Sallow Complexion, etc., is indeed prompt and satisfying.

No griping, no unpleasant after effects are experienced, and Lax-ets are put up in beautiful lithographed metal boxes at 5 cents and 25 cents per box.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry must be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made on certain conditions, by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of the homesteader resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Six months' notice in writing should be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of intention to apply for patent.

Severe Pains in the Groin

The case of Mr. Chas F. Olive, for years foreman in the "Gazette" of St. John, N. B., is a striking evidence of the power of Ferrozone.

No remedy has such a record for restoring sufferers from acute stomach and kidney trouble; it invariably does cure.

"For several years" writes Mr. Olive, "I have had kidney trouble and until quite recently I suffered torture. A few months ago my condition assumed a very serious form. I consulted several city doctors, used different pills, but without the slightest benefit. I suffered from an intense pain in the groin, and the increasing seriousness of my trouble prompted me to try Ferrozore. It gave me quick relief, and a half-a-dozen boxes cured. Ferrozone I can recommend as a specific for disordered kidneys."

Won't you try Ferrozone too, 50c. per box at all dealers in medicine.

DASHES HERE AND THERE BY TIMES' REPORTERS.

Local Woman Out on Ticket of Leave

Mrs. Davy, the woman who was sentenced to twelve months in the Mercer Reformatory, Toronto, for keeping a house of ill-fame, at 24 Parnell street, has been released. An application was made to the minister of justice, and Mrs. Davey was given her freedom on the ticket of leave system.

Local Marksmen Won

At the opening matches of the Dominion Rifle Association at the Rockcliffe ranges, two Peterborough marksmen, scored prizes. Color-Sergt. Moore captured a $4 prize in the McDougal match, a keenly contested event, and in the Sir Charles Ross match Private Geo. Fitzgerald got on for a $4 prize.

Upset with Future Possibilities

A local girl stopping at Burleigh Falls, A young man and a canoe. They paddled and got to shore. He tried to get to terra firma. Doing this his hind leg or some part of his anatomy got mixed with the craft. The girl got wet. Cries arose from bystanders on the rocks Result was O. K. Look out for further developments of this upset.

Mr. and Mrs. Braund on Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Braund will leave tomorrow on a trip through the Western States and into Canada. They will in all probability be away about sixty days, and during that time will visit a number of different centers at which they have friends. Mr. Braund is taking this extended holiday after several years spent in close attention to business.

Costs in Indian Case were Heavy

The costs in the recent county police court cases against the four Chemong Indians have been settled, and will amount to much more than the fines. Jonas Jacobs and Alexander Knott had to pay, besides their two $5 fines, about $20.50 costs each. Isaac Johnston's costs amounted to about $17.60 and his fine to $10. Jonas Jacobs paid about $20 costs, besides his fine of $5.

I'll stop your pain free. To show you first—before you spend a penny—what my Pink Pain Tablets can do I will mail you free, a Trial Package of them—Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets, Neuralgia, Headache, Toothache. Period pains, etc., are due alone to blood congestion. Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets simply kill pain by coaxing away the unnatural blood pressure. That is all. Address Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. IN SHORT FORM FOR BUSY READERS

—The local Barbers' Union has decided that all union shops here shall close on Labor Day.

—Parties wishing a dainty souvenir as a remembrance for friends at a distance will find a large assortment at Times Bookstore.

—The Coldsprings Union Sunday school went down the Otonabee yesterday to Idyl Wyld on their annual excursion.

—A special meeting of the Board of Education held last night, when the resignations of Messrs. Wallace and Kerr were considered.

—Yesterday Mr. Fred Cook created quite a new appearance on Mr. Chas. S. McClelland's Water street jewellery store. The front has been painted and grained in good taste.

—The Piccolo Band will run a moonlight excursion on Friday evening on the this week per steamer Otonabee, leaving Wolfe street wharf at eight o'clock. This promises to be an enjoyable event.

The School Board held a special meeting last night, when the resignation of Messrs. Wallace and Kerr were received. They were accepted under almost what might be called protest, as both men were good in their positions.

—The way that Auctioneer Gardener did charm the dollars out of the men and women's pockets was a passport to membership (if such were only honest) in the green goods man's association, unlimited. The only thing that keeps Mr Gardiner from objection by the Talkers' Union mentioned is that he will only do right to those from whom he charms the dollars.

Mr. Kerr Was Out of Practice

Mr. F. D. Kerr, we regret to say, was defeated in the preliminary round in the Canadian tennis championship matches, at the Queen's Royal, Niagara-on-the-Lake, by G. Foulkes of Ottawa, the former British Columbia championship, by 6-0, 6-2. The Globe says "Kerr of Peterborough showed lack of practice, and it was not until the last games of the match that he got going."

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

DID NOT FIRE A SHOT

A STORY OF PIONEER DAYS.

Captain McCabe Knew the Sioux Better Than They Knew Themselves, and the Indians Knew the Captain's Men Were Dead Shots and Scalp Takers.

In the pioneer days to reach Montana from Cheyenne, in Wyoming, required a roundabout journey that involved a double crossing of the Rocky mountains, with a change of base at Salt Lake City. The United States government brought about a better condition of travel by constructing a trail through the Gallatin valley along the course of the Gunpowder river, reaching around the base of the mountains in a curvilinear form, which avoided the heights of the Rockies. To protect this route from marauding Indians three forts were built—Reno, Phil Kearny and C. F. Smith.

In 1866 the murderous Sioux from the Yellowstone valley pursued a sanguinary course up through the Gallatin valley and into Montana. It was marked by rapine and plunder. They besieged Fort Reno and killed many of its garrison. They environed Fort Phil Kearny and wiped from the face of the earth every human being whose walls it failed to protect. Then they surrounded Fort C. F. Smith, where 200 soldiers found themselves surrounded by more than a thousand death seeking Indians. Escape seemed impossible. A courier got word of this condition of affairs to General Hancock, who was then stationed at St. Paul, and he sent a messenger to the governor of Montana at Bozeman.

The chief executive of the territory of Montana at that time was Green Clay Smith. He had been a member of congress from Kentucky, but President Lincoln made him territorial governor of Montana. He was seated on the porch of his residence in Bozeman when Hancock's message was handed to him. To a visitor he said:

"What in the name of heaven can I do? Fort C. F. Smith is 250 miles away. The country between here and there is filled with Sioux Indians. Our militia force consists of exactly 427 men. Not a man of them could reach Fort C. F. Smith alive. I am absolutely powerless. However, I will send for Colonel Howie."

It was to this man that Governor Smith addressed himself, handing him General Hancock's dispatch and saying: "Colonel, we can't do anything for those poor devils in Fort C. F. Smith. Am I not right?"

"No," said Colonel Howie quietly, and with the gentle voice of a woman.

"There is no trouble about that, governor. We can arrange that matter and still leave the Montana frontier protected. I will need some picked men and a good leader for them. I think Captain McCabe is best fitted for this undertaking. I will find him."

McCabe was another gentle voiced man, with blue eyes. He didn't make much noise. He acted. He said to the governor: "Oh, yes; it is easy enough. But I'll need forty of the best men I can select. You can keep the rest of your volunteer force here."

Governor Smith looked at him in amazement. So did the visitor from the fort. They both thought he was either insane or a braggart. Governor Smith said to him, "How in the name of heaven do you expect to raise the siege of Fort C. F. Smith with forty men when you know that it is surrounded by more than 1,000 bloodthirsty Indians and that the country between here and there is covered with thousands more of murderous Sioux?"

Said McCabe quietly: "Why, governor, it is easy enough. The Indians know us and know that we know them better than they know themselves. You folks from the east have an idea that what you call Indian atrocities are simply unmeaning exhibitions of brutality; that scalping, for instance, is simply a form of torture. In that you are mistaken. The Indian believes that no man can go to the happy hunting ground heaven we call it- who has been deprived of his hair. Their motive in scalping a victim is to carry out fiendish hatred to its utmost by preventing him from having a happy hereafter. Therefore to deprive an Indian of his scalp is to rob him of his hope of a happy hereafter. My men never kill an Indian without scalping him, and the Indians know that. The forty men I will select for this expedition are unerring in their aim with the rifle. They can shoot sixteen shots in sixteen seconds, and every ball means a dead Indian, and every dead Indian means a scalp, and every scalp means a warrior deprived eternally of a chance of ever reaching the happy hunting ground. My forty men will walk from here to Fort C. F. Smith without firing a shot."

"Incredible," said Governor Smith.

"True," said Captain McCabe.

What was the result?

Forty men walked the 250 miles from Bozeman to Fort C. F. Smith. Indians watched them on every side. By days their progress was signaled by circling columns of smoke and by night by fire from mountain tops. But not a shot was fired. When they got within sight of Fort C. F. Smith the thousand whooping Sioux who held the garrison in siege fled, and the forty frontiersmen from Bozeman marched in and escorted the 200 soldiers back to the territorial capital without the loss of a life. Not a shot had been fired. Not a scalp had been lifted.

Two Gores Landing Heroes

It seems that Messrs Wallace and Henderson of Gore's Landing are candidates by public opinion, for the Humane Society's medal for saving life. These two Rice Lake residents recently saved two lives, those of Messrs Clancy and Conway, from drowning, by going out after the perishing men in a great storm on the lake. After saving them, Mr. Wallace took them to his residence where he applied necessary stimulants, care and afterwards clothing.

The Modesty of Women

Naturally makes them shrink from the indelicate questions, the obnoxious examinations, and unpleasant local treatments, which some physicians consider essential in the treatment of diseases of women. Yet, if help can be had, it is better to submit to this ordeal than let the disease grow and spread. The trouble is that so often the woman undergoes all the annoyance and shame for nothing. Thousands of women who have been cured by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription write in appreciation of the cure which dispenses with the examinations and local treatments. There is no other medicine so sure and safe for delicate women as "Favorite Prescription." It cures debilitating drains, irregularity and female weakness. It always helps. It almost always cures. It is strictly non-alcoholic, non-secret, all its ingredients being printed on its bottle-wrapper; contains no deleterious or habit-forming drugs, and every native medicinal root entering into its composition has the full endorsement of those most eminent in the several schools of medical practice. Some of these numerous and strongest of professional endorsements of its ingredients, will be found in a pamphlet wrapped around the bottle, also in a booklet mailed free on request, by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y. These professional endorsements should have far more weight than any amount of the ordinary lay, or non-professional testimonials.

The most intelligent women now-a-days insist on knowing what they take as medicine instead of opening their mouths like a lot of young birds and gulping down whatever is offered them. "Favorite Prescription" is of KNOWN COMPOSITION. It makes weak women strong, and sick women well.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., 31 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 50 stamps for cloth-bound.

If sick consult the Doctor, free of charge by letter. All such communications are held sacredly confidential.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate and regulate stomach, liver and bowels.

Police Court

Magistrate S. Armstrong, city clerk, presided at the seat of justice during the police court session in Mr. Dumble's absence. Two prisoners appeared and had justice dealt out to them. Thos. Martin, when asked whether guilty of having been drunk the preceding afternoon, replied: "I don't know. I guess I was, but I don't remember anything about it." P. C. McGinty noted that he had found the prisoner at the corner of Simcoe and Stewart streets, running round like a wild man. He was fined $2 to be paid forthwith. Frank Meehan, a Cobourg man, was charged with being a vagrant, and without working to maintain himself, although an able bodied man. The prisoner pleaded hard to be let go, and he would take the first train for Cobourg. The Chief remarked: "Well your Worship, I guess it would be better to go to the Central from Cobourg than from here. Frank sailed out at once to catch the train.

Peteboro's Gas of High Grade

Peterborough's gas is now as good as any made in Canada. It was recently tested at the local custom house, and found to be perfectly pure and of 21 candle power. This is an exceptional standard, as Toronto gas sometimes runs as low as 16 candle power. The company has not been making quite as much during the past two months as formerly owing to so many families being out of town, thus saving the gas they would have used for cooking. The old amount of about 100,000 per diem, will, however, soon be manufactured again.

$100 REWARD, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood an dmucous surfaces of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Two Indian Girls Sold at Auction in the West

Vancouver, B.C., Aug. 29. The selling of two pretty Indian girls, neither of whom were fourteen years of age, to the highest bidder in open market was the chief feature of the Indian potlach last week at Alert Bay. According to the instructions of Indian Agent Halliday, the Indians must break camp and return to their own villages by this evening. The girls were openly sold by the male friends to other Indians for vives. One was bought for some thousand dollars cash. Another girl named Rosa was sold for fourteen hundred blankets, supposed to be worth seven hundred dollars. Another girl named Rebecca has been sold at Alert Bay three times. She is not yet twenty years of age, and has been the mother of five children, all of whom died in infancy. In the deals made last week the girls were not consulted in any way. One of the girls even voluntarily looked on at the time of the sale, not knowing she was to be the victim of the deal.

Say Men Kept a Farmer's Daughter Prisoner for Days

Ottawa, Aug. 29. — Michael and Joseph Forest, of the township of Huntley, are behind the bars of the county jail with a serious charge against them. On Saturday evening last, the two men were driving towards their home and overtook a young girl, Miss Nora O'Brien, a daughter of Mr. Dennis O'Brien, a well-known farmer of that township, who lives about a mile from the home of the two accused. They are alleged to have forcibly compelled her to enter the carriage, taking her to their home, which is occupied only by the two men. They kept her a prisoner until Monday night, when she was located by County Chief Hamilton.

Main Man Hole Under Construction

Leading Feature of Bell Telephone Company's Underground Work Being Done

A gang of men were yesterday employed on the most important of all the many man holes now in course of construction by the Bell Telephone Co., viz., that in front of that company's new building on Hunter street, now in course of construction. This man hole is really the key to the whole underground system now being laid, as here the cables, containing thousands of subterranean wires from all over the city and, in fact, the Province, meet and are taken into the coming switch-board. This man hole, about seven feet deep, and some 10 by 6 feet wide, is walled on each side by concrete walls. Here the cables from all parts will meet and be turned into a tunnel leading to the cellar of the new building. No individual or separate wires. A pair of wires will be distributed, the cables coming from, say, east and west, that meet may be opened. Only the 200 or so, according to size of cable, wires sorted out in pairs, two for each subscriber, and when properly adjusted and connected. be carried through other cables to the switch board.

Band Played in Park Last Night

Generous Work by the Band of the 57th Regiment

As the local Regimental Band will be playing at the Toronto Exhibition on Friday night, Prof. Gliddon, very thoughtfully had the 57th Regt. Band give their weekly concert in Victoria Park last night. The crowd present whilst large, was, possibly owing to changed dates, not quite as large as has been present several times during the past season, thoroughly enjoyed the following program;

1 (a) Regimental March.
(b) Oh, Canada.
March—Old Gloria.
Overture—Nabuco.
Cornet solo— "Love me and the world is mine," by Bandsman Hughes.
Medley—Popular songs.
Novelette—"Maryland."
Medley—Renwick's hits. No. 3.
Selection—"Old Kentucky Home," with variations.
Descriptive—Hunting scene.
God Save the King.

Boal Conservatory Re-opens Tuesday

...hat most successful local institution, the Peterborough Conservatory of Music, will, under the able direction of Mr. R. P. Gliddon, reopen for the coming year on Tuesday next. It is expected that the attendance this term will exceed that of any previous period.

An additional teacher has been engaged in the person of Mr. Henry Lautz, of the Toronto Conservatory of Music staff. He will be a vocal instructor. Mr. Lautz possesses a clear, well cultivated tenor voice and has proved to be a very capable teacher.

Committed Suicide by Cutting His Throat

New York, Aug. 28.—A despatch to the American from Los Angeles says, the Rev. Dr. Edward H. Jewett, for seven years Professor of Pastoral Theology in the General Theological Seminary in New York commited suicide here yesterday by cutting his throat. Dr. Jewett was seventy-eight years old, and was living with his son-in-law, the Rev. Angus M. Porter, rector of the Episcopal church at Redlands.

The act was committed at Manhattan Beach, eighteen miles from this city, and was witnessed by a thousand persons, many of them children playing along the beach.

Dr. Jewett was much impressed by the so-called Osler theory and frequently remarked: "I think that some method should be found out of an unbearable existence for old people who have outlived their usefulness. I think there should be provided that old men should be hit over the head with a club and mercifully killed."

He had suffered for several years from chronic rheumatism.

Dr. Jewett was born in Nottingham, England, in 1830 He was the author of several works on religious thought and worship.

Niagara Grape Crop Is a Record Breaker

St. Catharines, Aug. 28—"The grape crop of the Niagara Peninsula will be two and a half times greater than last year, according to reports received," said George Barnes of the Ontario Wine and Grape Growing Company this morning, an encouraging statement in view of the serious shortage in every other fruit this year. "Grape growers tell me they never saw such a crop of grapes before," added Mr. Barnes.

"Any damage reported to the grapes?" was asked. "No blight or anything, that I have heard of, between here and Hamilton," was the reply. "The only damage is reported from the sand ridge in Stamford township where the rose bug has got at the grapes, but to my certain knowledge that bug has been there for years. It only represents a small area, though."

It is said that the average yearly yield of grapes of the Niagara fruit belt is about five thousand tons. According to the estimates received by Mr. Barnes this year's output will, therefore, be around thirteen thousand tons. The grape growing district includes Wentworth, Lincoln and Welland counties.

As an evidence of the shortage of fruit around here, the dealers who carry glass jars for canning are all filled up with them yet. In previous years about this time there is usually a glass bottle famine.

Tomatoes are coming in well.

Taken To Shelter

The Children's Shelter Asked to Get Home for Child

At the police court yesterday morning Rev. Father McColl asked his worship that two children who were left at the House of Providence about a year be taken to the Children's Shelter that they might be placed in desirable homes. He stated that about a year ago, these two children, a boy aged seven and a girl of six were left at the House of Providence, by their mother, who, Father McColl said did not live with her husband. The whereabouts of either parent is not known at present. A home has been procured for one of the children and the people with whom one child is going, intend adopting her. The other child will be left at the shelter until such time as a home can be procured for him. His worship consented to the children being handed over to the shelter.

—A large number of citizens will go out to Chemong Park this afternoon to witness the junior regatta, which had to be postponed from Saturday, owing to rough weather.

Strikers Leave United States.

Winnipeg, Aug. 28.—A special car from New York city containing a party of forty striking telegraph operators reached Winnipeg yesterday. The men will be employed on different parts of the C.P.R. in the West, and will not return to New York when the strike is settled. This is the second contingent to arrive in the west since the strike started.

The men here with the two telegraph companies steadily refuse to handle wires from the South. Some despatches are coming via Minneapolis, but the wires are being worked by the higher officials.

Gas Bag Exploded 800 ft. High

Earl Hess, the Aeronant, and His Airship Shot Downward with Terrific Speed

Greenville, Ohio, Aug. 29. -- Earl Hess had a thrilling escape from death yesterday in the presence of 15,000 persons who had gathered to see his ascension in an airship. When 800 feet above the earth the gas bag exploded, and the aerial craft shot downward with terrific speed. Just before Hess struck the earth the netting became tangled and caused the gas bag to form a parachute. Hess landed safely, although his ship was wrecked.

License Inspector J. Stewart Busy

Two Convictions for Illicit Selling of Intoxicating Liquors

Yesterday License Inspector Jos. Stewart proved that he is "Johnny on the spot," when it comes to looking after illegal sale of liquor. He obtained two proven convictions.

Edward J. Quinn, proprietor of the Craig House at Lakefield, pleaded guilty yesterday morning, before Magistrate Edmison to the charge of selling liquor without a license. He was fined $50 and costs, amounting to $53.

A like fine was also imposed upon Andrew Wilson, proprietor of the Lakeview House at Young's Point. He also pleaded guilty.

Former Local Man's Promising Crops

Wheat Grown by Mr. W. McBain on Exhibition Here

In the window of Mr. Jas. J. Lynch the Hunter street druggist, are displayed samples of wheat cut a week ago, on the farm of a former Peterborough man, now living near Keyes, Manitoba, Mr. W. McBain. The wheat is almost ripe and shows great development. Mr. McBain, who is a cousin of Mr. J. J. McBain, of this city reports that if the frost holds off long enough, he will have the finest yield of wheat that he has ever had since going to the west.

LIFE IN THE GREAT LAND OF THE FUTURE

Mr. H. Hamilton Fyfe Explains Why Great Britain Must Drop Her Paternal Attitude Toward Canada

It was on May 24 that I landed in Canada, and when I asked the reason for the decorations and the red ensigns which were fluttering from numerous poles I was told that it was Victoria Day. The "Queen's Birthday" is still observed in Canada as a holiday, and, even more significant, the day previous is known as Empire Day and celebrated in every school with patriotic exercises, songs, speeches, salutes to the flag. All through the Dominion I found the same spirit of enthusiastic loyalty.

In Great Britain loyalty is a polite sentiment. In Canada it is a perfervid passion. If you asked an average Briton about Empire Day he would either admit blank ignorance or tell you it had something to do with council schools. It is only when one sees what it means to Canada that one understands why Lord Meath goes on pegging away and feels ashamed that his efforts do not meet with instant success.

EMPIRE DAY IN CANADA.

Contrast our apathy with the eagerness of the Canadians in taking up the idea. Conceived by a private person in 1896—it was communicated to the Ontario Minister of Education, who received it "with delight," and invited his correspondent to prepare a general scheme. This done, the Minister made the matter his own concern; set on foot enquiries which elicited warm approval; and had the whole business fixed up by August 1898. The first Empire Day celebrations took place the following year and ever since they have been extending in range, until now they are general and a recognized feature of the school year.

Empire Day and Victoria Day. To the Canadian child they are a valuable lesson in history, a valuable stimulus to love of country. They widen his horizon. They appeal to his imagination. They impress upon his ripening mind that he is a citizen of no mean country. They make the flag convey some definite idea to him. They implant associations which he will never forget.

SENTIMENTALISM AND BUSINESS

Sentimentalism? Not a bit of it. Business, good business, the best from the Empire's point of view.

Those who are against cultivating the sentiment of loyalty are against the continued existence of the British Empire. Every sneer at Empire Day is a nail in the coffin of the great heritage of the World-Power which our forefathers built up and handed down to us. And suppose that World-Power to be at last securely coffined, who is going to be the loser? Not Canada, for she will be the country of the Twentieth Century, whether she remains linked to us or not. The position which is at stake is the position of Great Britain.

Long before the twentieth century is over Canada will have fifty millions of people. Unless she has, long before that, become a full partner in the British Empire, it will be useless to ask her to come in then. There is a great and growing spirit of Nationalism in Canada today, though as yet there is no desire for independence. "From Vancouver to Halifax," the Premier of Ontario assured me in ringing tones and with emphatic gesture, "there are not 400 people who wish to break with the United Kingdom," and every responsible person told me the same thing.

But most of these responsible persons—politicians, bankers, manufacturers, newspaper men—added a warning. Canada, they said, in effect, has got to develop in some direction. She cannot remain a colony forever. To be treated in Great Britain as "Colonial" rankles bitter in the Canadian breast.

There comes a period in the relation of parent and child when the respect and obedience demanded of the latter must be turned into friendship on equal terms. If the change is not made the relation is sure to be found irksome on one side, and quite probably on both. The time came many years ago to make that change in the relations between Great Britain and Canada, but there are many people in Great Britain—and some of them people in high places—who have not realized it yet.

PARENT AND CHILD.

That Canada is fervently loyal reflects no credit upon the present generation of Britons. Indeed, she is loyal in spite of the present generation. They are not too fond of Britons either in Quebec or Ontario, and they have a very poor opinion of them out West. The Briton grumbles too much. Instead of settling down to fit himself into new conditions, he complains that they are not the conditions to which he has been accustomed. No doubt there are many things managed better at home than in Canada. But it is the act of a fool to keep on bawling this into Canadian ears. The obvious retort is, "Why didn't you stay at home?"

Another grievance against British people is that they too often blunder after making a little fortune and going back to the old country. Well, of course, they have a good "old country" to go back to, which is more than can be said of the pinched and persecuted peoples of Southern Russia. But Canada naturally wants not temporary exploiters of her resources, but citizens; and she finds that in the main work at present before her, tilling the soil, the American farmers and the European peasants are more useful than the average immigrant from home. They are grateful to her, for giving them the chance to prosper, and they are by nature and training fitted to take advantage of it. She contrasts their sturdy self-reliance with the helplessness of the Briton. While he is asking where he is to sleep, they have begun building their homes. They are accustomed to life in the wilds. He expects to find everything ready made and for sale in shop windows.

THE FLAG AND THE THRONE.

Nor is it British statesmanship that has kept Canada loyal. "Another Alaska boundary," said a shrewd observer to me in Montreal, "and Canada would have been hard to hold." She does not understand that it is the homely wits of our home-keeping politicians which are to blame for Britain's diplomatic defeats at American hands. "Canada has no reason to thank British plenipotentiaries," Sir Wilfrid Laurier said in a recent speech, and most Canadians believe that Britain has again and again deliberately sacrificed Canadian interests in order to please the United States.

The magnificent loyalty of Canadians is not due, therefore, to any love for the British people or for what is incorrectly called the "Imperial" Parliament. They speak with contempt of the House of Commons and our antiquated system and our one-eyed politicians.

On the other hand, Canada is enthusiastically loyal to the flag and to the throne. It makes a Briton feel ashamed. It brings a lump into one's throat. But no sentiment, however strong, can keep an Empire together. Let us not deceive ourselves as to that.

Agricultural Find on George Street

Yesterday Mr. Rollie Denne, the George street flour and feed merchant discovered that he had a miniature agricultural gold mine in front of his place of business. To get down to facts, Mr. Denne found that under one of the iron gratings in the pavement, in front of his store, was thriving a lusty crop of mushrooms. Now where the "spawn" that started this crop came from, or buried in the dim and distant past. Still these edible fungi are there in good numbers and they are the correct goods. If this George street merchant shows a gain in avoirdupois, blame the farm on George street.

Time Changed For Saturday's Game

Saturday's ball game at Riverside Park, between Johnston's locals and Port Hope, for the championship of the Midland League, will start at three o'clock sharp, instead of half-past three. This change is made to accommodate those who are desirous of getting away on the G.P.R. for Toronto. The second section is due to leave here at 5.15. The grand stand will be filled and the fence around the diamond will be lined several deep. Get there early and get a good place and see all the game.

British Admiral Visits Canada

Sir Albert Markham Thinks there will be no War Between United States and Japan

Montreal, Aug. 28.—A distinguished officer of the British navy is at present in this city in the course of a pleasure tour throughout Canada and the United States.

Among the guests who registered at the Windsor Hotel are Admiral Sir Albert and Lady Markham and their little daughter. They arrived this morning from Quebec where they have been spending the past four or five days, and are on their way westward, leaving for Toronto by boat tomorrow.

Sir Albert is a fine example of the very highest type of sailor, and he has the frank, genial manner associated with the men of the sea. Browned from exposure to wind and weather, sturdy in frame, erect in bearing, active in his movements, the only sign of his middle age is his grizzled hair and beard; and his whole appearance and manner impress one at once with the fact that he is one of the men who have made the British Navy of today and are engaged in building the navy of the future.

"I don't know that I have very much to say," he remarked with a smile to a reporter who interviewed him at the Windsor, "except that I have just come out for a little pleasure trip with my family. We arrived only a couple of weeks ago in New York and I will probably be back in England in another month and a half. We are going on to Toronto and after visiting that part of the country we will travel a little in the United States before returning home."

The admiral said that he would not visit the Pacific coast, as the trip was rather a long one.

"Besides I know the coast very well," he added, "and it would hardly have any novel features to show me. I spent many a day cruising in these Pacific waters."

JAPAN AND UNITED STATES.

Talking of war, Admiral Markham said that he had been rather amused by the questions of the New Yorker newspapermen, who met him on his arrival at that city. The first question put had been with regard to his opinion of the likelihood of a struggle between Japan and the United States.

"I told them there was not the slightest chance of such a thing," he said, "and in saying so, I was merely repeating what my personal and intimate friend, Admiral Ijuin, of the Japanese navy, told me himself not long ago, when I asked him what he thought about the matter. Admiral Ijuin is a very old friend of mine, having in fact served under me as a midshipman; and when he visited me a short time ago in England, he said that there was absolutely no ground for all this war talk."

Concerning Admiral Ijuin, whose name is not nearly so familiar in this country as that of his associate, Admiral Togo, Admiral Markham said that it was really he who was at the back of the operations of the Japanese navy during the struggle with Russia, and much of the credit for their brilliant success was due to his wonderful ability as a tactician and strategist.

"Togo was the actor, the man who performed the operations," he said, "but it was Ijuin who was behind him and pulled the strings and evolve the plans."

Police Court

Only one case came up before his Worship Magistrate Dumble at yesterday's session of the police court. This case was one of a claim for unpaid wages made by Stanley McCabe against a local citizen. The whole amount of this "tempest in a teapot" involved the sum of $4. The defendant pleaded guilty and was given eight days in which to pay the $4 claimed. Alas and alack! There were $3.80 costs added to the original debt which the defendant will have to dig up.

A Fat Boy and Girl Weigh 529 Pounds

London, Aug. 28.—Ruby and Wilfred Westwood are two young giants who have just come over from New Zealand to England to visit their grandfather near Birmingham. Ruby, though only thirteen, is 5 ft. 2 1-2 inches in height and weighs 216 pounds. Wilfred is two years younger than his sister, but half an inch taller. And weighs 281 pounds—a figure which exceeds the combined weight of both his parents.

The case is the more remarkable because the parents are perfectly normal, and Mr. Westwood knows of nothing of the kind among his ancestors.

In spite of their extraordinary size the children appear to be in excellent health. Their mother says that neither of them was ever ill for a day. Without many marvels of agility they are fond of physical exercise. They amuse themselves with other children of their age, run with them through the fields and follow them over hedges. They appear to be amiable young persons and are great favorites with their diminutive playmates.

The arrival of these young and robust products of the antipodes could not pass unperceived, and they have been besieged by reporters and photographers.

Saturday's Big Game

Now for the finish—Saturday's game will be the first of a series of three final games with Port Hope for the Midland League championship. That these will be the most exciting and hardest fought games played in the Midland League this season, is an assured fact.

The boys from Hope-ville are playing the snappiest kind of ball, and Manager Crawford has been working the bunch overtime in anticipation of landing the much coveted championship. Surplus, who is regarded by many fans, to be the best twirler in the league, will uncork some of his dazzling curves at the game here Saturday, as his arm is in splendid condition. He is the only Midland League pitcher that the locals have seen unable to hit to any extent.

Quinlen will be on the dump Saturday and will endeavor to repeat his no-hit game he pitched against Port Hope earlier in the season. It will certainly be a great pitchers' battle as much depends upon the result of the initial game. Get to the grounds early if you want a seat in the grand stand.

MORE JAPANESE FROM HONOLULU

The Indiana Will Bring 800 to Vancouver About Sept. 10--New Westminster Has a Jap in the Board of Trade

Vancouver, Aug. 29.—Eight hundred more Japanese have been booked for passage from Honolulu to Vancouver on the steamer Indiana, and the option of a second voyage from the island to this port in the charter party of the Indiana has been taken up. This news was received from San Francisco, where the Indiana is owned. She is now on her way from Vancouver to Honolulu to pick up the Japanese. It is likely that more than eight hundred will come as booking is still open. The Indiana should arrive about September 10th.

A VEXED QUESTION.

The proposal of the name of C. Shinobu, a Japanese, for membership in the New Westminster Board of Trade at the regular meeting last week created a general discussion on the advisability or inadvisability of accepting Orientals into the Board and before the subject was finally dropped and Mr. Shinobu had been accepted on an unanimous vote, it had developed into a discussion of the broader question of a "White Canada." Mr. Shinobu was proposed for membership by Secretary A. E. White.

H. T. Thrift stated that in his opinion the question was not concerning Mr. Shinobu's qualifications or worthiness, but whether Canada was to be a white man's country or a yellow man's country. It was evident to all that the Japanese could never assimilate with the white race, and for that reason they should not be encouraged to populate British Columbia to the detriment of white labor.

A JAPANESE GENTLEMAN.

Mr. White, the proposer of Mr. Shinobu, stated that he knew the candidate to be a gentleman of substance, breeding and education, who was doing much to foster trade between this country and Japan. He could see no justification for hesitation about accepting Mr. Shinobu's application for membership.

John Crean and others spoke along the same lines. On going to a vote the son of Japan was received as a member of the New Westminster Board of Trade, and he is probably the first Japanese to be received in any Canadian or American board of trade.

Shinobu's election was received with cheers.

A TERM OF THREE YEARS.

A local paper prints the forms of contract used when Japanese laborers or fishermen are brought to Canada. Following are some of the provisions:

The undersigned employe engages of his own free will, by this contract, to proceed to Canada, to be employed there by the undersigned employer or his heir or successor, as seaman or fisherman on board the ship or vessel of the employer or any other work assignable to him on the following conditions;

The length of engagement is fixed at three years, to commence from the day of arrival at ..... Canada, and to terminate when he shall have completed the full term of labor.

Wages at the rate of $15 (fifteen) per month, payable as specified in article 4 of this contract.

Two complete suits of clothing each year, each consisting of one jacket, one pair of trousers, one hat, one raincoat, two sou'westers, and also one blanket (doubled) per annum.

Suitable sleeping accommodations and living and sleeping accommodations of six feet by three feet when employed ashore.

Sufficient rations suitable for Japanese.

In case of sickness, medical attendance and necessary medicines to be provided by the employer, free of charge, to the employe.

The wages to commence from the day when the employe actually starts to work, and to be paid in the following manner, $15 PER MONTH.

The monthly wages of $15 (fifteen) gold, of which sum the employer will pay on the customary pay day of each month.

Until the sum of $50 has been accumulated, $5 gold shall be preferentially deducted each month to form a fund, which shall be handed to the laborer at the end of his contract, with interest at the rate of not less than three per cent. per annum.

Should the employe abscond from the service of the employer, or dies thereof, unless such accident is due to his own negligence, the employer undertakes to pay such employe or his bereaved family the sum of $160 in gold.

The transportation of the employe from Japan to ..... Canada, including food and medicine, to be borne by the employer, and employer further binds himself to provide with a free return passage, including food and medicine, to Japan from ..... Canada, at the termination of the agreement.

In case of the employe becoming permanently incapacitated for work on account of accident sustained in the employer's service he shall forfeit all deposits left in the hands of the employer and his right of return passage.

CHINESE KEEP COMING

The number of Chinese who paid the head tax of $200 on the arrival of the R.M.S. Empress of India from Hong Kong is in excess of previous records. Every month sees an increase in the arrivals of the five-hundred-dollar Chinese. In all 74 paid the entrance tax at Victoria and Vancouver when landed from the Empress of India.

Igorrote Village

To be Again Seen at the Toronto Exhibition

Visitors to the Canadian National Exhibition will again have an opportunity of studying at close range the barbaric Igorrotes from the Philippine Islands, whose village last year created such a sensation in Toronto.

The exhibit this year will be more interesting even than it was last year, and visitors will see the world's most interesting wild people living as they live at home. Grass-thatched huts will dot the enclosure and all around the primitive industries of these strange people will be seen in operation. All the sports and pastimes will be shown, and these merry head-hunting, dog-eaters will show Canadians how their own ancestors may have lived when the world was young. The Igorrotes are as wild as woods, but are a likable people, differing greatly from other brown people. As was the case last year, the exhibit will be run on educational lines, with more variety to it, it is claimed, than any other traveling exhibit. Manager Orr passes it in the Official Bulletin of the exhibition, and the fine reputation the village made last year is a guarantee that it will be well worth a visit this year.

Expired In Automobile

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 28—An automobile containing two men, a young woman and the body of a girl, who had been a companion on a round of visits to beach resorts, arrived at the Park Hospital early today. The trio were arrested and will be held until the cause of the girl's death are fully explained. The dead girl's name was Frances Earl, 161 Golden Gate Avenue. Her companions were George W. Ford, Harry McHenry and Pearl Shelton. The latter stated that the girl had taken several drinks, claimed dad expired.

Do You Seek Health?

Consult Dr. Hamilton And You Will Be Shown the Way.

Thousands are in the same boat—all sickly, bilious and feeling far from well.

Trouble is, the system is clogged with impurities which need to be cleared away.

Before downright sickness arrives you should cleanse and purify the system with Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

At once you feel their mighty influence building up weak spots, clearing out disease, and putting you again on your feet.

These purely vegetable pills change your tired worn-out condition to one of health and vigor, because they supply the body with nourishing blood that builds up and enlivens the entire system.

Mr. John Whitley, of Stanwood, P. O., Ont., knows the merit of Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and says; "I wouldn't be alive today had it not been for Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Last winter I was sick with grippe, and when spring came I was weak, bilious and rheumatic. I used enough medicine to cure twenty times, but I didn't get any help till I tried Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They purified my blood, took the yellow color out of my face, put new tone in my my stomach, and increased my appetite. The bilious attacks and rheumatic pains gradually departed, and Dr. Hamilton's Pills made a new man of me. I proved their merit, and proclaim them a medicine for all men."

UNION LABEL

PETERBOROUGH, AUGUST 26 1907.

THE CROP OUTLOOK

The latest reports from the Prairie Provinces, as to the outlook for the crops, are generally favorable. While the total crop will not be as large as anticipated in the spring, it will probably give the farmers as large a sum as they received for last years crop, the present price for wheat being higher than that which prevailed last year.

While this is so far satisfactory, it looks as though the high water mark of prosperity has been reached in Central Canada and that the tide is about to ebb. The high prices for material and labor are having the natural effect of checking new enterprises, the probable returns from which, under present conditions, do not seem to offer sufficient inducement for the outlay of the necessary capital. Although speculators may be disturbed by a cessation of the activity that has prevailed, the permanent interests of the whole country will not suffer by a gradual return to a more moderate basis of values—one that is calculated on the amount for which a fair return can be had.

ASKING TOO MUCH OF IT

There exists in Ottawa a local branch of the Musicians' Union. One of the rules of this union, applicable when the local union deems it advisable, is that bands composed of members of the union shall not play at gatherings with bands whose members are not union men. The Ottawa union has laid down this rule because the directors of the Ottawa Exhibition, seeking to add to the attractiveness of their show, engaged a travelling organization, the members of which happen not to be union men, notice has been served upon the exhibition board that none of the Ottawa bands will play for the exhibition. Taking the local men at their word, the exhibition people have decided to replace the Ottawa bands by organizations from nearby towns, not so squeamish about the company they keep. Countering this, the union men have waited upon Mr. Mackenzie King, of the Labor Department, and asked him if it is not illegal, under the Alien Labor Act, for the exhibition people to enter into a contract to bring the foreign organization to Canada. Mr. King declined to say, holding that if the law was invoked the judge might hold a contrary view. His advice was to test the law. It is, therefore, likely that the managers of the Ottawa exhibition will be hauled into court on a charge of having violated the alien labor law. There is a loophole of escape for them. The law provides that its clauses shall not apply to "professional actors, artists, lecturers, or singers." It is just possible that the judge might hold that the imported band is an organization of "artists," and consequently exempt. It might even suffice, if it were shown that they had been engaged as "artists." It is certainly to be trusted that the judge will take a common sense view of the situation. To have the act applied as the Ottawa bandsmen would have it applied, would make even its friends ashamed of it.

TELEGRAPH STRIKE

The conditions under which the strike has come about imperatively forbid the companies to yield. Not only do their own interests and their own safety compel them to resist unreasonable demands which the men seek to enforce by methods even more unreasonable, but considerations of public interest and of duty to the community must constrain them firmly to maintain their position. The men acted without the slightest regard to the convenience of the public or to the necessities of business. But at this dullest season of the year both the companies and the public are in a position to put up with the annoyances incident to the strike much more easily we imagine, than the operators themselves can put up with the loss of wages, particularly when, in the case of many of them, this loss promises to be permanent. If he be thrice armed who has his quarrel just, strikers whose procedure has been so wholly unjust and unreasonable must be pretty nearly disarmed. At least, the striking operators have deprived themselves of that arm without which few strikes have ever been successful—the support of public opinion.

Catholic Priests Now in Retreat

The retreat of the priests of the Peterborough Diocese was preached in Peterborough Diocese was preached yesterday morning by Rev. Took Off the Chill.

"Things were running smoothly until he ran in a cold deck on us," said the old miner, relating a part of the story of his life.

"If the deck was cold, why didn't you warm it?" asked the friend, who claimed not to understand.

"We did," said the old man, "as soon as we found it out. Our language would have warmed anything."

On and Off.

We hear a lot of simple "con"
About the art of getting on—
How rich men may be made to "cough,"
But womenkind who patronize
The street car need to be made wise
About the art of getting off.

Just as a Spectator.

"Did you have a nice time at the picnic?"

"Glorious. Thirteen heads were broken."

"Where is the fun in that?"

"None of them was mine."

So Careless.

The fog horn is quite reckless,
And stays out nights, I'm told.
No wonder when we hear it
It always has a cold.

SELECTIONS

The Vanishing Trick.

Into the grocer's shop walked an ancient lady with a slow and halting tread and carrying on her arm a basket containing a large earthenware pot with a lid. Placing the basket on the counter, she made various purchases, which she put carefully in the pot, and had her bill made out.

"By the way," she said before paying this, "do you mind keeping this pot with the purchases in it until I come back and pay for them, as I have to buy other things some distance off, and it will be more convenient for me to leave the things here till later?"

This request was willingly acceded to, and, lifting the pot carefully out of the basket, the old dame placed it, with an effort, in a corner; then, placing her basket on her arm, left the shop. Hours went by, day ripened into evening, and evening gave way to night, but the old woman did not return. At last the proprietor thought of examining the earthenware pot to see if by any chance it had its owner's address upon it, and great was his astonishment, not untinged with dismay, to find that it possessed no bottom.—London Answers.

Witchcraft in the Nineteenth Century.

Most people believe that witchcraft among civilized people ended when the "Salem witch mania" ran its course and died out in the year 1692. It did as far as America is concerned, except among savages, but in other countries the belief in the superstition did not die until a much later date, even if it can be truly said to be dead now. In France an old beggar was tortured to death as late as 1807 on the charge of being one who "communed with evil spirits," and in Spain a witch was burned in 1808. In 1850 in France a man and his wife tortured a suspected witch to death, and nothing at all was done with them by the criminal courts on account of the lingering belief in sorcery. Four years later a witch was drowned in England, and in 1860 one was burned in Mexico. In 1874, 1879, 1880 and again in 1889 witches were publicly burned in Russia, and even as late as 1890 regular judicial trials of witches were had in Prussia, Poland and Austria-Hungary.

Hoped He Wouldn't Grow.

A well known member of parliament was addressing an agricultural meeting in the south of England and in the course of his remarks expressed the opinion that farmers do not sufficiently vary their crops and make a mistake in always sowing wheat.

One of the audience opposed to him in politics asked him what crops he would recommend.

"Everything in turn," he replied.

"Well," said his interlocutor, "if swedes don't come up, what then?"

"Sow mustard," said the M. P.

"And if mustard doesn't come up, what then?"

And so he went on through a whole list of crops until, the M. P.'s patience being exhausted, he put an end to his questioning amid roars of laughter by saying:

"Oh, sow yourself, and I hope you won't come up."

Circumstantial Evidence.

Chick-Bruce was a famous Adirondack guide, who accompanied Grover Cleveland on one or two of his hunting trips in those mountains. Chick left Mr. Cleveland sitting on a log one morning while he went out to drive down a deer should he chance to find one. When he came back he saw his distinguished employer still sitting on the log, but with the muzzle of his gun pointing directly at the presidential chest.

"Here," shouted Chick, "quit that, dod gast ye! Suppose that gun had gone off and you had killed yourself, what would have happened to me? Dern ye, everybody knows I'm a Republican!"

A Large Order.

The proprietor of a certain restaurant "leased" the reverse side of his bill of fare to a carriage manufacturer, who prints advertisements thereon. The other day a customer, in a great hurry, ran into the restaurant, sat at a table and was handed a bill wrong side up by the flurried waiter. The customer put on his pince-nez, curled his mustache with his left hand and shouted in a voice of thunder: "Bring me a fly, a landau, two victorias and a dogcart. Got any funeral cars?" The waiter fled.—London Graphic.

TENDERS FOR DREDGING

Tenders, addressed to the undersigned and endorsed "Tender for Dredging at Port Hope," will be received up to and including Saturday, August 31st, 1907, for dredging required at Port Hope, Durham County, Ont.

Combined specification and form of tender can be obtained at the Department of Public Works, Ottawa. Tenders must include the towing of the plant to and from the works. Only dredges can be employed which are registered in Canada at the time of the filing of tenders. Contractors must be ready to begin work within thirty days after the date they have been notified of the acceptance of their tender.

Tenders will not be considered unless made on the printed form supplied, and signed with the actual signatures of tenderers.

An accepted cheque on a chartered bank, payable to the order of the Honorable the Minister of Public Works, for one thousand dollars ($1,000) must accompany each tender as security deposit in connection with the dredging to be performed. The cheque will be returned in case of non-acceptance of tender.

The Department does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

By order,
FRED GELINAS,
Secretary.

Department of Public Works,
Ottawa, August 21, 1907.

I OFFER YOU A 10c STOCK FOR 5c

In the month of September the price of GUGGENHEIM-GREENWATER COPPER STOCK goes to 10 cents. All who buy shares from the Company will pay that for them.

I secured an option on a block of stock to sell at 5 cents. Until this block is exhausted I can fill orders at 5 cents. I can give those who buy of me for 5 cts., what others will be paying 10 cts. for.

Everyone who sees this advertisement surely has read of Greenwater and Ely, the wonderful new copper districts. The Guggenheim-Greenwater Copper Company owns groups of claims in both places. Work is in progress, and the indications are the best.

Here is a chance for little money to make a fortune. Other mines in the same district have made fortunes, and they have been less promising before development than the Guggenheim Greenwater Company's property.

See me at once about this. One hundred shares will cost you only $5; one thousand shares, $50. The block of stock which I have will not last long. Get for 5 what others are glad to pay 10 for.

THE CONQUEST of CANAAN

By BOOTH TARKINGTON,
Author of "Cherry," "Monsieur Beaucaire," Etc.

COPYRIGHT, 1903, BY HARPER & BROTHERS

stood open, displaying limp wares of trade, but few tokens of life, the clerks hanging over dim counters as far as possible from the glare in front, gossiping fragmentarily, usually about the Cory murder and anon upon a subject suggested by the sight of an occasional pedestrian passing perspiring by with scrooged eyelids and purpling skin. From street and sidewalk transparent hot waves swam up and danced themselves into nothing, while from the river bank a half mile away came a sound hotter than even the locust's midsummer rasp, the drone of a planing mill.

Greater heat than that of these blazing days could not have kept one of the sages from attending the conclave now, for the battle was on in Canaan, and here upon the National House corner, under the shadow of the west wall, it waxed even keener. Perhaps we may find full justification for calling what was happening a battle in so far as we restrict the figure to apply to this one spot. Elsewhere in the Canaan of the Tocsin the conflict was too one sided. The Tocsin had indeed tried the case of Happy Fear in advance, had convicted and condemned and every day grew more bitter. Nor was the urgent vigor of its attack without effect.

Sleepy as Main street seemed in the heat, the town was incensed and roused to a tensity of feeling it had not known since the civil war, when, on occasion, it had set out to hang half a dozen "Knights of the Golden Circle." Joe had been hissed on the street many times since the inimical clerk had whistled at him. Probably demonstrations of that sort would have continued had he remained in Canaan, but for almost a month he had been absent and his office closed, its threshold gray with dust. There were people who believed that he had run away again, this time never to return, among those who held to this opinion being Mrs. Louden and her sister, Joe's step-aunt. Upon only one point was everybody agreed—that twelve men could not be found in the county who could be so far persuaded and befuddled by Louden that they would dare allow Happy Fear to escape. The women of Canaan, incensed by the terrible circumstances of the case, as the Tocsin colored it—a man shot down in the act of begging his enemy's forgiveness—clamored as loudly as the men. There was only the difference that the latter vociferated for the hanging of Happy; their good ladies used the word "punishment."

And yet, while the place rang with condemnation of the little man in the jail and his attorney, there were voices here and there uplifted on the other side. People existed, it astonishingly appeared, who liked Happy Fear. These were for the greater part obscure and even darkling in their lives, yet quite demonstrably human beings, able to smile, suffer, leap, run and to entertain fancies; even to have, according to their degree, a certain rudimentary sense of right and wrong, in spite of which they strongly favored the prisoner's acquittal. Precisely on that account, it was argued, an acquittal would outrage Canaan and lay it open to untold danger. Such people needed a lesson.

"The Hon. P. J. Parrott, who so ably represented this county in the legislature some fourteen years ago, could scarcely restrain himself when approached by a reporter as to his sentiments anent the repulsive deed. 'I should like to know how long Canaan is going to put up with this sort of business,' were his words. 'I am a law abiding citizen, and I have served faithfully and with my full endeavor and ability to enact the laws and statutes of my state, but there is a point in my patience, I would state, which lawbreakers and their lawyers may not safely pass. Of what use are our most solemn enactments, I may even ask of what use is the legislature itself, chosen by the will of the people, if they are to ruthlessly be set aside by criminals and their shifty protectors? The blame should be put upon the lawyers who by tricks enable such rascals to escape the rigors of the carefully enacted laws, the fruits of the solon's labor, more than upon the criminals themselves. In this case if there is any miscarriage of justice I will say here and now that in my opinion the people of this county will be sorely tempted, and, while I do not believe in lynch law, yet if that should be the result it is my unalterable conviction that the vigilantes may well turn their attention to the lawyers or lawyer who brings about such miscarriage. I am sick of it.'"

The Tocsin did not print the interview it obtained from Louie Farbach—the same Louie Farbach who long ago had owned a beer saloon with a little room behind the bar, where a shabby boy sometimes played dominoes and seven up with loafers; not quite the same Louie Farbach, however, in outward circumstance, for he was now the brewer of Farbach beer and making Canaan famous. His rise had been Teutonic and sure, and he contributed one-twentieth of his income to the German Orphan asylum and one-tenth to his party's campaign fund. The twentieth saved the orphans from the county, while the tithe gave the county to his party.

He occupied a kitchen chair, enjoying the society of some chickens in a wired inclosure behind the new Italian villa he had erected in that part of Canaan where he would be most uncomfortable, and he looked woodenly at the reporter when the latter put his question.

"Hef you any aquaintance off Mitster Fear?" he inquired in return, with no expression decipherable either upon his Gargantuan face or in his heavily enfolded eyes.

"No, sir," replied the reporter, grinning. "I never ran across him."

"Dot iss a goot t'ing fer you," said Mr. Farbach stonily. "He iss not a man poebles bedder try to run across. It iss what Gory tried. Now Gory iss dead."

The reporter, slightly puzzled, lit a cigarette. "See here, Mr. Farbach," he urged, "I only want a word or two about this thing, and you might give me a brief expression concerning that man Louden besides, just a hint of what you think of his influence here, you know, and of the kind of sharp work he practices. Something like that."

"I see," said the brewer slowly. "Happy Fear I bef knowt for a goot many years. He iss a goot frient of mine."

"What?"

"Choe Louten iss a bedder one," continued Mr. Farbach, turning again to stare at his chickens. "Git owit."

"What?"

"Git owit," repeated the other without passion, without anger, without any expression whatsoever. "Git owit."

I will mail you free, to prove merit, samples of my Dr. Shoop's Restorative, and my Book on either Dyspepsia, The Heart or The Kidneys. Troubles of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—mean Stomach weakness, always. And the Heart, and Kidneys as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerves." Also for, bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion, use Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Write me today for sample and free Book. Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. The Restorative is sold by all dealers.

How to Keep Cattails.

Cattails will keep for several years if they are hung by the stems, head down, until thoroughly dry. They may be dipped as soon as picked in a weak solution of carbolic acid to prevent insects from destroying them.

Knightly Lances.

Knightly lances were from twelve to twenty feet long, the heads four to eight inches broad and from twelve to twenty inches long.

A Historic Cradle.

The cradle bed of John Quincy Adams is preserved in the museum in Boston and is of the type common at the time Adams was born. It has a wooden box with rockers and hood of the same material, guiltless of decoration of any sort.

Dear to Him.

"Before we were married you called me 'darling.' Now you seem content to call me 'dear.'"

"You weren't so dear to me before marriage as you are now. Your father paid your bills."

First Family Row.

"I suppose it was Adam and Eve when they raised Cain." — Stray Stories.

A Nice Present.

It is said of a champion mean man that the only present he ever made to his wife was on the twenty-fifth anniversary of their wedding, when he gave her four yards of cotton cloth with which to make him a shirt.

Logical Result.

Teacher—What happens when a person's temperature goes down as far as it can go? Tommy—Then he has cold feet.

Heart Strength

Heart Strength, or Heart Weakness, means Nerve Strength, or Nerve Weakness—nothing more. Positively, not one weak heart in a hundred is, in itself, actually diseased. It is almost always a hidden tiny little nerve that really is all at fault. This obscure nerve—the Cardiac, or Heart Nerve—simply needs, and must have, more power, more stability, more controlling, more governing strength. Without that the Heart must continue to fail, and the stomach and kidneys also have these same controlling nerves.

This clearly explains why, as a medicine, Dr. Shoop's Restorative has in the past done so much for weak and ailing Hearts. Dr. Shoop first sought the cause of all this painful, palpitating, suffocating heart distress. Dr. Shoop's Restorative—this popular prescription—is alone directed to these weak and wasting nerve centers. It builds Strengthens; it offers real, genuine heart help.

If you would have strong Hearts, strong digestion, strengthen these Nerves—re-establish them as needed, with

This Company was formed for the purpose of manufacturing all kinds of Iron, Steel, Metal and Wooden Goods, Agricultural Implements, etc., and to carry on the business of a foundry.

They are now turning out specialties in Ornamental Iron Work, Fences, Crestings, etc., for which there is a great demand far in excess of the present facilities of the Company.

Winnipeg and the West offers an unlimited market for the products, guaranteeing a paying investment from the start.

There is a limited amount of stock for sale, and this opportunity to purchase will not return.

The encouragement, coupled with the unexcelled opportunities open to such an enterprise, are in themselves sufficient guarantee of absolute safety and large profits.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry must be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made on certain conditions, by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of the homesteader resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Six months' notice in writing should be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of intention to apply for patent.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.

We have fifteen mining properties, located in Kern County, California, carrying good values in Gold, Silver and Copper.

The smelter nearest to us is at Needles, 250 miles distant.

We propose to install on our properties a smelter to treat the ores from our own mines and to do custom smelting for others.

50 per cent. per annum is a moderate estimate of the profits we can earn. If you want to make a safe and profitable investment send for full information and investigate our proposition.

Tired, Off Color, Lacking in Strength

You feel real seedy.
No snap, ambition or spirit.
You've noticed your color is miserable.
Noticed that your blood is thin, that you feel the cold, that trifles bother and worry you.
You ought to be vigorous and ruddy—you eat enough, sleep fairly well—but still that listless feeling hangs right on.
To overcome this condition all the vital functions must be stimulated.
You accomplish this by taking Ferrozone.
How it makes the appetite jump.
There follows as a natural consequence an abundant supply of rich, red blood.
Vitality and strength you'll soon find throbbing within you, because your food is digested so thoroughly that it's readily assimilated.
You soon notice that your color is coming back, and endurance too, and soon the joy of life, health, vigor, strength—and with these come the old-time zest for everything that makes life worth living.
Ferrozone is a marvelous body-builder, blood-former and strength-giver.
Ferrozone, by supplying the aid the body needs to build up, gives the recuperative power that will enable you to do your work easily, and to maintain strength.
Try it for a month.
See if you don't find it just the thing you need to make you strong. No a man, woman or child who needs more strength, better nerves and surer health who won't find it in Ferrozone. This nourishing tonic makes you feel like new—brings back the feeling of spirit and ambition you had years ago. Try Ferrozone, sold everywhere in 50c. boxes.

Girl Wanted

Sympathy Appreciated

Mr. and Mrs. Hogan wish to thank their many friends for their kindness and sympathy extended them during the illness, and at the time of the death, of their daughter, Irene.

A Pleasant Outing

The employes of the Peterborough Canoe Company had an off day yesterday and spent a very enjoyable time at Jubilee Point. A program of sports was run off and proved a very amusing and interesting pastime to the employes and their friends. The excursionists arrived home about 8.30 per steamer Monarch.

Married in Toronto

Mr. J. H. Carnegie, the Conservative member of the legislature for East Victoria, and Miss Edith Roberts Green of Hazleton avenue, Toronto, were married Tuesday afternoon, at the Church of the Ascension, Toronto, Rev. W. H. Vance, officiating. Mr. George Green, brother of the bride, and Miss Grace Green, her sister, were the only other parties present. Mr. Carnegie, who was first elected for the riding mentioned in 1894, is one of the best known members of the House, and is popular among the representatives on both sides.—Globe.

IN SHORT FORM FOR BUSY READERS

—The band played in Victoria Park last night.

—All the union barber shops will be closed on Labor Day.

—The Nicholls Oval Tennis Club will hold a picnic at Chemong Park this afternoon.

—The crops at Buckhorn are nearly all in. Grain was satisfactory but straw is short in quantity.

—The Piccolo Band will run a moonlight excursion on Friday evening of this week per steamer Otonabee.

—The steel for the Bell Telephone Co's new office, which has caused several days' delay, has arrived.

—The Peterborough Baseball team will practice tonight at Riverside Park. All the players are requested to turn out.

—See our special display of souvenir articles. Come in and spend half an hour looking over our 25 and 50 cent, bargain counters. Times Bookstore.

—The monthly meeting of the Mark street Ladies' Aid will be held this afternoon at Jackson Park. In case the weather is unfavorable the members are asked to meet at the church.

—Hay went yesterday on the market as high as $16 per ton. Most of the hay brought to the city had been sold previous to arrival.

—Large crowd took in Stony Lake trip per steamer Otonabee yesterday. The steamer returned at eight o'clock. Those on board having spent a most pleasant day on the northern waters.

—Winnipeg, Man., is paying 61-4 per cent. for money. The city has borrowed $300,000 from the Trust and Loan Co. of Canada, and has to pay the rate noted.

—Owing to the very low water few launch owners are able to put their boats in the boat houses, and ten or a dozen are moored along the river bank till better shelter is obtained.—Lindsay Post.

Piles get quick and certain relief from Dr. Shoop's Magic Ointment. Please note it is made alone for Piles, and its action is positive and certain. Itching, painful, protruding or blind piles disappear like magic by its use. Large nickel-capped glass jars, 50 cents. Sold by all dealers.

—It seems that the good people of Chemong Indian Village, are sore, dead sore, over the fines imposed on the Indians recently fined. Said fines had a direct connection with the absorption to immoderate quantities of booze.

—Mr. H. A. Pearson of this town, late Y.M.C.A. secretary at Collingwood is now in charge of the splendidly equipped "Y" in St. Catharines. On Sunday of last week, says the Lindsay Post, he took charge of the evening service at the leading Methodist church and preached from John iii, 3.

Worse Sharks in Peterboro

An English despatch says that two sharks, weighing respectively 16 and 10 pounds each have been captured on the English coast. What is this worth mentioning? Why right here in this city, we have more than two sharks who will each turn the scales at from 147 to 280 pounds each.

Non-Coms' Excursion

The annual excursion, under the auspices of the non-commissioned officers of the 57th Regt., Peterborough Rangers will take place this afternoon, per steamer Otonabee to Idyl Wyld. They will leave Wolf street wharf at 1.30 p.m., calling at street railway wharf at about 1.30. A splendid orchestra has been engaged for the occasion. The committee in charge have completed arrangements for a good outing and a pleasant time is assured.

Correspondent's Plea Verified

What a correspondent of The Times has contended will now be corroborated. The action of the police in summonsing a lot of market women for alleged selling of light weight butter on the market, has driven these women to sell direct to private houses. Now a housewife has discovered that her pound of butter bought at a grocery store, has turned out to be greatly lacking in weight.

HUMOR

HE WANTED MORE.

One Million Not Enough For the Workman Seeking a Good Time.

A man of extreme wealth, tired of taking care of his money, went to a secluded spot on a river bridge and jumped off. He was not aware that life savers always frequent secluded spots and that the best place to commit suicide is on Broadway at noon. And, sure enough, a poor workman leaped in after him and pulled him out, cold and shivering.

As he stood there, dripping, it occurred to the wealthy man that what he had needed was not eternity, but just a cold bath. And he waxed grateful.

"I am rich beyond telling," he said. "I will grant any wish. I will make real your wildest hopes."

The poor workman replied instantly, "Then give me a million dollars."

"A million dollars!" sneered he whose life had been saved. "That is the easiest thing in the world. But stop a moment—consider. It was money that made me try to kill myself. You had better go slow."

"A million dollars," repeated the poor workman stolidly.

"Very well; you shall have it. But since you have saved my life I will make this further offer: If at the end of three years you are not satisfied with your bargain come to me and I will do whatever else you wish."

Three years passed, and the former poor workman came to his benefactor's door.

"Aha, I thought so!" exclaimed the man of great wealth. "I knew you would come back. You know now how little mere money means. Now, what can I do for you?"

"Alas, I have found how little happiness can be got with a million," was the sad reply.

"Aha, I knew it!" exclaimed the man of extreme wealth. "And since you have found how little happiness can be got with a million, what will you have me do for you next?"

"Give me another million," replied the former poor workman.—Freeman Tilden in Judge.

How He Gets Relief.

The Rev. E. W. Webber, a Maine minister, who was located for awhile in a Georgia town as pastor of a Universalist church, occasionally relates this story:

He was talking with William Dodson, ex-president of the Georgia senate.

"I suppose you feel the heat greatly down here in the summer, don't you?" queried Mr. Webber of the southern man.

"Well, it does get pretty warm here sometimes," admitted Mr. Dodson, "but every time I feel too warm I think of the visit I once made to Boston, and it sends the cold shivers all over me."

A Mean Man.

"George," chirped the young wife at breakfast, "I read where some loving and poetical husband actually wrote a poem on his wife's biscuits. Now, dear, if you want to pay me a pretty compliment, why don't you write a poem on the biscuits that I bake?"

"It would be impossible," laughed the cruel husband.

"And why, George?"

"Because the biscuits you make are so hard they wouldn't take the ink."

And then the trouble began.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Just a Lesson.

"I wonder if the Bimbles are getting poor!"

"I should say not! What makes you think so?"

"Why, I saw Bimble turning the wringer yesterday morning. They always used to have a washerwoman."

"Oh, I understand that."

"Then please explain."

"Well, Bimble told me he expected to buy an auto, and he's taking lessons in cranking."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

He Was Fired.

The railroad president was hearing complaints.

"What is the charge against this brakeman?" he inquired.

"Please, sir," responded the spotter, "I have frequently heard him calling the names of stations so clearly that people could understand what he said."

"This is a direct violation of one of our chief rules," observed the president warmly. "Fire him."—Bohemian.

Unless He Is Cremated.

"He wants the earth."

"Well, he'll be right in it when he dies."—Cleveland Leader.

Exhausting the Supply.

"She does seem to know everybody else's business."

"Yes, she never leaves anything for another single soul to tell."—Baltimore American.

A Christian Science Reply

We notice that the Daily Mail of London, Eng., cabled to Mrs. Eddy, the head of that sect entitled "Christian Scientists," offering to print a message from her reviewing the legal proceedings in her case, and the situation, for the benefit of English Christian Scientists. Mrs. Eddy replied by quoting John ii.—24, which reads: "Yet see then how that by works a man is justified and not by faith only." We have had experience with certain matters intimately connected with C.S. in the coroner's court in this city.

The Badge of Honesty

Is on every wrapper of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery because a full list of the ingredients composing it is printed there in plain English. Forty years of experience has proven its superior worth as a blood purifier and invigorating tonic for the cure of stomach disorders and all liver ills. It builds up the run-down system as no other tonic can in which alcohol is used. The active medicinal principles of native roots such as Golden Seal and Queen's root, Stone and Mandrake root, Bloodroot and Black Cherrybark are extracted and preserved by the use of chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine. Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce at Buffalo, N. Y., for free booklet which quotes extracts from well-recognized medical authorities such as Drs. Bartholow, King, Scudder, Coe, Ellingwood and a host of others, showing that these roots can be depended upon for their curative action in all weak states of the stomach, accompanied by indigestion or dyspepsia as well as in all bilious or liver complaints and in all "wasting diseases" where there is loss of flesh and gradual running down of the strength and system.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" makes rich, pure blood and so invigorates and regulates the stomach, liver and bowels, and, through them, the whole system. Thus all skin affections, blotches, pimples and eruptions as well as scrofulous swellings and old open running sores or ulcers are cured and healed. In treating old running sores, or ulcers, it is well to insure their healing to apply to them Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve. If your druggist don't happen to have this Salve in stock, send fifty-four cents in postage stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., and a large box of the "All-Healing Salve" will reach you by return post.

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic, medicine of KNOWN COMPOSITION, not even though the urgent dealer may thereby make a little bigger profit.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules, easy to take as candy.

Liquor License Transfers

Two liquor license transfers, or applications for the same are now being advertised by License Inspector Jos. Stewart. They are those of Mr. Wm. Snowden, of the Snowden House, to Donald Fraser of London, Ont., and Mr. Jas. Kelly of the Royal Hotel, to Edward Flaherty of this city. Whilst the law demands this publicity, the changes are practically a matter within the jurisdiction of the local license commissioners.

No Coal at Pontypool

People of, and about, Pontypool, have for years past believed that extensive coal beds existed in that vicinity. This illusion, however, has been shown to be "hot air," as Mr. J. H. Duthrie of this city went down to investigate and found that coal is not there as represented. There is no doubt but what residents of that neighborhood have dug over considerable acreage but the vein is not there. In plain English the idea of coal veins are vain.

A Leight Weight Butter Case

Yesterday morning a lady called at the police station and swore out an information against a local grocer for selling her light-weight butter. She stated that she bought a pound of butter the other day, but when she got home and weighed it, three ounces were lacking in the pound. The lady is a hard-working woman, and when she pays for a pound of butter, she wants 16 ounces to the pound. It is likely the grocer will appear before the magistrate this morning.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood an dmucous surfaces of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

G. P. GRAHAM WILL ACCEPT PORTFOLIO

Has Already Left for Ottawa, Where He will be Sworn In To-day--Will Replace Dan Derbyshire in the Representation of Brockville.

Ottawa, Aug. 30.—It has been definitely decided that Hon. Geo. P. Graham shall succeed to the vacant portfolio of public works, and all that now remains is the formality of swearing in. This will take place today. M. Graham has already signified his willingness to accept the proferred honor, and was expected to reach Ottawa last night. He will replace Dan Derbyshire in the representation of Brockville, a place oeing made for the latter either now or in the near future in the Senate.

There is every reason to believe that Mr. Graham's return for Brockville will be conceded by acclamation. In any case, there is not the least doubt as to his ability to carry the seat which he has represented in the Ontario Legislature for the past nine years.

I.C.R. IN GOOD SHAPE.

The financial position of the government railway system, as Hon. Mr. Pugsley assumed its control, is the strongest in the history of the road. Four years ago there was a deficit of $900,000. In the year following, owing particularly to the severity of winter and the excessive snowfall, the leficit mounted to $1,725,000. In 1906, however, with the application of the first instalment of the reforms and economies, promised by the then minister of railways, Mr. Emmerson, the corner was turned and the road showed surplus earnings of $62,000. For the twelve months to 30th June this year, the record is one with which the management has good reason to feel pleased, the surplus amounting to $400,000. The current year, from present indications, will be far and away the most successful in the history of the road.

GOES TO BE SWORN IN.

Brockville, Ont., Aug. 30.—D. Derbyshire, M.P., and Hon. Geo. P. Graham M.P.P., left for Ottawa this afternoon. They did not divulge their mission, but it is thought here that they have gone to consult Sir Wilfrid Laurier with reference to the proposed Cabinet changes at Ottawa.

Police Court

At yesterday's session of the Police Court a local grocer was charged with selling light weight butter to a customer, Mrs. Schwertz. It seems that the butter was sold at 20 cents per pound in packages in prints purporting to contain a pound each, but that by actual weight were found two ounces short in each print. The grocer's explanation was that he had purchased over a hundred pounds of the butter, paying 20 cents a pound. He sold this out at 24 cents a package, except a few calls on light weight packets, when they sold at cost price. He swore that the prints of this particular butter generally weigh over 16 ounces.

The magistrate said that whilst the vendor was selling the butter cheap, on account of the light weight packages, the woman who bought it evidently considered, at the time of purchase, that she was getting full weight packages. It would have been more candid had the merchant explained at the time of sale that the pats were only 14 ounces each. Still the woman getting the light weight packages, got 20 cents worth of butter for 20 cents. It was not a case where she paid the usual price of such butter, viz., 24 cents for a pound, and then only getting 20 cents worth. The matter, whilst not candid, was not actually a case of fraud. The merchant would have done better had he explained at the time that the prints did not contain a full pound. He could not make a conviction under the circumstances. Had the grocer deliberately tried to get full price on light weight butter, representing it as full weight, he would have imposed a very heavy fine. The magistrate thanked the complainant for bringing the matter before the court.

At the Police Court yesterday a poor old man, one of Peterborough's oldest citizens, who has only one arm, the departed limb being replaced by a wooden arm, terminating in a heavy iron hook, was charged with and found guilty of having been found drunk the preceding day. This was the well known Mr. Gustavus Dundas, generally known as "Gusty." Gusty had, on Tuesday morning, passed through the portals of Castle Neabit, after a long sojourn there a guest of the city. With Gusty on his departure for the jail went $25 that had entered with him. He at once proceeded to get rid of his $25. Clothes were purchased, including a suit of clothes, etc., and many "night-caps" the latter being of the liquid and distilled make. (As is usual with such articles, the night-caps went to his head and now Gusty is in durance vile again. The magistrate imposed a fine of $2 with the alternative of 10 days on the hill. As the old man had squandered his substance, he returned to the scenes that have lately been so familiar to him. At his request a local lawyer was telephoned to, asking him to pay the $2 fine. This the professional man after mentally weighing the matter, decided not to do, thinking that were he to put up the money Gusty would only get drunk again with quickness and despatch, and that a short term of ten days would possibly sober him up effectively.

A young man named Chamberlain, who has a marked British accent, was proven guilty of having been drunk on Tuesday. He contributed $2 towards the city's funds.

Fred LeBarge was charged with having assaulted a fellow employe named Prentice. They had a row at the office of their employer recently. It seems that the complainant was under the influence of "Canada's curse" and LeBarge attempted to put him out of the office, when a fight took place in which Prentice was pretty severely handled. LeBarge was fined $5 with $2.00 costs. The Times was yesterday informed that Prentice had been offered $25, two tons and a five, with half his medical expenses paid to drop proceedings, but declined to compromise matters.

Ennismore Farmer Injured

Last Tuesday as Fergus O'Connor, a son of Mr Owen O Connor, of Ennismore township, was cutting grain with a binder on his father's farm, he met with a painful accident. He attempted to fix part of the machine and his fingers were caught in some cogs. The injured young man was brought to St Joseph's hospital and it was found necessary to amputate three fingers of the left hand.

Accidental Gun Shot Wound

Yesterday morning Albert Chatman a young man residing in Smith, met with a bad accident yesterday morning by the accidental discharge of a shot gun, which he was carrying. The shot hit his left foot, which is badly shattered. Chatman was brought to the Nicholls hospital, where Dr. Halliday is attending to his injuries. He is suffering considerably with the pain of the wound but is doing as well as can be expected.

King Street Bridge to be Repaired

City Engineer Hay, Street Commissioner Evans, Chairman of the Board of Works Duncan, and Mayor McWilliams have made an examination of the King street bridge over the creek. The King street bridge is in bad shape but after the engineer had gone carefully over the structure it was decided to make some repairs so that it will last over the winter and thus allow Mr. Evans' gang to go on with the concrete sidewalks.

Mrs. J. J. McBain Gets Fine Fish

On Monday last Mrs. J. J. McBain caught a fourteen pound lunge, the largest fish that has been caught in Stony Lake for some time. In company with Mr. McBain she started out for the Burleigh shore. About half way across she felt something heavy pulling on the line. She kept bringing her trolling line in and soon had on a large fish. She succeeded in landing it. They did not take a club with them and they had to kill it the best they could with a paddle. Mr. McBain got one of his fingers badly cut with its fins.

Crossed the Ocean 302 Times

New York, Aug. 30.—Lord Strathcona, high commissioner of Canada, who has just started for England on the steamer Oceanic, is completing his 151st round trip across the Atlantic. This means that when he has finished his present trip he will have made 302 voyages across the ocean.

Fire Renders Over Sixty Thousand People Homeless

Yokohama, Aug. 30.—Advices received from the American consulate at Hakodate of the loss caused by the conflagration there at $15,000,000. About 15,000 houses, varying in value, were burned, and 60,000 persons rendered homeless.

Former estimates are regarded as having been too low.

Hakodate is a city of 80,000 inhabitants, located on the northern side of the Tsugaru Straits, which lies between the two largest islands of Japan, and through which the Russian Vladivostock fleet steamed on two or three occasions during the war.

Four Killed by an Exploison

Kenora, Aug. 29.—The G.T.P. encampment at Canyon Lake, was the scene of a disastrous accident yesterday. While drilling the rock for the tracking, Dan Flynn, with his three assistants, belonging to Parsons Camp No. 5, were blown to pieces, doubtless caused through the charge being exploded by a spark caused by injudicious handling of the explosives.

Fortunately the other wormen were in shelter, otherwise they would have all been destroyed, as the charge was heard and felt for a great distance. The names of the killed are; D. Flynn, a native of Ottawa; Andre Butorie, an Austrian; A. Patrie, an Italian; Nana Neka, an Indian. The remains of the bodies were collected and brought into town, and an inquest will be held Thursday.

TWELVE-YEAR-OLD BOY STARTS TO DRINK

Said He Had Fun While It Lasted--Girl Enticed Him Into Saloon to Have a Drink--Bartender was Prosecuted.

Buffalo, N.Y., Aug. 30.— Howard Knox, 12 years old, of 31 Gerrard St west, Toronto, shoved his little fists deeply into the pockets of his first long trousers and assumed a mannish attitude as he waited in the police court here yesterday morning to give testimony against Nicholas Pelligrine, a tenderloin bartender, under arrest on the charge of violating the New York State excise law in selling beer to minors.

The little lad stood between the chair of the two police officers who had him in custody. His mother, a little frail woman, sat close by, and farther along, sat the fourteen-year-old girl, Howard's chance acquaintance. A representative of the press ventured to approach Master Knox.

"Yes, it was great fun while it lasted," said the boy, his manner of speech indicating that he is educated beyond his year.

"Why, no, I wasn't drunk — only had a couple of beers, you know. Neither was she, the girl. You see I came here to visit an aunt and a brother of mine, who live here. I met the girl on the street soon after I arrived 'Hello.' I said to her, and she smiled in return. Then we got to talking about the warmth of the weather and she suggested that a drink wouldn't be at all bad. We went into the saloon together, sat down at a table and told the bartender what we wanted. He looked us over sort a smiled, and then went away, soon returning with the beer. We had another, and were about to drink a third when the police came in.

"Katzenjammer! Yes, I've heard of it, but I didn't feel sick at all."

NOT TO BLAME AT ALL.

At that point Mrs. Knox leaned over to the boy and said, 'Howard, you mustn't talk to that man. He's a reporter.' Then turning to the reporter, she added, "He wasn't to blame at all."

The youngster seemed to be pleased at his escapade. When he took the stand he repeated the story he told to the reporter.

"You are too nice a lad to be going astray," remarked Judge Murphy, eyeing the lad sternly. "I think that you should be placed in some institution where you won't have a chance to repeat what you have done."

That took all the bravado out of the boy. He threw his arms about his mother's neck, and sobbed.

"Mamma, mamma," he cried, "you won't let them take me away from you, will you."

Howard was finally quieted, but he wept softly throughout the bartender's trial. His tears brough a surprised look to the girl's face, but Howard wouldn't glance her way.

The police permitted the mother to take charge of the boy, and she stated that she would take him back to Toronto with her. The girl was kept at the police station, and will be tried in the juvenile court on the charge of being a truant.

Terrible Fight with Four Armed Police-men Caused Death

Pittsburg, Aug. 29.—With a roar that threw into panic 1,500 persons, Cedar, an African lion, escaped from his cage at Luna Park yesterday afternoon, and before he was killed, fatally injured Mrs. Anna Hucke, aged 64.

Four policemen fired 50 shots at the animal before he was killed, and in the fifteen minutes between his escape and his death there was great excitement in the park.

The lion belonged to an animal show that came to the park this week. The lion had been in captivity only a short time, and was very savage.

The animal show is next to the Music Pavilion, and almost everyone in the park was away listening to a band concert. It was 3.30 o'clock, and the lecturer was telling of the untamed lion, when the animal threw his weight against the iron bars, and they gave way.

BROKE EVERY RIB.

As soon as he found himself free, he sprang toward the crowd. Mrs. Hucke was at the front, and the beast lighted beside her, brushing against her with sufficient force to throw her to the ground. Then, with one blow of his paw he crushed every rib in the woman's left side. Before anyone could intrefere he sank his teeth into her hip, tearing out a piece of the flesh.

Park Policeman W. A. Downey was the first man to the rescue. He fired a shot at the lion, hitting him in the side. Leaving the unconscious woman, the brute turned to Downey, who fired another shot into him, beating off his attack at the same time with his club.

The lion turned from the officer and made a clear path for himself through the crowd. He passed the Music Pavilion and started for the entrance to the park. City Policeman George Sheridan had heard the shots and came running into the park just in time to meet the lion as he was about to ascend a long flight of stairs that forms the entrance.

Sheridan opened fire on the lion, hitting him several times, and finally driving him into a corner.

In the meantime Downey had caught up with the lion, and Park Policemen Lenhardt and Green had also joined the chase. Surrounded by the four officers the lion fought desperately for his life. As fast as they could reload their weapons the officers pumped lead into the beast, but the small caliber bullets had little effect. It was not until fifty shots had been fired, more than half of which took effect, that the animal toppled over dead.

While the fight was in progress people in the park sought every imaginable place of escape. It was only by a miracle that many of them were not trampled to death, but many were seriously injured.

SERIOUSLY INJURED.

Mrs. Huck was hurried to the emergency hospital in the park, and an ambulance summoned from a hospital. There it was found that every rib on the left side had been broken and that one of the ribs had punctured the lung. This wound will probably cause death. There is also a deep wound in her hip the muscles being torn away, and should she recover she will probably lose her leg. In addition to these injuries, her right arm was broken by the blow.

The skin of the animal will be stuffed. He was a large specimen, and the owners valued him at $1,000

Farming Will be Taught in Lindsay Collegiate Institute

The Lindsay Collegiate Institute, which reopens on Sept. 3rd, will for the first time in its history this year offer to its students a course in agriculture. This course has been designed specially for farmers' sons, and for boys who intend to make farming their life's work, their life's business.

In this age, when farm labor is high in price and hard to get at any price, and at this season of year, when help is so much needed on the farm, the question arises—"Is a course at the Collegiate, with what it costs in time and money, will it pay?" Without hesitation, but after having considered all the pros and cons, we answer emphatically, "Yes." Farming is both a science and a business. Only the farmer who, through years of experience and reading, or who, through training and education, has acquired a knowledge of the scientific principles according to business methods—only this man can be a truly successful and contented farmer.

The course in the Collegiate will teach both the science and the business of farming. The course has been designed specially for boys who attend going onto farms, but it is so broad a course, and embraces so many subjects that it cannot fail to interest and be of use to any boy. Every boy wants to know how to drive and feed horses, how to know the different classes of horses and how to select good individuals in these classes. Almost every boy wants to know how to handle cattle. In the course boys will be taught how to raise and how to buy and feed good beef steers; how to build up a good dairy herd; how to feed for largest profits; how to take the records of each cow's production; how to weigh the milk and test it for butter fat. The course in poultry will also interest both town and country boys. Very many town boys are now making more than their pocket money by keeping a few hens, and perhaps by running an incubator. The course in poultry will deal with all of the most useful breeds of poultry and with the most advanced methods of producing eggs and market poultry, and methods for preparing for market and marketing. In horticulture a special training will be given, which, too, should prove interesting to all boys and even to girls. The production of golden plants and flowers will be dealt with; the most advanced methods of vegetable growing, etc. etc., will be taught in classes and illustrated in the experimental plots.—Lindsay Post.

The Vancouver Bar Association Would Impeach Judge

Vancouver, Aug. 30.—At a meeting of the Vancouver Bar Association a day or two ago steps were taken to secure the impeachment of Mr. Justice Martin. The following resolution was passed;

"That a committee be appointed and authorized to take such steps as it may deem advisable and proper, to see that Mr. Justice Martin is impeached for refusal to perform his judicial duties when requested to do so by the chief justice."

A committee was accordingly appointed, with the understanding that, if some other means than that mentioned in the resolution could be found for securing the end desired, the committee should take it instead of incurring the great responsibility and tedious delays involved in procedure by impeachment.

A DIFFERENCE OF VIEW.

The difficulty to which the bar seeks to end in this manner arises, apparently, from the different manner in which Mr. Justice Martin and the chief justice view the relations that should prevail between the members of the Supreme Court Bench and the authority that the Chief Justice has over the puisne judges. By the new rules of court which were approved by the provincial legislature last year, and which had been drafted by a commission appointed for that purpose, the arrangement of the business of the courts and the allocation of the judges to any particular sessions or assizes were given to the chief justice.

CAUSE OF THE TROUBLE.

Although Mr Justice Martin make take strong exception to the wisdom of this innovation—for such it apparently is—it is not understood that he questions its validity. What seems to have been the cause of the trouble which has arisen is the manner in which the chief justice communicated his requests to Mr Justice Martin in regard to the division of the judicial duties among the various members of the bench, and the view held by the latter on details of etiquette in regard to the manner in which these communications should be made.

Probably an incompatibility in the temperaments of these two learned judges presented a fruitful soil for the rapid growth of personal animosity in the course of the interchange of communications required for the arrangement of judicial business, indeed this view is borne out by a statement made by the chief justice in reference to some newspaper comment made on the subject of the unsatisfactory condition of business in the courts, and which was read read in open court by Mr. Justice Clement at the request of the chief justice.

AN INTOLERABLE SITUATION.

However this may be the situation has become intolerable, and some action is necessary in order that the business of the courts may again be restored to a normal condition and the needs of suitors and litigants have proper attention. Much inconvenience and loss have been entailed already by the delay that has occurred from this controversy between members of the Provincial judiciary, and while it continues neither the bar nor the public can be certain as to when cases in which they are concerned will be heard.

The impeachment of a member of the judiciary is an incident of extreme rarity in the British Empire. In the United Kingdom such a proceeding has become almost obsolete, from the fact that there has not, for more than two centuries been an occasion for it. In Canada it has never occurred since Confederation.

French Try to Ambush Moors

London, Aug 29.—The correspondent of the Tribune at Tangiers telegraphs his paper under reserve a rumor that Sultan Abdul Amiz has been assassinated in the palace at Fez.

TO ENTRAP MOORS.

Casablanca, Morocco, Aug. 29. — General Drude, the French commander, has decided to despatch a portion of his army, about five miles south of Casablanca, to a position near Taddert, where he will endeavor to draw the Moors into a trap.

The police officials here yesterday opened the preliminary trial of 53 prisoners charged with assassination, robbery, pillage, or connivance with the hostile Moors.

DEFEATED SULTAN'S TROOPS.

Tangier, Aug. 29.—Advices received here yesterday from Fez says that the Zaians have recently attacked and defeated a squadron of the Sultan's troops sent to collect tribute from the Beni-Mtir. Twenty of the Sultan's soldiers were killed during the fighting.

SPANISH WARSHIPS TO GO

Madrid, Aug. 29.—Orders have been sent to the battleships Pelayo and the cruiser Cristo Quinto to have steam up and be ready to sail for Morocco at a moment's notice.

ARABS TO ATTACK.

Paris, Aug. 29.—Cabling from Casablanca a correspondent of the Journal says the indications are that the Arabs are preparing for another general attack on the French forces. Everything, he continues, is being done to give them a warm reception, and wire entanglements are being fixed around the camp.

Paris, Aug 29.—In a despatch from Casablanca the correspondent of the Matin says that as the entire expedition has now returned it has been found necessary to establish a police system under a police magistrate. The town has been divided into four quarters, with a police station in each. The policemen are recruiting from among the sharp-shooters.

Japanese Corner Torpedo Supply

New York, Aug. 29.—The Herald today says; While the United States has been secretly negotiating with the Whitehead Torpedo Company, of England, for the purchase of fifty of the newest and most approved English torpedoes, Japan has stepped in and bought one thousand of the weapons at an expense of $5,000,000. The torpedoes were purchased by the Japanese at $5,000 each, immediately after the first negotiations of the United States government.

This information comes from England, and has caused much surprise. It is believed the enormous purchase by the Japanese practically takes the Whitehead torpedoes from the market. And that in case the United States government wishes to lay in an additional supply, it will have to wait some time for the torpedoes to be delivered.

The new Whiteheads are declared the most approved torpedoes now manufactured for naval warfare. They are guaranteed to go four thousand yards, while the best torpedoes in the United States navy can only cover 13,500 yards.

Naval officers in Washington would not comment on the purchase of torpedoes. It was admitted, however, that fifty Whiteheads had been bought for the government by Lieut. Wells.

Brutal Assault in Hamilton

Hamilton, Aug 29—Michael Murphy and his wife, who conduct a small store on the mountain top, near the east end incline, were brutally assaulted late last night by three toughs who went into the store and demanded peanuts. When told that there was none in the store they became enraged and ordered Murphy to go out and get them and leave his wife in the store. He refused and was attacked by the men. Several of his teeth were knocked out, and he was badly hurt. His wife was swung around by the hair of her head, and her face was terribly bruised.

Water Street Boarding House Burglarized

On Wednesday night the boarders at Mrs. S. A. Trew at 336 Water street, were victims of a midnight mechanic There are some four or five boarders t this place which is almost opposite the police station. It so happened that night that the last to enter did not observe the unwritten law of the house and lock the front door.

Early yesterday morning Mr. Trew, who is employed at a local factory found the door wide open. Three of the boarders sleep in one room, and when awakened found things out of order. Trunks had been rifled and the tops left open. One had had $5, another about $100 and a watch abstracted from their respective trunks. The third had a larger sum than either in a grip under his bed. This was overlooked by the burglar. The police are now investigating.

Mr. J. A. Culverwell Gains His Point

The Cobourg World says;

Notwithstanding the disreputable and covert tactics of certain politicians who are desirous for their selfish interests of obstructing the Northumberland-Durham Power Co., Limited, the managing director, Mr. J. A. Culverwell has been successful at Deseronto. He has secured as shareholders and also their consent to act as directors of the company, the following representative Deserontonians, viz., ex-Mayor John Dalton, president of the Deseronto Furniture Company, Limited, and Wm. H. Stafford, hardware merchant.

Mr. Culverwell, it is said, intends making an announcement shortly, which will make further considerable stir in the political arena, if the tactics of certain politicians do not stop.

The company is to be congratulated upon now having on their directorate the largest manufacturers and business men of Cobourg, Port Hope, Belleville, Trenton and Deseronto.

Local Marksmen Won at Ottawa

There was good shooting at Ottawa on Wednesday as weather conditions were well adapted to markmanship. The new team match for the Coates' Cup was shot off yesterday afternoon. This match is open to six members of any Canadian corps and is ten shots at each 600 and 800 yards. Forty minutes was allowed at each range for the teams to shoot in. The possible is 600 points. The 10th Royal Grenadiers, of Toronto, were first. Score total 526.

The Peterborough men shot as follows,

In the extra series 500 yards, 28 possibles were won, worth $6.14 each and Col. Sergt. Moore was one of them. Pte. C. Curry, made 24 points and won $1.112 in the same match.

In the shoot for the Borden Cup, seven shots at 600 yards, possible 35, Col. Sergt. Moore made 33 and won $5.00, Pte. H. Watson, made 32, and won $4.50 in the same match.

Remove Duty on Our Timber

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 29.—Remarkably enterprising conditions in Canadian timber regions are reported by J. J. McGillivray, a prominent lumberman and former State Senator. He thinks Canadian lumber ought to be admitted into the United States free of all duty.

"I found that the Canadians ship by water and rail lumber and pulp wood to the United States in considerable quantities," he said. "They have a vast area to draw from, said to be a million square miles of timber. The mills are being located in most of the the prominent ports having rivers, and the lumbering is conducted on the American plan. The government sells what is called 'limits' at a cost per square mile at public auction to the highest bidder and the party purchasing the limits must pay in addition a certain price set by the government per thousand. In some respects this system is better than ours for the government will get the value of timber sold.

I feel that the duty ought to be removed on lumber and let Canadian lumber come in free. It will reduce the price to our people, besides it will prolong the life of our timber."

Citizens of our state must realize that the price of lumber is unreasonable in Wisconsin and the combinations make the price. There is no doubt they are circumventing the trust laws. The people should get busy now, not ten years from now, if they want fair treatment in the price of lumber.

Should Send Work-less People to Canada

London, Aug. 29—The Canadian Salt Company has been formed with a capital of £50,000.

Mr Hayward, M.P., has written from B. C. emphatically of the dearth of labor in that province. He suggests that money spent on public works for the unemployed, on work houses and charities, might better be spent paying the passages of workless people to a land of labor scarcity.

DENOUNCES DEAKIN.

Senator Sir Joseph Symon, interviewed by the Sydney Morning Herald on his return from a tour of England and Canada, denounces unceasingly the conduct of the Australian delegates to the Imperial Conference. He accuses Deacon of entering the lists with Tory reactionaries to fan the flame of protection in England. As to who sent Sir William Lyne to the conference Sir Joseph doesn't know. It was reported he simply introduced himself and Premier Deakin put the best face on it he could.

Sin Against Health

Most important to health and comfort is the proper action of the bowels.

By nature these organs are intended for the removal of the waste particles of matter which accumulate in the system.

Retain these wastes and you poison the blood, ruin digestion, bring on nervousness and anaemia.

Jas. McCournell, of Walkerton, writes: "Since I was comparatively a young man I have not enjoyed real good health.

"My appetite was good and strength kept up, yet I knew something was wrong.

"Frequently I took bilious attacks and violent headaches. My stomach was disordered, skin was murky, under my eyes were heavy dark rings.

"Last winter I read through the Poison's almanac and decided my trouble was constipation. I used Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and can hardly tell the help they have been. I am now as fresh, strong and well as a boy."

Just try the wonderful magic of Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Sold by all dealers. 25c. per box, or five boxes for $1.00. By mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn, U.S.A., or Kingston, Ont.

CREATING A CITY

It is authoritatively announced that the United States Steel Corporation will make an additional investment of $45,000,000 in the city of Gary. To those who do not know that Gary is a creation of that great steel corporation, designed as a home for an immense steel-producing plant, the foregoing sentence is not intelligible. This city, which is a consequence of these works, is being built on a large tract of land, on the shore of Lake Michigan, in Indiana, about opposite the city of Chicago. In the works men by the tens of thousands are to be employed.

The city is intended to accommodate a population of 300,000. Without its building there would not be sufficient accommodation for the men employed in the works and for their families. So, with the wave of a wand whose magic is abundant capital, a great city is brought into being. Work was begun two years ago. Today what was then an arid sand plain bears a large city. Broadway, the chief thoroughfare, has been constructed in its length of three miles. For two miles it now has pavements and sidewalks of concrete and for that distance is lined by blocks of business buildings ready for the dealers. By October 1, a sufficient number of houses will be erected in the residence districts to shelter 50,000 people. The sewage, gas, electric and water systems are ready for use. And now, at this stage of development, the corporation finds that it must appropriate $45,000,000 more than its first investment of $75,000,000 to be used in widening the scope of its steel plant.

There are other communities of a population of 300,000 and larger, indeed. But all of them are natural growth and development. Never before in the history of city building has a city, even approaching this population, sprung into existence as it were, overnight as has Gary. When it begins its municipal life, it will do so on equal terms, in all its equipment, with those which have taken a hundred years in which to grow. It is, indeed, the marvel of the day.

It seems to be customary to call this a model city. In the term is suggested that new and advanced theories of sociology will be applied. There have been such cities builded, of which Pullman is a notable instance. Success has not attended them. There is no intention on the part of the Steel Corporation to make the city of Gary a model city in that sense. It will have a charter as other cities have. A municipal government will be established as in other cities. It will have its own self-government, and it must work out its own destiny, as other cities have—as Steelton, in Pennsylvania, the home of the Pennsylvania Steel Works, which it resembles except in size, has done. A few years ago the Mayor of Steelton was a roller man in the works. A majority of the directors of the various banks were employes of the mills. The property of the city was in the main possessed by the employes. And they were all independent of the steel works. These conditions yet obtain. The expectancy of the great steel corporation is that similar conditions will obtain in Gary. That corporation wanted great works at that point. Its tens of thousands that would be employed must be housed, with their families. Hence the city of Gary. The corporation gives it a fair start, and will sell its residential and commercial property willingly to those who will buy. It does not intend to assume paternalism.

A Lindsay Man's Good Investment

Illustration of What the C. P. R. Has Done Out West.

As a sample of what the Canadian Pacific Railroad has accomplished in our far western provinces and territories, although certain statesmen once said that the business of this road would never pay "for the oil used to grease the axles of their car wheels," or something parallel, we might note that the Lindsay Post says, in part;

Mr. Robt. Bryam, town, who returned last Friday eveping from a five weeks' trip through the West, extending as far as Edmonton, is satisfied that unless, most unlooked for conditions set in, another large crop will reward the husbandmen of that flourishing portion of this great Dominion.

Mr. Bryans, it will be remembered some months ago disposed of several sections of land in Southern Alberta at a figure which about doubled his original investment. This time he invested in two choice quarters in the famous Clover Bar district, about sixteen miles east of Edmonton, seven miles south of Fort Saskatchewan. Mr. Bryans also acquired a couple of well situated building lots in North Edmonton. "There's going to be a big city there," he remarked with emphasis. The population now is close on 20,000, and in the course of a few years Strathcona, now a brisk town of 4,000, is sure to join hands with its more go-ahead neighbor. When I visited there everything was on the move, and it was estimated that 3,400 people were living in tents owing to the impossibility of building houses rapidly enough to supply the great demand."

Mr. Bryans also visited Vermillion, 134 miles east of Edmonton. He had tea with the late Mrs. Albert Pilkie at the time of the visit about three weeks ago, and danced on his knee the neighbor's child from whom Mrs. Pilkie contracted the fever which resulted fatally. Her own little daughter, aged about two years, had taken the fever previously but made a quick recovery.

Speaking of Clover Bar district, Mr. Bryan said it reminded him of Margoee. "There's field after field of the prettiest fall wheat I ever saw spring out of the earth," was the way he described the soil qualities. Many settlers from Peaboro and Lindsay districts are located there, and all are prospering—the Reid, McArthur, Moore, Burke,, and other well-known families. Many Ontario young ladies are teaching in the schools of the section, and the attendance of children is good.

In center and north Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta the crops were on the whole good, and in parts magnificent indeed.

Toronto Boy in Buffalo Saloon

Buffalo, Aug. 29.—Detectives yesterday discovered Howard Ross, twelve years of age, of 31 Gerrard street W., Toronto, and Dorothy McCarthy, 14 years of age, of 83 West avenue, this city, in a Tipton street saloon imbibing large quantities of beer, and took them to the station with the barkeeper, who was charged with contravening the State liquor law. The boy is visiting in this city, and having strayed away from the home of his aunt, with whom he was staying, he met the girl and took her to the saloon to buy a drink. The police allege that Pettigrine was serving drinks to the children as often as they ordered them, and both were somewhat under the influence of liquor when they arrived at the police station.

SELECTIONS

THE PLATE RACK.

It May Be a Decorative Bit or a Discordant Note.

Plate racks tell many a tale of taste, or, rather, of the lack of it. One's collection, made by a series of contributions, may consist of many and varied ideas on the subject, but the plates displayed around a wall should be simple and dignified in style—anything that is garish carefully preserved in the darkest, deepest corner of a closet or intrusted to the hands of a servant who has made herself famous for her "outbreaks in china."

Seriously, though, that plate rack is either a bit of attractive decoration or an inharmonious something which spoils the whole room, no matter how carefully every other part of the furnishings has been chosen.

So called handsome pieces are to be avoided. They are usually conspicuous in every sense of the word—a confusion of color and design without a single really attractive feature about them. They are usually expensive, these monstrosities in the shape of gift plates, for surely nobody ever went so far as to buy one to live with! Less expensive plates are passed over purposely in spite of the fact that their dignity of style and an exquisite simplicity of coloring make for the prettiest sort of decoration.

Avoid those plates which are gay with a profusion of highly colored roses, perhaps made still more striking (?) by a broad band of green—the strong, insistent shades of the fields and trees in midsummer—touched off (save the mark!) with irresponsible splashes of gilt. They cost probably $1.50 and make, as one woman said, with unconscious irony, "such a showing for your money."

There is a rule that is worth adhering to in choosing such plates, and that is to choose only simple designs and colorings, unless you do, as one woman did, make a hobby of collecting plates of a certain country or kind. She went in for Chinese plates and used only the pretty variations of medallion and its kindred wares, with the result that her plate rack was interesting in its orientalism.

Another woman, whose dining room—the whole house, in fact—was a copy of quaint old English styles, used only old plates of English make on her rack, picking them up one at a time.

SLEEVE HOLDER.

Ingenious Contrivance For Preventing Crushing of the Sleeve.

If it were permissible, many a young lady would be tempted to use a cuss word every time she puts on her coat. We have all watched her struggle in the attempt to tuck the big balloon sleeves of her waist into the armholes of the coat. Naturally it must be uncomfortable to have the inner sleeve bunched at the shoulder. An ingenious Englishwoman has invented a simple contrivance which does away with all these trying perplexities, and she thinks so highly of the device that she has had it patented in the United States. As shown in the illustration, it comprises a narrow elastic band, having on each end a ring, one being larger than the other. Attached to the band is a double cord. In using this device the band is formed into a lasso (by slipping the smaller ring through the larger one), which is slipped over the end of the sleeve of the waist. The fine end of the band is then secured to the thumb by the ring. The cord is attached to the little finger. After slipping the arm into the sleeve of the coat the ring on the thumb is released and the band pulled out of the armhole by means of the cord.

To Broil a Steak.

Few housewives understand the art of broiling, and consequently chops and steaks are often robbed of their delicate flavor by frying in a pan.

A steak or chop properly broiled should have a thin, well browned crust. Beyond this crust the meat should be red and juicy, hardly a shade less done in the middle than near the surface.

If the broiling is to be done on a range, have the fire very bright and clear. Open every draft, that smoke and flames may be drawn up the chimney. Place the piece of meat in the double broiler and hold it as near the coals as possible until the surface is brown, turning frequently. It will take three or four minutes for this. Now raise the broiler several inches above the bed of coals and continue the cooking until the meat is done.

The broiler must be turned often. A good rule is to count ten slowly, then turn the broiler. A steak or chop cut a little more than an inch thick will cook nicely in ten minutes. If liked well done, it should be cooked for twelve minutes.

More people would snap their fingers in the face of trouble if trouble didn't have such a sudden way of swooping down on us.

Wish a man seeks your advice he generally wants your praise—that's

When You Take Cold

One way is to pay no attention to it; at least, not until it develops into pneumonia, or bronchitis, or pleurisy. Another way is to ask your doctor about Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. If he says, "The best thing for colds," then take it. Do as he says, anyway.

We have no secrets! We publish the formulas of all our preparations. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

SIREN DEVELOP THE BUST

SHE'S A QUEEN! SHE'S A SIREN!

Is an expression that is always heard at sight of a well developed woman. If you are flat chested, with BUST undeveloped, a scrawney neck, thin lean arms the above remark will never be applied to you. "SIREN" wafers will make you beautiful, bewitching. They DEVELOP the BUST in a few weeks from 3 to 6 inches and produce a fine firm, voluptuous bosom. They fill out the hollow places Make the cheeks plump and rosy, and arms handsome and well molded and the neck and shoulders shapely and of perfect contour.

Send for a bottle today and you'll be pleased and grateful. "SIREN" wafers are absolutely harmless, pleasant to take and convenient to carry around. They are sold under guarantee to do all we claim or MONEY back.

Price $1.00 per bottle. Inquire at good drug stores or send DIRECT to us.

FREE!

During the next 30 days only—we will send you a sample bottle of these beautifying wafers on receipt of 10 cents to pay cost of packing and postage if you will mention that you saw the Advertisement in this paper. The sample alone may be sufficient if defects are trivial.

Good Local Agent Wanted

I OFFER YOU A 10c STOCK FOR 5c

In the month of September the price of GUGGENHEIM-GREENWATER COPPER STOCK goes to 10 cents. All who buy shares from the Company will pay that for them.

I secured an option on a block of stock to sell at 5 cents. Until this block is exhausted I can fill orders at 5 cents. I can give those who buy of me for 5 cts., what others will be paying 10 cts. for.

Everyone who sees this advertisement surely has read of Greenwater and Ely, the wonderful new copper districts. The Guggenheim-Greenwater Copper Company owns groups of claims in both places. Work is in progress, and the indications are the best.

Here is a chance for little money to make a fortune. Other mines in the same district have made fortunes, and they have been less promising before development than the Guggenheim Greenwater Company's property.

See me at once about this. One hundred shares will cost you only $5; one thousand shares, $50. The block of stock which I have will not last long. Get for 5 what others are glad to pay 10 for.

THE CONQUEST of CANAAN

By BOOTH TARKINGTON,
Author of "Cherry," "Monsieur Beaucaire," Etc.

COPYRIGHT, 1903, BY HARPER & BROTHERS

There were others, here and there, who were less self contained than the brewer. A farmhand struck a fellow laborer in the harvest field for speaking ill of Joe, and the unraveling of a strange street fight one day disclosed as its cause a like resentment on the part of a blind broommaker, engendered by a like offense. The broommaker's companion, reading the Tocsin as the two walked together, had begun the quarrel by remarking that Happy Fear ought to be hanged once for his own sake and twice more "to show up that shyster Louden." Warm words followed, leading to extremely material conflict, in which, in spite of his blindness, the broommaker had so much the best of it that he was removed from the triumphant attitude he had assumed toward the person of his adversary, which was an admirable imitation of the dismounted St. George and the dragon, and conveyed to the jail. Keenest investigation failed to reveal anything oblique in the man's record. To the astonishment of Canaan, there was nothing against him. He was blind and moderately poor, but a respectable, hard-working artisan and a pride to the church in which he was what has been called an "active worker." It was discovered that his sensitiveness to his companion's attack on Joseph Louden arose from the fact that Joe had obtained the acquittal of an imbecile sister of the blind man, a two-thirds witted woman who had been charged with bigamy.

The Tocsin made what it could of this, and so dexterously that the wrath of Canaan was one farther jot increased against the shyster. Aye, the town was hot, inside and out.

Let us consider the forum. Was there ever before such a summer for the National House corner? How voices first thundered there, then cracked and piped, is not to be rendered in all the tales of the fathers. One who would make vivid the great doings must indeed "dip his brush in earthquake and eclipse." Even then he could but picture the credible and must despair of this—the silence of Eskew Arp. Not that Eskew held his tongue, not that he was chary of speech—no! O tempora, O mores! No! But that he refused the subject in hand, that he eschewed expression upon it and resolutely drove the argument in other directions, that he achieved such superbly un-Arpllke inconsistency, and with such rich material for his sardonic humors, not at arm's length, not even so far as his finger tips, but beneath his very palms, he rejected it. This was the impossible fact.

Eskew—there is no option but to declare—was no longer Eskew. It is the truth. Since the morning when Ariel Tabor came down from Joe's office, leaving her offering of white roses in that dingy, dusty, shady place, Eskew had not been himself. His comrades observed it somewhat in a physical difference, one of those alterations which may come upon men of his years suddenly, like a "sea change." His face was whiter, his walk slower, his voice filed thinner. He creaked louder when he rose or sat. Old always from his boyhood, he had in the turn of a hand become aged. But such things come and such things go. After eighty there are ups and downs. People fading away one week bloom out pleasantly the next, and resiliency, is not at all a patent belonging to youth alone. The material change in Mr. Arp might have been thought little worth remarking. What caused Peter Bradbury, Squire Buckalew and the colonel to shake their heads secretly to one another and wonder if their good old friend's mind had not "begun to go" was something very different. To come straight down to it, he not only abstained from all argument upon the "Cory murder" and the case of Happy Fear, refusing to discuss either in any terms or under any circumstances, but he also declined to speak of Ariel Tabor or of Joseph Louden or of their affairs, singular or plural, masculine, feminine or neuter, or in any declension. Not a word committal or noncommittal. None!

The voices of the fathers fell to the pitch of ordinary discourse; the drowsy town was quiet again; the whine of the planing mill boring its way through the sizzling air to every wakening ear. Far away on a quiet street it sounded faintly, like the hum of a bee across a creek, and was drowned in the noise of men at work on the old Tabor house. It seemed the only busy place in Canaan that day, the shade of the big beech trees which surrounded it affording some shelter from the destroying sun to the dripping laborers who were sawing, hammering, painting, plumbing, papering and ripping open old and new packing boxes. There were many changes in the old house—pleasantly in keeping with its simple character—airy enlargements now almost completed so that some of the rooms were already finished and stood, furnished and immaculate, ready for tenancy.

In that which had been Roger Tabor's studio sat Ariel, alone. She had caused some chests and cases stored there to be opened and had taken out of them a few of Roger's canvases and set them along the wall. Tears filled her eyes as she looked at them, seeing the tragedy of labor, the old man had expended upon them, but she felt the recompense. Hard, tight, literal as they were, he had had his moment of joy in each of them before he saw them coldly and knew the truth. And he had been given his years of Paris at last and had seen "how the other fellows did it."

"I want to know," he pursued, "why it was kept secret from me."

A heavy foot strode through the hall, coming abruptly to a halt in the doorway, and, turning, she discovered Martin Pike, his big Henry VIII. face flushed more with anger than with the heat. His hat was upon his head and remained there, nor did he offer any token or word of greeting whatever, but demanded to know when the work upon the house had been begun.

"The second morning after my return," she answered.

"I want to know," he pursued, "why it was kept secret from me, and I want to know quick."

"Secret?" she echoed, with a wave of her hand to indicate the noise which the workmen were making.

"Upon whose authority was it begun?"

"Mine. Who else could give it?"

I will mail you free, to prove merit, samples of my Dr. Shoop's Restorative, and my Book on either Dyspepsia, The Heart or The Kidneys. Troubles of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—mean Stomach weakness, always. And the Heart and Kidneys as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerves." Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion, use Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Write me today for sample and free Book Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. The Restorative is sold by all dealers.

Immigration Figures.

Immigration from Great Britain is increasing, and immigration from the United States is decreasing.

The immigration department has noted this for some time, and the figures for May last emphasize it.

During May, 1906, there were 37,191 immigrants of all classes, and during May of this year there were 45,677, which is an increase of 23 per cent.

Advices from the Northwest state that the cause of the decrease of American immigration is the rapid rise in land values.

Already 200,000 immigrants have arrived in Canada this year, and it is expected that the total immigration will reach the unprecedented figure of 300,000

Warned by a Thistle.

It was thought by the Danes to be cowardly to attack an enemy after nightfall, but on one occasion they deviated from their usual rule. On they crept, noiselessly and unobserved, in their bare feet, upon the unsuspecting Scotchmen. When near the camp one of the Danes trod upon a thistle and in his pain cried out. This aroused the sleeping Scotchmen, and they gave the alarm. The Danes were defeated with terrible loss of life, and ever since that time the thistle has been the insignia of Scotland, with the motto, "Nemo me impune lacessit."

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and Indigestion as real diseases yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific Nerve sickness—nothing else.

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr Shoop in the creation of that now very popular stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had.

For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and sallow complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry must be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made on certain conditions, by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of the homesteader resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Six months' notice in writing should be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of intention to apply for patent.

WEAK WOMEN READ BELOW

One woman in three is struggling against weakness.

Are you one of the weak ones?

Not exactly sick, but oh, how miserable!

You discharge your daily duties, but who can measure the burden, the trial?

Talk of bravery, where find a finer spirit than among half-sick women, fighting, struggling to do their duty against terrible odds—and they never give up until they drop.

If you could put a drop of blood under the misroscope the cause would be revealed.

You would find the blood thin and watery, red cells far too few, the carrier of life very greatly reduced in vitality, and this means slow death.

Ferrozone cures weakness by fortifying both appetite and digestion, and making plenty of blood.

Ferrozone cures weakness by supplying nutriment and building material, by giving the body the constituents it requires for restoring tired organs.

It gives vim, vigor and endurance.

Ferrozone is a tissue builder.

Ferrozone gives sound sleep, sound digestion, promotes perfect removal of all the body wastes.

Ferrozone makes the body glow with health.

Any weak, pale or sickly woman that Ferrozone won't cure—why she must be hopeless. Wonderful power, in Ferrozone, wonderful cures it makes, and this you can prove by trying it. Sold everywhere in 50c. boxes.

A Good Ball Game Saturday

The ball game on Saturday between Port Hope and Peterborough will be the best ever seen on Riverside Park. The game will begin att hree o'clock sharp. The Port Hopers will be accompanied by a large crowd of rooters. The Peterborough nine are in splendid shape and will put up a great article of ball.

Ducks are Coming Here

Mr. Wallace Jones, of Sturgeon Point saw a flock of about 100 ducks flying from the north towards Emily Creek the other day. This is a much larger flock than has been noticed hitherto, and suggests the possibility of the birds being the first contingent of the fall flight from the northern lakes.

Low Water Effects Duck Shooting

Lindsay Post says: The low water is bothering the old duck hunters quite a bit. Old "blinds" are useless owing to the receding water having left the channels thereto lanes of bottomless mud, in place of the navigable waterways of old. Everyday parties can be seen poking their way through the sedge looking up new points of vantage, and this is having a bad effect on the birds, as they are being constantly disturbed. Non-residents of the Province who wish to hunt ducks and other small game must pay a license fee of $25 this season. If moose and deer are the desired quarry, the fee is $50. The first mentioned license is of green tint, the latter red.

—The annual financial district meeting of the Methodist churches in the Peterborough district, of which Rev. B. M. Manning is chairman, will be held in George street Methodist church on Tuesday next, Sept. 3rd.

—The courts of the Canadian Order of Foresters in Peterborough intend holding an "at home" this evening, in the Foresters' Hall, Simcoe street. All members are invited to be present and bring their ladies. Mr. J. H. Halpany, the local organizer, will provide a splendid program.

—Some days ago we noted that Peterborough's popular coroner, Dr. Gray recently sustained painful injuries by his horse stepping on the doctor's foot. We are pleased to note that Dr. Gray hopes to be all right in a few days.

—Yesterday a local Express man called at The Times office and complained that the Dalhousie street bridge, on which he said the concrete has been hard enough for traffic for several days, is still closed to traffic. He remarked that this involved a two block round about trip for drivers having business about this street.

—Word was yesterday received from Mr. Danny Simons, Peterborough's successful comedian from Lowell, Mass., where he holds the center of the stage at Lakeview Park, with the Adam Good Comedy Co., He will open in Boston in the second week in September.

A Correction

In our issue of Thursday appeared an article commending License Inspector Stewart for work done, in his occupation, whereby the Lakeview Hotel at Young's Point, was gathered into Mr. Stewart's drag net and fined for illicit selling. Now in our report we noted, from information received and presumed authentic, that two hotels in troubles viz., the Craig House at Lakefield and the Lakeview House at Young's Point. This report as far as the Lakeview House is concerned was incorrect. We find, from Inspector Stewart, that the Lakeview House had no charge of the kind mentioned against it or its proprietor. The report should have read the Wilson House instead of the Lakeview House.

Other Insects in Ants' Nests.

It is certain that ants intentionally sanction the residence of certain insects in their nests. This is the case, for instance, with the curious blind beetle, claviger, which is absolutely dependent upon ants. It even seems to have lost the power of feeding itself. At any rate, it is habitually fed by the ants, who supply it with nourishment, as they do one another.

Trivial.

"Trivial" is derived from the Latin for three ways and means the petty gossip of the crossroads.

Hindoo Girls.

Every Hindoo girl is a wife or a widow at fourteen. Girls have actually been married before they were a year old, and from four to six years they very commonly cease to be single. Eight is a marriageable age, and twelve is the maximum, except in a few districts.

Olive Oil.

Two tablespoonfuls of pure olive oil is said to contain more nourishment than a pound of meat or a cupful of butter and, being in a stage of natural emulsion, is digested promptly, making blood, fat and weight.

Women in Burma.

It is a remarkable fact that Burma differs from almost all other oriental countries in the freedom accorded to its women. They stand in every way almost on an equality with men. They share equally with boys in all inheritance.

An Old Marriage Notice.

There were some very candid persons in the time of George II. In 1731 the Gentleman's Magazine announced, "Married, the Rev. Mr. Roger Wains of York, about twenty-six years of age, to a Lincolnshire lady upward of eighty, with whom he is to have £8,000 in money, £300 per annum and a coach and four during his life only."

Fasting Animals.

Animals are often able to bear very protracted fasting. In the Italian earthquakes of 1795 two hogs were buried in the ruins of a building. They were taken out alive forty-two days later, but very lean and weak.

Public Horse Baths.

In Guadalajara, Mexico, there are public horse baths, where the animals thoroughly enjoy swimming after the day's heat and dust. After the bath the horses are given a thorough scrubbing and rubdown in the shallow, shady part of the pool.

The Death Column.

In the ruins of Mitla, Mexico, is the Death Column. The Indians say they can tell the number of years a person will live by the number of spans between his finger tips when he embraces the column.

Spanish Peanuts.

The only province in Spain where peanuts are produced is Valencia. There are two different sorts, one containing two nuts—probably known in America as Spanish peanuts—and the other containing three or four nuts, known in England as "giants." The first class is by far the most common and cheapest.

Eclipses.

Solar eclipses were noted by the Egyptians as far back as 661 B. C. The first eclipse recorded in history was of the moon by Ptolemy, who gives it as taking place March 19, 721 B. C.

Thanksgiving.

The Thanksgiving proclamation was originated by Sir Francis Bernard, captain general and governor in chief in and over his majesty's province of Massachusetts Bay. It was issued Nov. 4, 1767, and the form then used has been substantially adhered to ever since.

Reindeer Skin.

The skin of the reindeer is so impervious to the cold that any one clothed in such a dress, with the addition of a blanket of the same material, may bear the intensest rigors of an arctic winter's night.

Cyclopean Building.

The best examples of cyclopean building are at Baalbec. There are stones in the Baalbec walls thirty feet above the level, several of which are sixty feet long, twenty-four feet thick and sixteen broad, each stone weighing over 2,500 tons, all cut, dressed and brought from distant quarries.

Deaf Mute Instruction.

The first mention of the instruction of a deaf mute is in the writings of Bede, about 685. A Spanish Benedictine monk, Pedro de Ponce, taught the deaf and dumb about 1580.

Cocoanut Trees.

The cocoanut tree is the most valuable of plants. Its wood furnishes beams, rafters and planks; its leaves, umbrellas and clothing; its fruit, food, oil, intoxicants and sugar; its shells, domestic utensils; its fibers, ropes, sails and matting.

Mustard Cures.

Mustard is the nearest approach to a universal cure-all. Few pains will not give way before a mustard plaster, and a wide range of internal inflammations from colds and other causes may be stopped by its timely application. It is the first and best resort in threatened pneumonia, congestion of the lungs or determined colds on the chest.

White Ants.

The termites, or white ants, steal and store grain. As much as five bushels of grain have been taken from a single nest.

Of Interest To Women.

To such women as are not seriously out of health but who have exacting duties to perform, either in the way of household cares or in social duties and functions which seriously tax their strength, as well as to nursing mothers, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has proved a most valuable supporting tonic and invigorating nervine. By its timely use, much serious sickness and suffering may be avoided. The operating table and the surgeons' knife, would, it is believed, seldom have to be employed if this most valuable woman's remedy were resorted to in good time. The "Favorite Prescription" has proven a great boon to expectant mothers by preparing the system for the coming of baby, thereby rendering childbirth safe, easy, and almost painless.

Bear in mind, please that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is not a secret or patent medicine, against which the most intelligent people are quite naturally averse, because of the uncertainty as to their composition and harmless character, but is a MEDICINE OF KNOWN COMPOSITION, a full list of all its ingredients being printed, in plain English, on every bottle-wrapper. An examination of this list of ingredients will disclose the fact that it is non-alcoholic in its composition, chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine taking the place of the commonly used alcohol, in its make-up. In this connection it may not be out of place to state that the "Favorite Prescription" of Dr. Pierce is the only medicine put up for the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses and ailments, and sold through druggists, all the ingredients of which have the unanimous endorsement of all the leading medical writers and teachers of all the several schools of practice, and that too as remedies for the ailments for which "Favorite Prescription" is recommended.

A little book of these endorsements will be sent to any address, post-paid, and absolutely free if you request same by postal card, or letter, of Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. Easy to take as candy.

No Shooting on Sunday

As before noted in these columns, legal duck shooting as well as the destruction, by those who hit them, of plover and snipe will open on Monday, September 2nd. Game Warden Johnston asks us to publish the following clause of the Fish and Game Act;

Clause 13.—No person shall on the Lord's Day hunt, take, kill or destroy any game, or use any gun or other instrument for that purpose.—63 Vic., 49, s. 6.

Non Coms' Excursion Yesterday

Yesterday a good sized crowd took in the 57th Regt. non-commissioned officers' excursion to Idyl Wyld, per the staunch steamer Otonabee. The fact that yesterday was the last weekly half holiday for this season, gave many an opportunity for attending this annual outing of the local regiment's non.-com's annual outing. Those who went had good weather and thoroughly enjoyed the trip.

A Handsome Calendar

With his proverbial progressive energrise Mr. Wm. Pringle, principal of the Peterborough Business College, has just issued a handsome calendar for 1908. It is a map of Canada of large diminsions. The new provinces in the Northwest are well defined. On the back of the map are the names of the principal towns and cities in the province in alphabetical order. A picture occupies the upper portion of the map, and the advantages of the college are set forth on it.

Campbellford's Special Fair Train

Beginning next Monday, the G.T.R. flyer, which arrives here at ten o'clock at night and stays over night will be run through to Campbellford. This arrangement is for next week only and will be much appreciated by Campbellford people who desire to go to Toronto in the morning to attend the fair and return the same day. The flyer will arrive in Campbellford by 11.30.

$100 REWARD, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood an dmucous surfaces of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Collapse of the Half-Finished Bridge Over the St. Lawrence River

70 KILLED

CRUSHED TO DEATH OR DROWNED IN THE WATER

Few Survivors Tell Thrilling Story of Their Escape A Frightful Spectacle

TERRIBLE DISASTER NEAR QUEBEC CITY

Bridge Structure Rising 400 Feet Broke Suddenly In Its Center, Carrying Seventy Five Workmen to Death.

Quebec, Aug. 30.—From 80 to 90 lives were lost tonight by the collapse of the half-finished cantilever bridge over the St. Lawrence, nine miles above the city, and four million dollars worth of steel superstructure, made by the Phoenix Bridge Co., lies at the bottom of the river a twisted mass of scrap iron

The disaster occurred at 5.30 p.m., just before the men were to quit work. There was no premonition of coming disaster, and no cause can so far be assigned for it.

One story is that the collapse followed the approach on the bridge of a locomotive and three cars loaded with iron.

There was a 28-mile an hour wind at the time, but this is considered trifling, and the bridge has already stood very much more.

SUDDENLY SWAYED.

Ninety men were working on the structure at the time. Some were engaged in riveting operations, while others were taking down a big traveling crane.

It was the southern extension of the bridge which collapsed, and this was rapidly nearing the zenith of the immense steel arch which was to span the river. For 800 feet from the shore the massive steel structure reared an arch, with no supports but the piers from the shore, while the outward extremity was 180 feet above the water.

Suddenly those on the northern shore saw the end of the half arch bend down a little, and a moment later the whole enormous fabric began to break down, slowly at first, then with terrific crash.

The bridge simply swayed and shot out from the direction of the shore into the middle of the St. Lawrence.

There were a few marvellous escapes, but the great majority of those on the structure went down with it and are still in the water.

Ten bodies have been recovered.

Ten others who were on the bridge were saved, some badly injured. One or two were miraculously saved.

Of the dead bodies recovered, the majority are supposed to be those of Indians from Caughnawaga, near Montreal, several of whom were employed on the work.

Amongst the dead are Mr. Burke, resident engineer of the work for the Phoenix Bridge Company; Carl Swanson, from Philadelphia. Messrs. Fast and Meredith, supposed to be from Ohio, and the following residents in the vicinity of the bridge; Victor Hardy, Michael Hardy, James Hardy and Calixte Hardy, Joseph Boucher, two brothers named Wilson, two named Hazeman, Henry French, two brothers named Praulax, and four men named Birone, Binet, Beaudry and Norton.

TERRIBLE SCENES.

The survivors who went down into the river and were saved state that when they came to the surface of the water the spectacle which met their gaze was frightful Several bodies came with them to the surface, some covered with blood, others were unrecognizable.

Darkness prevented the work of recovering the bodies being successfully prosecuted last night, but it is known that many will be found to be crushed to pulp between the heavy steel pieces of the bridge with which they went to their doom.

WAS AN ENGINEERING MARVEL

It is claimed here that the loss must fall upon the Phoenix Company, which undertook to complete and deliver in perfect condition the superstructure of the bridge. The abutments and piers are perfectly intact.

In one respect the structure was an experiment, being the longest cantilever in the world, namely, one unsupported span of 1800 feet. There was still nearly 150 feet to be built to the side of the main span which collapsed, and the whole of the 750 feet, outside of the pier was overhanging the river without any apparent support, although it was supported overhead. This over-hanging mass of metal has been considered all summer to be one of the engineering feats of the day, and was visited by nearly all American and other visitors to Quebec The total cost of the bridge was to be close up to $10,000,000, and already some $5,000,000, had been spent on it.

It is the connecting link between the eastern and western branches of the new transcontinental railway in course of erection by the Canadian government.

MIRACULOUS ESCAPES.

One of the most wonderful escapes was that of Thomas Sewell from Frederiction, who, feeling the bridge go down clutched a piece of iron and went down with it. The portion of the bridge on which he was working being heavier than himself went faster than he did, so that he struck the water without being injured by it. He came to the surface, and being an expert swimmer, was able to float ashore without difficulty. The floor of the bridge was 150 feet above the water, and Sewell says that though the fall only occupied a few seconds of time it seemed to him fully an hour, and all the events of a lifetime passed rapidly in review before him.

Amongst the saved are Charles Davis, an Englishman, whose back is broken and who will doubtless die; and Laberge, who has a broken leg; and four others named respectively Roberge, Gadoret, Hazeman and Johnson.

A man named Page was driving a locomotive on the bridge with material, and, seeing the disaster, jumped and saved his life. John Bailey of New York is also amongst the saved. bridge fell

Later

Quebec, Aug. 31.—A pall hangs gloomily over Quebec city, for the Ancient Capital is face to face with the most lamentable disaster which has ever darkened its history. The Quebec Bridge, until yesterday the pride and delight of our citizens, which was looked forward to to connect the north and south shores in a union which meant a wonderful step in the development of our commercial and industrial history, is now a mass of tangled, broken and twisted steel work, lying in the bed of the St. Lawrence, and 63 human beings met death in its destruction.

A SURVIVOR'S STORY.

He was exceedingly weak from loss of blood, and in broken sentences he said;

"It was 5.37 o'clock, just about ten minutes before we would all quit work when I looked back towards the south shore, as I felt something move, and to my horror I saw the immense steel frame close to the abutment give way, between the deep water pier and the shore. Then it rose many feet in the air, and its weight must have forced down the nine hundred feet of massive work which extended from the deep water pier out over the St. Lawrence, for the entire superstructure then gave way, and tumbled with a frightful crash into the depths of the swift current below.

REMEMBERED THE DESCENT.

"It all happened in a few seconds, but the 70 odd workmen who were aloft at the time felt that the end had come. I remember distinctly descending, and hearing a fearful crash but I lost consciousness at that moment, and recollect nothing further until I found myself pinioned between two pieces of iron.

"I realized that it was a death struggle, and I first freed my head, and cried aloud for assistance. Some minutes later a boat came alongside me, and I must have again lost consciousness, for I can remember no more till I found myself in this condition on the shore."

Adams, who is about 40 years of age, was apparently suffering excruciating pain while he related the above words, for the nerves in his face twitched continuously, and a physician, seeing his critical condition, hastened him away to a place of rest.

Credits the Kaiser With Great Power

Berlin, Aug 30.—Andrew Carnegie's estimate of Emperor William, probably derived from his personal interviews with the kaiser at Kiel in June last, are to appear in the periodical, the Morgen.

Recalling Cardinal Richelieu's famous remark to Louis XIII., "A great man has arisen in England, your Majesty. His name is Cromwell." Mr. Carnegie says; "I may say that a great man has risen in Germany — the emperor It is impossible to follow his deeds without feeling that here is a personality, here is a power, which is able to do good or evil in the world."

He adds; "As the emperor of Russia took the initial step toward insuring the general peace of the world by The Hague conferences, so the other mighty emperor, inspired by thoughts that he owes it to himself and to Germany to play a leading role on the great European stage, may some day appear as the liberator of the Continent from the pressure that bears heavily upon it, and free it from the pale, paralyzing fear of war and annihilation between the members of the same body."

Lakefield Italians on the Rampage

The Lakefield News says; —Chief Doidge was called out on Sunday night about 12 o'clock to quell a row in the Italian colony at the Cement Works. It seems that two Italians had been drinking whisky instead of lager beer, with the result that they started in to knock each other out. A bottle was used in the fracas, and one of them is carrying around a sore head from the effects of a blow from it. The chief arrested the principal offender, and placed him in the lock-up over night. He was liberated in the morning, with a warning to let whisky alone in the future.

A Day with the Foresters

Many Peterborough Citizens will Take in Monday's Trip

Many of the citizens of Peterborough have been looking forward to the Foresters' excursion which is to take place to Idyl Wyld, per steamer Otonabee on Monday (Labor Day). In previous years the I.O.F. have run their annual excursion to Foresters' Island and suffice to say every excursion has made the society more popular with the citizens of Peterborough, who have turned out in large numbers and enjoyed the pleasant time as the guests of the Foresters. This year the excursion will be to Idyl Wyld and those who have been unable to attend the excursions to Foresters' Island, will be given an opportunity to spend a pleasant outing on Monday down the Otonabee. The Opera House orchestra has been engaged for the occasion and will discourse music on the sail down and return trip also in the pavilion at the island. A program of sports will be run off in the afternoon. A beautiful line of prizes has been donated by the merchants that will demand great competition. The committee have been working energetically to make this excursion the banner one of the season. The boat leaves Wolfe street wharf at eight o'clock and the street railway wharf at 8.30.

A Boy Murderer In Massachusetts

Springfield, Mass., Aug. 30.—Deliberate, cold-blooded murder, to get a small sum of money, committed by a boy still in his teens, with a petty 22 calibre revolver, is the terrible story of the killing of Milkman Hugh J. Kane, of Ludlow, yesterday. The identity of the boy is still unknown, but the police have an excellent description of him, and even have one suspect in mind already.

The circumstances of the murder are so extraordinary that it seems almost certain it was done by a young fellow who was a degenerate. When Kane was returning to his Ludlow farm from Holyoke, with his day's collections from the milk route, amounting to not more than $40, the young fellow evidently obtained the privilege of riding with him and when Kane was off his guard, shot him, searched his pockets for money, settled the dying man down in the cart, jumped out and closed the doors, and then sent the horse along home. The murderer was seen immediately afterwards running toward Fairview, but the crime was not discovered until the horse pulled the wagon into the Kane farmyard half an hour later. Before 8 o'clock Kane died, without regaining consciousness. Kane was unmarried, 32 years of age, and respected both in Holyoke and Ludlow.

A Most Valuable Agent.

The glycerine employed in Dr. Pierce's medicines greatly enhances the medicinal properties which it extracts from native medicinal roots and holds in solution much better than alcohol would. It also possesses medicinal properties of its own, being a valuable demulcent, nutritive, antiseptic and antiferment. It adds greatly to the efficacy of the Black Cherry-bark, Bloodroot, Golden Seal root, Stone root and Queen's root, contained in "Golden Medical Discovery" in subduing chronic, or lingering coughs, bronchial, throat and lung affections, for all of which these agents are recommended by standard medical authorities.

In all cases where there is a wasting away of flesh, loss of appetite, with weak stomach, as in the early stages of consumption, there can be no doubt that glycerine acts as a valuable nutritive and aids the Golden Seal root, Stone root, Queen's root and Black Cherry bark in promoting digestion and building up the flesh and strength, controlling the cough, and bringing about a healthy condition of the whole system. Of course, it must not be expected to work miracles. It will not cure consumption except in its earlier stages. It will cure very severe, obstinate, hang-on chronic coughs, bronchial and laryngeal troubles, and chronic sore throat with hoarseness. In acute coughs it is not so effective. It is in the lingering hang-on coughs, or those of long standing, even when accompanied by bleeding from lungs, that it has performed its most marvelous cures.

"In dyspepsia it serves an excellent purpose. Holding a fixed quantity of the peroxide of hydrogen in solution, it is one of the best manufactured products of the present time in its action upon enfeebled, disordered stomachs, especially if there is ulceration or catarrhal gastritis (catarrhal inflammation of stomach), it is a most efficient preparation. Glycerine will relieve many cases of pyrosis (heartburn) and excessive gastric (stomach) acidity."

"Golden Medical Discovery" enriches and purifies the blood curing blotches, pimples, eruptions, scrofulous swellings and old sores, or ulcers.

Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., for free booklet telling all about the native medicinal roots composing this wonderful medicine. There is no alcohol in it.

Hangman's Rope Was Not Strong

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 29.—The first hanging in this county for more than twenty years took place here yesterday. The victim was Carmine Renzo, aged 45 years and weighing 175 pounds. The weight of the man and the drop of five feet proved too much for the strength of the rope, which slipped when the trap was sprung precipitating Renzo to the ground. The jail attendants hurriedly loosened the rope a round the neck, while others adjusted a new rope to the scaffold, and the man, already dead, was carried to the platform and the lever again sprung. This time the execution was successful. Renzo killed his sweetheart, Marian Bearno, aged 15, two years ago.

Steamer Monarch Rammed the Otonabee

It seems that on Thursday night the steamers Otonabee and Monarch, whilst returning to the city from Rice Lake had a tussle for supremacy in speed that reminded the "oldest settler" of former times on the Mississippi. When near Hales Bridge, shallow water gave the Monarch a chance and she got a head of the other boat. When deeper water was reached the Otonabee, of course again quickly forged to the front. Then it was said by passengers aboard that the helmsman on the Monarch tried several times to cross the other boat's bow, thus endangering both boats.

At last, a collision occurred, the Monarch ramming, presumably by accident, the stern of the Otonabee. A panic was, with difficulty avoided

To Investigate the Wreck

Ottawa, Aug. 31.—The government has appointed Mr. Henry Holgate, C. E., of Montreal, to investigate the Quebec bridge disaster. Later it was decided to name two others—Prof. J. G. Perry, of McGill University, and Prof. Galbraith, of Toronto University. This commission will report.

Summary of Bridge Disaster

Loss of Life—Information received by the Phoenix Bridge Company at Phoenixville from the scene of the accident, says that 61 men are missing, fourteen bodies have been recovered, and that twelve men are in the hospital.

What Collapsed—That part of the southerly half of the Quebec bridge, now in course of construction, and to be the greatest in the world, that was suspended over the river itself. This section was nearly 900 feet long, rose to a height of 400 feet (the floor of the bridge being only 150 feet above water), and weighed about 8,000 tons.

Loss—Including damages payable will probably amount to $2,000,000.

Cause of Accident—According to Mr. Hoare, the Quebec Bridge Company's engineer, it was probably a defective piece of ironwork. He had seen a twisted stringer and had given instructions for a test of the bridge in order to locate the seat of the trouble. The test was ordered too late to avert a calamity. The tremendous weight of the half span itself is not supposed to be the real cause, as engineers had calculated for a judicious distribution of the stress.

Another Chance for Money in Idaho

The Pittsburg-Idaho Mining Co. Owns Rich Claims

The name of Idaho is inseparably connected with unlimited mineral wealth, as out of this new State there is yearly taken out in gold, silver and copper, enough wealth to pay the ransoms of a whole bunch of kings and valuable kings at that.

The Pittsburg-Idaho Mining Co., (and incidentally Pittsburg is synonymous with hard headed business men of wealth) own and control 380 acres, 58 miles above Lewiston, Idaho, on the Clearwater River, that contain mining property which is no mere prospect or chance but, on which extensive development work has been accomplished. In fact tunnel shafts and cuts have been completed for over 2000 feet, in which most encouraging samples of gold, silver and copper ores of high grade have been found. This mine now has from 1000 to 2000 tons of ore ready for shipment to the smelters. One great feature, and a most important one in connection with mining operations is that the entrance to the main tunnel is almost adjacent to the great Northern R.R. lines, thus ensuring cheap and easy shipment As the only risk if any, and there does not seem to be such, by careful study of existing conditions is for the promoters, not the stock holders The Pittsburg-Idaho mine is capitalized at $1,000,000, shares being $1 par value each. Messrs. Thos Paterson & Co., of this city are the local agents for stock and are in a position to give full information and sell stock, or, those desiring stock can communicate with N. B. Wharton, fiscal agent, Ashland, Wis.

Trouble in French Navy Department

Paris, Aug. 30.—The full text of the report of the senatorial committee which was appointed to investigate the explosion which, on March 12 last, destroyed the French battleship Jena while in dock at Toulon; was published yesterday It charges that the disaster was directly traceable to the system of irresponsibility, general indifference and lack of harmony prevailing in the navy.

The immediate cause of the explosion, which resulted in the loss of over one hundred lives, is found to have been the spontaneous combustion of powder "B" in a magazine where the temperature was too high on account of its nearness to the dynamo compartment. Continuing, the report says:

"But the real cause of the catastrophe was the absence of accord, as well as the divisions and antagonisms existing in the different branches of the service. The marine artillery did not try to establish the responsibility for the accident, but only sought to defend the powder manufacturers, and conceal this powder so that it could not be examined. The various branches of the service are divided by jealousies There is no superior authority. Each branch works apart, resulting in a state of anarchy. Officers who complained of these conditions were not commended."

Police Court

At yesterday's police court License Inspector Stewart charged Arthur Hodder with having assaulted his (Stewart's) boy.

Mrs. Hodder, in giving her testimony created some amusement. She said that Stewart's boy with others were climbing over the fence leading to Mr. Davidson's orchard, which is next her house. It seems, according to her story, that Mr. Hodder has instructions to look after the orchard and keep boys out. She then caused a ripple of laughter by saying that as Stewart's boy was climbing over the fence, her husband "put up his foot to help the boy over the fence." Her husband did not take the boy by the throat but by the ear; he did not hurt him however.

Mr. Stewart said that Hodder had kicked his boy and taken him by the throat, which still shows marks of the choking the boy got. Hodder pulled the boy off the fence and put his knees on the boy's chest.

The magistrate said that Hodder evidently had charge of the property and had a right to keep boys out. Had Hodder taken a switch to the boy he would have been justified, but he had evidently used more force than there was any need for. He fined Hodder $1 and costs, $4.35, for using more force than was necessary.

Albert Wright, 15 years of age was the only occupant of the dock. He was charged with disorderly conduct on Hunter street. The case was enlarged until other small boys charged with various offences, already noted in former issues, are tried.

As an aftermath of the case tried a few days ago, when a local teamster charged a man with injuring his horse whilst doing some furious driving, at the court yesterday, Mr. Harper charged a man with driving on the wrong, or left side of the street, contrary to law and custom. The case was dismissed.

ANOTHER BURGLARY IN PETERBOROUGH

Thieves Enter Law Office on Water Street on Thursday Night--Steal Valuable Medals and Coins and Other Articles.

On Thursday night thieves broke into that well known and long established law office on Water street, occupied by the eminent King's counsel, Mr. A. P. Poussette. As is generally known Mr. Poussette's office on Water street is located at 379 Water street, where this gentleman has had clients consult him for many years.

As Mr. Robert Hay, whose name is inseparably connected with active operations and successes of the local Field Battery, and who is engaged at the above office came to work yesterday morning. Shortly after opening up the main entrance, he went into his private office to the north of the front doors and facing east on Water street. Here, Mr. Hay found everything in what is best described as "upside down." Drawers from both a regular desk and a long high wall desk, as well as other receptacles for papers, and goods of all kinds, had been evidently ransacked and were piled one above another on the floor. Mr. Hay then at once recognizing that midnight mechanics had recently been at work, made further investigations, just as Mr. Poussette arrived. These two gentlemen could not, of course do aught but agree that the premises had been burglarized. They looked carefully through the various rooms and quickly ascertained that other symptoms of the midnight marauders' work was in evidence. However, the most tangible signs of the robbery were visible in Mr. Hay's office From this had been stolen, among other things a valuable collection of British East India, English, European and Canadian coins of great value, a South African army badge, a handsome pipe bought recently by Mr. Hay, and other articles had been taken Possibly the greatest loss sustained by Mr Hay was a handsome silver and gold shield won by him at at Kingston in the artillery contest during 1896-97 This shield was enamelled in red and was ornamented by crossed cannons. This was earned for good battery work done by Mr. Hay at Kingston in the Canadian Artillery Association meet. In response to a question put by a Times representative, Mr. Hay feeling replied "$50! Why, I would not have taker $150 for that shield. That is a thing one must earn not buy."

It is feared that a further investigation may result in the foolish theft of papers; foolish because such would be of no use to the thieves. Mr. Poussette when interviewed by a Times man, regretted the loss sustained by Mr. Hay, but was glad to note that all of his clients' papers of all kinds had been securely locked in his safe.

It seems as though it was no "Peterman" or professional burglar, who got in and robbed the place, but more likely this was the work of a number of boys or inmature youths.

It seems that the amateur burglars, or, possibly better described as sneak thieves, got in through a cellar window and climbed the cellar stairs Mr. Poussette at once notified the police who have the matter in hand.

Malicious Work By Some Mischievous Boys

The Times has recently had several articles about the great trouble caused by bad boys of this city during the last few weeks. We have several times, both on our own idea of what is advisable in the interests of justice and decency, as well as by request of both Police Magistrate Dunbie and several leading local lawyers, noted that the present law governing juvenile criminals, as regards punishments, so hampers and ties the judicial hands of magistrates, that the latter are practically privileges to do anything tangible to impress on bad boys that they must obey law and regard order.

We might remark to our readers that, on Wednesday next, several boys belonging to a gang that has given much trouble, and created great disorder at the corner of Hunter and Stewart streets, will be tried To get down to plain facts, in case of conviction, if these boys are allowed to go on that obsolete and useless formula "Suspended sentence," the youth of Peterborough is being induced to the crooked but narrow way leading to serious crime. Now without turning up past fyles of the paper, and life is too short for that just now, we do not at this minute remember the name of one of these boys, so our argument is not personal but general, and, in our humble opinion well founded.

ANOTHER OUTRAGE

Now to revert to the original cause of this article we might note that Mr. Gus. White, proprietor of the hotel "of that ilk" is building a handsome residence at the corner of Stewart and Brock streets. Mr. Thomas Rutherford the local contractor having the work well under way. Yesterday as the men employed on this house went to work they saw a stream of water running down Stewart St. towards Hunter street from the partially completed building. Of course investigations was at once in order. In Mr. White's house now in course of construction is a cement cellar. In this is a pipe to bring water for use of the various mechanics employed. It seems that mischievous boys the night before had got into the place, opened and left turned on the cock admitting water through the pipe in the cellar, and over flowing as above noted, were seven feet of water. Fortunately for both Mr. White and the contractor, the concrete work of the cellar had been completed long enough for it to be hard as adamant, so that the floor and cellar walls will sustain no lasting injury.

Again these boys, not content with this work did, what other boys were proven to have done at a local school some time ago, great damage to the entrance leading from the house to the street sewer. They deliberately filled the pipe entrance leading to the sewer with stones. It was more by good luck than otherwise that this was discovered at once before the whole pipe to the street had to be dug up

Mr. White yesterday noted that the damage done Thursday night at his new house, will cost him at least $25 to rectify From what was said by neighbors there is reason to believe that the perpetrators of this outrage will be identified and arrested.

Congress Advised Study of Esperanto

A very important step in the development of French commerce has been taken at the recent congress of Chambers of Commerce at Bordeaux, according to the report of Mr. C. A. Choudlon, president of the French Chambre de Commerce of Montreal Mr. Choudlon was a delegate to the congress, the first of the kind to be held, and it was indeed largely due to his efforts and those of the organization he represents that the congress was held at all. In recognition of his services in this direction, Mr. Choudlon was appointed to preside over the deliberations of the congress He returned to this city yesterday.

The object of the congress, said Mr. Choudlon, was to study the best means of protecting and developing French business on a more extensive scale, particularly the export trade. It was attended by delegates from the leading chambers of commerce of France and the colonies, besides a government official, Monsieur Chapsal, who represented the Minister of Commerce, under whose patronage the congress was held.

The chief result of the congress had been the formation of the French chambers of the mother country, and of the colonies, as well as the French commercial organizations in foreign countries, into a federation Up to the present time, the French chambers of commerce in the mother country and elsewhere had been more or less disunited, and Mr Choudlon considered that the step taken at the congress would greatly facilitate business relations, and give a new impetus to French trade

Another interesting point to come up for consideration at the meeting was the use of the universal language, Esperanto. It was reported at the Congress that a number of large firms had been using it in their dealings with foreign countries and had found it of great assistance. The congress therefore, recommended that Esperanto be placed on the list of studies in the commercial schools of France

IMPROVE YOUR COMPLEXION

Give Up Cosmetics And Seek The Cause of Your Bad Color.

When it's so easy to bring back the bloom of youth, to remove the blemishes and fill the hollows, isn't it foolish to plaster on cosmetics?

Sallowed skin and fallen in cheeks are produced by disorders of the alimentary canal.

Remove the cause—correct the condition that keeps you from looking as you ought. Use Dr. Hamilton's Pills and very soon you'll have a complexion to be proud of.

Just imagine how much happier you will feel when those pimples and murky look have gone.

Dainty looks came to Miss Vrooman, a well known resident of Belfast, from using Dr. Hamilton's Pills. I used to look so yellow I thought it might be jaundice. There was simply no color in my cheeks at all. Today my skin is clear and never gets that murky, dull appearance, it had before. Dr. Hamilton's Pills have also given me a good appetite and improved my general health also."

Not only the complexion, but every organ of the body is strengthened, cleansed and made healthy by Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Buoyancy, vim and a feeling of vigor invariably follow their use. Sold in yellow boxes by all dealers; 25c. per box or five boxes for $1.00, or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont.

A MODEL PENITENTIARY

Michigan claims to have a model state prison. The prisoners are the same sort of people who are usually found in a penitentiary—murderers, thieves, burglars and the like— but they are ruled by kindness. There are seven hundred prisoners and only about thirty warders; and these warders are armed—not with rifles—but with canes. No firearms are allowed within the prison gates, according to a writer in the World Wide Magazine.

Every Saturday afternoon the prisoners are allowed three-quarters of an hour's freedom on the green award. The prisoners themselves value this unique privilege so much that they prevent its abuse for fear it will be revoked. Nor do all the prisoners wear stripes. Only the most incorrigible are in the convict's usual uniform; and the others wear different uniforms which mark their grade of good behavior. They are allowed to talk at their work, and only have a set amount of work to do. After they have done their prison task they can work for themselves and save the money they make. They are allowed to have musical instruments in their cells, and have a pretty little theatre in which travelling theatrical companies frequently give performances for the convicts.

All sentences except those for murder are indeterminate. The prisoner must serve a minimum term for his crime, and then his release depends upon his conduct and his ability to find a friend who will get him employment or look after him on his discharge. This is a remarkable regime for criminals, but it is said to work well. "That management by kindness is long past the experimental stage." Certainly if prisoners can be handled in this way and "kept within bounds, they will emerge from the experience with much more self-respect and much less of a "grouch" against the law and the police than they otherwise would have. But it is to be feared that most practical prison officials would hesitate to risk the experiment. They would fear that in the end they have only a few disabled wardens and a few crippled prisoners to produce as results.

A curious thing is that the authorities find the murderers about the best behaved of the lot. "The thieving tramps and city loafers, who ordinarily are only sentenced to short terms, are the worst people whom we have to deal with." A thief who murders merely to escape arrest is no better than others of the thieving class, but a man who kills in a moment of overpowering passion or under the impression of some great wrong, is usually a very decent fellow otherwise. The contractors, who contract for prison labor prefer murderers.

One objection will be urged by some and that is that this sort of a penitentiary gives the prisoner a much better home than he was likely to have had before he committed his crime, and—worse still—much better than that of his honest companion who is still working for his living out in the hard world. But prisons are most of them now better in most ways than slum tenements; and public opinion would never permit them to be made unsanitary or their inmates starved in order to hammer them down to the slum level. Then men love liberty so supremely that they are never likely to purchase food or housing at the price of its sacrifice. The notion that people will commit serious crime for the sake of getting into an attractive penitentiary is too fantastic. Thus Michigan example may well be studied by the masters of our penal institutions with a view to learning if we might not safely and wisely move along the same lines.

TO SUPPRESS MONTE CARLO

London, Aug 30.—The recent atrocious trunk crime has brogtuh forth a renewal of the agitation for the suppression of Monte Carlo as a cosmopolitan gambling rendezvous, and Max Pemberton, the novelist, whose views have been sought, is convinced that its suppression would prove a more practical and nobler work for humanity than the advancement of impossible propositions at the Hague Peace Conference.

Hal Caine suggests that the Powers should but out the interest of Prince Monaco. He considers that while Monte Carlo is a goodly corner of the earth in the matter of climate and scenic beauty, it is morally the plague spot of Europe.

On the other hand, Dr. T. H. Pagge, of London, who has been in Monte Carlo in medical practice for eighteen years, enters a spirited protest in the Times against the attacks on the little principality.

He says there is no place in Europe where gambling is carried on under such perfect control and on such honest lines as in Monaco.

Steel Pavements.

Paris is experimenting with what is called steel pavement. It is really a concrete pavement re-enforced with a steel framework. The metal part of the pavement is a plate of perforated steel, with strong bolts of steel running through it between the perforations. Each section has some resemblance to a steel harrow, only the prongs project equally on each side and they are square and blunt. It will be superior to asphalt in ultimate economy and to wood both in the better footing that it affords to horses and in the fact that it will not admit of dangerous ruts developing. The sample laid cost $5.40 a square meter, a little more than a square yard, but when the work is done on a large scale it is believed the price can be cut to about $4.50.

A Midday Nap Club.

"What we need down here in the pushing office district is a midday nap club," said a lawyer of large practice, "a place where a fellow can run in for a few winks of midday sleep without the danger of being awakened by some erratic caller. A quiet lounge in a secluded room, every fellow to himself and a man to call you at the moment designated, and I venture the thing would be a success. Moreover, I believe a few winks of sleep in the middle of the day would do much to relieve the nervous tension under which most of us labor, prolong our lives and avert many a case of nervous prostration. I make the suggestion in all seriousness and hope soon to see it put into effect."—Philadelphia Record.

Free, for Catarrh, just to prove merit, a Trial size Box of Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Remedy. Let me send it now. It is a snow-white, creamy, healing, antiseptic balm. Make the free test and see for yourself what this preparation can and will accomplish. Address, Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. Large jars 50 cents. Sold by 11 dealers.

"The" Tyrol.

Apropos of Major Martin Hume's recent protest against the incorrect use of the definite article before "Asturias," it is interesting to hear the denunciation of "the" before Tyrol, made by Mr. Baillie-Grohman in the London Chronicle. It is "Tyrol" without the article, he says, for there is only one Tyrol. A "Bavarian Tyrol" and an "Italian Tyrol" do not exist, and therefore "the Austrian Tyrol" is also a wrong expression. Still, probably half of the people who visit Tyrol, in summer or winter, throw in the superfluous "the."

Powder Package Sent to Cortelyou

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 30.—The explosion of what appears to have been a large percussion cap in a package addressed to secretary of the treasury, Geo. B. Cortelyou, created excitement in the Nicetown substation of the Philadelphia postoffice.

The package which was collected from a box in the northern section of the city, was received by Clerk Roberts, who says it was about four inches long by two inches wide and 3-4 of an inch thick. When Roberts brought his steel cancellation die on the stamp, the package exploded and was torn to pieces. Roberts was unhurt. The pieces of paper were put together and the package was found to have been addressed to Secretary Cortelyou, Washington, D.C., the address having been cut from a newspaper, pasted on the package.

Chief Postal Inspector James H. Cortelyou, a brother of the secretary, is trying to solve the mystery surrounding the explosion, though most of the authorities think the package was mailed as a joke. There was not sufficient explosive matter in it to have done injury to any one.

TENDERS FOR DREDGING

Tenders addressed to the undersigned and endorsed "Tender for Dredging at Port Hope," will be received up to and including Saturday, August 31st, 1907, for dredging required at Port Hope, Durham County, Ont.

Combined specification and form of tender can be obtained at the Department of Public Works, Ottawa. Tenders must include the towing of the plant to and from the works. Only dredges can be employed which are registered in Canada at the time of the filing of tenders. Contractors must be ready to begin work within thirty days after the date they have been notified of the acceptance of their tender.

Tenders will not be considered unless made on the printed form supplied, and signed with the actual signatures of tenderers.

An accepted cheque on a chartered bank, payable to the order of the Honorable the Minister of Public Works, for one thousand dollars ($1,000) must accompany each tender as security deposit in connection with the dredging to be performed. The cheque will be returned in case of non-acceptance of tender.

The Department does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

By order,
FRED GELINAS,
Secretary.

Department of Public Works.

Something New in Copper

PITTSBURG - IDAHO
Mining and Milling Company

The mine is located 28 miles above Lewiston, Idaho, on the Clearwater river, and consists of 19 full claims or 380 acres. It is developed by tunnels, shafts and open cuts for more than 2000 feet, disclosing thousands of tons of copper, gold and silver ores of both high grade and low grade. There are between 1000 and 2000 tons of ore ready for shipment. The entrance to the working tunnel is only 2000 feet from the track of the Northern Pacific railroad, to be reached by gravity tramway. There are seven parallel veins running lengthways of the claims, one cropping out on the surface for 2400 feet and another for 3000 feet, while two veins cross the claims and into the mountain. These veins run from 30 to 200 feet wide, the ore chute has been crosscut 60 feet and is solid ore from wall to wall.

We are not asking you to buy in a prospect. That risk was taken by the promoters. We are asking you to buy in a developed, proven mine. Seven years of continuous work and the expenditure of thousands of dollars has proven up one of the greatest mines in Idaho. That mine is now ready to pour out its red and yellow wealth to the world with the installing of an up to date production plant. It is for that purpose that a block of its treasury stock, full paid and non-assessable, is offered for sale. We believe that within six months from the completion of a 100 ton plant the mine can be put on a dividend paying basis, and that those dividends will be substantial and permanent. There is no better investment proposition before the people at this time.

CAPITALIZATION $1,000,000 - PAR VALUE $1.

All promotion stock pooled during the sale of this treasury stock.

Messrs. Thos. Patterson & Co., Peterborough, Ont., are authorized to receive subscriptions for this stock, to whom all applications should be made.

SIREN WAFERS DEVELOP THE BUST

SHE'S A QUEEN! SHE'S A SIREN!

Is an expression that is always heard at sight of a well developed woman. If you are flat chested, with BUST undeveloped, a scrawney neck, thin lean arms the above remark will never be applied to you. "SIREN" wafers will make you beautiful, bewitching. They DEVELOP the BUST in a few weeks from 3 to 6 inches and produce a fine firm, voluptuous bosom. They fill out the hollow places Make the cheeks plump and rosy, and arms handsome and well molded and the neck and shoulders shapely and of perfect contour.

Send for a bottle today and you'll be pleased and grateful. "SIREN" wafers are absolutely harmless, pleasant to take and convenient to carry around. They are sold under guarantee to do all we claim or MONEY back..

Price $1.00 per bottle. Inquire at good drug stores or send DIRECT to us.

FREE!

During the next 30 days only—we will send you a sample bottle of these beautifying wafers on receipt of 10 cents to pay cost of packing and postage if you will mention that you saw the Advertisement in this paper. The sample alone may be sufficient if defects are trivial.

Good Local Agent Wanted

I OFFER YOU A 10c STOCK FOR 5c

In the month of September the price of GUGGENHEIM-GREENWATER COPPER STOCK goes to 10 cents. All who buy shares from the Company will pay that for them.

I secured an option on a block of stock to sell at 5 cents. Until this block is exhausted I can fill orders at 5 cents. I can give those who buy of me for 5 cts., what others will be paying 10 cts. for.

Everyone who sees this advertisement surely has read of Greenwater and Ely, the wonderful new copper districts. The Guggenheim-Greenwater Copper Company owns groups of claims in both places. Work is in progress, and the indications are the best.

Here is a chance for little money to make a fortune. Other mines in the same district have made fortunes, and they have been less promising before development than the Guggenheim Greenwater Company's property.

See me at once about this. One hundred shares will cost you only $5; one thousand shares, $50. The block of stock which I have will not last long. Get for 5 what others are glad to pay 10 for.

THE CONQUEST of CANAAN

By BOOTH TARKINGTON,
Author of "Cherry," "Monsieur Beaucaire," Etc.

COPYRIGHT, 1905, BY HARPER & BROTHERS

"Look here," he said, advancing toward her, "don't try to fool me! You haven't done all this by yourself. Who hired these workmen?"

Remembering her first interview with him, she rose quickly before he could come near her. "Mr. Louden made most of the arrangements for me," she replied quietly, "before he went away. He will take charge of everything when he returns. You haven't forgotten that I told you I intended to place my affairs in his hands?"

He had started forward, but at this he stopped and stared at her inarticulately.

"You remember?" she said, her hands resting negligently upon the back of the chair. "Surely you remember?"

She was not in the least afraid of him, but coolly watchful of him. This had been her habit with him since her return. She had seen little of him except at table, when he was usually grimly laconic, though now and then she would hear him joking heavily with Sam Warden in the yard, or, with evidently humorous intent, groaning at Mamie over Eugene's health; but it had not escaped Ariel that he was on his part watchful of herself and upon his guard.

He did not answer her question, and it seemed to her as she continued steadily to meet his hot eyes that he was trying to hold himself under some measure of control, and a vain effort it proved.

"You go back to my house!" he burst out, shouting hoarsely. "You get back there! You stay there!"

"No," she said, moving between him and the door. "Mamie and I are going for a drive."

"You go back to my house!" He followed her, waving an arm fiercely at her. "Don't you come around here trying to run over me! You talk about your 'affairs!' All you've got on earth is this two for a nickel old shack over your head and a bushel basket of distillery stock that you can sell by the pound for old paper!" He threw the words in her face, the bull bass voice seamed and cracked with falsetto. "Old paper, old rags, old iron, bottles, old clothes! You talk about your affairs! Who are you? Rothschild? You haven't got any affairs!"

Not a look, not a word, not a motion of his escaped her in all the fury of sound and gesture in which he seemed fairly to envelop himself. Least of all did that shaking of his—the quivering of jaw and temple, the tumultuous agitation of his hands—evade her watchfulness.

"When did you find this out?" she said very quickly. "After you became administrator?"

He struck the back of the chair she had vacated a vicious blow with his open hand. "No, you spendthrift! All there was to your grandfather when you buried him was a basketful of distillery stock, I tell you! Old paper! Can't you hear me? Old paper, old rags"—

"You have sent me the same income," she lifted her voice to interrupt. "You have made the same quarterly payments since his death that you made before. If you knew, why did you do that?"

He had been shouting at her with the frantic and ingredulous exasperation of an intolerant man utterly unused to opposition, his face empurpled, his forehead dripping and his hands ruthlessly pounding the back of the chair, but this straight question stripped him suddenly of gesture and left him standing limp and still before her, pale splotches beginning to show on his hot cheeks.

"If you knew, why did you do it?" she repeated. "You wrote me that my income was from dividends, and I knew and thought nothing about it, but if the stock which came to me was worthless how could it pay dividends?"

"It did not," he answered huskily. "That distillery stock, I tell you, isn't worth the matches to burn it."

"But there has been no difference in my income," she persisted steadily. "Why? Can you explain that to me?"

"Yes; I can," he replied. And it seemed to her that he spoke with a pallid and bitter desperation, like a man driven to the wall. "I can if you think you want to know."

"I do."

"I sent it."

"Do you mean from your own"—

"I mean it was my own money."

She had not taken her eyes from his, which met hers straightly and angrily, and at this she leaned forward, gazing at him with profound scrutiny.

"Why did you send it?" she asked.

"Charity," he answered after palpable hesitation.

Her eyes widened, and she leaned back against the lintel of the door, staring at him incredulously. "Charity?" she echoed in a whisper.

Perhaps he mistook her amazement at his performance for dismay caused by the sense of her own position, for as she seemed to weaken before him the strength of his own habit of dominance came back to him. "Charity, madam!" he broke out, shouting intolerably. "Charity, d'ye hear? I was a friend of the man that made the money you and your grandfather squandered; I was a friend of Jonas Tabor, I say! That's why I was willing to support you for a year and over rather than let a niece of his suffer."

"'Suffer!'" she cried. "'Support!' You sent me a hundred thousand francs!"

The white splotches which had mottled Martin Pike's face disappeared as if they had been suddenly splashed with hot red. "You go back to my house," he said. "What I sent you only shows the extent of my"

"Effrontery!" The word rang through the whole house, so loudly and clearly did she strike it rang in his ears till it stung like a castigation. It was ominous, portentous of justice and of disaster. There was more than doubt of him in it—there was conviction.

He fell back from this word, and when he again advanced Ariel had left the house. She had turned the next corner before he came out of the gate, and as he passed his own home on his way downtown he saw her white dress mingling with his daughter's near the horse-block beside the firs, where the two, with their arms about each other, stood waiting for Sam Warden and the open summer carriage.

Judge Pike walked on, the white splotches reappearing like a pale rash upon his face. A yellow butterfly zigzagged before him, knee high, across the sidewalk. He raised his foot and half kicked at it.

CHAPTER XIX.

As the judge continued his walk down Main street he wished profoundly that the butterfly, which exhibited no annoyance, had been of greater bulk and more approachable, and it was the evil fortune of Joe's mongrel to encounter him in the sinister humor of such a wish unfulfilled.

Respectability dwelt at Beaver Beach under the care of Mr. Sheehan until his master should return, and Sheehan was kind, but the small dog found the world lonely and time long without Joe. He had grown more and more restless, and at last, this hot morning, having managed to evade the eye of all concerned in his keeping, made off unobtrusively, partly by swimming, and, reaching the road, cantered into town, his ears erect with anxiety. Bent upon reaching the familiar office, he passed the grocery, from the doorway of which the pimply cheeked clerk had thrown a bad potato at him a month before. The same clerk had just laid down the Toesin as Respectability

I will mail you free, to prove merit, samples of my Dr. Shoop's Restorative, and my Book on either Dyspepsia, The Heart or The Kidneys. Troubles of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—mean Stomach weakness, always. And the Heart, and Kidneys as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerves." Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion, use Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Write me today for sample and free Book. Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. The Restorative is sold by all dealers.

Europe's Armies.

The Greek National Hymn.

Greece's national hymn, taken from Dionis Salomo's "Hymn to Liberty," was first written and published in London. The first part of the original poem was a eulogy of the land of Washington.

Bee Keeping.

One of the pleasantest vocations leading away from the strenuous life and back to the soil, declares Forrest Crissey in the Saturday Evening Post, is that of bee keeping, and it is especially attractive from the fact that it is as open to women as to men.

Dear to Him.

"Before we were married you called me 'darling.' Now you seem content to call me 'dear.'"

"You weren't so dear to me before marriage as you are now. Your father paid your bills."

First Family Row.

"Do you know who created the first family row on record?"

"I suppose it was Adam and Eve when they raised Cain."—Stray Stories.

Weak Kidneys

Weak Kidneys surely point to weak kidney Nerves. The Kidneys, like the Heart, and the Stomach, find their weakness, not in the organ itself, but in the nerves that control and guide and strengthen them. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is a medicine specifically prepared to reach these controlling nerves. To doctor the Kidneys alone, is futile. It is a waste of time, and of money as well.

If your back aches or is weak, if the urine scalds, or is dark and strong, if you have symptoms of Brights or other distressing or dangerous kidney disease, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative a month—Tablets or Liquid—and see what it can and will do for you. Druggists recommend and sell

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry must be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made on certain conditions, by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

The homesteader is required to perform the homestead conditions under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of the homesteader resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Six months' notice in writing should be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of intention to apply for patent.

WEAK WOMEN READ BELOW

One woman in three is struggling against weakness.

Are you one of the weak ones?

Not exactly sick, but oh, how miserable!

You discharge your daily duties, but who can measure the burden, the trial?

Talk of bravery, where find a finer spirit than among half-sick women, fighting, struggling to do their duty against terrible odds—and they never give up until they drop.

If you could put a drop of blood under the microscope the cause would be revealed.

You would find the blood thin and watery, red cells far too few, the carrier of life very greatly reduced in vitality, and this means slow death.

Ferrozone cures weakness by fortifying both appetite and digestion, and making plenty of blood.

Ferrozone cures weakness by supplying nutriment and building material, by giving the body the constituents it requires for restoring tired organs.

It gives vim, vigor and endurance.

Ferrozone is a tissue builder.

Ferrozone gives sound sleep, sound digestion, promotes perfect removal of all the body wastes.

Ferrozone makes the body glow with health.

Any weak, pale or sickly woman that Ferrozone won't cure—why she must be hopeless. Wonderful power in Ferrozone, wonderful cures it makes, and this you can prove by trying it. Sold everywhere in 50c. boxes.

Wild Berries Go to Waste

Mr. Geo. Cochrane, who spent Thursday in Cavendish township discharging his duties as county constable, while waiting in the woods for a few hours to capture the man he was after, saw the largest wild berries he had ever looked upon and states that he could easily have filled a ten quart pail in two hours. The fruit is practically all going to waste in that country for want of pickers to gather it.

Joseph Whetung the New Chief

An election for chief was held at Chemong Indian Village, recently and Joe Whetung, brother of Dan Whetung, was elected for the ensuing three years, his opponent in the contest being George Taylor. The council is composed of Joseph Irons, a member for the last 22 years; William Knott, a member of 10 years' standing; Geo. Taylor, Dan Whetung, jr., and John Knott. The secretary of council is Dow Taylor. No municipal council in the district is conducted with greater decorum, or with better business capacity.

Miss Bull Faints in Swimming Race

An unfortunate incident occurred during the Chemong Park junior regatta on Thursday afternoon. The swimming race for girls 12 years old and under, was well underway, when Miss Marjorie Bull, one of the contestants, fell in in a faint before landing. She sank to the bottom in a few feet of water, but was rescued by her brother. This girl had been a contestant in several of the trials and proved herself very efficient in the canoe, skiff and swimming races.

Mr. A. H. Stratton an Officer

The Booksellers' and Stationers' Association of Ontario, is a new organization formed on Thursday in Toronto, and Mr A H Stratton of this city is a member of the Executive Committee. The startling information was given by one of the speakers from the United States that while twenty-five years ago there were in that country 3,000 retail book stores, there were today less than 1,000.

—Visitors in the city for the holidays will find a large and varied assortment of souvenirs at reasonable prices at Times Bookstore.

—The Chemong Lake Yacht Club smoker, held Thursday in the well lighted and handsome club building was a great success in every way.

—The Union Sunday school outing of Bobcaygeon, will go this year to Chemong Park, on Friday, September 6th

—Tickets for the Labor Day excursion to Idyl Wyld under the auspices of I.O.F may be obtained at Times Bookstore.

—Just a reminder that one of the Navigation Company's steamers will make a trip over the lift lock this morning at 10.30 Returning about twelve.

—Judging by reports current yesterday of the Chemong Park junior regatta on Thursday afternoon things must have been sultry in the Park. We do not give full particulars for obvious reasons

—Lindsay Post says that last Wednesday passengers on the Str. Kathleen were greatly detained by logs whilst en route to Lindsay. They were mad "all through" says this paper.

—Messrs. Walter Davidson, T. F. Matthews, A. A. Hollingshead and D. H. Burritt, who were assiduous in looking after the Chemong Yacht Club smoker, were yesterday congratulated on the great success attained.

—Moonlight excursion under the auspices of the Piccolo Band No. 457 and Prentice Boys No. 7, per steamer Otonabee was a very enjoyable affair last night. A good crowd was on board as well as a jolly one.

—Rev. A. W. Torrie, a young man who has been very successful in his work will commence evangelistic meetings in the Scotch Line Baptist church, Sept. 8th. Mr. Torrie will conduct two weeks' meeting here at the close of the mission on the Line. —Bobcaygeon Independent.

—A special meeting of the Presbytery of Peterborough will be held in St. Andrew's hall, Peterborough, on Monday, September 2nd, at 9 a.m. to consider the call to Rev. F. D. Roxburg, M.A., of Smithville, to Havelock.

—It looks like the fame of Burleigh Falls Hotel is attracting attention outside of this district as the license department, Toronto, has laid a complaint against this popular resort, for selling liquor to Indians

At the closing session of the convention of the Municipal Association held in Toronto, Mr. S. R. Armstrong, city clerk of Peterborough, was elected a member of the Executive Committe. Mr. W. C. Mikel, city solicitor of Belleville, was elected president of the association.

—Don't forget that the Water Lily leaves Monday (Labor Day) at 9 o'clock from the Wolfe street wharf, calling at all points on the river and lake, both going and returning. This is an ideal trip for people who prefer to avoid the crowd on the excursion steamers. Return tickets only 50 cents. Dinner at Idyl Wyld 25 cents.

—Parties wishing to spend Sunday at Idyl Wyld will kindly take note that the Otonabee leaves for that point at 1.30 p.m. today and the Water Lily at four. This gives an opportunity to spend Sunday as well as Monday down the river returning on either Water Lily or the Otonabee Monday evening.

Foresters Excursion Monday

The Labor Day excursion under the auspices of Court Chemong 530, I.O. F., to Idyl Wyld, per steamer Otonabee, promises to be the most popular outing of the season. The Opera House orchestra has been engaged for the occasion and a good program of sports will be run off. The merchants have donated handsome prizes for the winners of the different events. A splendid day's outing is assured. Return tickets 50 cents, children 25 cents.

Cavandish Man with Bad Record

Wm. O. Haines, of Cavendish township, was brought to the city yesterday morning by County Constables Cochrane and Moore, and was tried before County Magistrate Edmison. John Westlake, his father-in-law had three separate charge against the young man. One for assaulting his mother-in-law, one for carrying a revolver, and the last for using grossly obscene and insulting language. Haines was remanded until Wednesday. The offences are said to have been committed about the middle of July and the charges were laid on August 21st.

Obituary

Yesterday morning, Mr. Robert Hamilton Nicholls, son of Mr. Veron R. Nicholls, 203 Dalhousie street, passed away. The deceased had just passed his twentieth birthday before taking ill, some four weeks ago, from typhoid fever. He had enjoyed the best of health, and his death came as a great shock to his family and friends. Surviving him besides his parents, are three brothers, Dixon, Warren and Gordon. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon to the Little Lake cemetery at 3 o'clock.

Late Mr. George Rickey

Tomorrow afternoon the remains of the late Mr. George Rickey, who passed away Thursday night, after a short illness, will be laid to rest in the Little Lake cemetery, the funeral being held from the family residence 108 Aylmer street, at 2 p.m.

The late Mr. Rickey has been a resident of Peterborough for over half a century. He was generally and highly respected, and his death will be deplored by his wide circle of friends.

London—The inquest into the death of Hugh Jennings who was killed in the G.T.R. yards on Saturday was held last night. The jury declared that the railway were negligent in not enforcing the rule which forbids employes stepping in between cars to remove the couplings.

THE EXPERIENCE OF MANY WOMEN

Demonstrate Beyond All Cavil That Pe-ru-na Is a Safe and Useful Household Remedy.

Read What the Women Say.

Chronic Hoarseness.

Mrs. Delia C. Cameron, Healdsburg, Cal., member Daughters of America, writes:

"Having tried many remedies for chronic catarrh of the bronchial tubes, and not receiving any benefit, I began to think there was no help for me until I began to use Peruna.

"In a short time the bronchial tubes began to clear, I did not have that 'frog in my throat' continually, my voice was not nearly so husky, and the wheezing noise disappeared.

"I was soon able to believe that I was entirely free from catarrh, and as this was several months ago, I do not believe that it will return."

The above group of women could be multiplied by ten thousand without reaching the number that have been helped by taking Peruna.

Catarrh of the Stomach.

Miss Emily Koch, 914 Michigan Ave., Sheboygan, Wis., writes:

"I can heartily recommend Peruna for catarrh of the stomach. I had tried many things which did me no good and as a last resort I got a bottle of Peruna.

"I only regret that I did not try it before I forced so much bad stuff into my stomach. It has entirely cured me and as a preventative I always keep a bottle in the house.

"I gladly recommend it to all who are afflicted as I was."

Bronchial Catarrh.

Mrs. Wm. Hohmann, 569 N. Paulina St., Chicago, Ill., writes:

"I suffered with catarrh of the bronchial tubes and had a terrible cough ever since a child. When a child it was supposed to be whooping cough or the croup, but as I got older it got worse.

"After a while it got so bad I had to cough both winter and summer. Finally I burst a blood vessel in my throat from the strain of coughing, next a blood vessel in my stomach, so I kept getting worse and doctoring, and even then could get no relief.

"I went to a dispensary for treatment, but it all done me no good. At night I could never lie on my back. I would sit up until two or three o'clock in the morning before I could close my eyes. Then of course, I thought, and everybody else that I had consumption.

"Reading the papers about Peruna I decided to try it without the least hope that it would do me any good. But after taking three bottles I noticed a change. My appetite got better, so I kept on, never got discouraged.

"Now I can lie on my back and sleep all night, and you may well think how thankful I am for Peruna."

A Wasting Disease.

Mrs. Roxa Tyler, 6210 Madison Avenue, Chicago, Ill., Vice President of the Illinois Woman's Alliance, writes:

"During the past year I gradually lost flesh and strength until I was unable to perform my work properly. I tried different remedies, and finally Peruna was suggested to me.

"It gave me new life and restored my strength. I cannot speak too highly of it."

Personal

—Mr. H. C. Thompson of Orillia, is registered at the Snowden House.

—Dr. C. B. Coughlin, superintendent of the Deaf and Dumb Institute, Belleville, is in the city on a visit.

—Mr. J. Kearney of Young's Point, was in the city a guest at the Snowden House.

—Lindsay Post says; Mr. B. H. Brown of Peterborough, was in town today on business.

—Mr. Patrick Crowley, of Saginaw, Mich., a former resident of Peterborough, is in the city on a visit to his cousin, Mr. David Crowley.

—Lindsay Post says; Miss Edith Smith of Peterborough, was in town today, calling on friends.—Mr. W. P. McLear of Peterborough, was in town today a guest at the Benson House.

The Outing of the Season

The outing of the season will be given the citizens of Peterborough on Monday (Labor Day), when the excursion under auspices of Court Chemong, 530, I.O.F., will take place to Idyl Wyld, per steamer Otonabee. The scores of Peterborough citizens who annually look forward to being guests of the Foresters speak in raptures of the pleasant time given by the society on previous excursions. Monday's outing promises to be no exception to the rule. The committee have made arrangements for the Opera House orchestra to accompany the excursionists. A program of sports will also be run off. The boat leaves Wolfe street wharf at eight o'clock, and the street railway wharf at 8.30. Through the kindness of Captain White, the Otonabee will stop at Crawford's Grove, for a number of excursionists

$100 REWARD, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

FRANGE FINDING THAT THE WAR IS REAL

Situation in Morocco Grows Alarming and Franco Recognizes That She Has a Long and Bitter War on Her Hands

Rambouiet, Sept 1.—The cabinet ministers met at the Chateau here today and lengthily discussed the Moroccan situation with President Fallieres The desperate fighting between the French troops and the Moors near Casablanca Aug. 28, during which the Moorish fanatics demonstrated their cunning, tactical ability and bravery, is accepted as showing that the situation is distinctly more grave, practically to the extent of indicating that France has a real war on her hands. The probability of a long campaign in Morocco, it is also seen, means enormous expense.

The cabinet voted to bestow honors on many of the officers and men who have distinguished themselves during the fighting in Morocco.

Shoots Woman Dead, Then Ends His Own Life.

Chicago, Sept. 1.—Charles E. Andrews, formerly of Elkhart, Ind., shot and killed Inda Ethel Blaine, who had been living with him as his wife, in their room at the Saratoga Hotel yesterday afternoon. As employes of the hotel were hurrying to the room he shot himself, dying in an ambulance in which he was being conveyed to a hospital.

When the woman was killed she was writing a letter at Andrew's dictation to the son of her murderer. The two bullets which the man sent into her body brought the letter to an end in the middle of a sentence, and death came so quickly that the pen was poised in the gripless hand and the posture of the woman over the desk, as she wrote, almost was unchanged when the room was invaded by the police.

Until late last night the identity of the woman and the motive of Andrews were unrevealed. Then it became known that for her Andrews had deserted his wife and family five years ago in Elkhart, where he had conducted a prosperous restaurant, and she in turn had left the home of her parents in Logansport, Ind., to accompany him. As a motive the police conceived today remorse on his part and anger at the woman for whom he had deserted his family.

REGISTERS FROM SOUTH BEND.

The couple registered at the Saratoga last Saturday as Charles E. Andrews and wife, South Bend, Ind. They kept much to their room, being served with their meals there. They spent all of yesterday morning there. At 1 o'clock the first pistol shot was heard. In the adjoining room was Christopher Richards, a vaudeville actor. The report was heard by him and he rushed to the hall.

A second report came as he passed the opened door of the room occupied by Andrews and the woman. Andrews was facing the floor. The woman sat in a natural attitude in a chair at a desk near the window. Richards did not connect them with the shooting and after a hurried investigation started to return to his room.

As he again passed the door he man raised a revolver and shot himself under the heart. The shouts of Richards brought the employees to the rooms. The woman was dead. Andrews was unconscious. He was carried down stairs and placed in an ambulance, which started to St. Lukes' Hospital. He was dead when the hospital was reached. Both bodies were taken to Rolston undertaking rooms.

KILLED WITHOUT WARNING

The police believe that the man's victim had no warning of her fate. Their theory is that Andrews induced her to write the letter for him in order that he might kill her at his leisure. They base their theory on abrupt sentences in the letter, as if dictated by one under suppressed excitement, and the manner in which the pen trailed off as a sentence was cut short by the first revolver shot. The letter itself threw The first light on the tragedy. Addressed to Charles E. Andrews, Jr., Elkhart, Ind. It was as follows.

My Dear Son.—We have intended to write to you several times last week, but have been too busy. If you take a notion to visit Chicago you will see Ethel and myself. Let us know when you will come. We are feeling very bum, but you know the reason why last Sunday a week. However, I do not want it to prey on your mind. Now, be a good boy and mind your mother. She won't and can't put you wrong. You will not have to explain it to anyone, as you are under no obligation to do so.

Two trunks and a suit case found in the hotel room were taken by the police to the coroner's office. The suit case contained toilet necessaries and apparently belonged to Miss Blaine. A trunk which belonged to Andrews was searched, but the other, which was marked "Inda E. Blaine," was not opened because no key for it could be found.

PHOTOS REVEAL HER NAME.

Two photographs of the woman with the name "Ethel Blaine" written on them were found. On the back of one of the photographs was written, "When you know you're not forgotten by the girl you can't forget."

Among Andrew's effects was a short letter signed "Ethel" sent him last June from Flora, Ind., in which the writer made references to visits to Logan and to Indianapolis. She signed herself "Your Sweetheart," spoke of being lonely and said her parents, with whom she was living, were not permitting her much liberty.

A small amount of money was found in the clothing of each and the woman possessed several diamond rings and other jewelry. In Elkhart, Ind., Andrews was remembered by many, although he had not been seen in the city since 1900.

At that time he eloped with Miss Grace Bennet, deserting a wife and son. He had been a restaurant keeper and was known as a gambler. The eloping couple fled to California, and the women's present whereabouts is unknown.

Three months ago Andrews appeared in South Bend and entered into communication with his son. His efforts to appease the anger of the younger man apparently were futile, and he left the city O n Agu. 15 he returned with the woman whom he killed yesterday.

Although they registered as C. E. Andrews and wife, the man introduced her to several acquaintances as Miss Blaine. On Aug. 23 the couple left South Bend and came to Chicago.

Andrews told several persons that he had been interested in amusement park concessions in the West and had accumulated a small fortune. He also installed shooting galleries in summer resorts.

Name Traced in Blood

St Petersburg, Sept. 1.—The widow of General Akhverdoff has been shot at Novokhopersk, and is lying in a dangerous condition

She was attacked in her room by some men who were working on her estate, one of whom fired a rifle at her.

Believing the injury to be mortal, she raised herself from the floor and traced with her own blood on the wall the name of the man who fired the shot. All the men have escaped.

BUY GALBRAITH COAL

This mine is located at Lundbreck, Alta., on the main line of the Crow's Nest Railway which passes within two thousand feet of the mine portals. Thirty feet of clean domestic coal is opened up for a depth of over 300 feet and passes through the property for over three quarters of a mile. The only stock being sold is sufficient to install a tramway and mining machinery when the company expects to ship at least 200 tons per day. When this is accomplished all sales of treasury stock will cease. Considering the modest capitalization and immense coal reserves of this property, the stock is being offered at a very low price. The company issues no prospectus but gives a general invitation to the public to come and see for themselves.

Former Local Runner Is After Longboat

Mr. C. A. Welch, of New Westminster, who has been in town for some time completing arrangements with the Tecumseh Lacrosse Club for their trip to the coast, had an interview with Mr G. C. Flanagan, of the Irish-Canadians, this morning, and endeavored to make arrangements whereby Longboat could accompany the Tecumsehs. The Western people are very anxious to match the Indian against Burns, the coast distance champion.

Burns is an Ottawa runner, who used to spend much of his time running matched races around the Ottawa valley, and before leaving for the coast, spent a year in Peterborough, where he and "Dave" Beland pulled off several five mile events. While Burns is a good one, he is hardly in the Indian's class, and would be easy picking for Tom.—Toronto News.

BloodHound Squad for New York

New York, Sept. 1.—For the past few weeks Central Office detectives, under the supervision of Fourth Deputy Commissioner Arthur Woods, have been experimenting with bloodhounds, with the view of establishing a dog squad in the police department. It is likely that General Bingham, upon his return for his vacation, will buy about a hundred of these dogs, which are to be used in running down escaped criminals. They will be kept in precincts in the sparsely settled sections of the city.

A few weeks ago bloodhounds were tried out in an up-State town, and found to be of great value in tracking persons. Experiments also were made in this city with success. A few days ago a bloodhound was put on a trail four hours old, and after taking up the scent he traced his man through crowded streets and finally landed him hiding in a house.

Sultan Pretender Favorable to France

Paris, Aug. 31.—A despatch to the Matin from Casablanca, confirms the report that Mulai Hafig the newly-proclaimed Sultan of Morocco, had issued a proclamation at Mazagan, pointing out that the policy of the Sultan Abdul Aziz had been ruinous to Morocco, and stating that he proposed to satisfy the French demands and enter into good relations with France and all the other powers. The proclamation is regarded as being of the greatest importance, as it implies that Mulai Hafig has the support of all the principal tribes of the southern part of Morocco.

The Tangier correspondent of the Matin telegraphs that special couriers have arrived at Tangier from Fez, bearing orders from Sultan Abdul Aziz to the Moroccan War Minister, Cabbas, to immediately send two cadds, with troops, to join General El Merani, and go with them to Fez. If this order is carried out, the correspondent adds, Tangier will be depleted of troops and be at the mercy of Raisuli, who is described as being much encouraged by his victory over General El Merani.

A despatch from Morocco City, dated August 27, says Mulai Hafig made several changes in his ministry made several changes in his ministry before departing for the coast, and also liberated all the prisoners incarcerated at Morocco City during the reign of Abdul Aziz.

Preserve Old Indian Pictures

North Yakima, Wash., Sept. 1.—The celebrated "painted rocks," in the Na-Naches valley, have been restored to the original color and outline by L. V. McWhorter, a distinguished Indian ethnologist, who visited the valley for that purpose and who had the assistance of Mrs Lee C. Belle, a local photographer. Between forty and fifty "pictographs" as they are called, have been restored, and should last for another century Mr. McWhorter says the pictures are not of great antiquity, probably a little over a century old

The Indians have a tradition that that the spirits which haunt these cliffs come forth periodically and retouch the pictographs and those who have not seen the paleface at work lately are finding confirmation of the theory

Photographs of the retouched work are to be submitted to an expert on the art of picture story telling in the hope that the meaning of the pictographs may be found and further light thrown upon the history of the Yakima Indians. Some of Mrs. Belle's photos will be used among the illustrations for the history of the valley which is being prepared by A. J. Splawn

Mr McWhorter is anxious that a local historical society be formed with a view to the preservation of all interesting relics of Indian life. There are many provate collections of articles of Indian art and warfare and these he thinks, could be loaned to the public library and an interesting museum would result. Mr. McWhorter's scheme will probably be taken up by some of the residents and a society formed.

Police Court

Only one case was tried at Saturday's Police Court by his Worship Magistrate Dumble This case was, if substantiated, a serious one. The information was sworn out by Mr Chas. E Coleman of this city, and reads as follows. "That J R Dundas did unlawfully forge, knowing it to be false, a certain order for money, as follows. On August 6th, To Bank of Ottawa, Peterborough, pay to J R. Dundas or bearer, wages of Coleman's work, $15. Signed, W. J. Johnston. With intent to defraud and did thus commit forgery contrary to the provisions of the Criminal code." The case was enlarged until Monday.

Labor Day Services Held Yesterday

Rev. Canon Davis, rural dean, has returned from Buckhorn, where he went on deanery business. Labour Day was observed at St. John's yesterday. The evening service was in harmony with Labour Day. There were special hymns and prayers and the rector's address was on the subject "Reason, Religion and Righteousness in Connection with the World's Work." St. John's Sunday School sessions resumed at 3 o'clock yesterday.

Military Funeral Held Yesterday

Yesterday afternoon a military funeral, was held in the city, when the remains of the late Robert. Nicholls, a driver in the 24th Battery, were laid to rest in the Little Lake Cemetery. The officers, non-commissioned officers and men of the battery paraded at the East City drill hall for the purpose of attending the funeral. The hall was open Saturday afternoon and evening to allow those who wish to make arrangements for their uniforms.

Lt.-Col. Miller specially requested the officers, non-commissioned officers and men of the 57th to attend the funeral, and they met in good force at the MurRay street Armouries at 2 o'clock. In the absence of the 57th Band, the Salvation Army Band officiated at the funeral. The funeral was, of course, augmented by friends in plain clothes, of the deceased.

Street Car Tracks Torn Up Tuesday

Work on the Charlotte street concrete and iron bridge has progressed to that stage that the Street Railway tracks, already elevated above their usual level to the height of some three feet to allow the iron girders across the creek to be laid, will have on Tuesday to be removed altogether from the short stretch across the creek, whilst the concrete driveway is laid between the permanent level of the rails This will interrupt the through traffic across this bridge for days, but Manager Learmouth will arrange to have cars waiting at each side of the bridge so that traffic to the Electric Works and Jackson Park will not be seriously interrupted If will simply be a matter of alighting for a car, with a transfer ticket and walking a few feet to catch a car on the other side.

The Police Make Raid in Regina

Regina, Sask., Aug. 30.—When the mounted and city police raided the Chinese resorts in Regina on Friday evening, and took into custody some 65 members of the colony, they raised a question of international privilege and serious developments are likely to follow. Summonses were issued before Magistrate McCausland yesterday, requiring the presence in court of the city police, while civil proceedings were started in another direction. The Chinamen, who have not taken the oath of allegiance, claim residence rights, and are seeking the protection of the consulate. An appeal is to be made to the Pekin government and an international question raised.

The Chinese should not have been disturbed without a search warrant. There are fourteen of the Chinamen who are proprietors of businesses in this city. Civil action is to be taken against Mayor Smith. Similar suit will be entered against Frank Ford, deputy attorney-general, claiming damages for their alleged action in authorizing the arrest and detention of Chinamen. The whole of the 65 Chinamen will bring action for the recovery of $2,000 each. Total claims for damages amount to $130,000.

A WARNING TELEGRAM DELIVERY DELAYED

Quebec, Sept. 1.—Can the terrible loss of life in the bridge accident have been directly due to the telegraphers' strike?

This is the startling theory which is propounded since the publication in New York of a remarkable story. Theoddre Cooper, the consulting engineer in charge of the work, is quoted as saying that "on Thursday afternoon, his inspector had come to see him and told him that things did not look well for the bridge, he had sent a telegram to the man in charge of the work to get off the bridge and stay off it until it could be examined.

It is supposed the telegram was never delivered through some fateful delay in transmission, due to the disorganized conditions under which the telegraph companies are now operating.

The second day following the bridge calamity is anything but fruitful in the recovery of the bodies of the dead. Only four bodies were secured yesterday, and none so far today.

Presented Cottage to the Sanitarium

In connection with the opening of the King Edward Sanitarium for Consumptives, Peterborough citizens will be pleased to learn that a former local man, Mr. Mulholland, presented gratis a cottage bearing his own name. The Toronto Star in reporting the opening ceremonies in connection with the new buildings, published the address of the president of the association, Mr. W. J Gage, in full, and also referred to the remarks of the places for enjoying the day are trips to Stony Lake and the great I.O.F. excursion via steamer Otonabee to Idyl Wyld On this latter trip the boat will leave Wolfe street wharf at 8 o'clock and return in good time. Doubtless there will be a large street car traffic to Jackson Park, where those of a certain train of thought may enjoy themselves better than by leaving town In any case our citizens seem to have the happy faculty of enjoying themselves under all circumstances on any old day.

What to do With Yourself Today

This is Labor Day, which has now become a national holiday; and rightly. This is the one day that the dignity and empire-building strength of man's labor is publicly announced. The day in Peterborough will be quietly celebrated, as a large number of pleasure seekers will probably take advantage of the cheap trips to Toronto and visit the Exposition in that city. Among the out of town of Chinamen. The whole of the 65 Chinamen will bring action for the recovery of $2,000 each. Total claims for damages amount to $130,000.

September Canadian Magazine

The September number of the Canadian Magazine contains an article by Mr J S Willison, editor of the Toronto News, on a subject that possesses national significance—"The Genius of the Canadian Club." Mr. Willison traces the origin of the movement, and comments on its scope and influence. In other respects, as well the September number is unusually interesting. In other respects, as well, the September number is unusually interesting Among the features are the following; "The Queen of the Netherlands," with portrait, by Mary Spencer Warren; "The Outlook for Church Union," with portraits of eight ministers who have taken a prominent part in the negotiations, by Francis A Carman; "British Columbia; An Eldorado," by A E. Greenwood. "Civil Service as it Was," by J. E. B. McCready; "Fruit Growing in Nova Scotia," illustrated, by F. C. Sturgeon Point Policeman Married

Mr Robert Graham, for years constable and general factotum at Sturgeon Point was, at that summer resort, on Wednesday gathered into the great fraternity of Benedicts. His bride was Miss McQuade, from the North of Ireland and a noted cook The ceremony was performed by the Baptist minister from Fenelon Falls, at Mr Graham's cottage in the presence of about 30 invited guests, including favored Point residents and relatives and friends of the groom from the country roundabout. Afterwards a dainty luncheon was served, when many kind wishes for the happiness of the bride and groom were extended The presents were numerous

Contractors Must Display Their Wage Schedule

Ottawa, Sept. 1.—At the last session of parliament a resolution was passed to the effect that all government contracts should contain such conditions as would prevent abuses which might arise from the subletting of contracts and that every effort should be made to secure payment of current wages in the districts where the work is carried out.

Today an order-in-council was issued that contractors shall post in a conspicuous place the schedule [illegible] inserted in their contracts for the protection of the workmen employed and contractors shall keep a record of payments to workmen in their employ.

The books or documents containing such record shall be open for inspection by the fair wages officers of the government.

Another Charge Against Mr. Darcy

Alleged That Other Indians Have Procured Liquor at Burleigh

Toronto Globe says; The License Department has laid another information against W. H. Darcy, an hotelkeeper of Burleigh Falls, Peterborough County, in connection with charges of contravening the law by supplying liquor to Indians. He was recently convicted on one such charge although the liquor was actually sold to the red men by his bartender, and was fined $50 and costs. Some of the Indians so supplied were responsible for an exciting scene on a Stony Lake excursion steamer, and were only subdued after terrorizing a number of women and children, by the physical prowess of some of the crew and the white passengers, including a clergyman. There have recently been a number of complaints as to Indians in the district being supplied with liquor at the hotels, and the Department is taking energetic action in the matter.

Bicycle and Jag Badly Mixed

Local Citizens Offer $10 Reward for Property Not Lost

Yesterday a Times man was stopped on George street by a local citizen who displayed excellent symptoms of recent dallying with spirits frumenti. The user of alcohol remarked; "Say Mr.——you're on The Times, aint you?" Our representative admitted the charge "Well," continued he of the jag, "I lost a bicycle on Thursday afternoon, and I want you to put in an advertisement offering a reward for its return. Our representative explained that to make an intelligible and efficacious advertisement it would be necessary to say who lost the wheel, what kind of wheel it was, its number and whence it was stolen, and also to whom to return it.

The citizen said; "Well, I'll tell you the truth. I had a skate on yesterday. The wheel was a ——make that I bought only about three weeks ago and I left it in front of the —— Hotel, whilst I went in to have a smile. I didn't want my name mentioned, but just say that a suitable reward will be paid on its return to The Times office. I said $75 for the bicycle and will give a good reward for its return."

Shortly afterwards the Times man whilst on his usual quest for news, met an acquaintance. He noted to the acquaintance that a local man had had a wheel stolen on Thursday. "What kind of wheel was it?" asked the acquaintance "Why it was a new ——bicycle" our reporter responded. "Why," remarked the acquaintance, "I know all about that. On Thursday afternoon I met the owner in the ——Hotel and seeing his condition, offered to take care of his bike. I left it at such and such an address." The Times man happened to again meet the owner of the wheel and asked, "Mr. ——What reward do you offer for that bicycle I think I know where it may be found." The bicyclist said, "I will willingly put up $10 to the man who finds it." He was within a very few minutes placed in possession of his property and no $10 demanded

Record Number of Stowaways

Largest Consignment Ever Found on One Vessel Brought Over in Russian Ship

Brooklyn, N.Y., Sept. 1.—Twenty-two stowaways, the largest number within the memory of the immigration officials, were discovered aboard the Russian steamship Arconia of the East India line, which arrived at its Brooklyn dock from Libau, Russia. Unusual interest attaches to the discovery of this large number of clandestine passengers upon the ship for the reason that the charge was recently made before the federal authorities here that a conspiracy existed at Libau whereby immigrants were placed aboard vessels for this country who were incapable of passing the strict physical examination which the authorities demand and that in this manner many undesirable residents secure entrance to the United States.

In the present case the Arconia, which left Libau and which touched at Rotterdam, was three separate times thoroughly inspected by the ship's officers for the purpose of discovering any passengers not down upon the sailing list, the company having had previous knowledge of the reported conspiracy and having taken especial measures to thwart its purpose. These inspections, which Capt. Bolter states were rigorous in the extreme, were made at times when the last that they were to be undertaken was unknown to any of the passengers, and that the stowaways managed to hide their presence undoubtedly shows the cleverness with which the scheme to bring them here was planned and executed.

The Arconia arrived in port, but in order that no one should leave the ship without the knowledge of the officers it anchored off Staten Island to await daylight When the vessel arrived at its dock Capt Bolter was both amazed and dismayed to witness twenty-two passengers not upon its list calmly walk down the gangway. The stowaways, all of whom were men, were immediately placed back aboard the vessel and are under surveillance, lest a fresh opportunity be given them to disembark. These precautions are exceedingly elaborate, and even so far as to have a boat, with a company of seamen, constantly patrolling the ship upon all sides.

The immigration officials intend to make a rigorous investigation of the case. That the men were successful in concealing themselves for several weeks is certainly amazing; and establishes the credibility of the story told Assistant United States District Attorney Bick to the effect that there is an extensive conspiracy at Libau whereby immigrants are fraudulently placed on board vessels for the United States.

Leave for the West

On Saturday morning Hon. Senator Cox, accompanied by Ald W. G Morrow, left on an extended trip to the Pacific coast While the trip is partially one for pleasure, it is probable that it will not be without its business significance. While they are away Mr Cox and Ald Morrow will pay a visit to Prince Rupert, the terminus of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, with which Senator Cox is closely associated. Their visit to this town will doubtless not be without its significance, and it will possibly mean that Mr Cox will interest himself materially in the new city on the Pacific slope.

A Suggestion

You may have found out that coffee has been the cause of your aches and ails and have decided to stop it But you feel the need of a hot beverage with your breakfast, especially.

HAVE YOU EVER TRIED

POSTUM FOOD COFFEE

"Oh, yes," you say, "it was pale and insipid"

You have been the victim of a careless cook

Try again Use four or five heaping teaspoonfuls to each pint of water, let it come to a boil, then boil it fully 15 minutes longer, then try your Postum with cream and see what a difference there is in the making

Then after a few days use, if you observe the aches and ails have begun to back off you'll know why.

Proper Medicine For The Blood

Drives Away That Tired Feeling; Makes You Feel Brisk.

To every one is sure to come that tired, exhausted feeling.

When the blood is weak, thin and debilitated, circulation is slow, and in consequence the system is congested with poisons and wastes that should be driven off.

No medicine can be more certain to quickly cure. Convenient to take, just one pill at bedtime; safe, because entirely vegetable; unfailing, because proved by thousands that Dr. Hamilton's Pills set you up in a few days.

From Obelisque Pt., N. S., comes the following from Mrs. W. A. Reynolds; "A year ago my health began to fail, I lost appetite, became nervous and sleepless. My weight ran down, I became thin, hollow-cheeked, and had black rings under my eyes. I really felt as if the charm of life had left me and when springtime arrived I was in the "Blues." I read of Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and got five boxes at once.

"Within a month my appetite and color were good. I gained strength and felt like a new woman. New life and vigor returned, and my friends scarcely knew me. A medicine that will do this should be in every home."

Good health means much to you. Success and happiness depend upon it. The maintenance and source of health is found in Dr. Hamilton's Pills. 25c. per box, or five boxes for $1.00, at all dealers, or by mail from N. C. Polson and Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

THE GREAT CURE

Work as a cure for crime—that's the idea that is impressing itself upon the men of America who are giving a thought to criminology. Some of the leading experts have come to that conclusion and it is the experiment that will be tried to a greater extent than has prevailed in the past if many more legislators are won over to the theory.

The conclusion is reached not only from the "hard labor" system at present in vogue but rather from the parole system, which is receiving such great attention from the authorities of this and other countries.

Canada's system of parole has been a success. True, there have been cases where it has not worked to advantage, but, taken on the whole, good results have been attained. It has been proven over and over again that it makes men of criminals and the natural deduction is that, if the release of prisoners to work for themselves under governmental supervision can make men of them, it is more likely that a system whereby criminals would be set at work from the very first and yet get all the advantages that the parole man gets within a certain area, would hasten the work of making men of the offenders against the law.

Just what kind of segregation there should be or what sort of work should be given to prisoners and what per centage of profit should be allowed to them, has not been suggested. However, out of the discussion and the careful consideration that is being given to the matter at present, some definite plan will doubtless evolve itself and work for the bettering of conditions and the gradual raising of the standards of civilization.

INSPECTION OF CANNED GOODS

It was only natural that the trade in canned foods should have grown wonderfully from the first. When properly carried out this process of preserving foods is practically perfect, it is not expensive, the product is easily handled, and it can be sold in such small quantities as to bring it within the range of the purchasing power of almost any household. An immense demand both at home and abroad, sprang up for canned foods, especially for meats and large amounts of capital became invested in the business.

But it is a trade that in order to enjoy permanent prosperity must be conducted in a manner above suspicion, for it undertakes to be butcher, cook and kitchen maid for the nation. So far as the American trade was concerned, the gravest, and, in too many cases, well-grounded suspicions were aroused by the enquiries of a few years ago, and as a consequence the entire business suffered, the innocent with the guilty, and the effect is still felt, especially in the Old Country.

Last session our parliament took up the matter and decided to throw around the Canadian export trade the protection of government inspection, which would give an official guarantee of purity and cleanliness to Canadian canned goods intended for export or sale outside the province in which produced. This inspection act comes into operation on the third of next month, and if carried out in the spirit in which parliament passed it, the result should be beneficial to the trade in Great Britain in Canadian canned foods.

IN Ward Seven.

By TEMPLE BAILEY.

Copyrighted, 1907, by P. C. Eastman.

"Nurse," piped the small boy in cot 8, "the doctor's dead stuck on you."

"Hush," said the nurse and bent over him and tucked him up.

Her cheeks were very red as she went out of the ward, and when she was alone in the diet kitchen she said under her breath, "The idea!"

That afternoon she carried a wee bunch of violets to the small boy and pinned them on his little white nightshirt. "I picked them in the yard," she told him. "Spring is coming, and I saw a robin on the lawn."

The small boy eyed her adoringly, and when the doctor came he whispered, "The nurse gave 'em to me—the pretty one with the blue eyes."

"Nurse Isabelle?" asked the big, fair haired doctor.

"Yep," said the small boy, "the one you're stuck on."

The doctor stared at him through his thick eyeglasses. "The idea!" he said, then with the red coming into his face, "Don't talk, Jimmie; it's bad for you."

But when he had tended the poor little throat and the boy lay weak and pale on his pillow the doctor whispered, "May I have a violet, Jimmie?" and the small boy nodded, and the doctor laid the little blue flower carefully in his pocketbook between the prescriptions and the unpaid bills.

Unpaid bills were the reason that, in spite of his thirty-five years, the doctor had not indulged in romance. Notwithstanding his success in his profession, the expenses of city living and a mortgage on his mother's farm kept him in a state of chronic insolvency, with a consequent constant crabbedness.

At the door Nurse Isabelle helped him on with his rusty overcoat.

"There's a button off," she told him. "I'll sew it on if you will wait."

And as she took deft stitches the doctor looked down at her white capped head. From beneath the cap little blond locks curled against her round throat.

"That's right," he said aloud, and when Nurse Isabelle said "What?" in a startled way he stammered: "Oh, nothing. Let me know how the boy is," and went away.

That night he took an account of ways and means and found that it wouldn't do. There was a big balance yet to be paid on the mortgage, and he must still travel the path of loneliness.

"Oh, I say," Jimmie informed him a week later, "you ain't doin' it right."

"Why not?" the doctor asked.

"Aw, you ought to bring her a rose or some violets," Jimmie told him. "She likes 'em."

"I haven't time for frivolousness," the doctor stated briefly, and Nurse Isabelle, coming up, heard him.

With her head held high she helped him examine Jimmie, and after the doctor had gone the small boy said shyly:

"Well, anyhow, I'm dead stuck on you, nurse, dear." She kissed him with her cheeks blazing.

That night she telephoned to the doctor. "Jimmie is worse."

When he came, the small boy was fighting for breath. "Tell—me about—the robin," he begged feebly, and Nurse Isabelle bent over him and sang softly,

"The robin is dressed in his feathers and down,
With warm, red breast and his wings of brown," and then she stood back that the doctor might see him.

She knew that things were very wrong. The doctor gave orders quickly, and she followed them, and for hours they fought with death.

At midnight they thought that the end had come. Jimmie lay very still with his little face gray in the shaded light.

Isabelle, bending over him, began to cry, silently at first, then hysterically. "Oh, why can't you save him?" she gasped. "Why can't you save him?"

"Hush!" the doctor warned. "Hush!"

But she was worn out, and the sobs came faster and faster as with shaking hands she tried to hold Jimmie up.

The doctor took the boy from her. "Go and get me hot water," he ordered. "Plenty of it. I'm ashamed of you."

When she came back, he had his coat off and his sleeves were rolled up. "It's the last chance," he said, and she helped him lift Jimmie into the bath.

The tears ran down her cheeks and dripped into the tub. Once she looked at the doctor. "I am so ashamed of myself," she whispered. "But—I have not many people to love me." And she sobbed under her breath.

The doctor's hair was wet, his face was red, and his shirt was open at the neck, showing the cords of his strong neck. He lifted the little steaming body in his arms and held the boy while Nurse Isabelle enveloped him in a heated blanket.

Jimmie opened his eyes as they laid him on his little cot. "Tell me about the robin," he murmured dreamily and went to sleep, holding tight to Nurse Isabelle's finger.

The doctor, warm and rumpled, looked at the two.

"You haven't any business nursing," he said to Isabelle.

Her startled eyes met his. "I was afraid you would say that," she quavered. "I was such a—fool."

"You are not a fool," the doctor blazed, "but some women aren't any more fitted to be nurses than I am to be the angel Gabriel."

Nurse Isabelle was not so sure of his unfitness for the sacred office as he stood there in his strength and dignity, with his halo of fair hair.

"If I had anything to offer you," he remarked abruptly, "I'd marry you."

"Oh!" Nurse Isabelle tried to rise, but Jimmie's thin fingers held her. "Please, don't," she begged.

"Don't disturb my patient," was the doctor's peremptory command. He ran his fingers through his hair. "If I wasn't so dead poor," he ruminated.

"A woman who breaks down at such an important moment isn't fit to be in a hospital," he continued. "She ought to be in a home where the tenderness would not be wasted."

He came around to Nurse Isabelle's side. It was very still in the big room. The screen around Jimmie's bed hid them from such wakeful patients as might be in ward 7.

"In my home it would not be wasted," he said softly.

Jimmie stirred slightly. Nurse Isabelle rose and bent over him. When she straightened up she was within the circle of the doctor's arm.

"Oh!" she gasped, all pink and white and beautiful.

"You're such a little thing to take care of yourself," the doctor whispered. "And I'll make ends meet."

As she raised a radiant face Jimmie opened his eyes and took in the satisfying situation.

"I told you he was dead stuck on you," he chuckled weakly.

TENDERS FOR DREDGING

Tenders addressed to the undersigned and endorsed "Tender for Dredging at Port Hope," will be received up to and including Saturday, August 31st, 1907, for dredging required at Port Hope, Durham County, Ont.

Combined specification and form of tender can be obtained at the Department of Public Works, Ottawa. Tenders must include the towing of the plant to and from the works. Only dredges can be employed which are registered in Canada at the time of the filing of tenders. Contractors must be ready to begin work within thirty days after the date they have been notified of the acceptance of their tender.

Tenders will not be considered unless made on the printed form supplied, and signed with the actual signatures of tenderers.

An accepted cheque on a chartered bank, payable to the order of the Honorable the Minister of Public Works, for one thousand dollars ($1,000) must accompany each tender as security deposit in connection with the dredging to be performed. The cheque will be returned in case of non-acceptance of tender.

The Department does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

Something New in Copper

PITTSBURG - IDAHO
Mining and Milling Company

The mine is located 58 miles above Lewiston, Idaho, on the Clearwater river, and consists of 19 full claims, or 380 acres. It is developed by tunnels, shafts and open cuts for more than 200 feet, disclosing thousands of tons of copper, gold and silver ores of both high grade and low grade. There are between 1000 and 2000 tons of ore ready for shipment. The entrance to the working tunnel is only 2000 feet from the track of the Northern Pacific railroad, to be reached by gravity tramway. There are seven parallel veins running lengthwise of the claims, one cropping out on the surface for 2500 feet and another for 3000 feet, while two veins cross these ranging into the mountain. These veins are from 30 to 200 feet wide. One ore chute has been crosscut 50 feet and is solid ore from wall to wall.

We are not asking you to buy in a prospect. That risk was taken by the promoters. We are asking you to buy in a developed, proven mine. Seven years of continuous work and the expenditure of thousands of dollars has proven up one of the greatest mines in Idaho. That mine is now ready to pour out its red and yellow wealth to the world with the installing of an up to date production plant. It is for that purpose that a block of its treasury stock, full paid and non-assessable, is offered for sale. We believe that within six months from the completion of a 100 ton plant the mine can be put on a dividend paying basis, and that those dividends will be substantial and permanent. There is no better investment proposition before the people at this time.

CAPITALIZATION $1,000,000. - PAR VALUE $1.

All promotion stock pooled during the sale of this treasury stock.

Messrs. Thos. Patterson & Co., Peterborough, Ont., are authorized to receive subscriptions for this stock, to whom all applications should be made.

SIREN WAFERS DEVELOP THE BUST

SHE'S A QUEEN! SHE'S A SIREN!

Is an expression that is always heard at sight of a well developed woman. If you are flat chested, with BUST undeveloped, a scrawney neck, thin lean arms – the above remark will never be applied to you. "SIREN" wafers will make you beautiful, bewitching. They DEVELOP the BUST in a few weeks from 3 to 6 inches and produce a fine firm, voluptuous bosom. They fill out the hollow places. Make the cheeks plump and rosy, and arms handsome and well molded and the neck and shoulders shapely and of perfect contour.

Send for a bottle today and you'll be pleased and grateful. "SIREN" wafers are absolutely harmless, pleasant to take and convenient to carry around. They are sold under guarantee to do all we claim or MONEY back.

Price $1.00 per bottle. Inquire at good drug stores or send DIRECT to us.

FREE!

During the next 30 days only—we will send you a sample bottle of these beautifying wafers on receipt of 10 cents to pay cost of packing and postage if you will mention that you saw the Advertisement in this paper. The sample alone may be sufficient if defects are trivial.

Good Local Agent Wanted

I OFFER YOU A 10c STOCK FOR 5c

In the month of September the price of GUGGENHEIM-GREENWATER COPPER STOCK goes to 10 cents. All who buy shares from the Company will pay that for them.

I secured an option on a block of stock to sell at 5 cents. Until this block is exhausted I can fill orders at 5 cents. I can give those who buy of me for 5 cts., what others will be paying 10 cts. for.

Everyone who sees this advertisement surely has read of Greenwater and Ely, the wonderful new copper districts. The Guggenheim-Greenwater Copper Company owns groups of claims in both places. Work is in progress, and the indications are the best.

Here is a chance for little money to make a fortune. Other mines in the same district have made fortunes, and they have been less promising before development than the Guggenheim-Greenwater Company's property.

See me at once about this. One hundred shares will cost you only $5; one thousand shares, $50. The block of stock which I have will not last long. Get for 5 what others are glad to pay 10 for.

THE CONQUEST of CANAAN

By BOOTH TARKINGTON,
Author of "Cherry," "Monsieur Beaucaire," Etc.

COPYRIGHT, 1905, BY HARPER & BROTHERS

went by, and, inspired to great deeds in behalf of justice and his native city, he rushed to the door, lavishly seized this time a perfectly good potato and hurled it with a result which ecstasized him, for it took the mongrel fairly aside the head, which it matched in size.

The luckless Respectability's purpose to reach Joe's stairway had been entirely definite, but upon this violence he forgot it momentarily. It is not easy to keep things in mind when one is violently smitten on mouth, nose, cheek, eye and ear by a missile large enough to strike them simultaneously. Yelping and half blinded, he deflected to cross Main street. Judge Pike had elected to cross in the opposite direction, and the two met in the middle of the street.

The encounter was miraculously fitted to the judge's need. Here was no butterfly, but a solid body, light withal, a wet, muddy and dusty yellow dog eminently kickable. The man was heavily built about the legs, and the vigor of what he did may have been additionally inspired by his recognition of the mongrel as Joe Louden's. The impact of his toe upon the little runner's side was momentous, and the latter rose into the air. The judge hopped, as one hops who, unshod in the night, discovers an unexpected chair. Let us be reconciled to his pain and not reproach the gods with it, for two of his unintending adversary's ribs were cracked.

The dog, thus again deflected, retraced his tracks, shrieking distractedly and, by one of those ironical twists which Karma reserves for the tails of the fated, dived for blind safety into the store commanded by the ecstatic and inimical clerk. There were shouts; the sleepy square beginning to wake up; the bench loafers strolled to the street; the aged men stirred and rose from their chairs; faces appeared in the open windows of offices; sales ladies and gentlemen came to the doorways of the trading places, so that when Respectability emerged from the grocery he had a notable audience for the scene he enacted with a brass dinner bell tied to his tail.

Another potato, flung by the pimpled, uproarious, prodigal clerk, added to the impetus of his flight. A shower of pebbles from the hands of exhilarated boys dented the soft asphalt about him. The hideous clamor of the pursuing bell increased as he turned the next corner, running distractedly. The dead town had come to life, and its inhabitants gladly risked the dangerous heat in the interest of sport, whereby it was a merry chase the little dog led around the block. For thus some destructive instinct drove him. He could not stop with the unappeasable terror clanging at his heels and the increasing crowd yelling in pursuit, but he turned to the left at each corner and thus came back to pass Joe's stairway again, unable to pause there or anywhere, unable to do anything except to continue his hapless flight, poor meteor.

Round the block he went once more, and still no chance at that empty stairway, where perhaps, he thought, there might be succor and safety. Blood was upon his side where Martin Pike's boot had crashed, foam and blood hung upon his jaws and lolling tongue. He ran desperately, keeping to the middle of the street, and, not howling, set himself despairingly to outstrip the terror. The mob, disdaining the sun superbly, pursued as closely as it could, throwing bricks and rocks at him, striking at him with clubs and sticks. Happy Fear, playing "tic-tac-toe," right hand against left, in his cell, heard the uproar, made out something of what was happening and, though unaware that it was a friend whose life was sought, discovered a similarity to his own case and prayed to his dim gods that the quarry might get away.

"Mad dog!" they yelled. "Mad dog!" And there were some who cried, "Joe Louden's dog!" that being equally as exciting and explanatory.

Three times round, and still the little fugitive maintained a lead. A gray helmeted policeman, a big fellow, had joined the pursuit. He had children at home who might be playing in the street, and the thought of what might happen to them if the mad dog should head that way resolved him to be cool and steady. He was falling behind, so he stopped on the corner, trusting that Respectability would come round again. He was right, and the flying brownish thing streaked along Main street, passing the beloved stairway for the fourth time. The policeman lifted his revolver, fired twice, missed once, but caught him with a second shot in a forepaw, clipping off a fifth toe, one of the small claws that grow above the foot and are always in trouble. This did not stop him, but the policeman, afraid to risk another shot because of the crowd, waited for him to come again, and many others, seeing the hopeless circuit the mongrel followed, did likewise, armed with bricks and clubs. Among them was the pimply clerk, who had been inspired to commandeer a pitchfork from a hardware store.

When the fifth round came Respectability's race was run. He turned into Main street at a broken speed, limping, parched, voiceless, flecked with blood and foam, snapping feebly at the showering rocks, but still indomitably a little ahead of the hunt. There was no yelp left in him—he was too thoroughly winded for that—but in his brilliant and despairing eyes shone the agony of a cry louder than the tongue of a dog could utter—"O master, O all the god I know, where are you in my mortal need?"

Now indeed he had a gantlet to run, for the street was lined with those who awaited him, while the pursuit grew closer behind. A number of the hardiest stood squarely in his path, and he hesitated for a second, which gave the opportunity for a surer aim, and many missiles struck him. "Let him have it now, officer," said Eugene Bantry, standing with Judge Pike at the policeman's elbow. "There's your chance."

But before the revolver could be discharged Respectability had begun to run again, hobbling on three legs and dodging feebly. A heavy stone struck him on the shoulder, and he turned across the street, making for the National House corner, where the joyful clerk brandished his pitchfork. Going slowly, he almost touched the pimply one as he passed, and the clerk, already rehearsing in his mind the honors which should follow the brave stroke, raised the tines above the little dog's head for the coup de grace. They did not descend, and the daring youth failed of fame as the laurel almost embraced his brows. A hickory walking-stick was thrust between his legs, and he, expecting to strike, received a blow upon the temple sufficient for his present undoing and bedazzlement. He went over backward, and the pitchfork (not the thing to hold poised on high when one is knocked down) fell with the force he had intended for Respectability upon his own shin.

A train had pulled into the station, and a tired, travel worn young man, descending from a sleeper, walked rapidly up the street to learn the occasion of what appeared to be a riot. When he was close enough to understand its nature he dropped his bag and came on at top speed, shouting loudly to the battered mongrel, who tried with his remaining strength to leap toward him through a cordon of kicking legs, while Eugene Bantry again called to the policeman to fire.

"If he does, d—n you, I'll kill him!" Joe saw the revolver raised, and then,

Troubles of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—mean Stomach weakness, always. And the Heart, and Kidneys as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerves." Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion, use Dr. Shoop's Restorative. This Company was formed for the purpose of manufacturing all kinds of Iron, Steel, Metal and Wooden Goods, Agricultural Implements, etc., and to carry on the business of a foundry.

They are now turning out specialties in Ornamental Iron Work, Fences, Crestings, etc., for which there is a great demand far in excess of the present facilities of the Company.

Winnipeg and the West offers an unlimited market for the products, guaranteeing a paying investment from the start.

There is a limited amount of stock for sale, and this opportunity to purchase will not return.

The encouragement, coupled with the unexcelled opportunities open to such an enterprise, are in themselves sufficient guarantee of absolute safety and large profits.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry must be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made on certain conditions, by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of the homesteader resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Six months' notice in writing should be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of intention to apply for patent.

As today is Labor Day and a public holiday, and as printers want a rest from galley, type, copy and the machines and presses as well as other hard-working men, the printers will take a vacation today like others. Consequently The Times readers will have to do without their usual morning breakfast news.

A Fine 'Lunge Caught Saturday

Mr. M. C. Tooley, who has been spending some days with P. C. Adams at their summer lodge at Campberton, returned to the city on Saturday morning with his little boy. They brought with them a splendid 15 1-2 pound lunge and a fine eel. The lunge was caught early Saturday morning. Mr. Tooley reports having had a most enjoyable time. He and the boy came up on the Monarch. P. C. Adams will spend another week down the river.

Marksmen Return from Ottawa

Some of the local marksmen who have been taking part in the Dominion Rifle Association's matches at Rockcliffe ranges, Ottawa, were seen in the city on Saturday and others returned during the day. They report a most successful and enjoyable meeting, with some of the best shooting ever seen in Canada. They speak favorably of the work of the Australian and British teams. Among the local contingent were Col.-Sergt. W. H. Moore, Staff Sergt. Bartlett, Corp. J. Gibson, Pte. Geo. Fitzgerald and H. Watson.

Obituary

City Topics

IN SHORT FORM FOR BUSY READERS

—The Times will not be issued tomorrow.

—Today and while they last, souvenir cards, comics and foreign views only 10 cents per dozen.

—The grand stand at Riverside Park was consumed by fire on Saturday, about one hour after the ball game.

—Visitors in the city for the holidays will find a large and varied assortment of souvenirs at reasonable prices at Times Bookstore.

—A special meeting of the Trades and Labour Council will be held tomorrow evening for the purpose of selecting a delegate to attend the session of the Dominion Trade and Labour Congress in Winnipeg during September. This promises to be the most important labour gathering in the history of the Dominion.

—Don't forget that the Water Lily leaves Monday (Labor Day) at 9 o'clock from the Wolfe street wharf, calling at all points on the river and lake, both going and returning. This is an ideal trip for people who prefer to avoid the crowd on the excursion steamers. Return tickets only 50 cents. Dinner at Idyl Wyld 25 cents.

Mr. Kennedy's Goods on View

Among the many thousands of articles on exhibition at the great Toronto Show are the diamond calk horse shoes, of which Mr. H. P. Kennedy of this city, is patentee, and who is also managing director of the company making the goods. The new diamond calk horse shoe has too many points of excellence to give them all in detail; suffice to say that this new horse shoe will probably receive the most serious consideration and purchased by those in Canada wanting the best in horse shoes. By this new device the three sided or triangular calks, when become worn by use, may by a simple mechanical device be turned so as to present a sharp surface to the road. Mr. Kennedy seems to have a good thing in these shoes.

SPECIAL LABOR DAY TRIP

The steamer Water Lily will leave Wolfe Street Wharf at 9 a.m. Monday, and will call at all river and lake points, remaining at Idyl Wyld for dinner. Home at 9 o'clock. Return tickets 50 cents.

Port Hope Trimmed Peterboro Saturday

The Port Hope nine annexed the first of the three games for the Midland League pennant from Peterborough on Saturday by the score of 9 to 4.

Peterborough practically lost the game in the initial innings when the visitors got over the plate for six runs. The locals played very loose, and seemed to awake to the fact that they were on the diamond and handed out rotten support to Burns, who was on the firing line. After the first innings Peterborough had it on Port Hope, and the locals got over for four. Quinlan was put in the box after the first innings, but did not pitch his usual game. Capt. Burrige did the receiving. O'Neil and Surplus were the battery for the visitors.

Chatham again distinguished himself at short, while Corney Burns featured with the willow.

OTHER SPORTS.

Mrs. J. J. Turner Sr. Has Passed Away

Charitable Local Lady Has Gone to Her Final Reward

Saturday morning a lady well known here and in Port Hope passed away in the person of Mrs. J. J. Turner, Sr., who passed away very suddenly. Mrs. Turner got up Saturday morning, seemingly in good health, her husband leaving for his office at the usual early hour.

The first intimation of the death of this lady was when, at 9.30 a young woman who goes daily to the Turner household to do domestic work found Mrs. Turner lying unconscious on the floor. Mr. Turner was at once summoned by telephone and a telephone message was immediately sent to Dr. Halliday. This physician could not be secured, so Dr. Marshall was called in. On his arrival Mrs Turner was still alive, but she passed away at 10.30, without regaining consciousness, death being due to heart failure.

The deceased lady, whose maiden name was Jennie Thomlinson, was born in Plymouth, Eng., and was a daughter of the late Richard Thomlinson, Esq., and was 51 years of age. She came to Canada 37 years ago as Mr. Turner's bride.

Eight children were born to the marriage, but four of these have predeceased Mrs. Turner, their names being Henrietta, Jennie, Emma, Alice, Maude, and Sydney Weaver. The four members living are John, Reginald, Achiles and Webber.

The funeral will be private, and arrangements have not yet been made on account of the absence from the city of two sons, John and Reginald. She will be buried, however, in Port Hope at the family plot.

The late Mrs. Turner's death will be regretted sincerely by a great many poor persons in the city especially by those to whom she proved herself a good friend. She was a member of St. Luke's church. The rector of the church, Rev. Dr. Langfeldt, will conduct the funeral services.

Two Schools That Will Not open Tomorrow

School Inspector Walker Issues Circular of Local Interest

Mr. D. Walker, Public School Inspector for the city, has issued the following statement in connection with the opening of the city's schools:

On Tuesday the North Ward School will not be ready for occupation, owing to the changes which are being made in the heating arrangements of the old portion of the building.

The King Edward School also cannot be opened, owing to the fact that the seats have just arrived, but are not yet set up.

The opening of both these buildings will take place about the end of this week—the date will be announced later.

All the other schools, as well as the Collegiate Institute, will open at 9 a.m. on Tuesday, September 3rd. The pupils in the south end of the city will for the present attend the South Central School, from which they will be sent to the King Edward when it is ready for occupation. The boundary line between these two schools will be fixed later.

Of the pupils who formerly attended the George Street School, those residing south of Edinburgh street will attend the Central School. The others will be accommodated at the North Ward.

All High School pupils will assemble as usual at the Collegiate Institute building, as no other arrangements have as yet been agreed upon.

The following will constitute the staff of the King Edward School:—Principal, Mr. Dunlop; Assistants, Misses Stubbs, Barnes, Pratt and Martin. Kindergarten Directress.—Miss Cameron.

The staffs in the other schools in the city will be the same as before the vacation.

$100 REWARD, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood an dmucous surfaces of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

"He Loved The Children."

Thackeray's words were satirical, and he himself was called a cynic, but the author of "Love Affairs of Some Famous Men" shows what sort of a heart beat in the satirist's breast by quoting from the letter of one to whom the following incident happened:

"In the week following his death there appeared some genial memorial lines in the pages of Punch. Walking down the then unsavory thoroughfare known as Bedfordbury, my eye caught the open page of the popular periodical, and I stayed to read the graceful tribute to the dead moralist. Turning away at length, a poorly dressed man in working garb said to me:

"'I knew that man, sir.'

"'You knew Thackeray?' I asked.

"'Yes, sir. I keep that little baker's shop yonder,' pointing to the opposite side of the street, 'and many's the time Thackeray would come and buy a pound or two of cake of me. I cut it into slices for him, and then, distributing it among the crowd of hungry children, he would walk away and hide in that court over there, that he might have the pleasure of seeing their enjoyment. He didn't know I knew him, but I did. People used to call him a cynic, sir, but it wasn't true. He loved the children, sir, and no man is a cynic who does that.'"

Chatham—A serious accident occurred near Blenheim when Miss Pind der, a daughter of one of Harwich's prominent farmers, in pluckily attempting to stop a runaway team, was dragged some distance, had her jaw broken, besides being seriously injured by bruises about the head.

Bad Symptoms.

The woman who has periodical headaches, backache, sees imaginary dark spots or specks floating or dancing before her eyes, has gnawing distress or heavy full feeling in stomach, faint spells, dragging-down feeling in lower abdominal or pelvic region, easily startled or excited, irregular or painful periods, with or without pelvic catarrh, is suffering from weaknesses and derangements that should have early attention. Not all of above symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.

Neglected or badly treated and such cases often run into maladies which demand the surgeon's knife if they do not result fatally.

No medicine extant has such a long and numerous record of cures in such cases as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. No medicine has such a strong professional indorsement of each of its several ingredients—worth more than any number of ordinary non-professional testimonials. The very best ingredients known to medical science for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments enter into its composition. No alcohol, harmful, or habit-forming drug is to be found in the list of its ingredients printed on each bottle-wrapper and attested under oath.

In any condition of the female system, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription can do only good—never harm. Its whole effect is to strengthen, invigorate and regulate the whole female system and especially the pelvic organs. When these are deranged in function or affected by disease, the stomach and other organs of digestion become sympathetically deranged, the nerves are weakened, and a long list of bad, unpleasant symptoms follow. Too much must not be expected of this "Favorite Prescription." It will not perform miracles; will not cure tumors—no medicine will. It will often prevent them if taken in time, and thus the operating table and the surgeon's knife may be avoided.

Women suffering from diseases of long standing, are invited to consult Doctor Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

The Terrible Experience of John Fellows, of Toronto, Who Was Wrecked on Island in Night Hawk Lake.

Toronto, Sept. 4.—Ranger John L. Campbell, writing under date of Aug. 29, from McDougall's Chutes, has supplied the Ontario Government with further particulars as to the drowning of George S. Johnston of McDonagll's Chutes and John McRae of Hailesbury, in Night Hawk Lake on the previous Sunday.

Accompanied by John Fellowes of Toronto, the two men tried to cross the lake in a canoe. A storm arose which proved too much for them, and the canoe capsized 200 feet from an island. Fellowes reached the shore in a helpless and exhausted condition. The others were drowned.

Without food or shelter, and in a raging storm, Fellowes remained on the island all day Sunday from 9.30 a.m., and was not rescued until 8.30 p.m., Monday. At 11.30 Monday morning, prospectors on an adjacent island saw him, but the sea was too high to effect a rescue.

Ranger Campbell writes that he found Fellowes on Monday evening, "in a fearful condition and state of mind." Rangers Ducharme and O'Connor took the man to McDougall's Chutes.

Campbell, with another ranger of the same name, and Ranger Cole, went to Gold Island and secured dynamite, but did not succeed in raising the bodies. However, a search party left the Chutes on Aug. 28th to carry on the work, the rangers having been obliged to desist through lack of provisions.

McRae was formerly a major in a Scotch regiment, but has no friends in this country, and Ranger Campbell wishes to know if the Government will pay for interment if the body is found.

May Wipe Out The Home Of Crime and Suicide.

London, Sept. 2.—An interesting letter in the Times signed "Indicus," suggests that it is time an end should be put to Monte Carlo, the plague spot of Europe.

"Before this hideous Monte Carlo tragedy ceases to be a nine days' wonder," writes "Indicus," "I would suggest that it is time attention should be drawn to the fons et origo mali, the gambling rooms of that too notorious place.

"I speak as one who knows, having resided for some time in Monte Carlo, near the villa in which the Goolds rented a small flat. How long are the nations of Europe going to tolerate the continuance of this plague spot in their midst?

"That is the question which should be agitated in the press and chancelleries of every European capital, whose gilded youth are ruined annually in scores, for they flock thither in ever increasing numbers solely because of the gambling facilities, made more seductive by the beauty of the place, its gardens and the unrivaled Casino band.

"The profits, I may state, accruing from the tables, which average 30,000,000 francs, are divided between the shareholders, the municipality and the Prince of Monaco. On the same day the Goolds are supposed to have committed the crime with which they are charged there occurred at Castellamare the suicide of a young English and American couple on their honeymoon who had been ruined at Monte Carlo.

"President Roosevelt might well assume the initiative in this righteous crusade, for the American plutocrats are as prominent at the tables as the aristocracy of Europe."

SUICIDE COMMON.

"The Monte Carlo Casino has been responsible for more suicides than any other institution of any kind in the world," a frequent visitor to the Riviera said yesterday.

"It was said three or four years ago that the gambling house was about to be closed, but it is still drawing thousands of people into its net every year, and so great has been its financial success that a new gambling place in the neighborhood is being talked off.

"It is scarcely an exaggeration to say that thousands of people have committed suicide through being ruined at Monte Carlo. As a rule the world hears little or nothing of such suicides, for it is not to the interest of the town to say much about them. But now and then striking cases come to light.

"Ruined players are continually jumping into the sea and getting drowned, or going to Paris or elsewhere, there to shoot themselves.

"Every day in the season a score or more of men and women apply to the Casino officers for a 'bole to pay their hotel bills and their fares home. Some time ago a British officer, who had lost every penny, was given a free P. and O. ticket to Calcutta and $250. The sums paid out by the Casino range from $25 to $2,500.

"But in spite of this toll on its profits the Casino has made millions sterling out of the gamblers who try to break the bank. Last year its total receipts came to $7,540,400, an increase of $750,400 on the year before.

"After every expense had been defrayed there was close on to $5,000,000 for distribution among the shareholders, at the rate of $70 per share. This was equal to 70 per cent on the original value of the shares.

"The curse of Monte Carlo is not merely that it is responsible for the ruin of hundreds of men and women," he concluded. "But that it entails undeserved wretchedness on their families, who often have to suffer, not only privation, but great mental anguish, directly due to the evil influence of the gambling tables."

"It is a forcing bed of crime. Swindlers and thieves of every class haunt the place.

"The spot is the most beautiful one on the Riviera, and has the finest climate for invalids. It is time that such a place was rid of the curse of the gambling den."

BUY GALBRAITH COAL

This mine is located at Lundbreck, Alta., on the main line of the Crow's Nest Railway which passes within two thousand feet of the mine portals. Thirty feet of clean domestic coal is opened up for a depth of over 300 feet and passes through the property for over three quarters of a mile. The only stock being sold is sufficient to install a tramway and mining machinery when the company expects to ship at least 200 tons per day. When this is accomplished all sales of treasury stock will cease. Considering the modest capitalization and immense coal reserves of this property, the stock is being offered at a very low price. The company issues no prospectus but gives a general invitation to the public to come and see for themselves.

Take a trip and get in while you can. Some of the same people who made the International are behind this.

We are pleased to offer a limited number of these shares in blocks to suit the purchaser, at 27c. per share.

Narrowly Escaped In Quebec Accident

Mr. W. Faux, of Peterboro, Saw Quebec Bridge Accident

Mr. Wm. Faux, an employee of the Canada Foundry Co., has arrived in the city to visit for a few days at his old home. Mr. Faux has been employed near Montreal and ran down to Quebec to see the big bridge. He walked out on the bridge to where the men were working. After a while watching the men at work he suddenly heard bolts cracking and advised the men to leave as he heard bolts cracking. The men paid no attention, but fortunately for him his long experience caused Mr. Faux to get back to land just as the huge structure collapsed, carrying some 70 men to death in the St. Lawrence.

Auction Sale at Palace Hotel

Goods Went at Low Prices, and to be Continued To-day

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Charles Stapleton, veteran auctioneer, conducted a sale at the Palace Temperance Hotel, just next The Times office on George street, recently occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Darey. Here were two stories of furniture that had only been in use for about a year and while in some cases good prices were attained, the general result showed that there were and are for today bargains beyond dispute to be gained. Iron beds and bedding, crockery, bed room china sets and carpets, etc., were sold at what they would bring, and many a good housewife had carted home bargains that made her heart leap with joy. This afternoon the sale will be continued and there is a chance for those wanting absolutely new china, iron beds, carpets, etc., to get such at say, one third their value.

Roosevelt Stays Out of Telegraphers' Strike

Oyster Bay, Sept. 2.—It was authoritatively stated today that President Roosevelt will not interfere or take any part looking to a settlement of the telegraphers strike. Secretary Loeb said the numerous appeals to the president to take such action, which have been reported in the newspapers, have not been received at Oyster Bay, and at no time since the beginning of the strike has the president seen any necessity or reason why he should interfere.

ORIGINAL HANDS-UP MAN.

Career in Crime of "Old Bill" Miner, Now Serving Life Sentence.

William A. Pinkerton, head of the detective agency, makes a point of keeping in close touch with the police authorities all over the country and never misses a convention of the International Association of Chiefs of Police. They met in Jamestown recently, and Mr. Pinkerton told them the story of "Old Bill" Miner, who first used the expression "Hands up!" a cry which has startled so many thousands of victims.

Miner, according to Mr. Pinkerton, was one of the first holdup men to operate on the Pacific coast and is now serving a life sentence in the West Westminster (British Columbia) penitentiary for the robbery of a Canadian Pacific train at Durrer, B. C., early on the morning of May 9, 1906.

"'Old Bill' Miner," said Mr. Pinkerton, "was one of the most remarkable single handed stage and train robbers that ever operated in the far west. He never belonged to any organized band of holdups, generally working alone. On rare occasions, however, he selected an assistant. He always went about his work in a matter of fact way, never posing as a 'bad man' and never taking human life.

"As early as 1899 he served a term for stage robbery in San Quentin. When he got out of prison in 1879 he robbed the Del Norte stage in Colorado of $3,600. He escaped with the booty, finally going to Michigan, where he posed as a California capitalist. When his funds ran low he returned to Colorado and took part in several other holdups.

"For a California stage robbery in 1881 he was sentenced to twenty-five years and was released in 1901. His long imprisonment apparently did little to reform him, for in a year or two he held up the Oregon Railway and Navigation company's train at Milepost 21, near Corbett, Ore. Although a reward of $1,300 was offered for Miner, he was not captured.

"A year later he held up the Canadian Pacific's transcontinental express at Mission Junction, B. C., securing $10,000 in gold dust and money. The Dominion government offered a $5,000 reward for him, which was increased to $12,800 by the rewards of the Canadian Pacific and the provincial authorities.

"Ignoring the price on his head, Miner held up another Canadian Pacific train at Durrer, B. C. He compelled the engineer to uncouple the mail car and haul it a mile from the rest of the train, where he rifled it of registered letters. Miner believed that the express packages were in the mail car, and when he found they were not he did not have the nerve to go back. He escaped to the islands off the coast. The large rewards offered induced posses to take up the pursuit, and he was captured by the Canadian constabulary after having put up a fight in which one man was wounded. He was sentenced to imprisonment for life."—New York Tribune.

A Naval Prediction.

The chief constructor of the French navy is quoted as saying that he is convinced that the battleship and armored cruiser must before long be merged into a single type, the battle cruiser. This resultant concentration of great attack and defense with extreme speed will, he believes, be found illustrated, say, in 1915, in a vessel of 25,000 tons, mounting a unit battery of high caliber guns and developing a speed of not less than 22 knots. The French constructor is also persuaded that any navy now bold enough to lay down battleships of 25,000 tons displacement will by one stroke secure a tremendous advantage over all its rivals, because a squadron of four such vessels will greatly outclass six battleships less effective in the energies that can be assembled.—Engineer.

The Biggest Horse.

Nebraska Queen, the largest mare on earth, is a product of the breeding farm of S. E. Sparks at Falls City, Neb. Mr. Sparks is to the horse world what Burbank, the noted Californian is to the world of vegetables and fruit. It is his purpose to make two big horses grow where one little one grew before, and he is doing it. He has raised a number of large horses but none so large and perfect as Nebraska Queen. She is 20.1 hands high eleven feet eight inches in girth, thirty-two inches length of head, nine feet three inches in girth, forty-two inch shoulder, twenty inch throat, eighty inch collar and weighs over 2,800 pounds. She is perfect in every proportion, kind, gentle and intelligent of beautiful color and is truly a model horse.—Kansas City Journal.

A Losing Game.

Two ice cream venders were fined at Tower bridge police court yesterday for gambling with their customers. It was stated that a coin was spun, and if the vender guessed correctly he got the money and gave no ice cream. If he lost, he gave the winner a penny's worth of ice cream and a halfpenny. The advantage seems to us to be too much with the customer. It is worth paying more than a penny to get out of having cast end ice cream.—London Globe.

Manila Hemp.

Manila hemp is the most valuable cordage fiber in the world. Apparently it cannot be grown successful anywhere else. The plant looks exactly like a banana plant. The mode of stripping hemp is still very crude. The invention of a successful machine would increase the production enormously. Last year's exports were valued at $19,612,633.

London—Angus Beattie, a farmer living near Pond Mills, was struck by an auto yesterday afternoon and seriously injured.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

Police Court

At yesterday's Police Court Edward Thompson pleaded guilty of having been drunk and disorderly on Labor Day. He said it was Labor Day "and of course, I took a little too much liquor." He was fined $2 to be paid forthwith. Thompson asked, "How many days did you say?" "Ten," replied his Worship. "Well, I guess I had better pay up the $2 instead of going up on the hill. But your Worship, I want to state that whilst I got a little noisy in the hotel, the officer that arrested me did a cowardly act when he struck me in the face. I gave him no provocation and he struck me in the face. I repeat, he was a dirty coward, and it was a cowardly act, and I don't care who hears it." Edward still had a "hold-over" of his Labor Day celebration.

Newton Loft, evidently an Indian, was charged with the same offence and pleaded guilty. It seems that the Indian, who is half French, but not a "treaty Indian" and so under the Indian Act law, was dancing on the pavement and kicked the officer, P. C. McGinty, when the officer arrested him. The coal dealers for whom the Indian works, paid his fine of $2.

Restless Infant Saves 7 Persons from Death

New York, Sept. 2.—Caught in the act of attempting to asphyxiate the seven members of George Verral's family, a burglar, who planned to rob the Verral flat in East 63rd street, was shot and killed today while endeavoring to make his escape.

The cry of a restless infant saved the Verral family. The burglar made two attempts to asphyxiate the family. He was shot three times by Verral and instantly killed.

Early today the cry of Mrs. Verral's infant awoke the mother, who detected the odor of gas. She turned off the open jets and aroused her husband and told him of it.

He fell asleep again and Mrs. Verral retired for the night. She grew restless and did not close her eyes, and two hours later she again smelled gas. She hurried to the kitchen and found it filled with gas pouring from open jets. She called to her husband after finding that her five children were safe, and Verral went for his revolver.

A search was made and a man was seen trying to escape from an adjoining flat to the fire escape. Verral fired four shots, three of which struck the burglar, who fell dead as he was trying to get through a window. All of the Verral family are ill from the effects of the gas.

Met Behind Closed Doors

Last night a meeting of the Peterborough Board of Education was advertised for 7.45 p.m. A Times representative, after his day's work was over, cut out his champagne and truffle fixings to attend, and was at, or rather outside the Board room promptly on time. He was not, however, allowed admission, as the regulators of educational matters had business within, and the press was on the northwest side of the door. After waiting an hour, our reporter who wanted information for the public, gave up in despair and went home. It may be in the interest of the ratepayers to have such meetings held in private, but it comes hard on the press representatives who have to wait in a hallway, without chairs, for an hour or so, before being admitted to get a cut and dried report.

Any Weak Person

can gain strength on

Grape-Nuts

A member of the Chicago Press Club, says she obtained so much benefit from Grape-Nuts food that she wishes to offer a voluntary testimonial, "I had an illness which reduced me greatly, when convalescent I wanted a great deal to eat, but nothing seemed to satisfy me.

Very soon after I used I felt that sense of emptiness, 'an aching void' as it were, though really not hungry. The fact is, the food I was then taking was not properly assimilated and I was improperly nourished, which accounted for my lack of vitality and weak condition, constant exhaustion and inability to gain strength.

"I started in on Grape-Nuts food, husband laughing good naturedly at the time. I ate it with cream, and the result was most surprising. After the first dish of it I felt a great sense of satisfaction I have gained several pounds, and the old gnawing is gone entirely. I retire and sleep well at night, whereas I used to be awake in the night and was unable to sleep again until I had taken some sort of food. "There's a Reason."

"Husband is much surprised at the result and tried Grape-Nuts himself. He is delighted with the food and its makers."

THE CITY FATHERS IN MONTHLY SESSION

Romaine Street Sewer is Now in Workable Condition--" It Seems to Me This Council Chamber is Going on the Rough " Remarked Ald. Wilson.

There were present Mayor R. F. McWilliams and Ald. Johnston, Elliott, Bradburn, Duncan, Wilson, and Phelan.

A number of communications were read and referred to their respective committees.

Mr. Hales asked that the sewer to Parnell street be completed as soon as possible. Chairman Duncan of the Board of Works, replied that there would not be fall enough from Parnell street to Romaine to make such a sewer effective to the property in question. He had no hope of giving sewage for Parnell street until a trunk sewer is constructed on Park street, which may materialize next year.

Ald. Wilson concurred in these views, and suggested that the drain on Parnell street be cleaned out so as to relieve the residents of surface water. This would afford a measure of relief until an outfall sewer on Park street is constructed next year.

This matter was left in the hands of the Board of Works to act to the best possible advantage.

In reply to a question raised by Ald. Wilson, the information was offered that the Romaine street sewer to the King Edward school is at last in workable condition.

On motion of Ald. Johnston, the request of Mr. Moore that he be allowed to construct a granolithic walk in front of his property on St. Joseph street, on the same conditions as though built by the city, was referred to the Board of Works with power to act.

FINANCE REPORT.

Ald. Bradburn submitted the following report;

Gentlemen.—Your Finance Committee beg leave to report and recommend as follows;

1. That the payment of $5552.50 to the City Trust Commissioners to pay interest on waterworks debentures be confirmed.

2. That the City Solicitor be requested to prepare a bylaw to increase the rate of interest on debentures to be issued for $9358.10 to pay the city's share of the cost of sewers from 4 per cent to 4 1-2 per cent.

3. That the witness fees in the case of King vs. Morrison be paid in accordance with the certificate of the County Attorney and Crown Prosecutor.

4 Recommending that a number of accounts be paid.

This report was adopted as read.

MILK TESTS.

Ald. Elliott submitted the following;

Gentlemen.—Your Property Committee beg leave to report as follows;

We instructed the Sanitary Inspector to have samples of milk taken from the licensed milk vendors delivering milk in the city and tested at the Peterborough Creamery and to report the results to the Property Committee monthly, the first of such reports to be made by September 1st and subsequent reports on the first of each month thereafter during the year 1907.

This report was adopted as read.

BOARD OF WORKS.

Ald. Duncan submitted the report of the Board of Works, which will appear in to-morrow's issue.

RAILWAY CROSSING.

Ald. Phelan advanced that Yates should be placed at the Grand Trunk Railway crossing at Reid street, near Wm. Hamilton's foundry, which he characterized as a dangerous spot. The alderman thought this question should be brought before the notice of the Railway Commission by his Worship and City Solicitor E. H. D. Hall when in attendance on that Board in Ottawa.

The matter will be carefully considered by the Mayor and City Solicitor.

BYLAWS

Ald. Bradburn fathered a bylaw to increase the rate of sewer debentures from 4 to 4 1-2 per cent. This passed its several readings.

Ald. Duncan fathered a bylaw to authorized the extension of Aylmer street which passed its three readings.

A bylaw to authorize the execution of an agreement for the diversion of the Downie street creek, between Victoria avenue and Dublin street, passed its several readings.

GOING ON THE ROUGH.

"It seems to me that this place is going on the rough," said Ald. Wilson last night, referring to the dirty condition of the council chamber. The storm windows have never been taken off this summer, and in looking through the windows one cannot tell whether a man is a horse or a human being so dirty are they. And the interior of the chamber generally is in a dirty condition.

The Property Committee was authorized to see that the caretaker makes a general cleaning up of the chamber.

DIRTY POLICE CELLS.

Ald. Duncan reported that the police cells were in a filthy condition, they were alive with insects and the sewer is plugged up.

The Property Committee was instructed to have these cells thoroughly cleaned, and the sewer attended to.

The council thought the police should report such matters to the Property Committee.

REMOVAL OF POLES.

The Mayor raised the question of negotiating with the Great North Western Telegraph Co. for the removal of their poles from off George street as soon as the telephone wires are removed. It is understood that this company had previously intimated their willingness to do this when the phone wires were laid underground, providing the city would pay half the cost of said removal—$450. This matter was referred to the Manufacturers' Committee.

STREET WATERING.

The Board of Works was authorized to negotiate with the Water Commissioners for street watering service earlier in the spring and later in the fall than at present provided for.

STREET NUMBERING.

The matter of revising our street numbering system was referred to the Legal Committee.

THE SAWDUST FIRE.

The chief's refusal to turn out the fire brigade to put out the fire east of the river was taken up.

Ald. Wilson thought it was up to the Cereal Co. to protect themselves from sawdust fires, which are a frequent occurrence each year, and with which the Dickson Co. had to contend. If the company would employ three or four volunteer men to act with the fire brigade, they could thoroughly drown the fire out. It could not be expected that a volunteer brigade would attend a sawdust fire three or four times a week.

Ald. Johnston acquiesced in the foregoing views, and the matter was referred to the Fire, Water and Light Committee for investigation.

COMPLETION OF CANAL.

Moved by Ald. Johnston, seconded by Ald. Graham—That the council extend an invitation to Hon. G. P. Graham, Minister of Railways and Canals, to visit Peterborough and inspect the Trent Valley Canal course, before the season closes, with a view to secure his interest in a speedy completion of this work and possibly increasing its depth, from at least Peterborough to the lake, to nine feet. Carried.

The above resulted from his Worship urging that Peterborough do not let the Trent Valley Canal project grow cold, but hammer away at the government until it is completed.

THE POWDER MAGAZINE.

The Property Committee was authorized to see that the powder magazine is properly locked and taken care of by an authorized caretaker.

This was the result of Mr. David Doig's representation to the council that the magazine, in which there is never less than five or six tons of dynamite stored, is apparently accessible to by irresponsible parties. He has frequently found the magazine open and resorted to by even children of tender years. Mr. Doig urged that such a loose system of caring for the magazine is a menace to the community, and a bylaw should be passed governing access to the magazine and authorizing the employment of a reliable caretaker at a salary commensurate with his duties. While a key of the magazine is kept in Mr. Doig's home, it appears, according to his statement, that others have means of access to the place and are not particular whether they leave the door locked or not. Mr. Doig asks that there be but one key to the premises, and that in the care of a responsible party who will see to it that every precaution is taken against accident.

The council then adjourned.

Mr. T. McWilliams Awarded $2,572

His Honor Judge Weller made his report as referee in the big case of McWilliams vs. The Dickson Lumber Co., as to the amount the defendants should pay the plaintiffs for logs. The referee awarded McWilliams $2,572. This case has been standing for a long time and is familiar to readers of The Times. It was a suit for $3000 entered by Theo. McWilliams against the Dickson Co., as the balance of $9000 which he claimed some logs were worth which the Dickson Co. received from him. The company paid $6000 but the plaintiff would not accept that.

The case was heard more than a year ago by the late Chief Justice Street. The defendants proved two reasons for defence. First that they did not owe the money, and along with this they entered several objections to the plaintiff's case. This was settled by the trial judge in favor of the plaintiff. The decision was appealed and the court upheld the trial judge.

The second defence was that if the company did owe the plaintiff for the logs they had already paid him enough. This question was referred to a referee. The two parties consented to Judge Weller. But owing to the appeal he was delayed for several months and yesterday made his official report. This gives McWilliams $2572 for the timber, while he claimed $9000.

The trial judge reserved his decision as to costs of the action until the referee's report was received, and now another judge will have to take it up.

Baseball

The results of yesterday's games in the Eastern League were as follows: Toronto broke even with Rochester. Jersey City won from Baltimore. Newark lost twice to Providence. Buffalo won two games with Montreal.

House Clean Your System!

Keep it Pure and Clean if You Desire Good Health.

The inside of your body requires attention just the same as the outside.

A great accumulation of effete matter is clinging to the various organs, and must be moved off.

Some gentle laxative and tonic should be used.

The system must be relieved of its burden, if you are to enjoy a happy, healthy summer.

Physicians who have examined the formula of Dr. Hamilton's Mandrake and Butternut Pills say no medicine could be better.

Whether ill or not, thousands rely on Dr. Hamilton's Pills which are truly marvelous in preventing debility and sickness.

Begin Dr. Hamilton's Pills without delay. You'll feel stronger, eat better, digest better, sleep sounder, and gain more in weight.

Mr. Ed. Maynard, an old resident of New Westminster, B.C., writes: "I don't say Dr. Hamilton's Pills will cure everything, but they made a quick job of building up my run-down system. I had kidney disease and constipation and was wholly unfitted for work. Pains shot through my limbs and lodged in my back. Headaches often made me desperate. I had no appetite, an awful color, and felt despondent sometimes I was a little rheumatic. After a few days I began to mend, and kept up Dr. Hamilton's Pills till I was restored to my present tip-top condition."

Can you afford to miss the benefit of this marvel-working medicine. Think of it. All dealers sell Dr. Hamilton's Pills, 25c. per box, or five boxes for $1.00. By mail from N. C. Polson and Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S.A., and Kingston, Ont.

PETERBOROUGH, SEPTEMBER 3 1907.

CANADA'S CRIMINAL STATISTICS

A blue book has just been issued from Ottawa, giving criminal statistics for the year ending September 30, 1905. Criminal statistics, at the best, form gloomy and uninspiring reading, and those before us are no exception to this rule. It is regrettable that the details of Canadian crime should be copious enough to fill over three hundred pages of a blue book. Still more regrettable is the fact that the statistics under review show both an absolute and a relative increase in the crime of the country.

Taking the total of both indictable and summary convictions the two divisions which the blue book adopts, the number of convictions for 1905 and 1904 respectively are 62,559 and 54,946, or an increase of 13.85 per cent. The population for each conviction is given, striking an average, as 92 for 1905 and 102 for 1903.

With the exception of New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island every province shows an increased percentage of convictions Manitoba leads with an increase of 37.5 per cent, then follow Quebec with an increase of 21 per cent, the Territories with an increase of 14.5 per cent, Ontario with an increase of 9 per cent, Nova Scotia with an increase of 8.6 per cent, and British Columbia with an increase of 6.9 per cent. New Brunswick shows a decrease of 5.1 per cent, and Prince Edward Island one of 18 per cent in the number of convictions for 1905 as against 1904.

Turning to the ratio of convictions per populations Quebec makes the worst showing on a comparison of the two years. From one conviction per 142 of population in 1904, the figure has fallen to 125 for 1905. Manitoba follows with a reduction of the population per conviction from 57 to 45; then come Nova Scotia with a reduction from 109 to 100, and Ontario with a reduction from 97 to 89. Prince Edward Island is again distinguished with an increase in the population per conviction of 40, the respective figures for 1905 and 1904 being 278 and 226. The Territories show an advance from 59 to 66.

Examining in a cursory manner the statistics for indictable offences, which practically cover offences reserved for trial by jury, we find that convictions for offences against the person increased during 1905 from 1607 to 1690. This class, of course, includes convictions for murder, which show a decrease of 2, or 12 convictions as against 14. In crimes against decency, which also come under this head, there was an increase of 11, or 115 convictions as against 104. In this class Manitoba, British Columbia, Ontario, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island show increases, the remaining provinces showing decreases. Offences against property with violence are increased from 552 in 1904 to 650 in 1905. The provinces showing increases in this class of offence are Quebec, Ontario, Manitoba and Prince Edward Island. Offences against property without violence rise from 3,969 in 1904 to 4,232 in 1905 In this class, which includes horse and cattle stealing, British Columbia and Nova Scotia are the only provinces which are able to show a decrease. The fourth class comprises malicious offences against property such as arson, cattle maiming, etc. In this class there is a decrease of six convictions to be chronicled, or from 100 to 94 There were no convictions for arson in the Territories during 1905, but horse and cattle maiming convictions there numbered 12. The fifth class covers forgery and convictions against currency, and there we find an increase of 21, or 173 convictions against 152. In this class the only provinces showing decreases are the Territories and Prince Edward Islands. Class six comprises a variety of offences such as carrying unlawful weapons, violating the Electoral act, etc., and here there is an increase of 473, of 849 convictions against 376.

Of the summary convictions, cases of drunkenness account for 21,621 out of 54,833 convictions, an increase of 2,726 or 14.43 per cent for the whole Dominion. Manitoba has an increase of 14.07 per cent, Quebec one of 19.94 per cent, the Territories one of 13.52 per cent, Ontario one of 10.65 per cent, Nova Scotia one of 7.89 per cent, and New Brunswick one of 3.46 per cent. Prince Edward Island shows a decrease of 40.28 per cent and British Columbia a decrease of one third of one per cent.

Breaches of statutes and bylaws show an increase of 3,870 or 8,743 convictions as against 5,692. Assaults are responsible for 3,821 convictions in 1905 as against 3,811 in 1904, an increase of ten convictions.

Offences against the liquor law rose from 3,018 to 3,275 convictions, an increase of 257 convictions. Vagrancy offences were responsible for 4,608 convictions in 1905 as against 3,847 in 1904, an increase of 761 convictions. Offenders against morals and decency were responsible for 2,036 as against 1,984 an increase of 52 convictions. In the summary convictions are included 270 cases of insanity for 1905 as against 148 cases for the year before.

Turning again to the indictable offenders we find that 80.80 per cent of the number were convicted for the first time. By occupation 39.43 per cent are returned as laborers, 13.92 per cent as belonging to commerce and 12.21 per sent as belonging to industries. In civil condition 56.69 per cent were married. In educational status 9.34 having had superior education formed 2.14 per sent of the whole. In age the greatest number of both males and females falls under the section ranging from 21 to 40, there being 6,396 males and 190 females between these ages. Returned as having used liquor immoderately were 27.40 per sent of the whole. Urban offenders numbered 5,785 and rural ones 1,084, as against 5,042 and 1,056 in 1904.

For the Toilet.

While you are preparing to retire for the night health and beauty sleep, do you wash your face thoroughly?

It is absolutely necessary that the grime and soil accumulated on the countenance during the day be removed that is, if you are doing things to keep your complexion in good order.

Of course you take a bath before retiring as a means of better rest and consequent good health. Certainly along with the bath you wash your face, but perhaps you dash it with cold water, while telling yourself that "the cream will do the rest."

This is a mistake. Wash the face thoroughly and then apply the cream. Wipe off the first application of cream and you'll take off more grime with it Then rub cream into the cuticle to nourish the flesh. Keeping the face as clean as possible is first rate assistance in removing blemishes and a great help in keeping them off.

GIVING OF SMALL DINNERS.

The Secret of Success Where Finances Are Somewhat Limited.

Because one may not spend many dollars on the giving of dinners, that is no reason why one may not have them. It needs only a prettily arranged table, a congenial and carefully selected group of six or eight guests and a hostess in a pretty pale frock to achieve an atmosphere that cannot be outdone, except in the matter of money spent, by the hostess who has a menage of sorts with a butler to serve and three or four maids to help take off one's wraps.

The first principle for the hostess with one maid who aspires to a dinner is to be tremendously careful not to attempt the impossible. Just the fact of giving the dinner is bound to mean a lot of work for her, but that will be part of her joy in the occasion. The menu ought to be simple and of things that she knows her cook can achieve, and the salad, the dessert and all the arrangements must be done by herself if they are to be at all elaborate.

An oyster or a fruit cocktail, to begin with, is an inexpensive dish and one that will give a simple meal a "party-like" air that will start it right. A pineapple cocktail, for instance, may be made from canned fruit. The fruit is shredded quite fine; then to it are added three sherry glasses of curacoa and the juice of three lemons. Use enough sugar to sweeten and a gill of good brandy and a few cherries or white grapes. Place at each plate a tall glass of this on a small dolly.

There need be no worry over the clear soup, for every cook can make that, only be sure it is hot. Then the fish may be in ramekins or large artificial shells and of halibut with bits of lobster, and this, too, loses its goodness if not hot. With the roast there need be but one vegetable, and that a hot macaroni dish or chestnuts creamed or tiny carrots in a cream sauce; always potatoes in some form, those beaten up and seasoned and put back into their half shells with a top dressing of whipped egg being nice.

The salad, the next course, should be above all, very cold and the plates equally so. Haven't you dined in houses where the plates were sadly limited and the cook had hastily washed some that had been used before and that were still hot? That is one of the small tragedies that the hostess of small allowance must guard against thrusting upon the notice of her guests

A skinned tomato stuffed with a delicious concoction of chopped up nuts and apple, with a delicious dab of mayonnaise dressing flowing over it, with a crisp lettuce leaf beneath, will make a splash of color that looks most refreshing after the hot dishes. One serves tiny toasted and cheesed biscuits with this, with cream, Camembert or Brie cheese.

And then the dessert may be as elaborate as one dares attempt. Above the simplest and yet most elaborate looking sweet there is is made by filling tall stemmed glasses with a vanilla ice into which you have chopped walnuts and wee bits of pineapple or cherry and on which is poured a hot chocolate sauce.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

Discarded dimity skirts make very attractive bureau scarfs. They may be bleached white, if necessary, and then conventional designs worked on them with floss or cut out cretonne designs appliqued on.

When ants are troublesome sprinkle sugar through a small piece of sponge and leave these about the pantry shelves. In a short time the ants will be holding a high carnival. Plunge the sponges in boiling water and set again.

A good remedy for keeping moths out of furs and woolen pieces is to wrap the fur tightly in a piece of newspaper that has been soaked in turpentine. Place in an old pillowcase or bag. There is absolutely no danger that the moths will disturb any piece so treated.

TENDERS FOR DREDGING

Tenders, addressed to the undersigned and endorsed "Tender for Dredging at Port Hope," will be received up to and including Saturday, August 31st, 1907, for dredging required at Port Hope, Durham County, Ont.

Combined specification and form of tender can be obtained at the Department of Public Works, Ottawa. Tenders must include the towing of the plant to and from the works. Only dredges can be employed which are registered in Canada at the time of the filing of tenders. Contractors must be ready to begin work within thirty days after the date they have been notified of the acceptance of their tender.

Tenders will not be considered unless made on the printed form supplied, and signed with the actual signatures of tenderers.

An accepted cheque on a chartered bank, payable to the order of the Honorable the Minister of Public Works, for one thousand dollars ($1,000) must accompany each tender as security deposit in connection with the dredging to be performed. The cheque will be returned in case of non-acceptance of tender.

The Department does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

By order,
FRED GELINAS,
Secretary.

Department of Public Works.

Something New in Copper

PITTSBURG - IDAHO
Mining and Milling Company

The mine is located 58 miles above Lewiston, Idaho, on the Clearwater river, and consists of 19 full claims, or 380 acres It is developed by tunnels, shafts and open cuts for more than 2000 feet, disclosing thousands of tons of copper, gold and silver ores of both high grade and low grade There are between 1000 and 2000 tons of ore ready for shipment. The entrance to the working tunnel is only 2000 feet from the track of the Northern Pacific railroad, to be reached by gravity tramway. There are seven parallel veins running lengthwise of the claims, one cropping out on the surface for 2000 feet and another for 3000 feet, while two veins cross these running into the mountain These veins are from 30 to 200 feet wide. One ore chute has been crossed 50 feet and is solid ore from wall to wall.

We are not asking you to buy in a prospect. That risk was taken by the promoters. We are asking you to buy in a developed, proven mine. Seven years of continuous work and the expenditure of thousands of dollars has proven up one of the greatest mines in Idaho. That mine is now ready to pour out its red and yellow wealth to the world with the installing of an up to date production plant. It is for that purpose that a block of its treasury stock, full paid and non-assessable, is offered for sale. We believe that within six months from the completion of a 100 ton plant the mine can be put on a dividend paying basis, and that those dividends will be substantial and permanent. There is no better investment proposition before the people at this time.

CAPITALIZATION $1,000,000. - PAR VALUE $1.

All promotion stock pooled during the sale of this treasury stock.

Messrs. Thos. Patterson & Co., Peterborough, Ont., are authorized to receive subscriptions for this stock, to whom all applications should be made.

Good Local Agent Wanted

I OFFER YOU A 10c STOCK FOR 5c

In the month of September the price of GUGGENHEIM-GREENWATER COPPER STOCK goes to 10 cents. All who buy shares from the Company will pay that for them.

I secured an option on a block of stock to sell at 5 cents. Until this block is exhausted I can fill orders at 5 cents. I can give those who buy of me for 5 cts., what others will be paying 10 cts. for.

Everyone who sees this advertisement surely has read of Greenwater and Ely, the wonderful new copper districts. The Guggenheim-Greenwater Copper Company owns groups of claims in both places. Work is in progress, and the indications are the best.

Here is a chance for little money to make a fortune. Other mines in the same district have made fortunes, and they have been less promising before development than the Guggenheim Greenwater Company's property.

See me at once about this. One hundred shares will cost you only $5; one thousand shares, $50. The block of stock which I have will not last long. Get for 5 what others are glad to pay 10 for.

THE CONQUEST of CANAAN

By BOOTH TARKINGTON,
Author of "Cherry," "Monsieur Beaucaire," Etc.

COPYRIGHT, 1903, BY HARPER & BROTHERS

Eugene being in his way, he ran full tilt into his stepbrother with all his force, sending him to earth, and went on literally over him as he lay prone upon the asphalt, that being the shortest way to Respectability. The next instant the mongrel was in his master's arms and weakly licking his hands.

But it was Eskew Arp who had saved the little dog, for it was his stick which had tripped the clerk and his hand which had struck him down. All his bodily strength had departed in that effort, but he staggered out into the street toward Joe.

"Joe Louden!" called the veteran in a loud voice. "Joe Louden!" and suddenly reeled. The colonel and Squire Buckalew were making their way toward him, but Joe, holding the dog to his breast with one arm, threw the other about Eskew.

"It's a town—it's a town"—the old fellow flung himself free from the supporting arm—"it's a town you couldn't even trust a yellow dog to!"

He sank back upon Joe's shoulder, speechless. An open carriage had driven through the crowd, the colored driver urged by two ladies upon the back seat, and Martin Pike saw it stop by the group in the middle of the street where Joe stood, the wounded dog held to his breast by one arm, the old man, white and half fainting, supported by the other. Martin Pike saw this and more. He saw Ariel Tabor and his own daughter leaning from the carriage, the arms of both pityingly extended to Joe Louden and his two burdens, while the stunned and silly crowd stood round them staring, clouds of dust settling down upon them through the hot air.

CHAPTER XX.

NOW, in that blazing noon Canaan looked upon a strange sight—an open carriage whirling through Main street behind two galloping bays, upon the back seat a ghostly white old man with closed eyes, supported by two pale ladies, his head upon the shoulder of the taller, while beside the driver a young man whose coat and hands were bloody, worked over the hurts of an injured dog. Sam Warden's whip sang across the horses; lather gathered on their flanks, and Ariel's voice steadily urged on the pace, "Quicker, Sam, if you can." For there was little breath left in the body of Eskew Arp.

Mamie, almost as white as the old man, was silent, but she had not hesitated in her daring now that she had been taught to dare. She had not come to be Ariel's friend and honest follower for nothing, and it was Mamie who had cried to Joe to lift Eskew into the carriage. "You must come, too," she said. "We will need you." And so it came to pass that under the eyes of Canaan Joe Louden rode in Judge Pike's carriage at the bidding of Judge Pike's daughter.

Toward Ariel's own house they sped with the stricken octogenarian, for he was "alone in the world" and she would not take him to the cottage where he had lived for many years by himself, a bleak little house, a derelict of the "early days" left stranded far down in the town between a woolen mill and the water works. The workmen were beginning their dinners under the big trees, but as Sam Warden drew in the lathered horses at the gate they set down their tin buckets hastily and ran to help Joe lift the old man out. Carefully they bore him into the house and laid him upon a bed in one of the finished rooms. He did not speak or move, and the workmen uncovered their heads as they went out, but Joe knew that they were mistaken. "It's all right, Mr. Arp," he said, as Ariel knelt by the bed with water and restoratives. "It's all right. Don't you worry."

Then the veteran's lips twitched, and, though his eyes remained closed, Joe saw that Eskew understood, for he gasped feebly, "Pos-i-tive-ly—no—free—seats!"

To Mrs. Louden, sewing at an upstairs window, the sight of her stepson descending from Judge Pike's carriage was sufficiently startling, but when she saw Mamie Pike take Respectability from his master's arms and carry him tenderly indoors, while Joe and Ariel occupied themselves with Mr. Arp, the good lady sprang to her feet as if she had been stung, regardlessly sending her workbasket and its contents scattering over the floor and ran down the stairs three steps at a time.

At the front door she met her husband, entering for his dinner, and she leaped at him. Had he seen? What was it? What had happened?

Mr. Louden rubbed his chin beard, indulging himself in a pause which was like to prove fatal to his companion, finally vouchsafing the information that the doctor's buggy was just turning the corner. Eskew Arp had suffered a "stroke," it was said, and, in Louden's opinion, was a mighty sick man. His spouse replied in no uncertain terms that she had seen quite that much for herself, urging him to continue, which he did with a deliberation that caused her to recall her wedding day with a gust of passionate self reproach. Presently he managed to interrupt, reminding her that her dining room windows commanded as comprehensive a view of the next house as did the front steps, and after a time her housewifely duty so far prevailed over her indignation at the man's unwholesome stolidity that she followed him down the hall to preside over the meal, not, however, to partake largely of it herself.

Mr. Louden had no information of Eugene's mishap, nor had Mrs. Louden any suspicion that all was not well with the young man, and, hearing him enter the front door, she called to him that his dinner was waiting. Eugene, however, made no reply and went upstairs to his own apartment without coming into the dining room.

A small crowd, neighboring children, servants and negroes, had gathered about Ariel's gate, and Mrs. Louden watched the workingmen disperse this assembly, gather up their tools and depart. Then Mamie came out of the house and, bowing sadly to three old men who were entering the gate as she

Troubles of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—mean Stomach weakness, always. And the Heart, and Kidneys as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerves." Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion, use Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Write me today for sample and Free Book. Rheumatism

I have found a tried and tested cure for Rheumatism! Not a remedy that will straighten the distorted limbs of chronic cripples, nor turn bony growths back to flesh again. That is impossible. But I can now surely kill the pains and pangs of this deplorable disease.

In Germany—with a Chemist in the City of Darmstadt—I found the last ingredient with which Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy was made a perfected, dependable prescription. Without that last ingredient, I successfully treated many, many cases of Rheumatism; but now, at last, I uniformly cure all curable cases of this hereto-fore much dreaded disease. Those sand-like granular wastes, found in Rheumatic Blood seem to dissolve and pass away under the action of this remedy as freely as does sugar when added to pure water. And then, when dissolved, these poisonous wastes freely pass from the system, and the cause of Rheumatism is gone forever. There is now no real need—no actual excuse to suffer longer without help. We tell, and in confidence recommend

Impure Blood

Clogs the Kidneys
Slows the Heart
Flags the Brain.

Weakens Every Part of the Body Causes Organic Diseases.

Just as strength is the natural outcome of pure blood, so is debility and sickness the result of impure blood.

To know how quickly, how surely Ferrozone cures, to see how it rebuilds and restores, you have only to read the following letters—read them carefully—see if the symptoms resemble yours.

Miss Evelyn M. Gaetz, of Kingston, writes: "I have had an attack of blood disorder which broke out in horrid looking pimples. They were ugly, red, disfiguring blotches that ruined the appearance of my face. I tried all sorts of medicine, but the pimples didn't leave. I was recommended Ferrozone and gave it a trial. I noticed an improvement after the second box, and kept up the treatment which finally cleared my skin. As the result of Ferrozone I have a clear healthy complexion and can recommend it to all other young women similarly affected."

Another young lady well known in society circles of Springfield, who derived exceptional benefit from Ferrozone, says: "I felt it my duty to make known the value of Ferrozone. My trouble was poor, weak blood, and as a consequence my lips were pallid, and my cheeks had no color. I wasn't at all strong, and required a bracing tonic. Ferrozone soon brought color to my cheeks, improved my appetite and made me stronger than I have been in years. I favor Ferrozone because it is so simple to take and works so quickly."

No blood remedy exists that has the power to cure, to heal, to restore like Ferrozone; try it, 50c per box at any drugstore.

TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS

DASHES HERE AND THERE BY TIMES' REPORTERS.

Mr. Jas. W. Curry and Family Here

Mr. James W. Curry, ex-County Crown Attorney, and one of Canada's well known men, who will at the next election stand as candidate for East York, who now carries on a large legal practice in Millbrook, was a guest at the Snowden House on Monday. He was accompanied by Mrs. Curry, Miss Curry, Walter Curry and Mr. John McColl. They left by the 1.145 train for home.

Western Farmer Wants a Wife

A prosperous Minnesota, U.S. farmer, formerly well known in Emily township and in the County of Victoria, has written to the Lindsay Post asking that sheet to insert an advertisement for a wife. He wants "a girl or widow between 25 and 35." What is the matter with the girls of Peterborough, or with such of them as seek a matrimonial alliance with a prosperous Western farmer 41 years old?"

Chief and Mrs. Roszel At Reunion

A happy gathering was held in Smithville on Labor Day when Chief of Police Roszel and Mrs. Roszel joined in a most pleasant family reunion at the home of Mr John Davis, a cousin. There were between two hundred and fifty and three hundred persons present and all were more or less related. A very pleasant time was spent in social intercourse. Songs and instrumental music added to the day's enjoyment

$100 REWARD, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood an dmucous surfaces of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Steamer Monarch Not to Blame

In conversation with Mr. McAllister, the veteran (by experience, but not by years), mate of the Monarch, The Times has ascertained that the recent collision between that steamer and the Otonabee resulted through there being shallow water. The fact is that the Monarch did not, as related to us by an eye witness, evidently and infact prevent to be mistaken, ram the Otonabee. The whole matter was simply an accident as might, and unfortunately does too often occur even to the largest ocean grey hounds.

A HINT FOR TRAMPERS.

Chamois Heels to Slip Over the Stockings.

Walking in the mountains seems to be more destructive to the stockings than any other form of exercise, even bicycling. The change of grades appears to bring special stress upon the heels and necessitates darning in holiday time, when darning is most obnoxious. Having had experience with this, we were delighted to discover at a drug store some chamois heels which could be slipped over the stockings when tramping and saved a great deal of wear upon them. These are not always to be found, but they can be easily made at home if some care is taken in cutting a pattern and carefully fitting it to the person who is to wear the heels. For the pattern cut a piece of paper five inches square, marking it at the top and bottom. Fold it across the middle, and on the fold make a cut an inch and a quarter deep from each edge. From the point thus reached cut a curve to the two lower corners. Fold the lower corners over on the outside so that they almost meet the upper corners. Fit this to the heel and when properly shaped cut out the chamois, stitching it smoothly and firmly in form and adding two elastic bands to reach over the ankle from the two sets of corners. There are such differences in the sizes of heels that the pattern must necessarily be somewhat modified for different ages, but if properly made and carefully worn these heels are very useful.—J. H. in Good Housekeeping.

FOR THE TABLE.

A Dainty Way of Serving Potatoes and Peas.

Boil about a pound of dry, floury potatoes. If at all inclined to be watery, it is better to bake them in their jackets or steam them. Beat them till quite smooth and light, season with pepper and a pinch of nutmeg, if liked, add an ounce of butter and the yolks of two eggs, and beat till these ingredients are well blended and smooth. When cool roll out, using just sufficient flour to make this possible, to the thickness of about one and one-half inches. Cut out into rounds the size of a tumbler, and with a smaller cutter remove a piece from the top of each, as though making patties. Egg and breadcrumb them very neatly, place in a frying basket and fry to a light brown. Fill the cavities with cooked peas nicely seasoned and tossed in butter and place the piece removed from the center on top of the peas to form a lid.

Drinking at Meals.

Most physicians today will tell you never to take any liquid, and least of all water, during meals. There are, however, two sides to the question.

Those with a tendency to gout or other diseases arising from excess of uric acid should avoid liquids until two hours, at least, after eating.

For those without such a tendency there is no harm in drinking a moderate amount at the end of the meal.

There is, therefore, sound reason back of the custom of keeping the coffee for the last course. Even when this prandial drinking is permissible, one should avoid excess. A little cold water held in the mouth is often just as refreshing as if gallons of the liquid had been consumed.

The great American fault—or one of them—is the consumption of enormous quantities of ice water, which is really a deadly beverage and not fit for civilized man to drink. I emphasize the "civilized," for no savage would do anything so stupid as to chill and paralyze the muscles of his stomach in the belief that he is cooling his skin.

The rule, then, is a little water if you are healthy and your stomach is normal, not too cold, and taken at the end of the meal. And thus will you avoid the countless ills to which most drinkers during meals are heirs.

Using the Blotter.

A woman was trying to lift a big blot of ink from a letter with a piece of blotting paper, with the usual result of making the blot bigger and uglier than it was at first. "Let me show you how to do that," said her friend. "I learned the trick in a stationer's shop in London last year. You just moisten the corner of the blotter first, to get it started, and then apply it to the ink spot. There! Isn't it wonderful how clean it takes it all up?"

For Sore Throats.

For an ordinary sore throat, with loss of voice or hunkiness, dip a folded handkerchief in cold water. Encircle the neck with the wet handkerchief and cover it with several folds of old flannel. One night's application is usually sufficient to relieve slight cases.

New Whip Found in Lourc

A local citizen called up the Times yesterday, and his message as taken down was, "Say, Mr. Editor, just say in your paper that if the two young men with a jag and bay horse, in a carriage, who drove along Donro road a few days ago, will call at the Crown Hotel they can get their new whip they dropped, as I found and took it there." The fact of the horse apparently benig in the carriage does not mean that our informant is an Irishman.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

COMMON SENSE

Leads most intelligent people to use only medicines of known compositions. Therefore it is that Dr. Pierce's medicines, the makers of which print every ingredient entering into them upon the bottle wrappers and attest its correctness under oath, are daily growing in favor. The composition of Dr. Pierce's medicines is open to everybody. Dr. Pierce being desirous of having the search light of investigation turned fully upon his formulæ, being confident that the better the composition of these medicines is known the more will their great curative merits be recognized. Being wholly made of the active medicinal principles extracted from native forest roots, by exact processes original with Dr. Pierce, and without the use of a drop of alcohol, triple-refined and chemically pure glycerine being used instead in extracting and preserving the curative virtues residing in the roots employed, these medicines are entirely free from the objection of doing harm by creating an appetite for either alcoholic beverages or habit-forming drugs. Examine the formula on their bottle wrappers—the same as sworn to by Dr. Pierce, and you will find that his "Golden Medical Discovery," the great, blood-purifier, stomach tonic and bowel regulator—the medicine which, while not recommended to cure consumption in its advanced stages (no medicine will do that) yet does cure all those catarrhal conditions of head and throat, weak stomach, torpid liver and bronchial troubles, weak lungs and hang-on-coughs, which, if neglected or badly treated lead up to and finally terminate in consumption.

Take the "Golden Medical Discovery" in time and it is not likely to disappoint you if only you give it a thorough and fair trial. Don't expect miracles. It won't do supernatural things. You must exercise your patience and persevere in its use for a reasonable length of time to get its full benefits. The ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's medicines are composed have the unqualified endorsement of scores of medical leaders—better than any amount of lay, or non-professional, testimonials. They are not given away to be experimented with but are sold by all dealers in medicines at reasonable prices.

Man Named Stuart Was Touched for Ninety Dollars While on a Drunk--Number of Local Boys Arrested in Connection with the Robbery

Yesterday morning shortly before the police court adjourned an elderly little man named Stuart, called at the police station and told a veritable tale of woe. According to Stuart's story he imbibed too deeply and too frequently on Tuesday. When he set out to "have a good time," he had a considerable sum of money in his pockets. Yesterday morning when he awoke and found his head in that swelled condition that necessitated the use of a shoe horn to get his hat on, Mr. Stuart felt through his pockets to ascertain how he stood financially. The result of his search developed the condemnable fact that from the affluence of the day before, he had got to a condition whereby it was up to him to use the smile that won't come off when he applied to Mr. Bar-keep for an eye-opener. In plain and colloquial English he had been "stung" for about $90.

When spoken to by a Times man, Stuart said he had lost all memory of what occurred on Tuesday. He had however hopes that the police will recover his strayed $90. It seems that a local liveryman saw the robbed man in company with certain parties whom he knows. This is the only hope on which Stuart placed any reliance as to a clue of whom took his coin. This was an expensive frivolity and no one knows it better than Mr. Stuart.

THE MONEY FOUND.

During yesterday the local police did detective work that reflects great credit upon the Peterborough force. By two p.m., there were four boys named respectively Earl Fredenburg, Fred Warboy, Jas. Reynolds and Geo. Fowler behind the police station cell, charged with the robbery. A special session of the court was held at 3.30 p.m., when several witnesses gave testimony. The boy Reynolds, about 16 years of age pleaded guilty to being implicated in the robbery. His story was that Stuart got a rig from a local livery stable and took them for a drive. The man Stuart was drunk and in pulling out his watch dragged out a roll of bills, which he took possession of. He then went on to explain how a good part of the money was spent and showed how he had divided the money among some of the other boys. He said that young Warboy returned the rig to the stable. Two of the boys, Fredenburg and Warboy were discharged, Reynolds and Geo. Fowler were locked up and will be brought for further trial on Saturday.

A further charge was preferred against Reynolds of having supplied one of the other boys, under the legal age for using nicotine with tobacco. Reynolds admitted the charge. Young Fowler went on the witness stand and gave his version of the robbery which contradicted the story told by the self-convicted Reynolds. Reynolds, however insisted that it was Fowler who stole the money from Stuart. About $35 was recovered of the stolen money.

Just about 4.30, as the trial terminated, Stuart, the man who lost the $90, appeared in court, and his then condition clearly demonstrated that Stuart was not a stranger to the use and subsequent effects of alcoholic stimulants. Magistrate Dumble, when Stuart arrived in court and was called to the witness stand, looked over his glasses and fixing a steely eye on the robbed man, remarked, "Well, Stuart you seem to have been drinking again today." "Not a (hic-hic) drop have I touched today, your honor." "Well," replied his worship, "if you haven't, you look like it." Stuart then went onto give a semi-sensible account of how he had arrived in town Tuesday with $100 in his pockets and how he was robbed of the whole sum, excepting what he had spent on a pair of boots and one or two other articles. The magistrate then asked, "Say, Stuart, don't you remember anything about the proceedings of Tuesday?" "Not a thing your worship, I was full as a bag and I don't remember anything about what took place. All I know is that I was robbed of some $80 or $90." "Don't you remember that drive you took with the boys charged with robbing you?" "Divil a thing can I recall, all I know is that my bank roll is gone and I don't know what pocket it was in. I guess I had it spread all over my clothes."

Here the chief butted in and said, "Now Stuart if you get sober be here on Saturday morning at nine o'clock and whatever we have of your money will be handed to you."

When Stuart found that part of his money was recovered, he said, "Say your worship, can't I get a dollar or two for expenses int he meantime?" The magistrate, seemingly recognizing his condition, replied, "No sir, not one cent, you sober up and be here Saturday morning and you will get all that is coming to you."

Police Court

At yesterday's police court five young boys who had created a disturbance a few nights ago at the corner of Hunter and Aylmer streets, were each fined $2.

A boy, 16 years old, named Wesley Crowder, was found guilty of stealing a bicycle from A Rose. He was fined $10 and costs $9, said fine to be paid forthwith. Mr. Gordon who appeared for the prisoner, asked that the boy's father be given time to pay the amount, but the magistrate was adamant.

John R. Dundas was charged with having forged a cheque on the Bank of Ottawa for $15 on W. J. Johnston. Dundas elected to be tried by the county judge. Mr. Charles E. Coleman, the George street confectioner, went into the witness box and identified the prisoner who has dealt in his store of late. On Saturday, Aug. 10th, Dundas, got him to cash a cheque signed by W. J. Johnston, for $15. Dundas had endorsed the cheque before bringing it to the store. Witness put the cheque through his account in the Bank of Commerce. He got a note from prisoner about the cheque. He then telephoned the Bank and was told he could get the cheque back by paying the $15. Prisoner afterwards came to his store and said he was sorry for what he had done and would like to "square the matter up." At the time Dundas cashed the cheque he told witness he was in the habit of getting his cheques cashed at a grocery store.

Mr. Wood, County Crown Attorney, here produced the cheque and correspondence which witness identified.

Ald. Johnston next went into the box and said the prisoner had not been working for him. He said the cheque produced was not signed by him, although the signature on it corresponded with his name and initials. He did not owe Dundas any money.

Dundas was then committed for trial before his Honor Judge Weller, probably next Tuesday.

John Dainerd was charged with having on Sept. 1st, cruelly treated a dog by hitting it with stones.

Mr. Redmond the complainant, went to the witness stand dragging a dog, that lay on its side unable to stand, by a strap. On Sunday the dog followed him out of his garden. A boy kicked his dog, three times. Prisoner ran down the fence, keeping inside, and threw stones at the dog.

Mr. Dainerd then said that Sunday evening he was sitting on his father's verandah, next door to Redmond. A boy stopped in front of Redmond's to read a sign. He heard Redmond tell the boy to move on. Redmond opened his gate and "sicced" the dog on the boy, so witness went to the boy's aid as the animal was chashing the boy and jumped on the lad. Witness then threw a stone at the dog.

The magistrate here gave old Mr. Redmond a heart to heart talk telling him to keep his mouth shut, adding, "It is your ugly dirty temper that gets you into trouble with the boys!"

The court was then cleared for a juvenile trial.

A boy named Burgoyne, pleaded guilty to stealing $2 on September 3rd. This is a seemingly incorrigible boy, as he has stolen money and other articles at various times. Mr. Wood noted that the boy had evidently got beyond his father's control and that even the application of a raw hide would not do any good. The boy who is twelve years old, was committed to the Reformatory.

News Briefs

Windsor—A wolf hunt has been in progress in Sandwich East Township, near here. While cultivating corn, David Lamar came across seven whelps and is convinced they are young wolves.

New York, Aug. 29.—George Heinkenschlosz, once an artist of merit and whose pictures are said to adorn many local drawing rooms, was picked up from the gutter of a street leading from the Bowery last night, with a fractured skull that is likely to cause his death.

Kankakee, Ill., Sept. 1.—Miss Flossie Bennett, the 16 year old girl who has been asleep, except for a few short intervals, for a week, tells, in her waking moments, of seeing visions of dead relatives and friends and of holding conversations with them. She was awake for two hours today, but lapsed into slumber afternoon and was still sleeping soundly late tonight.

Burlington, Iowa, Sept. 1.—Raving over the death of his brother, E. R. Hancock, who was killed in a railroad accident at Galesburg Friday, Howard Hancock of Omaha was taken from a Burlington passenger train at Osceola today and brought to Burlington for confinement until he could be transferred in a strait-jacket to the Mount Pleasant insane asylum. The young man required the effort of the trainmen to keep him from injuring himself and the passengers.

Kankakee, Ill., Sept. 1.—The perfectly preserved skeleton of an aborigine who apparently lived in the stone age was unearthed today by Peter Baron, a farmer who lives four miles southeast of St. Anne. Every bone was in its proper place, and beside the head lay the remains of a war bonnet made of feathers. Beside the skeleton lay a rude stone ax and a stone knife, and near at hand was a pipe made of red stone, lying in a bucket made of metal.

The sheriff had been warned previously that an attempt might be made to lynch his prisoner on their arrival here. On Sunday Young was accosted by several men, who asked him what he would do if they should attempt to lynch Biggins.

"Shoot the first man who tries it," he said.

Police Officer Newhall Entertains Local Man

Mr. R. J. Munro Welcomed and Wet Treated in Liverpool

Yesterday a gentleman acquainted with Mr. R. J. Munro, proprietor of the Munro House, noted, to a Times representative that Mr. Munro had a good example of "how small the world is," while in the City of Liverpool, England, on his recent trip to Europe, for which he has just returned. It seems that as Mr. Munro was passing down Lime street, Liverpool he unexpectedly met Police Officer Sam Newhall of the local force, now in England on a six weeks' absence. P. C. Newhall cordially met and shook hands with the wandering local bonifface and then took him round the city. Newhall also introduced Mr. Munro to his, Newhall's, brothers, and also to a former lodger at the Munro House, Peterborough, named Hetherington, but now an officer on the Liverpool police force. Mr. Newhall, our informant stated gave Mr. Munro a good time in Liverpool for several days.

Change in T. V. C. Navigation Time

The popular Trent Valley Navigation Co. steamers have, since the beginning of September, made a material change int heir ordinary summer schedule. Now the fall schedule is in force. A glance at the changed time table given in other columns of this issue will show that instead of the summer arrangements as per former schedules published, the boats will leave Lakefield only twice a day, viz., at 9.15 a.m., and 6.15 p.m. Those interested should consult the changed time table.

Peterboro's Milk Under Inquisition

Mr. P. Downham Tests the Local Milk for Insp. Ball

Yesterday morning Sanitary Inspector Geo. Ball was out early with a horse and buggy and a decided intention to ascertain how the milk vendors of Peterborough were handling or adulterating the lacteal fluid sold by them to the adults or children, particularly the latter, of this city. Mr. Ball certainly is doing the duty this city has assigned to him. He tackled some 23 or 24 of the local milk men and took samples, then sealed of their goods. As soon as possible he took his samples, distinguished by numbers, not by names, to Mr. P. Downham, proprietor of the Peterborough Creamery, Aylmer street, for analysis. Now this plan of Mr. Ball's of designatting the various samples by number, not by name, precluded any chance of favoritism on the part of the testor, even though such were possible.

It will be remembered that a city bylaw was recently passed authorizing Mr. Downham, a creamery and milk expert of long standing and deep knowledge in this branch of the dairy business, to examine and report on the local milk.

Last night The Times called up Mr. Downham at his factory and asked the results. We first asked, "Whose milk was above and whose was below the standard?" Mr. Downham, after getting "on to the combination," or, in English, ascertaining who was speaking, replied that he did not know the names of the milkmen whose milk was submitted, as the samples simply came to him by numbers. Still Mr. Downham assured us that taking 3.50 as a "standard, the 23 or 24 samples submitted passed in fairly good examination as to butter-fat contained therein. There were 6 or 8 under the presumed standard of 3.50, but even those below were fairly good.

One in Three

Every Third Person Poisoned by Coffee

It is difficult to make people believe that coffee is an absolute poison to at least one person out of every three, but people are slowly finding it out, although thousands of them suffer terribly before they discover the fact.

A New York hotel man says: "Each time after drinking coffee I became restless, nervous and excited, so that I was unable to sit five minutes in one place, was also inclined to vomit and suffered from loss of sleep, which got worse and worse.

"A lady said that perhaps coffee was the cause of my trouble, and suggested that I try Postum Food Coffee. I laughed at the thought that coffee hurt me, but she insisted so hard that I finally had some Postum made. I have been using it in place of coffee ever since, for I notice that all my former nervousness and irritation disappeared. I began to sleep perfectly, and the Postum tasted as good or better than the old coffee, so what was the use of sticking to a beverage that was ruining me?

"One day on an excursion up the country I remarked to a young lady friend on her greatly improved appearance. She explained that some time before she had quit using coffee and taken Postum. She had gained a number of pounds and her former palpitation of the heart, humming in the ears, trembling of the hands and legs and other disagreeable feelings had disappeared. She recommended me to quit coffee and take Postum and was very much surprised to find that I had already made the change.

"She said her brother had also received great benefit from leaving off coffee and taking on Postum Food Coffee." "There's a Reason." Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

Reynolds Wants Hartley to Put Up or Shut Up.

Toronto, Sept. 5.—Jimmy Reynolds, the walking barber of Port Hope, who made the sensational attempt some time ago to walk to Toronto and back in 36 hours, is not content with his past performances, and before long will be engaged in another onslaught on the record. This time, however, Jimmy will have things a little different, inasmuch as his attempt will be in the form of a race.

Since Reynolds' last attempt the citizens of Peterborough have been startled by the performances of one David Hartley, whose latest feat has been a thirty-four mile walk, from Bellieboro to Peterborough, in five hours and forty-eight minutes. Hartley thinks he is a better man than Reynolds, and he has accordingly challenged the latter to a race over the Port Hope to Toronto route.

Reynolds is willing to arrange the match, but only under certain conditions.

He will not walk in the hot weather under any circumstances, and, as Hartley is much younger, Jimmy Reynolds being 57 years of age, and, as Hartley is confideng of his powers, Jimmy will demand a handicap of four hours. He will then undertake to walk to Toronto and back with the Peterborough chap and beat him. He says that it is now up to Hartley to put up or shut up. Jimmy will wager any sum Hartley likes to name.

The Humber Bay Nearly Claimed Two More Victims

Toronto, Sept. 5.—Humber Bay nearly claimed two more victims early yesterday morning.

Shortly before two o'clock James May, who lives in the vicinity and Mrs. McCullough, of 47 Vanauley St., were rescued clinging to an upturned boat nearly three-quarters of a mile out from the point near the Ocean Grove Hotel, at the foot of Roncesvalles avenuue.

NEARLY EXHAUSTED.

The man was nearly exhausted and would have gone down within five minutes. The woman, whom he was supporting held up better.

The two were over an hour in the water. They were taken into John Devins' boat house, and Dr. R. B. Orr summoned. In an hour or so they were able to go to their homes, apparently little the worse for their long exposure and the dangerous position from which they were rescued.

RESIDENTS WERE AWAKENED.

The residents of the whole neighborhood were awakened by their screams for help. These were loud and piercing, and were heard nearly as far as College street.

Many thought of another Dalvin disaster, and proceeded to Sunnyside to render what aid they could.

P. C. Gardiner, who was on his beat nearby, secured a boat when first he heard the cries and rowed out to where the cries seemed to be coming from, and found the man and woman clinging to the boat, a small skiff.

Dr. Orr stated that the night watchman at the railway crossing was the first to hear the cries and he sent for aid. John Devins and several others hurried out in a boat to the rescue.

"I found the two in the kitchen of the Devins' restaurant when I reached there about 3.30 in the morning," said Dr. Orr.

"The woman did not seem in bad condition, but the man was lying on a lounge, shivering violently. Both were over 40 years of age. I attended to them and the woman recovered enough to be sent home on a car. The man I ordered to walk home himself, as I thought it would do him good."

"What reason was given for the boat upsetting?"

"The man said he was rowing and the woman moved in the boat and it upset."

Conservative Leader Here on Sept. 11th

Mr. R. L. Borden to be Given a Cordial Reception in Peterboro

Mr. R. L. Borden, chief of the great Conservative party of Canada, will speak here on Wednesday, September 11th in the opera house. A great 11th, in the opera house. A great demonstration is to be given this renowned Canadian political leader, and it is anticipated that every effort will be made by the local Conservatives to do honor to their leader.

Mr. James Kendry, president of the Liberal Conservative Association of West Peterborough, will preside. Ladies are especially invited to attend the gathering.

Among the leading members of the Conservative party who will speak here in company with Mr. Borden, are Messrs. A. Claude Macdonnell, M.P., of Toronto, W. B. Northrup, M.P., of Belleville, A. Brodeur, M.P., Morrisburg, T. Chase Casgrain, ex-M.P., Montreal, and Mr. T. E. Bradburn, the popular local representative of the Ontario Legislature.

Mr. Borden, after addressing the big meeting here in the evening, will proceed to Dunnville, via Brantford, where he will speak on Thursday, Sept. 12th.

Cavendish Man was Fined Forty Dollars

Back Country Settler Had to Pay for Transgressing the Law

W. O. Haines of Cavendish township, was yesterday on trial before County Magistrate Edmonson, charged with carrying a revolver and dirk, assaulting his mother-in-law, Mrs. Westlake and using obscene and abusive language to her. The charges were made by Mrs. Westlake. Haines pleaded guilty to the charge of carrying the revolver and dirk, but denied the other two charges. He was defended by Mr. R. F. McWilliams, while Mr. G. N. Gordon appeared for the complainant.

Evidence was taken which was not of the most savory nature. It appears that the Haines-Westlake combination have been at odds for some time. Haines is married to Mrs. Westlake's daughter and their domestic life has not been characterized by love. He has also had trouble with his mother-in-law, as at least his mother-in-law says she has had trouble with him.

The result was that Haines was fined $10 and $30 costs, or ten days in all on the revolver carrying charge, the two other charges being dismissed.

Two Women Dead In Toronto Hotel

Visitors Leave Gas Cock Open Which Caused Death

A despatch received yesterday conveyed the sad intelligence that two women, Mrs. Shannon and Mrs. McEwen, both of Hurlock, Ont., were found dead yesterday morning in their rooms at the Osgoode House, the room being full of gas. The ladies were exhibition visitors, and evidently had turned off the gas and turned it on again by mistake, as the tube was turned on fully. Coroner W. J. Greig decided that the case was one of accidental death. The two had never been in the city before and did not understand how to operate gas, said the coroner.

New Regulations re Weighing of Cheese

At yesterday's session of the Cheese Board a matter of considerable local interest was discussed, viz., the difference in weights of cheese between Peterborough and Belleville. Mr. Cook stated that on the produce of one factory he had bought on the Peterborough Board there had been a difference of nearly one pound per box in the weighing at Peterborough and at Belleville.

President Riddell stated that the buyer had the privilege of picking certain boxes for weighing but the question arose as to who would bring the picked cheese back from the car to have them weighed. He did not think the man who brought in the cheese would bring them back to be weighed after first having gone to the market scales to have them weighed.

Several of the salesmen agreed that the buyer had the privilege to weigh three or five cheese as the case might be, but they did not think that the farmer should bring them back from the car to the scales.

Finally it was resolved that the cheese first be weighed at the market scales and then taken to the car and the weight presented to the buyer.

THE BRITISH NAVY

King Edward recently reviewed in the Solent, a channel between the Isle of Wight and the English mainland and in close proximity to Portsmouth, one of the great naval stations, what is said to be the most powerful British fleet ever assembled under the command of a single admiral. The vessels then assembled constituted what is known as the "Home Fleet" under the new distribution of the British naval forces. The Admiralty's plan of organization is supposed to provide for the efficient protection of the United Kingdom and includes this home fleet, comprising many of the most powerful vessels in the navy, and always ready to proceed to sea at a few hours' notice. The great Dreadnought at present regarded as the most powerful warship in commission in any navy, is the flagship of the home fleet which is under the command of Admiral Bridgeman. At the review referred to, there were about two hundred vessels assembled, ranging from battleships to torpedo boats, forming a fleet complete in all arms and assumed to be superior in armament and other details to any force that two other powers in combination could bring against it without long preparation. The officers and crews of this fleet amounted in the aggregate to thirty-five thousand men.

The change in policy which the British Admiralty has adopted within the last few years has not been carried out without considerable criticism by naval experts and others. It is understood to be the work chiefly of Sir John Fisher, the First Sea Lord of the Board of Admiralty, and his critics do not hesitate to describe the situation of the Admiralty as that of a "one man autocracy." But there appears to be so much to recommend the arrangement, that the hostile criticism has not apparently ken the confidence either of parliament or the public in the new policy. It is claimed for it that it combines mobility, efficiency and the possibility of rapidly concentrating an overwhelming force at a given point with economy in the naval ex- in the line of battle against modern cruisers even of the second class. At the same time the maintenance of these different distant fleets entailed large expense on the country, without any satisfactory result in case of a war with a first class naval power. Under the new policy these squadrons have been withdrawn; many of the vessels composing them have been sold and broken up, and their crews transferred to the vessels in the fleets organized under the new system.

Great Britain's foreign policy and the new situation brought about by the Russo-Japanese war, and new combinations between the powers, have, of course, had not a little to do with the Admiralty's action in the distribution of the fleet. Russia has ceased to count as a naval factor in the international situation; the entente cordiale with France has removed any anxiety about our nearest neighbor, while an understanding with France, Spain and Italy regarding the status in the Mediterranean has relieved Great Britain of the necessity of keeping a large naval force in those waters. In the Far East the alliance with Japan gives British interests the support of that power's navy, and, as a consequence, there are now no British battleships held in those waters, while the friendliness of the United States obviates the penditure greater than was possible under the former system. In the past the vessels of the British navy were distributed at various points in all parts of the globe. The immediate defence of the United Kingdom rested on the channel fleet, which, however, was more powerful on paper than in fact, since it included vessels in the different naval ports which had not their full complement of officers and men, and in some cases could not therefore, put to sea fully equipped without considerable loss of time. There was also a powerful fleet in the Mediterranean, but even could it hav eleft that important post on the route to India, it could not have reached home waters in order to reinforce the Channel Fleet without considerable loss of time. On the various distant stations such as the China, North Pacific, North Atlantic, West Indies and the India and Australian stations, there were squadrons composed of vessels of various classes, some of them obsolescent if not, indeed, obsolete, and quite incapable of meeting warships with much prospect of success. We have had the opportunity of observing this in the North Pacific squadron, which for many years had its station at Esquimalt. Probably suitable for cruising purposes and with the object of making the British flag known in these waters, the vessels in the squadron were quite incapable of being put necessity of maintaining fleets on the West India or North Atlantic stations. On the other hand, the construction of the Kiel Canal has enabled Germany to assemble a powerful fleet within a few hours' steaming of the ports on the east coast of Great Britain, and this is doubtless one of the principal reasons for the rearrangement of the stations and strength of the British fleet.

Favor Return of the Guillotine

Paris, Sept. 2.—There is reason to believe that the guillotine may again make its appearance in France for the carrying out of capital punishment. The High Court has denied the appeal made by Soleillant, who was condemned to death in this city last month for the atrocious murder of a little child. President Fallieres alone can now save the man. There is a considerable element of the French public which favors the restoration of the guillotine in the case of Soleillant on account of the atrocity of his crime, and it is believed, moreover, that the use of this instrument would check the wave of brutal assaults which lately has swept over the country. M. Lepine, the Prefect of Police, is arranging to erect a guillotine in a secluded spot.

Beware of Mercury

You May be Using this Harmful Drug and Not Know it.

A favorite method of administering this deleterious drug is in cathartic pills. Beware of "quick-result" articles, they may no more harm than good.

Drastic cathartics will weaken the strongest. With old people they are a positive menace to life.

Merely to restore normal bowel action and gently stimulate the liver is all that the wise physician recommends.

To keep the system pure and clean, nothing is so efficacious, as the vegetable pills of Dr Hamilton, which are composed of such herbs as mandrake, butternut and dandelion, they contain not an atom of any substance that could injure even an infant.

By their certain action on the Liver Dr. Hamilton's Pills cause bile to be secreted which forms the stimulus that moves the bowels, this is nature's own method and the best one.

Mr R. Hannaby, of French River, Ont., writes as follows: "I was inclined to bilious attacks and frequently was too ill to work. Most remedies purged and weakened my bowels, but Dr Hamilton's Pills gently stimulated my liver, and by strengthening the stomach made a perfect cure. My health has been just splendid since I used Dr. Hamilton's Pills."

Get Dr. Hamilton's Pills from your druggist or storekeeper, 25c per box or five boxes for $1. By mail from N. C. Polson & Co. Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., or Kingston, Ont.

CHILD TRAINING.

A School in Which Mothers Should Be Taught the Art.

If a child is told he must not do a certain thing, no argument should change the verdict, and if he disobeys he must be made to pay a penalty one way or another.

He need not be treated with severity, but he may be deprived of some pleasure or privilege or toy and in that way will be made to understand.

Indulgent mothers should remember that they are treating unfairly and unkindly the little creatures whom they love most of all. Your kind of kindness is not kindness at all.

You who are so careful what the child puts into his stomach should watch just as carefully what he puts into his brain.

Through lack of proper teaching he can acquire a state of mental dyspepsia that will become chronic and which will make it impossible for him to enjoy the very sweetest things in life.

Think about it, will you?

The child, like the adult, makes friends, and the more tender your child is loved the better are his fortunes likely to be.

Help your child to be splendid, unselfish, beautiful of character. There are enough of the other kind in the world, and it is people of the better sort that are needed.

There should be a school in which mothers should be taught the art of bringing up their children.

It is upon this teaching that the character of the future generations depends.

Those spoiled babies who mustbowed to hit their aunties in the noses with tin pails will never be presidents of the United States. They won't even be able to hold down the job of office boy. Many a man struggled unsuccessfully all through his life to overcome the frightful havoc wrought by the silly indulgence of a doting mother.

GOOD ADVICE.

What to Do When Things Are Lost in Public Places.

When on leaving a theatre, lecture hall, etc., you discover that some valuable has disappeared, do not lose your head immediately. There are, after all is said, many more honest people in this world than dishonest, and the chances are that if you go about it properly you will recover the article.

First of all, register your loss at the box office or superintendent's room. Give your name and address plainly, being sure that they are correctly taken down, and if you wish to offer any reward for its return name the amount. Be sure to leave money for the management to telephone you if their search is rewarded and give your telephone number. Then ask for some one, or if this is not granted get permission yourself, to search the parlor the house in which you were sitting.

If after a day you have no word of the loss, advertise in at least one morning and one evening paper, naming the articles explicitly, so as to avoid confusion. If you wish, you may name the theatre as the place to which it is to be returned. Most places are kind and courteous in such matters and only too anxious to help you in your search. If they return the valuable to you, do not forget that the man who has acted as their agent is worthy of thanks at least if you do not wish to reward him in any more substantial way.

And, finally, if the lost article was a piece of jewelry it would be well to have a jeweler make the clasp stronger to avoid further loss.

THE VOICE ADMIRED.

It is the well poised woman who enjoys admiration and respect.

Train the ear to recognize pleasant sounding, agreeable voices and listen to your own critically.

Just as the touch of a woman's hand should be a warm caress, so should her voice fall upon the ear with pleasantness.

The voice that is heard without raising the natural speaking tones is the well modulated voice which impresses one with its calm and its sincerity.

A course of instruction in vocal culture will create a decided change many times, but a vast improvement may be found in deep breathing and careful attention.

Tomato Fritters.

Choose ripe but firm tomatoes, not too small. Peel them by dipping for an instant into boiling water; cut in slices half an inch thick. Make a frying batter with half a pound of flour, two eggs, half a pint of milk and a little salt; mix the flour smoothly with the milk, add the yolks of eggs and salt. If possible, allow the batter to stand for an hour or two. Then beat the whites of the eggs to a stiff froth and add them to the other ingredients; carefully dry each slice of tomato, coat it in the batter and fry till brown in boiling fat; drain on paper and serve very hot.

The Linen Shower.

When giving a linen shower send out the invitation on paper which looks like hemstitched linen. It is best for the guests to meet before calling upon the bride-elect and arrange what presents are to be sent. No difference what marked pieces you give the young woman, the monogram should be with her maiden initials.

Colds on the Chest

Ask your doctor the medical name for a cold on the chest. He will say, "Bronchitis." Ask him if it is ever serious. Lastly, ask him if he prescribes Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for this disease. Keep in close touch with your family physician, and follow his advice carefully.

We have no secrets! We publish the formulas of all our preparations. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

Something New in Copper

PITTSBURG - IDAHO
Mining and Milling Company

The mine is located 58 miles above Lewiston, Idaho, on the Clearwater river, and consists of 19 full claims, or 380 acres. It is developed by tunnels, shafts and open cuts for more than 2100 feet, disclosing thousands of tons of copper, gold and silver ores of both high grade and low grade. There are between 1000 and 2000 tons of ore ready for shipment. The entrance to the working tunnel is only 2000 feet from the track of the Northern Pacific railroad, to be reached by gravity tramway. There are seven parallel veins running lengthwise of the claims, one cropping out on the surface for 2000 feet and another for 3000 feet, while two veins cross these running into the mountain. These veins are from 30 to 200 feet wide. One ore chute has been crosscut 90 feet and is solid ore from wall to wall.

We are not asking you to buy in a prospect. That risk was taken by the promoters. We are asking you to buy in a developed, proven mine. Seven years of continuous work and the expenditure of thousands of dollars has proven up one of the greatest mines in Idaho. That mine is now ready to pour out its red and yellow wealth to the world with the installing of an up to date production plant. It is for that purpose that a block of its treasury stock, full paid and non-assessable, is offered for sale. We believe that within six months from the completion of a 100 ton plant the mine can be put on a dividend paying basis, and that those dividends will be substantial and permanent. There is no better investment proposition before the people at this time.

CAPITALIZATION $1,000,000. - PAR VALUE $1.

All promotion stock pooled during the sale of this treasury stock.

Messrs. Thos. Patterson & Co., Peterborough, Ont., are authorized to receive subscriptions for this stock, to whom all applications should be made.

Good Local Agent Wanted

I OFFER YOU A 10c STOCK FOR 5c

In the month of September the price of GUGGENHEIM-GREENWATER COPPER STOCK goes to 10 cents. All who buy shares from the Company will pay that for them.

I secured an option on a block of stock to sell at 5 cents. Until this block is exhausted I can fill orders at 5 cents. I can give those who buy of me for 5 cts., what others will be paying 10 cts. for.

Everyone who sees this advertisement surely has read of Greenwater and Ely, the wonderful new copper districts. The Guggenheim-Greenwater Copper Company owns groups of claims in both places. Work is in progress, and the indications are the best.

Here is a chance for little money to make a fortune. Other mines in the same district have made fortunes, and they have been less promising before development than the Guggenheim Greenwater Company's property.

See me at once about this. One hundred shares will cost you only $5; one thousand shares, $50. The block of stock which I have will not last long. Get for 5 what others are glad to pay 10 for.

THE CONQUEST of CANAAN

By BOOTH TARKINGTON,
Author of "Cherry," "Monsieur Beaucaire," Etc.

COPYRIGHT, 1905, BY HARPER & BROTHERS

left it, stepped into her carriage and drove away. The newcomers, Colonel Flitcroft, Squire Buckalew and Peter Bradbury, glanced at the doctor's buggy, shook their heads at one another and slowly went up to the porch, where Joe met them. Mrs. Louden uttered a sharp exclamation, for the colonel shook hands with her stepson.

Perhaps Flitcroft himself was surprised. He had offered his hand almost unconsciously, and the greeting was embarrassed and perfunctory, but his two companions, each in turn, gravely followed his lead, and Joe's set face flushed a little. It was the first time in many years that men of their kind in Canaan had offered him this salutation.

"He wouldn't let me send for you," he told them. "He said he knew you'd be here soon without that." And he led the way to Eskew's bedside.

Joe and the doctor had undressed the old man and had put him into nightgear of Roger Tabor's taken from an antique chest. It was soft and yellow and much more like color than the face above it, for the white hair on the pillow was not whiter than that. Yet there was a strange youthfulness in the eyes of Eskew, an eerie, inexplicable, luminous, live look. The thin cheeks seemed fuller than they had been for years, and, though the heavier lines of age and sorrow could be seen, they appeared to have been half erased. He lay not in sunshine, but in clear light. The windows were open, the curtains restrained, for he had asked them not to darken the room.

The doctor was whispering in a doctor's way to Ariel at the end of the room opposite the bed when the three old fellows came in. None of them spoke immediately, and, though all three cleared their throats with what they meant for casual cheerfulness to indicate that the situation was not at all extraordinary or depressing, it was to be seen that the colonel's chin trembled under his mustache, and his comrades showed similar small and unwilling signs of emotion.

Eskew spoke first. "Well, boys?" he said and smiled.

That seemed to make it more difficult for the others. The three white heads bent silently over the fourth upon the pillow, and Ariel saw waveringly, for her eyes suddenly filled, that the colonel laid his unsteady hand upon Eskew's, which was outside the coverlet.

"It's—it's not," said the old soldier gently—"it's not on—on both sides, is it, Eskew?"

Mr. Arp moved his hand slightly in answer. "It ain't paralysis," he said. "They call it 'shock and exhaustion,' but it's more than that. It's just my time. I've heard the call. We've all been slidin' on thin ice this long time—and it's broke under me"—

"Eskew, Eskew!" remonstrated Peter Bradbury. "You'd oughtn't to talk that-a-way! You only kind of overdone a little—heat o' the day, too, and"—

"Peter," interrupted the sick man, with feeble asperity, "did you ever manage to fool me in your life?"

"No, Eskew."

"Well, you're not doin' it now!"

Two tears suddenly loosed themselves from Squire Buckalew's eyelids despite his hard endeavor to wink them away, and he turned from the bed too late to conceal what had happened. "There ain't any call to feel bad," said Eskew. "It might have happened any time—in the night, maybe—at my house—and all alone—but here's Ariel Tabor brought me to her own home and takin' care of me. I couldn't ask any better way to go, could I?"

"I don't know what we'll do," stammered the colonel, "if you—you talk about goin' away from us, Eskew. We—we couldn't get along"—

"Well, sir, I'm almost kind of glad to think," Mr. Arp murmured, between short struggles for breath, "that it'll be—quieter—on the—National House corner."

A moment later he called the doctor faintly and asked for a restorative. "There," he said in a stronger voice and with a gleam of satisfaction in the vindication of his belief that he was dying. "I was almost gone then. I know!" He lay panting for a moment, then spoke the name of Joe Louden.

Joe came quickly to the bedside.

"I want you to shake hands with the colonel and Peter and Buckalew."

"We did," answered the colonel, infinitely surprised and troubled. "We shook hands outside before we came in."

"Do it again," said Eskew. "I want to see you."

And Joe, making shift to smile, was suddenly blinded, so that he could not see the wrinkled hands extended to him and was fain to grope for them.

"God knows why we didn't all take his hand long ago," said Eskew Arp. "I didn't because I was stubborn. I hated to admit that the argument was against me. I acknowledge it now before him and before you—and I want the word of it carried!"

"It's all right, Mr. Arp," began Joe tremulously. "You mustn't"—

"Hark to me." The old man's voice lifted higher. "If you'd ever whimpered or give back talk or broke out the wrong way it would of been different, but you never did. I've watched you, and I know. And you've just gone your own way alone, with the town against you because you got a bad name as a boy, and once we'd given you that, everything you did or didn't do we had to give you a blacker one. Most folks' sins grow clipped by you. Airie Tabor'll do that with all her soul and body. She told me once I thought a good deal of you. She knew. But I want these three old friends of mine to do it too. I was boys with them, and they'll do it, I think. They've even stood up for you against me sometimes, but mostly for the sake of the argument, I reckon, but now they must do it when there's more to stand against than just my talk. They saw it all today—the meanest thing I ever knew! I could of stood it all except that!" Before they could prevent him he had struggled half upright in bed, lifting a clinched fist at the town beyond the windows. "But, by God, when they got so low down they tried to kill your dog"—

He fell back, choking, in Joe's arms, and the physician bent over him, but Eskew was not gone, and Ariel, upon the other side of the room, could hear him whispering again for the restorative. She brought it, and when he had taken it went quickly out of doors to the side yard.

She sat upon a workman's bench under the big trees, hidden from the street shrubbery, and, breathing deeply of the shaded air, began to cry quietly. Through the windows came the quavering voice of the old man, lifted again, insistent, a little querulous, but determined. Responses sounded intermittently from the colonel, from Peter and from Buckalew, and now and then a sorrowful, yet almost humorous protest from Joe; and so she made out that the veteran swore his three comrades to friendship with Joseph Louden, to lend him their countenance in all matters, to stand by him in weal and woe, to speak only good of him and defend him in the town of Canaan. Thus did Eskew Arp on the verge of parting this life render justice.

I will mail you free, to prove merit, samples of my Dr. Shoop's Restorative, and my Book on either Dyspepsia, The Heart or The Kidneys. Troubles of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—mean Stomach weakness, always. And the Heart, and Kidneys as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerves." Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion, use Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Write me today for sample and free Book. Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. The Restorative is sold by all dealers.

"He Loved the Children."

Thackeray's words were satirical, and he himself was called a cynic, but the author of "Love Affairs of Some Famous Men" shows what sort of a heart beat in the satirist's breast by quoting from the letter of one to whom the following incident happened:

"In the week following his death there appeared some genial memorial lines in the pages of Punch. Walking down the then unsavory thoroughfare known as Bedfordbury, my eye caught the open page of the popular periodical, and I stayed to read the graceful tribute to the dead moralist. Turning away at length, a poorly dressed man in working garb said to me:

"'I knew that man, sir.'

"'You knew Thackeray?' I asked.

"'Yes, sir. I keep that little baker's shop yonder,' pointing to the opposite side of the street, 'and many's the time Thackeray would come and buy a pound or two of cake of me. I cut it into slices for him, and then, distributing it among the crowd of hungry children, he would walk away and hide in that court over there, that he might have the pleasure of seeing their enjoyment. He didn't know I knew him, but I did. People used to call him a cynic, sir, but it wasn't true. He loved the children, sir, and no man is a cynic who does that.'"

Papers Under Mattress.

Lay two thicknesses of newspapers on the bed springs and then lay the mattress on the papers. This keeps the mattress from getting black marks on it. Sometimes in rainy weather the springs get rusty and it gets on the mattress, but if you keep paper on the springs it picks up all the rust.

Weak Women

To weak and ailing women, there is at least one way to help. But with that way, two treatments must be combined. One is local, one is constitutional, but both are important, both essential.

Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is the Local.
Dr. Shoop's Restorative, the Constitutional.

The former—Dr. Shoop's Night Cure—is a topical mucous membrane suppository remedy, while Dr. Shoop's Restorative is wholly an internal treatment. The Restorative reaches throughout the entire system, seeking the repair of all nerve, all tissue, and all blood ailments.

The "Night Cure", as its name implies, does its work while you sleep. It soothes sore and inflamed mucous surfaces, heals local weaknesses and discharges, while the Restorative, eases nervous excitement, gives renewed vigor and ambition, builds up wasted tissues, bringing about renewed strength, vigor, and energy. Take Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—as a general tonic to the system. For positive local help, use as well

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry must be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made on certain conditions, by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of the homesteader resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Six months' notice in writing should be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of intention to apply for patent.

The Smelting of Ore is the safest and most profitable business in the world.

We have fifteen mining properties, located in Kern County, California, carrying good values in Gold, Silver and Copper.

The smelter nearest to us is at Needles, 250 miles distant.

We propose to install on our properties a smelter to treat the ores from our own mines and to do custom smelting for others.

50 per cent. per annum is a moderate estimate of the profits we can earn. If you want to make a safe and profitable investment send for full information and investigate our proposition.

You Feel Limp,
Loaded With Worry

Tired and Excitable.

You'll Grow Steadily Worse Unless the System is Better Nourished.

Nothing will build you up with the certainty of Ferrozone. Thousands it has cured who never hoped to be well—and here is ample proof—substantiated by one of Nova Scotia's prominent clerics.

"Before taking the first box of Ferrozone," writes Mrs. Annie Jeffry, of Sandy Cove, N. S., "my condition was deplorable. Though I employed the most skilful medical aid, I grew steadily weaker. In fact, I was in such a low condition that it was impossible for me to walk across the room. My heart was very weak, and I suffered from terrible palpitations, which the doctors said were from troubles peculiar to women. Friends urged me to try Ferrozone, and I bought six boxes. When I had used the third box my old-time vigor and strength returned. The palpitation ceased, my appetite increased, and I got a good rosy color in my cheeks. It would be impossible to speak too highly of Ferrozone. All weak women should use it. I hope many suffering sisters will use Ferrozone for it will surely cure them."

Rev. J. C. Morse, D.D., pastor of the Baptist Church, Sandy Cove, bears witness to the recovery of Mrs. Jeffry, and writes: "This is to certify that Mrs. Annie Jeffry is a lady upon whose word you can depend. I have known her since childhood, and believe her to be a truthful, honest woman." This adds additional force to the testimony of Mrs. Jeffry, and gives assurance to other sufferers that Ferrozone does what is claimed for it. Three weeks' treatment costs 50c., or six boxes for $2.50 at all druggists.

Dr. King's Dogs Won Prizes

Dr. D. C. King has returned from attending the Toronto fair, where he won several prizes at the kennel show in the Boston terrier class. "Othello" one of the doctor's dogs, captured two third prizes. "Tito Melema" won reserve prizes, while "Peterborough Boy" was very highly commended by the judges. Dr. King also carried off the special prize, for the best trio of Boston terriers.

Education Board Makes Wise Choice

Mr. A. Mowatt, principal of the Brockville High school, has been selected by the local Board of Education to succeed Mr. D. Walker as inspector of the schools of Peterborough. He is appointed at a minimum salary of $1600 per annum to be increased to $2000 as per shedule. Mr. Mowatt comes very highly recommended and the Board seems to have made a wise choice in choosing this talented educationalist.

Library Inspectors are Home

The deputation which recently went west for the city to inspect the public libraries to get ideas for the remodelling of the new public library here, have returned. Ald. Morgan said yesterday that they had visited Guelph, Galt, Berlin, Paris, Brantford, Hamilton and St. Catharines, and have got good ideas as to what Peterborough should have in her new library.

$100 REWARD, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood an dmucous surfaces of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

A MYSTERIOUS CALL.

Three Dots, Three Points of Light and a Mars Possibility.

Strange things are happening. For some time past toward midnight the receivers of the wireless telegraph stations have registered, and for a long period at a time, the signal three-dots, which is persistently repeated. It has been proved, after investigation, that from no earthly station has such a message been sent at such a time. What, then, is this mysterious call? These three dots singularly recall three points of light which were observed on the planet Mars in 1901.

Midnight. Tap, tap, tap! Tap, tap, tap! Tap, tap, tap! Three sharp little knocks, short and hurried, sound insistently in the vast silence of the Marconi station. The sleeping employees are awakened with a start, and, frightened and vaguely anxious, they look at each other.

"Did you hear it? It is beginning again. What is it, and who on earth can be sending it?"

"Don't you know your Morse alphabet? Three short dashes mean S. Will that receiver never stop sounding? S, S, S when no one knows why it is repeating it? It gets on one's nerves—listen!"

Tap, tap, tap! Tap, tap, tap! "Yes, it is true, but what can we do? Every night this happens at midnight. As long as S is being telegraphed, the receiver will register it. When they have had enough of it they will stop."

But in the loneliness of their stations, so lost and solitary at the end of the promontory, the employees at the wireless telegraph station feel, in the oppressive silence of the deserted night, those painful shivers which the black wing of mystery sends creeping up the back as it flies near. For several days past these three taps have been obstinately repeated. Inquiries have been made at all the stations in the whole world. No one has sent forth such a message. Some one is telegraphing, but not from this world. It must be, then, that the message comes from somewhere beyond. What is this obstinate little voice that calls to us in the darkness across the cold immensity of sidereal space?

Three dots? Wait a moment—why, in 1892 and again in 1901 the observers of the heavens were talking about three dots. During those two years, through the most powerful telescopes, a triangle made of three luminous dots was distinguishable on the planet Mars, small to our sight, but in reality immense, a triangle whose sides measured several hundred kilometers in length. These luminous spots stood out in dazzling whiteness against the blood red background of Mars.—Charles Tongret in Metropolitan Magazine.

Deprived of His Flogging.

The lord mayor's barge is being broken up for firewood at Deptford. The first lord mayor to deviate from the customary procession by water from Westminster hall was Alderman Wood in 1836, and superstitious people thought this wicked innovation was the cause of a curious disaster that befell him. During his term of office Wood committed a journeyman sugar baker to jail for leaving his employment in a dispute about wages. But he forgot to specify that the prisoner should be also flogged, as the statute provided. On his release the sugar baker, with grim humor, brought an action against the lord mayor and recovered "moral and intellectual damages" for being deprived of his flogging! This episode illustrates the genial relations between capital and labor in the brave days of old.—Westminster Gazette.

Subway Exits.

A number of fire exits opening into the ventilating shafts have recently been built in the New York subway for the use of passengers as a means of escape in case of a fire or blockade without the necessity of groping their way to stations. Signs marking the points by which escape may be made are five feet long and one foot high and bear the word "Exit" in white on a ground of blue enamel. Shaded electric lights are placed over them. Near the illuminated sign is a door which opens into the air chambers at the side of the tracks. An iron ladder with a rail leads to the top of the pit.—Exchange.

The Yellow Tens.

"Look sharp at the next yellow back twenty dollar bill you get and make sure that it isn't a ten," said the bank cashier. "The ten dollar bills of the 1907 series, of which few are in circulation as yet, have yellow backs of the same tint as the twenties, and the design is not distinctively different. I'll be surprised if there isn't more than one kick from careless persons who in their haste take some of the new tens by mistake. They wouldn't do it, though, if they did as we men in the banks do, always turn the bills face up before counting them."—New York Sun.

Spanish Schools.

The schools of Spain are inadequate and insanitary, the teachers are poorly paid and not always capable, and about half the people are illiterate. Yet nobody troubles about this deplorable state of things, and an excellent law which was passed half a century ago to enforce a kind of compulsory education is a dead letter.—Heraldo Espagnol, Madrid.

Land Redeemed in Cavan

It seems that some 3000 acres in this county, situated in the heretofore designated Cavan swamp, will be secured for arable purposes. The big drain, now in process of construction, will be about eight miles in length, and runs across the eleventh, twelfth and thirteenth concessions of Cavan, then emptying into the creek, which runs through Peterborough. The confluence will be somewhere near the city.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

Words of Praise

For the several ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's medicines are composed, as given by leaders in all the several schools of medicine, should have far more weight than any amount of non-professional testimonials. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has THE BADGE OF HONESTY on every bottle-wrapper, in a full list of all its ingredients printed in plain English.

If you are an invalid woman and suffer from frequent headache, backache, gnawing distress in stomach, periodical pains, disagreeable, catarrhal, pelvic drain, dragging-down distress in lower abdomen or pelvis, perhaps dark spots or specks dancing before the eyes, faint spells and kindred symptoms caused by female weakness, or other derangement of the feminine organs, you can not do better than take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

The hospital, surgeon's knife and operating table may be avoided by the timely use of "Favorite Prescription" in such cases. Thereby the obnoxious examinations and local treatments of the family physician can be avoided and a thorough course of successful treatment carried out in the privacy of the home. "Favorite Prescription" is composed of the very best native medicinal roots known to medical science for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments, contains no alcohol and no harmful or habit-forming drugs.

Do not expect too much from "Favorite Prescription;" it will not perform miracles; it will not disolve or cure tumors. No medicine will. It will do as much to establish vigorous health in most weaknesses and ailments peculiarly incident to women as any medicine can. It must be given a fair chance by perseverance in its use for a reasonable length of time.

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this remedy of known composition.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is guarded as sacredly secret and womanly confidences are protected by professional privacy. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets the best laxative and regulator of the bowels. They invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. One a laxative; two or three a cathartic. Easy to take as candy.

SAW BODIES UNDER IRON WORK IN ALL SORTS OF POSITIONS

A Diver Tells of Gruesome Sights at the Quebec Bridge--He will not go Down Again--Commission will Take Evidence Monday.

Quebec, Sept. 7.—The taking of evidence in the Quebec Bridge disaster by the commission appointed by the government will not start until Monday morning. The commission have decided to delay the opening until then to enable themselves and the experts who will be called upon to give evidence in the matter a chance to thoroughly acquaint themselves with the conditions of the bridge and to give the matter thorough study.

Asked as to the nature of the evidence, Mr. Henry Holgate replied that, although it would be largely of a technical nature, still every bit of evidence that will throw the least light on the subject will be taken.

It was said last night that work on the north side of the bridge would be started again this morning. This is not so, for although some minor work will be done, no more iron work will be added until after the government investigation. A diver went down beside the wreck yesterday morning, and tells a gruesome tale of what is to be seen. He says that he could see several bodies pinned under the ironwork in the deep water in all sorts of positions, and some standing upright. The diver declared that he would not go down again, as the sight was a terrible one. It was an impossibility to remove the bodies until the steel was removed.

Ill-Luck Pursued The Arctic Expedition From B. C.

Athabasca Landing, Sept. 6.—The steamer Midnight Sun arrived from Grand Rapids on Tuesday, bringing Hudson's Bay Company's furs from the far north. Among the passengers were Inspector D. W. Howard, of the R.N.W.M.P., who has been in charge of the police post at Peel River in the Mackenzie district for the last two years, and four constables, Bishop Breannatt of Fort Resolution, and Bishop Girouard, Lesser Slave Lake; Rev. M. Lucas and family of Fort Simpson; Alfred Harrison and others.

Mr. Harrison, who has been in the Arctic Circle for the past two years, and who has made a successful trip to Banks Land, reports that Mr. Stefanson arrived at Herschel Island from Fort Anxious Island, reporting that the Duchess of Bedford, the ship belonging to the Anglo-American expedition, that hoped to find a new continent north of the Mackenzie river, had filled with water, and they had removed everything to the main shore, and that the ship had probably sunk. Captain Mikkelson, Mr. Leffingwell, and J. M. Marks had left the ship in February with sixty days' provisions, for the supposed land to the north, and had been gone seventy days and no news had been received from them. One of their train of dogs had returned, and it is likely the party will never be heard from again.

Capt. Mikkelson is a Dane, who fitted out his ship and left Vancouver, B.C., where he purchased his vessel, early last year, accompanied by some prominent young Americans. His plan was to sail his ship into Behring Sea about August 1. Thence she would sail down the Alaskan coast and establish a depot at Princess Royal Island, west coast of British Columbia, for the coming winter. This summer she would proceed back through Behring Straits up the Siberian coast, and leave the party with 140 days' provisions, to march west-north-west in search of new land, and to make soundings through cracks to learn the configuration of the sea's bottom. The schooner Duchess of Bedford, coming home to refit, was to meet them at Wrangel Island in 1908.

Many difficulties were encountered, however, which so delayed the ship in its voyage eastward from Behring Strait that Point Barrow had not been passed on August 18 of last year, and Mikkelson had little hope of reaching the proposed winter quarters in the western part of the Arctic Archipelago before being frozen in. His plan was, however, to stay out for two or three years, if necessary.

The expedition was supported by British and American funds.

Witness Says That Mrs. Thomas Shot Gilbert Deliberately

Wiarton, Sept. 6.—Five men who are alleged to have taken part in the raid on the tent of Agnes Thomas here recently, during which the woman shot and killed Philip Gilbert, were yesterday committed for trial by Police Magistrate Miller. They are, William Lancaster, Walter A. Lancaster, John Lancaster, Robert Lancaster and Andrew Hastings. All elected to be tried summarily by the magistrate, but the latter declined to do so, and held only the usual preliminary investigation.

NO CASE AGAINST SIX.

Mrs Stella Lamont, one of the woman occupants of the tent, Melton McKibbon, one of the raiding party; Mayor McEwan and a number of others gave evidence for the prosecution. No witnesses were called by the defence, but the magistrate agreedthat no case had been made against six of the accused.

Mrs. Lamont was the first witness for the prosecution. Her evidence was practically along the lines already reported. It was a tale of considerable violence, stones and eggs having been thrown, and some of which hit her with considerable force. She saw Robert Lancaster upon this occasion, but could not accuse him of participating in the raid.

TOOK DELIBERATE AIM

Melton McKibbon admitted having taken part in the depredations. He was within a few feet of Agnes Thomas and the deceased Gilbert, and heard the woman defy him. She had told Gilbert that he might as well start with his raid. Gilbert said, "Hurrah, boys!" Then she shot straight at him, and Gilbert fell. This evidence is a direct contradiction to her story that her gun was knocked out of position by an elbow. The witness stated most emphatically that Agnes Thomas took deliberate aim, and no blow was delivered on her arm.

James Miller, another who gave evidence for the crown, admitted that he had been there, and saw Philip Gilbert at the tent. He thought there were four shots, and Gilbert fell when the last one was fired. He did not see anyone but Gilbert at the tent though he was only ten feet away, and took no part in the melee himself.

THE MAYOR'S STORY.

Mayor McEwan then went on the stand and his evidence was important, as it has been reported that he knew the raid would take place, and had taken no precautions to prevent it. The mayor denied the story. He had asked Gilbert that day where the tent was, and, upon being told, said that he would attend to the matter next morning. Then Gilbert had remarked that he would attend to it sooner, but he (the mayor) paid no attention to him, as he thought it was only a jest.

Nab a Notorious Criminal

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 5.—James Clark, who with W. P. Jackson of St. Louis, was arrested by Detectives Devereux and Heifield of Omaha on suspicion of safe blowing, has been identified as the notorious Marion Hedgepath, who is alleged to be one of the best known criminals in the United States. Hedgepath fifteen years ago was a member of the famous Sly Wilson gang of safeblowers and highwaymen. Dick and Charles Wilson, the man Sly, and Hedgepath robbed Missouri Pacific train near Omaha, when $15,000 was the booty. Later they were charged with holding up another Missouri Pacific train near St. Louis and getting $75,000.

Peterboro's Prospects for Natural Gas

As was intimated in The Times of a day or two ago, some American experts in natural gas are contemplating boring for gas a little to the southern limits of the city. Since writing this article we have ascertained definitely that this welcome news is only too true. Within the next few weeks derricks will be erected about three miles below the South Ward and expert borers will be busy sinking their shafts and dies, in the almost acknowledged certainty of finding gas. The American experts claim most emphatically that the geological formation of the ground in this vicinity demonstrates almost assuredly that one of the largest natural gas basins on the continent will be tapped almost within the city limits. When this gas is reached, what may not be until the shafts have been sunk possibly two thousand feet, the effects and results to be attained by the city of Peterborough, are almost beyond conception. With an unlimited supply of gas for cooking, lighting and particularly manufacturing purposes, there is no doubt but what Peterborough, will within the next decade, rapidly grow to a city of possibly 50,000 to 70,000 of a population.

Peterborough's natural riches are beyond dispute, as witness the grand water power, our central position on the Trent Valley canal route, our competing railroad systems, our rich farming country and a thousand other natural reasons why the city should not develope a greater manufacturing business. The natural betterments above noted would however combined hardly advance our progress and prosperity as would the discovery of natural gas so close in the United States many towns and cities use natural gas that is pumped through pipe lines for many miles, thus creating expense between the consumer and the source of supply. Here, however the now almost assured discovery of natural gas almost within the city limits will enable such gas to be supplied cheaply to factories and other consumers.

When this gas is found it will be secured. American and English capital will pour in, factories will increase the demand for dwelling houses will treble and lucky will those be who own property to the south of the city.

Shakeup in Navy From World Cruise

Officials Decide Young Men Shall Command in Record Breaking Voyages

New York, Sept. 5.—The biggest shakeup in the history of the line of the United States navy is now in process of arrangement by the secretary of the navy, who has the approbation of President Roosevelt in the plan outlined.

Of the officers now commanding the eighteen battleships to make the long voyage from the Atlantic to the Pacific for a world beating cruise, only four captains now commanding ships will make the trip. The president and secretary of the navy have agreed to forward the long desired plan of advancing young men to the fighting line and send their elders to the rear, and of the eighteen captains who will command and be responsible for the $100,000,000 worth of armament and equipment to be sent through the strait of Magellan to the Pacific, fourteen will be men younger than the captains now in command.

RELIEVED FROM SEA DUTY.

The intention of the navy department to relegate the older captains to the rear and put the young ones in command of the great new battleships of the fleet became known through an official communication to the first of the captains to prepare for duty ashore. This communication was delicately, even with kindness, put, and it informed the particular captain that his relief from sea duty at his time was in no way a criticism by the department on his capacity as the commander of a first class battleship of the United States navy. It is said to have also extended an explanation so far as to give comfort to the captain by assuring him that the other captains, who will retain their commands, would also be put ashore.

An effort to secure the name of this, the first of the captains of the fleet to be put aside, was unsuccessful.

The change in the commanders of the ships at this time has so far advanced and so much of detail of the plan has become known in the line of the navy that there is no other topic of conversation among the officers of the fleet which Admiral Evans will take from the Atlantic to the Pacific. It was said by a naval officer of high rank that the plan was to put on shore duty all captains who had reached an age where they could not expect to be advanced to a rear admiralship and then serve two years before retirement.

The shakeup will occur wholesale just after the finish of the target practice and manoeuvres off Cape Cod this month. The work of the battleships in these manoeuvres will be the first of its kind ever ordered by the department. Naval officers are waiting for this practice with the keenest interest. New range finding apparatus has been invented of recent years and where only recently the target practice of the United States battleships at 4,000 yards was considered almost without equal on the part of the ships of any other navy, Uncle Sam's present proposition is to make world's records at 6,000 yards under full speed and under conditions that promise to test the limit of capacity of manoeuvering and gunnership of the American man and officer.

The present captains of the big new ships will engage in these manoeuvres and will then be relieved to make way for the younger ones. Just who will take the places of the captains to be sent ashore no one knows outside the department.

G. N. W. Co. Owns Poles on George St.

As there was some discussion yesterday, provoked by the present Bell Telephone Company's underground work on George street, as to whom owns the large poles to the west side of George street. A former stockholder in the defunct Ontario Telephone Co., formerly of this city maintained that the Bell Telephone Co., to whom the Ontario Company sold out, owned the poles as they, the Ontario Co., purchased, placed and equipped them. We found out however that the Great North-West Telegraph Co., own the poles. The Ontario Co., simply replaced the former smaller poles of the G.N.W. Co., with larger ones, the latter company continuing their right of way up the streets and twelve feet at the top of the poles. It is quite possible however that the G.N.W. Co., will, as soon as the underground work of the Bell Co., is completed, remove these unsightly poles from our main thoroughfare.

Will a Local Bigamy Case be Tried

Rumor Points to a Sensational Outcome of Present Trouble

Yesterday a Times representative on his sleuth hunt for news, in more than two or three places, was told that a young man, recently married here and now on not the best terms, with the police of Peterborough, for another alleged crime, may shortly be confronted with a serious charge, that, no less than bigamy or, in other words, with having married wife No. 2 whilst No. 1 is still living and in good health.

Now this is only rumor, and The Times would be the last to cast an undeserved slur on a man now in a possible legal tangle. Still the reports were so general throughout the city, and so seemingly backed up by alleged evidence that a paper purporting to give its readers the latest news whether gossip or fact, cannot close its ears, and incidentally its columns to such reiterated rumors. We only hope that the subject matter of this article only emanates from that long eared and longer tongued lady generally styled "Dame Rumor." It was told us that the young man in question who recently joined or put in his card of readmission to the ranks of the Benedicts, has a wife, still his wife, whom he married previous to his recent plunge into matrimony, who works in a Toronto restaurant.

With Rifle in Hand Watched for Thief

Mr. W. James Had Five Fine Belgian Hares Stolen

Mr. W. James of this city, has for some time been noted as a breeder of thoroughbred Belgian hares. The hares, or as those not understanding feminine subjects, might call them rabbits, are larger than the native and wild hare or rabbit and are both good and gamey eating. On Tuesday night some miscreant stole five of Mr. James' best hares, under cover of darkness. Mr. James on ascertaining his loss on Wednesday morning, was naturally indignant. There were certain signs that led to the belief that his stolen hares had been shot. Possibly as a homeopathic remedy. Mr. James, on Wednesday night, sat out in his garden, armed with a small bore rifle watching for a return of the thief, who, however must have had a surfeit of stewed hare and did not return. Should he come back to get more of the Belgian hares, the thief may stay right there, or if departing leave with a small pellet of lead concealed, internally about his thieving body. Mr. James was naturally mad right through, and has vowed to wreak vengeance on any one stealing any more of his pets.

Federation of Anarchists

London, Sept. 5.—The Evening News announces that the Anarchist Congress, which has just closed at Amsterdam, was completely mastered by the violent American school, led by Emma Goldman and Baginsky.

The congress resulted in the foundation of a Red International, which is to be a federation of the anarchists of the whole world for a more effective struggle against Governments and capital.

The new society, according to the programme, recognizes terrorism is the only means of emancipating the producers. Every workman's duty is to destroy those tyrants who immediately oppress him.

Plays War and Deaths are Real

Ten Austrian Soldiers Expire and Hundreds Prostrated from Exhaustion

Vienna, Sept. 5.—The long list of casualties among the troops engaged in the yearly army manoeuvres, now in progress in the neighborhood of Wesner-Neustadt, has aroused widespread public indignation and concern. Ten deaths from exhaustion already have been reported, and hundreds of men have been prostrated.

In the Twenty-fifth regiment of infantry alone 150 prostrations have been reported. The overworking of the troops in the excessive heat is responsible for these many casualties.

In the case of the Twenty-fifth infantry the men were aroused one morning at 3 o'clock and marched steadily for twelve hours, while the Fourteenth regiment of infantry, which also suffered heavily, marched thirty-two miles in one day.

Berlin, Sept. 5.—Emperor William today reviewed the guard corps, garrisoning Berlin, on the Tempelhof field. The event was notable owing to the presence of a large number of foreign delegates as the guest of the emperor. The emperor displayed satisfaction at the bearing of the troops before the foreign officers. After leading the march past, his majesty chatted good humoredly with his military guests.

Local Fall Fair Prospects are Bright

Entries Coming in at a Rapid Rate Says Secretary Hall

That the coming Peterborough Fall Fair, during September 25th to to 27th, is going to be a success and a record, if only the clerk of the weather is propitious, is assured beyond doubt.

Secretary Fred Hall, has already received several entries, and from now on expects them to come quickly. The entries are coming in more rapidly than they did last year, and there is little doubt but that every class will be well filled. Arrangements for the big show are coming along nicely, and if the weather is favorable, the largest attendance on record is predicted. No expense is being spared to secure good attractions and to make the fair the best that has ever been held here.

As the date of the exhibition draws near, interest in it increases, and it is gratifying to note that the people of the city are talking up the fair more than in other years, and many are working hard to make it a success. This is most encouraging to the officers and directors, as they are working hard to make the exhibition a credit to the city and county.

An important meeting of the directors will be held on Thursday night, September 12th, to complete the detail work. It is requested that every officer and director be present at this meeting, as it will be one of the most important of the year. The exhibition will result in a lot of money being left in Peterborough, and it should be given loyal support by business men and citizens generally.

May Raise Price of Milk

It will be remembered that some months ago the local milk combine, presumably after due consideration and promises of conjoint action by the members was assured, boosted the price of milk from 5c to 6c. per quart, at the same time promising or at least insinuating that when "The grass got plentiful" (and other hot air talk) the prices would be lowered to a reasonable sum, viz, the former figure. Now that the grass has practically gone, we do not find any lower prices, either during the grass season or at its close. Instead there are rumors that the prices are again to be raised another cent.

Now in conversation with a prominent local milk vendor, this member of the combine openly admitted that he made one hundred per cent. profit. N.B.—We do not mean, 5 per cent., 10 per cent., or 50 per cent, but ONE HUNDRED per cent profit. The poor have to use milk, the babies and little children have got to have milk to live and thrive, milk is a staple article, not a matter of luxury for the rich and still the combine, it is alleged, not content with 100 per cent profit, are seemingly about to carve off another pound of flesh from the poor as well as rich of this city.

If this news, so sad to the suffering poor is true, it is time our citizens to take some measures for relief. One cent a quart does not seem much on the face of it but, considering a profit of 100 per cent., are the babies and little children of this city to be gouged out of so much of their necessary sustinence to add to the seemingly exhorbitant profits now made by a combined lot of would-get-rich-quick-men. There are of course some milk vendors who are content and well satisfied with a decent living profit on their goods, we only refer in this article to those who may combine to further bleed the poor of this city.

PREPARED SUPPER THEN ENDED LIFE WITH LAUDANUM

A Tragic Occurrence in a House on Salem Ave. in Toronto--Table was Ready for Returning Husband but Doors are Looked.

Toronto, Sept. 5.—Apparently because her husband had not come home for supper when she expected him, Mrs. William J. Cone, of 262 Salem avenue, committed suicide last night by drinking laudanum. When her husband arrived at his home at 12.15 this morning, he found the doors locked, and upon breaking in he found his wife dead in bed upstairs.

Careful preparations had been made for his return. On the table, which was set for two, was beefsteak, ready cooked, on the stove were pots containing potatoes and vegetables and a teapot full of tea. On the floor his slippers awaited him, with his pipe and tobacco on the table beside them. Everything in fact, bespoke the care of a thoughtful wife.

But upstairs the wife lay cold in death. Beside her was an empty bottle, which was pronounced by Coroner Aikens this morning to have contained laudanum. On the bed was found insurance policies amounting in value to about $100.

There was no note, but the unfortunate woman had evidently made her preparations with the greatest care, fully anticipating what she was about to do.

THE HUSBAND'S DISTRESS.

Mr. Cone, when seen by a reporter this morning, was heart-broken over his wife's rash act.

"I am to blame—I am to blame," was his piteous cry. "I should never have left her alone. Her sister told me that a year ago. But she seemed well and cheerful, and I didn't think anything would go wrong while I was away."

Mr. Cone had been at Guelph since Monday. He had intended getting home last night in time for supper, and had written his wife to that effect, but he missed the early train, and had to take a later one.

Upon finding his wife's dead body, he immediately notified Dr. Ceraswell, 914 College street, and the Ossington avenue police station. Patrol-Sergeant Wilson was sent to take charge of the house, and the police were kept on guard at the house until the arrival of Coroner Aikens this morning. He decided that an inquest was unnecessary.

NEIGHBORS WERE SURPRISED.

The neighbors speak well of the Cone family.

"I was talking to Mrs. Cone only yesterday morning," said Mrs. Buckley, 274 Salem avenue. "She was passing the house, and stopped to talk for a moment. She said she had not been well, and that something was wrong with her nerves, and she was on her way to a drug store to get some medicine. She was always jolly and cheerful, and never seemed to be down-hearted or despondent."

At the drug store the clerk stated that no laudanum had been sold to anyone of the name of Cone, no records existing on the books of any such sale. As there is no label on the bottle, it is not known wherethe poison was purchased.

"It was insanity," said Mr. Cone. "Temporary insanity. That is all."

The "Yell-Oh" Man

An Old One of His Ways.

To call a man a liar seems rude, so we will let the reader select his own term.

Sometime ago the manager of "Collier's Weekly" got very cross with us because we would not continue to advertise in his paper.

We have occasionally been attacked by editors who have tried to force us to advertise in their papers at their own prices, and on their own conditions, failing in which we were attacked through their editorial columns. The reader can fit a name to that tribe.

We had understood that the editor of "Collier's" was a wild cat of the Sinclair "jungle bungle" type, a person with curdled gray matter, but it seems strange that the owners would descend to using their editorial columns, yellow as they are, for such rank out and out falsehoods as appear in their issue of July 27th, where the editor goes out of his way to attack us, and the reason will appear tolerably clear to any reader who understands the venom behind it.

We quote in part as follows:—"One widely circulated paragraph labors to induce the impression that Grape-Nuts will obviate the necessity of an operation in appendicitis. This is lying and, potentially, deadly lying. Similarly, Postum continually makes reference to the endorsements of "a distinguished physician" or "a prominent health official" being "mythical persons." We are here to wager "Collier's Weekly," or any other skeptic or liar, any amount of money they care to name, and which they will cover, that we will produce proof to any Board of Investigators that we have never yet published an advertisement announcing the opinion of a prominent physician or health official on Postum or Grape-Nuts, when we did not have the actual letter in our possession. It can be easily understood that many prominent physicians dislike to have their names made public in reference to any article whatsoever; they have their own reasons, and we respect those reasons, but we

When a journal wilfully prostitutes its columns, to turn and harm a reputable manufacturer in an effort to force him to advertise, it is time the public knew the facts. The owner or editor of Collier's Weekly cannot force money from us by such methods.

Loafers Should be Made Move On

To the Editor of The Daily Times:

Sir,—I would like to call the attention of the police, through your columns, to a nuisance that exists almost every night on George street. For several evenings running I have had occasion to walk along the west side of George street with a lady, and sometimes it is almost impossible, without going off the pavement to pass by on account of the number of young men and boys who stand about in groups. The worst stoppage of traffic is on the west side of George street, between Charlotte and Simcoe streets. Here lots of from three or four, to eight or ten men stand talking and swearing, who do not seem to care whether a lady gets by or not, and who ogle her and pass audible and offensive remarks as she goes by. Now, although the police of this city are doing good work, considering the size of the force, they might, for an evening or two, make these loafers learn that the pavements are for pedestrians and not places for standing about to gossip.

Giannetti Lived Like Prince in New York

Toronto, September 5.—Mr. Edmund Bristol, M.P., has returned from New York where he has gone on behalf of the creditors of the Bristol Commercial, and from his reports the whole affair appears to be nothing but a huge swindle. One of the results of the inquiry was to make it clear that the various sums shown on American Express Company forms in the Toronto office as having been transmitted to New York by the company were actually sent to New York by checks drawn on the Merchants Bank. When the money arrived at New York instead of being drafted to Italy, it was drawn on by Giannetti usually in very large sums. What Giannetti did with these sums is still a mystery, but it is supposed he spent the money in various forms of extravagance.

Giannetti's father, so Mr. Bristol was informed by the Italian Consul at New York, is a prominent general in the Italian army.

Whiskey Does Not Prevent Consumption

Philadelphia, Sept. 5.—Whiskey neither cures nor prevents consumption, as many persons believe, according to the annual report of the Henry Phipps Institute, one of the leading institutions in the United States for the treatment of tuberculosis.

The report, which has been issued, says: "As our statistics on alcoholism as tuberculosis grow, it becomes more and more manifest that all extreme views upon this subject will have to be abandoned. That alcohol neither prevents nor cures tuberculosis is evident from the number of alcoholics who have come for treatment, and that it does not strongly predispose to the disease seems to stand out prominently from the vast preponderance of non-alcoholics among the applicants for treatment. Neither can it be shown that the children of alcoholics are more prone to tuberculosis than the children of non-alcoholics."

About Female Ailments

Not Hard to Cure if Properly and Promptly Treated.

Ask any intelligent physician what causes nine-tenths of all female disease, even including anaemia, nervousness and consumption.

Back comes the answer quick and sharp "Constipated Bowels."

There is scarcely a single female ailment that had not in its earlier stages symptoms of constipation.

How much better off the system is without the poisonous accummulations caused by constipation. How much clearer the complexion, how much fresher one feels when the system is pure and clean.

Think it over yourself.

Isn't it apparent that a bowel regulator and liver stimulant like Dr. Hamilton's Pills is sure to do good?

Gay spirits, good looks and happy health have returned to many a sick woman through Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

Better get a few boxes today; purely vegetable, free from injurious ingredients, healthful and antiseptic. Dr. Hamilton's Pills will assist you in a thousand ways.

As delay is always dangerous, your plain duty is to follow the example of Mrs. F. Rowe, who sends the following letter from Gravels, Port Au Port, Newfoundland: "Four years ago I got kidney and bladder trouble. I thought it was 'female trouble' and treated it accordingly. Even my doctor in St. John said it was so.

"In reading about Dr. Hamilton's Pills I noticed symptoms like mine and I bought six boxes. These pills went right to work on my sick condition and helped me from the first. My supposed female trouble, which was bladder disease, was cured. My weight increased eight pounds and never before was I as well as today. Dr. Hamilton's Pills did it all."

All dealers sell Dr. Hamilton's Pills, 25c. per box or five boxes for $1.00. By mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., or Kingston, Ont.

RURAL EDUCATION

In a recent address on rural education, delivered at Hillsboro, Prince Edward Island, Dr. James W. Robertson, formerly Dairy Commissioner for Canada, uttered a number of epigrams of which the following are a few;

The greatest hindrance a man can leave to his child is sufficient money to live without working.

The school garden is a means of training, inspiring and nourishing the power of children into ability.

The school should teach the children that there is no more satisfying and honorable calling than agriculture.

A little knowledge is not a dangerous thing, otherwise it would be better to remain ignorant and be in bliss.

Youth has those fine qualities that belong to unsullied life, and all those handicaps that accompany inexperience.

The school has been so busy imparting knowledge that it has had little time or place or power to train ability for the affairs of common, every-day life.

If the people will starve the schools the school may retaliate by letting the people starve, mentally, then morally, and in a measure materially also.

I have seen teachers so intent upon having the children pass examinations on formal subjects that they did not know anything of the locality or the people in it.

By teaching and training I would let the youth learn that the real, satisfying joys of life come from doing work with the hands until the mind and the spirit for the uplifting of the locality.

Any parent or any boy who seeks education as a means to be delivered from the need of working hard will find it a disappointment, a delusion and a snare, both as a means and an end.

No greater misfortune could befall a people than a general belief that labor—I mean manual as much as intellectual toil—is to be shunned, to be evaded, or to be looked down upon as disgrace.

The individual who, having no children, contends that he has no right to pay taxes to educate other people's children, should take himself and his belongings where there are no children and then see what his money and his land are worth to him.

I am inclined to agree that one quarter of the time of the school should be devoted to training mind and body by means of the hands with tangible things; one-quarter to the mother tongue, language, literature and history; one-quarter to mathematics, the science of numbers and one-quarter to the natural sciences.

MARY BAKER EDDY

The attempt of the "next of kin" of Mary Baker G Eddy, head of the Christian Science Church, to secure an accounting of her property is abandoned. For the first time the amount of the property in question has been brought out and it is in the hands of bonded trustees.

Eccentricity and unusualness do not, as the law, observes the New York World, disqualify a person from administering his property Mrs. Eddy's belief in "malicious animal magnetism" goes to preposterous lengths, but her plan of investing in public bonds after looking up the population of the bonded communities is New England common sense. Her advocacy of the platonic and childless marriage is against policy and, in its inevitable effect, if followed, immoral. But it has no bearing upon her business ability. Exceeding old age and physical feebleness are no disqualification for the management of property.

So far as public interest in this strange woman goes, the dull, intensely dramatic as it has been, has hardly touched the mystery. The consord proceedings concerned only questions of property. The woman herself is in feeble old age, one of the most conspicuous figures of her time. What is to be the future of the faith she founded?

A Local Professional Man Loses His Hat

On Saturday evening a local professional gentleman called at a George street tonsorial parlor and had a razor run over his face. After the professional man's face was made smoother than Shekespeare mentions when referring to a recently shaven man, and said; "His face showed like a new mown field at stubble time" he got out of the chair and looked for his hat left a few minutes before hanging on one of the wall hooks. Now, to make this simple little but true story more emphatic, it might be mentioned that the man of ——— had, two weeks previously purchased a new Christie stiff hat of latest shape. When he went to look on the hooks for his lid, the said head-gear had disappeared. In its place an earlier shaven customer had left an antiquated hat of the vintage of, say 1878. This the professional man had to wear home or have his curls tossed by the four winds of heaven. Before quitting the shop, the customer raised a vigorous protest, and was told by the proprietor to "go to any hat store you like and charge a new hat to me." This somewhat mollified the professional man, but, as he remarked to a friend on George street late Saturday night, after telling the whole story. "That's all very well, but what must I have looked like when I faced the wife in that antideluvian plug." He bought a new hat late Saturday night that the barber will pay for later. The story, that is absolutely true in its main essentials, reminds us of another Peterborough man, who, a few years ago, was visiting in Chicago. After getting shaved in a barber shop on Washington street, he looked for his hat, also left on a peg in this barber shop. It so happened that the day on which this addendum story is told of, it was raining, and the hero of the tale had, before leaving his hotel, put on the oldest and most played out hat he owned. Well, his hat was not to be found on any of the pegs or elsewhere in the shop. Enquiries made of the head of the establishment simply resulted that the proprietor becoming not very suspicious but positively rude, said; "Say youse, youse is the only guy left in the shop. There ain't no one left on none of the chairs but youse. There is only one "lid" left in the rack and that must be youse. Youse 'll take taht and get out and don't try to trow no con game into me as I'm wise to such games." The local visitor to Chicago, to avoid trouble, took the one hat hanging on the peg and tried it on. Fortunately it fitted as does egg shell to the meat inside. On returning to his hotel, he found out that a customer, evidently in a hurry had, whilst the Peterborough man was being shaved, grabbed up the local man's superannuated hat and left an absolutely brand new Stetson hat of latest design that, on the lining was marked $5.50. The Peterborough man, not liking to affront the suspicious and insulting barber, did not go back to try for a further exchanging.

TARGET SHOOTING.

Rainy Day Game That May Be Played on the Dining Table.

Fig. 1 shows the target cut out of cigar box wood. A circular piece is first cut about one inch in diameter, and eight small round pieces of cardboard with the numbers 1 to 8 on them are mounted on toothpicks and grouped around it at even distances. The other ends of the toothpicks are then inserted in the sides of the circular piece of wood. The target itself is secured to a stick of wood about eight inches long, fastened to a stand, as shown in the picture. The gun consists of a paper tube, which is made by winding cardboard well covered with glue around the stem of a lead pencil. When it is dry, a piece about five inches long is cut off. One and three-quarter inches from one end make an incision about two inches long, cutting down to about one-half of the thickness of the tube. See Fig. 2.

TARGET AND GUN.

Fig. 2 shows how a piece of whalebone about six inches long is inserted, acting as the propelling power of the gun. You shoot with a wooden peg about one and one-half inches long, fitting loosely into the barrel of the gun. To give it more weight and strength insert a carpet tack in one end of the plug.

To shoot hold the gun with the right hand, pulling the whalebone back with the index finger and inserting the peg. As soon as the index finger releases the whalebone it springs forward and forces the peg out. To aim well hold the tube in such a way that the whalebone springs point downward.

THE COW'S HORN.

Information Concerning a Common but Useful Article.

Have you any conception of how useful that horn is to us? Scientifically it is known as a combination of phosphate of lime, gelatin and albumen, and, like all nature's products, the ingredients are in the right proportion to make the article useful to man, as well as to the animal that bears it.

The lime makes the horn hard, but there is just enough lime to make it hard without making it brittle, and there is just enough gelatin to make the horn easy to cut and shape. The core of the horn is bone, and to get that out the horn is soaked in water for several weeks. When the core is taken out, it is ground up and made into crucibles which are used for melting gold and silver in.

The outer end of the horn is hard and solid, and that is used for making knife handles and other things. The hollow part of the horn is soaked for half an hour or so in boiling water, when it becomes soft and may easily be split with a knife. It is then spread out flat and put between iron plates. There was a time when these horn plates were made very thin by hard pressure and used in windows and lanterns as we now use glass. They may be made quite translucent.

When horn is heated it may be molded into almost any desired form. That is the way knife handles, buttons and other articles are made.—Chicago News.

False Economy.

Old Mr. McCann was as nice an old man
As ever drank Scorchnoking tea.
He drank it alone cold, though over an old
(Mike McCann, please, and not the green tea).

His grandson, named Jimp, was an imp
As it's possible small boy to be.
This bad little lad played tricks on grandad,
And once he slipped tricks on his dad.

"Grandad is so old," said this little boy bold,
"That he's lost sense of smell and of taste.
I'll just get some grease and fresh leaves of beans,
And the tea no longer we'll waste."

So Jimp tried the trick. When he found pretty quick
That grandad was still able to smell
And had plenty of taste and some sounds to waste,
He was sadder than verses can tell.

—Washington Star.

Burlington, Iowa, Sept. 1.—Raving over the death of his brother, E. R. Hancock, who was killed in a railroad accident at Galesburg Friday, Howard Hancock of Omaha was taken from a Burlington passenger train at Osceola today and brought to Burlington for confinement until he could be transferred in a straight-jacket to the Mount Pleasant insane asylum. The young man required the effort of the trainmen to keep him from injuring himself and the passengers.

Something New in Copper

PITTSBURG - IDAHO
Mining and Milling Company

The mine is located 58 miles above Lewiston, Idaho, on the Clearwater river, and consists of 19 full claims, or 380 acres. It is developed by tunnels, shafts and open cuts for more than 2100 feet, disclosing thousands of tons of copper, gold and silver ores of both high grade and low grade. There are between 1000 and 2000 tons of ore ready for shipment. The entrance to the working tunnel is only 2000 feet from the track of the Northern Pacific railroad, to be reached by gravity tramway. There are seven parallel veins running lengthwise of the claims, one cropping out on the surface for 2400 feet and another for 3000 feet, while two veins cross these running into the mountain. These veins are from 30 to 200 feet wide. One ore chute has been crosscut 50 feet and is solid ore from wall to wall.

We are not asking you to buy in a prospect. That risk was taken by the promoters. We are asking you to buy in a developed, proven mine. Seven years of continuous work and the expenditure of thousands of dollars has proven up one of the greatest mines in Idaho. That mine is now ready to pour out its red and yellow wealth to the world with the installing of an up to date production plant. It is for that purpose that a block of its treasury stock, full paid and non-assessable, is offered for sale. We believe that within six months from the completion of a 100 ton plant the mine can be put on a dividend paying basis, and that those dividends will be substantial and permanent. There is no better investment proposition before the people at this time.

CAPITALIZATION $1,000,000. - PAR VALUE $1.

All promotion stock pooled during the sale of this treasury stock.

Messrs. Thos. Patterson & Co., Peterborough, Ont., are authorized to receive subscriptions for this stock, to whom all applications should be made.

TENDERS FOR DREDGING

Tenders, addressed to the undersigned and endorsed "Tender for Dredging at Port Hope," will be received up to and including Saturday, August 31st, 1907, for dredging required at Port Hope, Durham County, Ont.

Combined specification and form of tender can be obtained at the Department of Public Works, Ottawa. Tenders must include the towing of the plant to and from the works. Only dredges can be employed which are registered in Canada at the time of the filing of tenders. Contractors must be ready to begin work within thirty days after the date they have been notified of the acceptance of their tender.

Tenders will not be considered unless made on the printed form supplied, and signed with the actual signatures of tenderers.

An accepted cheque on a chartered bank, payable to the order of the Honorable the Minister of Public Works, for one thousand dollars ($1,000) must accompany each tender as security deposit in connection with the dredging to be performed. The cheque will be returned in case of non-acceptance of tender.

The Department does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

By order,
FRED GELINAS,
Secretary.
Department of Public Works,
Ottawa, August 22, 1907.

Newspapers inserting this advertisement without authority from the Department will not be paid for it.

DOUBLE YOUR MONEY

You can do it AT ONCE, and in doing it have a chance at a fortune.

I Can Give You $10 for $5 as a Start

Some time ago I secured a block of stock in the Guggenheim-Greenwater Copper Company. That stock is now selling across the border at 10 cents a share. My contract called for its sale at 5 cents, which was the quotation when I bought. Until my block of stock is exhausted I can continue selling at 5 cents.

The properties of the Guggenheim Greenwater Copper Company at Ely and at Greenwater, Nevada, show all the indications of great mines. They are in the best company. All around them are famous ore producers, not one of which looked better before development than these do.

Work is in progress, and the prospect brightens with every foot sunk. Come in and I will convince you that this is an opportunity you will not run across again. Don't wait till what I have is gone and then wish you had acted. Come in or write today.

THE CONQUEST of CANAAN

By BOOTH TARKINGTON,
Author of "Cherry," "Monsieur Beaucaire," Etc.

COPYRIGHT, 1905, BY HARPER & BROTHERS

The gate clicked, and Ariel saw Eugene approaching through the shrubbery. One of his hands was bandaged, a thin strip of courtplaster crossed his forehead from his left eyebrow to his hair and his thin and agitated face showed several light scratches.

"I saw you come out," he said. "I've been waiting to speak to you."

"The doctor told us to let him have his way in whatever he might ask." Ariel wiped her eyes. "I'm afraid that means"—

"I didn't come to talk about Eskew Arp," interrupted Eugene. "I'm not laboring under any anxiety about him. You needn't be afraid; he's too sour to accept his conge so readily."

"Please lower your voice," she said, rising quickly and moving away from him toward the house; but, as he followed, insisting sharply that he must speak with her, she walked out of earshot of the windows and, stopping, turned toward him. "Very well," she said. "Is it a message from Mamie?"

At this he faltered and hung fire.

"Have you been to see her?" she continued. "I am anxious to know if her goodness and bravery caused her any—any discomfort at home."

"You may set your mind at rest about that," returned Eugene. "I was there when the judge came home to dinner. I suppose you dear he may have been rough with her for taking my stepbrother into the carriage. He was not. On the contrary, he spoke very quietly to her and went on out toward the stables. But I haven't come to you to talk of Judge Pike either."

"No," said Ariel; "I don't care particularly to hear of him, but of Mamie."

"Nor of her either!" he broke out. "I want to talk of you."

There was no mistaking him, no possibility of misunderstanding the real passion that shook him, and her startled eyes betrayed her comprehension.

"Yes, I see you understand!" he cried bitterly. "That's because you've seen others the same way. God help me," he went on, striking his forehead with his open hand, "that young fool of a Bradbury told me you refused him only yesterday! He was proud of even rejection from you! And there's Norbert and half a dozen others, perhaps, already since you've been here." He flung out his arms in ludicrous, savage despair. "And here am I"—

"Ah, yes," she cut him off, "it is of yourself that you want to speak after all, not of me!"

"Look here," he vociferated. "Are you going to marry that Joe Louden? I want to know whether you are or not. He gave me this and this today!" He touched his bandaged hand and plastered forehead. "He ran into me—over me—for nothing when I was not on my guard, struck me down—stamped on me"—

She turned upon him, cheeks aflame, eyes sparkling and dry.

"Mr. Bantry," she cried, "he did a good thing! And now I want you to go home. I want you to go home and try if you can discover anything in yourself that is worthy of Mamie and of what she showed herself to be this morning! If you can, you will have found something that I could like!"

She went rapidly toward the house, and he was senseless enough to follow, babbling: "What do you think I'm made of? You trample on me, as he did! I can't bear everything! I tell you"—

But she lifted her hand with such imperious will that he stopped short. Then through the window of the sick room came clearly the querulous voice:

"I tell you it was. I heard him speak just now out there in the yard—that no account stepbrother of Joe's! What if he is a hired hand on the Tocsin? He'd better give up his job and quit than do what he's done to help make the town think hard of Joe. And what is he? Why, he's worse than Cory. When that Claudine Fear first came here, Gene Bantry was hangin' around her himself. Joe knew it, and he'd never tell, but I will. I saw 'em buggy ridin' out near Beaver Beach, and she slapped his face fer him. It ought to be told!"

"I didn't know that Joe knew—that," Eugene stammered huskily. "It was—it was—a long time ago"—

"If you understood Joe," she said in a low voice, "you would know that before these men leave this house he will have their promise never to tell."

His eyes fell miserably, then lifted again, but in her clear and unbearable gaze there shone such a flame of scorn as he could not endure to look upon. For the first time in his life he saw a true light upon himself, and, though the vision was darkling, the revelation was complete.

"Heaven pity you!" she whispered.

Eugene found himself alone and stumbled away, his glance not lifted. He passed his own home without looking up and did not see his mother beckoning frantically from a window. She ran to the door and called him. He did not hear her, but went on toward the Tocsin office with his head still bent.

CHAPTER XXI.

THERE was meat for gossip a plenty in Canaan that afternoon and evening. There were rumors that ran from kitchen to parlor, and rumors that ran from parlor to kitchen; speculations that detained housewives in talk across front gates, wonderings that held cooks in converse over shadeless back fences in spite of the heat and canards that brought Main street clerks running to the shop doors to stare up and down the sidewalks.

Out of the confusion of report the judicious were able by evenfall to extract a fair history of this day of revolution. There remained no doubt that Joe Louden was in attendance at the deathbed of Eskew Arp, and some how it came to be known that Colonel Flitcroft, Squire Buckalew and Peter Bradbury had shaken hands with Joe and declared themselves his friends. There were those, particularly among the relatives of the hoary trio, who expressed the opinion that the colonel and his comrades were too old to be responsible and a commission ought to sit on them. Nevertheless some echoes of Eskew's last "argument" to the conclave had sounded in the town and were not wholly without effect.

Everywhere there was a nipping curiosity to learn how Judge Pike had "taken" the strange performance of his daughter, and the eager were much disappointed when it was truthfully reported that he had done and said very little. He had merely discharged both Sam Warden and Sam's wife from his service, the mild manner of the dismissal almost unnerving Mr. Warden, although he was fully prepared for bird shot, and the couple had found immediate employment in the service of Ariel Tabor.

Stomach troubles, heart and kidney ailments, can be quickly corrected with a prescription known to druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. The prompt and surprising relief which this remedy immediately brings is entirely due to its Restorative action upon the controlling nerves of the stomach, etc.

A weak stomach causing dyspepsia, a weak heart with palpitation or intermittent pulse, always means weak stomach nerves or weak heart nerves. Strengthen these inside or controlling nerves with Dr. Shoop's Restorative and see how quickly these ailments disappear. Dr. Shoop of Racine, Wis., will mail samples free. Write for them. A test will tell. Your health is certainly worth this simple trial. Sold by all dealers.

Subjective Cigars.

When a man smokes a cheap cigar instead of an expensive or moderate priced one it is not always because he may have his pocketbook to consider," said a New York physician as he recited the following instance in proof:

"An old friend of mine, a former college professor, who resides in the city, smokes the vilest cigars made. He is the best tempered old fellow you ever saw, and splendid company if it weren't for his cigars. He swears the brand he smokes are as good as Havanas. Once he said to me, 'My friend, believe me, the cigar is what we call subjective, and not objective. That is to say, it is what we think it is, and not what it seems to other people to be. So, you see, my cigars, that cost me only $1 a hundred, are as good as you would call the best and pay maybe $20 a hundred for.'

"It is a great advantage, no doubt, to a man when he looks on all things like a philosopher. I told my professor friend that his cigars might be subjective, for all I knew, but that they were fearful, and I should like it if he would smoke a cigar that was more objective.' But he only smiled. The old fellow is so chock full of philosophy that he simply cannot see anything as other people see it."—New York Times.

Coolness in Danger.

One of the women in the Kingston earthquake showed what she thought was great coolness. When the first shock had passed she hurried out on to the lawn in front of her hotel, blessing her stars for her escape. She felt that she was perfectly cool, for she remembered that she had left her powder puff behind and determined to have it. Her manner of recovering it was as cool as the rest of her conduct. She sent a black servant into the tottering building after it.—Chicago News.

Papers Under Mattress.

Lay two thicknesses of newspapers on the bed springs and then lay the mattress on the papers. This keeps the mattress from getting black marks on it. Sometimes in rainy weather the springs get rusty and it gets on the mattress, but if you keep paper on the springs it picks up all the rust.

PAIN

Pain in the head—pain anywhere, has its cause. Pain is congestion, pain is blood pressure—nothing else usually. At least, so says Dr Shoop, and to prove it he has created a little pink tablet. That tablet—called Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablet—eases blood pressure away from pain centers. It effects this charming, pleasingly delightful result, though safely, it surely equalizes the blood circulation.

If you have a headache, it's blood pressure.
If it's painful periods with women, same cause.
If you are sleepless, restless, nervous, it's blood congestion—blood pressure. That surely is a certainty, for Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablet to stop it in 20 minutes, and the tablets simply distribute the unnatural blood pressure.

Bruise your finger, and doesn't it get red, and swell, and pain you? Of course it does. It's congestion, blood pressure. You'll find it where pain is—always. It's simply Common Sense.

We sell at 25 cents, and cheerfully recommend

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry must be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made on certain conditions, by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of the homesteader resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Six months' notice in writing should be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of intention to apply for patent.

Are You a Woman Needing Strength?

Not long ago you were able to enjoy life.

You had vigor, strength, ambition—did everything with zest and pleasure.

Upon you cheeks was the hue of health, in your eyes the sparkle of vim and animation.

Today—all is a drudge.

Not actually sick, but if your work were less imperative, how gladly you would rest.

You are breaking down.

Nervous system is out of gear.

Digestive powers are weak.

Blood lacks nourishment.

Just one thing to do—Build up—Win back your health with Ferrozone.

No remedy restores so fast, builds up so permanently, instills such vigor or surplus strength like Ferrozone.

A case showing how Ferrozone acts is illustrated by the following from Mrs. H Wright, of Enfield, N.S.

"Six months ago I experienced a serious illness. It commenced with splitting headaches, dull pains through my chest and shoulders. I found it hard to get satisfying sleep—would roll and toss and in the morning felt tired all over. Then I grew nervous, lost flesh, got pale and had heavy dark circles under my eyes. My strength got so low I couldn't do housework. I was worried and unable to eat and feared I would not get well. Ferrozone braced me up in a few weeks. It seemed to supply wonderful strength. I gained in flesh, looked better and was able to sleep. In all I took twelve boxes of Ferrozone and my cure was complete."

If Ferrozone doesn't help and cure you—then nothing ever will; your druggist sells it in 50c. boxes—Better try Ferrozone.

Golf Game for Saturday

The opening tea for the members of the Peterborough Golf and Country Club will be held on Saturday afternoon next. Mixed foursomes will be played, commencing at three o'clock. The respective captains request that as large a number of players as possible should be on the grounds.

Crescent Rugby Club Meets Tonight

The Crescent Rgbuy Club will meet for organization tonight at the Y.M.C.A. hall at eight o'clock, instead of last night as was previously announced. It is urgent that all of last year's members and any new ones who care to join, turn out. The prospects for the season will be discussed. It is probable that the Crescents may enter a city league, if one is formed.

Thousands of Occupants in Cells

Yesterday morning the local police cells were inspected by the chairman of the Property Committee. It was, we understand that the cells were occupied by 17827 tenants, all small and by the name of what some English wit calls "B. flats." Whilst these bugs came neither at the request of nor by the knowledge of the City Council, there they were, but they will be given a speedy release probably from life at that.

Pain anywhere, pain in the head, painful periods, neuralgia, toothache, all pains can be promptly stopped by a thoroughly safe little Pink Tandy Tablet, known by druggists everywhere as Dr Shoop's Headache Tablets. TWO MEN OF HONOR.

One Was Out For Blood and Got Due Satisfaction.

A tall, lop shouldered negro who worked about the freightshouse had taken a seat on the platform with his back against a cotton bale for a rest when a fat and stocky colored man came across the street and stood before him and gazed upon him in undisguised contempt. This had continued for a minute when the one on the platform queried:

"Steve Bollister, who yo' lookin' at in dat distinguished way?"

"I's lookin' at yo', sah."

"What yo' lookin' at me fur?"

"Two weeks ago," said the stocky man as he flourished his right arm in the air, "yo' slandered my character."

"Huf"

"I dun sent yo' a challenge, sah—a challenge to meet me!"

"Huf"

"I sent it frew de mail, an' I disclosed an extry postage stamp fur yo' to reply wid. Up to dis date, sah, I's had no reply. I wants to know what yo' is goin' to do about it."

"What I's gwine to do I'll show yo', sah! Doan' yo' reckon yo' kin bulldose me, Steven Bollister!"

He took from his hip pocket an old handkerchief and from the folds of the handkerchief a piece of brown paper, and after two minutes' hunting he found a postage stamp and handed it out with the remark:

"If yo' dun thought I hadn't de manly honor to save an' return dat stamp den yo' didn't know me, sah—didn't know me!"

"Sah," replied the stocky man as he examined the stamp and put it away, "I accept de apology an' am no longer mad!"

"If yo' hain't mad den I hain't mad," rejoined the other. And presently they went across the street with their arms around each other to get a drink.

Badgering a Witness.

A lawyer for the defense in a recent case tried to discredit an old negro who had been called as a witness by such questions as:

"Be your name is Sam Miller, is it? Are you the Sam Miller who was arrested and sent to prison for stealing?"

"No, sah," replied the darky.

"No? Well, then you are the Sam Miller, aren't you, who smashed a lot of store windows once when drunk and disorderly?"

"No, sah. I's not dat Sam Miller neither."

"But you've been in jail, haven't you?"

"Yes, sah—once."

"Ah-h-h-h! For how long?"

"Bout an hour, sah."

"An hour! Be careful! I'm very particular—very particular—to get the truth! Now, what do you mean by saying you were in jail for only an hour?"

"I went there, sah, to withdraw a call for a lawyer, who, like yo'self, sah, was very particular—very particular."—New York Times.

Youthful Purist's Correction.

"Mamma! Mamma!" she cried. "Tommy's makin' faces at me!"

"Ain't doing anything of the kind," retorted the boy.

"Why, Tommy," corrected the indignant parent, "I saw you myself."

"No, you didn't," persisted the boy. "I couldn't make a face if I wanted to. All I did was to screw up the ready made one I've got."—Chicago Post.

Mr. Orthodoxer—But surely, sir, Dr. Regiar doesn't advertise?

The Editor—Well, no, not directly, but when business is dull he often sends me a check for inserting pie and pastry recipes.—Lippincott's.

The Real Wearer.

"If these trousers don't fit," said Mr. Meekum, "my wife will send me back with them."

"Why, I supposed they were for you," said the tailor, wrapping them up.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Impossible.

Mr. Pen—Mr. Brush seems to be a nice sort of fellow.

Mr. Pencil—Yes, but he's too stuck up; he'll never make his mark.—Boston.

Blind Cupid.

"How do you know he is in love with that red haired, freckle faced girl?"

"Because," answered Miss Cayenne, "he refers to her hair as golden and says freckles indicate a fine complexion."—Washington Star.

The Game in Port Hope

The championship of the Midland league hinges upon Saturday's game in Port Hope when Peterborough meets the home team in the second game of the series to settle who wins. If the Port Hopers win the championship is their's, whereas if Peterborough wins, a third game will have to be played on neutral grounds. The Peterborough team to go to Port Hope will be the same as that which played at Riverside Park last Saturday, with the exception that Flaherty will pitch. Manager Johnston believes he has the better team.

A Square Deal

Is assured you when you buy Dr. Pierce's family medicines—for all the ingredients entering into them are printed on the bottle-wrappers and their formulas are attested under oath as being complete and correct. You know just what you are paying for and that the ingredients are gathered from Nature's laboratory, being selected from the most valuable native medicinal roots found growing in our American forests and while potent to cure are perfectly harmless even to the most delicate women and children. Not a drop of alcohol enters into their composition. A much better form is used both for extracting and preserving the medicinal principles used in them, viz.—pure triple-refined glycerine. This agent possesses intrinsic medicinal properties of its own being a most valuable antiseptic and antiferment, nutritive and soothing demulcent.

Glycerine plays an important part in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in the cure of indigestion, dyspepsia and weak stomach, attended by sour risings, heart-burn, foul breath, coated tongue, poor appetite, gnawing feeling in stomach, biliousness and kindred derangements of the stomach, liver and bowels.

Besides curing all the above distressing ailments, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a specific for all diseases of the mucous membranes, as catarrh, whether of the nasal passages or of the stomach, bowels or pelvic organs. Even in its ulcerative stages it will yield to this sovereign remedy if its use be persevered in. In Chronic Catarrh of the Nasal passages, it is well, while taking the "Golden Medical Discovery" for the necessary constitutional treatment, to cleanse the passages freely two or three times a day with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. This thorough course of treatment generally cures the worst cases.

In coughs and hoarseness caused by bronchial, throat and lung affections, except consumption in its advanced stages, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a most efficient remedy, especially in those obstinate, hang-on coughs caused by irritation and congestion of the bronchial mucous membranes. The "Discovery" is not so good for acute coughs arising from sudden colds, nor must it be expected to cure consumption in its advanced stages—no medicine will do that—but for all the obstinate, chronic coughs, which, if neglected, or badly treated, lead up to consumption, it is the best medicine that can be taken.

FRENCH NAVY IS PREY TO OPIUM

Service is Demoralized by Use of Drugs and Government will Investigate--Paris is Also Afflicted with the Evil.

Paris, Sept 7—The government made a great show of virtue this week in the adoption of drastic measures for the suppression of the opium evil in Indo-China. This action is regarded with more or less scorn by those aware of the existence of a monstrous opium scandal in the chief branch of the government's own service.

It is pretty well known that the efficiency of the French navy is honey-combed, so to speak, by opium. Rank and file alike, especially in the Mediterranean fleet headquarters at Toulon, are victims of the habit, and stories of its ravages are widespread and appalling.

The French papers, for patriotic reasons, ignore the scandal, but the evil has grown to such proportions that it has alarmed the government, and there is a probability of strong and secret efforts being made to suppress it. It is even said that the recent long series of naval mishaps finds explanation largely in the demoralizing effect of the drug.

Paris is not exempt from this evil. Recently an opium den was discovered in a street near the grand boulevard. When the police entered the first floor of the apartment they found fifty regular clients of the establishment installed there under the influence of the drug.

Good Wishes for Mr. J. H. Burnham

A Citizen Who Has Done Good Work Leaves Peterboro

It is with sincere regret that the citizens of Peterborough, particularly those acquainted with and versed in literary matters, view the departure of Mr. J. Hampden Burnham from our midst. Mr. Burnham has always taken a strong interest in political matters and has been a consistent and insistent member of the great Conservative party. In politics Mr. Burnham has always been a fair open and above-board fighter. No undue influence or subterfuge would appeal to him for a second. Mr. Burnham, whilst not what might be rightly called "an eloquent and spell-binding speaker," always tackled his subject, when in politics, in a manly straightforward and convincing manner. Mr. Burnham whilst somewhat handicapped in the estimation of shallow-minded men, because his English education always gave him a decided English accent, is a deep thinker. His literary works, show his command of rhetoric, romance and history. Those who have read any of Mr. Burnham's works can easily estimate his worth in the literary world.

Apart from Mr. Burnham's regretted loss to the city on account of his literary ability, this gentleman has devoted more time and money than many men worth more in filthy lucre, towards advancing the interests of the growing generation. Mr. Burnham, whilst a gentleman of independent means, and behoven to no one for his income, has spent much time and trouble, and, possibly, money on the Children's Aid Society.

It is a pity that some more such "rich" men do not spare a few hours of their days' towards doing what Mr. Burnham has done, in the aid of the unprotected, misguided and otherwise fallen youth of this city. At the present moment there are children who, when attaining the age, and possessing the sense of maturity, will look back at the good work done by Mr. Burnham for the Children's Aid Society and think "God bless such men as that. When men of independent means take the trouble to look after destitute and abandoned children may God bless their work."

Education Board Disappointed

The Board of Education has received word from Mr. McDougall, who was appointed at the last board meeting to a temporary position on the Collegiate Institute staff, that he cannot come to Peterborough, as he has accepted a position in one of the Toronto schools, before receiving word from Peterborough. As Mr. McDougall is unable to come, the Board of Education has been left in rather a bad way, as they cannot secure a teacher for a few days at least. The position is a permanent one. It is likely however with the up-to-date and progressive board which regulates Peterborough's educational matters that this temporary check will soon be check-mated.

The Pontypool Coal Find is Explained

Port Hope Times: The despatch published in last week's Times referring to the finding of coal near Pontypool, recalled to the memory of an old resident, how the fuel got there. Some forty years ago, when all that district was heavily wooded, and long before there was any thought of a railway running through, coal was much cheaper than it is at present. There were a few farmers scattered among the tall pines, and one who lived in his log cabin, conceived the idea that coal was on his farm, if not, it should be. He dug several holes in the crest of the hill but found nothing, so then he bought a large quantity of coal and dumped it into the holes and covered them up. Some time afterwards he got hold of some American prospectors and took them out to his coal mine in the woods. The prospectors were dubious from the start but Mr. Farmer was very enthusiastic, and he took his shovel and walked right over to one of the holes he had filled, and after digging a few minutes he brought out a shovelful of coal, all ready for use. It needed no washing and did not need to go through a breaker.

The prospectors, who had been winking at each other all the time burst out laughing and replied, "You —fool, what do you think we are? this is not the first time we have seen a coal mine." With that the visitors took the farmer in hand and gave him a sound thrashing. From that day until his death, the fellow was known to everyone as "Coal Hill Johnny."

News Briefs

Lightning Causes Four Deaths

Lemberg, Prussia, Sept 6.—A Catholic church here was struck by lightning yesterday, four persons were killed and sixteen women and children were seriously injured by being trodden under foot in the panic which followed. The building was crowded at the time, owing to the celebration of the four hundredth anniversary of its establishment.

The Anglo-Russian Convention

Tokio, Sept. 6.—It is reported here on trustworthy authority that the new Anglo-Russian agreement divides Persia into two sections, but the respective spheres of influence of the two nations remain unchanged. Afghanistan and the southern division of Persia naturally are in the British sphere. The principal benefit resulting from the agreement will be the building of a railroad along the Persian Gulf. The conditions to be maintained in Afghanistan are those which followed the Russo-Japanese War.

Japan will Hold Kantao

Tokio, Sept. 6—No protest has yet been received from the Chinese government in regard to Japan's occupation of Kantao in behalf of Corea. It is believed that the Japanese are determined not to recognize the claim of China to that strip of land, which, possessing a fertile soil. There was a time when Russia, it is asserted, had an eye on Kantao, but Corea's title is thought to be perfect since the conclusion of the Russo-Japanese agreement and a protest from China against Japan's course there is expected to be of no avail.

Port Hope's View

The Port Hope Guide says:

"Everybody is talking about Saturday's big game and there is sure to be a record crowd in attendance. Peterborough is making big preparations, and a warm contest is looked for. Manager Johnston has made many changes in his line-up and the importations are all in Peterborough, practising this afternoon. They will be held the remainder of the week and put in earnest practice. They are coming in determined to win, and the local club will have to travel at a fast pace to pull out a victory. Don't miss it."

"Word was received today that Peterborough would have a Toronto twirler in the box for Saturday's game. Joe Hickey of the Toronto Wellington will play first. Anderson, the big fellow from Campbellford will look after second, and Cheatham and Haliburton will be at short and third. Burns and Murphy of Toronto, and another import will look after the garden, and Harry Burridge will be behind the bat. This is a very strong nine and the game should furnish many exciting features.

Prospects Bright for Local Rugby Team

First Practice to be Held at Riverside Park This Afternoon

It looks like the local Rugby club are going to have a successful season this fall. The club, as noted in yesterday's issue of The Times, met in the Oriental Hotel on Thursday night, now, possibly owing to a rainy night the audience was under what the importance of the meeting should have brought out. The election of officers for the current year did not take place, but a good committee, was appointed to take steps towards getting players to practice. No decision was reached as to what series the local team would enter. It is thought here that a new senior series to be composed of Peterborough, Toronto, Victorias, Dundas, and several other good clubs would be a great success.

At the meeting Mayor McWilliams presided very acceptably. The total receipts last season from all sources were $547.95. The first practice will be held at Riverside Park this afternoon at 3.30. A big attendance of players is requested, as the rugby season is rapidly approaching.

Is Only One Way to End Polgamy

Mormons Are Growing in Power, and Their Leaders Should be Imprisoned

Aurora, Ill., Sept. 6.—"You cannot convict Mormons of polygamy. To prove polygamy you must prove a second marriage, but a law against unlawful cohabitation, if the enforcement were in the hands of the Federal authorities, would put the leaders of the Mormon church in the penitentiary and this would destroy their political power and destroy polygamy."

This remedy for Mormonism was advocated by United States Senator Dubois of Idaho in an address before an audience of 3000 at the Aurora Chautauqua in discussing the probability of the spreading of Mormon polygamy. The penitentiary or give up polygamy, ted States. Senator Dubois urged his hearers to use their influence with the Illinois representatives in congress to secure an amendment of the Constitution under which the Federal government will have power to deal with the evils of Mormonism and to prevent the continuance of polygamous marriages which he said were still practiced among the Mormons.

"Plural marriages among the Mormons are performed by high officials of that church in secret places, either in their temples or in foreign countries, and no record is kept of the plural marriages," continued the Senator.

"Unlawful cohabitation can be proven by circumstantial evidence. The Supreme Court of the United States having defined unlawful cohabitation to be the holding out to the world by a man of more than one lifical power to all parts of the Unit- Mormon church exercise their political power in order to protect themselves in their polygamy, and when they found that they had to go to prison as big wife. The leaders of the they would give up polygamy and with it their political power would disappear.

"The Mormons absolutely control Utah now politically and a United States Senator, governor or congressman cannot be elected in Idaho or Wyoming against the wishes of the Mormon church. They are a great balance of power in Oregon and will soon control the senators in that state. They are beginning to be very powerful in Nevada. Unless checked they will become the balance of power in the Senate of the United States. They have become an object of solicitude to the great political parties and for the first time in the history of the government this Mormon and polygamist question is becoming a question of partisan politics."

Verdict for Dr. Pierce

AGAINST THE

Ladies' Home Journal.

Sending truth after a lie. It is an old maxim that "a lie will travel seven leagues while truth is getting its boots on," and no doubt hundreds of thousands of good people read the unwarranted and malicious attack upon Dr. R. V. Pierce and his "Favorite Prescription" published in the May (1906) number of the Ladies' Home Journal, with its great black display headings, who never saw the humble, groveling retraction, with its inconspicuous heading, published two months later. It was boldly charged in the slanderous and libelous article that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, for the cure of woman's weaknesses and ailments, contained alcohol and other harmful ingredients. Dr. Pierce promptly brought suit against the publishers of the Ladies' Home Journal, for $300,000.00 damages.

Dr. Pierce alleged that Mr. Bok, the editor, maliciously published the article containing such false and defamatory matter with the intent of injuring his business; furthermore, that no alcohol, or other injurious, or habit-forming, drugs are, or ever were, contained in his "Favorite Prescription"; that said medicine is made from native medicinal roots and contains no harmful ingredients whatever, and that Mr. Bok's malicious statements were wholly and absolutely false.

In the retraction printed by said journal they were forced to acknowledge that they had obtained analyses of "Favorite Prescription" from eminent chemists, and whom certified that it did not contain alcohol or any of the alleged harmful drugs.

These facts were also proven in the trial of the action in the Supreme Court. But the business of Dr. Pierce was greatly injured by the publication of the libelous article with its great display headings, while hundreds of thousands who read the wickedly defamatory article never saw the humble groveling retraction, set in small type and made as inconspicuous as possible. The matter was, however brought before a jury in the Supreme Court of New York State which promptly rendered a verdict in the Doctor's favor. Thus his traducers came to grief and their $300,000.00 damages were refused.

Many Anglicans Come to Canada

Young English Clergymen Proceeding to Saskatchewan District

London, Sept. 6.—In connection with the scheme of Church extension and missionary work in North-West Canada to meet the requirements of the rapidly growing population, a number of young clergymen and students are proceeding to the diocese of Saskatchewan.

The rush of immigrants, mostly British, in that direction may be inferred from the fact that while the census of 1901 showed the number of people within the province to be 91,-460, the quinquennial census taken in June, 1906, disclosed a population of 275,000. Hence the establishment of the special fund to provide new centres of worship among the settlers.

Twenty-seven young laymen and one clergyman have already been sent out to Saskatchewan this year. Mr. D. G. Schorfield, B.A. Oxon, who since taking his degree has been studying at Wycliffe Hall, started last week for the same destination. Two Oxford honors men are to follow later—viz., the Rev. C. L. Malther, B.A., of Christ Church and Wycliffe Hall, who took second class honors in "Greats" and is now private chaplain to the Bishop of Liverpool, and the Rev. H. S. Broadbent, M.A., of Trinity College, senior curate of St. Helens, Lancashire.

Turpentine Made from Waste Products

Rare Opportunity to Invest in Company Paying 25 Per Cent. Annually

As many of our readers are aware the vast bulk of the turpentine, resin and other such articles made from pine trees, and from which there is an unlimited demand, comes from the forests of Florida and Georgia. Now, however, this branch of industry is to be nationalized as the Puget Sound Wood Products Co., of Seattle, Washington, is raising an immense plant at Anacortes, Wash., to make such goods out of the heretofore waste products, such as mill waste, slabs, sawdust, stumps, etc. As an illustration of the immense profits to be made by this company's process and plant, it might be mentioned that from one cord of wood 88 gallons of the best tar worth $17.60, 12 gallons of wood spirits worth $5.40, 7 gallons pure turpentine worth $5.60, or a total of $28.60 will be extracted. The company is now offering an allotment of 50,000 shares, par value $1 each, at 45 cents per share, non-assessable. The company has no preferred stock and no bonds so that all shareholders get the same treatment.

The Seattle Chamber of Commerce sent a delegate to investigate the experimental plant of this company, and his report was most favorable. There is every reason to believe that the company will pay dividends annually of from 25 to 50 per cent on their stock. For full information, write the Puget Sound Wood Products Co., 226-227 Peoples Savings Bank Bldg., Seattle, or call on W. K. Hall, Fiscal Agent, Peterborough, Ont.

Bishop Ingrim's Visit to Canada

Montreal, Sept. 5.—Great interest is being manifested, not only among the members of the Church of England in this city, but among followers of all other denominations as well, in the approaching visit to Montreal of the distinguished churchman, Bishop Ingram of London. Preparations are already well under way for his entertainment while here and an extensive programme has been arranged.

Bishop Ingram will arrive in Quebec on Friday. He will spend Saturday and Sunday in the Ancient Capital, resting after his long trip and visiting the different points of interest about the city and district. On Monday he will leave for this city, arriving here at 6.30 in the evening at the Place Viger station, where he will be met by a number of the clergy and laity and accorded a formal reception. After this the distinguished visitor will proceed to the residence of the Bishop of Montreal, with whom he will dine.

Communion service will be given on Tuesday morning at 8 a.m. in the Church of St. James the Apostle, when Bishop Ingram will officiate. After the service the churchwardens and vestry of the church will entertain him and the clergy of the city at breakfast. A drive about the city is to follow, and luncheon will be taken at the Mount Royal Club, after which there will probably be more sight-seeing and dinner in Bishop's Court, the residence of Bishop Carmichael.

At 8 p.m. Tuesday evening will take place the principal ceremony attending the bishop's visit. At that hour a full choral evensong will be rendered in Sir George's Church, and a sermon preached by Bishop Ingram. At 9.15 after the service, a public reception will be held in the parish rooms of St. George's and an address will be read to the bishop.

Wednesday morning will be devoted to more sight-seeing, after which the bishop will be the guest of Sir George Drummond at luncheon. At 4.15 he will leave for Ottawa and his departure will be marked by a great send-off.

Bishop Ingram goes from Ottawa to Toronto and then to London, spending in all about a week in Canada, after which he will turn into the United States and travel there for about two weeks. He is to be the guest of President Roosevelt.

Authenticated Views of Quebec Disaster

Mr. W. H. Robertson Brings Genuine Specimens of Wrecked Bridge

Yesterday The Times office front windows on George street were thronged by crowds who were deeply interested in the specimens personally brought from the wrecked bridge at Quebec, by Mr. W. H. Robertson. The details of this terrible disaster are too new to be realized, but Mr. Robertson of this city, who the night before last, returned to the city, after a holiday trip to Canada's greatest fortress, brought with him some samples, taken at random, from the disrupted structure, the fall of which, carried nearly one hundred good workmen to a watery grave. Mr. Robertson noted yesterday that the newspaper reports as given so far of this disaster, are not of the "yellow journal" style, but actually underestimate the destruction done.

In The Times office window are several bolts, nuts and other pieces brought from the death dealing bridge. Mr. Robertson said that his experience and research in Quebec proved that the people at large are sad and greatly depressed by the recent accident.

Annual Message Longest on Record

Pres. Roosevelt's Announcement will be Most Radical He Has Issued

Washington, September 6—President Roosevelt has nearly completed his annual message. He expects to have it practically done, subject to slight revision, by the time he returns here on September 25.

The message will be a remarkable document. It will be the longest of Mr. Roosevelt's messages, that means the longest of American presidential messages. It will also be the most radical and comprehensive message he has written.

The President will aim to set forth with great vigor, not alone recommendations for the coming session of congress, but the party policy for the 1908 campaign. Policies for still further in the future will also be mapped out.

Not by any means does the President expect to get all the legislation he will recommend at the coming session. It is said he does not want it, preferring to leave some issues for the campaign of 1908.

Far reaching recommendations will be made for stretching federal control over inter-state corporations and for fuller and stricter control over railroads. Much space will be occupied with the subject of conservation of natural resources; including public land and forests, inland waterways, and the like.

Sociological as well as industrial matters will be given attention. No demand for immediate tariff revision will be made, but further than this it is not known here just what the President will say on the tariff. He will, no doubt, explain the German tariff agreement.

Mr. J. A. Culverwell Constantly Busy

Mr. J. A. Culverwell, of Port Hope, managing director of the Central Ontario Power Co., was in Peterborough yesterday. His company which as before noted, controls Burleigh Falls and Mr. Culverwell personally has the say in the whole of Buckhorn Falls power.

Mr. Culverwell thinks that there is now room in Peterborough for electric current from Burleigh Falls and local citizens may soon see its development right in the city. Mr. Culverwell is also managing director of the Northumberland-Durham Power Company which controls the Healey Falls water power. He has recently visited Havelock, Norwood and other places in the interest of electric power and met with a splendid reception.

Sale of Debenture Stock in London

Montreal, Sept. 5—An official of the C. P. R. today confirmed the sale of debenture stock in London, but stated that the amount was $4,000,000 and not $5,000,000.

The price, 102, for a 4 per cent issue he characterized as "wonderfully good."

"It is a price," says one authority, "which no other American corporation, private or municipal, could have secured. It is also an instance of the value of taking opportunity by the forelock.

"The C. P. R. executive realize, unlike Mr. Fielding, our Finance Minister, that because our debenture stock was disposed of at 107 only a short time ago, the same price can still be obtained.

"When we find every American railroad attempting other money on almost any terms, the C. P. R.'s ability to secure funds at better than four per cent becomes all the more significant."

Some months ago, when it sold some 4 per cent preference stock at 101, the C. P. R. was given the honor of having put through the cheapest and most profitable financing of any concern in the world.

Port Hope Times: Frank Meehan of Peterborough, was arraigned before Magistrate R. H. Holland on Saturday morning charged with drunkenness and profanity. Meehan promised to reform and was given his freedom.

THE RESULTS OF 23 MILK TESTS

Our Milk Averages Up Satisfactory--Four Tests Prove First Class and Over--Eight Second Class and Over--Four Third Class and Over--Seven Under Third Class Quality.

The Property Committee of the City Council met last night. There were present, Mayor R. F. McWilliam, Chairman Ald. McIntyre and Aldermen Elliott, Morgan, Stevenson and Tovey.

MILK TESTS.

Inspector Geo. Ball submitted a report of tests taken of the milk sold in town by twenty-three vendors.

The following is the report of the samples collected by Sanitary Inspector Geo. Ball, and tested by Mr. P. Downham of this city:—

No.	Test	Names
1	3.1	T. Chapman
2	4.2	Geo. Raper
3	3.2	I. Billicos
4	4.	W. Reid
5	3.6	Harry Wilson
6	4.	D. R. McIregor
7	3.7	Geo. Smith
8	3.7	H. M. Dobbin
9	3.4	W. Dummitt
10	3.	E. H. Reed
11	3.2	T. H. Deck
12	3.8	C. E. Adams
13	3.9	E. Curtis
14	3.8	R. McMullin
15	3.8	J. J. McCrae
16	2.8	Jas. Cuffin
17	3.6	Ed. Reece
18	4	A. Hunter
19	3.8	Isaac Hetherington
20	3.7	T. H Hetherington
21	3.6	R. Cox
22	4.2	W. Bromill
23	3.5	W. Hooper

While 3.5 lbs. of butter fat to a 100 lbs of milk is conceded to prove a standard grade of milk this percentage is admitted by Mr Downham to indicate but a third-class quality. 3.7 he claims to be second class, and 4.0 first class milk.

However the committee were agreed that the above tests show that on the whole the quality of the milk sold in Peterborough averages up very satisfactorily.

The tests were made according to the numbers in the above table without any knowledge whatever of the names of those from whom the milk was secured. The names annexed to the numbers were furnished by Inspector Ball after tests were made by Mr. Downham. This is a policy fair to all concerned.

The second column of figures in the above table indicate the percentage of butter fat to each 100 lbs of milk. For instance 3.1 indicates that to every 100 lbs. of milk 3.1 lbs. of butter fat were found to be present.

REPORT RE PUBLIC LIBRARY.

Ald McIntyre reported the results of the special committee's visit to public libraries in Toronto, Guelph, Berlin, Galt, Paris, Brantford, Hamilton, Stratford and St. Catharines. The purpose of the trip was to form comparisons between the public libraries in above cities for the Property Committee's guidance in adopting the best possible plan that may be applied to converting Richard Hall's old stores into a new public library for Peterborough.

A vote of thanks was tendered the committee for the very full and concise report gleaned in their travels.

Action on this report will be recommended at an early date.

LEASE OF LOT.

Ald Morgan moved, seconded by the mayor.—That Richard Sheehy be allowed the use of city's lot on north side of C P R track, on river shore for the purpose of piling stone, at a rental of $25 a year.—Carried.

CARE OF POWDER MAGAZINE.

The mayor moved, seconded by Ald. Stevenson.—That the city clerk write each of the parties who gave a key of the powder magazine that complaints have been made of the door being left open and explosives being carelessly handled, and requesting more care taken.—Carried.

CARETAKER WANTED.

The mayor moved, seconded by Ald. Stevenson.—That we advertise for a janitor of the city buildings, and messenger, at a salary of $450 a year, applications for such position to be in by Thursday next at four o'clock.—Carried.

Mrs. R. Stevenson has been taking care of the city buildings, but has been unable to attend to her duties for some time past.

It is the intention of the committee in appointing a made janitor to aggregate under one head several duties, and not create an additional salaried official.

Toronto Department Praises Local Work

That the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition is right up to date and doing business on strictly modern plans is demonstrated by a letter received yesterday from the Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto, by the secretary of the local fair, which reads in part as follows;

F. J. A. Hall, Esq.,
Peterborough, Ont.,

Dear Sir,—We are in receipt of your favor of the 19th inst., acknowledging receipt of secretary's books, etc. We thank you for a copy of your prize list which is excellently put up and a credit to your board, etc.

Yours truly,
J. McKIE WILSON,
Superintendent.

Mr. P. Simons Now in Business

Mr. P. Simons, a son of the late respected Peter Simons, Peterborough's veteran tailor, yesterday completed arrangements whereby he has secured rooms above Mr. W. Madill's drug store at the corner of George and Hunter streets. Mr. Simons, who has had many years' experience in every branch of the tailoring business whilst associated with his father, will henceforth, at the above address carry on a clothes cleaning and pressing business. Mr. Simons who has made a study of this branch of business in the United States, and in several Canadian cities, has acquired all the latest wrinkles as to taking in old clothes and after his manipulation has been done, turning such out looking like new. In view of Mr. Simons' personal popularity, and the knowledge of his long association with the late Mr. Peter Simons, coupled with his undoubted knowledge as to how to renew old and faded garments, will ensure him a large patronage. By the public. Mr. Simons will open his "20th Century Cleanery," on or about Monday of next week.

Market Scales Were Repaired

Yesterday morning some new planks were put in the platform floor of the large market weigh scales. This is none too soon as the springs of heavily laden wagons have been endangered every time such rigs passed over, as some of the planks were so rotted that the wheels when crossing would sink with a jerk calculated to dismember the stoutest of springs.

Work on Police Cells Begun

Yesterday several men were busy cleaning up and purifying the police station cells. The loss of insect life was something appalling. Bugs that used to lie in wait for poor misguided inebriates, too drunk to put up a fight against their attacks, were dislodged from house and home and, it is to be hoped, for life. The whole cell room is being thoroughly overhauled and purified.

—Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lundy were in the city yesterday and returned last night to their cottage at Chemong Park.

Hasty Nervous Chewing of Food the cause of Dyspepsia

If your teeth are fit, chew, chew chew, until the food is liquid and insists on being swallowed.

If teeth are faulty, soften Grape-Nuts with cream or hot or cold milk and allow to stand a minute soaking.

"There's a Reason" as follows:

Grape-Nuts food is in the form of hard and crisp granules, intended to be ground up by the teeth. That work not only preserves the teeth but brings down the saliva, so necessary in the primary work of indigestion.

Dr Hamilton Proves That Piles Are Caused by Constipation and Strong Catharties.

Knowing the frequency with which people suffer from this ailment. Dr. Hamilton made an exhaustive study into the cause of piles

He found that the lower part of the bowels is like a network of blood-vessels, and if subjected to persistent pressure, a section will bulge out and form what is commonly known as piles.

The only effective mode of curing this trouble is the regular use of Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which can be taken before retiring. Next day will bring wonderful relief.

"I suffered up to about the limit of human endurance with piles," writes Miss Lueders, from Cornwall, Ont., "I was employed in a factory here, but for a while had to give up work till I got better of this trouble I read in the Montreal Herald about Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and after using them for two weeks was cured. I can recommend these pills very highly; there are none better They at once relieve and pervent a constipated condition of the bowels, and from my experience can be depended upon as a perfect safeguard against piles. Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut, I am sure, would be a benefit to every girl or woman."

Take Dr. Hamilton's Pills and your system will be regenerated, revitalized, and made proof against disease.

Good for men, excellent for women, and most effective for children. All ages and both sexes find Dr. Hamilton's Pills a marvelous medicine. Although active, they do not gripe or cause inconvenience, system, thereby maintaining a high still they cleanse and purify the standard of health. FOREST FIRES

The closing weeks of summer and the early part of autumn in normal years constitute in this country the dry season. The rain fall is usually light, and the year's growth of vegetation has become ripe and sear. It is then that the woods and forests fall an easy prey to fire, and for that reason the early settlers with axe and torch worked through the dry season upon their clearings, that in time expanded into fields and in finally became cultivated farms. That destruction of timber, wasteful as it may now seem, was then necessary, in fact it was a step in the process of developing the country. But present day forest fires, which unfortunately occur during nearly every dry season, are nothing less than the wholesale destruction of great national resources, and the irreparable loss of national wealth. Great as is the timber supply of this country it is not illimitable and it is doubtful if reproduction is equal to the demands made annually upon the forests by the needs of commerce. When to this economic destruction is added that caused by forest fires the draft upon the timber resources of the country becomes enormous. Such fires as those now raging in the Georgian Bay districts cause appalling destruction, wiping out in a few days timber areas that would have given employment to the woodsman's axe for many a year, for destructive as that axe has been, its powers are limited in comparison with those of fire. Indeed it has been stated by competent authority that forest fires have destroyed by far more timber than have all the lumbering operations carried on since lumbering became an organized industry.

We are told in a Wiarton despatch that the Eastnor swamp about 10,000 acres in extent, is practically ablaze from end to end.

In earlier times the Indians were blamed, and often justly so, for forest fires. They employed the flames to drive game or an enemy from his lair; or through indifference or carelessness the camp fire was allowed to spread, often causing a conflagration that consumed the timber of a whole district. The Indian has gone, but his white successors in the forest are often guilty of his negligence and carelessness. The dry season when the danger of forest fires is greatest is the time the hunter is abroad, and to him most forest fires are said to be chargeable. A half extinguished camp fire left behind or a burning match thrown aside after lighting a pipe may result in the destruction of millions of dollars' worth of timber. Such carelessness or heedlessness, common and criminal as it is, should not be charged against the true sportsman, for he loves the forest too well to expose it to such danger. It is his great play ground, and he is careful to do nothing that will either lessen its charm or endanger its existence. He is the forest's friend; but not so with every hunter, camper, or prospector. Most fo them are careless and many are forest vandals for whom destruction of property, especially on a grand scale has powerful attractions. These are among the great enemies of the timber wealth of the country, and if it were possible to keep them out of the forests there would be fewer forest fires.

MORE PAY FOR POSTMASTERS

The salaries of rural postmasters have been increased by the Postmaster-General's Department at Ottawa, and the news will be gladly received alike by the postmasters thus affected and by the people they serve, as it foreshadows an improvement in the service given. True, the postmasters do not feel quite satisfied with the new scale, as they expected that the increases would be larger. This action by the department, however, is a move in the right direction, and further representations by those directly affected, as to actual conditions existing, will undoubtedly bring about the changes they desire. They may rest assured that the representation of their case will be attentively listened to by the government and the requests granted if at all reasonable.

In the past, country postmasters have been receiving a minimum salary of $25 a year with 40 per cent of the first $800 revenue of the office each year, 25 per cent on all revenue from $800 to $10,000, and 15 per cent on all revenue over $10,000. The new scale increases the minimum allowance to $36, with 50 per cent of the first $1,000 revenue of the office in each year, 30 per cent on all revenue between $1,000 and $10,000 and 20 per cent on all above $10,000.

All present postmasters who have to be on duty after 10 p.m. of before 6 a.m. are paid extra. The minimum extra allowance has been $6 and the maximum $60, according to the time employed and the work done. The new plan for extra payment changes the hours to 9 p.m. and 7 a.m. while the minimum allowance is increased to $10 and the maximum extra allowance to $100.

At present there is a forward allowance of 10 per cent of the revenue of the office when forwarding is done direct or through another office. The new scale is 12 1-2 per cent for both.

This new scale gives at least part of the relief asked for by the country postmasters, and it will, very probably, be followed in due time by further increases to make the salary paid commensurate with the services rendered by these officials.

THE GREATEST LOSS

The appalling calamity at Quebec will entail a heavy financial loss somewhere and the great undertak will be thrown back for years. But the greatest loss of all falls on the wives now widows and children now orphans of the unfortunate men who lost their lives. Their sorrow cannot be measured and the loss inflicted by the sudden taking away of the breadwinners will be fully appreciated only by the dependent ones who are so dorely bereft and deeply afflicted.

To check a cold quickly, get from our druggist some little Candy Cold Tablets called Preventics. Druggists everywhere are now dispensing Preventics, for they are not only safe, but decidedly certain and prompt. Preventics contain no quinine, no laxative, nothing harsh nor sickening. Taken at the "sneeze stage" Preventics will prevent pneumonia, bronchitis, la grippe, etc. Hence the name Preventics. Good for feverish children. 48 Preventics 25 cents. Trial boxes 5 cents. Sold by all dealers.

Only Religion Can Make United Germany

Muenster, Westphalia, Sept. 5.—In a speech the emperor delivered at the provincial museum here yesterday he said that the province of Westphalia presented a notable illustration of the possibility of uniting historic, religious and economic opposites in love and in loyalty to a common fatherland.

The kaiser said he made no distinction between the old and new parts of his country, and none between his Catholic and Protestant subjects. In economic matters also, he said, the province showed that great branches of industry need not injure one another and that the prosperity of one was good for the others.

The kaiser, continuing, said he would like to see the beautiful picture of personal unity in Westphalia spread over the whole of the fatherland. To effect this there was only one means, religion. Complete unity could be attained only through one center, in the person of the Redeemer of men, who had made all men brothers. In looking to him the German people must unite. In this spirit the old and the new part of the country, burgesses, peasants, and workmen, should work together in equal love and loyalty to the fatherland.

They Cure Constipation

If you think constipation is of trifling consequence, just ask your doctor. He will disabuse you of that notion in short order. "Correct it, at once!" he will say. Then ask him about Ayer's Pills. A mild liver pill, all vegetable.

Something New in Copper

PITTSBURG - IDAHO
Mining and Milling Company

The mine is located 58 miles above Lewiston, Idaho, on the Clearwater river, and consists of 19 full claims, or 380 acres. It is developed by tunnels, shafts and open cuts for more than 200 feet, disclosing thousands of tons of copper, gold and silver ores of both high grade and low grade. There are between 1000 and 2000 tons of ore ready for shipment. The entrance to the working tunnel is only 2000 feet from the track of the Northern Pacific railroad, to be reached by gravity tramway. There are seven parallel veins running lengthwise of the claims, one cropping out on the surface for 2000 feet and another for 3000 feet; while two veins cross these running into the mountain. These veins are from 30 to 200 feet wide. One ore chute has been crosscut 60 feet and is solid ore from wall to wall.

We are not asking you to buy in a prospect. That risk was taken by the promoters. We are asking you to buy in a developed, proven mine. Seven years of continuous work and the expenditure of thousands of dollars has proven up one of the greatest mines in Idaho. That mine is now ready to pour out its red and yellow wealth to the world with the installing of an up to date production plant. It is for that purpose that a block of its treasury stock, full paid and non-assessable, is offered for sale. We believe that within six months from the completion of a 100 ton plant the mine can be put on a dividend paying basis, and that those dividends will be substantial and permanent. Thee is no better investment proposition before the people at this time.

CAPITALIZATION $1,000,000. - PAR VALUE $1.

All promotion stock pooled during the sale of this treasury stock.

Messrs. Thos. Patterson & Co., Peterborough, Ont., are authorized to receive subscriptions for this stock, to whom all applications should be made.

Some time ago I secured a block of stock in the Guggenheim-Greenwater Copper Company. That stock is now selling across the border at 10 cents a share. My contract called for its sale at 5 cents, which was the quotation when I bought. Until my block of stock is exhausted I can continue selling at 5 cents.

The properties of the Guggenheim-Greenwater Copper Company at Ely and at Greenwater, Nevada, show all the indications of great mines. They are in the best company. All around them are famous ore producers, not one of which looked better before development than these do.

Work is in progress, and the prospect brightens with every foot sunk. Come in and I will convince you that this is an opportunity you will not run across again. Don't wait till what I have is gone and then wish you had acted. Come in or write today.

THE CONQUEST of CANAAN

By BOOTH TARKINGTON,
Author of "Cherry," "Monsieur Beaucaire," Etc.

COPYRIGHT, 1903, BY HARPER & BROTHERS

Those who humanly felt the judge's behavior to be a trifle flat and unsensational were recompensed late in the afternoon when it became known that Eugene Bantry had resigned his position on the Tocsin. His reason for severing his connection was dumfounding. He had written a formal letter to the judge and repeated the gist of it to his associates in the office and acquaintances upon the street. He declared that he no longer sympathized with the attitude of the Tocsin toward his stepbrother and regretted that he had previously assisted in emphasizing the paper's hostility to Joe, particularly in the matter of the approaching murder trial. This being the case, he felt that his effectiveness in the service of the paper had ceased, and he must in justice to the owner resign.

"Well, I'm cursed!" was the simple comment of the elder Louden when his stepson sought him out at the factory and repeated this statement to him.

"So am I, I think," said Eugene wanly. "Goodby. I'm going now to see mother, but I'll be gone before you come home."

"Gone where?"

"Just away. I don't know where." Eugene answered from the door. "I couldn't live here any longer. I"—

"You've been drinking," said Mr. Louden, inspired. "You'd better not let Mamie Pike see you."

Eugene laughed desolately. "I don't mean to. I shall write to her. Goodby," he said and was gone before Mr. Louden could restore enough order out of the chaos in his mind to stop him.

Thus Mrs. Louden's long wait at the window was tragically rewarded, and she became an unhappy actor in Canaan's drama of that day. Other ladies attended at other windows or near their front doors throughout the afternoon—the families of the three patriarchs awaiting their return as the time drew on with something akin to frenzy. Mrs. Fliteroft, a lady of temper, whose rheumatism confined her to a chair, had her grandson wheel her out upon the porch, and as the dusk fell and she finally saw her husband coming at a laggard pace, leaning upon his cane, his chin sunk on his breast, she frankly told Norbert that although she had lived with that man fifty-seven years she would never be able to understand him. She repeated this with genuine symptoms of hysteria when she discovered that the colonel had not come straight from the Tabor house, but had stopped two hours at Peter Bradbury's to "talk it over."

One item of his recital, while sufficiently startling to his wife, had a remarkable effect upon his grandson. This was the information that Ariel Tabor's fortune no longer existed.

"What's that?" cried Norbert, starting to his feet. "What are you talking about?"

"It's true," said the colonel deliberately. "She told me so herself. Eskew had dropped off into a sort of doze—more like a stupor perhaps—and we all went into Roger's old studio, except Louden and the doctor, and while we were there talkin' one of Pike's clerks came with a basket full of tin boxes and packages of papers and talked to Miss Tabor at the door and went away. Then old Peter blundered out and asked her point blank what it was, and she said it was her estate—almost everything she had, except the house. Buckalew, tryin' to make a joke, said he'd be willin' to swap his house and lot for the basket, and she laughed and told him she thought he'd be sorry; that all there was, to speak of, was a pile of distillery stock"—

"What?" repeated Norbert incredulously.

"Yes. It was the truth," said the colonel solemnly. "I saw it myself. Blocks and blocks of stock in that distillery trust that went up higher 'n a kite last year. Roger had put all of Jonas' good money"—

"Not into that!" shouted Norbert, uncontrollably excited.

"Yes, he did. I tell you I saw it!"

"I tell you he didn't. He owned Granger gas, worth more today than it ever was! Pike was Roger's attorney in fact and bought it for him before the old man died. The check went through my hands. You don't think I'd forget as big a check as that, do you, even if it was more than a year ago? Or how it was signed and who made out to? It was Martin Pike that got caught with distillery stock. He speculated once too often!"

"No, you're wrong," persisted the colonel. "I tell you I saw it myself."

"Then you're blind," returned his grandson disrespectfully; "you're blind or else—or else"— He paused, open mouthed, a look of wonder struggling its way to expression upon him, gradually conquering every knobby outpost of his countenance. He struck his fat hands together. "Where's Joe Louden?" he asked sharply. "I want to see him. Did you leave him at Miss Tabor's?"

"He's goin' to sit up with Eskew. What do you want of him?"

"I should say you better ask that!" Mrs. Fliteroft began shrilly. "It's enough, I guess, for one of this family to go runnin' after him and shakin' hands with him and heaven knows what not! Norbert Fliteroft!"

But Norbert jumped from the porch, ruthlessly crossed his grandmother's geranium bed and, making off at as sharp a pace as his architecture permitted, within ten minutes opened Ariel's gate.

Sam Warden came forward to meet him.

"Don't ring, please, sub," said Sam. "Dey sot me out heah to tell inquirin' frien's dat po' ole Mist' Arp mighty low."

"I want to see Mr. Louden," returned Norbert. "I want to see him immediately."

"I don' reckon he kin come out yit," Sam said in a low tone. "But I kin go in an' ast 'im."

He stepped softly within, leaving Norbert waiting, and went to the door of the sickroom. The door was open, the room brightly lighted, as Eskew had commanded when, a little earlier, he awoke.

Joe and Ariel were alone with him, leaning toward him with such white anxiety that the colored man needed no warning to make him remain silent in the hallway. The veteran was speaking, and his voice was very weak, seeming to come from a great distance.

"It's mighty funny, but I feel like I used to when I was a little boy. I reckon I'm kind of scared after all. Airie Tabor—are you—here?"

"Yes, Mr. Arp."

"I thought—so—but I—I don't see very well—lately. I—wanted—to—know—to know"—

"Yes—to know?" She knelt close beside him.

"It's kind of—foolish," he whispered.

Stomach troubles, heart and kidney ailments, can be quickly corrected with a prescription known to Druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. The prompt and surprising relief which this remedy immediately brings is entirely due to its Restorative action upon the controlling nerves of the stomach, etc.

A weak stomach causing dyspepsia, a weak heart with palpitation or intermittent pulse, always means weak stomach nerves or weak heart nerves. Strengthen these inside or controlling nerves with Dr. Shoop's Restorative and see how quickly these ailments disappear. Dr. Shoop of Racine, Wis., will mail samples free. Write for them. A test will tell. Your health is certainly worth this simple trial. Sold by all dealers.

CABLE DISPATCHES.

A New Guessing Game That Will Furnish a Pleasant Hour.

A certain man went to Europe, leaving his family at home. He was either too indolent or too busy to write often. But he could not afford to cable lengthy dispatches, so he wrote his wife that he would condense each cablegram into a single word by using only initial letters. The first message he sent was B R O W N. While he was congratulating himself upon outwitting the cable company by sending five words in one, the family at home were distracted over their varying interpretations of the message. His daughter thought it meant "Bought ring on Wednesday night" and began guessing just what kind of a ring it was. His wife in her anxiety read it: "Big rain—out—wet—neuralgia." Other guesses at the intended meaning differed quite as widely.

In playing the game any word may be used instead of "Brown." Let the leader, who is supposed to be the traveler, announce the word, keeping the meaning to himself, and let each player write his guess of the intended meaning on a slip of paper. If there are prizes, the one who offers the nearest guess wins. The game may be varied by supposing that the message is sent to mother or son or to wife or to business partner or from some particular city, as London, Rome or Jerusalem.

Etc.

The wide awake boys and girls should remember that the abbreviation etc. means "and other things" and may not, therefore, be applied to persons. It stands for the Latin words "et cetera," of the neuter gender. The symbol &c. is only another form of etc., the & taking the place of the conjunction et.

A Nice Present.

It is said of a champion mean man that the only present he ever made to his wife was on the twenty-fifth anniversary of their wedding, when he gave her four yards of cotton cloth with which to make him a shirt.

Logical Result.

Teacher—What happens when a person's temperature goes down as far as it can go? Tommy—Then he has cold feet.

Constipation

Baked sweet apples, with some people, bring prompt relief for Constipation. With others, coarse all-wheat bread will have the same effect. Nature undoubtedly has a vegetable remedy to relieve every ailment known to man, if physicians can but find Nature's way to health. And this is strikingly true with regard to Constipation.

The bark of a certain tree in California—Cascara Sagrada—offers a most excellent aid to this end. But, combined with Egyptian Senna, Slippery Elm Bark, Solid Extract of Prunes, etc., this same Cascara bark is given its greatest possible power to correct constipation. A toothsome Candy Tablet, called Lax-ets, is now made at the Dr. Shoop Laboratories, from this ingredients and most effective prescription. Its effect on Constipation, Biliousness, Sour Stomach, Bad Breath, Sallow Complexion, etc., is indeed prompt and satisfying.

No griping, no unpleasant after effects are experienced, and Lax-ets are put up in beautiful lithographed metal boxes at 5 cents and 25 cents per box.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry must be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made on certain conditions, by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of the homesteader resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Six months' notice in writing should be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of intention to apply for patent.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.

Sure Cure for Sciatica.

Sciatica is really inflammation of the sciatic nerve, the largest nerve in the body.

This passive inflammation is the product of a run-down condition, and in every case you may be sure the nerves are worn down fine.

The pain is the cry of the nerves for more food—for richer, redder blood.

Rubbing on a greasy liniment can't help very much—you must treat the blood and rebuild the nervous system.

This can be promptly done with Ferrozone.

No builder of nerve force is more powerful.

No tonic so quickly fortifies the muscular system, imparts such strength, such endurance and vigor.

Any traces of Uric Acid and rheumatic poison are quickly driven out by Ferrozone. The lowered condition of the system is changed into a reserve of vigor that defies further attacks of Sciatic.

Marvellous in its preconstructive and rebuilding power, quick to give relief, absolutely sure to cure,—where can you find a better treatment than Ferrozone? Sold by all druggists in 50c. boxes; try Ferrozone.

Improvements at Little Lake Cemetery

Superintendent Wise has a gang of men at work making improvements at the Little Lake cemetery. Among other additions is the putting in of a watef table for better drainage on the hill east of the chapel. When this is completed a great improvement will have been affected.

Duck Shooting Good at Rice Lake

Duck shooting at Rice Lake is better than it has been for years, Messrs. Baptiste O'Dette and Arthur Heron, two well known local duck hunters, bagged thirteen brace of ducks in a short time. They were fine specimens of wild duck and were greatly admired by the two sportsmen's many friends.

Englishman Gets Big Toe Crushed

Yesterday afternoon as J. Brittain, a scion of Albion, as designated by his name, was working in the machine shop of the C.G.E. Works, he had the misfortune of having the big toe of his left foot badly crushed. A heavy casting fell on it, and caused the injured man much pain. Dr. Marshall attended Brittain, who was afterwards removed to his home at 249 Park street, in the Dan Spence ambulance.

Nippon Engineer in the City

This city is honored by having within our walls one of the most experienced and well posted engineers of Japan, in the person of Prof. U. Ogawa, who is a guest at the Oriental hotel. He is connected with the College of Engineering, Imperial University at Kyoto, Japan, and came to Canada to inspect the Welland and Soo Locks. He has been in England and Germany. Yesterday afternoon he visited the chief engineer of the canal and the superintendents and went over to the lift lock. This son of Nippon was greatly pleased with what he saw.

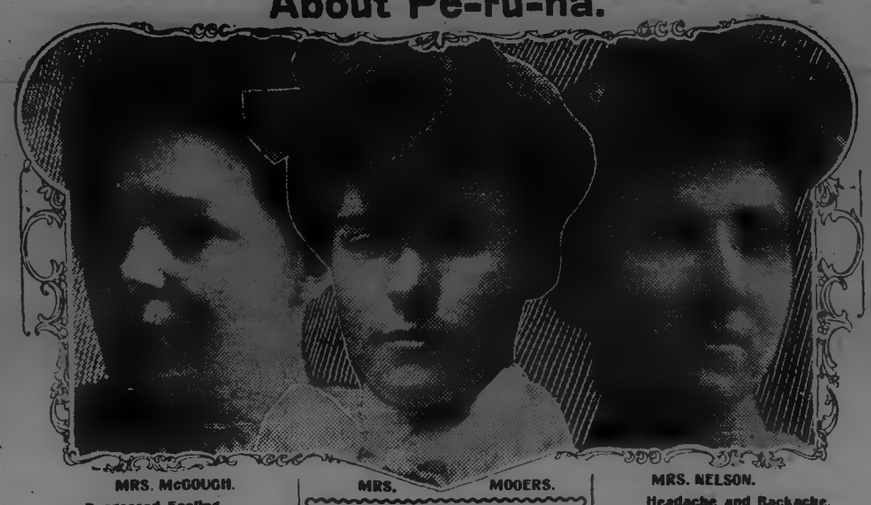
WOMEN TALK TO WOMEN

About Pe-ru-na.



MRS. McGOUGH.

Depressed Feeling.

Mrs. M. McGough, 219 W. 53rd street, New York, N. Y., writes:

"I gladly add my mite of praise to Peruna for what it has done for me. Two years ago a depressed feeling took hold of me. My back and sides ached continually. My stomach got out of order so that at times I could not hold a glass of cold water. I didn't like to eat, afraid that my stomach would get sick. I have been using Peruna for the three past months and now I feel as well as I ever did. My stomach is as strong as ever and my nervous troubles have disappeared. I keep recommending Peruna to my friends who are troubled as I was, and I have been thanked for doing so."

MRS. MOOERS.

Mrs. Wilda Mooers, R. F. D. 1, Lents, Ore., member Order of Washington, writes:

"For the past four years I was a wretched woman suffering with troubles peculiar to my sex, causing severe backache and bearing down pains and leaving me so weak and weary that it was only with difficulty that I was able to attend to my household duties. I used different remedies and injections, but found no relief until I had tried Peruna. Within two weeks there was a complete change for the better and in less than three months I was a well and happy woman and all the praise is due to Peruna."

MRS. NELSON.

Headache and Backache.

Mrs. Tressie Nelson, 609 N. 5th Ave., Nashville, Tenn., writes:

"As Peruna has done me a world of good, I feel in duty bound to tell of it, in hopes that it may meet the eye of some woman who has suffered as I did. For five years I really did not know what a perfectly well day was, and if I did not have headache, I had backache or a pain somewhere and really life was not worth the effort I made to keep going.

"A good friend advised me to use Peruna and I was glad to try anything, and I am very pleased to say that six bottles made a new woman of me and I have no more pains and life looks bright again."

The above testimonials represent actual experience of every-day life. They are the truthful utterances of women who have been ill and have found a reliable remedy in Peruna.

It means a great deal to the women of America who have at hand a remedy capable of performing such cures. Nervousness, backache, dyspepsia, headache, melancholy, bearing down pains. All these and a host of other symptoms are relieved by Peruna. At least this is what the women say. They have no object in saying such things, except to render truthful testimony to their suffering sisters.

The reader will note by reading these testimonials that in most cases other remedies were tried, doctors were consulted, and finally Peruna came to their rescue and made them well again.

Peruna is making such cures every day. It is the testimony of the people that has made Peruna so justly famous.

Suffered Thirteen Years.

Mrs. Anna Munden, Hollygrove, Ark., writes:

"I suffered with female troubles for thirteen years.

"I saw an advertisement of your Peruna and bought one bottle and before I had taken it all I could get out of bed and walk about.

"After taking three bottles I was as well and hearty as ever and gained in flesh. I would not be without it."

Headache and Deafness.

Mrs. Mary E. Sampson, Londonderry, N. H., writes:

"I had terrible headaches, both ears run and I was nervous all the time, was deaf in one ear for thirty years. I took six bottles of Peruna and one of Manalin, and am happy to say that it is the best medicine that I ever heard of. I am not so nervous, my appetite is good, everything I eat agrees with me, and I am feeling better in every way."

A Severe Cold.

Miss Marie Calvin, 927 Main street, Cincinnati, Ohio, writes:

"I caught a cold coming home from an evening party and as I did not pay particular attention to it, I quickly became worse and found myself in a serious condition.

"I took Peruna and it brought me immediate relief. Within a week I was cured and now whenever I feel badly Peruna will set things right."

Chile.

Chile, which has the reputation of being the most progressive of the Spanish speaking countries, has over 5,000 miles of railroad and 11,000 miles of telegraph.

Constantinople Women.

Out of the enormous number of women in Constantinople not more than 5,000 can read or write.

Coal.

The total consumption of coal in the world is 50,000,000 tons an hour.

Divorce Laws.

A man who has given the subject a great deal of variety says that there is a greater variety to be found among divorce laws of different nations than among the laws governing any other event.

The Cottonwood Tree.

The cottonwood tree endures great extremes of temperature and when the roots can reach a good supply of moisture it successfully withstands severe droughts. It is a fast growing tree and demands plenty of light. On irrigated lands cottonwoods have been known to attain a diameter of fourteen inches in eight years.

A Frog Barometer.

A curious barometer used in Germany and Switzerland consists of a jar of water with a frog and a little stepladder in it. When the frog comes out of the water and sits on the steps it is said infallibly to foretell rain.

A Running Regiment.

The Bersaglieri are the men of Italy's crack regiment. They never walk, but are trained to run instead, and their appearance at a review always creates the wildest enthusiasm among the people, who think that there is no other regiment in the world that could accomplish such feats. And perhaps they are right.

Arrangements for Borden Reception

A meeting of the executives of the Young Conservative Club and the Liberal-Conservative Association of West Peterborough, will be held in the Young Conservative club rooms this evening at eight o'clock to complete final arrangements for the visit of Mr R. L. Borden to Peterborough on Wednesday evening next, Sept 11th, when a big mass meeting will be held in the Grand Opera house.

The meeting promises to be largely attended and it is expected the demonstration in honor of Mr. Borden will be one of the most successful ever held in the political history of the riding.

WIFE GAVE UP HUSBAND CROWD MOBBED HIM

Artist's Carriage Overturned by Angry Citizens Who Sympathized with Wife Who was Ready to Help Him to Marry His So-Called Affinity.

New York, Sept 8. — Ferdinand Pinney Earle was mobbed by five hundred angry fellow citizens of Monroe, N.Y., and his carriage upset by them last night, when he returned from New York after sending his discarded wife and son to Europe on the Ryndam The wife has agreed to give him up and seek a divorce in France.

His affinity, whose name Earle says is Julia Kuttner, for whom he put away his wife, was in Monroe to see the artist flight for his life with the throng She hurried away from Monroe in the morning at eleven o'clock.

Earle escaped without serious injury, but he was saved only by the efforts of Z. Paddleford, chief of police, and Policeman West Beatty, who threw themselves between him and the enraged men and women who sought to reach him.

USED BUGGY WHIP.

Armed with a heavy buggy whip, Earle himself stood off five men who dodged past the police and attacked him. He dealt them blow after blow, yelling defiance as he stood bareheaded in a pouring rainstorm. Thos Ryan, Earle's coachman, stood with him and fought his assailants.

While Earle was fighting the mob in Monroe, Mrs. Earle and her son, Harold, two and a half years old, were out on the Atlantic on their way back to France The artist had bade his disowned wife and son good-bye on the deck of the Ryndam at the Holland-American pier at two o'clock in the afternoon. In the bearing of neither Earle nor his wife was there anything to suggest the tragedy they were acting.

WIFE APPEARED CARELESS.

For the entire four hours during which they were together on the Ryndam they were surrounded by reporters and a crowd of curious persons. Both the man and the woman kept up an appearance almost of hilarity. They smiled and laughed, turning off questioners with joking remarks. Mrs. Earle grew serious at the last.

"We are all contented with the arrangement," she said in her parting statement. "In renunciation there is both pain and happiness. I now am experiencing the pain, but I hope in the future to experience the happiness. I am making this sacrifice willingly, and leave my husband to the woman he has chosen to succeed me with only charitable feelings. My boy and I are going to Paris to make our home. I shall teach my son to forget."

"Do you know the affinity whom Mr Earle has established at his home in Monroe as successor to his wife?" a reporter asked of Mrs. Victor Earle.

"Not for mine," she answered with a laugh and shrug. "I've never seen her and I don't want to."

POSED FOR PICTURES.

At the request of photographers Earle posed a dozen times for pictures, and just before the steamship left he persuaded his wife to pose with him on the deck Mrs. Earle protested, but obeyed. Indeed, she seemed to obey anything her big husband said without demur.

She is very slight, typically a French woman in appearance and speaks with a marked French accent when she talks English She did not appear to shrink from the curious gaze of her fellow passengers, nor did she show any traces of tears at parting from her husband. There was a lingering sadness in her eyes even when she smiled, but never a tear or a sob.

With Earle the day appeared to be a holiday He smiled and joked and granted interviews by the score.

IF NO DIVORCE.

"Suppose your wife should be unable to procure a divorce in France?" some one asked.

"Why, then I should be compelled to take her back," he said.

"But what would you do with the other woman?"

"Perhaps I might move to Utah."

Harold, the boy who is to be taught to forget his father, saw little of him on the Ryndam. He remained in his mother's cabin, No. 31, saying tearful farewells to his nurse, Mary Nagle. The final good-bye between husband and wife took place in her cabin. He emerged dry eyed and smiling. His sister-in-law, on the other hand, came out with her eyes filled with tears.

While the little French woman was making her supreme sacrifice Julia Kuttner was leaving Earle's home. With her mother and brother she slipped out of Monroe at eleven o'clock, and in the short interview given out by Earle last night between the time of his arrival in Monroe and his mobbing, he announced that she would not return until his wife got her divorce.

WONT MARRY HER YET.

"Miss Kuttner will not return to your home until you can marry her?" some one asked.

"It would be rather unconventional, wouldn't it?" the seeker for soul affinities returned.

"Do you, who have just put your wife away, care for conventionality?"

"Why be unnecessarily unconventional?"

New York, Sept. 6.—Ferdinand Pinney Earle, the Orange county artist Socialist, who has set his fellowtownsmen at Monroe and other persons all agog by shipping his wife and their little son, Harold, off to Europe so that he may obtain the freedom he needs to marry another woman, has written to the world a lengthy defence of his action, his text being the recent criticism of himself by a woman writer. He says:

"There is nothing brutal or immoral in our whole affair, except the attitude of the papers, which are the helplessly and hopelessly senseless and harmful servants of exploited millions.

"I regret this notoriety for the sake of the noble woman who is going partly out of my life, and for the sake of the lady who has helped me through this drama, and for the sake of the families who did not necessarily share our views. As for Harold, he goes to lovable friends and shall ever enjoy a father's protection, and we trust shall live to vindicate his parents."

Police Court

At Saturday's Police Court the first case tried was that of Mr. M. Pappas, a local tobacconist, charged with having sold tobacco to a boy under 18 years of age without an order for the same from his parents Reynolds, the boy who purchased the tobacco, in the witness box said he had bought the goods for a still younger boy. It seems thatt his case was an aftermath of the trial of a number of boys arrested some time since for robbing the old man Stuart whilst out driving. The younger boy, named Warboy, for whom the tobacco was bought, went on to the witness stand and testified to giving the elder boy money to buy tobacco. Mr. Gordon, acting for the defendant, said that he had only had an hour or an hour and a half's notice of the trial, and had not been able to get his witnesses yet The Magistrate, however, replied that the sale had been proven, and were the tobacconist's clerk to come and deny the sale, he would not believe him.

Here, whilst waiting, the Magistrate asked the boy Reynolds, who with others, was arrested for robbing the old man Stuart "Reynolds, how much did you take out of that man's pocket?" "$40," replied Reynolds. "Oh you took more than that." It seems that over $41 was found on the boys arrested. The Magistrate then noted that the costs in the Stuart robbery trial, together with the shortage between what was stolen and recovered, amounted to $17.25. This was paid by Reynold's father. The Magistrate went on to say to Reynolds, "Reynolds this was no impulsive robbery but done in cold blood You deliberately hung to this man, you got him drunk and robbed him while unconscious. It was a mean, dirty action. I cannot let such an offence go unpunished. Whilst you have had no Police Court record there is too much of this business of people hanging round the bars of this city to rob drunken men I cannot let you go on suspended sentence. You will be confined in the county jail for two months at hard labor. The other charge of giving tobacco to Warboy I will let drop. The sentence I have imposed for the robbery is a very light one. The fact that your father has made good the money is nothing to your credit, and does not lessen the crime.

At this juncture, Mr. Gordon's witnesses, from whom Reynolds said he had bought the tobacco, arrived. The boy could not recognize any of the witnesses as the one from whom he purchased the tobacco.

The Magistrate here imposed a fine of $25 to be paid forthwith. The case will be appealed. The next case was that of the boy Fowler charged with having aided in the robbing of old Stuart The boy Reynolds went into the box and said on Tuesday he was driving with Stuart, who was drunk. Fowler got in with him, and sat on the dash board Fowler took the money out of Stewart's pocket, and handed him, witness, $01. He did not know from which pocket, and then admitted he had not seen Fowler take it at all, but oFwler had the roll, and handing him $10, said he would divide up in the morning. Fowler put the balance of the roll into Stuart's vest pocket. After a time Fowler got out of the rig, and witness later on stole the money from Stuart's pocket. Young Warboy, at witness' request, drove Stuart home Witness saw Fowler next day, and asked for his share of the $10 He gave Fowler eighty cents

Albert Curtis said on the night of the robbing, he passed three people driving in a rig. He recognized Fowler who was sitting on the dash board.

Stuart, the man robbed, said he lost over $90 He recognized Reynolds as the boy he went for a drive with. Young Warboy said he was with Reynolds the morning after the robbery. They met young oFwler. Reynolds gave witness a dollar on Tuesday night

Mr McWilliams, acting for the boy Fowler thought there was no corroboration of Reynold's evidence. The Magistrate said he is bound to give the benefit of the doubt The Reynold's evidence was not so reliable as would warrant a conviction The case was dismissed

Montreal Bank Changes Premises

At one o'clock Saturday afternoon, the transferance began of all the bank contents from the old Montreal Bank building, on the southeastern corner of Water and Simcoe streets, to the building recently occupied by the defunct Bank of Ontario on the opposite corner. All the employes were busily engaged in the alteration work, as this morning at ten o'clock business in connection with the Bank of Montreal will be done in the new premises.

Peterboro Teachers Unpleasant Experience

Miss Packenham Quarantined in House Near Buckhorn

Miss Packenham of this city, who went to teach at Rockcroft, some six miles from Buckhorn, a few days ago met with an experience that was more exciting than pleasurable.

It seems that on arrival she went to the residence o, one of the school trustees, whose daughter had unfortunately been attacked by diphtheria. The house is now quarantined and the teacher has not opened school. The school has been closed for two weeks when it is expected all will be well as the cases are considered very light.

Another Peterboro Pioneer Passes Away

Mr. James Ames, of Edinburgh St., Died Yesterday Afternoon

Mr James Ames, one of Peterborough's oldest pioneers, died at 2.30 yesterday afternoon. The deceased had been in poor health for about three years, the result of a breaking up of the system natural to advanced age. The late Mr. Ames was born in Frome, England, 76 years ago, and when quite a boy came to this country, his family settling in Peterborough. After his marriage the deceased gentleman lived at Millbrook for a short time, and subsequently returned to this city, where he has permanently resided for fifty years.

The late Mr. Ames conducted a boot and shoe business for some thirty-five years, employing at one time many men in the manufacture of made to order goods, for the lumbering and country trade, especially, when Peterborough was but a small lumbering town. With the introduction of machinery for the manufacture of boots and shoes, and consequent growth in demand for the ready made articles turned out wholesale by the big city manufacturers, the deceased confined his energies to the ready-made trade and repairing, and for many years kept store on George street in the premises at present occupied by the Bank of Ottawa. He retired from business seven years ago.

The late Mr. Ames was predeceased by his wife four years ago last spring. His demise is mourned by one daughter, Mrs. H. Fraelick, of this city, and one brother, Rev. Wm. Ames of Woodstock, a retired Methodist minister.

The deceased was a staunch and exemplary member of George St. Methodist church of many years' standing. In business and private life he was highly respected and a citizen of sterling character, and in his death the community has lost a valued member whose strict honesty and integrity of purpose in a long life of 76 years is worthy of emulation. The bereaved family have the sympathy of a large circle of friends and acquaintances.

The funeral will take place tomorrow, afternoon from the family residence, Edinburgh street, to the Little Lake cemetery. The hour will be announced later.

Good Work Done on the Cavan Drain

3,000 Acres of Present Useless Land to be Made Cultivable

Lindsay Post: Splendid progress is being made on the big drain through Cavan swamp, which, it is estimated, will make 3000 acres of land now lying unproductive, suitable for cultivation. The drain, when completed, will be about eight miles in length, and runs across the eleventh, twelfth and thirteenth concessions of Cavan, their emptying into the creek which runs through Peterborough. The confluence will be somewhere near the city.

Work on the drain was commenced about the first of May, and to date about 2 1-4 miles have been completed A little over five miles remains to be done, and it is expected that the work will be completed about Christmas Russell, Brooks and Hilton, of Toronto, have the contract, and the work is being done with a steam dredge, which was built on the ground The price of the contract is $11,900, which is being borne by the municipality of Cavan, the property owners whose land is being drained by the big ditch, and the Ontario Government. The drain is seventeen feet wide at the top and four feet at the bottom, and varies in depth from five to eleven feet.

Splendid New Cut Stone Doorway

Yesterday the handsome and massive cut stone portal of the building being erected on Hunter street by the Bell Telephone Co., was put into position. The actual doorway of cut stone is high enough to let a man could such be fonud, 12 feet high wearing a plug hat to enter without stooping. Above the doorway is a massive carved scroll work cap, some three or four feet high. This cut stone entrance, by contrast with the beautiful pressed brick front of the new Bell Telephone building makes a most agreeable tout ensemble Mr. Doan the local manager of the Bell Company, does not expect to be located in the new building before possibly next March. It is easily to be understood that so complicated a business as the moving of a vast telephone system, involves much more time and trouble than the ordinary man, unacquainted with the details of such, would ever imagine. To begin with there is the placing in position and connecting up with subscribers of an intricate and delicate switch board of the very latest type; then there is the bringing in and distribution of thousands of wires between hundreds of subscribers, and long distance connections, and distributing correctly throughout the great switch board known event the Bell Company will hurry matters as fast as men, money, muscle and brains will permit.

Channel Fleet is Increased

A Complete Reversal of Policy of the Admiralty

London Sept 8.—It is officially announced that the Channel Fleet is to be increased in the first week of September by thirty-two vessels. These are,

2 armoured cruisers.
1 protected cruiser.
2 depot ships for destroyers.
1 distilling vessel.
2 scouts.
24 destroyers.

The total strength of the Channel Fleet, which now stands at twenty-one vessels, will thus be raised to fifty-three, or only fourteen vessels less than the number commanded last year by Admiral Sir A. K. Wilson.

The Admiralty have thus virtually acknowledged the truth of our contention that the reduction of the Channel Fleet from sixty-seven vessels to twenty-one constituted a public danger. They have also tacitly admitted that the Home Fleet is, as we have steadily maintained, a reserve fleet, and nothing but a reserve fleet.

The announcement of the restoration of the Channel Fleett o an adequate strength has been made immediately after the two days' training of the Home Fleet had demonstrated its unfitness for immediate active service.

The complete reversal of policy implied is revealed by a comparison of official utterances in Parliament with the present announcement. Mr. Robertson has stated that the Channel Fleet was adequate for the duties required of it, and that it was not proposed to increase it. Lord Tweedmouth has declared his conviction that, when the battleships were a homogeneous squadron, the Channel Fleet was superior to any fleet in the world—or even any two fleets.

Three weeks ago Mr. Lambert declined to state whether it was intended to increase the fleet, because the information would be useful to foreign powers. The intelligence then withheld from the House of Commons is now published in the press throughout the country!

By restoring the greater number of the ships transferred from the Channel to the Home Fleet early in the year, the Admiralty have at last abandoned their whole much-advertised case.

The Home Fleet was formed in order to disguise a scheme of reduction designed to effect a money saving. It was pretended that it was "instantly ready for war" and that therefore the sea-going squadrons could be safely decreased.

That pretence has been exposed, and the Admiralty have admitted it. Henceforth the Home Fleet is to be known as a reserve; and the Admiralty stand committed to a policy that is modified or reversed in accordance with the pressure of public opinion.

Deserts Wife and Family

It was generally rumored throughout the city on Saturday that a local baker, named James Malcolm, had left for parts unknown, leaving his wife and family in destitute circumstances. The report is that Malcolm a few days ago sent the family to Toronto to visit a relative. On their return to this city they were shocked to find that the husband and father had sold the family furniture, and even the clothing of the family and had skipped out. The father of the deserted wife was in the city on Saturday, having come from Toronto to investigate matters. It is thought the absconding man has gone to Orillia, and has taken a local woman with him. If captured he should be severely dealt with.

It seems that Malcolm has been working at Munn's bakery, where he met the woman with whom he is alleged to have eloped

Canada is Now the Danger Point of British Empire

Vancouver, Sept. 8—"Since the defeat of Russia the international danger scene has been shifted from northern India to the Pacific coast of North America," declared Mr. Hamar Greenwood, member for York in the British House of Commons, at the Canadian Club luncheon

Since Napoleon's wars Canada had been out of the range of international politics, he said, but since then the western end of the North American continent, the coast of British Columbia, had come directly within the purview of the foreign secretary.

The empire was scattered and vulnerable, he said, and he hoped no reckless deeds or words would hamper the foreign secretary in preserving British Columbia to the empire and to the domination of the white race. Their interests could not be unified but by degrees, for an empire was not a business. It dealt with the lives and sentiments of men, but he was certain that the outcome of the present Oriental problem of British Columbia would be settled in good time to the satisfaction of the province. It could not however, be done with the rush that some urged.

Building Permits Issued Last Week

It seems that even though we are now enjoying fall weather, and within measurable distance of winter, building operations are still booming. Last week the following permits were issued by Clerk S. R Armstrong viz,

C. Halpin, repairing hotel on Hunter street, to cost $250

W. J. Taylor, enlarging dwelling on Aylmer street, to cost $65

Mrs John Moher, enlarging dwelling on Center street, to cost $125

R. D. Dobson, erecting addition to dwelling on London street, to cost $150

Wilbur Cole, erecting dwelling on Dublin street, to cost $1,050

W. R Adamson, erecting a dwelling on Stewart street, to cost $2000,

W. J. Johnston, contractor

C Ash, altering a dwelling on Parnell street, to cost $50

R Fitzgerald, altering a dwelling on George street, to cost $100

John Pearson enlarging a building on Pearl avenue, to cost $125

Sidney Crowe, erecting dwelling on Aylmer street, to cost $1600 R. G Hudson, contractor.

Are in a Quandary

Ottawa, Sept 7.—Government emigration authorities at Ottawa are in a quandary as to what will ultimately happen to the eighteen Chinese recently captured while taking smuggled into Canada from Newfoundland and who are now in jail The law provides that Chinese entering Canada irregularly may be held for a year but does not state whether at the end of that time the $500 entrance fee shall be collected

Lakefield Man's Hand Lacerated

Mr. Geo. Baptie Has Right Hand Almost Severed by Circular Saw

Mr Geo. Baptie of Baptie Bros., Lakefield, is now in the Nicholls Hospital, suffering severely with a badly lacerated hand It seems that he was working in the Strickland sawmill when an accident occurred, which cost him a finger of the right hand.

While ripping a piece of lumber with a circular saw one end of the stick fell, causing his hand to come against the teeth of the rapidly revolving saw. The back of Mr. Baptie's hand met the cruel teeth and the knuckles were cut through He was at once driven to the city by Dr. Baker of Lakefield. The latter with Dr. McClellan amputated the middle finger. Other fingers may yet have to be removed.

Gardens and Lawns Inspected Tomorrow

Horticultural Society Will Make Their Annual Tower of Inspection

The directors of the Peterborough Horticultural Society, have chosen tomorrow as the day for the inspection of lawns, grounds and yards. This change made by the society several years ago was a decided improvement on the exhibitions that were formerly held.

The committee in awarding the prizes is guided not by the extent or elaborateness of the ground, but by the effect accomplished under the conditions through the tastes and efforts of the owner. Any person desiring the inspection of their grounds should send word to Mr. Real, the secretary of the committee.

Another important decision the committee afrived at was to distribute to the members of the society during the autumn six imported Dutch hyasinth bulbs and six daffodil bulbs.

Convicted Forger Attempts to Escape

Chief Ruse of Cobourg Recaptures The Prisoner

It will be remembered that some months ago a young man named Reginald Travers, attempted to pass certain forged cheques in this vicinity.

In Cobourg recently his nefarious designs were crowned with temporary success as the Bank of Toronto in that town cashed a cheque for Travers that the latter had signed S. O. Taylor. He was captured and sent to Cobourg to await trial, and on the first day of May was sentenced to four months in the county jail. His term expired on last Thursday and as he was wanted in Cobalt and Ottawa on similar charges he was taken from the jail to the police court for a preliminary hearing. As Chief Ruse was escorting him, Travers suddenly tripped and knocked the officer down, and then bolted. The chief drew his billy and Travers thinking it was a revolver, halted. The prisoner was placed in safe keeping and no doubt will get all that is coming to him

EXPERT DISCUSSES QUEBEC BRIDGE WRECK

Engineering News Says Editorially That Disaster Made Thousands of Engineers Sick at Heart--Loss is Almost Incalculable.

Montreal, Sept 9. The Engineering News says editorially; "It is with the keenest regret that we record the collapse on Aug. 29 of the great cantilever bridge under construction over the St Lawrence river at Quebec. We are sure this regret is shared by every engineer who takes the just pride in his profession and its achievements. And the feeling is even deeper than regret. When the newspapers of last Friday morning spread the news of the terrible disaster at Quebec to every corner of the country, thousands of engineers, as they read the story, were grieved and sick at heart. They felt not only horror at the fearful loss of life, sorrow and sympathy for their brothers whose professional and business reputations were dealt a cruel blow when that huge steel structure fell into the St. Lawrence, but also a sense of personal loss as well.

"It could not be otherwise. Public confidence in engineers and engineering constructors and in the safety and reliability of their works is an asset of the whole engineering profession. To have this public confidence receive such a blow as this at Quebec is a loss almost incalculable. For decades to come, the Quebec disaster will be quoted, in public and in private, as an unanswerable proof of the unreliability of engineers and their works—of even the best engineers.

"For it cannot be said in this case that the disaster was due to the work of incompetent men who posed as engineers. Often it has happened, where an engineering work has failed, that the failure has been traced to the blunders of some quack wearing the professional garb. But at Quebec, the work was in charge of men of long experience and the highest professional standing; so much the more, therefore, must the profession bear the responsibility.

"There is another fact which makes this disaster a peculiarly heavy blow to the engineering profession. Of all bridge structures in the country which were expected to be built with absolute safety and certainty, we take it, the Quebec bridge is foremost. We know of no engineering structure anywhere whose failure would have been a greater surprise to the profession than this collapse at Quebec.

"Of course, as our readers know, the structure aimed in magnitude any bridge ever erected; but the problems involved in its design were, after all, simple, what is more important, they were accurately determinate.

"The work of erection, where ordinarily many chances enter, was in this case subjected to predetermination and calculation as elaborate and painstaking as that required in the design itself. The possibilities of mischance which often ordinary erection work were eliminated. Each manipulation of every piece had been studied, and the appliances and methods therefor had been described in detail. The magnitude of the weights to be handled compelled this. And the general course of the erection was so laid out that at every stage the structure was fully as safe as the finished bridge. Altogether the erection work at Quebec has been carried on more scientifically, more accurately and more safely than in any other bridge structure ever erected. The collapse of the bridge, notwithstanding this care, overthrows every certainty.

"This will be better advertising for my pictures than five years of hard work," he announced gleefully to a group of newspaper men.

"And the surprise of the profession, we take it, is well matched by its mystification as to the probable cause. It often happens, when news comes of any engineering accident, that one well versed as to the general conditions can form some idea as to what must have happened to bring it about But the early newspaper reports of the Quebec collapse gave no clue whatever on which one could hang a theory of the cause of failure. What could have happened to this towering fabric of steel to send it crashing into the river?

"It may occur to some critical reader that in this review of the possible causes of failure we are leaving out of account possible defects in workmanship or quality of material. We have done this, however, advisedly. In so huge a structure as the Quebec bridge, a defective eyebar, or plate, or even an ingot of burned steel worked into the material are less of a menace to the structure than would be the case in a structure one-tenth or one-twentieth as large. In a small bridge a single weak eyebar may cause disaster. In the Quebec bridge where some members are made up of fifty or more eyebars the weakness of one would be relatively unimportant. Besides this, we risk little in saying that the importance of the structure must have made every one concerned in its building feel the responsibility of securing, not only perfect design and excellent workmanship but also material of perfect reliability.

"At the time this written at Quebec on the fourth day after the wreck the initial cause of the wreck appears to be the failure of some compressor member in the anchor arm of the cantilever."

Japs Hoist National Flag Over Pratas Cause Stir in U.S.

Washington, Sept. 8—News from Yokohama that Japanese explorers had occupied and hoisted the national flag over the Island of Pratas near the Philippines attracted much attention here, because by this act has been added to Japanese territory an island within 120 miles of the Philippines which would furnish an admiral naval base. Japanese possessions are brought almost within the archipelago, because Paratas Island is less than sixty miles north of the twentieth parallel, which was the northern boundary of the former Spanish dominions as defined in the treaty of Paris.

The bureau of insular affairs is supplied with a great deal of information about Pratas Island and Pratas Reef, of which it is the visible part. The island is in lattitud north 2042 and longitude east 116 45. It forms the middle and the west side of Pratas Reef, is about one and one-half miles long and one-half mile wide, and is shaped like a horseshoe It rises forty feet above the sea and is visible in clear weather about twelve miles

Pratas Island, in connection with the excellent anchorage afforded by Pratas Reef, would be very serviceable to the Japanese should their navy operate in the waters adjacent to the Philippines The reef, the northeast part of which is about eleven miles from the island, is a wide barrier of circular form inclosing a lagoon with water of from five to ten fathoms.

The reef is about forty miles in circumference and between one and two miles in breadth There are two channels leading into the lagoon, one on either side of Pratas Island. There are several good anchorages in from ten to twenty fathoms of water, the

The War and Naval Department officials say that they have no official information about this new acquisition of the Japanese nation

Position abreast of the south channel being well adapted for naval purposes.

Pratas Island is composed of sand. It has been generally visited by Chinese fishermen in the early part of the year. It is said to be the last land between the chain running down to Formosa and beyond the Philippine Islands.

In no way could the island be of value to anyone except for naval purposes. It is barren, except for bushy growth. But as a coaling and refitting base it might be of great value during a blockade of Manila or ports on the Chinese coast.

Baseball

On Saturday afternoon the local ball nine put the kibosh on the Port Hope team by a score of five to three. The locals had to win to uphold their claim on the Midland League pennant. Both teams are now a tie for the championship, and a sudden death game will be played at Cobourg to decide the championship.

The game in the Lakeshore burg was a hard fight from the start up until the 8th innings, when Peterborough jumped to the lead with two runs to the good, the game ending five to three Jack Connors had his shoulder injured in the initial innings and was replaced by Turpin of Cobourg Following was the Peterborough line-up;

Something Must be Done

Toronto, Sept. 7.—"If Canada is not to end with the Rocky Mountains something effectual must be immediately done to stop the reckless immigration of the Japanese."

So spoke Mr R. G. Macpherson, Liberal M.P., for Vancouver, in an interview with a press representative,

Look For Blood Humors

They Crop Out Constantly, Showing the System Needs Purifying.

You're not satisfied with your looks. How can you be with such disfiguring pimples, such rough un even skin?

Blood is full of humors, and it's no wonder you look and feel poorly.

You are languid,
Appetite is miserable,

UNION LABEL

PETERBOROUGH, SEPTEMBER 9 1907.

IT PAYS TO KEEP THE BEST

The interest taken by the dairy farmers in the work of the cow testing associations organized by the branch of the Dairy and Cold Storage Commissioner, Ottawa, is steadily increasing. Evidence of this is seen in two or three ways. The milk record sheets being tabulated daily show a larger number of cows whose milk is being weighed and sampled six times a month, and better still there is an increase in the yield. That is to say that the second and third tests in the various localities show a marked improvement on the first. This will have been noticed in the summaries of the tests published from time to time. The Dominion officials are doing valuable educational work on their rounds, for the custom is increasing of farmers dropping in while the testing is in progress to ask many questions about the test, the work of the associations, improving herds, feeding, churning at home, and in fact on every phase of work.

The importance of succulent feed is well illustrated by the yield of a herd in the St. Prosper, Que., association. On June 5 the yield of 11 cows was 286 lbs. of milk, they had been on dry feed and pastures were backward. On June 25 the same 11 cows gave 371 lbs. of milk. At a moderate estimate that herd could easily have given 1,000 lbs. more milk during the month, if succulent feed had been available. What applies here applies to hundreds of other herds. There would be an enormous increase in the general flow of milk and a vast improvement in our dairy herds if provision were made for green or soiling crops, ensilage and succulent feed generally to tide over backward seasons and dry hot spells. Feeding ensilage almost invariably means making more money from the same number of cows.

FOOD INSPECTION

The Dominion Government has made provision for the proper enforcement of the new food inspection law by the appointment of a number of thoroughly qualified veterinary surgeons, who have been detailed to different points for the purpose of seeing that the terms of the law are observed by canners and packers and those engaged in the putting up of food for use. The enactment of this new law was hailed with joy by the people, generally, in view of the conditions revealed through investigation of these industries int he United States and the coming of the law into force with the provision for its proper enforcement will give quite as general satisfaction, we are confident.

The law, it will be remembered, requires that all establishments doing an export or interprovincial trade in packed or canned articles of food, whether meat, fish, fruits or vegetables, shall be under the constant supervision of competent government officials, of whom about forty have been appointed for the work. All establishments coming under the law must be well lighted and ventilated and kept scrupulously clean, and all materials used must be pure and wholesome. There has been little complaint against Canadian food products, but it is well to provide against the possibility of complaint. The operation of the new law should have the effect of greatly increasing the demand for the output of Canadian canning and packing establishments by increasing public confidence in the purity of the products. There is every reason to believe that the Government is very in uch in earnest in this matter, and that the provisions of the law, many of which are quite stringent, will be thoroughly and systematically enforced.

The September Rod and Gun

Extent of ground covered and variety in subjects dealt with are the dominant features of the September issue of Rod and Gun and Motor Sports in Canada, published by W. J. Taylor, at Woodstock, Ont. Fishing, shooting, exploration, natural history, mountaineering, club house building, how to carry firearms, are only some of the matters in which all sportsmen are interested which find places in the pages of this number. Fishing incidents in Newfoundland, New Brunswick, Quebec, Ontario and British Columbia are recorded, each one having an interest all its own, and to those who have fished in the different provinces each will bring back pleasant recollections of days gone by, and hopeful anticipations of others to come. In the Heart of the Rockies is quite as delightful in its way as Nova Scotian woodcock is in another; and How to Carry Firearms is as useful and as informing as the full and interesting summary of the new Game Laws of Alberta. The Alpine Club records are of value not merely to those directly interested but also to a far larger number who believe in the active outdoor life that is doing so much to retain our national vigour and will prevent the crowded cities from dragging us into national degeneracy. The dog hunters are still at it and no doubt mean to die game when death may come to them—if it ever does. The departments are all healthy and the specially written account off he Dominion Trap Shooting Tournament is one that every trap shooter should read. Altogether the number well sustains the excellent reputation its predecessors have made.

Japanese Slip Across the Line

New Westminster, B.C., Sept. 6.—Advices from the boredr are that in spite of every effort of the immigration officers to prevent it, Japanese who have been imported to work are nightly slipping across the line into the States in numbers and working their way through woods and around towns until they reach Seattle or some large town, where they can safely bury themselves from the authorities in their own quarter. Although the immigration department of the United States sent special watchmen to the border to keep an outlook for this Nippon invasion, they have been unable to keep out all of those desiring to make their way into that country. It is impossible, unless the entire border line is patrolled night and day, to prevent the "running" of the lines.

To check a cold quickly, get from our druggist some little Candy Cold Tablets called Preventics. Druggists everywhere are now dispensing Preventics, for they are not only safe, but decidedly certain and prompt. Preventics contain no quinine, no laxative, nothing harsh nor sickening. Taken at the "sneeze stage" Preventics will prevent pneumonia, bronchitis, la grippe, etc. Hence the name Preventics. Good for feverish children. 48 Preventics 25 cents. Trial boxes 5 cents. Sold by all dealers.

The Anglo-Russian Convention

Tokio, Sept. 6.—It is reported here on trustworthy authority that the new Anglo-Russian agreement divides Persia into two sections, but the respective spheres of influence of the two nations remain unchanged Afghanistan and the southern division of Persia naturally are in the British sphere The principal benefit resulting from the agreement will be the building of a railroad along the Persian Gulf. The conditions to be maintained in Afghanistan are those which followed the Russo-Japanese War.

Japan will Hold Kaotao

Tokio, Sept. 6.—No protest has yet been received from the Chinese government in regard to Japan's occupation of Kantao in behalf of Corea. It a believed that the Japanese are determined not to recognize the claim of China to that strip of land, which possessing a fertile soil. There was a time when Russia, it is asserted, had an eye on Kantao, but Corea's title is thought to be perfect since the conclusion of the Russo-Japanese agreement and a protest from China against Japan's course there is expected to be of no avail.

Market Scales Were Repaired

Yesterday morning some new planks were put in the platform floor of the large market weigh scales. This is none too soon as the springs of heavily laden wagons have been endangered every time such rigs passed over, as some of the planks were so rotted that the wheels when crossing would sink with a jerk calculated to dismember the stoutest of springs.

Work on Police Cells Begun

Yesterday several men were busy cleaning up and purifying the police station cells. The loss of insect life was something appalling Bugs that used to lie in wait for poor misguided inebriates, too drunk to put up a fight against their attacks, were dislodged from house and home and, it is to be hoped, for life. The whole cell room is being thoroughly overhauled and purified.

Alcohol not needed

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is not a strong drink. As now made, there is not a drop of alcohol in it. It is a non-alcoholic tonic and alterative. Ask your own doctor about your taking this medicine for thin, impure blood. Follow his advice every time. He knows. Trust him.

We have no secrets! We publish the formulas of all our preparations.

THE SUMMER MAN.

Oh, talk about the summer girl,
In frocks and frills arrayed!
The fascinating summer man
Has made her glories fade.
He walks along the sandy shore
In suit of silver gray,
Pink shirt and fetching panama
And steals our hearts away.

He plays at tennis, golf and bridge
And strums the banjo, too,
And sweetly sings romantic songs
When falls the evening dew.
He holds Amelia's skeins of Soss
And carries Elsie's shawl
And begs a kiss from Emeline
At parting in the hall.

Oh, dreary would the beaches be Without his winning smile,
His gorgeous ties and shiny shoes
And graces versatile!
The gay, flirtatious knight is he
Of parasol and fan,
The monarch of vacation time—
All hail the summer man!

Something New in Copper
PITTSBURG - IDAHO
Mining and Milling Company

The mine is located 58 miles above Lewiston, Idaho, on the Clearwater river, and consists of 19 full claims, or 380 acres It is developed by tunnels, shafts and open cuts for more than 2400 feet, disclosing thousands of tons of copper, gold and silver ores of both high grade and low grade. There are between 1800 and 2000 tons of ore ready for shipment. The entrance to the working tunnel is only 2000 feet from the track of the Northern Pacific railroad, to be reached by gravity tramway. There are seven parallel veins running lengthwise of the claims, one cropping out on the surface for 2400 feet and another for 3000 feet; while two veins cross these running into the mountain These veins are from 30 to 200 feet wide, one ore chute has been crosscut 60 feet and is solid ore from wall to wall.

We are not asking you to buy in a prospect That risk was taken by the promoters. We are asking you to buy in a developed, proven mine. Seven years of continuous work and the expenditure of thousands of dollars has proven up one of the greatest mines in Idaho. That mine is now ready to pour out its red and yellow wealth to the world with the installing of an up to date production plant. It is for that purpose that a block of its treasury stock, full paid and non-assessable, is offered for sale. We believe that within six months from the completion of a 100 ton plant the mine can be put on a dividend paying basis, and that those dividends will be substantial and permanent. There is no better investment proposition before the people at this time.

CAPITALIZATION $1,000,000. - PAR VALUE $1.

THE CONQUEST of CANAAN

By BOOTH TARKINGTON,
Author of "Cherry," "Monsieur Beaucaire," Etc.

COPYRIGHT, 1905, BY HARPER & BROTHERS

"I just wanted to know if you was still here. It—don't seem so lonesome now that I know."

She put her arm lightly about him, and he smiled and was silent for a time; then he struggled to rise upon his elbow, and they lifted him a little.

"It's hard to breathe," gasped the old man. "I'm pretty near—the big road. Joe Louden"—

"Yes?"

"You'd have been—willing—willing to change places with me—just now—when Alrie"—

Joe laid his hand on his, and Eskew smiled again. "I thought so! And, Joe"—

"Yes?"

"You always—always had the—the best of that joke between us. Do you

"It's hard to breathe," gasped the old man.

—you suppose they charge admission—up there?" His eyes were lifted. "Do you suppose you've got to—to show your good deeds to git in?" The answering whisper was almost as faint as the old man's.

"No," panted Eskew, "nobody knows. But I hope—I do hope—they'll have some free seats. It's a—mighty poor show—we'll—all have—if they—don't."

He sighed peacefully, his head grew heavier on Joe's arm, and the young man set his hand gently upon the unseeing eyes. Ariel did not rise from where she knelt, but looked up at him when, a little later, he lifted his hand.

"Yes," said Joe, "you can cry now."

CHAPTER XXII.

JOE helped to carry what was mortal of Eskew from Ariel's house to its final abiding place. With him in that task were Buckalew, Bradbury, the colonel and the grandsons of the two latter, and Mrs. Louden drew in her skirts grimly as her stepson passed her in the mournful procession through the hall. Her eyes were red with weeping (not for Eskew), but not so red as those of Mamie Pike, who stood beside her.

On the way to the cemetery Joe and Ariel were together in a carriage with Buckalew and the minister who had read the service, a dark, pleasant eyed young man, and the squire, after being almost overcome during the ceremony, experienced a natural reaction, talking cheerfully throughout the long drive. He recounted many anecdotes of Eskew, chuckling over most of them, though filled with wonder by a coincidence which he and Fliteroft had discovered—the colonel had recently been made the custodian of his old friend's will, and it had been opened the day before the funeral. Eskew had left everything he possessed, with the regret that it was so little, to Joe.

"But the queer thing about it," said the squire, addressing himself to Ariel, "was the date of it, the 17th of June. The colonel and I got to talkin' it over out on his porch last night, tryin' to recollect what was goin' on about then, and we figgered it out that it was the Monday after you come back, the very day he got so upset when he saw you goin' up to Louden's law office with your roses."

Joe looked quickly at Ariel. She did not meet his glance, but, turning instead to Ladew, the clergyman, began with a barely perceptible blush, to talk of something he had said in a sermon two weeks ago. The two fell into a thoughtful and amiable discussion, during which there stole into Joe's heart a strange and unreasonable pain. The young minister had lived in Canaan only a few months, and Joe had never seen him until that morning, but he liked the short, honest talk he had made, liked his cadenceless voice and keen, dark face and, recalling what he had heard Martin Pike vociferating in his brougham one Sunday, perceived that Ladew was the fellow who had "got to go" because his sermons did not please the judge. Yet Ariel remembered for more than a fortnight a passage from one of these sermons. And as Joe looked at the manly and intelligent face opposite him it did not seem strange that she should.

He resolutely turned his eyes to the open window and saw that they had entered the cemetery, were near the green knoll where Eskew was to lie beside a brother who had died long ago. He let the ministe help Ariel out, going quickly forward himself with Buckalew, and then, after the little while that the restoration of dust to dust mercifully needs, he returned to the carriage only to get his hat.

Ariel and Ladew and the squire were already seated and waiting. "Aren't you going to ride home with us?" she asked surprised.

"No," he explained, not looking at her. "I have to talk with Norbert Fliteroft. I'm going back with him, Goodby."

His excuse was the mere truth, his conversation with Norbert in the carriage which they managed to secure to themselves continuing earnestly until Joe spoke to the driver and alighted at a corner near Mr. Farbach's Italian possessions. "Don't forget," he said as he closed the carriage door, "I've got to have both ends of the string in my hands."

"Forget!" Norbert looked at the cupola of the Pike mansion rising above the maples down the street. "It isn't likely I'll forget!"

When Joe entered the "Louis Quinze room" which some decorator, drunk with power, had mingled into the brewer's villa, he found the owner and Mr. Sheehan, with five other men, engaged in a meritorious attempt to tone down the apartment with smoke. Two of the five others were prosperous owners of saloons, two were known to the public (whose notion of what it meant when it used the term was something of the vaguest) as politicians; the fifth was Mr. Farbach's closest friend, one who (Joe had heard) was to be the next chairman of the city committee of the party. They were seated about a table, enveloped in blue clouds and hushed to a grave and pertinent silence which clarified immediately the circumstance that whatever debate had preceded his arrival, it was now settled.

Stomach troubles, heart and kidney ailments, can be quickly corrected with a prescription known to druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. The prompt and surprising relief which this remedy immediately brings is entirely due to its Restorative action upon the controlling nerves of the stomach, etc.

A weak stomach causing dyspepsia, a weak heart with palpitation or intermittent pulse, always means weak stomach nerves or weak heart nerves. Strengthen these inside or controlling nerves with Dr. Shoop's Restorative and see how quickly these ailments disappear. Dr. Shoop of Racine, Wis., will mail samples free. Write for them. A test will tell. Your health is certainly worth this simple trial. Sold by all dealers.

Richest Nation.

The United States is the richest nation in the world.

A Great Coal Field.

St. George's bay, Newfoundland, contains an immense coal field fully twenty miles in length and ten in breadth. It has been estimated that if the output were to reach 250,000 tons per annum the coal bed would not be exhausted in a century.

Point Barrow.

Point Barrow, in Alaska, is the farthest point north in this country. To get there one must go to Seattle, then by steamer 1,600 miles to Valdez and then 2,700 miles by sled.

Largest Wooden Building.

The parliament building in Wellington, New Zealand, is the largest wooden structure in the world. In Wellington and some other New Zealand towns almost every house is constructed of wood. So likewise are large churches and business houses.

Algerian Sharpshooters.

Many tales are told by travelers of the wonderful skill of the Algerians in handling rifles. The native Algerian would rank with our expert rifle shooters.

Munjoy Hill Observatory.

One of the oldest observatories in Maine is situated on Munjoy hill, in Portland. It was erected in the spring of 1807 and served in the privateer days of 1812 to announce to the townspeople the sailings and winnings of Portland's ships.

Niagara Falls Power.

To an electrical engineer, remarks Popular Mechanics, the beauty of Niagara falls is somewhat dimmed as he reflects that the 3,500,000 horsepower is worth more than $100,000,000 a year.

Heart Strength

Heart Strength, or Heart Weakness, means Nerve Strength, or Nerve Weakness—nothing more. Positively, not one weak heart in a hundred is, in itself, actually diseased. It is almost always a hidden tiny little nerve that really is all at fault. This obscure nerve—the Cardiac, or Heart Nerve—simply needs, and must have, more power, more stability, more controlling, more governing strength. Without that the Heart must continue to fail, and the stomach and kidneys also have these same controlling nerves.

This clearly explains why, as a medicine, Dr. Shoop's Restorative has in the past done so much for weak and ailing Hearts. Dr. Shoop first sought the cause of all this painful, palpitating, suffocating heart distress. Dr. Shoop's Restorative—this popular prescription—is alone directed to these weak and wasting nerve centers. It builds; it strengthens; it offers real, genuine heart help.

If you would have strong Hearts, strong digestion, strengthen these nerves—re-establish them as needed, with

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry must be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made on certain conditions, by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

The homesteader is required to perform the homestead conditions under one of the following plans:—

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of the homesteader resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Six months' notice in writing should be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of intention to apply for patent.

No Self Control. Start at "Trifles."

No Control of Your Nerves

The nerves are the great controlling force of the body.

They govern every action, every function. Upon their vitality hinge your energy, your power to think and act.

But alas, your nerves are weak!

You have burnt up your nerve force, used up the reserve you so badly need today.

Just one way to win it back.

Build up with Ferrozone.

It restores worn-out nerves, because it supplies them with nutriment and building material.

Ferrozone gives you "grip" and courage—makes the blood tingle through your veins—fills you with the feeling that a powerful and strengthening medicine is winning you back to health.

Mr. C. R. Zink, a prominent citizen of Lunenburg, N.S., proved Ferrozone was a marvelous tonic and says: "Nothing I ever used gave such prompt, strengthening effect as Ferrozone. I was run down, quite nervous, no appetite and in a generally used-up condition. Ferrozone gave me a wonderful amount of new strength, quite restored my nerves and made me well. I can recommend Ferrozone to every man who works hard and needs a tonic."

By supplying nourishment and vital force to the nerves, by enriching the blood, strengthening the heart—Ferrozone is sure to held any man, woman or child in ill-health; try it—60c. per box at all druggists.

Later, as he appeared to be inoffensive, and was described as such by an acquaintance, he was turned loose and told to go home. Last night he was again arrested near the upper bridge, again charged with annoying females. His jag was bigger than that in the afternoon. This morning Perry was remanded for a week

Natural Gas Story Aroused Excitement

Referring to an article in The Times of Friday's issue regarding the probable location of natural gas within a short distance of the south of the city it might be noted that this article in question created considerable excitement throughout the city. Three prominent citizens yesterday called at this office to ask for further particulars, if any such could be given. We were however unable to give them any more definite information than contained in the article referred to. It was generally conceded however that not only is there a strong probability of natural gas being found in large quantities, but that, when found, the result to Peterborough both from the manufacturers, merchants and householders' point of view will be something almost beyond present understanding. To have an unlimited supply of natural gas, taken from Mother Earth almost within the city limits, will mean a revolutionizing of the whole present system of obtaining power, light and heat, and will also mean a marked difference in the cost of such. As noted in our Friday's article the experts who have "spied out the land," are confident, from the geological formation of the country and other signs, that they will soon have an unlimited amount of gas that will be sold at only a fraction of what artificial gas can be made for. Should their seemingly well based prophesies be realized, those enterprising citizens who have purchased lots on the old "Kincaid Farm," will find their land quickly spring many hundred per cent. in value over what they paid for it. This discovery of gas within, say, three or three and a half miles below the Edison Works will mean that scores of factories, with the incumbent necessarily demanded residences for the factory employers and employed, will, with in the next few months be charoring for location in that vicinity.

London Life Agents

Have Enjoyable Convention and Outing at Niagara-on-the-Lake

Representatives of the London Life to the number of about thirty, took the boat at Toronto Friday morning last for Niagara-on-the-Lake where the party were registered at the Queen's Royal. The weather conditions were ideal which together with the natural beauties of the Niagara district made the trip one that will not soon be forgotten.

Sessions of the convention occupied Friday afternoon and evening and Saturday morning and included addresses by J. G. Ritcher, general manager; Dr. A. Graham, medical referee; E. E. Reid, actuary; J. E. Carson, city manager, Toronto; W. T. Goffee, manager for Ontario Branch Sheldon School of Scientific Salesmanship, Chicago.

After the regular program of the convention the historic spots along the Niagara river were visited and by a spial permission the plant of one of the power companies was thoroughly inspected.

A very pleasant feature of the convention was the presentation by the agents present to Mr T. B. Parkinson, superintendent of agencies, of a gold watch in appreciation of his untiring efforts in their behalf.

The party returned to Toronto on Monday, many of them taking in the exhibition before returning home

New Sign on Peterboro House

The Calcutt Brewing and Malting Company, with their proverbial hustle and desire to assist their patrons have placed a handsome illuminated sign in front of Mr James Head's place of business, the Peterborough House, Hunter street. The sign is in the form of a projecting lamp, made in the shape of a yacht's flag or pennant. The sign is made of carmine colored glass on each side, and is lighted within by electricity. It is about five feet from the pole to the top of the pennant. In the center, in white letters on the carmine glass are the words "Peterborough House," whilst above in a scroll is the legend "Calcutt's Ale and Lager." The sign is very neat and legible by night at a long distance Mr Head reports that his trade is rapidly increasing.

Received a Bad Burn

Mr Jarvas, the energetic and popular local manager of Messrs. Demetrie Bros., large confectionery store and restaurant, at the corner of George and Charlotte streets, was on Saturday a comparative invalid. It seems that on Friday Mr. Jarvas was, with his usual personal interest in the firm's business, taking an active part in the work on hand. Whilst a large batch of candy, of high grade, was being boiled, Mr. Jarvas, who was in personal supervision of the work, attempted to show how things should be done. At this particular juncture the boiling candy overflowed and Mr. Jarvas had his left hand and wrist caught and badly scalded by the boiling candy. Mr. Jarvas at once consulted a physician who wrapped the scalded limb in cotton batting and placed the injured man's hand in a sling. It will be several days before Mr. Jarvas will be able to use the injured member.

What Ails You?

Do you feel weak, tired, despondent, have frequent headaches, coated tongue, bitter or bad taste in morning, "heartburn," belching of gas, acid risings in throat after eating, stomach gnaw or burn, foul breath, dizzy spells, poor or variable appetite, nausea at times and kindred symptoms?

If you have any considerable number of the above symptoms you are suffering from biliousness, torpid liver with indigestion, and you need Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is made up of the most valuable medicinal principles known to medical science for the permanent cure of such abnormal conditions. It is a most efficient liver invigorator, stomach tonic, bowel regulator and nerve strengthener.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is not a patent medicine or secret nostrum, a full list of its ingredients being printed on its bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. A glance at its formula will show that it contains no alcohol, or harmful habit-forming drugs. It is a fluid extract made with pure, triple-refined glycerine, of proper strength, from the roots of the following native American forest plants, viz., Golden Seal root, Stone root, Black Cherrybark, Queen's root, Bloodroot, and Mandrake root.

The following leading medical authorities, among a host of others, extol the foregoing roots for the cure of just such ailments as the above symptoms indicate: Prof. R. Bartholow, M. D., of Jefferson Med. College, Phila.; Prof. H. C. Wood, M. D., of Univ. of Pa.; Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. D., of Hahnemann Med. College, Chicago; Prof. John King, M. D., Author of American Dispensatory; Prof. Jno. M. Scudder, M. D., Author of Specific Medicines; Prof. Laurence Johnson, M. D., Med. Dept. Univ. of N. Y.; Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., Author of Materia Medica and Prof. in Bennett Medical College, Chicago. Send name and address on Postal Card to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and receive free booklet giving extracts from writings of all the above medical authors and many others endorsing, in the strongest possible terms, each and every ingredient of which "Golden Medical Discovery" is composed.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. They may be used in conjunction with "Golden Medical Discovery" if bowels are much constipated. They're tiny and sugar-coated.

MOB OF THOUSANDS ATTACKED CHINATOWN

Japs Fought Hard but Chinese Fled--Damage Amounted to from $50,0000 to $100,000 and City Refuses to Pay.

Vancouver, B.C., Sept. 10.—Intense excitement continues throughout British Columbia, as a result of the anti-Oriental riots of yesterday, the trial of two score of rioters, and the complications of a serious character which are feared by even the most conservative citizens.

That K—hii,t he Japanese envow, who arrived in the city during the fiercest part of the rioting, and was by chance actually close to the storm center, regards the situation as serious from an international point of view as indicated by the numerous cables he has sent and received from Tokio, all in code.

NO APOLOGIES YET.

Mayor Bethune has not yet apologized to him or the Jap consul for the affront though each has declared they expect a prompt disclaimer. Mayor Bethune's emphatic declaration that under no circumstances would he submit to the proposition that the city pay the damages, now variously estimated at from fifty to one hundred thousand dollars, sustained tyt he shops and buildings of the Japs and Chinese wrecked, is accepted as a definite expression of his sentiment.

Some feeling has followed the developments showing that Secretary A. E. Fowler, of the Japanese anti-Asiatic League from Seattle, who attended the meeting to protest against the Orientals, at which the riots started,, used intemperate language in detailing to the excited crowd how the Orientals at Bellingham had been treated.

THE WRECKED DISTRICT.

Monday morning the wrecked quarters of the Orientals presented a dreary aspect. The interior of the shops were littered with costly china, silks, teas, and spices, worth thousands of dollars. Few of the Chinese had ventured back to their lairs, but the Japs had, and were there belligerant and indignant, ready to fight, and not easily pacified.

The conduct of the two people is a striking example of the different types. The Japs went into the scrap with a relish, and were undismayed by the overwhelming number of the mob, but the Chinese fled at the first sign of danger. Every man removed to the hospital from among the Orientals, is a Jap, all others escaping by flight. The Hindoos were the most craven, screaming in their flight, like children. The Japs fought stubbornly, giving vent to no cry except one of exultation when a rioter was felled by a blow or cut up by a bottle. The Japs did not ask for mercy and even when taken to the hospitals continued to glare around, fiercely, and jabber vengeance upon their enemies.

WANT TO PREVENT REPAIRS.

It is said an effort will be made by labor men to prevent the resurrection of the wrecked buildings and committees will call upon the owners to prevent them making repairs.

The most serious aspect of the question is the approaching of several shiploads of Orientals, due to arrive this week. In the state of public excitement it is feared the riots will break out afresh.

On Sunday many lumber Jacks and the rough element of the mining towns adjacent to the city poured in, adding fuel to the flames.

RECRUITING POLICE.

The police force has been largely added to, and an effort is being made to cause the arrest of every man who can be identified as participating in the rioting.

During the five hours of the street fighting no arrests could be made as the prisoners were dragged from the officers by the infuriated mob. Later a score or more were quietly picked up. Little importance is attached to the burning in effigy of Lieut.-Governor Dunsmuir because of the well-known hatred entertained for him by labor leaders.

The labor interests are certainly displaying a very ugly tonor at present, especially through the small mountain towns, towards all Orientals.

Summary of The Vancouver Riot Situation

A riot lasting five hours, in which Chinatown and Japanese stores were attacked and yellow residents assaulted or thrown into the harbor, occurred at Vancouver on Saturday night The damage to property is estimated at from $50,000 to $100,000. A number of persons were injured, and a score of arrests made. The Japanese fought the crowd, and in one case put it to flight, but the Chinese were terror stricken. The disorders were but the culmination of the increasingly bitter feeling against the influx of Orientals, and bears out statements made in The Times some weeks ago about the seriousness of the situation.

The Canadian authorities have nearly arrived at an agreement with the Mikado's advisers for the strict limitation to 500 or 600 a year in the number of Japanese arrivals, no matter from what port, and a representative of the foreign office, who reached Vancouver while the riot was in progress, is in Canada in that connection.

Preached More Than the Gospel

Immigrants Claim That Preacher Victimised Them In the Old Country

Vancouver, B.C., Sept. 10.—A clergyman in Scotland, who has been preaching more than the gospel to his flock and to whomsoever he could victimize, will shortly be unmasked by the provincial government through the agent-general's office.

Such is the announcement of Hon. W. J. Bowser, attorney-general, to whom representations have been made by a number of residents of Nelson, B.C.

The clergyman is the Rev. Mr. Brooks, habitat Glasgow, Through the "Emigration, Tourist and Colonization Society" of the city he has successfully deceived a party of Scots not as canny as the traditional citizens of that nation.

A party of ten recently arrived in Nelson, B.C., and seeking the office of a gentleman named Hammond, manager of the Kootenay Orchard association, they demanded work in orchards at $3 a day. They also wanted their board and stipulated that the orchards in which they shoul dbe placed, be no further than the distance of forty miles from Nelson.

Mr. Hammond was aghast at the modesty of their request., He was inable to grant it and the ten Scots were exceedingly wroth.

Representing that his society was the agent of Mr. Hammond, whom Mr. Brooks had met casually when on a recent visit to England, the reverend gentleman had exacted a deposit from the would-be immigrants. The deposits were alleged to be payments on fruit lands. Mr. Brooks promised that they would be met on their arrival by the owner of these fruit lands, boarded and fed free of charge and given employment at the rate of $3 per diem for such time as they chose to work. The orchards where they would be placed, Mr. Brooks further specified, would be within forty miles of the city of Nelson.

Four more parties were to follow them shortly.

Immigration on the Increase

Exceeds by 1,000 Per Cent. That for the Past Seven Years

Ottawa, Sept. 10.—The yearly immigration has passed the quarter million mark. In seven years it has increased one thousand per cent. The total immigration to Canada for the twelve months ending June 30, 1907, reached 252,048. For the twelve months ending June 30, 1906, it was 189,064, a gain of 62,974, or 33 per cent. Via ocean ports the number was 195,520, as against 131,268 for the previous year a gain of 64,252, or nearly 49 per cent. From the United States the number was 56,518, as compared with 57,788 for the previous year, a loss of 1,276, about 2 per cent. For April, May and June, the first quarter of the present fiscal year, the immigration via ocean was 21,859, compared with 73,431, last year, an increase of 32,081, about 44 per cent. From the United States it was 42,869 compared with 24,808 during the corresponding period last year, a decrease of 2,745 or 11 per cent. It will be seen that although immigration from the neighboring country has decreased slightly for the last two months, yet the increase through ocean ports is so great the total figures for April, May and June, viz., 120,371, compared with 98,306, the total figures for the corresponding period last year, that there is still the substantial increase of 29,336, as much as the total annual immigration of six years ago. The increase is nearly 30 per cent. It may be added that the Inspector of Agencies, who lately made a visit to the various agents working in the United States in the interests of Canada, reported a widespread revival of the disposition to move Canadawards, so that it is probable that the slight decrease in immigration from the United States will be more than made up.

Will Confer with Ottawa Government

Provincial Authorities will Take Up the Chinese School Question

Victoria, B.C., Sept. 10.—The provincial government will immediately draw the attention of the Dominion authorities to the manner in which Chinese are evading the head tax and flooding the schools of Victoria and other portions of British Columbia. Such was the resolution taken yesterday when the government had heard George Jay, chairman of the Victoria school board, upon the grave situation which has been presented by the influx of alleged Chinese students.

Mr. Jay pointed out to the government the situation in which the school authorities are placed by the influx of these Chinese. Already twenty-six have applied for permits to attend school and it has been learned that almost as many more are expected. If they are permitted to attend school, it will necessitate the employment of one additional school teacher at least and the board will have to engage additional quarters.

The expense of the teacher's salary will have to be borne by the municipality and the provincial authorities jointly and upon the completion of twelve months' attendance of the schools the Chinese boys receive back their $500 and enter the labor market of the province. The province obtains no revenue from them, nor does the city

Pending the receipt of an answer from the Dominion authorities, no permits to attend school will be issued to Chinese.

More Trouble Over the Royal Hotel

Another writ was issued and served yesterday upon Jas. H. Kelly, proprietor of the Royal Hotel, Hunter street, by O'Connell & Gordon on behalf of Patrick J. Clunan. The plaintiff states that on December 12, 1906, he entered into partnership with the defendant Kelly, and his claim against him is to have an account taken of the partnership dealings, in view of a dissolution of the partnership; to have the affairs of the partnership wound up, and that a receiver be appointed and that the assets of the partnership be disposed of, and the proceeds thereof distributed between the partners, in accordance with the terms of said articles of partnership.

The plaintiff, Clunan, also has a claim against Jas. Kelly and Edward J. Flaherty for an injunction restricting both from any deal regarding the exchange of the Royal Hotel property or license.

CANADA THE NATION MUST SETTLE BILL

Japanese Consul-General Called on Sir Wilfrid--Are Waiting Instructions from the Japanese Authorities.

Ottawa, Sept. 10.—Hon. T. Nosse, Japanese consul-general, was advised from Vancouver yesterday afternoon of the occurrence of the anti-Oriental riot in that city, and at once communicated to his government at Tokio an outline of what had occurred. Mr. Nosse is now awaiting instructions from the Japanese authorities as to the steps which he shall take in the matter.

Mr. Nosse called upon Sir Wilfrid Laurier yesterday to present the messages which he had received from Vancouver in regard to the anti-Japanese demonstration there. The Japanese consul has, however, presented no claim to the Canadian government in the matter as yet.

In an interview with your correspondent, he said; "I have nothing to say in relation to these disturbances in Vancouver. The matter is one for Canada as a nation to settle.

"Our people residing in Canada have a right to be protected. Article five of the treaty between Japan and Canada extending to them the same protection as is given by the Dominion to all other classes of its population.

Ottawa, Sept. 10.—Negotiations are now in progress between Ottawa and Tokio for a limitation of the Japanese immigration into British Columbia, whether the immigrants come to us from Japan direct or, as has been the case this summer, through the Hawaiin port of Honolulu. It has been hoped all along that by this means an effectual and safe means will be found of preventing the flooding of the labor market of the Pacific Coast with Oriental labor.

The negotiations to which your correspondent referred a fortnight ago, have been in progress for some weeks and Mr K. Ichi of the Japanese foreign office is now in this country for the purpose, it is believed, of reaching an understanding on the subject. In the meantime Mr. Ichi, who arrived in Vancouver on Saturday evening, has been studying the question both in the United States, Pacific ports, and in British Columbia for himself, so that he may be fully seized of all the facts.

The Canadian government eight years ago entered into an arrangement with the Mikado's ministers that not more than five or six hundred Japanese should be allowed to immigrate to Canada each year. It had not been the intention of the Canadian authorities that the treaty of commerce recently negotiated between us and Japan should in any way interfere with the previous understanding in regard to the limitation of Japanese immigration into this country., and it is confidently believed that the Japanese government themselves have no desire to depart from the agreement made in 1899. What the Dominion wants is a bargain that not more than five of six hundred Japs shall be allowed to enter this country yearly, whether they come from their own country direct or from some other part of the world.

Of course, if we wanted, there is nothing to prevent our withdrawing from the treaty of commerce with Japan after due notice, but this was made on our part for the encouragement of Canadian trade with Japan, which may mean many millions of dollars.

WILL PUNISH RIOTERS.

The Canadian government will not tolerate the course which has been pursued towards the Orientals in Vancouver in the recent riots, and looks for the speedy punishment of the offenders. It is understood that regret will be expressed for these outbreaks and that the authorities in Vancouver will be asked to see that the rioters are fully punished. The enforcement of criminal justice, of course, under our constitution, is a matter that rests primarily in the hands of the provincial authorities, but if the local authorities in this case fail to name some one to enforce the law the federal authorities will doubtless step in and do so themselves.

NOT SAFE TO ANNOY JAPS.

What the British Columbian, or, perhaps it would be better to say what the mob element in that province, has seemingly failed to grasp is that it is not safe to try the same attitude towards citizens of Japan in this age of the world as one could employ toward the Chinese, and that moreover, if trouble did arise with Japan over the water., it would be British Columbia that would itself pay the penalty.

Britain Hopes to Regain the Fast Atlantic Record

Liverpool, Sept. 9.—The people of this city and its vicinity today concentrated their attention on what was considered to be an epoch-making event—the departure of the Cunard Line Steamer Lusitania, the latest of the Atlantic liners, on her insiden voyage to New York. Additional interest was given to the event in that the Lucania leaves port at 4 30 this afternoon, about two and a half hours earlier than the Lusitania, making possible a trial of speed across the Atlantic between the former, the swiftest ocean steamer with reciprocating engines flying the British flag, and the latter, the largest turbine steamer.

Both vessels will call at Queenstown tomorrow morning, but the Lusitania will not enter until the Lucania has cleared, so that the older vessel will have a start of at least three hours over the boat which the Cunard Company built with the view not only of beating the fastest time of its own ocean grey hounds, but of regaining for Great Britain the blue ribbon of the Atlantic, which was lost to Germany a decade ago.

Of course the officials of the Cunard line say that no race is contemplated, but the engineers of the vessels have been busy for a week past getting everything in readiness.

The engines will be called upon to do their best on this occasion. All the accommodation on both vessels has been taken. For the Lucania, 370 first class and 360 second-class passengers have been booked, and for the Lusitania 480 first-class and 495 second-class. The lists include many notable people.

Among the passengers on the Lusitania will be Robert Balfour, M. P., E. C. Barber, H. G. Dolan, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hay, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Goelet Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus H. McCormick, Lady Victoria Murray, and S. C. Perkins. The Lucania takes the team of the Marylbone Cricket Club, which will play a series of games in America

Mr. Pappas Has Entered an Appeal

Aftermath of the $25 Fine Imposed For Alleged Selling of Tobbaco to Minors

Mr. Mike Pappas the George street cigar dealer and pool room operator who was last week fined $25 because it was alleged that an employe of his had sold the boy Reynold's, sentenced to two months in the county jail at hard labor, a package of tobacco, has entered an appeal against Police Magistrate D. W. Dumble's decision.

In this case the only direct evidence against Mr Pappas was that of a self-confessed thief who rifled the pockets of an old man he had got drunk, and whom Reynolds took for a drive, evidently as shown by evidence to rob. Against this was the contrary testimony of all of Mr. Pappas' staff, both from the store which Reynolds claimed to have got the tobacco, and Mr. Pappas establishment on the other side of George street. They boy Reynolds straightly denied that each of Mr. Pappas' witnesses, as they went, one after another on the stand, was the man or boy from whom he bought. This however must be qualified by noting that in Mr Pappas' employ is a boy who does not work at the store who Reynolds claims to have purchased the tobacco. This boy has only been in Peterborough for a few days having coming here direct from Greece, and who does not know, as far as its name in English goes, the difference between a "plug of chewing," a "sack of Duke's Mixture," or a "Pipe in a case." It looks like Mr. Pappas' lawyer, Mr Gordon, will not have much difficulty in maintaining the fact that Mr Pappas has some reason for his appeal.

Caught In Quicksand, Die Standing In River

PPeoria, Ill., Sept. 10.—Standing upright in the Illinois river, their feet imbedded in quicksand, and with water reaching only to their necks, the bodies of Keeling Wilson and William Stinger of Lacon, Ill., were found today. Lying near by, covered by the water, was the body of Charles McEntee, their companion

What caused the deaths of the two men whose bodies were found standing is a mystery Apparently, they were not drowned, and, as the water was warm, it is thought hardly possible that they could have died of exposure. Evidently they had become caught in the quicksand, and it is supposed that their struggles to free themselves so exhausted themselves that they died, perhaps after hours of suffering.

All three of the victims were unmarried men, under 30 years of age. They had attended a chicken fry given by the business men of Lacon on Sunday, and about sundown started home in a skiff

When they failed to appear at their homes yesterday it was feared they had been drowned, and a searching party was sent out.

Local Physicians Warned Yesterday

Medical Men Must Obey Medical Health Act

Yesterday morning Chairman of the Board of Health, Mr. Wm. Eyres, called the attention of Sanitary Inspector George Ball, to Chapter No. 248, Section No. 82 of the Health Act of the Province and instructed Mr. Ball to personally call the attention of the local physicians to the same. It seems, according to Mr. Eyres' conversation, that this very important section of the act is practically a dead letter in Peterborough, but will hereafter be observed under compulsion if necessary.

This section reads as follows: "Whenever any physician knows that any person whom he is called upon to visit is infected with smallpox, scarlet fever, diphtheria, typhoid fever or cholera, such physician shall (subject in case of refusal or neglect) to the penalties provided by Sub-section 2 of Section 115, within twenty-fours of such to give notice thereof to the local Board of Health or physician of the municipality in which such diseased person is visited." Mr. Eyres points out that in view of the removed cases of typhoid in this county, the only satisfactory way in which the Board of Health can intelligently learn of and handle such cases, and at the same time satisfactorily investigate and eliminate the causes of such disease

During the conversation of yesterday morning a young man who lived at Stony Lake during the summer noted that of three cases of death three from typhoid, he was sure that at least two were caused by or rather originated in people buying milk from a man whose cows drank from a badly contaminated spring. Mr. Ball said he had one day at Stony Lake used the cream from cows that drank at this semi-putrid creek, and that it made him ill. By having the local doctors of both county and city report the outbreak of infectious diseases, coming under their observation the Board of Health will be in a position to seek and destroy the source of such Mr. Ball set out first thing yesterday to call on the doctors of the city and warn them regarding the section in question

Rev. Dean O'Connor Has Passed Away

An uncle of Mr J. P. Shelvin of this city, has passed away at Chesterville The deceased, was the Very Rev. J. S. O'Connor, dean in the Diocese of Kingston, who was about 80 years of age and was a Catholic priest since 1853, having served the Church 54 years. The late Dean O'Connor was first a curate at Kingston and was afterwards stationed at Alexandria, Cornwall, Perth, Chesterville and Marysville. He was born in Peterborough and is said to have been the first white child born in the town His ordination took place in Kingston

The funeral will be held from the 5.30 G.T.R. train this evening to St. Peter's cemetery.

Local Law Breakers Compared with Oshawa

It is interesting to note the difference between the morality and sobriety of this city as compared with that of other places, even though the others be less than one quarter the population of Peterborough. The average results of a day's harvest of drunks and fines, and other breaches of the law with their concomitant punishments is too well known to give our readers here, an dreflects great credit upon Chief Roazel and his capable, though limited force. We note in the Oshawa Reformer that one day's report of the police court in that little town less than a quarter the size of Peterborough shows the following committals and fines inflicted;—Drunks, 6; fines $29 80, assaults 2, fines $9.50; insulting language 1, fine $4 85, or a total of 9 men penalized On the basis of population, this would mean by comparison about 40 men fined a day in Peterborough.

Improvements on Weigh Scales House

Yesterday work was begun on the roof of the market weigh scales building The roof is being extended some five or six feet to the east and west, i.e., that amount at each side. This will do away with an old time trouble experienced every winter. The snow and ice, when melted on the roof by a thaw would cause the water to run down at each end of the actual scale platform, thus not only establishing a great nuisance but seriously interfering with the working of the scales by freezing where the scale platform meets the stationary plank platform Several men present at the scales yesterday called the Times attention to the new roof addition which they claimed should have been raised higher, as a full load of hay can hardly get under the extension to the scales.

Local Indian Wins

On Saturday afternoon at the meet of the Irish Canadian Athletic Club, Ben Howard the Hiawatha Indian, captured the five-mile open race in which he defeated Sellers the English runner, who a week ago knocked thirty seconds off the Canadian record for five miles. The time was 27.30, and Howard beat not only Sellers, but Muirhead of Hamilton, and a number of other good runners.

Oshawa Gas Tank Was Blown Up

Unaccountable Accident Involving Loss of Whole Tank

Oshawa Reformer; Between one and two o'clock last Friday morning two loud reports were heard by many of the residents of Oshawa, which set them wondering what had happened. It appears that some chemical combination, which cannot be accounted for or explained, had formed in the tank of the City Gas Company, and had such a force as to explode, blowing the cover of the tank of coming to earth again it came in contact with an adjacent elm tree, the top of which was borne to the ground, and pieces of the structure flew in all directions, some of them being embedded in the ground several feet deep. Fortunately the explosion occurred when no one was near it, and no one was hurt nor was neighboring property near enough to be damaged. As soon as he was able to do so the indefatigable manager Mr. McCutcheon, telephoned the proprietor, Mr. Noxon, Toronto, who on hearing of it had the good sense to take a philosophic view of the situation, and was pleased to be informed that no personal injury had been inflicted He came to town by the first train and at once advised his men to go on with the work of reconstruction Owing to the scarcity of material it was doubtful when a readjustment of the loss could be effected, but Mr Noxon was fortunate enough to know where he could find a car load and at once secured it. Nevertheless it will likely be six or eight weeks before the repairs are effected. The occurrence caused no little disappointment, as gas was promised for use the day following the surprising occurrence. As the tank is a total wreck a new one will have to be built, the cost of which will probably be $3,000 or $4,000 Of course there was no insurance

Ministers' Union Cast Out by Labor Unions

La Crosse, Wis., Sept. 10.—The ministers union, organized only a few weeks ago and soon after affiliated with the trades and labor assembly, the supreme labor body of the city today was officially cast out by that body on refusal to permit union men in the Labor Day parade.

The action was the result of complaints by the brewery workers, who claimed that the recent agitation against the saloons had resulted in an injury to the Brewery Workers' union.

The city labor body took up the complaints, and after a hearing decided that the crusade by the religious workers was to the harm of their fellow unionists and the official casting out followed.

New Life Near the North Pole

Antartic Explorer Says He will Find Fossils Upsetting Darwin

Paris, Sept. 10.—Dr. Jean Charcot, the celebrated scientist and antarctic explorer, who counts upon starting for the south Polar region next week, spoke freely today about his plans and hopes. Incidentally in speaking of Walter Wellman and the Record-Herald expedition in quest of the north pole, Dr. Charcot said that Wellman is an enthusiast who refuses to listen to arguments.

"The expedition," added he, "is a wild attempt. Even if he should reach the pole by some extraordinary piece of luck, how would he know when he gets there? The only possible way would be to land and take observations which would require twelve hours' lays on time. These observations, always difficult, would be practically impossible for a balloon expedition."

MAY UPSET DARWIN

Deductions from the scientific data he gathered on his last expedition may lead Dr Charcot in this new venture to discoveries tending toward a complete revising of the whole theory of Darwinism.

"I have reached the conclusion from my observations," said Dr Charcot, "that the southern hemisphere developed life independently from the northern; that, in fact, these two hemispheres were separated if not actually in space, yet virtually by an impassible zone—a molten center!—for some time after life had begun to develop, in the cooler regions toward the separate poles.

"Forms of life are quite distinct in the southern hemisphere, which includes Australia, Madagascar and portions of South America and South Africa, where the flora and fauna are totally different from those north of the equator

"After the earth cooled, animals from the north migrated toward the south and those from the south to the north Their meeting took place about the latitude of Buenos Ayres. The law of the survival of the fittest caused the southern animals to succumb

HOPES FOR NEW TYPES

"I am convinced that in the south polar regions new types of animals may be found in fossil remains.

"Considering the reputation of Frenchmen, you might suppose that in our absence we missed most the society of women and the lack of news. The fact is that neither of these troubled us We wanted to send news to friends, but we had a feeling almost of dread of receiving any news from our world which might unsettle our minds before we finished our work We were even glad that the relief ship did not reach us.

"On our return to civilization we were most pleased to see such articles of luxury as linen table clothe and silver plates When we first met the ladies our great delight was to observe their dainty costumes, their jewels and the delicate, refined manners of society. This pleasure far outweighed any other among our officers.

NO SPECIAL DIET NEEDED.

"During our absence we did not find it necessary to live in any other different style, so far as food is concerned, from that we had been used to in Paris. I do not believe in a special diet for these frigid regions. Those who try a different diet eat more fat than they are accustomed to and only give themselves indigestion.

"Only two diseases are special to the polar regions. They are snow blindness which passes of, and a kind of heart disease, which also passes of. Only one man of our party suffered from this.

"The air is the purest possible. After sleeping for some time in snow and ice I never even had a cold in the head. I used to suffer much from sciatica and toothache. These left me in the antarctic and have not returned."

Standard Oil Trust Is Again Indicted

Jamestown, N Y., Sept 10.—An investigation which was begun before the federal grand jury in this city early in July was concluded yesterday and the jury was discharged by Judge Hazel, of the western district of New York Before adjournment the jury found four indictments, one each against the Standard Oil Company, the New York Central Railway Company and the Pennsylvania Railway Company, and one against these two railroads jointly. The indictment against the Standard Oil Company and those against the railroad companies contained 128 counts each and those against the railroads jointly contained 54 counts. All of them charge a violation of the interstate commerce law, either in accepting or granting rebates on oil shipments from Olean, N Y., to points in Vermont The law provides a penalty of $20,000 for each provision violated on each count; therefore, if convictions are made according to the indictments returned, the three companies named will be subject to a total fine of $876,000

In August the same jury returned similar indictments embracing other charges, against the same concerns with a total number of counts sufficient to have justified fines in case of conviction, of more than $18,000,000

Verdict Cannot Stand

San Francisco, Cal., Aug.—Emil K. Zimmer, vice-president of the Pacific States Telephone and Telegraph Company, who was convicted of contempt of court in refusing to answer questions in the first trial court, appeared before Police Judge Weller for sentence today. When the case was called his attorney stated he was not prepared for argument on his objections to passing sentence By consent of the prosecution Judge Weller postponed sentence until next Tuesday. Attorney Heney, representing Zimmer raised the point that the verdict of guilty cannot stand as the jury was discharged before it was recorded.

Sin Against Health

Why the Usefulness of All Organs is Destroyed by Costiveness.

Most important to health and comfort is the proper action of the bowels.

By nature these organs are intended for the removal of the waste particles of matter which accumulate in the system.

Retain these wastes and you poison the blood, ruin digestion, bring on nervousness and anaemia.

Habitual costiveness is best overcome by Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which establish regularity that is exactly consistent with nature.

Not a drastic purgative—not even a pain or sensation of grip, because Dr. Hamilton's Pills are vegetable and free from irritating widely advertised remedies.

In every case Dr. Hamilton's Pills do cure and bring sure relief from headache, biliousness and other manifestations of constipation.

Jas. McChaney, of Walkerton, writes; "Since I was comparatively a young man I have not enjoyed real good health.

"My appetite was good and strength kept up, yet I knew something was wrong.

"Frequently I took bilious attacks and violent headaches. My stomach was disordered, skin was murky, under my eyes were heavy dark rings.

"Last winter I read through the Poison's almanac and decided my trouble was constipation. I used Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and can hardly tell the help they have been. I am now as fresh, strong and well as a boy."

Just try the wonderful magic of Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Sold by all dealers. 25c. per box, or five boxes for $1.00. By mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn, U.S.A., or Kingston, Ont.

THE VALUE OF TECHNICAL EDUCATION.

Part two of the report of Minister of Education of Ontario, 1906, which has just been issued, gives special prominence to the report of Mr. Albert H. Leake, the inspector of technical training for the province, with reference to manual training work as carried on in schools, and gives at the same time some interesting facts regarding the work that is being done elsewhere along similar lines. Instructive figures are given, taken from an address delivered before the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, to illustrate the actual progress made by four groups of men working in the mechanical arts—the unskilled labor group, the shop trained or apprentice group, and the technical group. The results in dollars and cents of higher education are most conclusively demonstrated. The question is in fact, considered of such importance that various firms in the United States have established schools for apprentices.

Mr. Leake favors the establishment of travelling manual training and household science schools. These, he thinks, might be located in one centre for six or twelve months and the authorities of the town or district afforded an opportunity of observing the effects of the work and judging its results. At the end of the first period both teachers and equipment could be moved to another centre. In this way more localities would be induced to take up the subjects.

The inspector urges that many of the smaller towns would not be able to support, and have no need, of a separate technical school, but an industrial side might well be established in connection with their high schools, embracing woodwork, metal work household science, mechanical drawing and science and art, and the instruction should have a practical relation to the work for which it is fitting the students. The present type of high school meets the demand for academic training, but generally speaking does not offer facilities to those whose bent is toward industrial pursuits. They prepare for the university and for the entrance to the training profession, but we have no feeders for the School of Mines, or the Agricultural College. He continues:

We require an intermediate grade of school which shall establish a connection between the fourth and fifth books of the public school and the Agricultural College. This connection could be made by the formation in suitable localities of schools in which agricultural operations and the sciences underlying them would form the major part of the instruction. The equipment of such a school should consist of garden plots, glass houses, manual training rooms, household science rooms, in addition to ordinary class rooms for academic work. Such a school would adequately equip pupils for the college, give an inclination toward the country life and might reasonably be expected to arouse the interest of the people. The farmers' and women's institutes should have their attention directed to these questions.

A school such as is suggested would serve as the secondary school for farmers. The first experiment of this kind was the Minnesota School of Agriculture. The course covers three winters of six months each, leaving the student on the home farm during the six crop months. Eighty-two per cent of the graduates remain in agriculture, and 70 per cent actually return to the farm. This school has now 500 students and the state is equipping it for double its present capacity. About one-third of the course of study is devoted to common high school studies, one-third to sciences and arts of agriculture and one-third to related sciences. The North Dakota College at Fargo and the University of Nebraska at Lincoln, have followed this plan and each has now an agricultural high school with several hundred students. A large proportion of the students who enter these schools expect to remain on the farm, would not be so much attracted to other schools and probably would not go beyond the rural school.

There is also needed a type of school which will have special reference to the industrial life of the towns and cities. Such a school would attract a large number of those who at present never enter a high school, and do something while educating the students towards supplying that training for industrial life which the rapid decay of the apprenticeship system is now preventing.

Such a school should seek to—

1. Provide from one to four-year courses for boys and girls who are inclined toward some form of productive industry.

2. Provide a continuation course for those who wish to specialize along particular lines.

3. Provide a comprehensive system of technical evening classes for those actually engaged in the trades.

Outside Hamilton, Toronto and Brantford evening classes are practically non-existent. While agriculture is the staple industry, yet the different mechanical trades are of great importance and education specially designed to assist their intelligent practice is generally required.

Mr. Leake in his report deals with and educational matter of the utmost importance. True, a start has been made in this province towards the introduction of the educational branches which Mr. Leake advocates so strongly, but as yet industrial education in Ontario can be said to be only in its veriest infancy. While we may lead many other countries in some respects in educational matters in this regard, we are certainly far behind many countries, and unless we move forward and take the advanced position we should take in this important phase of education, we will fail to thoroughly equip our boys and girls for the battle of life, and enable them to make the very best use of their opportunities. No stone should be left unturned to give the boys and girls the very best equipment for future citizenship, for upon them the destiny and welfare of our country depends a few years hence.

Stomach troubles, heart and kidney ailments, can be quickly corrected with a prescription known to druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. The prompt and surprising relief which this remedy immediately brings is entirely due to its Restorative action upon the controlling nerves of the stomach, etc.

A weak stomach causing dyspepsia, a weak heart with palpitation or intermittent pulse, always means weak stomach nerves or weak heart nerves. Strengthen these inside or controlling nerves with Dr. Shoop's Restorative and see how quickly these ailments disappear. Dr. Shoop of Racine, Wis., will mail samples free. Write for them. A test will tell. Your health is certainly worth this simple trial. Sold by all dealers.

Chained His Wife Down to Her Bed

Montreal, Sept 9.—The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Women and Children is taking up the case of E H. Quinn, who chained his wife to her bed. Quinn tells the following story;

"The chain was above her nightdress and so slack that she could undress in it. We were married eight years ago, and for seven years she has been addicted to drink. Two years ago Recorder Weir suspended sentence to give her an opportunity to take a cure. She took treatment for one week, but broke out again. Three months later she was before the recorder again and was sent to the Good Shepherd's Home. She was there one month, and had only been out a week when she began drinking again. This spring she was at the home again. Again the period was one month, and this time she kept away from the liquor for four weeks after coming out.

"Since then the drink has been with her a regular disease. Only yesterday she pawned a pair of opera glasses for a dollar."

No more Alcohol

As now made, Ayer's Sarsaparilla does not contain the least particle of alcohol in any form whatever. You get all the tonic and alterative effects, without stimulation. When a stimulant is needed, your doctor will know it, and will tell you of it. Consult him freely about our remedies.

We have no secrets! We publish the formulas of all our preparations.

TRICKS OF THE TYPES

Wicked Deeds Done by the Imp of the Perverse.

AMUSING ERRORS IN PRINT.

Examples of What is Liable to Happen When the Compositor Blunders or When the Usually Alert and Careful Proofreader Nods.

Sometimes the proofreader nods, and in this connection the late Lord Goschen told at a public dinner a story of a reader who worked for his (Lord Goschen's) grandfather and who, in answer to a denunciation from his employer, cried:

"Let some other man work at correctness of typography. I despair. My own thoughts often hinder me as they twine and hold the authors otherwise than they ought to do. It is quite possible that niggling about words and syllables may often go to the wall when my soul cannot tear itself loose from some thought or picture. Errors have been found in sheets which I thought I had worked backward and forward with the greatest particularity. I read always as it should be."

It is when a reader is in this soulful condition that the general public are permitted to read, as they did once in a morning paper not given to humor, that a celebrated politician, in a speech, described some one as "sitting at the feet of the game bird of Birmingham," instead of "Gamaliel." In the same journal, too, the following startling announcement appeared under the heading of "Births:"

NICHOLSON.—On the 12th inst., at Bolton road, Sidcup, the son of Alfred Nicholson, of a daughter.

In another newspaper a most pathetic account appeared of a doctor who died owing to having accidentally infected himself while injecting some plague virus into a "gnat." The mystery was solved the next day, when an apology was printed explaining that the word should have been "rat."

"Come over and try some new soup," a lady novelist did not write; "songs" was the word. "It is a sickly kopje of the real article" was perhaps excusable. It appeared in a paper during the Boer war.

These mistakes are curious enough, but they pale into insignificance before some of those that never reach the printed sheet.

"Cold milk, father!" once demanded a compositor in cold type, and he was aggrieved to have to alter it to "Caed mille failthe!" "Brer Fox" was made "Boer Fox"—that was also during the South African war.

On a hot summer's day another tired typesetter turned "The Ides of March" into "The Idea of Work."

In a sermon a celebrated divine was made to say, "And they erected a marine store at the mouth of the sepulcher." "Massive stone" were the correct words.

Abbreviations are at times the bane of the compositor, but he had no excuse in setting up, in an account of a Mansion House function, that among those present were "Old Isaacs and Old Trejoar." He should have known that "Ald." was an abbreviation of "Alderman." In the same "take" of copy the "Lord Mayor was received with a crash" (should be "eclat") and was followed by the sheriffs in their "margarine (mazarine) gowns."

"Let the gulled Judy wink" appeared in another first proof, and the proofreader wearily made it the "gulled jade wince." "Die, lusty platter!" has quite a transpontine flavor, but the "copy" said "Die Lustige Blatter" (a German weekly paper).

"Pignut of the enunciation" does not seem convincing; "figment of the imagination" is better. "Petticoats long on Sunday morning is a disgrace" is all right when the first two words are read "Petticoat lane."

In a police court assault case the prosecutor was made to say that the prisoner had given him "twins." What the prisoner really did was to give the prosecutor a "turn" (a fright). "The government were suffering from mental aberration," must have been set up by a compositor of the opposition politics. The real charge was "mutual admiration."

"De mortar ivil alee loreum" would trouble a Latin scholar. "De mortuis nil nisi bonum" is more correct. "Jim the Pieman" is easily recognizable as the hero of a play, and "Putty Polly," the racehorse, would throw up her pretty head in disdain to see herself so described.

For "a pair of scandals completed the costume" read "sandals," and for "Here is indeed a scandal" substitute "scandal." He lived in the "hubbubs" should be "suburbs," and "Call her, Herr, in" is understandable when printed "Caller herrin'."

A well known descriptive writer was startled to read in a rough first proof that he had described the fields surrounding the Derby course as "covered with boots and shoes." He was placated when informed that it had been altered to "booths and shows."

Columns could be filled with the amazing and amusing blunders of the compositor, but here space forbids of more than a final "bowler," which is a classic in the printing world. "O tempora! O mores!" wrote a leader writer at ten minutes to 1 in the morning. "O Moses, indeed!" exclaimed the proofreader a quarter of an hour later when he "caught and bowled" the compositor who had improved the phrase into "O Tennyson! O Moses!"—London Express.

It is by presence of mind in untried emergencies that the native metal of a man is tested.—Lowell.

Something New in Copper

PITTSBURG - IDAHO

Mining and Milling Company

The mine is located 58 miles above Lewiston, Idaho, on the Clearwater river, and consists of 19 full claims, or 380 acres. It is developed by tunnels, shafts and open cuts for more than 2100 feet, disclosing thousands of tons of copper, gold and silver ores of both high grade and low grade. There are between 1000 and 2000 tons of ore ready for shipment. The entrance to the working tunnel is only 2000 feet from the track of the Northern Pacific railroad, to be reached by gravity tramway. There are seven parallel veins running lengthwise of the claims, one cropping out on the surface for 2400 feet and another for 3000 feet; while two veins cross these running into the mountain. These veins are from 30 to 200 feet wide. One ore chute has been crosscut 60 feet and is solid ore from wall to wall.

We are not asking you to buy in a prospect. That risk was taken by the promoters. We are asking you to buy in a developed, proven mine. Seven years of continuous work and the expenditure of thousands of dollars has proven up one of the greatest mines in Idaho. That mine is now ready to pour out its red and yellow wealth to the world with the installing of an up to date production plant. It is for that purpose that a block of its treasury stock, full paid and non-assessable, is offered for sale. We believe that within six months from the completion of a 100 ton plant the mine can be put on a dividend paying basis, and that those dividends will be substantial and permanent. There is no better investment proposition before the people at this time.

CAPITALIZATION $1,000,000 - PAR VALUE $1.

All promotion stock pooled during the sale of this treasury stock.

Messrs. Thos. Patterson & Co., Peterborough, Ont., are authorized to receive subscriptions for this stock, to whom all applications should be made.

THE CONQUEST of CANAAN

By BOOTH TARKINGTON,
Author of "Cherry," "Monsieur Beaucaire," Etc.

COPYRIGHT, 1903, BY HARPER & BROTHERS

Their greeting of him, however, though exceedingly quiet, indicated a certain expectancy as he accepted the chair which had been left for him at the head of the table. He looked thinner and paler than usual, which is saying a great deal, but presently, finding that the fateful hush which his entrance had broken was immediately resumed, a twinkle came into his eye, one of his eyebrows went up, and a corner of his mouth went down.

"Well, gentlemen?" he said.

The smokers continued to smoke and to do nothing else, the exception being Mr. Sheehan, who, though he spoke not, exhibited tokens of agitation and excitement which he curbed with difficulty, shifting about in his chair, gnawing his cigar, crossing and uncrossing his knees, rubbing and slapping his hands together, clearing his throat with violence, his eyes fixed all the while, as were those of his companions, upon Mr. Farbach. So that Joe was given to perceive that it had been agreed that the brewer should be the spokesman. Mr. Farbach was deliberate, that was all, which added to the effect of what he finally did say.

"Choe," he remarked placidly, "you are der next mayor off Canaan."

"Why do you say that?" asked the young man sharply.

"Bickoss us here," he answered, interlocking the tips of his fingers over his waistcoat, that being as near folding his hands as lay within his power, "bickoss us here shall try to fix it so, und so bef ditcided."

Joe took a deep breath. "Why do you want me?"

"Dot," replied the brewer, "iss someding I shall tell you." He paused to contemplate his cigar. "We want you bickoss you are der best man fer dot position."

"Louie, you mustn't make a mistake at the beginning," Joe said hurriedly. "I may not be the kind of man you're looking for. If I went in"— He hesitated, stammering. "It seems an ungrateful thing to say, but—but there wouldn't be any slackness—I couldn't be bound to anybody"—

"Holt up your hosses!" Mr. Farbach once in his life was so ready to reply that he was able to interrupt. "Who hef you heart speak off bounding? Hef I speakt off favors? Dit I say der shoult be slackness in der city gofer'ment? Litsen to me, Choe." He renewed his contemplation of his cigar, then proceeded: "I hef been t'inkin' it ofer now a couple years. I hef mate up my mind. If some peobles are gombelt to keep der laws and oders are not, dot's a great atwantitch to der oders. Dot iss what iss ruining der goundry, und der peobles iss commencement to take notice. Efer'veres in oder towns der iss housecleaning. Dey are reforming und indleding, und pooty soon dot mofement comes here—shoo-er! If we intent to holt der pardy in power, we shoult be a leetle ahead off dot mofement so when it shoult be here we hef a goot 'minadstration to fall beck on. Now, dere iss anoder brewery opened und trying to gombete mit me here in Canaan. If dot brewery owns der mayor, all der tsaloons buying my beer must shut up at 'leven o'glock und Sundays, but der oders keep open. If I own der mayor, I make der same against dot oder brewery. Now, I am pooty sick off dot ways off bitsness und fighting all times. Also," Mr. Farbach added, with magnificent calmness, "my trade iss larchly owtside off Canaan, und it iss bedder dot here der laws shoult be enforced der same fer all. Litsen, Choe! All us here beliefs der same way. You are square. Der whole tsaloon element knows dot und knows dot all voult be treated der same. Mit you it voult be fairness fer each one. Foolish peobles tef salt you are a law tricker, but we know dot you hef only mate der laws brotect as well as bunish. Und at such times as dey bet been broken you hef made dem as mertsiful as you coult. You are no tricker. We are willing to help you make it a glean town. Oderwise der fightin' voult go on until der mofement strikes here und all der cranks vake up und we git a fool reformer fer mayor und der town goes to der dogs. If I try to put in a man dot I own, der oder brewery iss goin' to fight like h—l, but if I work fer you it will not fight so hart."

"But the other people," Joe objected, "those outside of what is called the saloon element—do you understand how many of them will be against me?"

"It iss der tsaloon element," Mr. Farbach returned peacefully, "dot does der fightin'."

"And you have considered my standing with that part of Canaan which considers itself the most respectable section?" He rose to his feet, standing straight and quiet, facing the table, upon which, it chanced, there lay a copy of the Tocsin.

"Und yet," observed Mr. Farbach, with mildness, "we got some pooty respectable men right here."

"Except me," broke in Mr. Sheehan grimly, "you have."

"Have you thought of this?" Joe leaned forward and touched the paper upon the table.

"We hef," replied Mr. Farbach; "all of us. You shall beat it."

There was a strong chorus of confirmation from the others, and Joe's eyes flashed.

"Have you considered," he continued rapidly, while a warm color began to conquer his pallor—"have you considered the powerful influence which will be against me, and more against me now, I should tell you, than ever before—that influence, I mean, which is striving so hard to discredit me that lynch law has been hinted for poor Fear if I should clear him? Have you thought of that? Have you thought"—

"Have we thought o' Martin Pike?" exclaimed Mr. Sheehan, springing to his feet, face aflame and beard bristling. "Aye, we've thought o' Martin Pike, and our thinkin' of him is where he begins to git what's comin' to him! What d'ye stand there pickin' straws fer? What's the matter with ye?" he demanded angrily, his violence tenfold increased by the long repression he had put upon himself during the brewer's deliberate utterances. "If Louie Farbach and his crowd says they're fer ye, I guess ye've got a chanst, haven't ye?"

"Wait," said Joe. "I think you underestimate Pike's influence"—

"Underestimate the devil!" shouted Mr. Sheehan, uncontrollably excited. "You talk about influence! He's been the worst influence this town's ever had—and his tracks covered up in the dark wherever he set his ugly foot down! These men know it, and you know some but not the worst of it, because none of ye live as deep down in it as I do! Ye want to make a clean town of it, ye want to make a little heaven of the Beach"—

"And in the eyes of Judge Pike," Joe cut him off, "and of all who take their opinions from him. I represent Beaver Beach!"

Shooting the Steenbuck.

Many of the poor Boers in the Transvaal, by whom all the shooting that is done is for the pot and not for sport, have perfected a system of shooting with the assistance of oxen. A steenbuck has no fear of cattle and will lie still even if they graze right up to him. The hunter gets together a few cattle and with his gun walks behind them in such a way that he cannot be seen from the front. Great care has to be exercised to drive the oxen so that they may seem to be grazing naturally. The hunter must be ready to shoot without having to alter his position. The slightest movement is noticed by the buck.

Peculiarities of Long Island.

The class in geography in one of the Brooklyn schools was asked by the teacher, "What are some of the natural peculiarities of Long Island?"

The pupils tried to think, and, after awhile, a boy raised his hand.

"I know," said he.

"Well, what are they?" asked the teacher.

"Why," said the boy, with a triumphant look, "on the south side you see the sea and on the north side you hear the sound."

Fatalism Exemplified.

She—I hope, dear, that you are not going to worry about my exceeding my allowance this time.

He (brightening up)—You don't mean to tell me, dearest, that there isn't any necessity for it?

"Certainly not. What's the use of worrying about something you can't help?"

The Flesh She Lost.

"You're not looking well, Mrs. Giles. Surely you have lost a lot of flesh lately, have you not?"

"I have that. I've lost me 'usband. 'E weighed nineteen stone when 'e died."—London Telegraph.

Tobacco.

The Whippoorwill.

Though the whippoorwill's two cream speckled white eggs are laid with seeming carelessness on the ground, she is not careless with her young, picking them up as a cat does a kitten if danger threatens.

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and Indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific Nerve sickness—nothing else.

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had.

For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and sallow complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry must be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made on certain conditions, by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

The homesteader is required to perform the homestead conditions under one of the following plans:—

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of the homesteader resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Six months' notice in writing should be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of intention to apply for patent.

LIFE DEPENDS ON HEALTHY BLOOD.

IS YOURS RICH AND PURE?

Blood is the soul of life.

Check its formation, rduce its quality, lessen its red cells—you at once sap strength and vitality—you peril life itself.

When you strengthen the blood, make it richer in red cells, increase its solid constituents, you supply the materials that rebuild—you furnish that disease-resisting element we call strength.

When you are weak and ailing—when appetite is poor—when mental effort seems impossible, sleep hard to get, be sure your blood has grown poog and your nervous system in consequence is impaired.

Nothing so quickly stimulates the formation of rich, red blood as Ferrozone.

Ferrozone's action upon the digestive power is immediate—everything you eat is converted into nourishment and building material.

Ferrozore fortifies the action of the kidneys, liver and stomach. Increases circulation, and by these means throws into the blood a vast store of material to build up and to strengthen.

Ferrozone by making blood and stimulating vital action, transmits to the debilitated brain cells, exhausted by toil, by anxiety, or by sickness, the strength they need.

The beneficent action of Ferrozone on the brain is transmitted through the nervous system, and all powers of the body are enormously increased.

Ferrozone enables the body to perform all its functions in a normal and natural way, and with an absolute freedom from reaction, which is the most positive assurance that the body is strengthened—not stimulated.

Whether the weakness you suffer is profound or of long standing, whatever the conditions are—if the blood is impaired, if its redness is reduced, if its activity is lessened—Ferrozone is an absolute and rapid remedy.

For any condition of weakness, debility or ill-health in men, women and children, you can't find so nourishing and strengthening a tonic as Ferrozone; try it, sold everywhere in 50c. boxes.

Prayer Meetings

—There will be a prayer meeting every night this week at the Bethany Tabernacle for the Pentecostal outpouring of the Holy Spirit upon Peterborough. All interested are cordially invited.

Every Day

Until October 31st there are special one way colonist rates in effect to points in California, Montana, British Columbia, Oregon, Utah and Washington via the Grand Trunk. Full particulars as to rates and routes call on Mr. W. Bunton, representative of the Grand Trunk in Peterborough.

That Fire in the Sawdust Pile

The Fire, Water and Light Committee of the City Council will meet tonight, when the question of what the fire brigade should do in case of a fire in the sawdust pile on the river bank, will be taken up. The matter has been brought to a head by a letter from Mr. Larmonth, in which he complained that the brigade had done nothing to extinguish the recent blaze.

Three Charges Against Hotelman

On Friday morning at ten o'clock, Mr. Arthur G. Lawless, proprietor of the Rockland House, Bobcaygeon, and formerly of the Lakefield House at Lakefield, will appear before Magistrate Edmison on three charges of selling liquor without a license. While in charge of the Lakefield House he is accused of selling liquor on August 3, at 6.25 p.m., 10 minutes later at 6.35, and also in 10 minutes after that again.

First Catarrh treatments are being mailed out free, on request, by Dr. Shoop Racine, Wis. These tests are proving to the people—without a penny's cost—the great value of this scientific prescription known to druggists everywhere as Dr Shoop's Catarrh Remedy. Sold by all dealers.

City Topics

IN SHORT FORM FOR BUSY READERS

—The Fire, Water and Light Committee of the City Council will meet tonight.

—The monthly children's service at St. Luke's will be held on Sunday morning, September 29.

—There will be a prayer meeting every night this week at Bethany Tabernacle.

—The Lake street school will not be open until Monday next. The alterations are not quite completed, but everything will be in readiness on the 16th.

—The Archdeaconal Conference of the Archdeaconry of Peterborough will be held in Cobourg on October 21 to 23, at St. Peter's church, of which Rev. Canon Spragge is the rector.

—Dr Halliday, Water street, who as noted in yesterday's issue had a valuable terrier pup stray away on Sunday from his residence had the dog returned yesterday.

—Night Watchman "Ned" Finnie is laid up with a sore foot, and his rounds will be taken by Mr. Mark Spencely who will look after them until Mr. Finnie has recovered.

—A Woodstock magistrate has expressed his opinion that, during the winter, Ontario will be over-run with tramps. We have got 11 cents that says they will not sing, "Linger longer Loo" in Peterborough.

—The annual harvest festival at St. Mark's, Otonabee, will be held on Sunday, September 29, both morning and evening. The special preacher will likely be either Rev. C. H. Marsh of Lindsay or Rev. Wm. Burns of Hastings.

—In connection with our Brotherhood of St. Andrew work, Mr. Kingdon wishes to start a junior chapter, to which boys may belong. The rector appeals to the boys, to rally round Mr. Kingdon and help him to organize such a chapter for the purpose of working among the boys.—St. Luke's Parish Magazine.

Pain anywhere, pain in the head, painful periods, neuralgia, toothache, all pains can be promptly stopped by a thoroughly safe little Pink Tandy Tablet, known by druggists everywhere as Dr Shoop's Headache Tablets. Pain simply means congestion—undue blood pressure at the point where pain exists. Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets quickly equalize this unnatural blood pressure, and pain immediately departs. Write Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. and get a free trial package. Large box 25 cts. Sold by all druggists.

Rough Riders Organize Tonight

The Rough Riders Rugby Club will meet for the purpose of organizing for the season tonight in the Y.M.C.A. All those intending to play the game this season are asked to be on hand. The Rough Riders have signed a large number of good men and their team will be a strong one. The first Rugby practice of the season was held on Saturday afternoon at the Riverside Park, when a large number of players were out in uniform.

Prizes Presented at St. Peter's School

At St. Peter's school yesterday, Gerrard Maher, son of Mr. Jos. Maher, was presented with a five-dollar gold piece by Rev. Father McColl. Miss Bernadette McDonald, daughter of Mr. W. H. McDonald, of the Convent, was also presented with a similar prize. These prizes are donated by Mr. James Lynch to the boy and girl obtaining the highest marks among the Separate school pupils who try the Entrance examinations at midsummer.

Off for a Holiday

P. C. McDonald the most recent addition to the local police force and a most efficient officer, who has the advantage of many years experience in private detective work or a leading Chicago railroad, left yesterday for his holidays, which he will spend in bucolic and riverside delights. We understand that Mr. McDonald will hie him forth in a canoe with tent and necessaries such as campers use, and spend his vacation amidst the pleasures to be found in God's free and fresh air, untrammelled by the exigences and and uses of current civilization.

Burridge Leads in Batting

In connection with the local race in baseball batting, it might be noted that at present, Burridge is leading by three points, the figures for 17 games reading; Burridge, .408, and Burns, .405. Burns was ahead until Saturday's game, his four hits in the contest a week ago giving him the lead. At Port Hope, however, Burridge got three hits to Burns' one, and went ahead again. The leadership will be decided on Saturday.

May Run Excursion to Cobourg

It is altogether probable that a large number of the local fans will accompany Manager Johnston's winners to Cobourg on Saturday, as the championship of the Midland Baseball League will be decided on that day, when Peterborough and Port Hope will meet in a sudden death game at the ancient burg. The two teams that played in Port Hope on Saturday were said to be the best teams that ever represented their respective towns, and a great game should result on Saturday. The Peterborough Club are making arrangements to run an excursion to Cobourg for the game.

Gun Kicked Him into the Lake

A local man, said to be Mr. Gadd, went shooting a few days ago on Pigeon Lake. He was in one of those safest of floating craft, a flat bottom punt. A mud hen, blackbird, crow or some such game bird came along and Mr. Gadd let drive with his trusty gun. Unfortunately the recoil was sufficient to precipitate him into the waters of the lake. He could not swim and his friends came to his aid just in time. This is another sample of the inadvisability of those not being able to swim embarking on anything smaller than a steamboat and oft hose ignorant that a gun, like people who are sometimes given notice in the press, is liable to kick, should try fire crackers on the shore.

Lakefield Old Boys

Toronto Globe; A reunion of the Old Boys of Lakefield School was held on Labor Day. A number of former pupils spent Sunday and Monday at their old school. Among those present were,—H. F. Strickland, J. P. Sippald, W. V. Carey, G. Dunn, C. Dunn, C. C. Keele, L. C. Ridout, F. W. Fearman, C. Barclay, A. C. Colledge and F. C. Greenwood. A business meeting was called on Monday morning and matters relating to the school's welfare were discussed. The following officers were elected for the year;—Honorary President Sir B. Lacon, Bart.; President, H. F. Strickland, Vice-President, Percy Manning; Secretary-Treasurer, G. Dunn; Committee, Messrs Keele, Karsteman and Carey.

Lager Seems to Replace Whiskey

The Calcutt Brewing & Malting Co., notwithstanding this late season of the year, when "The Curse of Canada" is often demanded in place of the comparitively innocuous "lager," is still brewing six days a week. This speaks volumes for the sobriety and consequent morality of the citizens of Peterborough. When a man is content with a modest glass of lager, containing not more than 4 per cent. of acholic instead of whiskey, gin, rum, or other strong liquors stronger by many score per cent. the people of this city are certainly more temperate than were their ancestors who lived here in the "good old days," when fiery whiskey was sold at a cheaper price then is the now, comparitively harmless lager. Whilst not advocating the use of any liquid containing alcohol, surely it is in the interests of our people "of two evils to choose the lesser."

Otonabee Youths Walked Back Home

It seems that three young men from Otonabee are hurt both physically and in temper owing to a mixup Sunday night when a reckless driver, with two girls in his rig running into the conveyance of the trio. The Otonabee men say that the collision is attributable to the local man and the accident occurred just across the canal bridge, below the 1 ft lock. The buggy lies in the ditch, near the bridge, with one wheel off, and every spoke broken into matchwood. A fourth Otonabee resident happened along just after the accident. He and the three marooned youths drove after the alleged wrecker of their rig, but only got the merry 'ha ha' for their trouble. The trio took "shank's mare" for home.

Ottawa to Get Money

Ottawa, Sept. 10.—The City Council at a special meeting tonight authorized the Finance Committee to carry out arrangements made for a temporary loan of $75,000 from the Paris Bank, London, England. The loan can be secured at one per cent higher than the Bank of England rate, that now stands at 4 1-2 per cent. The loan is being put through as a temporary expense expedient to meet civic liabilities, pending the issue at a more opportune time of one million dollars of civic bonds.

Do You Open Your Mouth

Like a young bird and gulp down whatever food or medicine may be offered you? Or, do you want to know something of the composition and character of that which you take into your stomach whether as food or medicine?

Most intelligent and sensible people now-a-days insist on knowing what they employ whether as food or as medicine. Dr. Pierce believes they have a perfect right to insist upon such knowledge. So he publishes broadcast and on each bottle-wrapper, what his medicines are made of and vouches it under oath. This he feels he can well afford to do because the more the ingredients of which his medicines are made are studied and understood the more will their superior curative virtues be appreciated.

For the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses, irregularities and derangements, giving rise to frequent headaches, backache, dragging-down pain or distress in lower abdominal or pelvic region, accompanied, oftimes, with a debilitating, pelvic, catarrhal drain and kindred symptoms of weakness, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a most efficient remedy. It is equally effective in curing painful periods, in giving strength to nursing mothers and in preparing the system of the expectant mother for baby's coming, thus rendering childbirth safe and comparatively painless. The "Favorite Prescription" is a most potent, strengthening tonic to the general system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. It is also a soothing and invigorating nervine and cures nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, chorea or St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing nervous symptoms attendant upon functional and organic diseases of the distinctly feminine organs.

A host of medical authorities of all the several schools of practice, recommend each of the several ingredients of which "Favorite Prescription" is made for the cure of the diseases for which it is claimed to be a cure. You may read what they say for yourself by sending a postal card request for a free booklet of extracts from the leading authorities, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post.

CITY LIGHT COM. MET IN THE DARK

Ooing in New Fire Hall Does Not Sound the Numbers Correctly--This Defect Will be Remedied Without Delay.

The Fire,, Water and Light Committee of the City Council met last night when there were present, Mayor R. F. McWilliams, and chairman Ald. Johnston, Aldermen W. H. Bradburn, Morgan and Duncan, Foreman Pakenham of the fire hall was also present.

Foreman Pakenham reported that the new electrical fire alarm has been examined by Mr. Murdock, the Northern Electric Co.'s expert, and found to be satisfactory throughout with the exception of the fire hall gong, which does not ring the correct numbers His worship also raised the question of whether the tap bells in the firemen's houses sound sufficiently loud to awaken the men. Mr. Pakenham admitted that these bells are not all that could be desired, although he thought they are the best samples of that particular kind on the market. Chief Rutherford claims that his bell rings loud enough and he is perfectly satisfied with it. But Mr. Rutherford's bell is in his bedroom.

Ald. Bradburn moved, seconded by Ald. Duncan,—That the chairman see Mr. Doane with reference to the bells in the firemen's houses and the gong in the fire hall.—Carried.

Mr. Murdock was understood to agree verbally to replace the present tap bells for electric mechanical ones, which have a stronger ring, at a difference in cost of $3 each above cost of present tap bells.

Ald. Duncan moved, seconded by Ald. Bradburn,—That Chief Rutherford be instructed to telephone the gump house after fire has been extinguished.—Carried.

Fire Chief Rutherford and Mr. Larmonth of the American Cereal Company, had been notified to be present and discuss with the committee the question of the fire brigade's refusal to attend the saw dust fire on the river bank, but neither gentleman put in an appearance.

The committee took exception to the chief's non compliance with their request to be present at this meeting, and agreed that no city official should fail to appear before the council or the committee in charge of such official's department, when notified to do so.

In the absence of the above gentlemen no definite action was taken in this vexed question.

The mayor moved, seconded by Ald. Duncan,—That Mr Larmonth be notified that the Fire, Water and Light Committee will consider this question at its next meeting; and that Chief Rutherford be notified to be present.—Carried.

A petition was received for an electric arc light on the corner of Munroe avenue and Knox street, on the east or upper side of the street.

Ald. Wilson is also asking for an incandescent lamp on the corner of Brock and Stewart streets.

Ald. Bradburn thought that before new lights are furnished, the committee should see that the additional lamps and changes ordered some time ago from the company are placed.

Ald. Johnston urged that the company be asked to change a section of the street lighting service to the closed arc lamp system.

Ald Bradburn moved, seconded by the mayor,—That the water commissioners be requested to place a hydrant at the corner of Dufferin and Concession streets.—Carried.

At this juncture the electric lights went out and the committee finished their business in the dark.

Doing Good Work on Otonabee River With the Dredge

M. Quinn is doing good work on the Otonabee river. This gentleman who under Dominion Government Engineer J. J. Sing, is in charge of the active work on the Trent Valley Canal operations, is determined to see that Peterborough gets its share of the public expenditure of money for local water improvements. This fact was ascertained yesterday morning, when a Times representative strolling about, seeking news for our subscribers, happened to meet several employes of the dredge that is now engaged in digging out a channel from the south of, through and to the north of Hunter street bridge. Every employe spoken to was enthusiastic in his expressions regarding the great work that Mr. Quinn is accomplishing.

The dredge is at present located some 100 feet above the Quaker Oats Company's buildings. The dredge, which is one of the most modern in construction and has the most recently devised attachments, is anchored at the spot above designated. From the dredge are flexible steel cables, attached to two scows which take in a line of three or four dump cars, the gravel which the dredge digs from the river bed. The cables are attached to the scows, which carry on an average 17 cubic yards of gravel each, and are wound on drums at the stern of each scow. As the scows are let down by the revolving cables to where Mr. Mahoney's cars receive their load, men, with pike poles shove the swinging brackets over from the derrick to position above the horse-drawn cars which run on a temporary railroad. Thence the cars are drawn by horses to where they are dumped.

In this important land-making process for the city Mr. Quinn is doing good and intelligent work in his supervision of the operations and Mr. Sing, who is one of the chief engineers of the Dominion Public Works Department, has demonstrated his fitness for the important work allotted to him. Above the Hunter street bridge Mr. Quinn is having a channel 400 feet wide dug up to a point possibly 100 yards above the bridge or to the point where necessity for such a deep channel is necessary. There is to be a turning basin cut across the whole channel, which was begun by Messrs R B. Rogers and Gordon at the east side of the river. It might be mentioned, incidentally, that the dredge which is now working within the city limits is one of the most recently constructed, and, in fact, invented, and is doing good work.

Police Court

Yesterday afternoon, at three o'clock, his Honor Judge Weller said to John R. Dundas, "You are here before me today to elect whether you be tried by me or before a jury or whether or not you did, on August 6th, forge and pass a cheque for $15, signed by W. J. Johnston and cashed by Mr. Chas. E. Coleman, Mr. Hatton, who appeared for the prisoner, pleaded guilty and elected to be tried summarily by Judge Weller. Mr. Wood, county crown attorney, called attention to the fact that this was not Dundas' first offence.

Mr. Hatton claimed that Dundas' other offence was not of a similar kind and should not be considered.

His honor noted that while Dundas' wife should not have done so, she had been to see him, his honor. Still whilst the prisoner might have wanted to get married, he had no right to steal some one else's money to do so.

Here, the judge read the decision of the police magistrate given in 1902, when he, Dundas, was convicted and asked Mr. Hatton "How can I refuse to take this into consideration.

His honor then asked Dundas "What have you got to say before I sentence you."

Dundas explained that he had purchased a suit of clothes and owed $5, and gave Pete Simons an order for the balance. This was to explain the prior conviction. Dundas explained that the order for $15 was signed and dated payable at the time of the next pay day.

This, Mr. Wood, following what Dundas said, "as it was five years ago he was not sure about the matter."

Dundas was then brought up to the rostrum as the judge could not hear him, and said the forgery would not have been committed but that he had been drinking.

The judge said, "You are a decent looking fellow, you should not plead guilty to drinking.

The judge again noted that prisoner's wife had come to see him. She is seemingly, a respectable looking woman, but she should not have come to see him personally. He did not like people to see him secretly and took this opportunity of letting people know she had come to see him.

The judge then asked Dundas. "Could you get any responsible person to go bail that you will appear before me at such time as I set?"

His honor then said he was going to adjourn the case for two months and let the prisoner go, in the meantime, to see if he will behave himself and let the drink alone and take care of his wife and mother.

Dundas will have to appear before the court again on the 12th of November, at 11 a.m.

Dundas promised to appear on that date. His honor told Dundas he should have to repay Coleman the $15 he got by the cheque.

Peterboro Makes a Good Showing

It seems that the local fire brigade has equipment equal to that of cities of greater size. Mr. W. Pakenham, foreman of the local firehall, was in Toronto last week and visited the buildings of the fire departments. In none of them did he find he furnishings to equal those of the local hall and only in some respects did the equipments surpass those of the department of Peterborough. The rooms here were, he stated, much better furnished, were brighter and better ventilated than been he visited in the Queen City.

End Rule of Rich

Country Tired of Millionaires and Their Influences

Portland, Oregon, Sept. 11.—Speaking at a luncheon at which he was the guest of honor today; Secretary Taft said that he was firmly convinced that the time had come when the country was tired of the plethora of millionaires and of their influences, and it had been demonstrated and could further be shown that the business of the nation should be run on the principle of a square deal to every one and special privileges to none, be he rich or poor That, he said, had been the principle of the present administration, and it would be with the Republican administration to come.

He expressed confidence in the ability of the people to rise up and regulate whatever abuses might exist, and said the people had done this before would do it again if occasion offered.

"The government and the people are in control," he said. "They are deaf to the criticisms and machinations of powerful and arrogant combinations of capital, and they are equally deaf to the threats that are so freely uttered by powerful demagogues."

Rules to Follow in Declaring War

Peace Congress Adopts Series of Resolutions Dealing with Opening of Hostilities

The Hague, Sept. 11.—The fifth plenary sitting of the peace conference, M. Nelidoff presiding, met Saturday in the Knights' Hall. The delegates were not so numerous as on the occasion of former sittings, several of them temporarily left The Hague, while awaiting a debate on more important questions. After the minutes of the last sittings had been approved, the following rules regarding the opening of hostilities were adopted, a few countries making reserves;

"The contracting powers agree that hostilities must not begin without previous unequivocal notice having been given, either in the form of a declaration of war setting forth its motives, or in the form of an ultimatum with a conditional declaration of war.

A state of war must be notified without delay to the neutral powers, the effect for the latter beginning after they receive notices, which can be given even by wire. In any case, the neutral powers cannot protest against the lack of this notice if it is established that they undoubtedly knew that a state of war existed."

The sitting also approved, with some reserves, the agreements concerning a time of war. The land rules include the following;

"The territory of neutral states is inviolable.

"Belligerents cannot establish wireless telegraphy stations in neutral territory or any other means of communication with belligerent forces on land or sea.

"Volunteers cannot be enlisted or a body of combatants formed in neutral territory.

"The exportation of provisions from neutral states and the transport of provisions for belligerents are forbidden.

"Belligerents are allowed to use means of communication belonging to neutrals or private companies.

"Prisoners who escape to neutral territory, if recaptured by troops, must, after having asked for refuge in a neutral state be set free."

"A neutral state can defend its neutrality without this constituting an act of hostility."

When the project regarding the treatment of neutrals on belligerent territory was brought up for discussion, Baron Mareschal Von Biberstein, Germany, objected, saying that Germany could not admit the principle supported by Great Britain, to employ neutrals in warfare when the laws of a belligerent state permitted it. Germany, on the contrary, maintained that neutrals must take no part in a war.

On the motion of Count Tornielli, Italy, the proposition on this subject was returned to the committee for further study, in the hope of reaching an understanding acceptable to all.

All Saints' Harvest Festival

The annual Harvest Festival of All Saints' church, will be held on Friday, September 20th, at 8 p.m. The Rev. Canon Spragge, M.A., of Cobourg, will be the special preacher. The service will be continued on the following Sunday when the Rev. R. B Groob, M.a., of Port Hope, will preach and on Monday the usual congregational meeting will be held. The choir is busy making special arrangements for the occasion.

Nearly a Ship Wreck

On Monday, the scow that carries the gravel and river bed scrapings from the dredge to the derrick where it is loaded into cars and carried to its destination, broke away and started on its journey that might have wound up at the salt water. Aboard the scow was a gentleman, who evidently fearing shipwreck, shouted for help. A hasty message was sent to the dredge Trent, when a punt impressed for the occasion as a life boat, hastened to the rescue. Lines were quickly thrown out and the scow was saved. No charge for salvage will be put in. Again, a Havelock man who was in charge of the drum controlling the scow, whether losing his head or thinking of a girl in that burg, lost control of the lever managing the drum, and the scow again started for Rice Lake, but was caught in time.

Tragic End To a Farm House Raid

Shot Friend in Mistake and Then in Despair Committed Suicide

Kittaning, Pa., Sept. 11.—Following the accidental shooting of his companion, Robert Ramsay, jr., shortly after midnight, Howard Riley committed suicide by jumping in front of an express train on the Alleghany division of the Pennsylvania Railroad, near his home at Graff.

Ramsay and Riley had started on a lark, and when passing a farm house decided to secure some eatables for a feast Ramsay went into the farm house and Riley went to the chicken coop. When Riley was in the coop, Ramsay opened the door and as he struck a match, Riley thinking it was the owner, shot Ramsay through the breast. Riley, when he found he had shot his friend, became almost insane and tried to shoot himself. Ramsay, although terribly injured, succeeded in getting the weapon from him. Riley took the injured man home. He then walked out on the railway tracks, and when the express from Buffalo came rushing along, he threw himself in front of the engine and was ground to pieces. Ramsay is still alive, but his recovery is doubtful. campaign starts.

News Briefs

Budapest, Sept. 9.—Dr. Haier, an eminent local physician, asserts that he has secured very beneficial results in cancer cases at the university hospital through the use of an injection of gelatine.

In forty cases thus treated he was unsuccessful in only three.

Ottawa, Sept. 10.—The Secretary of State has appointed a board to compile the manhood suffrage vote in the constituency of Brockville. The board will comprise Judge Macdonald of the County Court, O. K. Fraser, Clerk of the court, and Police Magistrate Deacon. At the last session of the Provincial Legislature the manhood suffrage registration act was amended to apply only to cities or towns having a population by the last Dominion census of 9,000 or over. Brockville at the last census had a population of 8,960, which would not entitle it to a Board of Registration, but there is another provision in the act which permits the board for this election, but not hereafter.

Paris, Sept. 10.—A special meeting of the cabinet was held today to consider the Moroccan situation. These conclusions were reached;

First, the Moroccan government should be held responsible for the massacre of July 30 at Casablanca, as well as for the damages suffered as a result of the pillage or the repression of disorders.

Second, the indemnities should be fixed by an international commission.

Incidentally, this is France's answer to the demands of the German exporters at Casablanca that France compensate them for the losses they sustained during the bombardment.

Davenport, Iowa, Sept. 10—Rock Island passenger trains may have to creep through Davenport at the rate of one mile an hour during the next few months. Frank Glasgow of Gardner, Ill., was killed and John Kunkel of Granville, Ill., seriously injured by striking the overhead girders while trying to board a train moving out of the Rock Island passenger station today. They are employes of the Joliet Bridge Company working at Genesco. Glasgow's death is the sixth due to the girders, which the railway company has been ordered to remove. Alderman J. A. Dearmand states that he will ask the city council at its regular meeting Wednesday evening to adopt an ordinance limiting all Rock Island trains to a speed of one mile an hour through this city until the girders are removed. Officials of the road say it will be several months before the girders can be removed.

Dummer Excursion Well Patronized

The 10th annual excursion held under the auspices of the farmers of Dummer township was begun yesterday per steamer Otonabee. This steamer left Lakefield and passed through the beautiful waters of Kawarthe Lakes to Fenelon Falls, having on board a fine orchestra. Quite a number got aboard at Lakefield, the party being augmented by excursionists from Young's Point, McCracken's Landing, Mount Julien, Bureleigh Falls and Buckborn. The party arrived at Fenelon Falls shortly after six o'clock last night and will leave there on the return trip at 8 o'clock. The Dummer Committee made every arrangement for the pleasure of those taking in the trip.

Lights Went Out

The short circuiting and burning out of a transformer on Hunter street between George and Aylmer streets Monday night belonging to the Peterborough Light and Power Company, caused some inconvenience to a number of the central offices and stores. The lights distributed from that transformer went out about nine o'clock, but in about a quarter of an hour they were again turned on.

The Funeral of the Late Mr. James H. Ames Took Place Yesterday Afternoon

The remains of the late Mr. James H. Ames were interred in Little Lake cemetery yesterday afternoon. The services at the family residence, 181 Edinburgh street, and at the grave were conducted by the Rev. E. A. Pearson, pastor of George street Methodist church. Rev. William Ames, only surviving brother of the deceased, spoke at the house in very touching terms relative to his departed brother. Rev. William Ames preached in the first Methodist church erected in this city some 50 years or more ago.

The funeral obsequies were attended by many friends and connections of this city and from a distance.

To Make Another Attack.

Arabs Undismayed by Heavy Losses, Plan to Continue the War.

Casablanca, Sept. 11.—Although the Arabs suffered severely in the engagement on Tuesday, one tribe, the Medakras, losing fifty men killed out of 2,500 engaged, they are in no wise discouraged, and already are planning a fresh attack on the French. Maclumin, the fanatical priest, has sent a messenger to the Arab camp at Taddert, announcing his early arrival, and this has produced a deep impression on the tribesmen. Renewed fighting is expected soon.

WILL TAKE OVER ARMS.

Paris, Sept. 11.—Dispatches received here this evening declare that a delegate from Mulai Hafig is expected shortly at Mazagan to take over the arms and ammunition from the customs authorities here. It is not likely the customs officials will offer any objections to this step, particularly as the delegate will give guarantees that the arms and ammunition in question will not get to the tribesmen now before Casablanca.

A most important change has occurred in the political aspect of the Moroccan question, a change which may have a far-reaching effect on the future of Morocco and the relations of the powers thereto. France and Spain have the intention to occupy the litoral ports of Morocco with their own forces and establish police organizations.

MOROCCO IS HELPLESS.

This contemplated action, results from the official announcement of the Moroccan government, through the war minister, Eli Galdwa, that it is unable to guarantee the safety of the European instructors of the international police force, which under the terms of the Algeciras convention was to be composed of Moors. The dilemma of France and Spain, who, by the terms of the Algeciras convention are compelled to organize the international police, was submitted to the signatory powers, including the United States, and they all agreed that the situation demanded that France and Spain police Morocco themselves.

Although it is stipulated that such occupation is merely provisional, or until it is safe to recruit the police from among the Mpors, there is a strong feeling that the absolute anarchy reigning in Morocco means that this occupation of the ports may be long drawn out, perhaps lasting indefinitely.

Innocent Woman Free From Life Sentence

Governor of Wisconsin Commutes Term After Sixteen Years Served

Milwaukee, Sept. 11.—After serving sixteen years in the state's prison for a crime which it is now believed she never committed, Mrs. Wilhelmina Baehr was today released through a pardon granted by Governor Davidson when the facts in the case were presented to him. Mrs. Baehr came to his country an immigrant girl about twenty years ago She came to Shawano County, and there met a family by the name of Baehr, consisting of the father and several grown daughters. The latter grounded the little immigrant to marry their father. She consented and found herself the slave of the entire family. It was shown that soon after a man named Seidel came to the Baehr's, he had considerable money. While there he was murdered. Suspicion fell on Baehr. It is claimed that he induced his wife to make a confession, saying she had killed the man, making her believe that she would escape with a light sentence. Instead she was sentenced to Waupun for life. Baehr later committed suicide. It is claimed by neighbors that he took his life because he was afraid that the true story of the crime would come out. W. F. Zachow, a wealthy resident of the county, hearing the story and becoming convinced of the facts, started a petition for the pardon of the woman. This was signed by the judge who sentenced Mrs. Baehr and court officials besides many prominent residents of the county.

MOB TRIED TO BURN THE JAPANESE MISSION

Many Knives and Revolvers Taken from the Japanese--Lives and Property Must be Protected at All Costs.

Vancouver, B.C., Sept. 11. — An Attempt was made to burn down the Japanese mission by the mob last night.

The plan was frustrated.

Special police paraded the streets searching for Japanese and took from them a large number of knives and revolvers.

All attempts at renewing the riot have been suppressed by a large body of special police.

It is said that the governor-general has wired Mayor Bethune here that the lives and property of Orientals must be protected at all costs.

All Chinese cooks and workmen in Vancouver stopped work yesterday as a protest against the anti-Chinese riots.

Restaurants are all closed and private families are without their cooks.

Several more arrests have been made in connection with the rioting on Saturday night.

Last night a citizen of Vancouver, named Mr. Henderson, and R. Watt, of Calgary, were set upon by Japs in the Japanese quarter while viewing the wrecks of stores.

Mr Henderson was struck with a sandbag, while Watt was knocked down and viciously kicked in the stomach.

London, Sept. 11.—The Daily Mail in its issue of yesterday, does not discuss the Vancouver incident editorially, but prints an interesting sensational article by Hamilton Fyfe, who is evidently familiar with the Pacific Coast countries of America and the Orient, and who sums up the incident by saying; "The wonder is that it has not happened before."

He says that California and British Columbia have the same problem to puzzle over, and agrees with Dr. Goldwin Smith that "before many years there must be a supreme struggle between Europeans and Asiatics for supremacy on the Pacific coast."

Vancouver, Sept. 11.—The police have seized fifty rifles, being shipped to a wealthy Chinese merchant here. The quarters of the Orientals are stocked with rocks, bricks, and bottles, to be used against rioters. Many rifles from Westminster, probably $5,000 worth, have been received in Chinatown, and are ready for action.

The big Japanese demonstration for last evening has been called off.

The mayor has received a message from the governor-general ordering the protection of Orientals at all costs.

Vancouver, B.C., Sept. 11.—A combined Chinese and Japanese organization yesterday afternoon made overtures to the Hindus to join them in an industrial strike all through this district. The Hindus refused. On the ground that they were British subjects.

SEIZED FIFTY RIFLES.

The police have made a seizure of fifty rifles last night which were being brought in from Westminster, together with thousands of rounds of ammunition. The shipment was consigned to Sam Kee, a wealthy Chinese merchant and large property owner, whose buildings were damaged by Saturday night's mob. The rifles are now at the police station.

STOCKED WITH MISSILES.

The roofs and buildings in the Chinese and Japanese quarters were stocked last night with rocks and bricks and bottles to be heaved on the crowd in case of riot. There will be a special meeting of the council today, when all anti-Asia meetings will be suppressed, and a wrestling tournament between Japs and white men called off.

When Chief of Police Chamberlain yesterday issued an order prohibiting the sale of fire arms to any person, white or yellow, until the riot season was passed, the Orientals simply transferred the scene of their purchasing operations before the police realized what had been done, all the rifles and revolvers in the city of Westminster, twelve miles away, were bought up, and were immediately shipped to Vancouver.

$5,000 WORTH OF GUNS.

It is estimated that five thousand dollars' worth of guns were loaded and ready in Chinatown last night.

The seriousness of the situation is shown by the fact that only by diplomacy was Lawyer Bethune enabled to prevail upon Consul Morikawa to call off the plan for a big Japanese demonstration at a parade last evening.

Toronto, Sept. 11.—"If Canada is not to end with the Rocky Mountains, something effectual must be immediately done to stop the reckless immigration of the Japanese."

So spoke Mr. R. G. Macpherson, Liberal M.P., for Vancouver, in an interview with a press representative. Mr. Macpherson is in Toronto on his way to Ottawa to lay the whole matter before Sir Wilfrid Laurier. He is a typical westerner.

"So you take the ground that something has to be done?" queried the reporter.

"No," with characteristic western emphasis. "I take the ground that something is going to be done," was the prompt response.

"The Japanese are a wonderful people—aggressive, indefatigable, capable. There is no stopping them. They are in a different class from the Chinese and the Hindoo," is Mr. Macpherson's testimony.

"The Japanese invasion is really of recent origin," he continued. "At one time the only people who looked askance at the Asiatic invasion were the labor unions. Now it has gone beyond that. It is a matter of national importance. The Japs are not only laborers; they have become employers. If they keep out here will soon be nothing but Asiatics in that part of the country.

"That part of Canada," declared Mr. Macpherson, "will be dubbed with an other name, and it won't be of British derivation.

"We are only about two weeks run from Japan," he continued, "and we can see it all very clearly. Since they defeated Russia the Japs have been particularly aggressive, and they look beyond the confines of their own country for their expansion. Mr. Nosse, consul-general, recently stated that Japan was living up to its agreement with Canada, because less than 2,500 had come into Canada since January. According to the agreement there should be less than 300."

"Do you believe the Japanese government to be behind the movement?" Mr. Macpherson was asked.

"From the attitude of the officials that inference may fairly be drawn," was the reply. "It is not that they are trying to get rid of their surplus population, but rather that they are looking for new fields to conquer. Their mission is perfectly peaceful, of course, but it is an invasion all the same, and we'll soon have more Japs than whites, and the white can't mingle with the yellow man."

JAPS ASK PROTECTION

The Consul-General After Being Informed of the Attempt to Burn Down a School Laid the Case Before the Premier

Ottawa, Sept. 11. — Consul-General Nosse yesterday morning received the following telegram from Consul Morikawa at Vancouver; "About 10.30 Monday night the rioters set the Japanese primary school on fire, but the building was saved from destruction by the Japanese. I at once interviewed the mayor at the police station, and made demand to call out the militia whenever necessary."

Mr Nosse yesterday laid the telegram before Sir Wilfrid Laurier. In commenting on the incident he remarked that he would rely on the good sense of the British and Canadian governments, who would no doubt see that the Japanese are given the protection of the laws of the Dominion.

Canada will Apologize to Japan

Tokio, Sept. 11.—The Foreign Office has received a despatch from the Japanese consul-general at Ottawa, saying that the Canadian Government will express its regret for the occurrence at Vancouver, and take steps to prevent further trouble.

Commissioner Ishii's despatch says that the disturbance will soon be quelled and that there is no reason to expect its repetition. Our information is that the outbreak, like that at Bellingham and others, is the result of the Corean League's anti-Japanese agitation, created by false and exaggerated reports concerning conditions in Corea and the attitude and sentiment in Japan.

Campaign Starts in Russia

St Petersburg, Sept. 11.—It was announced today that the preliminary parliamentary elections in Moscow and Tver provinces will take place Sept 15 and in the other provinces soon afterward. The constitutional democrats have issued a manifesto setting forth that the emperor's promise to give Russia a constitutional government hitherto has remained a dead letter, and declaring that "through a flagrant violation of the fundamental laws the government July 16 gave over the electoral power to a handful of wealthy landlords."

Steamer Water Lily Busy

The steamer Water Lily which returned yesterday with some rafts of the Dickson Co. from the upper lakes, left for Buckhorn with a scow load of cement for the new government drain at that point, the same being consigned by the Lakefield Portland Cement Co. The steamer, on her return trip will back a scow load of hogs consigned to Mr. H. B. Kennedy, about the end of this week.

IMPROVE YOUR COMPLEXION

Give Up Cosmetics And Seek The Cause of Your Bad Color.

When it's so easy to bring back the bloom of youth, to remove the blemishes and fill the hollows, isn't it foolish to plaster on cosmetics?

Sallowed skin and fallen in cheeks are produced by disorders of the alimentary canal.

Remove the cause—correct the condition that keeps you from looking as you ought. Use Dr. Hamilton's Pills and very soon you'll have a complexion to be proud of.

Just imagine how much happier you will feel when those pimples and murky look have gone.

Dainty looks came to Miss Vrooman, a well known resident of Belfast, from using Dr. Hamilton's Pills. I used to look so yellow I thought it might be jaundice. There was simply no color in my cheeks at all. Today my skin is clear and never gets that murky, dull appearance, it had before. Dr. Hamilton's Pills have also given me a good appetite and improved my general health also."

Not only the complexion, but every organ of the body is strengthened, cleansed and made healthy by Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Buoyancy, vim and a feeling of vigor invariably follow their use. A LESSON IN DISASTER

In discussing the above subject the Ottawa Journal says the evidence of Mr. Hoare, chief engineer of the Quebec Bridge Company, it is developed that the telegraphers' strike played an important part in the germination of the catastrophe in which seventy odd lives were lost on Thursday last. Mr. Hoare testified that on August 27 Mr. McClure, one of the engineers employed on the bridge, reported to him that one of the chords at the west trust of the bridge showed a curvature inwards or towards the centre of the bridge. Mr. McClure also attempted to communicate with Mr. Cooper, the consulting engineer, in New York, but owing to the telegraphers' strike and the inevitable delay in the delivery and exchange of telegrams under the circumstances it was decided that Mr. McClure should go in person to New York to apprise Mr. Cooper of the defect in the work.

Mr. McClure saw Mr. Cooper in New York and went on to Phoenixville, where the material for the bridge was being constructed. It was while he was there that the bridge collapsed, two whole days after the defect in the chord had been discovered. If he had been able to get Mr. Cooper by wire on August 27 and had succeeded in persuading him that the workmen should be withdrawn from the bridge, pending examination and a remedy of the defect, the awful toll of death in the collapse of the structure would have been avoided. To that extent the responsibility of the striking telegraphers for the horror at Quebec is established.

The telegraph operators in Canada were involved in the strike mainly by reason of their refusal to send messages to non-union and strike breaking operators on the other side of the line. But this refusal was sufficient to constitute failure to operate a public utility and the men who were a party to it were plainly liable to the penalties imposed in the Lemieux act in such cases. In refusing to operate a public service they not only laid themselves open to punishment under the act but contributed more or less directly to the deaths of 75 of their fellow men.

The lesson in the matter is that the law should be stiffened up to provide for the compulsory operation of all public utilities pending conciliation and enquiry and even afterwards. And next the penalties prescribed in the Lemieux act should be enforcable by the central authority, if necessary by the deputy minister of labor or some other responsible official of the labor department. As it is, the application of the act is very much a matter o. haphazard. If it had not been so, many valuable lives at Quebec might have been saved.

MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP

It was only to be expected that at the convention at Fort William of the Union of Canadian Municipalites the public ownership are tolerably cerbave had strong support. The composition of such a body would almost inevitably lead to such a result. The men most active in support of public ownership are tolerably certain to attend a gathering the importance of which must depend to a great extent on the magnitude of the undertakings controlled or managed by those composing it. To oppose extensions of municipal activity is regarded by such persons as depreciation of the value and benefits of municipal institutions, although a more enlightened view of the matter would show that they have their proper field and can confer great benefits by proper cultivation of it. But that there are limitations to that field which cannot be passed without injury and loss, the results of municipal trading on this continent and in Europe have plainly shown.

Declaration of War Necessary

The Hague, Sept. 9.—The fifth plenary sitting of the peace conference, M. Nelidoff, presiding, met this morning in the Knights' Hall. The delegates were not so numerous as on the occasion of former sittings. Several of them temporarily left The Hague while awaiting a debate on more important questions. The whole American delegation was present.

After the minutes of the last sittings had been approved the following rules regarding the opening of hostilities were adopted, a few countries making reserves;

"The contracting powers agree that hostilities must not begin without previous unequivocal notice having been given, either in the form of a declaration of war setting forth its motives, or in the form of an ultimatum with a conditional declaration of war.

NOTIFY ALL POWERS.

"A state of war must be notified without delay to the neutral powers, the effect for the latter beginning after they receive notice, which can be given even by wire. In any case the neutral powers cannot protest against the lack of this notice if establishment that they undoubtedly knew that a state of war existed."

The sitting also approved, with some reserves, the agreements concerning the rights and duties of neutral states in time of war. The land rules include the following;

"The territory of neutral states, is inviolable.

"Belligerents cannot establish wireless telegraphic stations in neutral territory, or any other means of communication with belligerent forces on land or sea.

"Volunteers cannot be enlisted or a body of combatants formed in neutral territory.

Millions of Children in U. S. Schools are Unfit

New York, Sept. 10—The re-opening of the Public schools throughout the country is to be the occasion of a report on the physical condition of school children by a committee of prominent educators, headed by Chairman Burlingham, former president of the New York Board of Education. The inquiry has taken a wide scope and the observations apply not only to the school children of New York, but also those of Boston, Chicago, and other cities. In general the report shows that about one-third of all the school children in the United States are behind their proper grade because of physical defects that could be remedied. A synopsis of the report says in part;

"Based on the physical defects and home conditions of 1,000 school children of New York city, it is estimated that 12,000,000 of the children of the United States have physical defects which should receive attentions from parents and physicians. If the percentages recorded by the Board of Health should be maintained throughout the country (and it seems likely that they would be as adenoids and impaired vision, mal-nutrition, and defective breathing, are found in rural as well as urban schools) there must be 1,440,000 ill-nourished children, 5,615,000 with enlarged glands, and 6,925,000 with defective breathing in the United States. In New York city the estimated figures are: Mal-nutrition, 48,000; enlarged glands, 187,000; and defective breathing 230,900.

EASILY REMEDIED.

"The large percentage of the defects indicated are easily remedied and many could be prevented by proper care, though, except in the case of defective visions, the causes are not always easily determined.

A comprehensive plan for dealing witht he physical defects of school children is outlined in the report, including a thorough examination of all children, notification to parents, the enforcement of existing laws, and securing property authority, where this is not lacking, to compel parents, who refuse to take necessary steps, enforcement of existing health, tenement house and child-labor laws; the establishment, in connection of the boards of education, of school hygienists whose duties it shall be to see that school buildings are so constructed and so conducted that they cannot themselves produce or aggravate physical defects, and that school cirriculum be so devised and executed as neither to produce nor aggravate them, to study the effect of school environment, curriculum building, home study, physical training—upon the child—and to teach hygiene, so that children will themselves cultivate habits of health and see clearly the relation of health and vitality to present happiness and future efficiency.

Stomach troubles, heart and kidney ailments, can be quickly corrected with a prescription known to druggists everywhere as Dr Shoop's Restorative. The prompt and surprising relief which this remedy immediately brings is entirely due to its Restorative action upon the controlling nerves of the stomach, etc.

EDUCATING WILLIAM.

His Mother-in-law Tells His Wife the Subtle Process.

"He isn't stingy," declared the young woman, rather indignantly. "I'm sure he's as generous as he can be in most things, but"—

"Oh, I know," said the elder woman. "Your father used to be a great deal the same way."

"Pa!" exclaimed the young woman.

"Until he got educated," said the elder woman. "I had to educate him, of course, and you'll have to educate William. Arguing isn't any use."

"I know," said the young woman sadly. "I've tried it."

"And crying isn't any use," said the elder, with some severity.

The young woman blushed and glanced hastily at a mirror that hung on the wall.

"No, your eyes aren't red," said the elderly woman reassuringly, "but you have been crying, and I tell you it won't do, and coaxing won't work one time in a dozen."

"Then how?"

"Use your common sense. There are lots of ways. Take him to shop with you the next time you go. That's one pretty good way of making him realize that a woman can't dress on nothing."

The young woman shook her head. "You don't know William as well as I do," she said. "I'd be worse off than ever, and, besides, he wouldn't go."

"Oh, yes, he would," said the elderly woman confidently. "He will if you manage him properly. You tell some woman friend what exquisite taste he has when he's around and notice how he'll begin to swell up. I never knew the man who didn't believe that he knew more about what was becoming to a woman than she did herself. Then follow that up by asking him to help you select a hat. He'll do it fast enough if you can make him really believe you depend on his judgment."

"But, mother"—

"I suppose you think he'll pick out some five dollar horror or something that doesn't suit you at all."

"I'm afraid he would."

"Well, he wouldn't. You begin by wanting him to go to some dollar and ninety-eight millinery store and watch him rebel. Look in at the window and comment favorably on one or two of the shapes if you can't do anything else, especially if some other people are standing by looking in. He'll insist on your going to some decent place. Don't take him to Elise, though. Go any place where there's a fairly good assortment, but not where they take $50 hats as a matter of course. All you've got to do is to pick out an intelligent saleswoman and insist on something inexpensive. If she brings you anything over $3, say: 'Oh, dear, no! I can't afford to pay that price.'"

"I don't see"—

"Well, you will. You'll see that he'll insist on seeing something better, and you'll see that he'll be about as helpless as a babe between you and the saleswoman, and he'll see that the only way he can assert himself is to urge you not to consider expense. Don't tell me he won't. I know 'em. You can have any hat you want, and he'll go out of the store under the impression that he selected it. And you don't want to disabuse his mind either. Tell him that you think the hat is perfectly charming and you are afraid he has been extravagant and the one at $11 would have done just as well. See if he doesn't tell you that it's economy in the long run to get a good thing and that you will get more than $5 worth of satisfaction out of the difference in the price. But don't ever let him convince you."

"Why not?"

"Because it wouldn't do. But don't fail to tell him how your friends raved about the hat and how surprised they seemed when you told them it was his choice and how they said they would hate to have their husbands pick out a hat for them and how you thought so, too, but didn't say it, and mention casually as the thing goes on to say company you have that you always let William select your hats on account of his exquisite taste, the only drawback being his criminal disregard of price. Same thing applies to gowns or any thing else."

"But it would be awful to have to be everlastingly taking him around."

"You won't have to," said the elderly woman. "Don't you worry about that. He'll get tired after the first few times and let you get what you want yourself. But you won't hear any more talk about your extravagance. He'll have got his horizon extended. But don't on any account let him lose his own good opinion of his taste."

"It seems a little deceptive," said the young woman, "but I almost believe I'll try it."

Suited to His Business.

"Gracious!" exclaimed the kind old lady to the beggar, "are they the best shoes you've got?"

"Why, lady," replied the candid beggar, "could yer imagine better ones fur dis business? Every one o' dem holes means nickels an' dimes ter me."

A Breaker.

Mistress—Jane, have you cemented the handle on to the water jug which you dropped yesterday. Jane—I started to, mum, but, most unfortunately, I dropped the cement bottle.—Punch.

Lame.

"The railroad wants to dig a cut right through our suburb."

"And do they offer no excuse?"

"Oh, they say divided outskirts will be more modish."

It is only imperfection that complains of what is imperfect. The more perfect we are the more gentle and quiet we become toward the defects of others.—Fenelon.

Something New in Copper

PITTSBURG - IDAHO

Mining and Milling Company

The mine is located 58 miles above Lewiston, Idaho, on the Clearwater river, and consists of 19 full claims, or 380 acres. It is developed by tunnels, shafts and open cuts for more than 2100 feet, disclosing thousands of tons of copper, gold and silver ores of both high grade and low grade. There are between 1000 and 2000 tons of ore ready for shipment. The entrance to the working tunnel is only 2000 feet from the track of the Northern Pacific railroad, to be reached by gravity tramway. There are seven parallel veins running lengthwise of the claims, one cropping out on the surface for 2000 feet and another for 3000 feet, while two veins cross these running into the mountain. These veins are from 30 to 200 feet wide. One ore chute has been crosscut 50 feet and is solid ore from wall to wall.

We are not asking you to buy in a prospect. That risk was taken by the promoters. We are asking you to buy in a developed, proven mine. Seven years of continuous work and the expenditure of thousands of dollars has proven up one of the greatest mines in Idaho. That mine is now ready to pour out its red and yellow wealth to the world with the installing of an up to date production plant. It is for that purpose that a block of its treasury stock, full paid and non-assessable, is offered for sale. We believe that within six months from the completion of a 100 ton plant the mine can be put on a dividend paying basis, and that those dividends will be substantial and permanent. There is no better investment proposition before the people at this time.

CAPITALIZATION $1,000,000. - PAR VALUE $1.

All promotion stock pooled during the sale of this treasury stock.

Messrs. Thos. Patterson & Co., Peterborough, Ont., are authorized to receive subscriptions for this stock, to whom all applications should be made.

ter laughter. "Ye do! In the eyes o' them as follow Martin Pike ye stand fer the Beach and all its wickedness, do ye? Whooroo! It's come! Ye're an offense in the eyes o' Martin Pike and all his kind because ye stand fer the Beach, are ye?"

"You know it!" Joe answered sharply. "If they could wipe the Beach off the map and me with it"—

"Martin Pike would?" shouted Mr. Sheehan, while the others, open mouthed, stared at him. "Martin Pike would?"

"I don't need to tell you that," said Joe.

Mr. Sheehan's big fist rose high over the table and descended crashing upon it. "It's a lie!" he roared. "Martin Pike owns Beaver Beach!"

CHAPTER XXIII.

FROM within the glossy old walnut bar that ran from wall to wall the eyes of the lawyers and reporters wandered often to Ariel as she sat in the packed courtroom watching Louden's fight for the life and liberty of Happy Fear. She had always three escorts, and, though she did not miss a session and the same three never failed to attend her, no whisper of scandal arose. But not upon them did the glances of the members of the bar and the journalists with tender frequency linger, nor were the younger members of these two professions all who gazed that way. Joe had fought out the selection of the jury with the prosecutor at great length and with infinite pains. It was not a young jury, and it stared at her.

The "court" wore a gray beard with which a flock of sparrows might have villaged a grove, and yet in spite of the vital necessity for watchfulness over this fighting case, it once needed to be stirred from a trancelike gaze in Miss Tabor's direction and aroused to the realization that it was there to "sit" and not to dream.

The August air was warm outside the windows, inviting to the open country, to swimmin' hole, to orchard reveries or shaded pool wherein to drop a meditative line. You would have thought no one could willingly coop himself in this hot room for three hours twice a day while lawyers wrangled, often unintelligibly, over the life of a dingy little creature like Happy Fear, yet the struggle to sweiter there was almost like a riot, and the bailiffs were busy men.

It was a fighting case throughout, fought to a finish on each tiny point as it came up, dragging, in the mere matter of time, interminably, yet the people of Canaan (not only those who succeeded in penetrating to the court room, but the others, who hung about the corridors or outside the building and the great mass of stay at homes, who read the story in the Tocsin) found each moment of it enthralling enough. The state's attorney, fearful of losing so notorious a case and not underestimating his opponent, had modestly summoned others to his aid, and the attorney for the defense single handed faced "an array of legal talent such as seldom indeed had hoitered at this bar," faced it good naturedly, an eyebrow crooked up and his head on one side most of the time, yet faced it indomitably. He had a certain careless and disarming smile when he lost a point, which carried off the defeat as of only humorous account and not at all part of the serious business in hand, and in his treatment of witnesses he was plausible, kindly, knowing that in this case he had no intending perjurer to entrap; brought into play the rare and delicate art of which he was a master, employing in his questions subtle suggestions and shadings of tone and manner and avoiding words of debatable and dangerous meanings—a fine craft, often attempted by blunderers to their own undoing, but which, practiced by Joseph Louden, made inarticulate witnesses articulate to the precise effects which he desired. This he accomplished as much by the help of the continuous fire of objections from the other side as in spite of them. He was infinitely careful, asking never an ill advised question for the other side to use to his hurt and, though exhibiting only a pleasant easiness of manner, was electrically alert.

A hundred things had shown Ariel that the feeling of the place, influenced by "public sentiment" without, was subtly and profoundly hostile to Joe and his client. She read this in the spectators, in the jury, even in the judge, but it seemed to her that day by day the inimical spirit gradually failed inside the railing and also in those spectators who, like herself, were enabled by special favor to be present throughout the trial, and that now and then a kindlier sentiment began to be manifested. She was unaware how strongly she contributed to effect this herself not only through the glow of visible sympathy which radiated from her, but by a particular action. Claudine was called by the state and told as much of her story as the law permitted her to tell, interlarding her replies with fervent protestations, too quick to be prevented, that she "never meant to bring no trouble to Mr. Fear" and that she "did hate to have gen'lemen starting things on her account." When the defense took this perturbed witness her interpolations became less frequent, and she described straightforwardly how she had found the pistol

Low Down Cities.

Animal Intelligence.

Evidence of a mind in all animals, even the lowest, is found by F. W. Headley. The amoeba exercises the power of choice when it eats, and the treelike colony of one called infusorians, called zoothamnium, after a time ceases to be agitated by jars repeated at intervals, showing that it must remember that a jar is harmless.

German Silver.

German silver contains no silver at all. It is an alloy of copper, nickel and zinc.

The Lion's Jaws.

The lion has an enormous jaw power. An African traveler once pushed the butt end of his gun into a lion's mouth, and the pressure of the jaws cracked it as though it had been struck by a steam hammer.

A Costly Bridge.

A bridge between England and France would, it is estimated, cost £34,000,000.

Cloud Formations.

The cloud formation known as "Mars' tails" and "mackerel sky" are invariably three miles high. The highest clouds are ten miles high, and these are composed of minute particles of ice.

Sunday.

Sunday, as the word implies, is sun day—the day of the sun. Men worshiped the sun for a long time before they began to worship God, and Sunday was the day on which the source of light and heat received their adoration. On this day Christ's resurrection is supposed to have taken place; hence the Sunday became the worship day of the Christians.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry must be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made on certain conditions, by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

The homesteader is required to perform the homestead conditions under one of the following plans:—

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of the homesteader resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Six months' notice in writing should be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of intention to apply for patent.

Bilious People Now Easily Cured

If you are frequently bilious or have feelings of nausea, there is a reason.

When the liver action is normal the bile is secreted in the proportions necessary to ensure the digestion of fats.

When liver action is irregular it is an evidence of impairment of nerve force.

When these derangements occur, an undue amount of work is thrown upon the liver and kidneys, they rebel—the whole system suffers, and ill-health follows.

Another dangerous result of derangement of the biliary function is constipation. Deadly disease results from this condition.

This is a hateful condition because it ensures two results—heavy dark rings under the eyes and a sallowness that's absolutely abhorrent.

These derangements if allowed to continue excite the formation of gall-stones, cause jaundice, catarrhal inflammation of the bowels, and indigestion.

If you wish to get better, the very root of the trouble must be reached.

This can be accomplished only by Ferrozone—a remedy that strengthens the system, the blood, the liver and kidneys.

Ferrozone is food for the nervous system.

It fortifies and strengthens it.

The nervous system controls all the functions of the body.

Improve its tone, you improve the tone of the whole body and this is what Ferrozone accomplishes.

Its first action is to fortify digestion—this means nourishment, and more building material.

Ferrozone makes rich, red blood—lots of it, and this means the proper action of all the large and vital organs of the body.

Quickly there comes strength, vigor, endurance—that glow of feeling which we call health.

You are sure of robust health; sure of strong nerves, good appetite; sure to look and feel your best if you use Ferrozone; try this great tonic, sold everywhere in 50c. boxes.

Writ Issued for Scandal

A writ has been issued by Mr. A. P. Poussette,, on behalf of Mrs. Mary Leahy, wife of William Leahy, of Otonabee, against Samuel Redmond, of the same township, for five thousand dollars. The plaintiff alleges scandal, and is suing the defendant for the above amount.

A 24 Pound 'Lunge

One of the largest 'lunge caught in the Kawartha Lakes this season was hooked in the river below the Point, on Labor Day. This fish was caught by Mr. Joseph Harvey, who lives at the Point, and weighed 24 pounds Mr. Harvey had some difficulty in landing the fish, and had him up to the boat some ten different times before he could use his billy.

The Poor Horse Died

A few days ago a local engineer purchased a horse as he, and his friends thought, at a cheap price. Unfortunately, a few days after the purchase, this steed showed signs of every equine disease, from blind staggers to St. Vitus dance, and died at the exhibition grounds next day. Should a monument ever be erected to the deceased, it will bear the inscription "He did well, but age and infirmities will tell in the trial."

New Device for Fire Hall

Electric openers, made by, Wilson & Cousins, Toronto, for the doors leading from the large hall to the horse stable, are now being installed at the fire hall They will work automatically whenever an alarm is sent in The falling of a weight trips the fasteners on the top of six doors, and all open at once. The new arrangement, when completed, will be a great improvement.

Tiral Catarrh treatments are being mailed out free, on request, by Dr. Shoop Racine, Wis. These tests are proving to the people—without a penny's cost—the great value of this scientific prescription known to druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Remedy. Sold by all dealers.

RELICS OF THE DEAD.

Horrible Custom of a South American Indian Tribe.

The Ucayali Indians, a numerous south American tribe, with decided cannibalistic tastes, who inhabit both banks of one of the uppermost and longest of the affluents of the Amazon, have a system by which they preserve the features of their dead, so that friends can always identify those that have gone to the "happy hunting ground" as surely as if gazing at a photograph.

To accomplish this they cut the head from the body, but retain the long hair. The ghastly, bleeding trophies of a day's battle or a night's massacre of their enemies are suspended by the long, straight black hair to the limb of a tree. Directly under this they dig a hole, which they fill with water, in their primitive way causing it to boil by placing hot stones in it, or, if near a camp or village, an earthen pot of boiling water is used.

The ascending hot vapor and steam which envelop the suspended head outlined by the fire and shadows, like ghosts in the darkness of a tropical night, in the deep solitude and under the black shadows of the palm forests, accompanied by the weird antics of the ugly human brutes and the shriek of wild birds of the night or the howl of tigers, make a scene that cannot be fully described to the imagination.

This steaming process has the effect of loosening the scalp from the skull or in some way of softening it that all the hairs are removed. With the vacant sack of skin drawn from the head intact, they next fill it with hot pebbles and sand. These are replaced by others when they are cool. The process they use has the effect of drying and shrinking the skin, but in some way, not clearly known, it preserves the original features of the victim. They are thus distorted and ghastly looking reminders of the departed. —London Spare Moments.

BOTH WERE TRICKY.

A Bit of Business Between a Merchant and a Lumberman.

There used to be an old retired merchant in Detroit who delighted in recalling his experiences when an active man running a general store in one of the northern cities of the lower peninsula.

"I used to reap a harvest when the men were coming out of the woods," he relates. "They were not up in styles, and about any old thing would suit them provided the color was right and the fit even passable. But there were tricksters among them, and I had to have my wits about me in order to keep even with them.

"'How much is that hat?' asked a strapping six footer who arrived from camp one day with a pocketful of money.

"'Two fifty,' I replied.

"Then he informed me that he always had the crowns of his hats punched full of holes in order to keep his head cool and his hair from coming out. I soon had this attended to, and then he asked what the hat was worth. 'Two fifty,' I responded in surprise, but he laughed at me for asking such a price for damaged goods. He had me and got his hat for $1, while the jolly crowd with him had a laugh at my expense. He wanted to look at some 'fiddles,' and after pricing one at $10 concluded to take it.

"'Where's the bow?' he asked as I was doing up the package.

"'You only bought the fiddle,' I laughed. The others saw the point and laughed too. The giant tried to bluff me, but I kept good humored and got even on the hat by charging him $1.50 for the bow. I not only got even, but the others were so pleased with my 'Yankee trick' that they spent plenty of money with me."

Wisdom Beyond His Years.

His mother found him in the jam and reprimanded him. A little later she caught him teasing his baby sister and reprimanded him again.

"I don't see what's got into you, Willie," she said. "You're usually the good little boy, but today you're up to all kinds of mischief."

"I'm tired of being good!" he returned, with juvenile frankness.

"Tired of being good!" she exclaimed. "What do you mean by that?"

"Well, Brother Bob is naughty most of the time, and you're always giving him things to get him to be good, and I guess I'll be naughty for awhile and see if I don't get something too."

Sometimes a youngster seems to have wisdom beyond his years.

A Magnate in Embryo.

At the opening exercises of one of our schools it is the custom to have mottoes and sentiments given by the pupils.

Julius Moses gave, "The pen is mightier than the sword."

"Why, Julius, is the pen mightier than the sword?"

"Why? Because," answered Julius, "you can sign checks with it."—Circle.

A Nice Little Hint.

First Lieutenant—How do you like the horse you bought from me last week? Second Lieutenant—Very much. He might hold his head a little higher, though. First Lieutenant—Oh, that will come all right when he is paid for.—London Tit-Bits.

Soothing.

"Are you hurt, John?"

"Yes, dear, I am afraid three or four of my ribs are broken."

"Well, don't feel bad; it doesn't show."

Observe the face of the wife to know the husband's character. — Spanish Proverb.

Stony Lake Residents at Odds

Mr Jas. Acton, president of the Stony Lake Cottagers' Association, was in the city yesterday and stated that proceedings have been entered concerning Juniper Island Mr. Roger, of this city, one of the owners has given his consent to the sale of a few acres Mr. E B. Edwards, now of Edmonton, has also consented to the sale. There still seems however a diversity of opinion as to where the pavilion shall be located.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

The Farmer's Wife

Is very careful about her churn. She scalds it thoroughly after using, and gives it a sun bath to sweeten it. She knows that if her churn is sour it will taint the butter that is made in it. The stomach is a churn. In the stomach and digestive and nutritive tracts are performed processes which are almost exactly like the churning of butter. Is it not apparent then that if this stomach-churn is foul it makes foul all which is put into it?

The evil of a foul stomach is not alone the bad taste in the mouth and the foul breath caused by it, but the corruption of the pure current of blood and the dissemination of disease throughout the body. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes the sour and foul stomach sweet. It does for the stomach what the washing and sun bath do for the churn—absolutely removes every tainting or corrupting element. In this way it cures blotches, pimples, eruptions, scrofulous swellings, sores, or open eating ulcers and all humors or diseases arising from bad blood.

If you have bitter, nasty, foul taste in your mouth, coated tongue, foul breath, are weak and easily tired, feel depressed and despondent, have frequent headaches, dizzy attacks, gnawing or distress in stomach, constipated or irregular bowels, sour or bitter risings after eating and poor appetite, these symptoms, or any considerable number of them, indicate that you are suffering from biliousness, torpid or lazy liver with the usual accompanying indigestion, or dyspepsia and their attendant derangements.

The best agents known to medical science for the cure of the above symptoms and conditions, as attested by the written of leading teachers and practitioners of all the several schools of medical practice, have been skillfully and harmoniously combined in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. That this is absolutely true will be readily proven to your satisfaction if you will but mail a postal card request to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for a free copy of his booklet of extracts from the standard medical authorities, giving the names of all the ingredients entering into his world-famed medicines and showing what the most eminent medical men of the age say of them.

Monte Carlo.

There is only one day in the year on which the inhabitants of Monte Carlo are allowed to gamble at the casino tables. That day is the Prince of Monaco's birthday.

Queen Wilhelmina.

No gentlewoman in Europe who has wealth to indulge her every wish lives more simply than does Queen Wilhelmina. She rises every morning at 7 o'clock, and at 9 o'clock the members of her household, led by her chambermaid, assemble before her, the queen reads a passage from the Bible to them, and they pray together. Following this she begins the work of the day.

First and Last.

At Land's End, in Cornwall, there is a signboard hanging in front of an inn with this inscription on one side, "The Last Inn In England," and on the other side, "The First Inn In England."

Pall Mall.

Few perhaps know that Pall Mall derived its name from an old "Pall-maille" court which stood on the site 300 years since. This game was simply a slightly different form of croquet and appears to have gone completely out of fashion in the eighteenth century. Who revived it and how it came by its modern name are not known.

The Death Chair.

The electric chair for executions is used only in the United States.

An Italian Custom.

In Italy they have a novel way of advertising vacant apartments. In place of the card inscribed "Rooms to Let" or "Apartments," a white cloth about the size of a napkin flutters from the casement, notifying the passersby that the rooms can be rented.

Snake Climbing.

A snake does not climb a tree or brush by coiling around it, but by holding on with its scales. A snake on a pane of glass is almost helpless.

Climate.

The shade temperature rarely if ever reaches 100 degrees in England. In northwest India, however, a temperature of 125 degrees is not uncommon, while in the deserts of Africa and Arabia the thermometer has registered over 130 degrees.

Spanish Country Girls.

Country girls in Spain seldom wear hats or bonnets of any kind. It was in Spain, by the way, that the custom of a bride wearing orange blossoms in her hair originated.

The Siamese Language.

Siamese, like other oriental languages, is very poetic. Thus a laborer is "luk can," the son of hire, and the thumb is "me mu," the mother of the hand. In this respect Siamese resembles the ancient Greek. Hesiod spoke of the hand as "pentoson," the five branched (the modern pugilist's "bunch of fives"); of a snail as "phereoikos," the house carrier; of a cuttlefish as "anosteon," the boneless.

Park Street Church Plans

The new Park street Baptist church is going to cost at least $15,000. The plans and specifications have arrived and were considered at a full meeting of the Building Committee Monday night. In the plans the church is a most admirable building, and the architect has figured on $10,000 for the building, but his estimate must include about $5000 more for heating and lighting Advertisements for tenders will soon be out.

Mr. Borden Spoke To a Large Audience of Peterborough in Opera House--A Stirring Meeting Last Night--Leader at His Best.

WELCOME

The Conservative Leader Welcomed in Peterborough

Yesterday afternoon the Grand Trunk Railway platform was thronged with loyal adherents of the Conservative party who gathered to meet their leader, who came to deliver the splendid address heard last night. The train which was due at 11.45 was some 15 minutes late. As the cars pulled in, the Conservatives at the station rapidly gathered round their leader, and welcomed him to Peterborough.

Mr. Jas. Kendry, ex-M.P., quickly stepped forward and he and Mr. Borden shook hands most cordially. Mr. Kendry, as soon as the usual greetings were extended and exchanged, introduced Mr. Borden to a number of local Conservatives, including Messrs T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P., Ald. Phelan, B. LeBrun, John Green, G. W. Hatton and other strong supporters of the party. Among those present at the G. T. R. station to welcome Mr. Borden were noticed Messrs H. LeBrun, T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P., James Kendry, ex-M.P.P., Ald. Phelan, John Green, George Hatton, Jas. E. Edgar, W. Buller, Tom Rutherford, T. W. Wilson Peter Gardiner, R. B. Rogers, J. Green, Fred Lillicrap, Lakefield; J. W. Garvin, Col. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Hill and others.

With Mr Borden, as he alighted from the car, were Messrs Bergeron, of Beauharnois, and C. L. Owens, of Northumberland, the latter being one of the reddest hot opponents of the present Dominion Government. Mr. Bergeron shook hands with quite a number of the local Tories and seemed pleased to meet the Conservatives of Peterborough His speech is marked by a pronounced French accent, but his greeting to the local Conservatives was cordial in the extreme. Mr. Bennett of Simcoe, did not arrive by Mr. Borden's train. A number of local people went down to meet Mr. Bennett and were disappointed at not meeting him.

After Mr. Borden and his colleagues had met the Conservatives at the station, he, his colleagues and the welcoming committee got into their cabs in waiting and were driven to the Oriental Hotel where lunch was served.

THE AFTERNOON.

At 3 o'clock cabs lined up in front of the hotel, where the government members, together with the Conservative leader were taken round the city and shown the principal points of interest. At 5 o'clock the reception was held in the Young Conservative Club, which had been appropriately decorated by natural flowers and palms by Messrs Jordan Bros. Mr. J. M. Wilson, president of the club, occupied the chair. Short addresses were given and Mr. Borden and his colleagues were given a hearty welcome.

At 3.30 p.m. the Conservative leader and his colleagues were taken over the lift lock. Mr. Borden was greatly pleased with this government work.

EVENING MEETING.

In the evening the 57th Regiment Band discoursed acceptable music on the streets and in front of the opera house for about an hour before the time announced for speeches.

The Grand Opera House was crowded in all parts, excepting the gallery, which was only opened to accommodate a small overflow. The house's splendid orchestra entertained the large audience from the opening of the doors until Chairman James Kendry, ex-M.P., took his seat.

On the stage were seated with the distinguished visitors; Col. Ward, of Port Hope; Col. Sam Hughes, of Lindsay; C. L. Owen, Conservative candidate for East Northumberland; Mr. Sexsmith, last election's candidate for East Peterborough, and a representative gathering of local supporters.

Mr James Stevenson, the veteran representative of this riding for many years prior to his retirement in favor of Mr James Kendry, was also a welcome guest

Mr R L Borden's entrance was the signal for an enthusiastic reception, to which he returned recognition in his customary pleasing and affable manner.

The meeting was characterized by a close and earnest attention to all the speakers, and Mr. Borden and Mr. Bergeron worked their large audience up into a state of intense enthusiasm at times in the course of eloquent orations that both terminated amid demonstrative approval.

THE CHAIRMAN.

When Mr. James Kendry, ex-M.P., and president of the local Liberal-Conservative Association, arose to open the meeting he received a very flattering reception. Mr. Kendry was brief in his remarks. He referred to his talented leader as the future Premier of Canada at an early date, and offered that the Conservative party had turned out the old Provincial Liberal administration, and it is high time that the Liberal government at Ottawa, was replaced by a Liberal-Conservative, and honest administration. (Cheers.)

CLAUDE MACDONNELL.

An old resident of Peterborough, and now representing South Toronto in the Dominion House, was the next speaker. He refuted the report that this was a campaign of scandal; on the contrary, it is a united effort to unearth corruption in the Liberal ranks. As to election methods we find Sir Wilfrid at his old game, selecting the primrose path of pleasure rather than facing the people in a manly way, and discuss the many and varied obstacles in his party's road to re-election. Mr. Macdonnell resumed his seat amid considerable applause.

COL. WARD.

Next took the platform. In eulogistically reference to Mr. Borden, he asserted that should he at the coming campaign, be elected Premier --and he believed he would—no one need fear to compare him with any man in this fair Dominion. (Cheers.) It is the general opinion of those who follow Mr. Borden that there could not possibly be any reason for the party to be ashamed of him when he holds the high office of chief minister of this great country (Renewed cheers.) "And you electors of this West Riding o; Peterborough, will make no mistake if, at the next election, you return a member supporting the Liberal Conservative policy—some one like my good friend Mr. Kendry, who represented you so well in several parliaments." (Prolonged applause.)

COL. SAM. HUGHES.

At the conclusion of a fierce tirade against the present administration, hoped that at the next Dominion election Mr. James Kendry will once more be the Liberal Conservative party's victorious standard bearer, in a campaign which he confidently expected to terminate successfully for the present opposition at Ottawa.

THE ADDRESS.

At this juncture a beautiful bouquet was presented Mr. R. L. Borden by Miss Hayes, amidst the enthusiastic applaudits of the audience.

Mr R. M. Wadsell here read an address on behalf of the Liberal-Conservative Association, of which he is the very capable secretary. This instrument expressed the fullest endorsation of, and confidence in Mr. Borden's platform by the Conservatives of the West Riding of Peterborough.

R. L. BORDEN

On rising to return suitable thanks for both the bouquet and address, which he did in his own inimitable manner remarked that it was extremely gratifying to know that his platform laid down at Halifax commends itself to the members of the Liberal Conservative Association, and his party's supporters in these ridings of Peterborough. It was a source of congratulation to see so many ladies present, and with their support his party can enter the next election campaign with confidence in the result.

Continuining, the distinguished leader contended that Mr. Sexsmith in the east, and Mr Kendry in the west had met their defeat not from lack of faith on the part of the electorate in their platform, but from want of proper organization and delay in entering the campaign. Let us remember that those errors must not occur again. With the coming opponent to a Conservative candidate in West Peterborough, must be met with clean methods, the best of organization and preparation and most earnest work on the part of all our friends. "And should your candidate be defeated by those dishonest methods which I believe to have been pursued elsewhere, then there should be no relaxation in your efforts to punish the offenders to the utmost extent of the law." (Hear, hear, and applause.)

Mr. Borden here answered Hon. A. B. Aylesworth's declaration made at Dundas yesterday that if that election petition (in Mr Borden's constituency) ever came on for trial and the evidence was given in court, that had been told him, Mr Borden would be disqualified from holding office, and be banished from the House of Commons for at least eight years. Mr. Borden's agents were guilty of bribery, intimidation, and other unfair practices which were freely indulged in to secure Mr. Borden's election, and with his knowledge, if not with his consent. Mr. Borden invited Hon. A. B. Aylesworth to bring forward his alleged evidence as fast as he likes, and he will find him ready to meet him at any time and at any place. "In 1906 I went to Halifax, without any subpoena having been served me, and my opponents did not appear. I wished to avoid the example set by the minister of justice when placed in a like position. And when I left Halifax I left word with my counsel that no evidence touching these matters could be given unless it were perjured, and if any attempt were made to suborn such evidence I would hasten back to face it. Everyone of Mr. Aylesworth's insinuations are positively without any foundation whatever." (Cheers and prolongued applause.) "Mr. Aylesworth had better give his own explanations to charges laid against him, and lose his well-known dread of meeting Mr. R. R. Gamey on the public platform. (Laughter.)

Mr. Borden here went on to criticize Mr Aylesworth for characterising his policy for a more democratic government as a "platitude, and pointed out that this so called platitude demanded three things of a government, g

1. Honest appropriation and expenditure of public money.

2. Decent appoints to the public service, based not on party pressure, but on consideration of fitness.

3. Honest and decent elections.

"All men should be a unit in demanding from a government these three essentials, everyone of which has been outrageously violated since the present administration came into power."

The speaker then proceeded to reiterate his charges against the government re the Arctic matter and the Moncton land deal, and said that the campaign funds such as were used in the London election came directly from the pockets of the people. Proceeding, Mr Borden dwelt upon the way the government had dealt with the public domain, and alluded to such alleged scandals as the Saskatchewan Valley land deal, the Blairmore township affair, and the Philip Wagner affair in the North-West.

Mr Borden next took up the articles of his platform laid down in Halifax, including civil appointments, senate reform, immigration, waterways and transportation, reorganization of railway commissions and public utilities. He also advocated the institution of a farmers' mail system should the country be prepared to accept so great a burden. As to Sir Wilfrid Laurier's promised mutual preference and trade within the empire measure, the Liberal party since their election have departed from that policy on every possible occasion Sir Wilfrid himself in 1897 at the Queen's jubilee said he did not desire that England should be afflicted with that protection which had been such a curse to Canada.

The gifted speaker next turned his attention to the control of public utilities, and contended that the government should retain the 1700 miles of state railways under their control and when they are placed on a satisfactory basis, then the country would be prepared to build a transcontinental railway. (Applause.) The Dominion already owns 7,000 miles of telegraph and the Ontario owns 700 miles.

Mr Borden here alluded to the claim that he could not form a cabinet out of the material to hand. Well, we heard the same thing when Mr Whitney was fighting his battles. They were told Mr Whitney had not the material with which to form a cabinet. What had been the result of the conservative victory in this province. The result had been the

Big New Cunarder is Smashing All Speed Records

The new Cunard liner Lusitania, with the aid of turbine boilers developing 70,000 horse-power, on her maiden voyage, and in spite of fogs which necessitated a reduced speed has thus far broken all trans-Atlantic speed records, and if she continues her performance till her moorings are reached in New York, she will have restored to British ship-builders the supremacy for speed. The best hour record of the German champion Deutschland is 24.19 knots, but the Lusitania is reported to have gone for hours at a speed of 26 knots, or about 29 land miles an hour. The Deutschland's record from Cherbourg 3,054 miles, is 5 days, 11 hours, and 54 minutes; the Lusitania is expected to make the trip from Daunt lightship, Queenstown, 2,780 miles, in 4 days and 13 hours, or in 22 hours less time. She is also expected to cut the record for that route, made with reciprocating engines by the Lucania, which she left far behind in the race across by 13 hours. The Lusania started 25 minutes before the Lusitania.

NEW Blood In Dominion Cabinet.

Indications Sweeping Change will be Made Among the Premier's Advisers

Ottawa, Sept. 11.—More changes in the Dominion cabinet are coming. Mr. Graham and Dr. Pugsley have taken their seats as ministers, respectively, of railways and public works, but there will be other vacancies. Mr. Sifton who declined the offer made to him last week to become one of Sir Wilfrid's colleagues again by filling one of the above appointments except on conditions, Sir Wilfrid was unable at the time to concede, is still a cabinet possibility.

One of the conditions referred to, a leading one, was the retirement of Sir Richard Cartwright, minister of trade and commerce; Mr. Patterson, minister of customs; and Mr. R. W. Scott, secretary of state, as past the age for active service or for other reasons. Sir Richard is almost a cripple from rheumatism. The minister of customs, however, is still one of the strongest debaters in the house of commons, but he and Mr. Sifton do not appear to be able to pull together. The secretary of state is in his 83rd year and performs the duties of his office with remarkable ability, but Mr. Sifton insists on a younger man being given the portfolio. And he is backed in his opinion by a number of ambitious Liberal members, who are pressing their claims to cabinet ranks.

Borden, minister of militia, is also one of the probabilities of the near future. Although Sir Wilfrid did not

The retirement of Sir Frederick see his way to accede to Mr. Sifton's conditions at the time, he is expected to do in the near future. It is likely only a matter of a few weeks or months at most, and when Sir Wilfrid calls another general election it may be with a cabinet consisting almost exclusively of the younger class of liberal politicians, nearly all of whom will be physically fit to go into the field and fight the next electoral campaign with the vigor Mr. Sifton considers essential to insure success at the polls.

RESIDENCE FOR PREMIER.

Among the costly additional government buildings at present contemplated an official residence for Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his successors to the position of prime minister is talked of. Close to government house, the residence of the governor general, is a mansion that Senator Edwards, a prominent supporter of Sir Wilfrid, is modernizing in a luxurious manner, which the senator would be willing to allow the government to acquire for the purpose referred to. It stands on extensive grounds overlooking the Ottawa river at one of the most picturesque points in the capital. The government is disposed to purchase the site of Senator Edwards' saw mills and lumber piling grounds, between the mansion and the built up end of Sussex street, and all the strip of land along the river, for a continuous park from Major's Hill, or, in other words, the west side of Sussex street. The whole of the land and buildings on the west side of Sussex street has already been taken by the government for the new block above mentioned, and when the old buildings have been pulled down and the new block erected the additional acquisition of the land further on to Senator Edward's mansion would afford a site for a park, which, with the government grounds and the national park adjoining them and the Rockliffe park, now the property of the government improvement commission, would make probably one of the finest and most picturesque and extensive open spaces of the kind in all America if not in the world.

WANT THEIR MONEY AT HOME.

It is intimated that the action of the Canadian banks in sending money out of the country to financial centers in the United States through out the recent stringency is to be brought before parliament at the coming fall session. In many cases where the banks refused to supply the home demands for legitimate financing the reason alleged was that all the available funds would be required for moving the western crops. This claim is regarded as inadmissable in view of the fact that the banks have been able to spare some $84,000,000 to transmit to banking institutions in the principal American cities. There is abundant evidence on all hands that genuine industrial and other enterprises in Canada have been seriously embarassed for some months by the policy of the banks in restricting accommodation to home undertakings while contributing freely to the demands from south of the line.

CHINESE WORM TURNS.

Chinese residents of the northwest have appealed to their government at Peking for protection against alleged arbitrary interference on the part of the Canadian mounted and municipal police. The Chinese at Regina have been in the habit of meeting on Sundays for social purposes, and were recently raided, and sixty-five of their number arrested. They secured legal assistance, and set up the claim that they had the same right to gather for social purposes on Sunday as members of various Canadian clubs and societies who did the same thing. Chinese who have not taken the oath of allegiance as British subjects, it is contended for them, are by international law created residence rights in a foreign country, and as subjects of the Chinese empire are on an equality with the native born citizens. It appears that money has been subscribed by the Chinese to carry the question to the higher courts for a judgment, and in the meantime the appeal to the imperial government at Peking has gone forward.

Britain's Fleet and Purse Must Bear Brunt of Quarrels

London, Sept. 12.—The Times in an editorial article yesterday morning says it is convinced that there is now full and ample confirmation for the belief that the anti-Oriental riots at Vancouver were actually organized by American labor agitators, "the men whose intrigues brought San Francisco under the domination of Ruef and Schmitz." Continuing, the paper says it believes "this shameful riot upon British soil was gotten up by officials of American labor organizations for the purpose of conveying to Mr Lahti, the distinguished member of the Commercial Department of the Japanese foreign office who is now at Vancouver, the feelings of the labor element of the Pacific coast.

Accounting for the race prejudice evidenced in such disturbances, the paper says: "The plain truth is that on account of his thrift and industry, quite as much as on account of the low wages for which he works, the Asiatic is detested as a dangerous competitor on the labor markets, which the laborites want to keep as a monopoly in white hands." In conclusion, the Times says, "The rights of all men who visit British soil, whatever their color or race, must be unflinchingly upheld by the whole authority of the local government and the imperial crown."

The Westminster Gazette says the immediate necessity is to vindicate the right of Asiatics in Vancouver, the truth propounded so strongly by the Times that the British fleet and British exchequer have to bear the brunt of any quarrel which the folly and stupidity of any colonial democracy might provoke should help get the perspective of the empire right once more.

The Pall Mall Gazette says it would be very foolish to ride off from the fundamental difficulties of the Asiatic question upon the high horse of moral indignation as the Times, following the lead of the Ontario and Quebec press, did this morning. The question whether British labor is to be undersold and dragged down by the unrestricted competition of a race with lower economic standards still remains, and the most lavish display of unctuous rectitude will not bring a solution nearer.

THE MONTEAGLE HAS ARRIVED.

JAPANESE HAVE RIGHT TO ENTER CANADA

Hon. R. W. Scott Describes Situation Clearly--More Trouble in Vancouver is Feared--Pall Mall Gazette Ridicules British Columbians.

Ottawa, Sept. 12.—Hon. R. W. Scott, Secretary of State, being interviewed, said that the treaty between Canada and Japan ratified by the Canadian Parliament at its last session, was perfectly clear as to the rights of the Japanese in Canada. The treaty says:

"The subjects of each of the two high contracting powers shall have full liberty to enter, travel or reside in any part of the Dominion, and possessions of the other contracting party and shall enjoy full and perfect protection for their persons and property.

"The treaty was not adopted in a hurry," said Mr. Scott. "It was in force between Britain and Japan ten years before we came a party to it. It was given full consideration before we adopted it. The Opposition in Parliament blamed us because we did not become a party earlier to it than we did. There was no protest from British Columbia or anywhere else against Canada passing the treaty.

"British Columbia has now and will benefit still further as time goes on by the treaty [illegible] Japan. But at all events Canada ratified the treaty and passed a statute to that effect at the last session of Parliament."

As already stated the Dominion Government has made good progress in the direction of making an amicable arrangement with Japan restricting Japanese immigration to about 500 arrivals in Canada in one year, no matter whence they come, and it is hoped here that the disturbance will in no way interfere with the negotiations.

Battle in Water Between Boy Swimmer and Bull Dog

Kingston, Sept. 12. —Attacked by a vicious bulldog and badly bitten was the experience of Eddie McCammon, aged 14 years, while swimming off the long pier at Portsmouth.

The lad is a son of Thos. McCammon, baker, at Rockwood Hospital, for the Insane. During the afternoon he went swimming, and while in the water the bulldog attacked him, snapping at his legs and arms.

Whenever the lad tried to beat the dog off he would go under water. He was fast growing exhausted, when guards at the penitentiary noted something unusual. They launched a boat and hurried to the scene of the battle. They carried their rifles, but were afraid to shoot at long range. When close at hand they shot the dog.

McCammon was taken ashore and medical aid summoned His legs were badly torn, the dog having pulled out pieces of flesh in the struggle. His breast and face were also scratched and bleeding.

The lad will be marked for life if he recovers. He likely will survive if blood poisoning does not develop.

Uptergrove Hotelkeeper Convicted on Charge of Showing Partiality

Whitby, Sept. 12—A peculiar situation with regard to the right of hotelkeepers to refuse accommodation to guests has been reported to the provincial license department.

An hotelkeeper, named McNulty, at Uptergrove, was summoned before Justices of the Peace O'Donnell and McRae and convicted of neglecting to provide adequate accommodation for his guests. It was stated that he refused to supply meals for a man and his daughter and excluded them from the dining room. Upon this charge a conviction was registered.

On the day in question he had employed his dining room for the scene of Judge McIntyre and counsel, and turned everyone else away until a second dinner could be served.

Boating Tragedy

Body of Drowned Woman Found Three Companions' Fate Unknown

Baltimore, Md., Sept. 12.—The finding of the corpse of Gertrude Shaughnessy, aged 19 years, in the waters of Spring Gardens, a branch of the Patapsco river, yesterday, has convinced the police that her three companions have also been drowned. She was last seen alive at midnight on Friday with another woman, whose name is not known to the police and George F. Frizzell, and William O'Leary. The two men have not been seen by their relatives since they left home Friday afternoon.

Was Degraded From Priesthood

St. John, N.B., Sept. 12.—Rev. W. C. Gaynor, the priest who left the city a few weeks ago under a cloud, and later returned, declaring his intention of meeting and clearing himself of all charges, was yesterday degraded from the priesthood by Bishop Casey, and was suspended from all

Father Gaynor, who is a man over 60, is one of the most prominent clergyman in the city, and also took an active part in the life of the city outside of religious circles, being president of the New Brunswick Historical Society, and vice-president of the Canadian Club and Tourist Association.

The church officials had been reticent throughout, but on Saturday night it was announced that after full investigation by Bishop Casey the bulk of the charges against Father Gaynor, which included immorality and dishonesty as a curator of funds entrusted to him, had been proved.

Windsor Man Took His Life in Disgrace

Windsor, Sept. 12. — Edgar Davis, who had a summer home below Sandwich, committed suicide at Hartford, Conn., while visiting his sister there. When he retired he asked not to be disturbed until later the next morning, and when found he was dead. Gas was pouring from an open jet in his room.

The deceased was involved in a financial transaction got long ago over the purchase of a Detroit chemical concern, and a warrant was issued for his arrest by a wealthy Buffalo stock broker named Williams.

A Windsor barrister also had put up $2,500, but got wind of the inside deal, and considered himself fortunate when he got his money back. Two prominent Winnipeg financiers were trimmed.

A "Knocker"

Found on Many Tables

People will "doctor" themselves with coffee and then hunt around for medicine to cure themselves of the trouble, so for good [illegible] on drinking coffee and making new trouble right along that is, some people do. There are thoughtful people, however, and their number is increasing every month, who prefer good, sturdy health to sickness, and they leave off coffee because it contains a drug—caffeine—that produces disease.

Many people have to learn by hard knocks, that this is true and they get the knocks all right if they stick to coffee.

A S.C woman says: "For two years or more before leaving off coffee and beginning the use of Postum Food Coffee, my health became very much impaired, as I discovered afterward, from coffee drinking.

"I suffered from shortness of breath, pains about the heart, and the slightest exertion completely exhausted me. My digestion was bad and gas would form in the stomach rendering me wretched, and my life a burden. Medicine did not help the trouble I was at the point of giving up in despair when my attention was drawn to the statement that coffee caused some of the symptoms that I had. I determined to abandon it and try Postum Food Coffee.

"I did the Postum well made and the result during the past twelve months has been something wonderful. All of the old troubles left. I have been in excellent health, and my friends all notice it and speak of it. I never lose an opportunity of telling them that the change in my health was caused by leaving off coffee and taking on the liquid food-drink, Postum.

"No argument from any source could convince me to the contrary of what I have found out. I have seen much the same results in my sister's family and among my acquaintances." "There's a Reason." Read "The Road to Wellville, in Pkgs.

THE FRANCHISE GRABBERS

The plutocratic interests in Cleveland are getting up Congressman Burton, Republican, against Mayor Tom L. Johnson. It seems a forlorn hope and many believe Burton's finish is in sight.

The situation in Cleveland is probably unparalleled on the continent. Tom L. as it looks at present could be Mayor there until the cost of the last tramp. Not only so, but his council is not elected, as is commonly done, but "selected"—picked by the redoubtable Tom himself. He goes into the wards, looks over the candidates, puts his finger on the man he wants and the people do the rest at the polls. No other man has any chance against a candidate tagged by Johnson. The reason is that the people have implicit confidence in their champion, who for many years has been fighting for 3-cent car fares, with organized wealth, the judiciary and all the city newspapers against him, the last two doubtless working for a price. Tom L. is the gamest public champion that ever ran a joust with predatory capital and if he lives he will win.

Certain franchises in Cleveland have long expired, but wolf-like, the old owners hang on and by means of a corrupt judiciary prevent their replacement by three-cent lines.

It seems remarkable that at this late day the people can be "legally" barred from resuming their rights in their own streets. Only the other day a Detroit corporation lawyer gravely gave the opinion that a public service franchise, though apparently limited by common agreement of the parties, is practically perpetual. The ferry company in its relation to Windsor seems to be standing on this curious assumption by franchise grabbers.

LORD STRATHCONA'S PROPDECY

Lord Strathcona's proud prophecy regarding the future of Canada will win nothing but applause from this side of the border, says The Detroit News. The grand old man of the Dominion is all the more admirable for his enthusiastic patriotism. A man who has spent the greater part of his 80 years in Canada, has seen a wilderness of continental proportions begin its final development in to populous states or provinces, and who is so filled with admiration and hope that he sees Canada surpassing the United States within a century, can create neither envy nor jealousy in the United States. We have lived all our history between two nations which showed retarded development. Once we earned the hatred of Mexico, but since that time we have made some atonement by proving a good neighbor, eager to lend the capital and individual enterprise that our weaker sister seemed to need.

Canada is coming into a better appreciation of her own possessions, and her advantages are gaining recognition outside her borders. "A better class of immigration is coming to her shores, not to seek a side door entrance to the United States, but to make homes in Canada. Thousands of Americans have overflowed the western border and have become land owners and producers of wealth under the Dominion Government. Instead of regretting, we can commend. Surely we cannot complain 'that the United States have not had a fair start. We carry no weight for age, only such handicaps as the federal government sees fit to assume in the form of a tariff. If Canada can make us hustle and trim our fiscal policy more carefully than heretofore, she will be entitled to the glory of the achievement.

We have lived side by side in peace and we have learned something by experience. That since the prosperity of the United States may have seemed to be an embarassment to Canada, but as a matter of fact neither nation can confine its prosperity or its misfortunes to its own borders and its own people. Communication is convenient. Association is intimate. (We are people of similar race characteristics and ideals. When either one prospers the other is bound to have a share in the prosperity. If Canada can multiply her present population by 10 during the present century it will be for the greater welfare of the United States as well as, for her own. If Canada has made a slow start, she can better see the rough ground where we have stumbled in our public politics and profit by our mistakes of the past.

24 Bodies Found in The St. Lawrence

Quebec, Sept. 10.—Saturday was the ninth day after the Quebec bridge calamity, and the St. Lawrence began to deliver up some of the victims who went down with the bridge. Three bodies were added to the list of those in the St. Lawrence about 12 miles below the bridge, while on Sunday five other bodies were added to the list of those who were already taken out, making a total of 24 bodies tot heir death.

Mitchell of Caughnawaga, at the Island of Orleans; Lebel, a young French-Canadian, from this city; and Jas. Morris, Caughnawaga Indian, the two latter being picked up at St. Joseph, Levis. The body of John L. Workey, assistant engineer, of Harrisburg, Pa., was found at St. Joseph, and placed in the morgue there.

Sunday three bodies were found found out of the 75 who went down Bridge Company, by relatives of the were taken out against Phoenixville tousand to twenty thousand dollars

Those found on Saturday were Jim only one, that of a man named Hardy, of New Liverpool, was identified. The three unidentified are supposed to be Indians, and the chief of the tribe is expected tto identify below Levis. Out of the four latter, floating in the river not far from the victims

Proper Medicine For The Blood

Drives Away That Tired Feeling; Makes You Feel Brisk.

To every one is sure to come that tired, exhausted feeling.

When the blood is weak, thin and debilitated, circulation is slow, and in consequence the system is congested with poisons and wastes that should be driven off.

The sensible person acts on the teachings of experience and cleanses his system with a course of Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut.

No medicine can be more certain to quickly cure. Convenient to take, just one pill at bedtime; safe, because entirely vegetable; unfailing, because proved by thousands that Dr. Hamilton's Pills set you up in a few days.

From Cheboque Pt., N. S., comes the following from Mrs. W. A. Reynolds; "A year ago my health began to fail, I lost appetite, became nervous and sleepless. My weight ran down, I became thin, hollow-cheeked, and had black rings under my eyes. I really felt as if the charm of life had left me and when spring time arrived I was in the "Blues." I read of Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and got five boxes at once.

"Within a month my appetite and color were good. I gained strength and felt like a new woman. New life and vigor returned, and my friends scarcely knew me. A medicine that will do this should be in every home."

Good health means much to you. Success and happiness depend upon it. The maintenance and source of health is found in Dr. Hamilton's Pills. 25c. per box, or five boxes for $1.00, at all dealers, or by mail from N. C. Poison and Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

BELIEVE IN DREAMS?

If Yes, What Would You Do In a Case Similar to This?

If you should dream that a man with whom you were acquainted killed his wife, if you vividly saw him plunge a dagger into her heart in your vision, would you tell the wife of your premonition of a tragedy?

This question has been puzzling a number of people in London. A married couple were inspecting a house which was for rent in Surrey some time ago. While the husband inspected the stables the wife remained in the parlor.

Shortly after her husband left the room, the wife said, a man and woman entered. The woman was young and pretty and in tears. The man was angry. After gesticulating a few minutes he rushed to the girl, drew a knife from his coat and plunged it through her heart.

With a loud shriek the woman who witnessed the tragedy arose and staggered to the door. She looked about her and saw that the couple had vanished. She realized she had either been dreaming or had seen a vision. When her husband returned she told him her experience. They did not rent the house.

Some time afterward while attending a reception the woman was introduced to a young lady and her fiance. She recognized the characters of her vision. Later the young couple to whom she had been introduced were married. To her dismay, the woman learned they had leased the very house where she had experienced the harrowing dream.

What was she to do? She asked her friends. They were at a loss to give her advice. The woman was convinced that she was given the premonition of a tragedy. At the same time she dreaded provoking a disagreement in case there should be nothing but a hallucination.

What would you do in such a case? This would depend, of course, as to whether or not you believe in dreams. Do you?

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

As a matter of fact there are no very big fish in small puddles.

You can usually find a pin almost anywhere but in the pincushion.

A fool is the greatest nuisance in this world. And there are quite a few of them.

It is beyond some men to understand the difference between pomposity and dignity.

We have always wondered what women do with the 2 cents saved in purchasing a two dollar article for $1.98.

Have you ever stopped to admire the self control of the man who can pick up a lead pencil without marking on something?

Every man would have a pretty fair reputation if people looked for his good qualities as carefully as they look for the good qualities of a dog.

Absentminded 'Gators.

An old colored man who is devoutly religious returned to Brooklyn recently from a trip to Florida, his birthplace, and told his employer about a narrow escape he had had from an alligator. Knowing of the religious zeal of the darky, the employer sought to test his faith.

"What were you afraid of an alligator for?" he asked him. "Don't you know that the Lord will take care of you? Of course you know the story of Jonah and the whale. The whale swallowed Jonah, but Jonah came out all safe enough."

The darky shook his head dubiously. "Yes, boss, I knows about Jonah," he said, "but, then, you see, a whale's got a mem'ry. A alligatah ain't got no mem'ry. If a 'gatah swallows you he won't think no mo' about you."

Simplicity's Saving Grace.

"I like simplicity," said the statesman. "Simplicity saves us a lot of trouble too.

"Two men met in front of the Blank hotel the other day and fell into a political argument. They were ordinary, everyday sort of men, but one of them had an extraordinary flow of polysyllabic language. He talked half an hour, and his companion listened in a daze.

"'And now,' the speaker pompously concluded, 'perhaps you will coincide with me.'

"The other's face brightened up.

"'Why, yes. Thanks, old man,' he answered heartily, moving toward the barroom door, 'I don't care if I do.'"

Queer Smokes.

"Tobacco," said a tobacconist, "is one of many herbs that are smoked. In the orient, for instance, bhang or cannabis, a drug that gives one the desire to caress people's feet, goes into loads of pipes. Some savages smoke the leaves of the wild potato and the wild tomato. These bitter leaves are narcotic. They throw you into a pleasant stupor. Pursued in, though, they bring insanity. Some of the Swiss guides smoke 'mountain tobacco,' a weed that grows only at great heights. This stuff produces an intoxication akin to alcohol's. Our Indians, when hard up, smoke holly and sumac leaves and the silvery leaves of 'Indian tobacco,' which every boy has chewed."

Something New in Copper

PITTSBURG - IDAHO

Mining and Milling Company

The mine is located 58 miles above Lewiston, Idaho, on the Clearwater river, and consists of 19 full claims, or 380 acres. It is developed by tunnels, shafts and open cuts for more than 2100 feet, disclosing thousands of tons of copper, gold and silver ores of both high grade and low grade. There are between 1000 and 2000 tons of ore ready for shipment. The entrance to the working tunnel is only 2000 feet from the track of the Northern Pacific railroad, to be reached by gravity tramway. There are seven parallel veins running lengthwise of the claims, one cropping out on the surface for 2,000 feet and another for 3000 feet, while two veins cross these running into the mountain. These veins are from 30 to 200 feet wide. One ore chute has been crosscut 70 feet and is solid ore from wall to wall.

We are not asking you to buy in a prospect. That risk was taken by the promoters. We are asking you to buy in a developed, proven mine. Seven years of continuous work and the expenditure of thousands of dollars has proven up one of the greatest mines in Idaho. That mine is now ready to pour out its red and yellow wealth to the world with the installing of an up to date production plant. It is for that purpose that a block of its treasury stock, full paid and non-assessable, is offered for sale. We believe that within six months from the completion of a 100 ton plant the mine can be put on a dividend paying basis, and that those dividends will be substantial and permanent. There is no better investment proposition before the people at this time.

CAPITALIZATION $1,000,000. - PAR VALUE $1.

All promotion stock pooled during the sale of this treasury stock.

Messrs. Thos. Patterson & Co., Peterborough, Ont., are authorized to receive subscriptions for this stock, to whom all applications should be made.

THE CONQUEST of CANAAN

By BOOTH TARKINGTON,
Author of "Cherry," "Monsieur Beaucaire," Etc.

COPYRIGHT, 1905, BY HARPER & BROTHERS

on the floor near the prostrate figure of Cory and hidden it in her own dress. The attorneys for the state listened with a somewhat cynical amusement to this portion of her testimony, believing it of no account, uncorroborated, and that, if necessary, the state could impeach the witness on the ground that it had been indispensable to produce her. She came down weeping from the stand, and, the next witness not being immediately called, the eyes of the jurymen naturally followed her as she passed to her seat, and they saw Ariel Tabor bow gravely to her across the railing. Now, a thousand things not set forth by legislatures, law men and judges affect a jury, and the slight salutation caused the members of this one to glance at one another, for it seemed to imply that the exquisite lady in white not only knew Claudine, but knew that she had spoken the truth. It was after this that a feeling favorable to the defense now and then noticeably manifested itself in the courtroom. Still, when the evidence for the state was all in the life of Happy Fear seemed to rest in a balance precarious indeed, and the little man, swallowing pitifully, looked at his attorney with the eyes of a sick dog.

Then Joe gave the prosecutors an illuminating and stunning surprise and, having offered in evidence the revolver found upon Claudine, produced as his first witness a pawnbroker of Denver, who identified the weapon as one he had sold to Cory, whom he had known very well. The second witness, also a stranger, had been even more intimately acquainted with the dead man, and there began to be an uneasy comprehension of what Joe had accomplished during that prolonged absence of his which had so nearly cost the life of the little mongrel, who was at present (most blissful Respectability!) a lively convalescent in Ariel's back yard. The second witness also identified the revolver, testifying that he had borrowed it from Cory in St. Louis to settle a question of marksmanship and that on his returning it to the owner the latter, then working his way eastward, had confided to him his intention of stopping in Canaan for the purpose of exercising its melancholy functions upon a man who had once "done him good" in that city.

By the time the witness had reached this point the prosecutor and his assistants were on their feet, excitedly shouting objections, which were promptly overruled. Taken unawares, they fought for time. Thunder was loosed—forensic bellowings. Everybody lost his temper—except Joe. And the examination of the witness proceeded. Cory, with that singular inspiration to confide in some one which is the characteristic and the undoing of his kind, had outlined his plan of operations to the witness with perfect clarity. He would first attempt, so he had declared, to incite an attack upon himself by playing upon the jealousy of his victim, having already made a tentative effort in that direction. Failing in this, he would fall back upon one of a dozen schemes (for he was ready in such matters, he bragged), the most likely of which would be to play the peacemaker. He would talk of his good intentions toward his enemy, speaking publicly of him in friendly and gentle ways, then, getting at him secretly, destroy him in such a fashion as to leave open for himself the kind gate of self-defense. In brief, here was the whole tally of what had actually occurred, with the exception of the last account in the sequence which had proved that demise for which Cory had not arranged, and it fell from the lips of a witness whom the prosecution had no means of impeaching. When he left the stand, unshaken and undiscredited after a frantic cross examination, Joe, turning to resume his seat, let his hand fall lightly for a second upon his client's shoulder.

That was the occasion of a demonstration which indicated a sentiment favorable to the defense (on the part of at least three of the spectators), and it was in the nature of such a hammering of canes upon the bare wooden floor as effectually stopped all other proceedings instantly. The indignant judge fixed the colonel, Peter Bradbury and Squire Bucksalew with his glittering eye, yet the hammering continued unabated, and the offender surely would have been conducted forth in ignominy had not gallantry prevailed, even in that formal place. The judge, reluctantly realizing that some latitude must be allowed to these aged enthusiasts, since they somehow seemed to belong to Miss Tabor, made his remarks general, with the time word threat to clear the room, whereupon the loyal survivors of Eskew relapsed into unabashed silence.

It was now, as Joe had said, a clear enough case. Only the case itself, however, was clear, for, as he and his friends feared, the verdict might possibly be neither in accordance with the law, the facts nor the convictions of the jury. Eugene's defection had not altered the tone of the Tocsin.

All day long a crowd of men and boys hung about the corridors of the courthouse, about the square and the neighboring streets, and from these rose somber murmurs, more and more ominous. The public sentiment of a community like Canaan can make itself felt inside a courtroom, and it was strongly exerted against Happy Fear. The Tocsin had always been a powerful agent; Judge Pike had increased its strength with a staff which was thoroughly efficient, alert and always able to strike center with the paper's readers, and in town and country it had absorbed the circulation of the other local journals, which resisted feebly at times, but in the matter of the Cory murder had not dared to do anything except follow the Tocsin's lead. The Tocsin, having lit the fire, fed it—fed it saltpeter and sulphur—for now Martin Pike was fighting hard.

The farmers and people of the less urban parts of the country were accustomed to found their opinions upon the Tocsin. They regarded it as the single immutable rock of journalistic righteousness and wisdom in the world. Consequently, stirred by the outbursts of the paper, they came into Canaan in great numbers, and, though the pressure from the town itself was so strong that only a few of them managed to crowd into the courtroom, the others joined their voices to those somber murmurs outdoors, which increased in loudness as the trial went on.

The Tocsin, however, was not having everything its own way. The volume of outcry against Happy Fear and his lawyer had diminished, it was noticed, in "very respectable quarters." The information imparted by Mike Sheehan to the politicians at Mr. Farbach's had been slowly seeping through the various social strata of the town, and, though at first incredulously rejected, it began to find acceptance. Upper Main street cooling appreciably in its acceptance of the Tocsin as the law and the prophets. There were even a few who dared to wonder in their hearts if there had not been a mistake about Joe Louden, and, although Mrs. Flitcroft weakened not, the relatives of Squire Bucksalew and of Peter Bradbury began to hold up their heads a little after having made home horrible for those gentlemen and reproached them with their conversion as the last word of senile shame. In addition, the colonel's grandson and Mr. Bradbury's grandson had both mystifyingly lent countenance to Joe, consorting with him openly, the former for his own purposes, the latter because he had cunningly discovered that it was a way to Miss Tabor's regard, which since her gentle rejection of him he had grown to believe, good youth, might be the pleasantest thing that could ever come to him. In short, the question had begun to thrive, Was it possible that Eskew Arp had not been insane after all?

The best of those who gathered ominously about the courthouse and its purlieus were the young farmers and field hands, artisans and clerks, one of

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry must be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made on certain conditions, by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

The homesteader is required to perform the homestead conditions under one of the following plans:—

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of the homesteader resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Six months' notice in writing should be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of intention to apply for patent.

Foolish to Suffer When a Simple Remedy Will Prevent and Cure.

Ever stop to think what caused your headaches?

Probably not. Then look to the bowels and stomach, and you'll find plenty of cause. Chances are you'll find constipation, liver is sluggish, stomach overburdened with half-digested food.

No wonder you are dull, tired, restless day and night.

You need the cleansing influence of Dr. Hamilton's Pills which cure your condition in short order.

Being composed of natural vegetable remedies Dr. Hamilton's Pills possess great power, yet they are harmless. They aid all organs connected with the stomach, liver and bowels. In consequence food is properly digested, the blood is pure and nourishing, the body is kept strong and resists disease.

Headaches never come to those who use Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and this fact is vouched for by hte Assistant Manager of hte Poultry Success Magazine, of Springfield, O., Mr. J. H. Callander, who writes; "No better medicine than Dr. Hamilton's Pills. We use them regularly and know of marvelous cures that resisted everything else. They cleanse the whole system, act as a tonic on the blood, enliven digestion, help the stomach, and make you feel strong and well. For headaches, indigestion, and stomach disorders I am confident that the one prescription is Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

You can rely on Dr. Hamilton's Pills with implicit confidence; their effect is wonderful. Sold by all dealers. Price 25c. per box, five boxes for $1.00, or by mail from N. C. Poison & Co., Kingston, Ont., and Hartford, Conn., U.S.A.

DASHES HERE AND THERE BY TIMES' REPORTERS.

E. Wansboro's Death Investigated

The inquiry into the death of the late Edward Wansboro, the C.P.R. freight conductor who was killed in a collission at Manvers on August 28, will be resumed by Coroner Dr. Gray in the Orange Hall, Munvers, this afternoon, when it is expected that the sittings will be brought to an end.

Battery Men to Return Uniforms

All the members of the 24th Field Battery are requested to turn in their uniforms as soon as possible, as the inspection of the stores may take place at any time. The uniforms are to be returned to either Mac's cigar store or Storey and Leary's flour and feed store. In doing this members are asked to see that their name is placed on the outside of the parcel.

Magistrate Wants Case Settled

There was a mix-up at yesterday's session of the police court. The yard man at the Cavanagh House, charged another individual with assault. The defendant did not appear, but Mr. Cavanagh told the magistrate that he wanted to settle if out of court. His worship replied that the court was the place for settling cases that had been brought before the court. He wanted both parties to appear this morning at nine o'clock.

G. T. R. to Buy City Property

It was generally rumored yesterday that the G.T.R. Co. had purchased land on the east side of their tracks between Wolfe and Sherbrooke. The property in question extends east about half way to Aylmer street, and includes all the land between the vacant lot facing on Wolfe street north to the Hamilton property on Sherbrooke street. A gentleman who possesses some of the land, reported bought, stated that the company is negotiating for the purchase of his property but has not actually closed the deal.

Tiral Catarrh treatments are being mailed out free, on request, by Dr. Shoop Racine, Wis. These tests are proving to the people—without a penny's cost—the great value of this scientific prescription known to druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Remedy. Sold by all dealers.

Several People In Runaway Accident

An Apsley telephone message says that as the Misses Myrtle and Mildred and Master Russel Hales, were driving from church last Sunday they had a very narrow escape. A wheel came off their buggy, throwing Miss Hales out. The other two managed to stay in the conveyance for a while, but the horse became frightened and upset them both farther up the road. The horse collided with a vehicle in which was Miss Violet Whitmoe, throwing her out and damaging the buggy. Mr. Fred Whitmoe, who was just ahead, jumped out and managed to stop the horse. With Mr. A. Downing he went back and picked up the distressed people, and drove them home.

Where Descrepancy In Cheese Weights Arose

Yesterday morning, Mr. J. J. Hogan, cheese maker for the Shearer factory, came into the city, accompanying the cheese from that factory which was for shipment, and together with other officials of Shearer's, supervised the weighing at the market.

Once more did the scale here show that something must be wrong, and apparently that the factory weights did not compare with those at the market. Both have been tested by the inspector, the former being pronounced correct last June.

Yesterday it was discovered that the weight used by the factory was two or three pounds the one used by the market clerk. This, therefore, seems to be the cause of the difference in weight shown two weeks ago, and yesterday, by the two scales, and accounts for the shortage.

Old Peterborough Boy Revisits City

Mr. Alex. Haggart, K.C., of Winnipeg, was in the city yesterday. Thirty years ago Mr. Haggart was in the employ of County Magistrate Edmison as clerk, and since that time he has advanced his position. Yesterday he called on several of the lawyers of the city and renewed old acquaintances. Mr. Haggart belongs to the same firm of legal men as Hugh John Macdonald in Winnipeg.

Big Crowd for Cobourg Saturday

It looks like the attendance at Saturday's game at Donegan Park, Cobourg, will beat the record. On that day the local baseball club's team and the ball tossers of Port Hope will meet in the final game for the Midland League championship. There is no doubt but what the best team that ever represented Peterborough will meet the best that ever wore the Port Hope colors, on the fairest diamond of the Midland League. The cheap rate arranged by the local ball club for the occasion makes it possible for everyone to take in the game and there will no doubt be a big crowd with the boys on Saturday.

Welcome to Borden formation of one of the ablest governments ever known in this country, and the placing on the statute books of more useful legislation than in the whole of the 30 years of Liberal regime which preceded that victory. (Cheers.)

Continuing, the leader denied Mr. Aylesworth's statement that he had drawn comparisons between himself (Borden) and Sir Wilfrid Laurier. "I did no such thing. Such an act would be absurd. I leave judgment as to my abilities to the people to decide. What I did do was to draw comparisons between Mr. Aylesworth and some of his colleagues, and the men who sit behind me, and I find judgment in favor of the men at my back (Laughter.) Why we could form two cabinets, both more capable and more honest than the present one. (Prolonged applause.)

Mr. Borden here sarcastically referred to Sir Wilfrid's passing over "the good men he is said to have behind him and selecting outsiders for the two vacant portfolios. This was a slight he thought would be resented unless the slighted was paid promises similar to the one held by the present lieut.-governor of Quebec, when he was similarly passed over before receiving his present appointment, and which promise had the signature of the then and present premier.

In conclusion he trusted that at the next election he should hear that both these ridings have been redeemed, and that their members will sit on the right and not on the left of the speaker.

Mr Borden resumed his seat amid a perfect ovation.

MR BERGERON

Was enthusiastically received. His speech was a slashing attack on the government in approved campaign style, and his witty jibes at the administration were apparently so much in keeping with the humor of his audience that they were loath to allow him to resume his seat.

The audience then dispersed after the customary cheers had been given for the King and speakers.

Lindsay Post; Mr. J. A. Culverwell, managing director of the Central Ontario Power Co., owners of Burleigh Falls, is confident that Peterborough's growth as a manufacturing center will soon demand the development of that power and also Buckhorn—the latter the personal property of Mr. Culverwell.

A Woman's Back

Has many aches and pains caused by weaknesses and falling, or other displacement, of the pelvic organs. Other symptoms of female weakness are frequent headache, dizziness, imaginary specks or dark spots floating before the eyes, gnawing sensation in stomach, dragging or bearing down in lower abdominal or pelvic region, disagreeable drains from pelvic organs, faint spells with general weakness.

If any considerable number of the above symptoms are present there is no remedy that will give quicker relief or a more permanent cure than Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It has a record of over forty years of cures. It is the most potent invigorating tonic and strengthening nervine known to medical science. It is made of the glyceric extracts of native medicinal roots found in our forests and contains not a drop of alcohol or harmful, or habit-forming drugs. Its ingredients are all printed on the bottle-wrapper and attested under oath as correct.

Every ingredient entering into "Favorite Prescription" has the written endorsement of the most eminent medical writers of all the several schools of practice—more valuable than any amount of non-professional testimonials—though the latter are not lacking, having been contributed voluntarily by grateful patients in numbers to exceed the endorsements given to any other medicine extant for the cure of woman's ills.

You cannot afford to accept any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for this well proven remedy of known composition, even though the dealer may make a little more profit thereby. Your interest in regaining health is paramount to any selfish interest of his and it is an insult to your intelligence for him to try to palm off upon you a substitute. You know what you want and it is his business to supply the article called for.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the original "Little Liver Pills" first put up by old Dr. Pierce over forty years ago, much imitated but never equaled. Little sugar-coated granules—easy to take as candy.

The Monteagle is at Vancouver with 900 Hindus on Board

Citizens Are Taking Up Enthusiastically the Suggestion to Ship the New Arrivals to Ottawa by Special Train.

Vancouver, Sept. 13.—The Monteagle arrived on Wednesday, with 901 Hindoos, also several Chinese, but these are in bond to the United States. Two hundred Japanese debarked quietly at Victoria to avoid possible trouble here. A big crowd gathered, but were not allowed near the wharf. One hundred and three Hindoos are to be deported on account of old age and disease.

Mayor Bethune wired Sir Wilfrid Laurier as follows: "One hundred Hindoos arrived on the Monteagle. Neither accommodation nor employment for them; nor possible to house them under sanitary conditions. Shall we house them at drill hall at Dominion government's expense?

The proposal to send the whole lot by special train to Ottawa as an object lesson has received enthusiastic support. Aldermen, civic officials and leading citizens are willing to subscribe a hundred dollars each to make up the nine thousand dollars necessary. If this is decided upon a special train will depart at once. The feeling, which previously was mostly against the Japanese, has spreads to Hindoos.

No disorder is feared, except in case of accidental collision.

The greatest danger now is the labor trouble. All white cooks and waiters threaten to strike unless Chinese kitchen help is discharged. If this happens, it will surely spread to other unions, and then real trouble is a certainty.

A TERRIBLE DUALISM.

London, Sept. 12. — The Evening Globe "hopes that Canadian industrial legislation may be extended to prevent such contingencies as at Vancouver.

The Westminster Gazette thinks it a grave offence against the Empire that Canada, a self-governing country, like the Dominion, have been formed by United States agitators.

The Pall Mall Gazette says it is gratifying to find the Liberal as well as the Unionist press alive to the essential problem. If Canada is called on to offer hospitality to the Asiatic it "must be on terms which will prevent the growth of a terrible dualism in her existence, and uphold the standards of a flourishing and self-respecting democracy.

JAPANESE WILL NOT LEAVE.

Bellingham, Wash., Sept. 13.— Anonymous letter received here warns all Japanese and Chinese in this city to leave at one. Japanese working at the canneries are armed, and say they will resist any attempt to force them out of town. The Chinese however, will not make a strong stand. E. B. Demiug, general manager of the Pacific American Fisheries, says if the Orientals leave the salmon canning industry is doomed.

The Roman Priests Favor New Law

All Marriages Between Roman Catholics Solemnized by Protestant Ministers Not Valid.

Montreal, Sept. 12.—The new decree promulgated by the Roman Catholic Church ordering that all marriages between Catholics solemnized by ministers outside of the Roman Catholic Church shall be declared null and void has been carried out in spirit for many years past throughout the Catholic world.

The old law which prevailed in certain dioceses, which only decreed that such marriages should be regarded as sinful and sacrilegious, although valid, has always been interpreted very strictly by the priests of Catholic faith, who always taught their people that such marriages were so very sinful that it has only been on very rare occasions that they have ever occurred.

FULL TEXT NOT RECEIVED.

The full text of the new decree has not been sent out from Rome as yet, and it will be some weeks before it is received in Canada.

Catholic priests absolutely without exception on the diocese of Montreal, are greatly in favor of the new law, and are of the opinion that it will apply to the diocese of Montreal as well as every other Catholic diocese in the world. It will only be after the archbishop receives instruction from the Holy See that it will be finally known whether the new law will apply in this diocese.

OUT OF THE PALE

Usually in the past when marriages of the Catholic Church were married by a minister of another creed, they were considered out of the pale of the Church until such time as they repented for the sin they had committed in the eyes of their own church and performed the penance imposed [illegible]

[illegible] among Catholics has always been that in a marriage solemnized by a minister of another creed, while valid in the eyes of the law of the country, would not be blessed by the Catholic Church, and it is the feeling that has resulted in it occurring on very few occasions.

MATTER FOR CATHOLICS

Protestant ministers even today did not like to discuss the new law till they had an opportunity of reading the full text of it. In general way they recognized the right of the Catholic Church to have any law it made think in the interests of its own church.

Indians Gathering Wild Rice Crop

Indians at Hiawatha and Other Rice Lake Points Harvesting the Rice Crop

The Indians of Hiawatha and other points on Rice Lake, are now gathering in their crop of wild oats, as it is some times called, "black" rice. A Times correspondent, who happened to get a day off from the arduous duties of getting the latest and most authentic news for our readers, was yesterday at Rice Lake, returning late last night. Our correspondent went a-fishing, and the fish did not bite worth a d——. He then took a trip round the lake in a canoe. As he got to Stook Island, where the dead of many generations of bygone Indians are buried, together with many tangible reminiscences of their past history, such as slate arrow heads, etc., he steered his canoe, into a seemingly impenetrable marsh or bed of wild rice. Soon he heard a "falsetto disgusto" and partly "Colorado oscuro" voice call from the hidden depths of the rice bed, "Say you, Jim, why in —— don't you go and empty them rice on the sleigh."

This reminder of Longfellow's Hiawatha made our representative get busy with his paddle, and propel his "bark of birch" (made in town) towards the place where Hiawatha launched forth her silver tongued question. At last he propelled his bark through the rice and arrived where two Indian ladies, of certain weight mt, one at the bow, one at the stern of a canoe, whose antiquity dates back to that of the mastodeon (spelling not guaranteed), our scribe approached, hat in hand, the ladies and asked, "Pardon me, but what are you ladies doing here all alone on the broad bosom of the lake?" His answer was, "Why, you ——— ———, don't you see we are gathering in wild rice, and if you were a decent man you would mind your own business and let us attend to ours."

After due apologies and explanations as to our representatives innocuous intention in asking what was meant as a polite question, and all reporters know the danger involved in asking any old question, no matter how simple from the reporter's point of view, our man learned that the descendants of Hiawatha were busily gathering in the annual crop of wild rice. After the Times man had won a little more confidence, he was permitted to watch operations. The two ladies in the canoe went through the rice bed, and with paddles working hard at each side of the canoe, beat the grain bearing ears of the wild rice which grows in possibly four feet of water, so that the seed or rice soon filled their boat.

As soon as the canoe was comfortably and in safety filled they paddled to Stook Island, and there emptied their cargo preparatory to going for another load. It would surprise those not "in the know," how many bushels and consequent dollars are gathered yearly in Rice and other lakes for "Wild" "Indian" or "Black" rice. The Indians living near Peterborough, and located on Rice and Chemong and other adjacent waters are great harvesters of this annual crop of wild rice and deserve great credit for the ingenious work done by them. This wild rice, whilst not known to the general public, especially to the rising generation is most succulent tasty and nourishing when properly boiled.

—Souvenir cards with envelopes attached and endorsed "Boots from Peterborough" are again on sale at Times Bookstore.

—Extra quality (something entirely new) in colored cards of local views at twenty-five cents per dozen. Times Bookstore.

Cheese Makers Must Bring Whole Load

Aftermath of Wednesday's Trouble Over Wrong Weights on Factory Scales

As an aftermath of Wednesday's show up of a Peterborough cheese factory using a short weight when weighing the cheese to that particular factory, and which was shown to be 2 1-2 ounces short of right weight, it might be noted that yesterday morning a wagon arrived at the market weigh scales containing five cheeses made at the Fraserville cheese factory. A well known cheese buyer was at the scales and greeted the driver of the wagon as follows, "Say, you driver, that is no way to bring cheese here to be weighed. Why don't you bring your whole load, so that I can pick out such boxes as I choose to be weighed? You know a burnt child dreads the fire, however, as your factory has been honest in the past. I will accept this to for weighing, but next time bring the whole load of cheese to the market to be weighed." The five boxes in question proved to be full, and in two instances, over weight. The cheese buyer in question said he thought, and he did not mind the newspapers saying so, that the high weight produced on the preceding day looked "a little too thin" for him. He argued, how was it that when the wagon load of Wednesday backed up to the market scales and the five boxes to the rear were found to be full weight, and how when the whole consignment was taken to the cars and the cheese buyer brought new, more boxes from the front of the wagon to be weighed, they were all short weight. This buyer said to The Times that the driver of the wagon mentioned, whilst it was at the market scales, refused than to have cheese from the front of the wagon weighed. In response to a question put by a Times representative the buyer said that had he not detected the short weight boxes, he would have been from $18 to $20 out of pocket in this one consignment.

It seems that, if the buyer's contention is justified that cheese factories to deliberately mark their boxes falsely is a short sighted policy, that will not only result in their ultimate detection but place a ban of suspicion on every factory even though the others be honest.

Mr. MacKay Leader of the Opposition

An informal arrangement has been reached, it is understood, among the Liberal members of the Legislature that Hon. A. G. MacKay will succeed Hon. Mr. Graham as leader.

The arrangement was reached to enable the new leader to take up at once the campaign work of Mr. Graham and fill the public dates he had scheduled. Mr. MacKay inaugurated his work at Dunlop last evening, where he took the provincial appointment arranged by Mr. Graham, and spoke with Hon. Mr. Aylesworth at the meeting there.

The Tight Market is Passed.

A Student of Finance Says the Acute Stage Has Been

The World states that a close student of finance says that the acute stage of the money market has passed, for the following reasons;

1. That the critical period must work for a change.

2. That curtailment of business will allow of a recuperative period.

3. That the earnings of the people will provide additional funds.

4. That financial institutions have piled up a bigger reserve for the crops than will be needed.

Byron E. Walker, president of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, [illegible] Monday afternoon was the intimate to give an offhand opinion.

"It is certain," he remarked, "that the world's business has outgrown the volume of money, Canadian, and, in fact, the banks of all countries have found it necessary to restrict business. Our borrowers have recognized the acute situation the last three or four months, and have curtailed expenditures. The forethought of the financial institutions has prevented what might have proved a calamity. I notice that the London money market is improving, and the same might be said of the United States centers. Good Canadian business has been hampered because of the money stringency, but I think this is only temporary. I am not prepared to say that there will be any material change in the future. The world's business is still under a full head of steam, but the precautionary measures already adopted have no doubt improved the situation.

Henry S. Strathy, of the Traders Bank, thinks money conditions are slightly less onerous, but that cheap money is not yet in sight.

"The last to feel the pinch is real estate. Here in Toronto first-class loans are in instances almost unobtainable. The principal loan companies are asking as high as 7 per cent. interest, and even at this loans have to be held back until funds have accumulated.

"Well, all this, as any business individual will admit, is bad for development, and herein comes the first reason why a betterment is in prospect. The financial institutions have begun hoarding funds, because of the dangerous outlook, and the enforced curtailment of development in all directions is admitting of a period of recuperation.

"A ban has practically been placed on the increase of securities. There have been practically no new flotations in Canada for months, the only demands for funds in the way of securities coming from municipal or government debentures.

"Again, the savings of our people will gradually fill up the exchequers of the deposit institutions and leave a surplus.

A Coal Crisis is Now Imminent--Collieries Will Shut Down

Pottsville, Penn., Sept. 12.—Coal operators in this district declare that three-fourths of the collieries in the lower anthracite regions will be compelled to shut down within a few days because of the scarcity of water. The [illegible] is expected within two or three days.

The Reading Coal and Iron Company has been hauling water from Tumbling Run for its own collieries for some time, and yesterday it began hauling for a number of independents.

Fishermen are Lost in Fog--Got Separated from Ship.

Halifax, N.S., September 13.—John Flynn of the Gloucester schooner Jacque, at North Sydney, says that while fishing 48 miles off Seal Island, a fog sprang up, shutting out everything from view. All his dories, excepting two, manned by Patrick Nolan of Placentia, Newfoundland, and Benjamin Gerrar, of Arichat, failed to return.

The Judique kept up a continual tooting of the fog horn and firing of guns, but to no purpose, indwhen morning broke clear and fine there were no sign of the missing men. It is believed their condition was such as to prevent them from rowing much, and finally, giving up hope of reaching shore, they perished in the open boat.

Called a Disgrace British Diplomacy

St. John's, Nfld., Sept. 12.—In a statement published in the form of an interview, here yesterday, Sir Robert Bond, premier of Newfoundland, said that the modus vivendi recently agreed upon by the British and American governments, is a disgrace to British diplomacy and a shameful sacrifice of the wants of the people of the colony."

Sir Robert asserts that only his strong protest during the London negotiations after the conference of colonial premiers in the city, prevented the British cabinet from concluding a worse compact with America. He says that his ministry unwaveringly protested against the modus vivendi throughout the negotiations, and that the colonial government will continue to resist the modus vivendi by every constitutional means, and will uphold the sovereignty of the laws.

He said the Imperial Cabinet had admitted that it must be clearly understood that the modus confers no immunity to Newfoundland fishermen in disobeying the colonial laws.

C. P. R.'s President is Not Responsible

Montreal, September 13.—Considerable amusement was caused around the railroad offices of this city by the demand of The Toronto World that Sir Thomas Shaughnessy should be arrested in connection with the Caledon Mountain disaster, as a warning against the shocking neglect of Ontario by the railroad magnates of Montreal.

Sir Thomas is out of the city for a time, and so is his assistant, Mr. Alexander, so the [illegible] the Canadian Pacific system could not be secured [illegible] her would the officials of the road's law department express any opinion.

Some other officers of the road were a little less reticent.

"If every wreck and every car shortage and every possible complaint in Ontario, real or imaginary, is to be charged up to the fact that the management is in Montreal," said one, "the same argument might [illegible] as well be used by Manitoba, and Saskatchewan and British Columbia against having the road managed anywhere, except in their own provinces. We would have to have a separate organization for each province in which we operate. A nice piece of line we would be then, sort of line we would be. A nice transcontinental, wouldn't we! A nice transcontinental Canadian railway, a string of quasi-Canadian railways, a string of quasi-ges separated at every provincial boundary."

Sir Thomas Shaughnessy can no more absolutely prevent accidents on the C P R or any other line, than any man can guarantee that a ship will never be wrecked in a storm. The Canadian Pacific does its best to deserve patronage by giving security and comfort and regularity in Ontario as anywhere else. In fact there is as much, if not more, competition here, than in other parts of the system, and so much the more reason for giving the best of service. Mr. Maclean's readers might much more reasonably complain of him for trying to run a Toronto paper from Ottawa.

Stomach troubles, heart and kidney ailments, can be quickly corrected with a prescription known to thousands everywhere as Dr Shoop's Restorative. The prompt and surprising relief which this remedy immediately brings is entirely due to its Restorative action upon the controlling nerves of the stomach, etc.

THE LUSITANIA WILL BE A FOUR-DAY SHIP

The Newest of Ocean Greyhounds, Driven at Top Speed, Expected at Sandy Hook Before Seven O'Clock This Morning.

New York, Sept 13 -- The fifteen turbine liner entered the Cunard line entered yesterday on the final stretch of her maiden voyage, which may break all trans-Atlantic records. The newest greyhound of the sea was reported 150 miles east off Sable Island 11.20 Wednesday night, and no further reports of her may be received until tonight, when the big Cunarder will enter the Nantucket wireless zone. With eight hundred miles to be sailed at 11.20 o'clock last night the Lusitania will have to make 24 knots or better until Sandy Hook light vessel is passed in order to excel the unbroken record of 23.15 knots held by the Deutschland.

Police Court

Yesterday's session of the police court was somewhat sensationalized by a prisoner during his trial dropping down in a fit, whether whiskey or epilepsy was the cause, is not known. This unfortunate man was charged by Mr Chas Nixon with having stolen some beer from his place of business. As noted, before a decision was attained, the prisoner took a fit, thus ending all possibilities of a conclusion being reached. The case was enlarged for a week and Ferguson, the prisoner, was taken to Castle Nesbitt to await trial. It was then up up to P. C. McGing to get Ferguson up on the hill. The prisoner was in a state of partial collapse, but the officer with a right instinct, under the circumstances procured him a dose of spiritus frumenti which revived his failing energies.

Ed. Shields pleaded guilty to having been drunk and disorderly, and was handed out a $2 fine which was settled.

A local hotel man, against whom a charge of assault had been brought, had his case settled out of court.

Sir Robert Bond on New Agreement

Newfoundland Government Will Continue to Resist Modus Vivendi

St. John's, Nfld., September 13.—In a statement made today Sir Robert Bond said the modus vivendi, recently agreed upon by the British and American Governments, was a "disgrace to the British diplomatic body and a shameful sacrifice of the interests of the people of the Colony." The new agreement, which is to be in force for one year, pending the settlement of the whole fisheries question by The Hague tribunal, is virtually identical with that of last year, according to the Premier. Sir Robert asserts that only his strong protest at the time of the negotiations at London after the conference of Colonial Premiers in that city prevented the British Cabinet from concluding a worse compact with America. Had the agreement been carried through the Premier said it would have contained a clause undertaking to prevent the serving of legal proceedings by the Newfoundland authorities on British subjects on board American vessels in territorial waters in the Colony. Under the Colonial laws the Newfoundland fisherman is liable to prosecution for being employed on an American vessel without first obtaining a license from the government.

The Premier expresses the hope that his correspondence with the imperial cabinet on this subject will be produced in the Parliament. He says the ministry unwaveringly protested against the modus vivendi negotiations. He avers they he first suggested referring all disputes arising over the treaty of 1818 to The Hague tribunal. The Colonial Government will continue to resist the modus vivendi by every constitutional means.

AMERICANS ARE SATISFIED.

New York, September 13.—The Tribune, in commenting upon the Newfoundland Fisheries agreement, says "it is to be regarded with sincere and unmixed satisfaction in this country. Last year's modus vivendi was decidedly advantageous to American interests, and was a real triumph of American diplomacy, and this year's revised form of it will doubtless prove equally acceptable. The only material concession made by this country in it is the relinquishment of the right to fish on Sunday. But that will cause no serious hardship to Americans, and indeed is seldom likely to cause any at all."

The Times says: "A sensible thing about the present situation is that individuals, both Americans and Newfoundlanders, are eager to accommodate each other. It is only the Governments which are contending, and they contend for stubbornness regarding the [illegible] subjects of their respective nations. Americans are eager to buy what Newfoundlanders are eager to sell. Newfoundland fishermen [illegible] to be hired as American skippers are [illegible]

The Journal of Commerce says: "The whole matter might have been settled satisfactorily to everybody by the Gloucester fishermen by the ratification of the reciprocity treaty negotiated a few years ago That was to obtain a monopoly in the Boston market for fish taken in Newfoundland waters."

Estimating the Western Crops.

Winnipeg, Sept. 12.—This week we notice remarks the Winnipeg Commercial, that the Northwest Grain Dealers' Association, who have been making conservative estimates on the crop all summer, figure that the wheat output of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta this fall will be 82,227,000 bushels, or oats, 87,565,000 bushels, and of barley 18,051,000 bushels. The wheat estimate is arrived at by calculating the yield per acre at 16.4 bushels, the acreage being figured at 5,013,541.

Now judging from the number of sections that report a yield of 25 and 30 bushels to the acre, the estimate of 16.4 is very conservative, indeed. But, however, let us figure the value of the crops at the quantities mentioned. As we have said in former issues, the crop conditions in other countries have resulted in very high quotations on wheat. We do no think that wheat will be much under $1 per bushel, and it may be considerably more before it goes lower. We will, however, remain as much as possible on the safe side, and say that the average will be 90c per bushel. It looks as if it would be quite reasonable to say that the average for oats would not be less than 35c, and for barley, say, 60c. Working on these various figures we find the total value of our leading grains to be $112,499,150.

To all this can be added a considerable amount for other grains, live stock and the different dairy products. In order to be still more conservative, suppose that we have used rather high values per bushel, and deduct say $15,000,000 for the discrepancy. Even then we have left a total of some $100,000,00 which is considerably more than the total value of last year's farm output here. We ask then, can any one compute for us or for any one else how the crop of 1907 is to be so poor that times for the coming year will be dull?

Change of Time

From September 16th to 30th the T. P. N. Co's steamer "Mariska" will leave Bobcaygeon at 7 a.m. daily, calling at Young's Point, arriving at Lindsay 9.30. Returning will leave Lindsay at 5.5 p.m. After October 1st a tri-weekly round trip service will be given, until further notice.

Picture of the Quebec Bridge

Mr. R. M. Roy, the local photographer, has an excellent picture of the Quebec bridge, which recently collapsed. The photograph is enlarged from a small picture of the structure taken on June 30th by Rev. Dr. O'Brien. The revered doctor was returning from Europe at the time, and spent a short time in the ancient capital. The picture in Mr. Roy's window gives a fine view of the collapsed mass of steel.

Good Breakfasts

Start the Day Right

"Breakfast is perhaps the most important meal of the day, and people usually eat a very poor breakfast.

Many Americans have stomach troubles because they eat too much or food of not the right sort for the morning meal. An ideal breakfast is a baked apple or some other fruit, a dish of Grape-Nuts food with little cream, soft boiled egg, slice of hard crisp toast and a cup of Postum Food Coffee.

Leave off all meat, hot biscuits, etc. Grape-Nuts and Postum both furnish the hosphate of potash together with other food elements that go to make up brain and nerve centers as well as muscle and tissue, and both can be digested by the stomach of an infant.

It is the part of wisdom nowadays to use food especially selected for nourishment and that can be easily digested. Ten days' trial of this breakfast and you will feel as though you had "cleaned house."

The exhilaration of bounding health is worth a hundred times the small outlay of time and care in arranging such a meal.

A New Jersey woman says she formerly breakfasted on chops, hot biscuits and coffee. "After such a meal I would have severe pains and they would last sometimes 'most over the night." She finally determined on a change in her diet, and had for breakfast only Grape-Nuts food with cream, and Postum Food Coffee. She says: "In a very few days the intestinal trouble all disappeared. I have regained my old-time weight, lost the irritability and nervousness, and life takes on a [illegible]

"When I feel a little exhausted in the day I simply drop everything and stir a spoonful of Grape-Nuts into a little cream or hot milk, and in ten minutes I have regained my vigor and freshness."

Grape-Nuts food is best when served just as it comes from the cooker, without any cooking whatever. The food has already been cooked, ten or twelve hours, in the process of manufacturing it. When made up into puddings pies and other dessert dishes it does not hurt it to be cooked again, but when served simply as a breakfast food it should never be cooked. On the contrary, Grape-Nuts is improved by boiled 15 or 20 minutes before the food value and flavor can be brought out. "There's a Reason."

THE CHINESE VIEW

Wu Ting Fang, a former Chinese Minister to the United States, and a man of varied attainments, has been discussing Eastern and Western civilization from the point of view of an enlightened Chinaman, in a recent magazine article, which makes interesting reading.

The most important questions of foreign relations with which the Chinese government has to deal, according to the writer, arise from the spirit of commercialism and the spirit of proselytism, says an exchange.

It may shock some good people to find these two causes bracketed together, but it must be remembered that the writer is speaking from the Chinese view point. Unfortunately, he says, most of the troubles occurring in China have arisen fromriots against missionaries. Hener, it has been said by some foreigners that without foreign missionaries China would have no foreign complications. This is a statement which the writer neither affirms nor denies; but he asks the champions of Western civilization to put the shoe on the other foot.

Supposing the Chinese sent Confucian missionaries to the United States, say, with the avowed purpose of gaining proselytes, and that these missionaries established themselves in leading American cities, built temples, opened schools and held public meetings. And supposing further that they pursued their work by making vehement attacks on the doctrines of Christianity, denouncing the cherished institutions of the country, or going out of the way to ridicule the customs of the day, what would be the result? Would they be pelted with stones and rotten eggs? Would they not have a right to consider themselves lucky if they got off with stones and rotten eggs?

And if instead of taking these attacks philosophically these missionaries should lose their temper, should call in the aid of the police, should appeal to Washington for official interference, and if the upshot of it all was a fleet of Asiatic battleships, demanding in the name of outraged Confucianism compensation for the insults and injuries to the Confucian missionaries and threatening to seize American property to blow some American city from its foundations if suitable compensation were not granted in a hurry, what then would be the American feeling towards Chinese missionaries?

Of course the reply is ready—we superior people of the Western civilization have no right to suppose anything of the kind. Our civilization is superior, our religion is superior, so are our armies and our fleets. What then? "Go to. What nonsense about putting the shoe on the other foot."

And yet the Golden Rule of our Christian civilization is based on the very principal of putting yourself in the other fellow's place, which is the same as putting the shoe on the other foot. And one trouble with these Asiatics is that they will insist on taking their religion and philosophy seriously. They think that because the Christian nations send out missionaries to them to teach them the Golden Rule themselves, failing to realize in their ignorance that preaching is one thing and practice is another.

As these benighted foreigners become better acquainted with our history and our ways they will no doubt come to appreciate the beauties of our system by which we profess to believe one thing and act as if we believed the opposite, and this without any thought of inconsistency, but at present they are living in darkness and find these things hard to understand.

ENGINEERING AT FAULT

The Engineering News in its issue of September 5, makes the following reference to the effect of the Quebec disaster upon the engineering profession.

"Public confidence in engineers and engineering constructors and in the safety and reliability of their works is an asset of the whole engineering profession. To have this public confidence receive such a blow as this at Quebec is a loss almost incalculable. For decades to come, the Quebec disaster will be quoted to public and in private, as an unanswerable proof of the unreliability of engineers and their works—of even the best engineers.

"There is another fact which makes this disaster a peculiarly heavy blow to the engineering profession. Of all bridge structures in the country which were expected to be built with absolute safety and certainty, we take it, the Quebec bridge is foremost. We know of no engineering structure anywhere whose failure would have been a greater surprise to the profession than this collapse at Quebec.

"Of course, as our readers know, the structure surpassed in magnitude any bridge ever erected; but the problems involved in its design were, after all, simple, and what is more important, they were actually determinate.

The News is of the opinion that the initial cause of the wreck was the failure of some compression member in the anchor arm of the cantilever, and makes an elaborate analysis of the arguments leading to this conclusion summing up as follows:

"Long and careful inspection of the wreck shows that the material was of excellent quality; that the workmanship was remarkably good. The end connections of the compression members were remarkably massive and well wrought together. The double centers around the design of those enormous long columns of which the lower chord and the vertical posts were made up. Did one of them fail under a load only one-half the elastic limit of the material in it? That is the question which must for the present at least be left unanswered."

There seems to be no doubt that engineering has been at fault. Some one has erred, either in his own calculations, or in accepting without verification the calculations of others. The responsibility should be placed, in order that the people may be protected against any further disasters of this kind.

TUBERCULOSIS.

New York's recent "instruction card" upon the topic of tuberculosis published in the Times a few days ago, may not be new, but it is timely and pertinent as its subject matter. Consumption had been regarded for so many years as one of the inexplicable hereditary diseases that any thing pointing at any time at the radical change in front of the pathologist in the last few years cannot fail of its instructive effort.

Tuberculosis, which still is the great destroyer of civilized man in every zone of civilization, no longer has the record of an inherited disease. In the opinion of the best specialists of today it is regarded as only a mildly infectious malady if discovery of infection is made in time. That old practice of sending the patients in the last stages of his trouble to morbid homesickness in a strange but equable climate is abandoned. Discover the disease in its incipiency and treat it in the home surroundings where it was acquired. Prevent its spread if may be, but discover it and it once, is medical dictum today.

Every animal subjected to closed shelter under the ownership of man is a possible victim of this disease, but no such animal, turned out to the woods and sun and rain and cold, ever dies from tuberculosis. Even the monkeys of the tropics, left to the winter winds in Lincoln park, have recovered from this malady which has decimated the simian population of zoological gardens everywhere.

"Beware of the germ of tuberculosis" is now the insistent gospel of the pathologist. Teach the victim of the disease how to avoid making himself a hotbed of menacing infection. Let the susceptible possible victim be on the watch against a first symptom of the disease. These are the things which the medical profession urge. If one would question why the man treating diseases should lend his influences to prevention of tuberculosis, the answer is easy. The victim of tuberculosis ordinarily dies within three years. If he shall escape it the other small ailments of man leave him a possible patient through the whole span of life.

Let men beware of tuberculosis and give the doctors a chance.

YOUR TRUE COMMUTER.

He Must Be by Nature a Man Who Takes to Routine.

Your true commuter must be by nature a man who takes to routine. There are some who have commuted for a quarter century or more and yet have not acquired the trick and never will. They are the ones who write letters to the newspapers, airing their grievances against the heartless railroad corporations. They are not born commuters. They have had commutation thrust upon them. But many really enjoy the life of the commuter. They like the clocklike regularity. They like the pleasant social aspect of the early morning trip to town, the neighborly interest in one another's affairs, the ample time for reading the newspapers, which numerous city residents miss by not being obliged to get an early start. They look forward to the pleasant relaxation of the whist game on the way home, with head on one side to keep the smoke out of their eyes. Some of them even say that they enjoy being awakened early in the morning.

In time all who work in New York will come to it. Meanwhile, for the man with a family it appears to be in many ways a happy solution of a difficult problem. Undoubtedly it is a more wholesome existence physically, but mentally and spiritually it has the defects of its virtues when pursued all the year round. The commuter devotes the best part of the day to one narrow corner of the city. The rest of his time not consumed on the train is in still more narrowing atmosphere of the suburbs. He neither gets all the way into the life of the city nor clean out into the country. So his view of things has neither the perspective of robust rurality nor the sophistication of a man in the city and of it. His return to nature is only halfway. His urbanity is suburbanity. Much of our literature, art and especially criticisms show the taint of the commuter's point of view.—Jesse Lynch Williams in Century.

NUGGETS.

Genius is inspiration. Talent is perspiration.

Do not measure your enjoyment by the amount of money spent in producing it.

Education turns the wild sweetbrier into the queenly rose.

A vigorous initiative and strong self faith make up the man of power.

Be sure that the honors you are striving for are not really dishonors.

What men get and do not earn is often a curse instead of a blessing.

You can purchase a man's labor, but you've got to cultivate his good will.

Ignorance itself is a disease, the deepest, most treacherous and damning malady of the soul.

Worry poisons the mind just as much as a deadly drug would poison the body and just as surely.

While you stand deliberating which book your son shall read first, another boy has read both.

Lincoln and Stanton.

There was a marked contrast between Lincoln's manner, which was always pleasant and even genial, and that of Stanton. The latter's stern, spectacled visage commanded instant respect and in many cases inspired fear. In receiving visitors, and they were legion, Stanton seldom or never sat down, but stood before a high desk as the crowd passed before him and one by one presented their requests or complaints, which were rapidly disposed of. He was haughty, severe, domineering and often rude. When I think of him in the daily routine of his public audiences the characterization of Napoleon by Charles Phillips, the Irish orator, comes to mind, "Grand, gloomy and peculiar."—David Hamer Bates in Century.

Gambling in Church.

The mania for gambling will out, no matter how carefully hedged about by the law. Here is an illustration:

"It took a conversation I overheard at the close of the church service last Sunday night to bring me to a realization of the virulence of the betting fever," said a Harlem woman. "I actually heard two boys betting on the skill of the sexton in snuffing out the candles. One bet 25 cents that he would extinguish each candle at the first application of the snuffers, the other that he wouldn't. I had been watching the proceedings with the same thought in mind, but it never occurred to me to bet on the outcome."

One Gleam of Sunshine.

His play is a rank failure.

It is a frost and a fizzle, and he knows it.

The dramatist bows his head upon his hands and refuses to be comforted, for it is his first flunk.

One by one his friends try to say something that will console him, but to no avail.

Finally his trusting wife finds one sunny gleam in the clouds.

"Anyway," she said, "you didn't have to go through the ordeal of making a speech before the curtain, and you know you always said you would be thankful beyond words if you could escape that."

Late Already.

Five minutes after the tardy gong had struck the principal of the school was walking through the lower hall when he saw a pudgy little fellow scampering toward the first grade room as fast as his fat legs could carry him. "See here, young man, I want to talk to you," called the principal to the late comer. "I hain't got time to talk to you; I'm late already," replied the breathless beginner as the door of his classroom closed.—Chum.

Something New in Copper

PITTSBURG - IDAHO

Mining and Milling Company

The mine is located 58 miles above Lewiston, Idaho, on the Clearwater river, and consists of 19 full claims, or 380 acres. It is developed by tunnels, shafts and open cuts for more than 2100 feet, disclosing thousands of tons of copper, gold and silver ores of both high grade and low grade. There are between 1000 and 2000 tons of ore ready for shipment. The entrance to the working tunnel is only 2000 feet from the track of the Northern Pacific railroad, to be reached by gravity tramway. There are seven parallel veins running lengthwise of the claims, one cropping out on the surface for 2400 feet and another for 3000 feet, while two veins cross these running into the mountain. These veins are from 30 to 200 feet wide. One ore chute has been crosscut 750 feet and is solid ore from wall to wall.

We are not asking you to buy on a prospect. That risk was taken by the promoters. We are asking you to buy in a developed, proven mine. Seven years of continuous work and the expenditure of thousands of dollars has proven up one of the greatest mines in Idaho. That mine is now ready to pour out its red and yellow wealth to the world with the installing of an up to date production plant. It is for that purpose that a block of its treasury stock, full paid and non-assessable, is offered for sale. We believe that within six months from the completion of a 100 ton plant the mine can be put on a dividend paying basis, and that those dividends will be substantial and permanent. There is no better investment proposition before the people at this time.

CAPITALIZATION $1,000,000. - PAR VALUE $1.

All promotion stock pooled during the sale of this treasury stock.

Messrs. Thos. Patterson & Co., Peterborough, Ont., are authorized to receive subscriptions for this stock, to whom all applications should be made

THE CONQUEST of CANAAN

By BOOTH TARKINGTON,
Author of "Cherry," "Monsieur Beaucaire," Etc.

COPYRIGHT, 1905, BY HARPER & BROTHERS

the latter being a pimply faced young man (lately from the doctor's hands), who limped and would limp for the rest of his life, he who, of all men, held the memory of Eskew Arp in least respect and was burningly desirous to revenge himself upon the living.

The worst were of that mystifying, embryonic, semi-rowdy type, the American youyou, in the production of which Canaan and her sister towns everywhere over the country are prolific—the young man, youth, boy perhaps, creature of nameless age, whose clothes are like those of a brakeman out of work, but who is not a brakeman in or out of work; wearing the black soft hat tilted forward to shelter [illegible] from the contempt of a clerk—that expression which the face does not dare wear quite in the open, asserting the possession of supreme capacity in wit, strength, dexterity and amours; the dirty handkerchief under the collar, the short black coat, always double breasted; the eyelids sooty, one cheek always bulged, the forehead speckled, the lips cracked, horrible teeth and the affectation of possessing secret information upon all matters of the universe, above all; the instinct of finding the shortest way to any scene of official interest to the policeman, fireman or ambulance surgeon—a singular being, not professionally criminal, tough histrionically rather than really, full of its own argot of brag, hysterical when crossed, timid through great ignorance and therefore dangerous. It furnishes not the leaders, but the mass of mobs, and it springs up at times of crisis from heaven knows where. You might have driven through all the streets of Canaan a week before the trial and have seen four or five such fellows, but from the day of its beginning the square was full of them, dingy shuttlecocks batted up into view by the Tocsin.

They kept the air whirring with their noise. The news of that sitting which had caused the squire, Flitcroft and Peter Bradbury to risk the court's displeasure was greeted outside with loud and vehement disfavor, and when, at noon, the jurymen were marshaled out to cross the yard to the National House for dinner a large crowd followed and surrounded them until they reached the doors of the hotel. "Don't let Lawyer Louden bamboozle you!" "Hang him!" "Tar and feathers fer ye ef ye don't hang him!" These were the mildest threats, and Joe Louden, watching from an upper window of the courthouse, observed with a troubled eye how certain of the jury shrank from the pressure of the throng, how the cheeks of others showed sudden pallor. Sometimes "public sentiment" has done evil things to those who have not shared it, and Joe knew how rare a thing is a jury which dares to stand square against a town like Canaan aroused.

The end of that afternoon's session saw another point marked for the defense. Joe had put the defendant on the stand, and the little man had proved an excellent witness. During his life he had been many things—many things disreputable; high standards were not brightly illumined for him in the beginning of the night march which his life had been. He had been a tramp, afterward a petty gambler, but his great motive had finally come to be the intention to do what Joe told him to do—that, and to keep Claudine as straight as he could. In a measure these were the two things that had brought him to the pass in which he now stood, his loyalty to Joe and his resentment of whatever tampered with Claudine's straightness. He was submissive to the consequences; he was still loyal. And now Joe asked him to tell "just what happened," and Happy obeyed with crystal clearness. Throughout the long, tricky cross examination he continued to tell "just what happened" with a plaintive truthfulness not to be imitated, and throughout it Joe guarded him from pitfalls (for lawyers in their search after truth are compelled by the exigencies of their profession to make pitfalls even for the honest) and gave him, by various devices, time to remember, though not to think, and made the words "come right" in his mouth, so that before the sitting was over a disquieting rumor ran through the waiting crowd in the corridors, across the square and over the town that the case was surely going "Louden's way." This was also the opinion of a looker-on in Canaan—a ferret faced counselor of corporations who, called to consultation with the eminent Buckalew (nephew of the squire), had afterward spent an hour in his company at the trial. "It's going that young fellow Louden's way," said the stranger. "You say he's a shyster, but"

"Well," admitted Buckalew, with some reluctance, "I don't mean that exactly. I've got an old uncle who seems lately to think he's a great man."

"I'll take your uncle's word for it," returned the other, smiling. "I think he'll go pretty far."

They had come to the flight of steps which descended to the yard, and the visitor, looking down upon the angry crowd, added, "If they don't kill him!"

Joe himself was anxious concerning no such matter. He shook hands with Happy at the end of the sitting, bidding him be of good cheer, and when the little man had marched away under a strong guard began to gather and sort his papers at a desk inside the bar. This took him perhaps five minutes, and when he had finished there were only three people left in the room—a clerk, a negro janitor with a broom and the darky friend who always hopefully accompanies a colored man holding high public office. These two approvingly greeted the young lawyer the janitor handing him a note from Norbert Flitcroft and the friend mechanically "borrowing" a quarter from him as he opened the envelope.

"I'll be roun' yo' way to git a box o' se-gahs," laughed the friend, "soon ez de campaign open up good. Dey all goin' vote ye' way down on de levee bank, but dey sho' expecks to git to smoke a little 'fo' Jeckshun day! We knows who's ow friend!"

Norbert's missive was lengthy and absorbing. Joe went on his way, perusing it with profound attention, but as he descended the stairway to the floor below a loud burst of angry shouting outside the building caused him to hasten toward the big front doors which faced Main street. The doors opened upon an imposing vestibule, from which a handsome flight of stone steps, protected by a marble balustrade, led to the ground.

Standing at the top of these steps and leaning over the balustrade, he had a clear view of half the yard. No one was near him. Everybody was running in the opposite direction, toward that corner of the yard occupied by the jail, the crowd centering upon an agitated whirlpool of men which moved slowly toward a door in the high wall that inclosed the building, and Joe saw that Happy Fear's guards, conducting the prisoner back to his cell, were being jostled and rushed. The distance they had made was short, but as they reached the door the pressure upon them increased dangerously. Clubs rose in the air, hats flew, the whirlpool heaved tumultuously, and the steel door clanged.

Happy Fear was safe inside, but the jostlers were outside, baffled, ugly and stirred with the passion that changes a crowd into a mob.

Then some of them caught sight of Joe as he stood alone at the top of the steps, and a great shout of rage and exultation arose.

An Eskimo Legend.

Among the Eskimos, the angakos or sorcerer who would visit Sedna, the goddess who lives underground or in the depths of the ocean, presiding over one of the countries to which souls go after death, must first pass the arsissut—the dwellings of the happy dead—and then cross an abyss in which a wheel as slippery as ice is constantly turning round. Arriving at the house of Sedna, he finds it guarded by terrible animals, sometimes described as seals, and sometimes as dogs, and when within the house passage he has to cross an abyss by means of a bridge as narrow as a knife edge.

Keeping Up Appearances.

The tall man in the suit of faded black went into the first class restaurant and seated himself at a table in a far corner. Lingering there a minute or two, he rose stiffly and went to the cashier's desk. "If a gentleman can't be waited on promptly in this place," he said, with a frown, "there are plenty of other places." Then he strolled leisurely out, picking his teeth, and presently wended his way unobtrusively to the five cent lunch counter around the corner.—Chicago Tribune.

Catarrh

To prove unquestionably, and beyond any doubt, that Catarrh of the nose and throat can be cured, I am furnishing patients through druggists, small free Trial Boxes of Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure. I do this because I am so certain, that Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure will bring actual substantial help. Nothing certainly, is so convincing as a physical test of any article of real, genuine merit. But that article must possess true merit, else the test will condemn, rather than advance it. Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure is a snow white, healing antiseptic balm, put up in beautiful nickel capped glass jars at 50c. Such soothing agents as Oil Eucalyptus, Thymol, Menthol, etc., are incorporated into a velvety, cream like Petrolatum, imported by Dr. Shoop from Europe. If Catarrh of the nose and throat has extended to the stomach, then by all means also use internally, Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Stomach distress, a lack of general strength, bloating, belching, biliousness, bad taste, etc., surely call for Dr. Shoop's Restorative.

For uncomplicated catarrh only of the nose and throat nothing else, however, need be used but

This Company was formed for the purpose of manufacturing all kinds of Iron, Steel, Metal and Wooden Goods, Agricultural Implements, etc., and to carry on the business of a foundry.

They are now turning out specialties in Ornamental Iron Work, Fences, Crestings, etc., for which there is a great demand far in excess of the present facilities of the Company.

Winnipeg and the West offers an unlimited market for the products, guaranteeing a paying investment from the start.

There is a limited amount of stock for sale, and this opportunity to purchase will not return.

The encouragement, coupled with the unexcelled opportunities open to such an enterprise, are in themselves sufficient guarantee of absolute safety and large profits.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry must be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made on certain conditions, by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

The homesteader is required to perform the homestead conditions under one of the following plans:—

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of the homesteader resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Six months' notice in writing should be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of intention to apply for patent.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.

This is a straight Business Undertaking.

The Smelting of Ore is the safest and most profitable business in the world.

We have fifteen mining properties, located in Kern County, California, carrying good values in Gold, Silver and Copper.

The smelter nearest to us is at Needles, 250 miles distant.

We propose to install on our properties a smelter to treat the ores from our own mines and to do custom smelting for others.

50 per cent. per annum is a moderate estimate of the profits we can earn. If you want to make a safe and profitable investment send for full information and investigate our proposition.

YOU NEED STRENGTH

Vitality is Lacking and You Must Have a Bracing Tonic at Once.

You're sick and need medicine.

Not an emulsion to sicken the stomach, not a "dope" cure, nor bitters—but a nourishing tonic that will increase weight, strength and girth.

Try Ferrozone and watch the result.

Because it gives instant effect and steadily builds up new flesh, it is used by thousands in ill-health.

No other medicine contains more nutriment, supplies better building material, makes you feel well and strong as quickly as it did Mrs. Charles Benny, of Cloyne, Ont.

HER STATEMENT.

"I was sick.

"I was broken down, had no strength, couldn't eat. I was sleepless.

"My nerves were irritable. I was thin-blooded and continually unhappy."

"I tried Ferrozone.

"It gave me new energy, force, vim. It brought me comfort, strength—it made me well."

It's by making the appetite good, by instilling iron and ozone in the blood, by fortifying the system with reserve strength, that Ferrozone accomplishes so much.

You'll have new life in a week, in a month you'll be like a new person. Try Ferrozone, it always justifies itself. 50c per box or six for $2.50 at all dealers.

Helliwell, past grand master of Ontario East, who died at Stirling on Tuesday. The funeral will take place in that village this afternoon at two o'clock, and representatives will be sent from Peterborough.

—The Indians are getting a great many ducks on the route to Buckhorn. Birds have not been so plentiful in years and hunters are having good sport all over the Kawartha chain. The fish also are biting better, and one may shoot night and morning, and fish during the day. Some record catches have been made lately.—Lindsay Post.

Local Police After Stolen Bicycle

Yesterday Chief Roszel received a communication from Chief of Police Parnell at St. Catherines, informing him that a bicycle had been stolen from that city on Sept. 5th. Its number was K5569. The enamel part was black. It had Dunlop tires, a twenty-two inch frame, a C.C. and M. Co. saddle, and on the whole was in excellent condition. It was made by the Vale Manufacturing Co., of St. Catherines.

Inspector Ball on Warpath

Mr. Geo. Ball the wide distinguished sanitary inspector of this city, is sore over the seemingly unfounded news concerning alleged epidemic of typhoid fever in this city. Mr. Ball has declared that Peterborough is the healthiest city in the Dominion. Mr. Ball noted that a prominent local physician had told him that his practice did not embrace any cases nor did he have knowledge of any case of the above mentioned disease.

Improvements to Majestic Alley

Mr. J. T. Smyth, proprietor of the Majestic Bowling Alley, has completed some improvements at the popular place of amusement. Whilst there were formerly six alleys, there are now but five. This change makes it much easier for players and attendants. The cushions at the ends where the balls are set, have been refilled and the whole place has been repainted and thoroughly overhauled. The Majestic Alley is now one of the best equipped and handsomest of its kind in Ontario.

More Trouble in Erin

Dublin, Sept. 10.—The government is apprehensive with regard to the coming winter in Ireland and is doubtful regarding the loyalty of the men in the constabulary since the Belfast agitation is revealed in the present strenuous efforts to recruit the force. The number of the constabulary has been steadily decreasing for the last four years. The authorities have set aside a part of the Dublin military barracks as additional quarters for the men, and to the constables and officers throughout the country there has been sent a circular instructing them to make haste to secure suitable candidates.

Got Ahead of Local Inspector

Yesterday afternoon one of the local hog buyers on the market got a-talking about the government hog inspectors and congratulated himself that two loads of his hogs went through without inspection. To use the inspector's words, "That man is not content with looking at a hog the way we men do who buy them, but he turns them over on their backs and looks to see if they have freckles or dimples on their throats. It looks like the men is drawing $1200 a year for making himself too smart. Whilst not having the pleasure of the government inspector's acquaintance, it seems that the buyer must take an extreme view.

Former Lindsay Man Here

The Times was yesterday honored by a call by Mr. J. L. Dunsford of Columbus, O. Mr. Dunsford is a son of the late Hartley Dunsford, esq., registrar of Victoria county, and former agent of the Montreal Bank at Lindsay. Mr. Dunsford who has several relations in this city, including Mrs. Archer, Mr. C. H. Clementi, and others, regretted that his extensive business in Columbus, prohibited his further stay in the city. It might be noted that this gentleman has worked up a large real estate business in Columbus, that demanded his prompt recall to the seat of his operations. He promised several of his friends here that he will return next summer and stay several weeks in the city.

Struck the Timbers

Yesterday two farmers bringing in hay to the city and who took it to the market weigh scales, came near getting (to use a slang expression) their "blocks knocked off. As noted in yesterday's issue an extension has been made at each side of the approaches to the market weigh scale roof. Now these additions, which extend some six or eight feet further on each side than did the original roof, are just about on the same level as the former roof. Still the fact of the extended roof gives those approaching the scales the idea that its height is the height to which those driving on a load must look. This is deceptive as across the scales are the original roof beams across which are several feet lower than the roof of the extended approaches. This was learned yesterday by at least two farmers, who drove into the scales whilst seated upon loads of hay. By the time their heads came into collision with the crossing beams, the farmers, had they read David Harum would have had the words "low bridge," forcibly recalled.

Whistling Piano

Richmond, Va., Sept. 10.—Rev. Jas. O. Early, a young negro has been granted a patent for a whistling piano of his own invention. The instrument has a keyboard arranged on a scale somewhat different from a piano. It is capable of whistling the most difficult notes. Mr. Early has already been approached by a northern man with a handsome offer for the patent rights. He hopes to induce men of his race to organize a stock company to exploit the instrument.

Will Hold Series of Meetings

The probabilities are that Hon. J. P. Whitney will hold a series of public meetings in various parts of Ontario during the coming autumn.

These meetings, it is understood, are to be somewhat unique in character. While they will necessarily be political it is understood to be Mr. Whitney's desire to avoid the regular campaign or "stumping tour" for this series. The prime minister will in all probability travel alone, unaccompanied by any local or central campaign organizers or speakers. His idea, it is said, is to confer and take counsel with the people on matters of past and prospective legislation, and give his account of the government's stewardship.

It is not unlikely Mr. Whitney may arrange a few of these meetings for October.

—George Ball, the sanitary inspector, thinks Peterborough the healthiest town in the Dominion—Good boy, George. We might add that you are the hardest working and most conscientiousest health officer we have had and we don't take anything either. Thanks. This little praise is woo and well deserved and given in good spirit.

If You Read This

It will be to learn that the leading medical writers and teachers of all the several schools of practice recommend, in the strongest terms possible, each and every ingredient entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for the cure of weak stomach, dyspepsia, catarrh of stomach, "liver complaint," torpid liver, or biliousness, chronic bowel affections, and all catarrhal diseases of whatever region, name or nature. It is also a specific remedy for all such chronic or long standing cases of catarrhal affections and their resultants, as bronchial, throat and lung disease (except consumption) accompanied with severe coughs. It is not so good for acute colds and coughs, but for lingering, or chronic cases it is especially efficacious in producing perfect cures. It contains Black Cherry bark, Golden Seal root, Bloodroot, Stone root, Mandrake root and Queen's root—all of which are highly praised as remedies for all the above mentioned affections by such eminent medical writers and teachers as Prof. Bartholow, of Jefferson Med. College; Prof. Hare, of the Univ. of Pa.; Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Med. College, Chicago; Prof. John King, M. D., of Cincinnati; Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., of Cincinnati; Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. D., of Hahnemann Med. College, Chicago, and scores of others equally eminent in their several schools of practice.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is the only medicine put up for sale through druggists for like purposes, that has any such professional endorsement—or is more than any number of ordinary patent medicines. Open publicity of its formula is the best possible guaranty of its merits. A glance at this published formula will show that "Golden Medical Discovery" contains no poisonous, harmful or habit-forming drugs and no alcohol—chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead. Glycerine is entirely unobjectionable and besides is a most useful agent in the cure of all stomach as well as bronchial, throat and lung affections. There is the highest medical authority for its use in all such cases. Pure Blood Root in a concentrated glycerole extract of the above medicinal roots and is safe and reliable. A booklet of extracts from eminent medical authorities, endorsing its ingredients mailed free on request. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

VOL XXXV. NO 215 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 14 1907 PRICE TWO CENTS

Number of Liquor Cases Tried by the County Magistrate

The Vexed Question of When is an Indian Not an Indian Once More Tested and Judgment was Reserved--Other Charges.

Yesterday morning his Worship County Magistrate Edmison held court in the county council chamber when Mr. Lawless, formerly of Lakefield, was charged with having on the 3rd of August sold liquor in a place not being licensed for the sale of intoxicants.

Mr. W. H. Moore acted for the prosecution with Mr. Eyres, provincial inspector, and Mr. Haverson, Toronto, counsel for the Licensed Victuallers' Protective Association, for the defence.

The first witness was a government detective named Hanson, who testified to having purchased whiskey on the date as alleged. He paid 40 cents for four drinks. There were four or five men in the bar besides himself and immediate friends. Witness gave the names of four men whom he knew. He paid the money to Simpson the bartender.

To Mr. Haverson, witness said the first time he was in the bar he stayed three or four minutes. He then went out of the hotel and returned shortly afterwards, in about five minutes (here the witness began to seemingly get fresh but was brought to his senses by Mr. Haverson). Mr. Moore objected to Mr. Haverson's questions as there was another similar charge to be brought on later on but Mr. Haverson said the court had no official notice of a further charge at that time.

Witness continuing, said when he returned there were two steamboat captains and others he did not know in the bar. Simpson was still tending bar. He returned a third time to the bar. Witness lives in Toronto, Cobourg, and three weeks in Owen Sound.

"What is your business?" asked Mr. Haverson. "Detective," replied Hanson. "Whiskey detective?" asked Mr. Haverson. "No, a license detective," replied the witness. "Oh, you are engaged in getting men to break the law, are you not?" "No, I am not."

Mr. Haverson practically made the witness admit that his course of procedure made defendant break the law. Here, Mr. Moore interjected, "No matter if this man is the lowest in the land, that is foreign to evidence in this case. Witness was about three quarters of an hour in Lakefield, coming there by boat and leaving by train. The only way he knew the bar tender's name was Simpson, was that some one had told him so. "Oh," replied Mr. Haverson, "your evidence is all on hearsay."

This trial was certainly a hot one, as here the next witness, who was outside the court room, by name Belleau, was told to come in. License Inspector Stewart went to call him in. Then his worship began to read Hanson's evidence whereupon Belleau was stopped at the door Stewart reminded with him whereupon Mr. Haverson jumped up and ran to the door and demanded that Stewart come into the court room and leave the next coming witness.

Mr. W. Belleau then went into the box and said his home is in Toronto. He was in Lakefield in the hotel of the defendant Mr. Lawless, on Aug. 3rd. He arrived in Lakefield by boat and went up a hill to the hotel.

Mr. Belleau described the location of the Lakeview House, but did not know its name. He was there on August 3rd, with Hanson. He saw two steamboat captains and went with them into the bar. There were several men in the bar. Did not know the bar tender's name. He had whiskey and ginger ale. The whiskey came from a square tin under the bar. He did not know what he got until he tasted the mixture. He tasted whiskey in it. The others were served out of the same tin. Hanson paid 40 cents for the drinks. The others present had similar drinks. He saw Hanson and the captains drink. He put down an account of the transaction in his book as was his duty. He never saw Lawless in his life. He was sure about which hotel he got his liquor in. Did not know who runs the hotel. His evidence is partly from hearsay. He "guessed" it must have been defendant's hotel.

Inspector Stewart said he knows the premises. He did not know from his own knowledge who owned the hotel. He was there recently before Aug. 3rd, and talked with Lawless about his fire escapes. Lawless told him the hotel belonged to him. Lawless Was there later but did not see Lawless. The hotel is in a local option district. It was in July that Lawless said the hotel belonged to him. He did not know Lawless was going to Bobcaygeon.

Here a discussion arose between Mr. Moore and Mr. Haverson, when Mr. Moore said Inspector Stewart as a witness Mr. Haverson objected to Stewart being called as he was in the court during the trial, however, as noted Mr Stewart gave evidence.

Mr. Moore asked for an adjournment to call another witness, Quinn, by whom he hoped to prove that Lawless was proprietor at the time in question.

His worship asked "Why do you want this case adjourned?" "Because we have been taken by surprise," replied Mr. Moore. Mr. Haverson replied by saying that Mr. Moore had said at the start he was only going to call two witnesses, and now he has called on Mr. Stewart to give evidence, which was stringing it out. "In the defence, Quinn was not in possession of the premises since August 1st, and the defence has two witnesses to prove it.

Mr. Moore wanted the adjournment however to call an independent witness. Here Mr. Haverson produced a document proving his contention as to Quinn's occupancy, at the time claimed by him.

The magistrate said, "I don't and can't see, Mr. Moore, how you can claim to have been taken by surprise. It was or should have been part of your case to know who was the proprietor of the hotel at the time in question."

Mr. Moore said if the complainant knew that Quinn had been proprietor at the time, the charge would have been laid against him. He thinks he had a right to ask for an adjournment to find when, if ever, Quinn became the proprietor of the hotel.

The magistrate said if he granted no adjournment, it would simply be a personal matter as Mr. Moore had no possible right to talk of a surprise being sprung on him, as it was his duty to ascertain the proprietorship before beginning the case.

Mr. Moore asked that the case be adjourned for two or three days to get Mr. Quinn here. The magistrate, however, said, "No, I will not hold people here two or three days, I might consider an adjournment until this afternoon.

Mr. Haverson said the way the prosecution was carrying on its case, if the attention of the complainant were granted, the defence could not fight the case. It was only Inspector Stewart to have found out who was owner of the hotel. The Ontario license department knew that on August 1st or thereabout Lawless had a license at Bobcaygeon. The complainant have made out no case whatever. No case of surprise or hardship has been made out.

Mr. Moore thought it was impossible to bring Mr. Quinn here during the day.

The magistrate said he would allow an adjournment on the distinct understanding that the extra costs would have to be guaranteed by the complainant.

About six o'clock p.m., after the cases against Darcy, of the Burleigh Falls Hotel had been heard, Mr. Moore noted that Mr. Quinn who had been telephoned to, at Lakefield, was present in court. He went into the box and produced the agreement between himself and Lawless, concerning the bargain whereby Quinn got the hotel from Lawless. He did not know the exact date on which the agreement was signed, but it was after Aug 3rd. The agreement was that the witness was to take possession of the hotel and consequent receipts on Aug. 1st. He had taken the board money since the 1st. He did not move in however on the 1st, and not until some days later. The money taken in for the first few days over the bar was kept by the bar tender for Lawless, to whom Quinn owed money. He, however, expects to get credit for this money when they finally settle. He paid the bills and took the board money from and including Aug. 1st.

His worship after hearing eloquent pleading by both Mr. Haverson for the defence and Mr Moore for the prosecution, decided to withhold judgment, which will be given later, and as quickly presented to our readers

AFTERNOON SESSION.

At 2.30 the case against H. W. Darcy of the Burleigh Falls Hotel, began. There were three charges against Mr. Darcy. Mr. Moore appeared for the prosecution and Mr. O'Connell for the defence Mr Haverson, however, who was present in court later on, assisted in the defence The three charges included two cases of selling after legal hours and one for supplying liquor to an Indian.

The first witness called was Mr. Hansen, the Toronto government detective, who said he had gone on Aug. 1st to Darcy's Hotel at Burleigh Falls. He stopped at one of the cottages belonging to the hotel and got his meals there. At 10.30 p.m. he asked the proprietor's brother for a bottle of whiskey, which was given him, and for which $1.25 was paid. He took the bottle to the cottage and without opening it, placed his signature as well as that of Belleau, his accomplice on the label. The bottle was produced in court and eventually corralled by the chief license inspector, who will give it to a hospital. This evidence was practically corroborated by the other whiskey spotter, Belleau.

Belleau gave practically the same testimony.

Mr Haverson said these detectives unfortunately came to the hotel as noted However, detectives, as the word is known are supposed to hunt up evidence and convict after a crime has been committed Both of these men admit that had they not tempted the hotelman the law would not have been broken He had no defence but thought the lightest penalty possible should be imposed.

The magistrate said the means taken to secure a conviction are unfortunate Men should not try by every trick to get a man to break the law. It is not the duty of a detective to sail under a false name and try to trick a man into breaking the law. It was unjustifiable. These men coaxed and induced this man to sell them liquor. It would not be justifiable, under similar circumstances to get a man to break any other law. Darcy probably would not have sold the liquor but for the detectives coaxing him. The detectives should have gone to the proprietor himself instead of going to an invalid brother. Mr. Darcy would probably have refused to supply them. Still all I can do is to make a conviction and fine Mr. Darcy the minimum fine $50 and costs.

Mr. Eyres the chief government license inspector, then explained to the court that the so-called detectives had instructions where they actually saw liquor sold unlawfully that they might purchase to make a conviction They were however, strictly forbidden to beg for liquor or to put in a plea of sickness in order to get liquor. He would discharge any detective who did this. In fact, to use his words they were not to go bellyaching round to get convictions.

The next case was that also against Mr. Darcy who was accused of selling liquor to an Indian against the provisions of the law, said Indian being Jack Jacobs.

Once more Hanson the spotter, went first into the box and said he saw, whilst at Burleigh Falls hotel the Indian Jacobs, whom he described and recognized in court, enter the bar with two white men. One of the whites paid 15 cents for three drinks which were taken out of a tap at the end of the bar. He and Belleau later on went to that part of the bar and had some of the stuff out of the same tap. It was ale or strong lager. He was not near enough to overhear their conversation.

Belleau the other detective, corroborated the former witness' evidence and identified the Indian in court. Belleau said he saw three glasses of liquor drawn from a tap at the end of the bar. The beer was paid for by one of the white men. Then witness went round and got some liquid out of the same tap and it was ale.

William Macfarlane, the Indian agent from Keene testified that Jacobs the alleged Indian in question, was not on his books as a member of The Chemong Band Jacobs is constable of the band.

After further evidence by an Indian named Whetung and Jacobs himself was taken to prove that the man Jacobs, was not an Indian, the case was closed.

The magistrate said I will have to give this case serious consideration as it might establish a serious precedent. It may be two weeks before I render judgment.

It was past seven o'clock before the court adjourned.

Young Man Injured at Gilchrist Bay

Whilst Trying to Adjust a Belt a Young Man is Thrown on Circular Saw

Another of those regretable accidents that are seemingly inseparable from all industries where machinery comes in close contact with employees occurred on Thursday in the saw mill at Gilchrist's Bay, the result being that Wm Rotherson, son of Andrew Brotherson, 666 Concession St., east ward, now lies seriously injured. The accident happened at the saw-mill operated by Lynch and Ryan at the above mentioned place. Brotherson, attempted to put the belt leading from the engine on the jointer, when his hand slipped and was thrown upon the saw.

The flesh was badly lacerated from the elbow down to the wrist, and so serious was the injury that he was brought home. He now lies at his father's home, but it is scarcely known yet just how serious his injuries may be.

Obituary

Yesterday morning at the residence of Mr. M. E. Spence, 356 King street, the death occurred of Miss Elizabeth Patton, sister-in-law of Mr. Spence. The body was expressed to Oakville by the 11.45 G.T.R. train, where the funeral will be held tomorrow.

Park Street Church Notes

Those in charge of the Park street Baptist church affairs at their quarterly business meeting appointed delegates to attend the convention of the Ontario and Quebec Baptists, to be held in Woodstock in October. Those who will go from that church are Rev. A. H. and Mrs. Brace, Charles Barrie and Mr. Everson. It was decided to move the present church building to the west side of Park street early next week, in order that work may be commenced on the new church.

Isolation Hospital is Badly Needed

Scarlet Fever Recalls the Well Founded Demands of the Board of Health

Yesterday those "in the know" acknowledged in forcible terms, what has for the past few years been tacitly admitted, that the Board of Health, in their strenuous endeavors to have an isolation hospital erected to deal with contagious diseases, the right and necessity for such a building.

Now, a case of scarlet fever has developed in the city. A girl in the home of a well known business man where there are six small children is ill with this contagious disease, and the health authorities yesterday were confronted with the problem of what to do with her.

A meeting of the Board of Health was hurriedly called, and although there was not a quorum present the matter was discussed at length. Mr. Eyres, the chairman of the Board of Health, and Dr. Burnham were the only members in attendance.

Neither, on the city hospitals will take in cases of infectious diseases and as there is no isolation hospital the Board had to determine on some other way of disposing of the case.

It was decided to place a tent on the Hilliard farm and install the patient there with a trained nurse to look after her and to charge the expenses in connection with this course to the city.

The board's authority for such a step is found in section 106 of the Public Health Act, which is as follows:— In case the smallpox or any other disease dangerous to the public health, breaks out in any municipality, the health officers, or local Board of Health, in case the municipality has not already provided the same, shall immediately provide such a temporary hospital, hospital tent, or other place for the sick and infected, as they may judge best for their accommodation, and the safety of the inhabitants, at the cost of the municipality, and for that purpose may, themselves, erect such hospital tents, hospitals, or places of reception.

Peterboro's Fall Fair The Greatest Ever

Both Citizens and Farmers will Turn Out in the Thousands

This year's local fall fair will undoubtedly surpass all former exhibitions given in our good city of Peterborough. Those citizens who have taken the management of this year's exhibition in charge have spared neither time, trouble nor money in working towards the consummation of a great success this fall. It is a pleasure to every man and woman in this city to note the efforts these hard working men have given freely towards ensuring a grand success for the local fall fair this year.

It might be, of interest to note that the officers for this year are; Messrs. T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P., hon. president; R. R. Hall, M.P., hon. vice president; R. H. Leary, president; J. H. Garbutt, 1st vice president; S. F. Redmond, 2nd vice president; F. J. A. Hall, sec.-treas.

The directors are rather pluming themselves on the assured success that their fair of this year will certainly have. In our issue of Monday we will give a complete list of the many special prizes donated by local merchants in addition to the handsome regular and detailed prize list of $3500.

It is confidently expected that the cattle, sheep, swine, horse and poultry exhibits will surpass any thing ever seen here. In the poultry exhibits, many of our local fanciers have already expressed their determination to enter. The prizes are of no mean magnitude and will attract exhibits from every portion of Ontario.

It is now up to the farmers of our good and prosperous county to loyally back up their who have gone to such trouble and expense to bring the mighty subject of agricultural and stock raising in the true light that such matters should be viewed by both residents of city and county. The Peterborough Fair has for a few years past not received as full recognition and patronage as its merits deserve To think that the little village of Millbrook draws as large a crowd to its fair gates as does the vastly greater local exhibition is a reproach to both our city and county. This year however things promise

A THOUSAND JAPS TO ARRIVE TO-DAY

Trouble is Feared When the Two Steamers Reach Vancouver--One Hundred Special Policemen to Protect the Japs.

Vancouver, Sept 14.—No more anti-Oriental demonstration have occurred, and no renewal of rioting is expected until the arrival of the steamers India and Woolwich with more than a thousand Japanese today.

More than a hundred special police, including many mounted men, have been sworn in during the last twenty-four hours.

The labor interests and the Oriental Exclusion League propose to hold a great mass meeting. The authorities have prohibited a public gathering, but they assert that they will agree to police orders A clash is very likely to follow

Sir Wilfrid Laurier's reply to Mayor Bethune is being waited for. If not favorable, the Hindus will be sent to Ottawa en bloc for the Canadian government's disposition, as the Hindoos have been tried in every capacity here, and found worse than useless, owing to their religious peculiarities and physical incapacity. They continue to come in lots of a thousand, and are practically thrown on the public as paupers. As British subjects, they demand the rights of British subjects, and are a worse problem to solve than the Chinese and the Japs.

Robt. Wilson Caretaker of The City Buildings

Property Committee Will Recommend His Appointment to the City Council--Salary $450 a Year.

The Property Committee of the City Council met last night when there were present, Mayor R. F. Mc. Williams and Chairman Ald. McIntyre, Aldermen Morgan, Elliott and Stevenson.

There were 45 applications for the position of caretaker of the city buildings at a salary of $450 a year.

After an hour's consideration of the applications, the committee decided to recommend the appointment of Robert Wilson, as caretaker of the city buildings, messenger, and to perform such other duties as may be directed by the Property Committee.

This was the only business taken up.

Walked From Peterborough to Cobourg and Back Again.

On Thursday night Mr. A. Cooney, a local man fairly well on in years, arrived at the Windsor Hotel, Brock street, after a pretty considerably long walk. Mr. Cooney, who is fond of out door exercise, had some business to transact in Cobourg on Wednesday evening, and decided to put in the day of glorious September golden sunshine afoot, instead of being cooped up in a smelly railroad car. He left the Windsor Hotel at exactly seven a.m. Wednesday, and walked, via Bewdley, at the head of Rice Lake, and Port Hope, to Cobourg, arriving in that ancient and sleepy little town at 4.30 the same afternoon. After dining, through with his business Mr. Cooney, Thursday morning feeling but little the worse for Wednesday's tramp, once more mounted "shank's mare," and walked the whole return trip, arriving at the place whence he started at an early hour. This is pretty fair walking, for any man, let alone a man of Cooney's years. Many a younger man in this city were he to attempt such a tramp, would consider himself a candidate for a hospital before finishing the walk.

Crossed Atlantic in 6 Hours and 29 Mins. Less Than Record

THE RACE AGAINST TIME.

Distance from Chebourg, 3,054 miles.

Deutschland's time for trip, five days, 11 hours, 54 mins.

Average speed per hour, 23.45 knots.

Distance from Queenstown, 2,780 miles.

Lusitania's time for trip, 5 days and 54 mins.

Average speed per hour, 23.01 knots.

Previous record (by Lucania), five days, 7 hours, 23 mins.

Lucania's average speed, per hour.

Queenstown was left by the Lusitania at 12.10 p.m., Sunday, and reached New York at 8.43 a.m., American time, the shortest time in which the Atlantic has ever been crossed, from port to port. The vessel was delayed by fogs on both sides, the voyage was her maiden trip and she was held back for the full tide at the new New York channel.

Only 54 minutes kept the boat from establishing the first 4-day figure, but she will accomplish this later.

On the trip to Plymouth from New York the Deutschland has averaged 23.51 knots, and the Kaiser Wilhelm II., 23.58 knots.

New York, Sept. 13.—A new steamship record between a European port and New York was made by the Cunard Line's new giant turbine ship, the Lusitania, which arrived here today. The Lusitania left Queenstown, the nearest trans-Atlantic port to New York, at 12.10 p.m., Sunday, and arrived off the Sandy Hook Lightship at 8.05 a.m., American time, today, making the time for the trip 5 days and 54 minutes. This is 6 hours and 29 minutes better than the previous Queenstown-New York record of 5 days 7 hours and 25 minutes, held by the Lucania of the same line.

If You Read This

It will be to learn that the leading medical writers and teachers of all the several schools of practice recommend, in the strongest terms possible, each and every ingredient entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for the cure of weak stomach, dyspepsia, catarrh of stomach, "liver complaint," torpid liver, or biliousness, chronic bowel affections, and all catarrhal diseases of whatever region, name or nature. It is also a specific remedy for all such chronic or long standing cases of catarrhal affections and their resultants, as bronchial, throat and lung diseases (except consumption) accompanied with severe coughs. It is not so good for acute colds and coughs, but for lingering, or chronic cases it is especially efficacious in producing perfect cures. It contains Black Cherry bark, Golden Seal root, Bloodroot, Stone root, Mandrake root and Queen's root—all of which are highly praised as remedies for all the above mentioned affections by such eminent medical writers and teachers as Prof. Bartholow, of Jefferson Med. College; Prof. Hare, of the Univ. of Pa.; Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Med. College, Chicago; Prof. John King, M. D., of Cincinnati; Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., of Cincinnati; Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. D., of Hahnemann Med. College, Chicago, and scores of others equally eminent in their several schools of practice.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is the only medicine put up for sale through druggists for the purposes that it is, by such professional endorsement, more than any number of ordinary testimonials. Open publicity of its formula is the best possible guaranty of its merits. A glance at this published formula will show that "Golden Medical Discovery" contains no poisonous, harmful or habit-forming drugs and no alcohol—chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead. Glycerine is entirely unobjectionable and besides is a most useful agent in the cure of all stomach as well as bronchial, throat and lung affections. There is the highest medical authority for its use in all such cases. The "Discovery" is a concentrated glyceric extract of native, medicinal roots and is safe and reliable.

The Late William Webster

Calling for Tenders

It seems that 2500 barrels of Portland cement will be required in Messrs. Brown & Aylmer's contract on the completing link of the Trent Valley canal. The department of Railways and Canals, is calling for tenders for this number of cement, for use on the Trent canal. Tenders for supplying this quantity will be received up to September 18th. Mr. A. J. Grant of this city, can give full information to those tendering.

Presentations to Bro. R. Castle

On Thursday night an interesting ceremony was in evidence at the semi monthly meeting of Court Chemong, I.O.F., when the gold locket, donated by Dr. Greer for the 100 yards race, for Foresters alone, was presented to Bro R. Castle, who won the race. It is a handsome piece of jewelery, with the winner's name on one side, and on the reverse, "I.O.F. Field Day, 1907." Mr. Castle also won an I.O.F. badge presented by the court for another race He received both at this interesting presentation.

Goldfield the Greatest Wealth Producing Spot

Another Chance for Quick and Lucrative Dividends

Those of our readers who follow the mining and investment news of current date know well that in the famous Goldfield, Nevada, district, fortunes are in the making and made ever day.

The Simmerone Leasing and Mining Co., of Goldfield, Nev., have a proposition not only worth noticing but calculated to raise the pulse of him who wants an investment that will pay larger and quick dividends.

This company is no wild cat scheme, but a business proposition spoken of and endorsed by the Goldfield News, one of the most reliable and conservative journals making mining news a specialty. This company's proposition and prosperity is no mere prospect or chance but a proven and well developed property on which a shaft has already been sunk to a depth of some 265 feet. Two stations are now being cut at the 200 foot point both to east and west. Cross cuts, on completion of these will be driven both ways to the known ledges. The superintendent, a practical man, of acknowledged repute, thinks, in fact is confident, that within 30 days he will catch the celebrated Simmerone ledge in the western cross cut and soon have access to large quantities of the richest ore. It is of interest to know that the Simmerone ledge has had $75,000 worth of ore taken therefrom. For a limited time only the Simmerone Leasing & Mining Co., are offering a block of their stock, of par value of $1 per share at 20 cents for them For full particulars call on or address W Kelsey Hall, fiscal agent, Peterborough, Ont.

EXPENSIVENESS OF BABIES ONE CAUSE OF SCARCITY

One of the many alarming conditions created by the general rise in the prices of necessaries is the expensiveness of the modern baby.

The cost of keeping a baby was reckoned thirty or forty years ago, as nothing at all. A new baby added no appreciable amount to the yearly expenses of the family. He had his bottle of milk, just as the domestic cat had her saucer. His few and simple clothes were made for him by his mother and aunts, and his clothes were washed at home.

When he began to creep he was put into stout gingham or overalls, that neither soiled nor wore out easily, nor cost much money. Holes in his clothes were patched. When he outgrew his simple and almost indestructible garments they were handed down to the baby who happened to be his immediate junior; and there was nearly always an immediate junior.

In those days children, like the farmer's calves or pigs were regarded as valuable assets, costing little to maintain, which in later years would help to lift the mortgage or add a little to the family revenues.

Extravagant habits of living, which have been acquired during the long period of prosperity, have made the baby a heavy financial burden on its parents. As parents are more inclined to be foolish over their babies than over themselves, mothers who are economical enough in their expenses for their own clothes and finery, and fathers who cautiously smoke cheap cigars and pay no more than five cents for, eglass of beer, become in many cases reckless spendthrifts when purchasing for their children.

A few years ago only a millionaire would have paid thirty or forty dollars for a baby-carriage, but nowadays it is merely hard to get any sort of a baby-carriage for less than ten dollars, and many a workman pays as high as fifty dollars for a spider-wheeled, rubber-tired, richly-cushioned perambulator, and does not deem himself extravagant.

Gone are the cheap, durable, plain gingham dresses of the elder day. Mothers must keep their babies in white; and white clothes must be sent to the laundry an demarched; and the baby's laundry bill, in consequence amounts to the entire cost of maintaining the baby ought to be. Moreover, home-made, simple white dresses will not do for baby. His dresses must come from the fashionable shops and have as much embroidery and fancy stitching as the gowns of a bride. People whose incomes are less than $3000 a year gaily spend from $5 to $15 on dresses for children between one and three years old.

In the case of merchantable commodities scarcity is the cause of dearness, but in the case of babies it is costliness that produces scarcity. So long as babies are sheavy expense parents will be unwilling because they cannot afford, to have more than one and two. There is a correspondence between race suicide and the prices of perambulators and babies' clothes. Just as one fine American Beauty rose is produced at the cost of many other potential roses, nipped in the bud, so one little Lord Fauntleroy, in his three-dollar hat and fifteen-dollar suit of clothes, represents a Moloch's sacrifice. His costly clothes are bought with the patrimony of unborn brothers and sisters.

A meeting of the Burleigh and Anstruther Council was held in the Town Hall, Apsley, on Saturday, Aug. 31st.

Reeve Booth in the chair and all members present. Minutes of last meeting read and confirmed.

Communications were read from Wm. Bolton re 2nd con. road, south Burleigh; from R. R. Hall, M.P., acknowledging communication from council and F. Wilkins, Norwood, re survey of lot 34, con. 1, Anstruther.

Moved by C. McCauley, seconded by C. Tucker,—That Norman Wilson be paid $9.00 for building two culverts and work on Burleigh road.—Carried.

Moved by C. McCauley, seconded by C. Tucker,—That Wm. Bolton be allowed his taxes, less school taxes, for 1907, for repairs on boundary road, South Burleigh.—Carried.

Moved by C. Matthews, seconded by C. Tucker,—That Jas. Mollyeaux' account for plank, $4.66, be paid.—Carried.

Moved by C. Matthews, seconded by C. McCauley,—That Mr. S. Coones repair the Town Hall steps and windows.—Carried.

Bylaws to fix the rates and collect the municipal and school taxes and to appoint a collector for 1907, received their several readings, were passed sealed and signed by the Reeve and Clerk.

The total taxes required a rate of 18 mills, a reduction of two mills from last year.

Mr. S. Coones was appointed collector for 1907.

APSLEY

Rev. Mr. Garbutt returned from a visit to the Toronto Exhibition on Saturday.

Miss Louisa Bell returned from a visit to friends in Lakefield.

Miss Alma Young of the Buffalo General Hospital, is over on her holidays.

A serious accident happened on Sunday evening to three members of Wm. Hales, Reeve of Chandos, family. They were on their way home from church when a wheel came off the buggy and the horse bolted, all being thrown out. Miss Myrtle Hales escaped with a bad shaking up, Master Russell had his face and arm very badly skinned and bruised, while Miss Mildred received a nasty scalp wound and was rendered unconscious for some time. Dr. Bell was sent for and rendered the necessary assistance, and hoped no serious results would follow. The horse in his mad career collidd with Mr Fred Whitmore's rig, badly damaging it and throwing Miss Whitmore out, but fortunately without any injury. The horse was badly cut.

Miss Clegg has returned home after an extended visit to friends in Peterborough.

Mr. Norman E. Bell, Toronto, with Mrs. Bell and child, are on a visit to his father, Dr. Bell.

Mr. M. Kennedy is closing up his summer cottage at Loon Lake after a prosperous season.

Bass fishing is very good in Loon Lakes at present, some fine fish rewarding the sportsmen.

The Peterborough Lumber Co. are putting in a couple of camps at Jacks Lake for operations during the fall and winter.

To check a cold quickly, get from our druggist some little Candy Cold Tablets called Preventics. Druggists everywhere are now dispensing Preventics, for they are not only safe, but decidedly certain and prompt. Preventics contain no quinine, no laxative, nothing harsh nor sickening. Taken at the "sneeze stage" Preventics will prevent pneumonia, bronchitis, la grippe, etc Hence the name Preventics. Good for feverish children. 48 Preventics 25 cents. Trial boxes 5 cents Sold by all dealers.

A Great Demand for Harvest Help

Western Farmers Want Men for Late Harvest—C. P. R. Will Run Extra Excursion

Although several thousand men have gone west on earlier excursions the demand for harvest help still considerably exceeds the supply, latest advices from Winnipeg stating that farmers everywhere are shorthanded despite rumors of frost and short crops, there is well paid work in the field for all comers. A last opportunity for laborers is offered by the Canadian Pacific, which has arranged to run an extra Farm Laborers' Excursion to Winnipeg, leaving all Ontario stations, east and west, Tuesday, September 17th. Same conditions will apply as on earlier excursions, going trip $12.00, return for $18.00, after at least one month's work harvesting. Full particulars can be obtained from C. P. R. Agents and from C. B. Foster, District Passenger Agent, Toronto.

Picture of the Quebec Bridge

Mr. R. M. Roy, the local photographer, has an excellent picture of the Quebec bridge, which recently collapsed. The photograph is enlarged from a small picture of the structure taken on June 30th by Rev. Dr. O'Brien. The reverend doctor was returning from Europe at the time, and spent a short time in the ancient capital. The picture in Mr. Roy's window gives a fine view of the collapsed mass of steel.

Your Hair Needs Care

A little time devoted to the care of the hair works wonders. Just use Ayer's Hair Vigor, the new kind, systematically and conscientiously, and see the result. Stops falling hair, cures dandruff, makes the hair grow. Ask your doctor about this.

We publish the formulas of all our preparations.

Of Interest to Ladies

The visit of Prof. Dorewend to the Oriental Hotel, Peterborough, Friday and Saturday, Sept. 27 and 28 will afford the ladies of this city and surrounding country an opportunity of consulting him regarding their hair, its needs, and their requirements in all styles of hair goods. Prof. Dorewend carries with him a large and most varied assortment of his famous conceptions in switches, bangs, pompadours, wavy fronts and wigs. The equal of these high grade natural hair productions can not be procured from any hair goods dealer in America. Prof. Dorewend has the distinction of being the largest manufacturer and the most noted specialist in these goods. Private apartments are at the convenience of all who avail themselves of calling at the hotel on the days of his visit.

NOTICE

Take notice that the Municipal Council of the Corporation of the City of Peterborough intends, after one month after the last publication of this notice, to undertake the construction of a granolithic sidewalk on the west side of Dickson street from Murray street to McDonnell street in the City of Peterborough, as local improvements, under Section 678 of the Consolidated Municipal Act, 1903, and the other provisions of the said Act and the Bylaws of the City relating to local improvements and applicable thereto, and to assess the final cost thereof, less the cost of that part of the work which is incurred in respect of street intersections, and opposite exempted properties, and less forty per cent of the remaining cost of the work, to be provided by the Municipality, under Section 678 of the Consolidated Municipal Acts 1903, upon the properties fronting or abutting thereon and to be benefitted thereby, and the number of annual special assessments therefor will be twenty.

Persons desiring to petition the said Council against undertaking the said proposed work must do so on or before the 22nd day of October, 1907.

Dated the 5th day of September, 1907.

Depository ..... JOHN S. COOK & CO.
Bank of Goldfield, Nevada.

This company owns 4 claim (80acres) of some of the best proven mineral land in the Goldfield district, consisting of the Accidental and Accidental No. 2 lode claims, situated two and one-half miles south of the great Goldfield Consolidated Mines (comprising the Mohawk, Goldfield, Combination, Red Top, Jumbo and Laguna) the richest in the world; and the Broadway and Beauty lode claims situated three and one-half miles north of the Consolidated and about one and one-half miles northwest of the Great Bend and Daisy Mines near the Zion group in the Diamondfield section second only in richness to the great Mohawk portion of the camp. Phenomenally rich strikes have recently been made on the Consolidated, the Great Bend and the Daisy Mines.

The company has also succeeded in securing the Sure Thing lode claim (20 acres) in the Cuprite district, which has an immense gold bearing ledge, running the entire length of the claim 1,500 feet, outcropping in places over 50 feet wide, and met by several cross dykes all carrying fine values in gold, and is without doubt rightly named "Sure Thing."

All of these claims are located in the same mineral belt as the other noted mines of Goldfield that have astonished the world by their production of millions in high grade ore, and with the same development give equally profitable returns.

The money derived from the sale of this stock will be used at once for the active development of the property and the fact that all the directors are residents of Goldfield with years of successful mining experience who will give their personal attention at all times to the progress of the work goes to show that the first issue of 100,000 shares will meet with a quick and ready sale at the initial price of 10 cents per share.

We advise immediate action if you wish to participate in the vast profits of this Bonanza Mine.

Stock will be listed as soon as feasible on the Goldfield and San Francisco Stock and Exchange Boards. Would therefore advise purchasers to buy in board lots of 1,000 shares when convenient to do so.

Something New in Copper

PITTSBURG - IDAHO

Mining and Milling Company

The mine is located 58 miles above Lewiston, Idaho, on the Clearwater river, and consists of 19 full claims, or 380 acres. It is developed by tunnels, shafts and open cuts for more than 2100 feet, disclosing thousands of tons of copper, gold and silver ores of both high grade and low grade. There are between 1000 and 2000 tons of ore ready for shipment. The entrance to the working tunnel is only 2000 feet from the track of the Northern Pacific railroad, to be reached by gravity tramway. There are seven parallel veins running lengthwise of the claims, one cropping out on the surface for 2000 feet and another for 3000 feet; while two veins cross these running into the mountain. These veins are from 30 to 200 feet wide. One ore chute has been crosscut 70 feet and is solid ore from wall to wall.

We are not asking you to buy in a prospect. That risk was taken by the promoters. We are asking you to buy in a developed, proven mine. Seven years of continuous work and the expenditure of thousands of dollars has proven up one of the greatest mines in Idaho. That mine is now ready to pour out its red and yellow wealth to the world with the installing of an up to date production plant. It is for that purpose that a block of its treasury stock, full paid and non-assessable, is offered for sale. We believe that within six months from the completion of a 100 ton plant the mine can be put on a dividend paying basis, and that those dividends will be substantial and permanent. Thee is no better investment proposition before the people at this time.

CAPITALIZATION $1,000,000. - PAR VALUE $1.

THE CONQUEST of CANAAN

By BOOTH TARKINGTON,
Author of "Cherry," "Monsieur Beaucaire," Etc.

COPYRIGHT, 1905, BY HARPER & BROTHERS

For a moment or two he did not see his danger. At the clang of the door his eyes, caught by the gleam of a wide white hat, had turned toward the street, and he was somewhat fixedly watching Mr. Ladew extricate Ariel and her aged and indignant escorts from an overflow of the crowd in which they had been caught. But a voice warned him, the wild piping of a newsboy who had climbed into a tree near by.

"Joe Louden," he screamed, "look out!"

With a muffled roar the crowd surged back from the jail and turned toward the steps. "Tar and feather him!" "Take him over to the river and throw him in!" "Drown him!" "Hang him!"

Then a thing happened, which was dramatic enough in its inception, but almost ludicrous in its effect. Joe walked quietly down the steps and toward the advancing mob with his head cocked to one side, one eyebrow lifted and one corner of his mouth drawn down in a faintly distorted smile.

He went straight toward the yelling forerunners, with only a small bundle of papers in his hands, and then, while the nonpartisan spectators held their breath, expecting the shock of contact, straight on through them.

A number of the bulge checked formed the scattering van of these forerunners, charging with hoarse and cruel shrieks of triumph. The first, apparently about to tear Joseph Louden to pieces, changed countenance at arm's length, swerved violently and with the loud cry, "Head him off!" dashed on up the stone steps. The man next behind him followed his lead, with the same shout, strategy and haste. Then the others of this advance attack, finding themselves confronting the quiet man, who kept his even pace and showed no intention of turning aside for them, turned suddenly aside for him and, taking the cue from the first, pursued their way, bellowing: "Head him off! Head him off!" until there were a dozen and more rowdyish men and youths upon the steps, their eyes blazing with fury, menacing Louden's back with frightful gestures across the marble balustrade as they hysterically bleated the chorus, "Head him off!"

Whether or not Joe could have walked through the entire mob as he had walked through these is a matter for speculation. It was believed in Canaan that he could. Already a gust of mirth began to sweep over the sterner spirits as they paused to marvel no less at the disconcerting advance of the lawyer than at the spectacle presented by the intrepid daredevils upon the steps, a kind of lane actually opening before the young man as he walked steadily on. And when Mr. Sheehan, leading half a dozen huge men from the Farbach brewery, unceremoniously shouldered a way through the mob to Joe's side, reaching him where the press was thickest, it is a question if the services of his detachment were needed.

The laughter increased. It became voluminous. Homeric salvos shook the air. And never one of the fire eaters upon the steps lived long enough to live down the hateful cry of that day, "Head him off!" which was to become a catchword on the streets, a taunt more stinging than any devised by deliberate invention, an insult bitterer than the ancestral doubt, a fighting word and the great historical joke of Canaan, never omitted in after days when the tale was told how Joe Louden took that short walk across the courthouse yard which made him mayor of Canaan.

CHAPTER XXIV.

An hour later Martin Pike, looking forth from the mansion, saw a man open the gate and, passing between the ceremonial deer, rapidly approach the house. He was a thin, young fellow, very well dressed in dark gray, his hair prematurely somewhat silvered, his face prematurely somewhat lined and his hat covered a scar such as might have been caused by a blow from a blunt instrument in the nature of a poker.

He did not reach the door, nor was there necessity for him to ring, for before he had set foot on the lowest step the judge had hastened to meet him, not, however, with any fulsomely hospitable intent; his hand and arm were raised to execute one of his Olympian gestures of the kind which had obliterated the young man upon a certain bygone morning.

Louden looked up calmly at the big figure towering above him.

"It won't do, judge," he said, that was all, but there was a significance in his manner and a certainty in his voice which caused the uplifted hand to drop limply, while the look of apprehension which of late had grown more and more to be Martin Pike's habitual expression deepened into something close upon mortal anxiety.

"Have you any business to set foot upon my property?" he demanded.

"Yes," answered Joe. "That's why I came."

"What business have you got with me?"

"Enough to satisfy you, I think. But there's one thing I don't want to do"—Joe glanced at the open door—"and that is to talk about it here—for your own sake and because I think Miss Tabor should be present. I called to ask you to come to her house at 8 o'clock tonight."

"You did!" Martin Pike spoke angrily, but not in the bull bass of yore, and he kept his voice down, glancing

"Have you any business to set foot upon my property?" he demanded.

about him nervously as though he feared that his wife or Mamie might hear. "My accounts with her estate are closed," he said harshly, "if she wants anything, let her come here."

Joe shook his head. "No; you must be there at 8 o'clock."

The judge's choler got the better of his uneasiness. "You're a pretty one to come ordering me around," he broke out. "You slanderer! Do you suppose I haven't heard how you're going about traducing me, undermining my character in this community, spreading scandals that I am the real owner of Beaver Beach"—

"It can easily be proved, judge," Joe interrupted quietly, "though you're wrong; I haven't been telling people. I haven't needed to—even if I'd wished. Once a thing like that gets out, you can't stop it—ever. That isn't all. To my knowledge you own other property worse than the Beach. I know that you own half of the worst dens in the town—profitable investments too. You bought them very gradually and craftily, only showing the deeds to those in charge as you did to Mike Sheehan—and not recording them. Sheehan's betrayal of you gave me the key. I know most of the poor creatures who are your tenants, too, you see, and that gave me an advantage because they have some confidence in me. My investigations have been almost as quiet and careful as your purchases."

"You blackmailer!" The judge bent upon him a fierce, inquiring scrutiny, in which, oddly enough, there was a kind of haggard hopefulness. "And out of such stories," he sneered, "you are going to try to make political capital against the Tocsin, are you?"

"No," said Joe. "It was necessary in the interests of my client for me to know pretty thoroughly just what property you own, and I think I do. These pieces I've mentioned are about all you have not mortgaged. You couldn't do that without exposure, and you've kept a controlling interest in the Tocsin clear, too—for the sake of its influence, I suppose. Now, do you want to hear any more, or will you agree to meet me at Miss Tabor's this evening?"

Whatever the look of hopefulness had signified, it fled from Pike's face during this speech, but he asked with some show of contempt, "Do you think it likely?"

"Very well," said Joe, "if you want me to speak here." And he came a little closer to him. "You bought a big block of Granger Gas for Roger Tabor," he began in a low voice. "Before his death you sold everything he had except the old house, put it all into cash for him and bought that stock. You signed the check as his attorney in fact, and it came back to you through the Washington National, where Norbert Filteroft handled it. He has a good memory, and when he told me what he knew I had him to do some tracing. Did a little myself also. Judge Pike, I must tell you that you stand in danger of the law. You were the custodian of that stock for Roger Tabor. It was transferred in blank, though I think you meant to be 'legal'

Catarrh

To prove unquestionably, and beyond any doubt, that Catarrh of the nose and throat can be cured, I am furnishing patients through druggists, small free Trial Boxes of Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure. I do this because I am so certain, that Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure will bring actual substantial help. Nothing certainly, is so convincing as a physical test of any article of real, genuine merit. But that article must possess true merit, else the test will condemn, rather than advance it. Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure is a snow white, healing antiseptic balm, put up in beautiful nickel capped glass jars at 50c. Such soothing agents as Oil Eucalyptus, Thymol, Menthol, etc., are incorporated into a velvety cream like Petrolatum, imported by Dr. Shoop from Europe. If Catarrh of the nose and throat has extended to the stomach, then by all means also use internally, Dr. Shoop's Restoratives. Stomach distress, a lack of general strength, bloating, belching, biliousness, bad taste, etc. surely call for Dr. Shoop's Restorative.

For uncomplicated catarrh only of the nose and throat nothing else, however, need be used but

This Company was formed for the purpose of manufacturing all kinds of Iron, Steel, Metal and Wooden Goods, Agricultural Implements, etc., and to carry on the business of a foundry.

They are now turning out specialties in Ornamental Iron Work, Fences, Crestings, etc., for which there is a great demand far in excess of the present facilities of the Company.

Winnipeg and the West offers an unlimited market for the products, guaranteeing a paying investment from the start.

There is a limited amount of stock for sale, and this opportunity to purchase will not return.

The encouragement, coupled with the unexcelled opportunities open to such an enterprise, are in themselves sufficient guarantee of absolute safety and large profits.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry must be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made on certain conditions, by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

The homesteader is required to perform the homestead conditions under one of the following plans:—

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of the homesteader resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Six months' notice in writing should be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of intention to apply for patent.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.

SAVED HER LIFE!

Wife and Mother Restored to Her Anxious Family

St. John, N.B., Sept. 14.—At one time it was feared that Mrs. J. Grant, of 23 White street, would succumb to the deadly ravages of advanced kidney trouble. My first attacks of backache and kidney trouble began years ago. For six years that dull gnawing pain has been present. When I exerted myself it was terribly intensified. If I caught cold the pain was unendurable. I used most everything, but nothing gave that certain grateful relief that came from Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut. Instead of living bowed down with pain, today I am strong, enjoy splendid appetite, sleep soundly. Lost properties have been instilled into my blood—cheeks are rosy with color, and I thank the day that I heard of so grand a medicine as Dr Hamilton's Pills.

Every woman should use these pills regularly because good health pays, and it's good, vigorous health that comes to all who use Dr. Hamilton's Mandrake and Butternut Pills.

"Beggar My Neighbor."

By MARTHA M'CULLOCH-WILLIAMS.

Copyrighted, 1907, by Homer Sprague.

"Five—nine—eleven—thirteen." Miss Gatty counted anxiously, surveying her flock of hens. "I can't make out any more—but, dear me, the creatures fidget so—then they're all exactly alike."

Again she counted, again, yet again. The tale was still the unlucky thirteen. Miss Gatty looked worried. Well she might. The hens were not her own, but held in trust for her absent sister.

That, however, was less disquieting than the potentialities behind possible runaways. Since the missing three had not come to the feeding call, it was clear that they were either dead or in duress. Either state meant the same thing—trespass upon the Lalor lawn and strawberry beds. The Lalor establishment loomed big and imposing 200 yards away, but that was no distance at all to active foragers such as White Leghorns. Moreover, there had been trouble before—trouble which had left a residuum of strained relations between the big house and the cottage. The cottage was almost the Gattys' sole possession, albeit there had been a time when everything in sight had been Gatty land.

SHE WAS SOBBING—HARD, DRY SOBS.

"I don't know what to do. Susanna would go look for them," Miss Gatty said to the clothes post, her sole support and confidant. "I suppose I ought to do it, but then how can I? Those Lalors are so new and so rich they'd insult me—why, they weren't even afraid to be nasty to Susanna. Actually the woman told her she had no business to keep hens if she couldn't afford wired runs for them—as though we hadn't a right to keep anything we please on our own place. But I do wish they'd stay at home. And I wish Susanna were here. That's selfish. She is having a fine time at quarterly meeting and, patience knows, she goes seldom enough anywhere."

Miss Gatty was slender and pale and pretty if she had turned thirty. She had appealing brown eyes and slim hands, taper fingered in spite of house and garden work. She loved the garden. Indeed, it had been her salvation after she had worn herself to a shadow wrestling with primary scholars. She did not in the least mind hens there. True, they scratched and pecked and wallowed mightily, and her garden was, in fact, chaotic. Flowers grew indiscriminately cheek and jowl with vegetables.

Notwithstanding she understood how aggravating vagrant hens might be to more orderly gardeners; also that with strawberries ripe the flock was a beagn of destruction. Those at her feet, having eaten their breakfast to the last grain, began straying lightly and as they walked preening themselves. Watching them narrowly, she saw suspicious scarlet flecks upon more than one white breast. They had certainly been at the Lalor berries. She put her hands up over her head, thinking hard.

It was 8 o'clock of a lovely June morning. Birds sang riotously all about. Miss Gatty listened to them and said, nodding her head toward the hens: "I do believe all this comes of going against nature. If you had broods like the birds you'd be too busy feeding them to go hunting mischief."

"Humph! They'd be worse than ever. I say thank the Lord there are no squalling keepers to whoop them up. If there were—well, I'd have to move, that's all," a gruff masculine voice said behind her. Miss Gatty turned as though shot. What she saw confronting her evoked a strangled cry of dismay. A tall man stood glowering at her and swinging militantly a bunch of headless white hens. "I've brought back your property, not being a thief," he went on. "Now, let me pay you for the satisfaction I had in wringing their necks. Let me also warn you the rest will go the same way as sure as they cross my fence. Here, take the money. If $5 is not enough"—

"Will you please to go away instantly?" Miss Gatty said, actually stamping her foot. "Keep your money—keep the poor chickens too. Maybe they will pay some part of your damages"—

"Thank you. But I'm not in the poultry line—neither restaurants," the man said, flinging the dead hens at her feet. A fleck of blood flew upon Miss Gatty's faded frock. Noting it, the man said awkwardly: "Please excuse me. I've been acting the brute. But those berries were my pride"—

"You had a right to—do as you did," Miss Gatty panted. "Only—please go away! Go quick!"

She spoke stooping over the hens. The man looked at her, close enough to see two tears plash down on the corpses. He ran incontinently from the sight, but not altogether cravenly. Inside five minutes he was back with a basket of fine, dewy, scarlet berries. Miss Gatty had vanished. So had the slain. He walked around to the back door searching for her without finding. Being a determined person, he stepped boldly inside. Miss Gatty sat in the prim dining room, her head buried in her arms beside the old mahogany table. She was sobbing—hard, dry sobs. The intruder half turned as though to run away again, but thought better of it, stepped forward and set down his basket in front of her with a resounding thump. As she sprang up startled he said in an embarrassed voice: "Maybe you don't know who I am. My name's Lalor"—

"But I did know it. You should not be here," Miss Gatty panted. "Your wife"—

"Thank you, but I haven't got a wife—not yet," Mr. Lalor said, with a grin. "You must be thinking of my sister-in-law. Fanny keeps house for me, but she hates the place and wants to leave. I think I'll let her—and see if I can't have peace—and neighbors. Don't you think we ought to be neighbors? I do. So I've brought these," pointing to the berries. "Won't you give me some radishes to take home for my luncheon?"

"To be sure, I'll be so glad!" Miss Gatty cried, springing up, quite forgetful of tear stains, and darting toward her dear garden. She meant to go alone, but Andrew Lalor was right behind her. Long before the radishes were chosen they had buried all grievances, past, present and to come. Before he left she had told him all about Susanna—Susanna, who was the youngest, but had so much a wiser head on her shoulders. All unconsciously she had told him many other things—things that set him meditating and smiling all the way home. Once or twice, too, he blushed and gnawed angrily at his mustache, muttering: "Lord, to think that I offered her money! Took her for a quarrelsome old maid! It's going to take time to live that down, but I'll do it as sure as I'm six feet two!"

Susanna stayed on for a whole week. Quarterly meeting had turned out to be the beginning of a revival, but Miss Gatty did not mind in the least.

"You must not worry thinking I am lonely," she wrote. "I am quite too busy, keeping the hens as they should be kept. And really I am finding out that we have very good neighbors."

Susanna puzzled over that last sentence, at least until she came home to find Mr. Lalor established in the privilege of keeping ward over the foragings of the White Leghorns. Her eyes twinkled comprehension as he shook hands on presentation. He caught the twinkle and answered it boldly with: "Please may I have your sister Helen? I knew it would do no good to ask before you came home."

"Why, yes; I think you may," Susanna said, the twinkle deepening. "But do you think it is quite fair—this way of playing beggar my neighbor?"

"You're really responsible. Your hens have taught me to take what I want regardless of bounds," he flung back at her. Susanna laughed outright and answered honestly, "If they really did it I'm mighty glad."

The Last Step.

When we reach the higher studies of foreign languages we are told to seek diligently to learn to think in the alien tongue, as well as to read and write it. That is, we are expected to catch the meaning of the strange words without any connection with English or English speech.

From this one may come to appreciate the experience of a certain Porto Rican negro. He was asked, not very long after his arrival in the United States, if English was difficult for him.

"Oh, no," he said. "I learn her ver' quick."

"So you could understand it and talk it?"

"Oh, yes, ver' good. But I have one trouble ver' long time. I speak good, an' I hear good, but cannot dream in English. I always dream in Spanish. An' I feel ver' bad, an' I try so hard to dream English. An' one night I do. I dream English when I am asleep, an' I wake an' I cry, an' I weep for joy. I am happy. I can now dream in English."—Youth's Companion.

Not Deceived.

A pretty anecdote of a dog is given in Sir C. J. F. Bunbury's "Diaries and Correspondence." It was told by Sir George Napier. When the British army was in the south of France, after the battle of Toulouse, Sir George and several other officers visited the house of a gentleman who had a very fine dog, a poodle. The dog had been trained to receive food only when offered by the right hand, and the gentlemen amused themselves with testing his steadfastness in this respect and found that he constantly refused to take bread from the left hand. But when he came to Sir George, who, having lost his right arm, of course offered the bread with his left hand, the dog looked earnestly at him and accepted the bread. Then the other officers tried to deceive him by disguising themselves so as to appear to have lost the right arm; but the dog's sagacity was not to be baffled, and he steadily refused to take bread from the left hand except from the one who was really one handed.

—Mr John Hardill, traveller for Messrs T. Kinnear & Co., the local wholesale grocers, has returned from his trip to Apsley and the northern county. Out in Hamilton township he met Mr R. Howden of this city, who was bringing down two drove of sheep numbering over 200.

SIR CHARLES TUPPER OPPOSES EXCLUSION OF THE ASIATICS

Says Asiatic Immigrants Were Needed for Construction of G.T.P.

Our Policy is Wrong

Talks of The All Red Route and Kindred Topic.

Montreal, Sept. 16.—"The more I study the present British political situation the more I am convinced that the star of tariff reform and preferential trade is in the ascendant, and that the English people are more and more awakening to a sense of their duty to the Colonies if the parts of the great Empire are to be bound together as they should be. So confident am I of this trend of public sentiment that I feel certain that the present government of Great Britain will be defeated at the next general election by the Conservatives, who will make tariff reform the great plank in their platform."

This was the opinion expressed at the Windsor Hotel by Sir Charles Tupper, who with Lady Tupper and Miss Tupper arrived on the special train conveying the passengers of the Empress of Britain, which arrived at Quebec Friday night. The veteran statesman seems to be in excellent health and spirits after the long trip, which would excuse fatigue in much younger men.

"I am never so well as on the sea" he said with a laugh, when his appearance of vigorous health was alluded to, "and this is my sixty-second voyage. I will go on to Winnipeg tonight and will probably spend the winter in Vancouver with my son, Sir Hibbert. Next year I hope to return to England again, as my only daughter is living there."

VANCOUVER TROUBLES.

The allusion to Vancouver naturally suggested the recent disturbances there, and Sir Charles showed much interest in the matter, asking many questions regarding it, as he had not heard anything of it till he landed at Quebec.

"It is altogether too bad that such a thing should have occurred," he said, "especially in view of the close relations between Great Britain and Japan who is her greatest ally in the East. This outbreak seems to be due to the same influences as operated in San Francisco, and I regret very much that this spirit of racial prejudice should have extended to the Canadian coast."

In answer to a question as to what was his opinion of the Asiatic immigration problem in the west Sir Charles said that the men had been brought in on account of the great need of laborers in British Columbia. This scarcity had been especially felt in the work of constructing the Grand Trunk Pacific, and this road was largely responsible for the importation of Asiatic labor, which had been rendered necessary by the impossibility of obtaining a sufficiency of white labor. An attempt had been made to obtain a supply from Great Britain but the attempt had come to nought as the men brought over had deserted for the better opportunities that offered in other lines of work.

EXCLUSION SHORT-SIGHTED.

"Altogether I regard it as a very short-sighted policy," said Sir Charles, "to exclude those men who are said to be good workers and who are so much needed on the Pacific coast of the Dominion. The province is suffering from a need of labor; and as they

Sir Charles Tupper, Who After Some Months Absence, Has Returned to Canada.

Made Will After Getting Message From Black Hand

North Bay, Sept. 15.— The local Italian colony is very much excited over the appearance of Black Hand warnings. Frank Dececco, merchant, received the fatal missive so dreaded by sons of sunny Italy, informing him that he could choose quickly between death and donating one thousand dollars to the society of assassin designated by the Black Hand symbol. Dececco was very much alarmed, made his will, bade his wife and children farewell, and took the train in an attempt to reach Italy before laid low by the assassin band. The Italians believe that once marked by the Black Hand, death sooner or later is certain, that the society first squeezes the victim's money out of him, and finally, when he has nothing left, his life goes to swell the assassination roll of the mysterious and villainous society.

The letter received by Dececco is now in the hands of Crown Attorney Browning, and is without doubt a genuine Black Hand death warrant. How Dececco came under the ban of the society is not known.

$650,000 Value of Buildings Erected in 1907

That the building operations in Peterborough for the past six months have been on an extensive scale is borne out by the number of permits that have been issued by City Clerk Armstrong. So far this season the number is 221 and the total of building operations represented by them amounts to within a few dollars of $650,000.

It will thus be seen that the building operations of Peterborough during this season have been on an extensive scale, and the volume places this city well up in the list of the big cities of the Dominion.

While the number of buildings erected this year does not equal that of last year, though no official figures for 1906 are available because of the fact that no permits were issued, the value of the buildings erected is much greater.

This is accounted for by the fact that there are a number of large buildings under course of construction this year, buildings which help materially in reaching the total referred to above.

It is an encouraging fact that a large proportion of the money spent this year in building is for the improvement of the educational facilities of the city. A new Collegiate Institute building is being erected, at a cost of $60,000, while enlargements and improvements to the Public and Separate schools, as well as the erection of a new school in the south end of the city bring the total amount of money spent in educational buildings in the city up to a respectable proportion of the expenditure for new buildings. The erection of the Normal school provides an important addition to the facilities for the promotion of education in the city.

About $125,000 will be spent on the erection of new armories, and this is the largest individual item of expenditure in the city this year.

Some additions are being made to the manufacturing establishments of the city, the most important of which is the new transformer building for the C.G.E. Company, are being made and the balance is represented by the erection of new residences, of which a great many have been built during this year

Dr. McCulloch will Make a Report

Dr J. Malcolm McCulloch has returned from attending the annual meeting of the Canadian Medical Association in Montreal. There were about 200 physicians present from the different parts of Canada. Lieut.-Col Dr. Montizambert, a relative of Mr. A. Montizambert, manager of the Peterborough branch of the Bank of Montreal, was elected president. Dr. McCulloch, who is secretary of the local Medical Association, will present a report at the next meeting.

First U. S. Flag Over Kirkfield Lift Lock

Mr and Mrs. N. J. Matson of Pittsburg, Pa., arrived Saturday with their yacht, Elsie M., from Rice Lake. Mr. Matson has travelled over three thousand miles on these inland waters during the season. The family spent Sunday at the Snowden House and leave today for home. The Elsie M. was the first boat carrying the American flag over the Kirkfield Lift Lock, as Mr Matson's party went to Lake Simcoe. The yacht will be stored in Peterborough over the winter months. Mr. Matson had a most enjoyable time here last summer, but thinks that the waters of Rice Lake are not only more beautiful, as far as scenery is concerned, than the Upper Lakes and decidedly safe for steam launches. He noted that his party experienced great difficulty and danger in Stony and Lovesick Lakes, owing to unknown or uncharted subaqueous rocks in these waters.

Coal Famine Predicted

Operators in Pennsylvania Say That Labor and Water are Already Serious Problems

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 14.—Anthracite and bituminous operators say that the coal situation is growing serious throughout the state, and it is freely predicted that before midwinter there will be a famine.

The supply of water has already become a serious problem in the anthracite region. The Reading company is compelled to send between thirty-five and forty tank cars to its collieries daily to keep them in operation. The labor supply has been below normal for several weeks. Unless there is considerable rain it will be necessary to suspend operations at some collieries, it is declared.

The labor problem is serious in the bituminous fields of the state. Central Pennsylvania operators are advertising for miners, and agents are scouring the country for miners for the Pittsburg district. Both anthracite and bituminous operators are selling coal from stored stocks to supply the demand.

To Hurry Fleet to Pacific.

Anti-Oriental Agitation on Coast will Hasten Departure of Fleet

New York, Sept. 16.—While no official announcement will be made by Secretary Loeb, it was reported at Oyster Bay last night, that the President has summoned Secretary of the Navy Metcalfe to discuss a plan for for starting the battleship fleet for the Pacific a month earlier than was intended. The plan at first arranged called for the departure of the six-ships about the middle of December. Since then the President has followed closely the Oriental immigration troubles on the Pacific coast. Reports are constantly coming in from Pacific coast officials and since the Vancouver riots pressure has been brought to bear to hasten the departure of the fleet.

Woodmen Unveil Two Monuments

Interesting Ceremony at Little Lake Cemetery

Yesterday an interesting and impressive ceremony was celebrated in the presence of a large number of spectators at the Little Lake cemetery, when the members of Sherwood Forest Camp, No. 50, Woodmen of the World unveiled two monuments erected by the order and dedicated to the memory of the late Sovereigns, Richard Foster and Frederick Wyatt.

Among those invited to participate in the day's proceedings were; C. C. Hodgins, M.P.P., of Lucan, head counsel commander; W. C. Fitzgerald of London, head clerk; C. Cinnamon, of Lindsay, head advisor; L. H. Taylor, of Brantford, head manager; Deputies J. F. Millar, of London; R. Copeland, of Millbrook, and others.

The members of the camp met at their hall at 2.30 o'clock, and marched to the cemetery in a body, the unveiling of the monuments taking place shortly after three o'clock.

Pretty Wedding In St. John's Church

Miss Celia Laura Burton Wedded to Mr. Chas. J. Hutchison

On Saturday afternoon a pretty but unostentatious wedding ceremony was celebrated within the venerable stone walls of St John's church, when Rev. Canon Davidson united Miss Celia Laura, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Burton, Toronto, and Mr. Chas. J. Hutchison, of Toronto, in the holy bonds of matrimony.

The bride who was given away by her father, wore a handsome empire gown of ivory crepe de chine, yoke and bolero of rose point and duchess lace, with tulle and honitan lace veil, and wreath of orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of roses and lillies of the valley.

A reception was afterwards held at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. W. Oscar La Belle, 418 Charlotte street. Mr. and Mrs. Hutchison left for a short wedding trip, after which they will reside in Toronto.

The groom's gift to the bride was a diamond ring, and to the bridesmaid a handsome amethyst brooch set with pearls.

Police Court

At Saturday's Police Court Sidney Mitchell was charged with having a dog on which the tax had not been paid. Mr. Mitchell claimed that the dog had been left at his house by a former occupant. Witness said he gave the dog to Mr Leary, and the dog came back. He then gave it to Mr. Storey. He can't keep the dog as it comes into the store, and is a nuisance. He asked P. C. Newhall two months ago to dispose of the animal. Witness will not kill the dog, and did not want to pay the tax. The Magistrate remarked, "Now, Mr Mitchell, you could have shot that dog in one minute. The police are not compelled to shoot him." Witness replied by saying, "I have not got the dog. I gave him away to a man whose name I don't know." His Worship concluded by saying, "I'll enlarge the case until next Thursday, when you will either have to have the dog killed or tell us who owns him now."

Canadians Acquiring an Appetite

It is said that periodicals from the British Isles coming into Canada, number 150,000 more than three years ago. One periodical alone claims a 48,000 circulation, as compared with 3,000 a few years back. Toronto, as the educational center of the Dominion, has been one of the cities where the increased sale of English, Scotch and Irish papers has thrust itself upon the notice of anyone with open eyes. There are now in Toronto some stores which handle little else than British journals. They are patronized largely by immigrants, but the proprietors claim that Canadians also are getting an appetite for the Old Country stuff.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

ASSURANCE OF A GOOD CROP HELPS REAL ESTATE IN WEST

Confidence in Future and Loosening of Money Bags

Factors in Movement

People Waiting to See the Proportions of the Crop

The real estate situation in Winnipeg is improving. The assurance of a bountiful crop and the prospects of a freer circulation of money are factors in the condition of the market.

"Some people are merely waiting to see whether there will be a crop and of what proportions," said one agent "They still feel a bit scared about the grain but this feeling should soon pass away, and nothing other than a splendid business should result. This west is no longer a country that is dependent on every farmer having a great big crop. Some will have poor luck, but the majority at present are not afraid of anything. Of course for a time this spring, the outlook was very doubtful, but the croakers then have had to take a back seat and are heard only in whispers now.

"I am a firm believer in the future of the country, and particularly regarding Winnipeg. If the sun does not shine brightly one day it is almost sure to be out the next and I fail to see why people should show any signs of a panic when a temporary depression is taking place. The same conditions are applicable through out the land and if anything this city has better prospects than the most of them."

Another prominent dealer said; "With the assurance of a bountiful crop and the sure prospects of a freer circulation of money the real estate situation has brightened up considerably during the past week, and the improvement over previous weeks has been most marked. This has been especially the case with regard to selling houses and the demand for these is almost equal to the supply.

"I am confident that the temporary depression in Winnipeg undoubtedly caused by the stringency in the money market which is prevalent throughout the world, will not have the effect that some people appear to imagine. A glance at the map of Western Canada showing as it does the millions of acres of arable lands yet to be cultivated should make very many think before making the assertion that Winnipeg has received its quietus."

"With the completion of the Grand Trunk line and the Great Northern lines into Winnipeg coupled with the development of thousands of horse-power for the city on the Winnipeg river, Winnipeg will receive a stimulus that nothing on earth could check. If anyone in Winnipeg is of the opinion that the price of real estate in this city has reached its limit, let him go to St. Paul or Minneapolis, situated in the same position as this city will be in a few years, and compare prices."

"The average investor who purchased property during the past year or two shows no sign that he is afraid of the result and there is not the over surplus thrown on the market but some persons imagine. Payments continue to be met promptly and there is no the slightest semblance of anything in the nature of a panic. On the contrary, any realty here this is based is generally speaking at an advance of valuation on the purchase price.

"While at present quietness prevails and in all probability will prevail although to a considerable, until spring, mark my word, real estate will be bought and sold with regular old-time vigor at that time."

Was Sure That the Quebec Bridge Was Going to Fall

New York, Sept. 14.—The World today says;

Swenson and Swenson, real estate dealers at Flushing, gave out yesterday a letter said to have been written by their brother Carl Swenson, a boss employed on the Quebec bridge, which fell on Aug. 20. Swenson's letter is dated the day before the disaster. He was killed.

The letter reads;

"I doubt very much whether the bridge will ever be finished, since the first and second panels of the bottom chord of the cantilever, Quebec side, are buckling.

"I want to be in New York when she falls. If the bridge goes it will be the worse wreck that ever occurred.

"Don't show this to anyone. This part is no fool catcher story."

Cardinal Richards Warns Catholics of a Double Peril

Paris, Sept. 17.—Cardinal Richard, archbishop of Paris and the head of the Roman Catholic Church in France who has represented the Vatican policy on all church questions, had addressed a letter to the clergy of France in which he comments forcibly on current religious conditions. The letter was written in connection with the approaching pastoral retreat at Issy.

Cardinal Richard points out that the pope has spoken twice this year in a vigorous manner on affairs of the church. The first message was his encyclical to the bishops, clergy and people of France condemning the "unChristian constitution which the anti Christian sects wished to impose upon the church in France in bringing forward the associations cultuelles."

The second time the holy father spoke, the cardinal continues, was when he reproved the errors of critics and books "designed to penetrate the souls and destroy teachings of the Catholic faith." These errors were "put forth under the perfidious and fallacious pretext of bringing the church into harmony with the development of human intelligence and the progress of modern science."

"This is the double peril," adds the cardinal, against which we must guard, the destruction of the Church and of Christian society, the laws prepared by un-Christian sects, and the crisis of the soul seduced by the mendacious exposition of doctrine."

Hogs of Matthews Co. All Inspected

Explanation of Unfortunate Misunderstanding of Former Article

In our issue of a few days ago we noted that a local hog buyer had, in speaking about the government hog inspectors, congratulated himself that two loads had "gone through without inspection. The report went on to say how our informant had gone on to note the close inspection made by the inspector.

We are, since this issue referred to in receipt of a communication from the Messrs. Geo. Matthews Co., stating that the report in question had been brought to that company's attention by Dr. Ransome the government inspector here. The communication from Messrs. Matthews said further that they deemed absolutely (and without doubt in all veracity) that two loads of hogs were through their yards without inspection.

Now we might state that when the subject matter of our article referred to, was given one of our reporters. The hog buyer giving us the story mentioned, neither the name of the government inspector quoted in Messrs. Matthews letter, nor was it ever known to The Times man, and most certainly Messrs. Matthews factory was not mentioned in any way, shape or form. Our informant led us to believe that the two loads of hogs he told us about were hogs shipped through or from Peterborough to either Montreal or Toronto. No mention was made of nor did the name of Messrs Mathews Co., suggest itself to us. We are even now, without contradicting the spirit of the communication received, not sure that this well known company was referred to. Of course, it is possibly limited business, i.e., limited to the number of people or firms handling such products our informant may have, such rose, attempted to deal a blow in the dark, but no intimation or suggestion of such act was conveyed by, or contained in the conversation by our reporter and his informant. The firm of the Geo. Matthews Co., is too well known throughout Canada, let alone in this city, to think that they would, for a moment entertain a proposition as seemingly suggested by their communication. To repeat, the name of this firm was not mentioned during the time the drover in question gave our representative the information, nor did it occur to our reporter nor the city editor, that such firm who affected by the drover's tale. And most certainly, as a natural sequence the Messrs. Matthews name was not and could not have been quoted in the article referred to.

Bride Drowned on Honeymoon

Swept Into River From Yacht and Husband is Unable to Save Her Life

Philadelphia, Sept. 16.—Mrs. Marguerite Croft, bride of a few weeks and wife of John Croft of 124 Casino street, New York, was swept overboard from a yacht in the Delaware River here today and drowned. Mrs. Croft and her husband, who were on their honeymoon, were guests of C. M. Bennett of this city on the sloop yacht M R E E A. A storm broke and the halyards were torn loose by a gust of wind. The boat jibed and the boom swung round and struck Mrs. Croft, knocking her over the rail into the water. Mr. Croft plunged into the stream after her, but the efforts to save her were futile.

To be a Hard Year for Catarrh Sufferers

Noted Authority Gives Advice to Prevent and Relieve Catarrh

The coming months will be a harvest for the doctors and patent medicine manufacturers unless great care is taken to keep the feet dry, also dress warmly.

This is the advice of a well-known authority and should be heeded by all who are subject to rheumatism, kidney and bladder troubles and especially catarrh. While the latter is considered by most sufferers an incurable disease, there are few men or women who will fail to experience great relief from the following simple home prescription, and if taken in time it will prevent an attack of catarrh during the entire season.

Here is the prescription which any one can mix: Fluid Extract Dandelion one-half ounce, Compound Kargon one ounce, Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla three ounces. Shake well in a bottle and use in teaspoonful doses after each meal and again at bedtime.

These are mostly vegetable ingredients and can be obtained from any good prescription pharmacy at small cost.

The Compound Kargon in the prescription acts directly upon the eliminative tissues of the kidneys to make them filter and strain from the blood, the poisons that produce all forms of catarrhal affections. Relief is often felt even after the first few doses and it is seldom that the sufferer ever experiences a return attack within the year.

This prescription makes a splendid remedy for all forms of blood disorders and such symptoms as lame back, bladder weaknesses and rheumatism pains are entirely dispelled.

As this valuable, though simple, recipe comes from a thoroughly reliable source, it should be heeded by every afflicted reader.

WHY STAY RHEUMATIC?

Nothing Short of Folly When Cure is Guaranteed with Ferrozone.

Rheumatism can't be cured so long as your system is weak and run down. You must first build up and get strength to fight off the disease.

Ferrozone cures because it builds up, because it renews the blood and dissolves the uric acid and the poisons that cause rheumatism.

It is proved right here that Ferrozone does cure.

Col H. M. Russ, of Edwards, St. Lawrence Co., one of the fine old heroes of the Civil War, was completely restored by Ferrozone. Read his statement:

"I couldn't get around without a cane and then only with difficulty. "Rheumatism took complete control of my limbs.

"The suffering was more intense than hardships on the battlefield.

"When my doctor had done his best I got Ferrozone.

"Then came a quick change.

"Ferrozone gave me comfort at once, eased the pain and took the stiffness out of my muscles.

"I am well today. Ferrozone cured me completely. I can jump and run like I did forty years ago."

Be sensible about your case. Ferrozone is known on all sides to be a cure that does cure. Why not get a supply today. The sooner you begin Ferrozone the quicker you'll get well. Price 50c per box or six for $2.50, at all dealers.

RAILWAY DEVELOPMENT IN ENGLAND

England now has eleven large railway systems, and the semi-annual reports recently issued are regarded by the shareholders as only moderately satisfactory. They show an increase of 3.6 per cent in earnings over the corresponding half-year of 1906 of 4.6 per cent in the expenditure, and of only 1.8 per cent in net revenue. The gross receipts amounted to £41,983,000, being a gain of £1,453,000, expenditure, £27,107,000, an increase of £1,186,000, and the net revenue £14,876,000 or £267,000 better than that of the 1906 period. Thus, while railways have benefited from the activity in trade, the increased business has cost more proportionately than it brought to the companies, the increase in operating expenses being from 64 per cent of the receipts to 64.5 per cent. Considerable capital expenditures are being made some of the roads, and more money is required to make dividends, so that a continuous increase is necessary if results are to be entirely satisfactory to the shareholders. While the increase was sufficient in the case of some roads, big companies such as the Great Eastern, the Brighton and the London, Chatham & Dover, had to make cuts in their dividends. One of its issues pays nothing. Various causes contributed to the losses, among them being some of a permanent character, such for instance as the development of the London tramway systems. The Brighton company is meeting this by electrifying its South London line. To companies which are not in a position to follow a similar course the charge in all probability means a permanent loss in connection with passenger train service, so that the immediate outlook for them is not of the brightest. All the roads are being supplied with coal on contracts which expire this year, so that the advance in the price of fuel will soon be felt. This will be no insignificant matter. For instance, in the case of the Great Northern, it is stated that an increase of a shilling a ton means an annual outlay of £40,000, and it is understood that the miners are demanding an increase of three shillings a ton. Demands of employes for advances in wages by no means are brightening the prospect of the English railway shareholders.

LABOR AND WAGES

The Canadian Courier offers some paternal advice to Labour, enjoining it not to loom itself too much, not to neglect opportunities for increasing its efficiency and not to pride itself on its numerical strength. The laborer "is in a better position than anywhere else in the world and is enjoying a prosperity unknown in economic history.

The last statement is only a half truth, however. Wages were never so high in all lines of labor as now, but the prices of the prime necessities of life, food, clothing and shelter, have advanced in proportion far beyond the increase of wages. The struggle to make ends meet was never fiercer or caused more anxiety among the toilers than now. The banks, too, will testify that deposits in their savings departments have not increased in proportion to the rise in wages, but probably rather decreased. In almost every line of commerce touching the workman's living, dealers, wholesale and retail have combined to advance prices in restraint of trade, and, therefore illegally. The grocer is probably an exception, but he himself is at the mercy of the wholesalers and manufacturers of many lines. In clothing, also competition seems fairly active.

It appears, therefore, that while wages are unprecedently high, the benefit has not accrued to labor, for obvious reasons. Other interests have combined with entire success to deprive him of that benefit.

The Courier's advice to labor as to moderation in other respects is both timely and to the point. Labor often allows zeal to outrun judgment, thus damaging its own cause in loss of public sympathy and otherwise.

There is no ethical difference between a combine in labor and a combine in anything else. There are occasionally faults on both sides for the strained relations, often running to enmity, between capital and labor—selfishness perhaps on one side and frequently unreasoning grasping on the other. The old-fashioned community of interests has disappeared, scorched and withered up by the spirit of opposition that unfortunately has possessed a large section of Canadian labor, more especially since it entered on an organic connection with labor on the other side, notorious for its violence, blind and blatant socialism and class hatred, leading to crimes which do not stop short of wanton destruction of property and even thuggery. It will be an auspicious day for Canadian labor when it shakes this international association. If the truth were generally known there are thousands of honest and industrious Canadian workmen who are heartily weary of the contention, humiliation, hatred, loss and tyranny against the freedom of fellow toilers which this connection has entailed on labor.

YOUR GOLD COINS.

See if Any of Them is Stamped With the Letter L.

"I got hold of a gold coin a short time ago, and it was marked with a letter L, which I supposed had been stamped upon it by some one who wished to keep watch as to whether he ever had it in possession again. I passed it along, to my landlord, I think, and thought nothing more about it for several months. Then I found out that I had been passing 'light' coin."

"How is that?" was the question of a listener.

"All coins, whether gold or silver, upon which a large L is stamped are light weight. When you get one of these stamped coins, the only thing to do is to take it to some assayer, who will weigh it and pay you about 10 per cent less than the face value of the coin for it. He will then place it in a crucible to be melted into gold bullion.

"The government itself mutilates these coins and in so doing turns the ruined currency right back into circulation, where some innocent party will become victimized by them.

"When the light coins are tendered for duties on imports they are weighed at the custom house, quickly stamped L for light and returned to the importer. If the latter cannot pass the coin off, he must take it to the retort to be melted.

"The light coins may be rendered light in the ordinary course of abrasion in circulation or they may have been sweated by parties who sell the gold dust thus bruised off the coin. The common mode of sweating is to place a number of gold coins in a sack and shake them up for a long time, when the gold dust will gather at the bottom of the sack."

Mules and Gray Horses.

"I wonder if that truck driver knows of any good reason for hitching that mule with the gray horse?" remarked a Georgian as he saw such a team halted at Chambers street and Broadway. "Let's ask him."

The driver only knew that the team was always driven together by order of the stable boss.

"Well," went on the southerner, "since I was a child I've always seemed to know that mules will follow a gray horse or hitch with him where they won't have any truck with a horse of any other color. I've seen the most unruly mules behave properly when in the company of a gray, but I've never heard a good reason given for the fact."

Shook to the Waiter.

There was a terrible commotion in the kitchen of the cafe. They could see it through the swinging doors. Some one went to investigate.

"What is it?" they asked when he had returned.

"A waiter fainted," he answered as he took his seat. "They are slapping him with wet towels, trying to bring him to. Did you see that woman who just left? She was the cause. She gave him a quarter tip."

How She Viewed It.

Perhaps she was jealous, perhaps she wasn't. Anyway, she had just heard of the engagement, and she could not help noticing the engaged girl's pride in her captured youth.

"Really," she said, and her lips curled scornfully, "there's no accounting for tastes, is there? Some people think they have won the game when they get the booby prize."

A Perilous Prospect.

Coldeck—I hadn't the heart to write a note. Break it gently to my wife, won't you? His Second—Now, don't feel that way about it, my boy. You're coming out of this affair safe and sound. Coldeck—But it is more serious than you think. I have reliable information that Wildshot will fire in the air.—Puck.

Position With a Pull.

Visitor—I understand that our friend Stuckup has got a position with a pull to it at last? Resident—That's right. By means of a rope he helps to yank cattle to slaughter in an abattoir.

Depository ..... JOHN S. COOK & CO.
Bank of Goldfield, Nevada.

This company owns 4 claims (80 acres) of some of the best proven mineral land in the Goldfield district, consisting of the Accidental and Accidental No. 2 lode claims, situated two and one-half miles south of the great Goldfield Consolidated Mines (comprising the Mohawk, Goldfield, Combination, Red Top, Jumbo and Laguna) the richest in the world; and the Broadway and Beauty lode claims situated three and one-half miles north of the Consolidated and about one and one-half miles northwest of the Great Bend and Daisy Mines near the Zion group in the Diamondfield section and only in richness to the great Mohawk portion of the camp. Phenomenally rich strikes have recently been made on the Consolidated, the Great Bend and the Daisy Mines.

The company has also succeeded in securing the Sure Thing lode claim (20 acres) in the Cuprite district, which has an immense gold bearing ledge, running the entire length of the claim 1,500 feet, outcropping in places over 50 feet wide, and met by several cross dykes all carrying fine values in gold, and is without doubt rightly named "Sure Thing."

All of these claims are located in the same mineral belt as the other noted mines of Goldfield that have astonished the world by their production of millions in high grade ore, and will with the same development give equally profitable returns.

The money derived from the sale of this stock will be used at once for the active development of the property and the fact that all the directors are residents of Goldfield with years of successful mining experience who will give their personal attention at all times to the progress of the work goes to show that the first issue of 100,000 shares will meet with a quick and ready sale at the initial price of 10 cents per share.

We advise immediate action if you wish to participate in the vast profits of this Bonanza Mine.

Stock will be listed as soon as feasible on the Goldfield and San Francisco Stock and Exchange Boards. Would therefore advise purchasers to buy in board lots of 1,000 shares when convenient to do so.

Something New in Copper

PITTSBURG - IDAHO

Mining and Milling Company

The mine is located 68 miles above Lewiston, Idaho, on the Clearwater river, and consists of 19 full claims or 380 acres. It is developed by tunnels, shafts and open cuts for more than 2100 feet, disclosing thousands of tons of copper, gold and silver ores of both high grade and low grade. There are between 1000 and 2000 tons of ore ready for shipment. The entrance to the working tunnel is only 2000 feet from the track of the Northern Pacific railroad, to be reached by gravity tramway There are seven parallel veins running lengthwise of the claims, one cropping out on the surface for 2000 feet and another for 3000 feet; while two veins cross these running into the mountain. These veins are from 30 to 200 feet wide. One ore chute has been crosscut 70 feet and is solid ore from wall to wall.

We are not asking you to buy in a prospect. That risk was taken by the promoters. We are asking you to buy in a developed, proven mine. Seven years of contniuous work and the expenditure of thousands of dollars has proven up one of the greatest mines in Idaho. That mine is now ready to pour out its red and yellow wealth to the world with the installing of an up to date production plant. It is for that purpose that a block of its treasury stock, full paid and non-assessable, is offered for sale. We believe that within six months from the completion of a 100 ton plant the mine can be put on a dividend paying basis and that those dividends will be substantial and permanent. Thee is no better investment proposition before the people at this time.

CAPITALIZATION $1,000,000. - PAR VALUE $1.

All promotion stock pooled during the sale of this treasury stock.

Messrs. Thos. Patterson & Co., Peterborough, Ont., are authorized to receive subscriptions for this stock, to whom all applications should be made.

THE CONQUEST of CANAAN

By BOOTH TARKINGTON,
Author of "Cherry," "Monsieur Beaucaire," Etc.

COPYRIGHT, 1903, BY HARPER & BROTHERS

at that time, and that was merely for convenience in case Roger had wished you to sell it for him. But just after his death you found yourself saddled with distillery stock, which was going bad on your hands. Other speculations of yours were failing at the same time. You had to have money. You filed your report as administrator, crediting Miss Tabor with your own stock which you knew was going to the wall, and transferred hers to yourself. Then you sold it because you needed ready money. You used her fortune to save yourself, but you were horribly afraid! No matter how rotten your transactions had been, you had always kept inside the law, and now that you had gone outside of it you were frightened. You didn't dare come out to Miss Tabor with the statement that her fortune had gone. It had been in your charge all the time, and things might look ugly. So you put it off, perhaps from day to day. You didn't dare tell her until you were forced to, and to avoid the confession you sent her the income which was rightfully hers. That was your great weakness."

Joe had spoken with great rapidity, though keeping his voice low, and he lowered it again as he continued: "Judge Pike, what chance have you to be believed in court when you swear that you sent her $20,000 out of the goodness of your heart? Do you think she believed you? It was the very proof to her that you had robbed her, for she knew you! Do you want to hear more now? Do you think this is a good place for it? Do you wish me to go over the details of each step I have taken against you to land you at the bar where this poor fellow your paper is bounding stands today?"

The judge essayed to answer and could not. He lifted his hand uncertainly and dropped it, while a thick dew gathered on his temples. Inarticulate sounds came from between his teeth.

"You will come?" said Joe.

Martin Pike bent his head dazedly, and at that the other turned quickly from him and went away without looking back.

Ariel was in the studio half an hour later, when Joe was announced by the smiling Mr. Warden. Ladew was with her, though upon the point of taking his leave, and Joe marked, with a sinking heart, that the young minister's cheeks were flushed and his eyes very bright.

"It was a magnificent thing you did, Mr. Louden," he said, offering his hand heartily. "I saw it, and it was even finer in one way than it was plucky. It somehow straightened things out with such perfect good nature. It made those people feel that what they were doing was ridiculous."

"So it was," said Joe.

"Few under the circumstances could have acted as if they thought so. And I hope you'll let me call upon you, Mr. Louden."

"I hope you will," he answered and then, when the minister had departed, stood looking after him with sad eyes, in which there dwelt obscure meditations. Ladew's word of farewell had covered a deep look at Ariel, which was not to be mistaken by Joseph Louden for anything other than what it was. The clergyman's secret was an open one, and Joe saw that he was as frank and manly in love as in all other things. "He's a good fellow," he said at last, sighing—"a good man."

Ariel agreed. "And he said more to me than he did to you."

"Yes; I think it probable." Joe smiled sorrowfully.

"About you, I mean." He had time to fear that her look admitted confusion before she proceeded: "He said he had never seen anything so fine as your coming down those steps. Ah, he was right! But it was harder for me to watch you, I think, than for you to do it, Joe. I was so horribly afraid—and the crowd between us—if we could have got near you—but we couldn't—we"—

She faltered and pressed her hand close upon her eyes.

"We?" asked Joe slowly. "You mean you and Mr. Ladew?"

"Yes; he was there, but I mean"—her voice ran into a little laugh with a beatific quaver in it—"I mean Colonel Flitcroft and Mr. Bradbury and Mr. Buckalew, too—we were hemmed in together when Mr. Ladew found us. And, oh, Joe, when that dwardly rush started toward you those three— I've heard wonderful things in Paris and Naples, cabmen quarreling and disappointed beggars, but never anything like them today"—

"You mean they were profane?"

"Oh, magnificently, and with such inventiveness! All three begged my pardon afterward. I didn't grant it—I blessed them."

"Did they beg Mr. Ladew's pardon?"

"Ah, Joe!" she reproached him. "He isn't a prig. And he's had to fight some things that you of all men ought to understand. He's only been here a few months, but he told me that Judge Pike has been against him from the start. It seems that Mr. Ladew is too liberal in his views. And he told me that if it were not for Judge Pike's losing influence in the church on account of the Beaver Beach story the judge would probably have been able to force him to resign, but now he will stay."

"He wishes to stay, doesn't he?"

"Very much, I think. And, Joe," she continued thoughtfully, "I want you to do something for me. I want you to go to church with me next Sunday."

"To hear Mr. Ladew?"

"Yes. I wouldn't ask except for that."

"Very well," he consented, with averted eyes. "I'll go."

Her face was radiant with the smile she gave him. "It will make me very happy," she said.

He bent his head and fumbled over some papers he had taken from his pocket. "Will you listen to these memoranda? We have a great deal to go over before 8 o'clock."

Judge Pike stood for a long while where Joe had left him, staring out at the street apparently. Really he saw nothing. Undoubtedly an image of blurring foliage, cast iron, cement and turf, with sunshine smeared over all, flickered upon the retinas of his eyes, but the brain did not accept the picture from the optic nerve. Martin Pike was busy with other visions. Joe Louden had followed him back to his hidden deeds and had read them aloud to him as Gabriel would read them on judgment day. Perhaps this was the judgment day.

Martin Pike had always been prompt. It was one of the things of which he had been proud. In all his life he had never failed to keep a business engagement precisely upon the appointed time, and the courthouse bell clanged eight when Sam Warden opened the door for his old employer tonight.

The two young people looked up gravely from the script laden table before them as Martin Pike came into the strong lamplight out of the dimness of the hall, where only a taper burned. He shambled a few limp steps into the room and came to a halt. Big as he was, his clothes hung upon him loosely, like coverlets upon a collapsed bed, and he seemed but a distorted image of himself, as if, save for the dull and reddened eyes, he had been made of yellowish wax and had been left too long in the sun. Abject, hopeless, his attitude a confession of ruin and shame, he stood before his judges in such wretchedness that in comparison the figure of Happy Fear, facing the courtroom through his darkest hour, was one to be envied.

"Well," he said brokenly, "what are you going to do?"

"Well," he said brokenly, "what are you going to do?"

Joe Louden looked at him with great intentness for several moments, then he rose and came forward. "Sit down, judge," he said. "It's all right. Don't worry."

(To be continued)

Carried It In His Head.

When four years old Mozart played minuets and learned music with facility, and at the age of six he composed a concerto for the harpsichord, which, though written strictly in accordance with the principles and technic of his art, was yet so overloaded with difficulties that it could not be played.

It is related that Mozart once happened to put off some music that he had been engaged to furnish for a court concert so long that he had not time to write out the part which he himself was to perform.

The Emperor Joseph, who was of a curious turn, chanced to be in the composer's studio when he asked: "Where is your part? I do not see it among these sheets of music."

"Here," responded Mozart, touching his forehead.

Rheumatism

I have found a tried and tested cure for Rheumatism! Not a remedy that will straighten the distorted limbs of chronic cripples, nor turn bony growths back to flesh again. That is impossible. But I can now surely kill the pains and pangs of this deplorable disease.

In Germany—with a Chemist in the City of Darmstadt—I found the last ingredient with which Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy was made a perfected, dependable prescription. Without that last ingredient, I successfully treated many, many cases of Rheumatism; but now, at last, it unfailingly cures all curable cases of this heretofore much dreaded disease. Those sand-like granular wastes, found in Rheumatic Blood seem to dissolve and pass away under the action of this remedy as freely as does sugar when added to pure water. And then, when dissolved, these poisonous wastes freely pass from the system, and the cause of Rheumatism is gone forever. There is now no real need—no actual excuse to suffer longer without help. We sell, and in confidence recommend

This Company was formed for the purpose of manufacturing all kinds of Iron, Steel, Metal and Wooden Goods, Agricultural Implements, etc., and to carry on the business of a foundry.

They are now turning out specialties in Ornamental Iron Work, Fences, Crestings, etc., for which there is a great demand far in excess of the present facilities of the Company.

Winnipeg and the West offers an unlimited market for the products, guaranteeing a paying investment from the start.

There is a limited amount of stock for sale, and this opportunity to purchase will not return.

The encouragement, coupled with the unexcelled opportunities open to such an enterprise, are in themselves sufficient guarantee of absolute safety and large profits.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry must be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made on certain conditions, by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

The homesteader is required to perform the homestead conditions under one of the following plans:—

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of the homesteader resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Six months' notice in writing should be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of intention to apply for patent.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.

The Smelting of Ore is the safest and most profitable business in the world.

We have fifteen mining properties, located in Kern County, California, carrying good values in Gold, Silver and Copper.

The smelter nearest to us is at Needles, 250 miles distant.

We propose to install on our properties a smelter to treat the ores from our own mines and to do custom smelting for others.

50 per cent. per annum is a moderate estimate of the profits we can earn. If you want to make a safe and profitable investment send for full information and investigate our proposition.

What Many Men Need

Dr. Hamilton Has a Prescription That "Sets" You Right Up.

When a man has lost ambition to "dig in" and stay at things—when he complains of headache, fullness in the right side, pains in the shoulder blade—it's purely a case of liver.

These symptoms invariably indicate a clogged, inactive liver. The body can't get rid of its wastes, and the whole system is half paralyzed.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills stimulate the liver into activity in one night. Being a mild vegetable laxative they produce results in a few hours. The bilious headache and constipation are cured, spirits rise, complexion clears, ambition returns. Nothing in the calendar so efficient for that tired lazy feeling as Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Very mild, don't interfere with work, invariably do lots of good. Try a 25c box, all dealers.

Nearly Choked by Fruit

On Friday afternoon the 12-year-old son of License Inspector Stewart, had a close call from death. It seems the boy whilst eating an apple accidentally swallowed, without masticating it, a good sized piece of the fruit which stuck in his throat, nearly choking and causing him much pain. The services of a physician had to be called in to remove the apple.

Lindsay Fair Improvements

The Lindsay Exhibition buildings have this year been painted, and a fine new horse shed added. Now, whilst our local exhibition buildings may not be decorated and ornate as "Solomon in all his glory" wait until the 27th inst., and it will be seen that the exhibits shown this fall here will be better than ever. Beauty is only paint deep in some buildings as in some women. The brightest flowers are not always the most sweet scented. What people go to a fair is to see the goods and stock shown. Still, Lindsay fair directors are to be congratulated on their energy.

Pain anywhere, pain in the head, painful periods, neuralgia, toothache, all pains can be promptly stopped by a thoroughly safe little Pink Tandy Tablet, known by druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets. Pain simply means congestion—undue blood pressure at the point where pain exists. Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets quickly equalize this unnatural blood pressure, and pain immediately departs. Write Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. and get a free trial package. Large box 25 cts. Sold by all druggists.

Peterboro's Health Matters Disoussed

Lindsay Post; Mr. Wm. Eyres, chairman of the Medical Health Board of Peterborough, says typhoid is epidemic in the city, and the M.H.O. says "Tisn't." Mr. Eyres better crawl into a hole quick—it won't do for an ordinary chairman to differ from the boss. The medical men along the Otonabee appear to be an independent bunch, anyway. There's Dr. Gray refusing to obey the chairman' order that all city doctors must report infectious cases to the Board unless paid the fee fixed by the association—$10 for fever, $20 for diphtheria, $100 for smallpox.

Havelook School Held in Church

The Havelock Standard says; School opened last week with all the old staff in charge, and the continuation class conducted by Mrs. P. S. Banes, late of Creddition, Ont. The latter class consists of 22 pupils already and more are expected to join soon. Mr. Banes taught all last week and will this, in the building adjoining the Presbyterian church, formerly occupied by the primary class, but he will soon be located in the school, in the room now occupied by Miss Warren's class.

The Baptist church has been rented by the board, and the primary class in charge of Miss Kelly, and the Sr. II. class in charge of Miss Treleaven, will occupy this building, which is admirably adapted for the purpose. Miss Warren is in charge of Part I. and II. classes, and will also teach French to the continuation class every afternoon from 3.45 to 4.30 for which extra work she will receive the sum of $50. Miss Day is in charge of her former room while Miss Buchanan is in charge of the Jr. and Sr. III. classes.

These gentlemen had their houseboats on the upper Kawartha Lakes and made Bobcaygeon their headquarters during the summer.

An Eight Legged Kitten

Charlie Poulson of Smith township, a boy 14 years of age, on Friday found a veritable curiosity in the shape of a kitten with eight legs. Unfortunately the kiten died shortly after its birth. This monstrosity was brought in and seen by many people at Dr. Johnston's veterinary office on Saturday. Whilst the deceased had it lived would have been eagerly sought for by a dime museum, what a blessing it is that it did not live and be found to have eight times the usual cat's caterwauling powers on a moonlight night.

Officers of George St. S.S. Board

Mr. Ed. Mann has been elected treasurer of the George street Sunday school board in the place of Mr. Art. Mann, who has gone to Toronto. Mr. R. B. Pearson was appointed assistant secretary, and Mr. W. Morrow, a librarian. The places of several teachers will be filled.

In reference to the $300 granted to both George street and Grace church Sunday schools for libraries by the Nicholls estate trustees, it has been decided to invest the $300 donated to George street, a new library not being required at present. With respect to Grace church school, it was agreed that $120 out of the $300 should be expended on new books, and the remainder invested until required.

Sir Chas. Tupper

are able to meet that want in some measure they should be received and should be well treated in this country."

"How are Canadian affairs progressing in England?" was asked, and in answer Sir Charles immediately began to talk tariff reform and preferential trade.

"There can be no question of the change of popular sentiment on this point, and it will be the strongest plank in the Conservative platform at the next elections. Every by-election shows the growth of the movement for a reform of the tariff in order that the Colonies may receive some trade preference from the Mother Country. There has been a great change here, and the movement has been steadily in favor of the proposed reform."

As an instance of the growth of popular sentiment on this subject, Sir Charles instanced the election of Bury St. Edmunds. The seat was won for the Conservative party by a son of a peer. It was said at the time, however, that this majority of 415 had been due to his family influence in the country. But the father of this member died, and he succeeded to the title, and the seat was again contested. This time an outsider without any family influence carried the seat on a tariff reform platform, in spite of the Liberal candidate, doubling the majority obtained by his predecessor. This showed conclusively that it was the principle and not the man that won the popular support.

CHANGE IN BRITISH FEELING.

"To what do you attribute this turn about of feeling?" was asked.

"I attribute it in a large measure to the recent conference of Colonial Premiers and especially to the action of the government in refusing to do anything to meet the united demand of all the Colonies that some measure of trade preference with the Mother Country should be granted them. This conference called public attention to the question, and the action of the government convinced a large portion of the people of the necessity of some change of policy in this respect."

ALL RED ROUTE.

The All Red Route next came up for consideration, and Sir Charles said that he was very strongly in favor of it, and naturally enough, as he was practically the pioneer of the movement for it. Many years ago he had come to a realization of the opportunities offered by the geographical position of the Dominion, and he was attempted at the time to realize an All Red Route, and would have succeeded had it not been for the "unconstitutional act of Lord Aberdeen's

A Lazy Liver

May be only a tired liver, or a starved liver. It would be a stupid as well as savage thing to beat a weary or starved man because he lagged in his work. So in treating the lagging, torpid liver it is a great mistake to lash it with strong drastic drugs. A torpid liver is but an indication of an ill-nourished, enfeebled body whose organs are weary with over work. Start with the stomach and allied organs of digestion and nutrition. Put them in working order and see how quickly your liver will become active. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has made many marvelous cures of "liver trouble" by its wonderful control of the organs of digestion and nutrition. It restores the normal activity of the stomach, increases the secretions of the blood-making glands, cleanses the system from poisonous accumulations, and so relieves the liver of the burdens imposed upon it by the defection of other organs.

If you have bitter or bad taste in the morning, poor or variable appetite, coated tongue, foul breath, constipated or irregular bowels, feel weak, easily tired, despondent, frequent headaches, pain or distress in "small of back," gnawing or distressed feeling in stomach, perhaps nausea, "sinking" or "risings" in throat after eating, and kindred symptoms of weak stomach and torpid liver, no medicine will relieve you more promptly or cure you more permanently than Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Perhaps only a part of the above symptoms will be present at one time and yet point to torpid liver or biliousness and weak stomach. Avoid all hot bread and biscuits, griddle cakes and other indigestible food and take the "Golden Medical Discovery" regularly and stick to its use until you are vigorous and strong.

The "Discovery" is non-secret, non-alcoholic, is a glyceric extract of native medicinal roots with a full list of its ingredients printed on each bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. Its ingredients are indorsed and extolled by the most eminent medical writers of the age and are recommended to cure the diseases for which it is advised.

in refusing to ratify the contract.

"I had obtained an Imperial subsidy for a line from Vancouver to Japan," he said, "and the Canadian government granted one for a line to Australia. Mr. Chamberlain promised me to give £75,000 if the Dominion would give £150,000 for the Atlantic service. Everything was ready, and the contract would have been ratified in 1898, had not Lord Aberdeen refused to sign it on the ground that the elections had put the Conservative party out of power.

"Being blocked here, I was still so anxious to see the measure carried through that I wrote to Sir Wilfrid Laurier asking him to see that this great opportunity was not lost, and pointing out to him the necessity of getting the contract ratified. But he thought he could do something better, and he proceeded to waste his time drawing up contracts which proved to be entirely inefficient. In the meantime the cost of shipping went up, and the splendid opportunity which lay within reach was allowed to slip away."

Stomach troubles, heart and kidney ailments, can be quickly corrected with a prescription known to druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. The prompt and surprising relief which this remedy immediately brings is entirely due to its Restorative action upon the controlling nerves of the stomach, etc.

New Isolation Hospital On Simcoe Street

The Mayor Reported That Dr. Bingham Advised That no Danger Would be Incurred by the Public From Isolating Scarlet Fever Case in Old Fire Hall

The Committee of the Whole City Council met last night, when there were present, Mayor R. F. McWilliams, and Aldermen Phelan, Leary, Wilson, Stevenson, Johnston, Bradburn, Morgan, McIntyre, Elliott, and Duncan.

The first matter taken up was that of the scarlet fever case isolated in a room over the old fire hall on Simcoe street. His worship explained that the medical health officer had sought his acquesence in placing the patient in the room in question, and he had replied that the health officer should be the best judge of the safety of such a course. The doctor was satisfied that the public would run no risk whatever from "isolating" the present case in the old fire hall building, and further pointed out that the only other course he knew of would be to put up a tent outside the city limits, and engage both a nurse and a watchman, which would entail considerable expense. His worship left this matter in Dr. Bingham's hands, replying that he should be the best judge of whether the old fire hall would be a safe place in which to keep any contagious case. He further opined that Mr. Eyres, chairman of the Board of Health, was perfectly satisfied with the arrangements so long as the responsibility was taken off his own shoulders.

While the committee did not approve of the medical health officer's course, they were divided as to the seriousness of the case in question.

Ald. Bradburn offered that the special committee did not think it advisable just now to erect a $7000 or $8000 isolation hospital. Toronto referred him in connection with this question to Belleville, as the only city of Peterborough's size having an isolation hospital. He had accordingly, written the health authorities of Belleville and received no reply yet. But he had noticed the other day in a Belleville paper that that city had no isolation hospital, and advised an inspection of Peterborough's isolation hospital, as a possible guidance for the construction of one in Belleville.

The question of isolation arrangements was left in the committee's hands.

A PROBABLE SETTLEMENT.

The mayor reported that Mr. J. Z. Rogers' claim for redress for filling in the creek, etc., has probably reached a stage when arrangements satisfactory to all parties concerned may be arrived at. It has been offered that two three foot pipes be placed for Mr. Rogers under the C.P.R. spur line so that connection with the water may be affected; also that a piece of bank be cut to allow of the flow of water emptying into the river at King street. The C.P.R. Co., the city, and the American Cereal Co., each to pay one-third the cost of such work. Should this proposition not be ratified by all parties concerned, then the city will have to fight this question out before the Board of Railway Commission.

STILL MORE LIGHTS.

Ald. Johnston reported that a Mr. Reid, who lives outside the city limits, is asking for a light in his neighborhood.

The committee decided not to consider Mr. Reid's application, he being a non-resident and ratepayer of North Monaghan.

The question of putting a light at railway crossing outside Jackson Park was left in the hands of the chairman of Fire, Water and Light Committee, Ald. Johnston.

UNCLE SAM HAS HEAP OF TROUBLE

Japs Expect War with Uncle Sam

Refuse to Buy Land in Alameda, But Would Purchase Improvements

Alameda, Cal., Sept. 17.—Robert B. Mott of the Alameda Land Company has had a remarkable experience with Japanese clients recently that shows that the little brown men believe that war between the United States and the empire of the Mikado is a matter only a few years distant. These Japanese, interested in Mr. Mott's property, have offered to buy the land on which the buildings rest.

The Japanese frankly stated that they did not wish to own any land in case of war, as they would want to quickly convert their property into cash and go back to Japan to fight for their flag of the rising sun. Mott's experience follows closely upon advices from Seattle that the Japanese there insist on having "war clauses" inserted in their leases, providing that in case of war between this country and the Japanese empire the lease shall terminate immediately.

Mass Meeting of Americans at Manila Calls for American Flag Only

Manila, Sept. 17.—At a mass meeting of 3000 Americans, resolutions were adopted protesting against indignities to the American flag and congratulating the Philippine Commission on the enactment of a drastic law prohibiting the display of any ensign except the American in the Philippines. The resolutions also invited the Filipinos to join with the Americans in making the policy of the Philippine Commission successful. Among those who delivered addresses at the meeting was Congressman McKinley.

The new law prohibits, under heavy penalties, the public display of any flag other than the American except those of recognized foreign nations. It is believed here that the law was passed by the direction of the President and Secretary of War.

The Filipino Nationalista party has adopted resolutions disclaiming any intention of showing disrespect to the flag and affirming its loyalty to the American government.

Divorce Evil Widespread in Omaha

The Statistics in Douglas County Show That Marriage is a Failure

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 17.—Reports that will be sent to the government Bureau of Statistics will tend to show that marriage in Douglas county is a failure.

In twenty years twenty-two divorces suits have been instituted for every one hundred marriages. Besides many thousand pairs of persons married in Omaha have been tried in other cities.

The official statistics indicate that a third of the marriages find their conclusion in the divorce court. The end comes sooner or later, though fifty-five per cent of the divorces are begun within three years of the wedding day. Eleven per cent of the wives and husbands tire of one another within a year of marriage.

A government expert who is gathering statistics in Omaha states that the figures he has compiled do not show the extent of marital unrest, but the quarrels and separations that do not go on the record reach about twelve per cent. of all marriages in this country.

COUNCIL CANNOT CONTROL THE ASSESSMENT

Said the Mayor Last Night--They Can Appoint Assessors but Not Instruct Them--South Ward Ratepayers Have the Sympathy of the Aldermen--But What is to be Done is a Knotty Question.

The City Council met in special session last night, when his worship, and all members except Aldermen Morrow and Tovey, were present.

A number of communications were referred to their respective committees.

The Bricklayers' Union objected to non-union men being employed by the city in constructing man-holes.

Ald. Leary did not see why a ratepayer of this city should not be employed on our city streets even should he not be a union man.

Ald. Bradburn reported that the non-union man in question was employed because a union man could not be secured when exigencies demanded that the work in question be done at once. The man in question however was eventually dismissed.

Representatives of the interested parties in question will be invited to meet the Board of Works should such a course be found necessary. It is understood, however, that the Bricklayers' Union has no longer any cause for complaint.

The suggestion that legal proceedings be taken to compel Mr. Bogue to re-open the portion of the Aylmer street drain that runs through his property, and which he filled in, was referred to the Legal Committee.

CONDITION OF POLICE CELLS.

Ald. Wilson asked if any steps had been taken to put the police cells in a more sanitary condition.

Ald. McIntyre replied that the cells have been cleaned, and the city engineer notified that the sewer is plugged.

RELAY SIDEWALK.

To a request made by Ald. Elliott, Ald. Duncan replied that Mr. Fitzgerald had been instructed to relay sidewalk torn up opposite the old Billard mills, north. But it will not be possible to lay a granolithic walk this year.

Ald. Morgan also urged that the walk on north side of Hunter street, across the bridge, from presso. walk to the bridge, be laid before sloshy weather arrives.

Ald. Duncan replied that this work will be taken up as speedily as possible.

NEW JANITOR APPOINTED.

Ald. McIntyre submitted the following report;

Gentlemen.—Your Property Committee beg leave to report as follows:—

1. We recommend that R. Sheehy be given a lease for one year at a rental of $25, of the ground immediately north of the Canadian Pacific Railway on the west bank of the river, in size about fifty-four by sixty-six feet, no existing rights nor the rights of pedestrians to be interfered with.

2. We recommend that the city clerk write to each of the parties who have the key of the powder magazine that completions have been made of the door being left open and of explosives being handled carlessly, and and requesting them to have the utmost care taken.

Your committee having received the resignation of Mrs. Stevenson, janitress of city buildings, recommend that it be accepted. We advertised for applications for the position of caretaker of city buildings and messenger, and recommend that Robert Wilson be appointed to these positions and to perform such other duties as the council may from time to time direct, and that he be under the direction of the city clerk; to be paid a salary of $450 a year payable monthly, his duties to commence on September 17th, 1907.

Your committee has completed the work of repairing the cow shed at the cemetery at a cost of $56 and recommend that a further sum of $22 be appropriated to purchase sheeting for it on the understanding that the carpenters will do the work or procure it done.

We recommend that this committee be authorized to purchase a table and chairs for the committee room.

The report was adopted.

In reference to clause one of the above report the city solicitor's advise that owners of boat houses on the property in question be charged a nominal rental in order to safeguard the city's rights, was referred to the Property Committee to take the necessary action.

STREET NUMBERING.

Ald Phelan submitted the following;—

Gentlemen.—Your Legal Committee beg leave to report as follows,—

1 Your committee considered a memorandum prepared by the mayor regarding the house numbering system suggesting that those parts of the city south of Lake street and west of Park street and the short streets in the other portion of the city be renumbered on the same system as the central portion. We recommend that these suggestions outlined by the mayor be adopted and that this committee be authorized to prepare a plan in accordance with them and report on the cost of carrying them out.

The report was adopted.

BYLAWS.

A bylaw to authorize the construction of a granolithic walk on Townsend street, passed its several readings.

A bylaw to appoint Robert Wilson janitor of the city buildings at a salary of $450 a year, was adopted.

POOR POLICY

Ald. Johnston offered that it was poor policy to construct sewers on streets where there is no water. Two cases for instance are Patterson and Townsend streets. He thought sewers should not be built until water service is assured.

His worship contended that the construction of a sewer induced the demand for water service.

Ald Wilson supported Ald. Bradburn, and asserted sewers have been built on streets where difficulty had been experienced in getting ratepayers to consent to taking the water service.

Ald. Bradburn contended that the city is going too fast in the expenditure of public monies under the present conditions of the debenture market, when money is dear.

Ald. Stevenson supported this contention. He pointed out that the better policy would be not to do any more public work than is absolutely necessary at times when money is dear, and when the season's work is plentiful; but in less prosperous years the money market is easier and work for men not so plentiful. The latter are the years when the city should undertake as much public works as possible, both in the interests of workingmen, who then find employment, and in the interest of the corporation, whose debentures will sell more readily.

No definite action was taken on this question.

PUBLIC ABBATOIR.

Ald Elliott here raised the question of the desirability of a city abbatoir being established, under the charge of a qualified inspector. This is specially needed now that the government has appointed inspectors to inspect animals killed at the packing houses and city slaughter houses. This would be was afraid create the danger of diseased animals being slaughtered outside the city and brought within the limits for sale. All meat retailed he urged should be slaughtered in a city abbatoir under competent inspection, in the interests of public health.

Ald Stevenson concurred in the above suggestion, and offered that a public abbatoir would possibly also promote the sellers of more meat in the market, and in smaller quantities, and consequently reducing the cost of meat retailed by butchers.

This matter will be taken up at a later date.

HIGH ASSESSMENT.

Ald McIntyre wanted to know why property in wards one and two is being assessed by Mr. McKee at so unreasonably a high rate. He has to avoid the south ward as every time he goes there he is blamed, as an alderman, for acquiescing in the increased assessment.

His worship explained that it might as well be thoroughly understood by the public that the council has no control whatever over the assessment, they have only the right to appoint assessors, but not to instruct them. Under the new act adopted in 1905 the assessors are bound to assess closer to actual values than previous to that to be roughly estimated enhanced values of property in wards one and two by reason of improvements which amount to about $1,000,000. Of course the new industries, while increasing values of other properties, do not relieve rate payers of any assessment, as they enjoy fixed assessment excepting in the way of school tax. The question now is, is Mr McGrath assessing ward three and ward four proportionately with Mr. McKee's values in one and two.

Ald. Elliott contended that property in the whole city has not improved to the amount of $1,000 in two years. And disproportionately high values have been placed on properties to which no improvements whatever have been made.

His worship argued that general improvements enhanced the value of individual property.

To Ald Bradburn, the mayor replied that the assessor under the existing act is supposed to assess to the actual values of properties.

Ald Morgan held if Mr McKee could not forget this fact.

Ald Bradburn offered that if property is assessed for every dollar building will stop.

Ald. Wilson said he had been informed that Mr McKee assessed to within 20 per cent. of actual values.

Ald Johnston contended that houses in wards three, four and five are selling as high as in one and two. Fixed assessment always enhances and increases land values.

Aldermen Duncan and Morgan contended that many citizens are willing to sell their properties for the amount of the assessment.

Ald Leary questioned this.

Ald Bradburn remarked that unless something were done by the council to relieve property owners, people would be driven away from the city.

No action was taken but from the opinions voiced it seems to be expected that the court of revision may have to deal with the whole of the south ward this year.

Council then adjourned.

Western Minister Seen by Times

Mr. W. S. Gore, Ex-Deputy Minister of British Columbia, Speaks on the Present Japanese Embroglio

On Saturday last a Times representative had the luck to meet a gentleman who not only has occupied a high position in British Columbia, but was known to our representative by intimate connection with the gentleman's past almost local environements.

To get down to facts, our representative met Mr. W. S. Gore, of Gore's Landing, Rice Lake. Now, as an introduction to this local article, we might mention that Gore's Landing, was called after the late Mr. Gore, whose widow, afterwards married the late Mr. T. W. Barron, for some 30 years, head master of Upper Canada College, Toronto. Mr. A. P. Poussette, K.C., one of Peterborough's leading lawyers, is a son-in-law of the late Mr. Barron, who married Mrs. Gore.

Now that the family history is given it might be noted, as many of our citizens are acquainted with Gore's Landing history, that Mr. W. G. Gore was here last Saturday and was seen by a Times correspondent, the account of this meeting being unfortunately crowded out of yesterday's issue.

Mr. Gore left some 30 years ago for the Pacific Coast and after being surveyor general for the British Columbia government was later on promoted to the responsible post of deputy minister of lands and works of British Columbia.

Our representative in conversation with Mr. Gore, asked his opinion on the present labor question there.

Mr. Gore answered our representative by saying "The whole question was undoubtedly owing to the manipulation of the labor leaders at San Francisco. He thought that the American labor agitators were altogether to blame, both for the labor and Japanese troubles in British Columbia. He thought that there should be really no trouble against the Japanese immigrants as they are absolutely necessary to the future development of that province as there is not enough white labor to develope the wonderful resources of the country.

Jamieson Died a Hero After Saying Farewell.

Blenheim, Sept. 16.—The news of the lamentable death of C. Reginald Jamieson, for many years a resident of this town, reached here on Saturday night from French River, New Ontario. It was sent by letter by his brother, Leonard, a fourth-year student at Toronto Medical College, to Mrs. Arch. Samson, with the request that she proceed at once to Birmingham, Mich., and break the news to his father and mother, the former until the past two years having been a Presbyterian pastor here.

HOPED FOR THE BEST.

The brother had been spending the vacation at French River, and no doubt sent the news by letter in the hope that his missing brother might turn up, and he could wire to that effect.

C. Reginald Jamieson was born near Port Hope 26 years ago, and was the eldest son of Rev. W. H. Jamieson, D. D. He came to Blenheim with his parents when ten years old, and lived here until his removal to Toronto a few years ago to attend the university. He passed through the Blenheim Public school and matriculated at the Ridgetown Collegiate Institute. He took a classical course at the university, but was greatly handicapped in his studies by defective eyesight, and was several years in completing his course. In his final year he was editor of Varsity, etc. He was married on Sept. 25th, 1906, to Sophia Catherino Hutchinson, daughter of Theodore Hutchinson, Toronto.

STORY OF FATALITY.

The accident which resulted in his death was most pathetic. He was boating near French River a week ago Saturday, and in a storm that came up he was wrecked with his wife and a lady friend on a small island. There they remained for two days, and then, driven by the sufferings of the women, the deceased decided to attempt to reach the mainland by swimming from island to island. He realized the difficulty of the undertaking and bade his wife a fond good-bye. After expressing to her his wishes as to the disposal of his personal effects, he also requested that, should he perish, and his body be found, his remains should be taken to Detroit and cremated. He then entered the water and was seen to successfully reach the nearest island and disappear over it. That was the last seen of him. A few hours later the ladies were picked up by a search party.

Have Sent Out 8,000 Emigrants

Officer of London Emigration Is In Canada Visiting the Settlers

Montreal, Sept. 16.—Some interesting information about the emigration methods in operation in England is given by Mr. G. A. Williamson, of London. Mr. Williamson, who arrived last night in this city, is the organizing secretary on the Emigration Committee of the General Unemployed Body for London, instituted under the Unemployed Workmen's Act of 1905. Mr Williamson's object in coming to Canada is to study for himself the opportunities offered to settlers by this country, and also to visit as many as possible of the families sent out by the Emigration Committee.

As explained by Mr. Williamson, the object of the committee is to help the vast army of the unemployed in the various districts of London, and while the committee consider that emigration cannot be regarded as a solution of the unemployed problem, it is for a certain number of selected cases a very satisfactory means of dealing with it. Up to the present time 8,000 men have been sent out, many of them with families.

The method of procedure followed by the committee is simple, but thorough. Applications for emigration are first classified by local distress committees, and cases eligible under the Unemployed Workmen's Act, and suitable under the conditions laid down, are submitted to the central office, after investigation has been made as to character. These cases are then carefully considered, and if the family passes through the searching ordeal successfully, it is emigrated, and given a start in the new country.

Boys Up for Stealing Fruit

Yesterday morning two small boys who, without taking measurements of each, are, possibly the size of frogs that sportsmen would pay so much a dozen for, for bait, were gathered in by the police.

The little boys, named respectively Thompson and Baker were held quite a time in the police station. The charge against them was that of breaking into Messrs. Minocolo's fruit stand on Hunter street, and stealing a quantity of goods. The boys were, in the meantime, sent to the Children's Aid Society's Shelter on Charlotte street. The case was enlarged until Wednesday.

Important Developments in Wireless Telephony

London, Sept. 14.—Within three or four weeks one of the most important developments in wireless telephony will be an accomplished fact. At the two experiment stations of the Radio-Telegraphic Company at Oxford and Cambridge an installation is in process of wireless telephonics worked on the Poulsen system.

Meanwhile the stimulus of the signature of the Berlin convention is already being felt. "Now that folk know where they stand," said Mr Boessen, the expert, "continental governments are already considering the commercial possibilities of wireless telegraphy between England and the continent.

"It is really quite easy. I have just come from Berlin, and from there we can send messages by means of a small portable station with a sixty feet mast right over Germany to Cullercoats or Cambridge some 700 miles distant, and not only when the atmosphere is favorable, but also under the worst conditions.

"Then we have just finished a series of interesting tests as to economising power, and at the same time having a reliable record of the message. By means of a photographic recording ribbon we can print the signals received even when the current is not strong enough to be audible in the telephone receiver. Of course, this will be a great help. If a vessel at sea is suffering from want of power we shall still be able to take it at a quicker rate and with greater certainty than any human operator could by listening.

"Another interesting test we made was to send a wireless message from a vessel lying at the quayside in Copenhagen to a vessel lying at its berth in Christiania. It was quite successful, and with our 2000 mile record just made in communication with a ship near the American shore from our Lyngby station makes us more confident than ever of wireless telephony as well as telegraphy across the Atlantic.

"By the way, we stopped our first mast last week at our transatlantic station in Ireland. This week we shall 'step' the second, and the third in a week or so's time. I am quite proud of our engineers, who have erected them in one piece, each measuring as it does 360 feet, or nearly as high as the cross on St. Paul's dome."

The meat eater and the vegetarian alike are charmed with the Grape-Nuts food. It has a crisp taste, with the delicate flavor of grape-sugar, and is instantly ready for the table without any cooking whatever.

Grape-Nuts furnish one of the daintiest scientific dishes ever placed on a breakfast table. "There's a Reason" Read "The Road to Wellville" in pkgs.

Countess In Murder Case

Is Fascinating Woman for Whom Men Will Commit Crime

Vienna, Sept. 17.—The circumstances in regard to the murder of Count Komarovsky at Venice have now been unfolded before the Austrian police, who are holding the Countess Karnosky, the fiancee of the nobleman, a prisoner here. The police place her apart among historic women for whom men will commit any crime. Not only the Count Komarovsky, who was murdered, but a Moscow lawyer, Prilukoff, who is a prisoner here, and the actual murderer, Naumoff, who is prisoner in Italy, left their wives, their children, their possessions and ruined their careers to follow her over Europe.

The Countess had known Prilukoff for three years; he was her lawyer in her divorce case against her husband, and thus they fell in love. He committed an embezzlement in Moscow and they fled together to Vienna. Afterwards she joined Komarovsky, whom she had known years before. Following this she met Prilukoff and told him that a young Russian nobleman, Nikolas Naumoff, was madly in love with her. She and Prilukoff agreed that Naumoff would be a splendid tool. She allege that Prilukoff suggested to her the idea of using Naumoff's jealousy of Komarovsky, telling him that the Count had treated her in a shameful manner. This so excited Naumoff that he determined to shoot the Count.

News Briefs

Boise, Idaho, Sept. 17.—George A. Pettibone, charged with complicity in the murder of Governor Steunenberg was taken to the hospital today in a critical condition, and an operation probably will be necessary. There will be no further prosecution of the case at present.

Wilmington, Del., Sept. 17.—Coroner's Physician Bastian announced today that the body of Michael Naughton, disinterred here this week supposedly for an examination for poison, was really exhumed to allow the widow to have a last kiss. When Mrs. Naughton, who had been separated from her husband for years, learned of his death from heart disease recently, she declared he had been poisoned. This was disproved.

Coblenz, Sept. 17.—More arrests have been made for betrayal of military secrets. There are now fourteen persons in custody, of whom twelve, including four civilians, one of whom it is said belongs to the nobility, will be charged with high treason. In the meantime all the prisoners are kept in the closest confinement. The two who will not be arraigned on the charge of high treason will appear as witnesses for the state, but they will not be released before the trial, which probably will be held in secret.

Paterson, N.J., Sept. 17.—After filling a tub with boiling water in her home, No. 29 Passaic street, Mrs. Maria De Franko, now occupying a padded cell in the police station, attempted today to scald her two small children.

Mrs. De Franko, according to the statements of her husband and their neighbors, has been acting as if insane for a long time, but not until last night did she become violent. A doctor called in last night pronounced her a fit subject for a lunacy commission.

Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 17.—Announcement of the discovery of an antitoxin that will kill diphtheria germs in the living human organism within three minutes has been made at the Ohio State University by Professor Blyle, physiological chemist, as the result of an exhaustive technical and intricate series of tests. The discovery is accredited to Theodore Wolfram, a German chemist now living in this city. The antitoxin was given tests in hospitals and private practice before announcement of its discovery was made. It is applied by infusion and can be applied in any quantity to the youngest patient.

London, Sept. 14.—Eugene Gurenow, French-Canadian charged before the Bristol justices with burglary, handed in a defence, in the course of which he said;

"My case is plain. It is thus: one of the men who, unable to find work and living by myself, fallen in fit and rage, becomes desperate and resorts to open violence as the last means to get out of his wretched state. Now I claim that as I was helpless, it was in the power of society to step in and prevent what happened, since it was easy to foresee I would become a public danger. I had no liking for so low a job as this burglary. I put it off many times, took to it with reluctance, and went to it without passion and hatred for anybody."

He was sentenced to six months' imprisonment.

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 16.—Two unknown men and one woman were killed and a dozen other persons narrowly escaped death in the collapse of the Dohar Shoe Company's four-story building in Central avenue yesterday. The building was undergoing repairs.

Tom Eastwood Has Had a Good Season

Mr. Thos. Eastwood, the popular boniface of the Buckhorn Hotel, was in the city yesterday a guest at the Snowden House. Mr. Eastwood yesterday noted, to a Times representative that the business season at his hotel this past season has, whilst possibly not excelling all previous records, was better than the preceding season. Mr. Anderson of Pittsburg, a fisherman stopping at Buckhorn, caught a 29 pound muskinonge at Little Buckhorn. James Mahoney, who with his family spent 15 days at Buckhorn got a lunge weighing 22 pounds. Whilst giving credit to Mr. Mahoney, Tom Eastwood says it was Mrs. Mahoney who caught this superlative fish in Little Buckhorn. This is Mr. Mahoney's 12th consecutive year on the Buckhorn waters.

JAPANESE IL BRAZIL

If the Japanese emigrate to Brazil in the numbers that are alleged to be going thither, we will soon have a new political problem in America. Japan has a surplus population of 400,000 a year to get rid of someway. If Brazil is wide open these people may go there, and if they do, it will not be long before they have the ascendency in that vast and rich country. The native Brazilians cannot hope to compete with the Japanese. The future of South America has always been a difficult problem. It is a vast region of enormous natural wealth and is only very sparsely peopled. Europeans have not exhibited any great desire to settle in the country, except in Argentina, principally because of the disturbed political conditions of the other countries, and to some extent because of a lack of congeniality on the part of the native population, which is largely a mixed race in which the blood of Spain and Portugal has been intermingled with that of the aboriginal tribes.

The considerations which influence Europeans would not give the Japanese much concern. They would easily adjust themselves to their new environment, and reach a degree of prosperity that they could not hope to attain in their own land. We think that under the broader conditions of life, that would necessarily prevail in a country like Brazil the Japanese would develop new characteristics and might very easily become much more formidable than they are now. With such a country inviting them, it is not likely that they will seek to intrude in any considerable number upon the people of North America, where they must now be convinced they are not wanted. South America may offer a solution of the Japanese question.

ONTARIO'S VITAL STATISTICS

In the last issue of the Sanitary Journal, of the Provincial Board of Health, Dr. Hodgetts, Chief Health Officer of Ontario, gives an interesting review of the vital statistics of the year 1904.

Births numbered 50,265, including still births, which numbered 1,690; the birth rate being 22.8 per thousand of the population, an increase of 0.7 over 1903. The birth rate in the rural districts being below the Provincial average The number of children born out of wedlock was 798, which was 16 in excess of the previous year and 15.8 per thousand births registered.

There was a slight falling off in the number of marriages registered, the total number being 19,789, or a rate of 8.9 per thousand of the estimated population.

The death rate for the year was 14.1 per thousand of the population, the total being 30,890, which is an increase of 0.7 per thousand in excess of 1903.

Comparing the deaths by age groups as registered during the past eight years, it will be observed that the increase has been constant with the exception of the years 1898 and 1900 in the case of infants under one year, the number for 1904 being 6,907; 724 in excess of what it was in 1897. In the group of 1 to 5 years there has been a gradual decrease—from 2,221 in 1897 to 1,612 in 1904, indicating a lessened danger to life in children, a fact which is still further emphasized in the groups of 5-9, 10-14 and 15-19, where the decreases have been 241, 84 and 79 respectively. From the ages 20 to 39 but little difference is noticed in the number of deaths, while after the age of 40 years the increase is gradual as follows; 40-49, 330; 50-59, 421; 60-69, 698; 70-79, 931, until in the last group of 80 and over the largest increase is found, being 1,204; in each case the comparison is made with the returns of 1897. The figures would indicate that the deaths are as might be expected; gradually increasing amongst those who were the early settlers in the Province, the hard work and privations of this Province apparently have but little effect in shortening their life's span

The figures of the group of communicable diseases, in the order of mortality are as follows;— Diphtheria and Croup 806, Typhoid Fever 482, Influenza 331, Scarlet Fever 163, Whooping Cough 109, Measles 30, Smallpox 3. It will be seen that diphtheria continues to be the most fatal of the contagious group, and a further study of the returns shows it to have prevailed generally throughout the Province, a statement which can also be made of influenza.

There is a decreased mortality in the case of scarlatina, the deaths dropping from 580 in 1903 to 163 in 1904, a fact which is largely attributable to the better enforcement of quarantine regulations.

The figures however show that 79,546 persons have died of tuberculosis in 34 years since 1870, the returns for 1875 being omitted. This total, large as it is, does not correctly represent the actual number of deaths that happened, for it is quite apparent that the returns of the first five years of the group, viz., 1870 to 1974 inclusive, are far short of the correct figures, a sudden increase being noticeable in 1876, and again in the year 1902; a sudden drop of close upon 600 indicates not so much a decline in the deaths from consumption as it does that many persons suffering from consumption and dying that year were stated to have succumbed from other and perhaps secondary causes. The reason for this drop may possibly be due to the public having taken alarm, and it was not fashionable, indeed it is considered by many a disgrace even to suffer from, leave alone die, of this contagious disease. The meagre knowledge acquired by the public regarding consumption has caused many to consider it a personal and family reflection that a person is afflicted with this disease, and this accounts largely for the sudden drop in the returns, for there has been no corresponding decline in the total returns, and a comparison of 1903 and 1904 with a gradual increase indicates the slight change in public opinion.

Popular Mchanics for October

From the cloying sweets of fiction with which so many magazines seek to hod itheir readers, one turns with keen appreciation to the profusely illustrated Popular Mechanics magazine, sure that he will find in its pages not only entertainment, but instruction as well. Ever true to its motto, "Written so you can understand it," this publication describes all the modern achievements in mechanics, in a manner designed to hold the most disinterested reader in thrall. The October number contains in all 143 articles and 124 illustrations, and among the interesting features are a description of a process for chemically producing sugar from elements almost as free as air; how the big palatial ocean liners of the present age are taken out of the water after every voyage and given an overhauling both inside and out That surpasses anything in the way of spring house cleaning ever undergone; a new system of draining a marsh by means of a water wheel; a method of teaching swimming on dry land; how the railroad is conquering the African interior—a vivid description of the dangers besetting such enterprise in the Dark Continent; and many other fully as interesting A Wisconsin farm lad recently discovered a comet with a telescope of his own construction. He tells just how he built the instrument, and incidentally one gets a picture of a wondering youth going out at night to gaze at the stars and dream until at last they kindle the fires of his own nature to ambition and attainment. The article will be a source of inspiration to many a boy of limited opportunities. For the practical mechanic there are 47 illustrated articles describing ways other men have found of improving or lessening their work, and for the amateur mechanic there is a splendid department describing devices other amateurs have found amusement, instruction and profit in building.

A Mild Laxative

Ask your doctor to name some of the results of constipation. His long list will begin with sick-headache, biliousness, dyspepsia, thin blood, bad skin. Then ask him if he would recommend your using Ayer's Pills for constipation. Just one pill at bedtime, a few times, that's all.

We have no secrets! We publish the formulas of all our preparations. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

A Correction

In our issue of Saturday it was noted that Mr. A. Cooney had walked last week from here to Cobourg and back in 24 hours. Mr. Cooney called at The Times office to say that this was incorrect and that he took no such walk. The story was given to us by acquaintances of Mr. Cooney, who assured us the matter was given in good faith. We find from Mr. Cooney that there is no truth in the story of his walk. It may seem funny to some people to give fictitious stories to a newspaper man but the joke is of poor quality and unfair both to the paper which takes such informants at their word and still more unfair to the party the story refers to.

Depository ..... JOHN S. COOK & CO.
Bank of Goldfield, Nevada.

This company owns 4 claim (80 acres) of some of the best proven mineral land in the Goldfield district, consisting of the Accidental and Accidental No. 2 lode claims, situated two and one-third miles south of the great Goldfield Consolidated Mines (comprising the Mohawk, Goldfield, Combination, Red Top, Jumbo and Laguna) the richest in the world; and the Broadway and Beauty lode claims situated three and one-half miles north of the Consolidated and about one and one-half miles northwest of the Great Bend and Daisy Mines near the Zion group in the Diamondfield section second only in richness to the great Mohawk portion of the camp. Phenomenally rich strikes have recently been made on the Consolidated, the Great Bend and the Daisy Mines.

The company has also succeeded in securing the Sure Thing lode claim (20 acres) in the Cuprite district, which has an immense gold bearing ledge, running the entire length of the claim 1,500 feet, outcropping in places over 50 feet wide, and met by several cross dykes all carrying fine values in gold, and is without doubt rightly named "Sure Thing."

All of these claims are located in the same mineral belt as the other noted mines of Goldfield that have astonished the world by their production of millions in high grade ore, and will with the same development give equally profitable returns.

The money derived from the sale of this stock will be used at once for the active development of the property and the fact that all the directors are residents of Goldfield with years of successful mining experience who will give their personal attention at all times to the progress of the work goes to show that the first issue of 100,000 shares will meet with a quick and ready sale at the initial price of 10 cents per share.

We advise immediate action if you wish to participate in the vast profits of this Bonanza Mine.

Stock will be listed as soon as feasible on the Goldfield and San Francisco Stock and Exchange Boards. Would therefore advise purchasers to buy in board lots of 1,000 shares when convenient to do so.

Something New in Copper

PITTSBURG - IDAHO

Mining and Milling Company

The mine is located 68 miles above Lewiston, Idaho, on the Clearwater river, and consists of 19 full claims, or 380 acres. It is developed by tunnels, shafts and open cuts for more than 2100 feet, disclosing thousands of tons of copper, gold and silver ores of both high grade and low grade. There are between 1000 and 2000 tons of ore ready for shipment. The entrance to the working tunnel is only 2000 feet from the track of the Northern Pacific railroad, so he reached by gravity tramway. There are seven parallel veins running lengthwise of the claims, one cropping out on the surface for 2600 feet and another for 3000 feet; while two veins cross these running into the mountain. These veins are from 30 to 200 feet wide. One ore chute has been crosscut 70 feet and is solid ore from wall to wall.

We are not asking you to buy in a prospect. That risk was taken by the promoters. We are asking you to buy in a developed, proven mine. Seven years of continuous work and the expenditure of thousands of dollars has proven up one of the greatest mines in Idaho. That mine is now ready to pour out its red and yellow wealth to the world with the installing of an up to date production plant. It is for that purpose that a block of its treasury stock, full paid and non-assessable, is offered for sale. We believe that within six months from the completion of a 100 ton plant the mine can be put on a dividend paying basis, and that those dividends will be substantial and permanent. Thee is no better investment proposition before the people at this time.

CAPITALIZATION $1,000,000. - PAR VALUE $1.

CHAPTER XXV.

MRS. FLITCROFT at breakfast on the following morning continued a disquisition which had ceased the previous night only because of a provoking human incapacity to exist without sleep. The Tocsin had been her great comfort.

"Yes, young man," she said as she lifted her first spoonful of oatmeal, "you better read the Tocsin!"

"I am reading it," responded Norbert, who was almost concealed by the paper.

"And your grandfather better read it," she continued severely.

"I already have," said the colonel promptly. "Have you?"

"No, but you can tell me. I will."

"All right," said Norbert, suddenly handing her the paper. "Go ahead."

"Ha!" exclaimed Mrs. Flitcroft. "Here it is in headlines on the first page: 'Defense Scores Again and Again. Ridiculous Behavior of a Would Be Mob. Louden's' "— She paused, removed her spectacles, examined them dubiously, restored them to place and continued, "'Louden's Masterly Conduct and Well Deserved' "— She paused again, incredulous—"'Well deserved Triumph' "—

"Go on," said the colonel softly.

"Indeed I will," the old lady replied.

"Look at the editorials," suggested Norbert. "There's one on the same subject."

"'The best of us make mistakes, and it is well to have a change of heart sometimes.'" Thus Eugene's successor had written, and so Mrs. Flitcroft read. "'An open confession is good for the soul. The Tocsin has changed its mind in regard to certain matters and means to say so freely and frankly. After yesterday's events in connection with the murder trial before our public, the evidence being now all presented, for we understand that neither side has more to offer, it is generally conceded that all good citizens are hopeful of a verdict of acquittal, and the Tocsin is a good citizen. No good citizen would willingly see an innocent man punished, and that our city is not to be disgraced by such a miscarriage of justice is due to the efforts of the attorney for the defendant, who has gained credit not only by his masterly management of this case, but by his splendid conduct in the face of danger yesterday afternoon. He has distinguished himself so greatly that we frankly assert that our citizens may point with pride to'"— Mrs. Flitcroft's voice, at the beginning pitched to a high exultation, had gradually lowered in key and dropped down the scale till it disappeared altogether.

The Tocsin's right about face undermined others besides Mrs. Flitcroft that morning and rejoiced greater, though not better, men than the colonel. Mr. Farbach and his lieutenants smiled, yet stared, amazed, wondering what had happened. That was a thing which only three people even certainly knew, yet it was very simple.

The Tocsin was part of the judge's restitution.

"The controlling interest in the paper, together with the other property I have listed," Joe had said, studying his memoranda under the lamp in Roger's old studio, while Martin Pike listened with his head in his hands, "make up what Miss Tabor is willing to accept. As I estimate it, their total value is between a third and a half of that of the stock which belonged to her."

"But this boy—this Flitcroft," said Pike feebly; "he might"—

"He will do nothing," interrupted Joe. "The case is 'settled out of court,' and even if he were disposed to harass you he could hardly hope to succeed since Miss Tabor declines either to sue or to prosecute."

The judge winced at the last word. "Yes—yes, I know, but he might—he might—tell."

"I think Miss Tabor's influence will prevent. If it should not—well, you're not in a desperate case by any means. You're involved, but far from stripped. In time you may be as sound as ever. And if Norbert tells there's nothing for you to do but to live it down." A faint smile played upon Joe's lips as he lifted his head and looked at the other. "It can be done, I think."

It was then that Ariel, complaining of the warmth of the evening, thought it possible that Joe might find her fan upon the porch and as he departed whispered hurriedly, "Judge Pike, I'm not technically in control of the Tocsin, but haven't I the right to control its policy?"

"I understand," he muttered. "You mean about Louden—about this trial"—

"That is why I have taken the paper."

"You want all that changed, you mean?"

She nodded decisively. "From this instant, before morning."

"Oh, well, I'll go down there and give the word." He rubbed his eyes wearily with his thumbs. "I'm through fighting. I'm done. Besides, what's the use? There's nothing more to fight."

"Now, judge," Joe said as he came in briskly, "we'll go over the list of that unincumbered property, if you will."

This unincumbered property consisted of Beaver Beach and those other belonging of the judge which he had not dared to mortgage. Joe had somehow explained their nature to Ariel, and these, with the Tocsin, she had elected to accept in restitution.

"You told me once that I ought to look after my own property, and now I will. Don't you see?" she cried to Joe eagerly. "It's my work!" She resolutely set aside every other proposition, and this was the quality of mercy which Martin Pike found that night.

There was a great crowd to hear Joe's summing up at the trial, and those who succeeded in getting into the courtroom declared that it was worth the struggle. He did not orate.

"I understand," he muttered. "You mean about Louden"—

he did not "thunder at the jury," nor did he slyly flatter them. He did not overdo the confidential, nor seem so secure of understanding beforehand what their verdict would be that they felt an instinctive desire to fool him. He talked colloquially, but clearly, without appeal to the pathetic and without garnitures, not mentioning sunsets, birds, oceans, homes, the glorious old state or the happiness of liberty, but he made everybody in the room quite sure that Happy Fear had fired the shot which killed Cory to save his own life. And that, as Mr. Bradbury remarked to the colonel, was "what Joe was there for!"

Ariel's escort was increased to four that day. Mr. Ladew sat beside her, and there were times when Joe kept his mind entirely to the work in hand only by an effort, but he always succeeded. The sight of the pale and worshiping face of Happy Fear from the corner of his eye was enough to insure that. And people who could not get near the doors, asking those who could, "What's he doin' now?" were answered by variations of the one formula, "Oh, jest walkin' away with it!"

Pain anywhere, pain in the head, painful periods, neuralgia, toothache, all pains can be promptly stopped by a thoroughly safe little Pink Tansy Tablet, known by druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets. Pain simply means congestion—undue blood pressure at the point where pain exists. Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets quickly equalize this unnatural blood pressure, and pain immediately departs. Write Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. and get a free trial package. Large box 25 cts. Sold by all druggists.

History of Ivory.

The earliest recorded history—we might say prehistoric, the hieroglyphical that has come down to us has been in carvings on ivory and bone. Long before metallurgy was known among the prehistoric races carvings on reindeer horn and mammoth tusk evidence the antiquity of the art. Fragments of horn and ivory engraved with excellent pictures of animals have been found in caves and beds of rivers and lakes. There are specimens in the British museum, also in the Louvre, of the Egyptian skill in ivory carving attributed to the age of Moses. In the latter collection are chairs of seats of the sixteenth century B. C. inlaid with ivory and other pieces of the eleventh century B. C. Carving of the "precious substance" was extensively carried on at Constantinople during the middle ages. Combs, caskets, horns, boxes, etc., of carved ivory and bone, often set in precious stones, of the old Roman and Anglo-Saxon periods are frequently found in tombs.

Constipation

Baked sweet apples, with some people, bring prompt relief for Constipation. With others, coarse all-wheat bread will have the same effect. Nature undoubtedly has a vegetable remedy to relieve every ailment known to man, if physicians can but find Nature's way to health. And this is strikingly true with regard to Constipation.

The bark of a certain tree in California—Cascara Sagrada—offers a most excellent aid to this end. But, combined with Egyptian Senna, Pippery Elm Bark, Solid Extract of Prunes, etc., this same Cascara bark is given its greatest possible power to correct constipation. A toothsome Candy Tablet, called Lax-ets, is now made at the Dr. Shoop Laboratories, from this ingenious and most effective prescription. Its effect on Constipation, Biliousness, Sour Stomach, Bad Breath, Sallow Complexion, etc., is indeed prompt and satisfying.

No griping, no unpleasant after effects are experienced, and Lax-ets are put up in beautiful lithographed metal boxes at 5 cents and 25 cents per box.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry must be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made on certain conditions, by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

The homesteader is required to perform the homestead conditions under one of the following plans:—

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of the homesteader resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Six months' notice in writing should be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of intention to apply for patent.

Wives and Mothers Suffer with Backache

Unfortunately They Fail to Recognize the Dangerous Cause of the Trouble.

Constantly on their feet, attending to the wants of a large and exacting family, women often break down with nervous exhaustion.

In the stores, factories, and on a farm are weak ailing women, dragged down with torturing backache and bearing down pains.

Such suffering isn't natural but it's dangerous, because due to diseased kidneys.

The dizziness, insomnia, deranged menses and other symptoms of kidney complaint can't cure themselves, they require the assistance of Dr. Hamilton's Pills which go direct to the seat of the trouble.

To give vitality and power to the kidneys, to lend aid to the bladder and liver, to free the blood of poisons, probably there is no remedy so successful as Dr. Hamilton's Pills. For all womanly irregularities their merit is well known.

Because of their mild, soothing and healing effect, Dr. Hamilton's Pills are safe, and are recommended for girls and women of all ages. 25 cents per box at all dealers. Refuse any substitute for Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut.

City Topics

IN SHORT FORM FOR BUSY READERS

—Nothing doing in police circles yesterday.

—Last night the City Council met in executive session. Particulars on first page.

—There is a mouth organ and case picked up on George street at the police station. Who owns it?

—A meeting of the Class Leaders' Association will be held in George street church this evening. A full attendance is requested.

—St. Andrew's Auxiliary of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society meet in the lecture hall this afternoon at three o'clock.

—The harvest festival of All Saints' church will be held on Friday night. Rev. Canon Spragge, of Cobourg, will be the special preacher.

—Should smallpox break out in the city will a central George street store be commandered into service to "Isolate" the disease?

—Chairman Eyres is most properly very much against bringing contagious diseases into the heart of the city for isolation purposes.

—Lindsay Poultry Show has been fixed for September 22nd and 23rd. It is likely a number of local birds will be sent up and take prizes.

—Mr. P. Simons yesterday opened up his new 20th Century Cleaning establishment at the corner of George and Hunter streets. Mr. Simons will, in a day or two, have a full line of cloth samples for suits, etc.

—The Young People held a big rally in Murray street church yesterday evening. Addresses were delivered by C. B. Shutt, of Toronto, and Rev. L. McKinnon, of Gilmour Memorial church.

Stomach troubles, heart and kidney ailments, can be quickly corrected with a prescription known to druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. The prompt and surprising relief which this remedy immediately brings is entirely due to its Restorative action upon the controlling nerves of the stomach, etc.

—As Dr. Frederick suddenly turned the corner of George and Hunter street in his automobile at noon yesterday a little girl who was seated beside him was thrown out, but was not injured.

—The Central Ontario Life Underwriters' Association met last night at the Great West Insurance Co., office, in the Bank of Commerce building when the reports of the delegates to the recent convention in Toronto were presented.

—It seems that an isolation hospital for contagious diseases is an absolute necessity when the powers that be choose the city hall for placing patients suffering from scarlet fever.

Bad Fire at Gilchrist Bay

The sawmill at Gilchrist's Bay, Stony Lake, was destroyed by fire about three o'clock yesterday morning. The cause of the fire is unknown and residents of the vicinity think that the fire was of incendiary origin. The mill was operated by Lynch & Ryan, and was working on Saturday. Everything seemed all right when the Amen left the place on Saturday night. The loss will be considerable.

Severe Lightning at Haliburton

Electric Fluid Enters House Close Beside the Occupant

Lindsay Post: A tremendous thunder storm prevailed over this locality last Monday at noon time, says the Haliburton correspondent of the Minden Echo. The vivid lightning accompanied by immediate peals of almost deafening roars of thunder gave evidence of its nearness. After the storm was over the hill gave proof of the contact by the riddled trees and wild furrows through the surface of the ground. One small branch of the electric fluid descended the chimney of Mr. Bain's house on West avenue, disconnecting the stove pipes and escaped through the floor near the stove in the dining room into the cellar. Mr. Bain, who was sitting about three feet off where the dart penetrated the floor, was not injured in the least, except being somewhat startled. His two daughters were in the kitchen, and were not so much surprised. Another small bolt of lightning struck in the yard beside the home of Mr. George Potts, extracting from the ground a deeply rooted post used for the purpose of a clothes line.

Citizens Delayed at Post Office

Girls Wait Until The Wicket Is About to Close and Then Break the Lines

Quite a number of citizens yesterday morning talked in none too complimentary terms of the way in which a number of people, mainly girls, crowded into the Post Office and broke the lines waiting their turn at the delivery wickets.

It seemed as though a number of young women, who had presumably paraded up and down George street until the last possible few minutes before the wickets closed for the night. They then, instead of waiting their turn in the line, shoved in, displacing those who were patiently awaiting their respective turns at the wicket. Whilst a number of men, many of them just through a hard day's work, though greatly worried at this unceremonious disruption of the lines, with possibly more chivalry than approval of the girls' course of procedure, did not remonstrate, but allowed the lines to be broken, thus causing much delay. Caretaker Irwin several times tried to get these girls to keep their right places in the lines, but with only partial success. Girls who can spend two or three hours parading the streets might use a little more judgment and not wait till the last moment to create disturbance and delay to others.

Mayor of Athens Gets Jewelery

Mr. M. Pappas Sends Gold Watch, Locket and Fob to Greece

It will be of interest to many of our readers to learn that yesterday a handsome solid gold watch, with best Waltham movement, gold locket and fob was purchased from Mr. C. S. McClelland, the Water street jeweller for direct shipment to the ancient city of Athens, Greece.

A Times representative happening into Mr McClelland's store on business, found Mr. M. Pappas, the George street cigar man in front of a counter covered with gold goods of all kinds and knowing Mr. Pappas to be well supplied with time keeping machinery, asked questions. Mr. Pappas noted that in Greece where a priest of the Greek Church christens a member of his flock such baptized one is thereafter practically a member of the priest's household. Now, Mr. Pappas' father held the high position in Greece of a priest of the Greek Church. Among those christened by his father was Pericles Fleasos who was recently elected as demarchos (or as we say on this continent, mayor of Athens, one of the most responsible positions of that ancient capital of the prehistoric country of Greece. Mr. Fleasos has always been a personal friend of Mr. Pappas of this city, and the latter gentleman, who is in frequent communication with Mr. Fleasos, yesterday purchased the golden tokens of friendship as noted, which will be sent to Athens tomorrow or as soon as suitable inscriptions can be engraved on the goods.

Tirol Catarrh treatments are being mailed out free, on request, by Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. These tests are proving to the people—without a penny's cost—the great value of this scientific prescription known to druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Remedy. Sold by all dealers.

Jap's Commerce Grows

Capitalized Wealth of Country is Now $11,555,000,000

London, Sept. 17.—Mr Harrington, the acting English Commercial Attache at Tokio, states in his annual report that the total import and export trade of Japan during 1906 amounted to $463,045,50, an increase of $16,571,895 over the previous year or just above 4 per cent. There was at the same time a very great change in the balance of trade. The course of trade during the year was generally held to be favorable to Japan. For the first time since 1895 the exports exceeded the imports, and though the customs returns take no notice of "invisible exports and imports," the condition of affairs was regarded as facilitating the retention of specie in the country and the expansion of industries.

The very considerable increase in the export trade was looked upon as an indication of Japan's industrial expansion, and though the favorable balance of trade was due in part to a great decline in the imports which day-reased that particular branch, the net result of the year's trade as a whole was regarded as encouraging. Several computations of the total wealth of Japan have from time to time been made. The most recent and probably the most satisfactory estimates places the capitalized wealth at approximately $11,555,000, excluding Formosa. It is evident that there is room for a large expansion of Japanese aggregate wealth, even if she never approaches the considerable per capita wealth of other countries.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

Women Who Wear Well.

It is astonishing how great a change a few years of married life often make in the appearance and disposition of many women. The freshness, the charm, the brilliance vanish like the bloom from a peach which is rudely handled. The matron is only a dim shadow, a faint echo of the charming maiden. There are two reasons for this change, ignorance and neglect. Few young women appreciate the shock to the system through the change which comes with marriage and motherhood. Many neglect to deal with the unpleasant pelvic drains and weaknesses which too often come with marriage and motherhood, not understanding that this secret drain is robbing the cheek of its freshness and the form of its fairness.

As surely as the general health suffers when there is derangement of the health of the delicate womanly organs, so surely when these organs are established in health the face and form at once witness to the fact in rounded comeliness. Nearly a million women have found health and happiness in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. Ingredients on label—contains no alcohol or harmful habit-forming drugs. Made wholly of those native, American, medicinal roots most highly recommended by leading medical authorities of all the several schools of practice for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments.

For nursing mothers or for those broken-down in health by too frequent bearing of children, also for the expectant mothers, to prepare the system for the coming of baby and making its advent easy and almost painless, there is no medicine quite so good as "Favorite Prescription." It can do no harm in any condition of the system. It is a most potent invigorating tonic and strengthening nervine, directly adapted to woman's delicate system by a physician of large experience in the treatment of woman's peculiar ailments.

Dr. Pierce may be consulted by letter free of charge. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y.

The Hudson Bay Route

Report Issued by Government Dealing with Question of Feasibility

Ottawa, Sept. 16.—The Department of the Interior has just issued a pamphlet upon the Hudson Bay Route, written by Mr. J. A. J. McKenna, which deals with the whole question of the feasibility of the route for the wheat of the West for the markets of the world. The pamphlet, which is well illustrated, points out that the utilization of the Hudson Bay Route would effect an average shortening of a thousand miles in the distance between the wheat fields of the West and the Atlantic seaboard without increasing the ocean distance to the world's market. It deals with the navigability of the bay and strait, and points out that it would be a rival route to that via Montreal, but would be an adequate subsidiary one, a means of relief from grain blockades such as now endanger the continued development of the West.

The general conclusion of the whole report is that Canada has at Churchill a safe port open for several months in each year and a site for a city with immense fisheries at its doors and large possibilities as to the development of the mineral wealth deposited in its neighborhood.

The Severest Sentence in Canada For Burglarly.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 18—The police yesterday arrested a young girl, nick-named, "Wanda," who is accused of participation in a plot to blow up the headquarters of the secret police, situated on the Moika Canal, whose torture chambers have aroused most bitter feelings on the part of the revolutionists. The police claim that "Wanda" planned to become a "walking bomb," and enter the headquarters building in the middle of the day, when it is generally full of police wearing the uniform of a gendarme officer, lined with wads of gun cotton and carrying powerful bombs.

"Wanda," the police add, hoped by blowing herself up to reduce the entire building to ruins and kill all the officers composing the staff of the political police. The plot was betrayed, and the police, in addition to taking "Wanda" into custody, arrested a Jewish tailor in whose shop they seized a half-ready uniform which was intended for the female prisoner.

In consequence of the murderous designs of the revolutionists, the secret police have decided to give up their present headquarters, removing to an isolated stone building on Kamenny Island, where an elaborate electric signal system will be installed in order to prevent undermining.

GIRL A WALKING BOMB

Vancouver, B.C., Sept. 18.— Judge Bole, of New Westminster, yesterday sentenced John Wilson, a convicted burglar, who came from the United States, to fifteen years' imprisonment on three separate charges, with 36 lashes, 18 now and 18 at the expiration of the year. This is the most severe sentence ever given in Canada for the offence.

YOUTH BETS HIS LIFE

Belle Vernon, Penn., September 17.—Frank Jefferson, a well known young man of this place, was put under bond this afternoon to prevent him from taking his own life to pay a bet that he lost.

For some time Jefferson and John Johnson have been in the habit of shaking dice for money. Jefferson invariably lost, and he finally owed Johnson several hundred dollars. Johnson wanted to stop, but Jefferson insisted on continuing.

Johnson refused this morning to shake unless Jefferson put up some stake. Jefferson finally staked his life on a single throw. If he won Johnson was to pay him $10 and cancel his debt. If he lost he was to kill himself. Johnson took first throw and turned up a pair of fives. Jefferson shook the box carefully, but got only a pair of deuces.

Without a word Jefferson left the room and hurried to the bridge across the Monongahela River. Johnson gave the alarm and friends caught Jefferson just as he was about to jump into the river. He was placed under bond to keep the peace, Johnson has told him that he could "owe it."

Building Guns for Jap Warships

Essen, Sept. 17.—The Krupp Works are building for Japan about thirty 12 inch guns for use on board battleships and they are continuing the fulfilment of a contract, made soon after the war with Russia ended, for re-equipping the Japanese field artillery.

Confirmation has been obtained of the statement that Japan placed an 2order for 12 inch guns with the Krupps only because the British works were filled with orders then years ahead for guns of this calibre. The Japanese before making contracts with the Krupp Works consulted the British government on the subject Japan is selling her old field artillrey to the Chinese viceroys.

The Krupps are sending the guns to Japan in the rough, bored out, but not finished. The guns will be completed and mounted in the Japanese arsenals. The Krupp Works are understood to be making more out of the contract than if the guns were delivered completed. Several Japanese officers are stationed in Germany, but their presence is due to inspection of the field artillery only. Reports that the Krupp Works are engaged on enormous orders for war war material placed by Japan recently are incorrect.

Will Have Another Tussle in 1910

Berlin, Sept. 18.—The Hamburg-American Steamship Company officials endorse the claims of the newspapers that the Deutschland continues to hold the blue ribbons of the Atlantic on the ground that her average speed and the maximum achieved in a single day are both better than that of the Lusitania. At the same time, they admit that it is probable that the Lusitania will cause the Deutschland to lower her flag once the turbine engines of the former boat are well set. In any case, there will be another tussle in 1910, when the Hamburg-American's new steamship, which is larger and of greater displacement than the Lusitania, will be launched.

Sudden Turn in in Wiarton Case

Walkerton, Sept. 18.—H. C. Tucker, on behalf of John, William, and Walter Lancaster, pleaded guilty before Chief Justice Mulock on both counts in the indictment against them—one for unlawfully assaulting and the other for rioting in connection with the Wiarton case. The three prisoners were remanded for sentence.

He entered a plea of not guilty on behalf of Robert Lancaster, and the chief justice decided that there was not sufficient evidence to convict in this case. He therefore directed the jury to bring in a verdict of not guilty.

In addressing the jury, Mr. Tucker called attention to the peculiarity of the circumstances in the case.

Large Attendance at the P. B. C.

Many Students in Attendance This Year

The Peterborough Business College is now busier and better attended than ever before in its long and successful career. Those in attendance are all young men and women with brain power impelling them to take the advantages and chances this Collegiate affords towards being the medium of advancing them towards permanent and lucrative positions. Mr. Pringle, the very efficient head of this great Peterborough educational institution is to be congratulated both in the splendid positions his college has been instrumental in obtaining for past pupils and the world-wide chances Mr. Pringle's institution now offers.

Pretty Wedding in St. Peter's Cathedral

Miss Mary Moher Becomes the Bride of Mr. Michael Hennessy

Yesterday morning a very pretty wedding was celebrated with all the ceremonies incumbent on such events in the Roman Catholic church, was when Miss Mary, eldest daughter of Mr. Daniel Moher, 20 Patterson street, was united in marriage to Mr. Michael Hennessy, of Toronto.

Miss Doherty, played Mendelssohn march and the bride leaning on the arm of her father, who gave her away, entered the cathedral. She was becomingly attired in a navy blue travelling suit, and a point d'esprit blouse with a hat to match, and carried a mother of pearl prayer book. She was attended by her sister, Miss Delphine Moher. The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Thomas

Rev. Father O'Leary, cousin of the bride, performed the ceremony. During the service Miss Levina Halliban and A. Simons sang "Ave Maria."

The groom's gift to the bride was a diamond ring, to the bridesmaid an opal and emerald ring, and for the groomsman a pearl tie pin.

After the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the home of the bride, where about fifty guests sat down to a sumptuous wedding breakfast, served by Mr. T. H. Hooper.

The bride was the recipient of many beautiful and costly presents, among them being a handsome salad bowl, the gift of St. Peter's choir, of which the bride was a member.

Mr. and Mrs. Hennessy left on the 4.48 train for Niagara, Buffalo and Rochester, and on their return will reside on Sixth street, New Toronto.

Local Exhibits for the Fall Exhibition

Mr. Jas. Head, proprietor of the Peterborough House, has a calf born last May that he is proud of. This coming ancestress of cattle that may populate a thousand hills is unique in that it is an absolutely pure white bovine. There is not one hair on the calf in qiestion that is of any shade, grade or tint but the purest white. Mr. Head intends exhibiting this spotless animal at the local fall fair in the "grade" class. Mr. Head's wine clerk, Mr. Dunnett, has a number of game cocks that he is going to exhibit. Whilst they are young and their spurs not yet developed, Mr. Dunnett has some birds that would make the mouth of a veteran connisseur in chickens, "water" to see. He also has a grade of English hares that surpass anything that The Times reporter has ever seen. These hares that are well colored and of sturdy build and weigh, without applying a government market scale, but judged by their avoirdupois as felt when holding them by the ears, as rabbits and hres are generlly held, fully seven to eight pounds each and they are only lovers ets at that. Mr Dunnett is one of Peterborough's most enthusiastic and best posted raiser of such stock, as above mentioned. Among his other exhibits for the fair is a "speckled Hamburg" cock that is a beauty.

The Biter Was Bitten

Yesterday morning there was a good joke played on a man who had "kicked" and who, even when the joke was played on him enjoyed and laughed at it as well as did he who sprung the joke. It seems that Mr. McIlmoyle, the market clerk, has recently complained that the civic employee whose duty it is to water the market square, has not done his duty to the clerk's satisfaction, i.e., that he does not have the water thrown near enough to the market weigh scales office. At about 10 a.m. yesterday, Mr McIlmoyle and some eight or ten of his friends were sitting on the platform to the east of the market scales office discussing anything from the price o fhogs to the latest fashion in woman's garb. The driver of one of the watering carts took a trip or two round the market square, scattering water to allay the dust. The conversation became interesting among those as above noted. None of them noticed that the cart was approaching, when suddenly some eight or ten men sprang off their chairs and made for the rear of the platform, as a deluge of water inundated the spot where they had been seated. Mr. McIlmoyle remarked, "Well, I have been kicking because the water carts did not come near enough to this building, but by by jingo that's a little too approxp imate."

Importations on the Increase

Lindsay Post: "Port Hope defeated Peterborough on Saturday at Cobourg in the final game for the Midland League championship by the score 4-2. Each team was made up principally of imports." Even though the Post was right, was not Manager Johnson doing his "duty" to the city by his "imports?"

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

Scarity of Coal Alarms Operators

Steps Will be Taken to Increase Output--Abandoning Mines

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 18.—Thoroughly alarmed over what threatens to be the most serious coal famine in history, the coal operators of the western Pennsylvania and West Virginia bituminous field, have called a meeting in Charleston, W. Va., on Thursday to devise ways and means of increasing the coal output and handling it. One of the probable results o fthis meeting will be ehe voluntary advance in the wages of miners in the hope of increasing the output.

Operators declare that never has there been such a shortage of miners. Men who have for years worked as miners are able to get work in other lines and are deserting the mines. Every inducemen thas been offered to miners to increase production but without results. Th coperators have concluded the only way to get out more coal will be by increasing wages.

Good Races for The Fall Fair

Number of Good Horses will be in Attendance to Compete

Yesterday a Times representative met Mr. Martin Connors, the veteran horseman, whose steeds are known throughout the racing world of this continent and the following conversation took place, "Martin, how about races for the coming fall fair. Are the people of Peterborough, in addition to the now assured success as far as the exhibition itself is concerned, going to have any good horses in the races as advertised." "Well," replied Mr. Connors, "You know them fellows running the fair are doing their best, but I'll tell you on the quiet, a little oversight was made by the directors. They thought the Peterborough Turf Club was represented on the committee running the races, but they were not. However next Thursday the fair people will meet and probably put two members of the Turf Club on the Board to manage their races and you can bet that Peterborough will have races that will not only take the cake but will be strictly in accordance with the American Trotting Association's rules and regulations.

Any horse owned by a driver debarred by the association that enters the grounds, will be at once grabbed and the horse held until any penalties registered against such man or horse are paid up. The Peterborough Turf Club is determined to do business right up to the rules of the game."

Mr. Connors then went onto show our reporter how the association through Mr. Gantey, the secretary, kept barnweggle eye on horses or owners who transgressed the rules, and how the association is determined to see that straight racing only will be allowed.

This guarantees that the fair races will be not only fair, but well worth attending, and Mr. Connors, of all men in Peterborough, is able to speak intelligently of what the races will be.

News Briefs

Columbus, Ohio, September 18.—Mrs. Cassie M Chadwick who, posing as Andrew Carnegie's natural daughter, swindled Ohio and eastern banks and capitalists out of millions in loans on bogus securities, was stricken with a nervous collapse at the penitentiary today, which has left her blind.

Her condition is serious, and it is the opinion of the prison physicians that she will never live to serve out her ten years' sentence, two years of which she has completed.

Rome, Sept. 18.—A leading Italian fortune teller, Ernesto Cisotta, a probably the first of her craft to use a typewriting machine as her chief auxiliary. Clients who desire to know their fate are placed blindfolded in front of the machine and told to lay the keys at random. The result is a tangled mass of characters and figures which the clairvoyant proceeds, as she says to decipher and interpret. She is now the vogue among the leading members of Roman society.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 18.—An examination of the hull of the Royal yacht Standart shows that there are six large holes in her. This is taken to prove that she struck several rocks. A special commission consisting of admirals and officials has been appointed to conduct an enquiry into the grounding of the vessel. A thanksgiving service for the preservation of the lives of the Czar, the Czarina and the members of the Imperial family was held today at St. Isaac's Cathedral.

Dangers of Modernism.

It is a Menace to the Church and Leads Logically to Atheism

Rome, Sept 17.—The Osservitor Roman, organ of the Vatican, today issued an important encyclical of Pope Pius X on "Modernism," which really is a completion of his recent syllabus. The document sets forth that modernism is a serious danger to the Church, enters in detail to the various features of modernism, condemns it as dangerous in philosophy, archeology, history, criticism and reforms, and arrives at the conclusion that modernism is a synthesis of all heresy, and must logically lead to atheism.

The encyclical makes the following provisions;

First, the teaching of philosophy, positive theology, etc., is to be carried on in the church schools and universities, first in a Catholic spirit.

Second, modernists are to be removed from professorships and the direction of educational institutions.

Third, the clergy and faithful are not to be allowed to read modernist publications.

Fourth, a committee of censorship is to be established in every diocese to pass upon the publications which the clergy and faithful shall be permitted to read.

Fifth, the encyclical of the late Pope Leo XIII., prohibiting the clergy from assuming the direction of publications without their bishop's permission, and providing for supervision of the work of ecclesiastical writers, is confirmed.

Sixth, ecclesiastical congresses, except on rare occasions are prohibited.

Seventh, a council is to be constituted in every diocese to combat modern errors.

Roosevelt Strong in Few States

Canvass Shows no Decline in His Popularity --Hughes Shows Up Well

Chicago, September 18.—Having completed its poll of New England in a series covering all sections of the United States the Chicago Tribune says that the most overwhelming sentiment was expressed in favor of the continuance of Roosevelt's policies. At least 85 per cent of all canvassed expressed themselves emphatically on that subject endorsing the President heartily. After Mr. Roosevelt, Secretary Taft and Governor Hughes, of New York, were shown to be the most popular, but their respective popularity was of different kinds. Taft being especially strong with office holders and Hughes with voters in private life. That Hughes is a formidable rival of the administration's candidate was clearly apparent in the New England canvass, in some localities Hughes ran far ahead.

Horticultural Society Awards Prizes

It was noted in these columns some days ago that the judges appointed by the local Horticultural Society in their philanthropic endeavor to increase the growth of local flowers, etc., would shortly drive around the city and, as a result of their inspection, award prizes, so generously given by the society to those who had the best trimmed and artistically framed gardens or yards, irrespective of whether he or she, who planted the flowers was a millionaire or a newspaper man.

The judges have at last attained their final decisions, which are as follows;—

Large lawns, all paid labor—1. A. H. Davis, Belmont avenue; 2. Mrs. Wm. Hamilton, Reid street; 3. Hon. J. R. Stratton, George street.

Part paid labor and part work of owner—1, Wm Taylor, Customs House; 2. Miss Thompson, Smith street; 3. Mrs (Rev.) Kilgour, Weller street.

Lawns, all own labor—1. Walter Stocker, Homewood avenue; 2. S. G. McKee, Water street; 3. W. J. Kennedy, Aylmer street.

Best Flower Garden—1 R Cooney, Stewart street; 2. William Porter, Brown street, east ward; 3. Miss Davidson, Brown street, east ward.

The judges were Messrs F. Campbell, W H Hill, David Jordan and Col. H. C. Rogers.

HAS RELIEVED MANY HERE

What will appear very interesting to many people here is the article taken from a prominent health journal giving a simple prescription, as formulated by a noted authority, who claims that he has found a positive remedy to cure almost any case of backache or kidney or bladder derangement, in the following simple prescription, if taken before the stage of Bright's disease.

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce. Compound Kargon, one ounce. Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Shake well in a bottle and take a teaspoon ful dose after each meal and again at bedtime.

A well known local druggist, when asked regarding the prescription, stated that the ingredients are all harmless, and can be obtained at small cost from any good prescription pharmacy. He further stated that while this prescription is often prescribed in rheumatic afflictions with splendid results, he could see no reason why it would not be a splendid remedy for kidney and urinary troubles and backache as it has a peculiar action upon the entire kidney structure, cleansing these most important organs and helping them to sift and filter from the blood the foul acids and waste matter, which cause sickness and suffering. Those who suffer can make no mistake in giving it a trial.

YOUNG ENGLISHMAN TOUCHED FOR ROLL

Yesterday morning about ten o'clock a clean shaven young man with a countenance that did not prominently display the possession of more brains than the Lord generally allots to the average English immigrant came into the police station and after taking up the valuable time of the chief, and incidentally two or three unbeknown to him, local reporters, all with eager ears starting out at right angles for news, told a tale of woe. The sad history was relative to the separation of the narrator of this tale of woe, and some $16, taken from a pair of pants or on our shores had left, in a pants or trousers' pocke, in his wardrobe in a Charlotte street boarding house.

Chief Ruzel, whilst politely and in his well known suave manner practically asked the robbed man, "Say Mr. Rodgers do you think this department can or would spend what would eventually amount to more than your loss in detective and police work hunting up a man you admit has gone to Toronto."

The young man who lost the $16 told the reporters present in the station that he had left it in "a left hand pants pocket in his clothes in press, and "I never thought that hany one would hever steal hit."

However it seems his prophesy was not true or well founded.

In conversation with a member of the local police force after the conversation referred to was over, the officer spoken to by our representative said plainly, Say, Mr. ——, I saw that couple last Monday night. They did not seem to have a cent early in the evening, but later on they purchased tickets for Toronto or Hamilton. I don't know whether they were married or not, but the woman was a mulatto or half negro."

This information was given in connection with the man whom the Englishman, Rodgers, claims to have lost.

To get down to facts and figures, which generally tell when "You are at," a gentleman present at yesterday morning's conversation, remarked, "Will you English immigrants ever be d—— green his queer the cows don't eat you. What, in the name of common sense, did you leave $16 in your pants pockets in a Charlotte street lodging house for if you were going out and expected to come back and get the same?"

To this the recent importation simply smiled and said nothing. The local police have no actual evidence, further than suspicion by Rodgers to work on so will probably take no action as, Rodgers and his brunette companion have gone west, as legal papers would have to be sworn out before the Toronto or Hamilton authorities.

English Correspondent Writes to The Times

A correspondent of The Times was yesterday in receipt of a letter from one of the leading political leaders of the British Empire, who is distantly related to him. This politician of England, after finishing the personal portion of his communication, was evidently impelled by "the ruling passion, ever strong in death," spoke of the splendid work done by Lord Roberts, generally known in English army circles as "Bobs," and so known to most of the sturdy residents of this great and growing Canada of ours, and noted that it was a "great pity that the British nation do not take as much interest as "we should" in the well meant and most commendable efforts put forth with "so convincing arguments" and with "so great an end to be attained" by Lord Roberts. It will be remembered that this great English general who, before the South African campaign, did such splendid service in India, and whose brilliant services in the Boer War are known to every intelligent reader of mature years. Those who have closely followed the aftermath of the Boer War will remember that "Bobs" strongly and on every available occasion, advocated, in emphatic terms, the insistent need of persistent rifle practice. Lord Roberts, from the wide experience gained in his many campaigns, recognized fully the absolute necessity, if victory were desired, of straight shooting of "the man behind the gun." Rudyard Kipling, the English author and poet, has often, in advance, and without preconceived design, as demonstrated by the circumstance referred to in this article, strongly endorsed the desire of Lord Roberts as to the absolute necessity of correct markmanship by the members of our English rifle and infantry corps especially. Our correspondent was told, in the letter referred to, that by order of Lord Roberts as to insistent, persevering and perpetual rifle practice is the secret to success in modern war. This correspondent goes on to note, "In Australia and New Zealand our Colonial forces are, generally speaking, good shots, and judging by Canada's records at the great English matches at Bisley, the Canadian troops are adepts at rifle shooting." "Why," he asked, "cannot our own troops be imbued with a sentiment tending towards emulation, if not superiority over the comparatively raw troops of the Colonies?"

Now, whilst not taking the word "raw" with relish, we are pleased to note that this great English parliamentarian, who writes the Times correspondent, admits the superiority of Canadian markmanship. In the Boer War a great percentage of the fighting was after the style of what might be termed "guerilla" warfare and, in this, the man whose him was straight, whose eye along the sights was true, and whose touch on the trigger was prompt, was the man who decimated the ranks, whether British or Boer.

Now, since the introduction of smokeless powder, quick firing guns, throwing regiment devastating schrapnel shells, and a consequent need for straight rifle shooting, the man with a rifle, who, at so many hundred yards can easily pick off and send to the great unknown, a general, a colonel, a major, a captain or even a private in an undesired location, is the man who is worth one hundred others who simply put home a cartridge, point his rifle somewhere in the direction of the enemy, shuts or keeps open his eyes, and pulling the trigger, sends half an ounce of nickle plated lead some forty feet over the enemy's head, or by the bullet falling short, helps the enemy to get the range of the other troops.

Government Inspector of Immigrants

Yesterday morning a Times representative happening to see a gentleman arrayed in blue cloth with brass buttons, bearing the government insignia of the wearer's particular department, a naval insignia, naturally as do all reporters, a case of doubt, butted in and asked questions. Fortunately for our reporter, the wearer of the uniform in question, which included a gold bound blue cap with a gold coronet, like the war crown in good humor and answered most of the questions put, but whilst not actually declining to answer others, displayed good judgment of newspaper men by saying, "Well, I think so and so is better not for on print." Right here let me tell those who want things left out of a paper, viz., tell your tale [illegible] of secrecy in such particulars as you desire omitted from the public press. Then, whoever you may be, or whatever your case may be, if officially assured of non-publicity, especially if your request is backed by common sense, general good and a becoming of civility.

Well to resume, the gentleman in uniform was registered at the Snowden House and was Mr. P. Devlin of Kingston, who arrived at noon from Lindsay. Mr. Devlin, who is the Dominion Government Inspector of Immigrants and is a crack officer in charge of the department of under the immigration act, India has just dropped off for dinner at Peterborough en route for his home. The case that took him to Lindsay was that of an English immigrant who sailed per steamer Empress of Ireland, the latter from Liverpool. This man, whose name is M. Devlin's request we omit, was passed by the examining officer of the [illegible] on arrival. It seems that since his arrival he has developed [illegible] ity and his friends, who occupy responsible positions in [illegible] social and business circles, has taken charge of the [illegible] and [illegible] arrested on Lindsay as a vagrant. To avoid the publicity necessarily attached to deportation by the government, Mr. Devlin, friends of the [illegible] who had been caught [illegible] there, assured Mr. Devlin that they would guarantee his deportation from Canada.

Saved by Good Food

Read a Doctor's words about

Grape-Nuts

"A short time ago I was called to a patient who had been given up by his physician.

His stomach would not bear food and consequently he got no nourishment and was slowly dying from exhaustion.

He was reduced to skin and bones. I immediately put him on Grape-Nuts food and Postum food coffee. He could keep both articles on his stomach at once, neither caused him any pain. He has been using both the food and the coffee and has gained rapidly.

The reason a delicate stomach can take Grape-Nuts food is that it is predigested by several months during its preparation and even a small babe can handle it as it causes no heavy work for the stomach and digestive apparatus, on the contrary, helps and restores it, quickly assimilated into blood and tissue.

Grape-Nuts as well as Postum Food Coffee contains elements selected from the grains of the field, that are of first importance to the human body, for nourishing and rebuilding it.

THE JAPANESE PROBLEM

Those who urge strongly that Japanese be excluded from Canada forget that a solemn treaty has been signed with that country of the terms of which such a step would be a distinct violation. The Japanese are a friendly, and powerful nation, an ally of Great Britain, and have to be reckoned with among the nations of the world. If the arrangements made between the Canadian and Japanese Government restricting the number of Japs coming into Canada each year, were strictly adhered to the trouble would probably be obviated.

One thing is certain, no matter what the provocation, no province in Canada and no city in any province can afford to tolerate for one moment the ascendancy of mob rule.

BRITAIN'S PROGRESS

A recent publication of the British Board of Trade sheds some light on the comparative conditions of the people of the United Kingdom now and thirty-six years ago. Some of the facts stated are strong refutation of the theory of the protectionists that Britain's population are worse off, or that the country is going to the dogs under free trade. In 1871 the population of Great Britain was 31,500,000; in 1906 it was 43,700,000 or an increase of nearly 39 per cent. In view of the great increase in population it is interesting to note these facts.

There were 1,227,000 paupers in 1871; in 1906 the number was 1,089,000. While population has increased nearly 39 per cent pauperism has decreased 148,000, or over 11 per cent on the figures of sixty-six years ago.

The imports of meat in 1871 amounted to £10,713,000; in 1906 to £52,028,000. No wonder the people are able to eat twice as much meat as formerly.

The food and drink imports per head in 1871 were £3 18s. 9d.; in 1906 they were £5 6s 11d.

In 1871 the savings on post office and trustee banks totalled £55,845,000; last year the total was £230,382,000.

The British people never were so prosperous as they are today, and never enjoyed so much general comfort. A comparison of the birth and death rates of the years named shows; Birth rate in 1871, 33.8 per 1,000; in 1906, 26.8 per 1,000. There is a decline here of 7.8 per 1,000 of the population, a very great falling off. But there is compensation. The death-rate in 1871 was 21.5 per 1,000 and in 1906 it was 15.6 per 1,000. The falling off in the death rate more than compensates for the declining birth-rates, as the great increase in the population shows, even if emigration be not considered. The birth rate for last three months is placed at 27.3 and the death rate 05.3 per 1,000.

A POLITILAL FORECAST

The Ottawa correspondent of the Toronto News presents a forecast of the next general elections. He bases out with three propositions. One is that the result of an election is "desperately uncertain," the second is that governments are hard to beat in time of prosperity, and the third is that Sir Wilfrid Laurier's hold on Quebec does not seem to have become loosened. The House of Commons consists of 224 members, divided as follows; From the Maritime Provinces 35, from Quebec, 65; from Ontario, 86; from the Prairies 30, from British Columbia and the Yukon, 8. Politically the representation is divided in this way;

	Lib	Con.
Maritime Provinces	26	9
Quebec	55	10
Ontario	37	49
Prairies	14	8
B. C. and Yukon	8	0
	140	74

The correspondent expects Prince Edward Island to go opposition, not because the Liberals are in, but because it is "constitutionally opposition." He thinks the Conservatives may win a couple of seats in Nova Scotia, and may get a majority in New Brunswick. In Quebec he thinks possibly the Conservatives may win a few seats, and that the most that can be expected from the Maritime Provinces and Quebec combined is that out of the 100 members from that part of the Dominion the Conservatives will have 30 and the Liberals 70. He gives the Liberals 33 in Ontario, leaving 53 for the Conservatives. So that if he has estimated correctly the government will reach the Prairie with a majority of 17. He thinks the Prairie Province may possibly divide even, but does not give the Conservatives more than 18 seats west of the Great Lakes, which leaves 20 for the Liberals, so that the government would have a majority of 19 in the next house. One set of calculations, which he advances, gives the government a majority of 15; another makes it 35. This forecast is of very little use except as indicating what the Conservatives will have to do to win in the next election. A majority of the House of Commons is 113; therefore to win, the Conservatives must keep as many seats as they now have and win 39 more. The correspondent of the News, who discloses a marked Conservative bias, concludes his observations by recommending the party to put its best men in the field next year and get ready for a victory in 1912.

San Francisco, Sept. 17. — After having served thirteen years in San Quentin penitentiary, it developed yesterday that William Evans, one of the convicts, is an innocent man. Evans was convicted in Amador county of burglary and sentenced to life imprisonment. He will be released.

Japanese View on Vancouver Riots

Tokio, Sept. 16.—The Jiji deplores the fact that an incident similar to that at San Francisco has occurred at Vancouver, which is part of the territory of an ally of Japan. The Jiji believes that the trouble at Vancouver was occasioned by the increased arrival of Japanese laborers from Hawaii after the enforcement of the exclusion measures by the provincial government coupled with the contagion of Anti-Japanism rampant on the Pacific coast of the United States. This has fanned the anti-Oriental sentiment which had existed for several years in British Columbia, and had only been prevented from assuming legal form by the attitude of the Dominion government. The paper, however, emphasizes the fact that the outbreak is purely local.

It says; "The regret already expressed by the Canadian government, coupled with the assurance of the prevention of the recurrence of a similar incident, even a royal message having been sent to the Dominion authorities in reference thereto, furnishes the clearest evidence that the Japanese have official sympathy on their side. Moreover, the power of the Dominion government over individual states is greater than that of the government at Washington, and the Canadian police are more efficient than those at San Francisco, and there is every reason to believe that the fullest protection will be given to our compatriots at Vancouver.

"While the present incident is limited locally and is against the general sentiment of the British public, and, as such, is possible of speedy solution, this must be remembered, however, that it is pregnant with the most difficult complications how facing the authorities and statesmen of the nations concerned. The time will soon come when a fundamental solution, completely removing Oriental and Occidental friction, will be on the tapis as a practical question."

To check a cold quickly, get from our druggist some little Candy Cold Tablets called Preventics. Druggists everywhere are now dispensing Preventics, for they are not only safe, but decidedly certain and prompt. Preventics contain no quinine, no laxative, nothing harsh nor sickening. Taken at the "sneeze stage" Preventics will prevent pneumonia, bronchitis, la grippe, etc. Hence the name Preventics. Good for feverish children. 48 Preventics 25 cents. Trial boxes 5 cents. Sold by all dealers.

Depository ..... JOHN S. COOK & CO.
Bank of Goldfield, Nevada.

This company owns 4 claim (80acres) of some of the best proven mineral land in the Goldfield district, consisting of the Accidental and Accidental No. 2 lode claims, situated two and one-half miles south of the great Goldfield Consolidated Mines (comprising the Mohawk, Goldfield, Combination, Red Top, Jumbo and Laguna) the richest in the world; and the Broadway and Beauty lode claims situated three and one-half miles north of the Consolidated and about one and one-half miles northwest of the Great Bend and Daisy Mines near the Zion group in the Diamondfield section second only in richness to the great Mohawk portion of the camp. Phenomenally rich strikes have recently been made ont he Consolidated, the Great Bend and the Daisy Mines.

The company has also succeeded in securing the Sure Thing lode claim (20 acres) in the Cuprite district, which has an immense gold bearing ledge, running the entire length of the claim 1,500 feet, outcropping in places over 50 feet wide, and met by several cross dykes all carrying fine values in gold, and is without doubt rightly named "Sure Thing."

All of these claims are located in the same mineral belt as the other noted mines of Goldfield that have astonished the world by their production of millions in high grade ore, and will with the same development give equally profitable returns.

The money derived from the sale of this stock will be used at once for the active development of the property and the fact that all the directors are residents of Goldfield with years of successful mining experience who will give their personal attention at all times to the progress of the work goes to show that the first issue of 100,000 shares will meet with a quick and ready sale at the initial price of 10 cents per share.

We advise immediate action if you wish to participate in the vast profits of this Bonanza Mine.

Stock will be listed as soon as feasible on the Goldfield and San Francisco Stock and Exchange Boards. Would therefore advise purchasers to buy in board lots of 1,000 shares when convenient to do so.

Something New in Copper

PITTSBURG - IDAHO

Mining and Milling Company

The mine is located 58 miles above Lewiston, Idaho, on the Clearwater river, and consists of 19 full claims, or 380 acres. It is developed by tunnels, shafts and open cuts for more than 2100 feet, disclosing thousands of tons of copper, gold and silver ores of both high grade and low grade. There are between 1000 and 2000 tons of ore ready for shipment. The entrance to the working tunnel is only 2000 feet from the track of the Northern Pacific railroad, to be reached by gravity tramway. There are seven parallel veins running lengthwise of the claims, one cropping out on the surface for 2000 feet and another for 3000 feet; while two veins cross these running into the mountain. These veins are from 30 to 200 feet wide. One ore chute has been crosscut 90 feet and is solid ore from wall to wall.

We are not asking you to buy in a prospect. That risk was taken by the promoters. We are asking you to buy in a developed, proven mine. Seven years of continuous work and the expenditure of thousands of dollars has proven up one of the greatest mines in Idaho. That mine is now ready to pour out its red and yellow wealth to the world with the installing of an up to date production plant. It is for that purpose that a block of its treasury stock, full paid and non-assessable, is offered for sale. We believe that within six months from the completion of a 100 ton plant the mine can be put on a dividend paying basis, and that those dividends will be substantial and permanent. There is no better investment proposition before the people at this time.

CAPITALIZATION $1,000,000. - PAR VALUE $1.

All promotion stock pooled during the sale of this treasury stock.

Messrs. Thos. Patterson & Co., Peterborough, Ont., are authorized to receive subscriptions for this stock, to whom all applications should be made.

THE CONQUEST of CANAAN

By BOOTH TARKINGTON,
Author of "Cherry," "Monsieur Beaucaire," Etc.

COPYRIGHT, 1905, BY HARPER & BROTHERS

Once the courtroom was disturbed and set in an uproar which even the judge's customary threat failed to subdue. Joe had been talking very rapidly and having turned the point he was making with perfect dexterity, the jury listening eagerly, stopped for a moment to take a swallow of water. A voice rose over the low hum of the crowd in a delirious chuckle, "Why don't somebody head him off?" The room instantly rocked with laughter, under cover of which the identity of the sacrilegious chuckler was not discovered, but the voice was the voice of Bucknlew, who was incredibly surprised to find that he had spoken aloud.

The jury were "out," after the case [illegible] minutes and thirty seconds by the watch Claudine held in her hand. The little man, whose fate was now on the knees of the gods, looked pathetically at the foreman and then at the face of his lawyer and began to shake violently, but not with fright. He had gone to the jail on Joe's word, as a good dog goes where his master bids, trustfully, and yet Happy had not been able to keep his mind from considering the horrible chances. "Don't worry," Joe had said. "It's all right. I'll see you through." And he had kept his word.

The little man was cleared.

It took Happy a long time to get through what he had to say to his attorney in the anteroom, and even then, of course, he did not manage to put it in words, for he had "broken down" with sheer gratitude. "Why, d—n me, Joe," he sobbed, "if ever I—if ever you—well, by God, if you ever"— This was the substance of his lingual accomplishment under the circumstances. But Claudine threw her arms around poor Joe's neck and kissed him.

Many people were waiting to shake hands with Joe and congratulate him. The trio, taking advantage of seats near the rail, had already done that (somewhat uproariously) before he had followed Happy, and so had Ariel and Ladew, both, necessarily, rather hurriedly. But in the corridors he found, when he came out of the anteroom, clients, acquaintances, friends—old friends, new friends and friends he had never seen before—everybody beaming upon him and wringing his hand, as if they had been sure of it all from the start.

They gathered round him if he stopped for an instant and crowded after him admiringly when he went on again, making his progress slow. When he finally came out of the big doors into the sunshine, there were as many people in the yard as there had been when he stood in the same place and watched the mob rushing his client's guards. But today their temper was different, and as he paused a moment, looking down on the upturned, laughing faces, with a hundred jocular and congratulatory salutations shouted up at him, somebody started a cheer, and it was taken up with thunderous good will.

There followed the interrogation customary in such emergencies, and the anxious inquirer was informed by four or five hundred people simultaneously that Joe Louden was all right.

"Head him off!" bellowed Mike Sheehan, suddenly darting up the steps. The shout increased, and with good reason, for he stepped quickly back within the doors and, retreating through the building, made good his escape by a basement door.

He struck off into a long detour; but, though he managed to evade the crowd, he had to stop and shake hands with every third person he met. As he came out upon Main street again he encountered his father.

"Howdy do, Joe?" said this laconic person and offered his hand. They shook briefly. "Well," he continued, rubbing his beard, "how are ye?"

"All right, father, I think."

"Satisfied with the verdict?"

"I'd be pretty hard to please if I weren't," Joe laughed.

Mr. Louden rubbed his beard again. "I was there," he said, without emotion.

"At the trial, you mean?"

"Yes." He offered his hand once more, and again they shook. "Well, come around and see us," he said.

"Thank you. I will."

"Well," said Mr. Louden, "good day, Joe."

"Good day, father."

The young man stood looking after him with a curious smile. Then he gave a slight start. Far up the street he saw two figures—one a lady's in white, with a wide white hat; the other a man's, wearing recognizably clerical black. They seemed to be walking very slowly.

It had been a day of triumph for Joe, but in all his life he never slept worse than he did that night.

CHAPTER XXVI.

HE woke to the chirping of birds, and as his eyes slowly opened the sorrowful people of a dream, who seemed to be bending over him, weeping, swam back into the darkness of the night whence they had come and returned to the imperceptible, leaving their shadows in his heart. Slowly he rose, stumbled into the outer room and released the fluttering shade, but the sunshine, springing like a golden lover through the open window, only dazzled him and found no answering gladness to greet it or joy in the royal day it heralded.

It would be an hour at least before time to start to church, when Ariel expected him. He stood slowly up the street, then down and, after that, began slowly to walk in the [illegible] tion with no very active consciousness or care of where he went. He had fallen into a profound reverie, so deep that when he had crossed the bridge and turned into a dusty road which ran along the river bank he stopped mechanically beside the trunk of a fallen sycamore and, lifting his head for the first time since he had set out, looked about him with a melancholy perplexity, a little surprised to find himself there.

For this was the spot where he had first seen the new Ariel, and on that fallen sycamore they had sat together. "Remember, across Main street bridge at noon!" And Joe's cheeks burned [illegible] he had now spoken aloud the clear voice that had haunted him. But that shame had fallen from him; she had changed all that, as she had changed so many things. He sank down in the long grass, with his back against the log, and stared out over the fields of tall corn shaking in a steady wind all the way to the horizon.

"Changed so many things?" he said, half aloud. "Everything!" Ah, yes, she had changed the whole world for Joseph Louden—at his first sight of her! And now it seemed to him that he was to lose her, but not in the way he had thought.

Almost from the very first he had the feeling that nothing so beautiful as that she should stay in Canaan could happen to him. He was sure that she was but for the little while, that her coming was like the flying petals of which he had told her.

"Changed so many things?"

The bars that had been between him and half of his world were down, shattered, never more to be replaced, and the ban of Canaan was lifted. Could this have been save for her? And upon that thought he got to his feet, uttering an exclamation of bitter self reproach, asking himself angrily what he was doing. He knew how much she gave him, what full measure of her affection. Was not that enough? Out upon you, Louden! Are you to sulk in your tent, dour in the gloom, or to play a man's part, and if she be happy turn a cheery face upon her joy?

And thus this pilgrim recrossed the bridge, emerging to the street with his head up, smiling, and his shoulders thrown back, so that none might see the burden he carried.

Ariel was waiting on the porch for him. She wore the same dress she had worn that Sunday of their tryst—that exquisite dress, with the faint lavender overtint, like the tender colors of the beautiful day he made his own. She had not worn it since, and he was far distant when he caught the first flick-

One Gleam of Sunshine.

His play is a rank failure.

It is a frost and a fizzle, and he knows it.

The dramatist bows his head upon his hands and refuses to be comforted, for it is his first flunk.

One by one his friends try to say something that will console him, but to no avail.

Finally his trusting wife finds one sunny gleam in the clouds.

"Anyway," she said, "you didn't have to go through the ordeal of making a speech before the curtain, and you know you always said you would be thankful beyond words if you could escape that."

Late Already.

Five minutes after the tardy gong had struck the principal of the school was walking through the lower hall when he saw a pudgy little fellow scampering toward the first grade room as fast as his fat legs could carry him. "See here, young man, I want to talk to you," called the principal to the late comer. "I hain't got time to talk to you; I'm late already," replied the breathless beginner as the door of his classroom closed.—Chute.

Constipation

Baked sweet apples, with some people, bring prompt relief for Constipation. With others, coarse all-wheat bread will have the same effect. Nature undoubtedly has a vegetable remedy to relieve every ailment known to man, if physicians can but find Nature's way to health. And this is strikingly true with regard to Constipation.

The bark of a certain tree in California—Cascara Sagrada—offers a most excellent aid to this end. But, combined with Egyptian Senna, Slippery Elm Bark, Solid Extract of Prunes, etc., this same Cascara bark is given its greatest possible power to correct constipation. A toothsome Candy Tablet, called Lax-ets, is now made at the Dr. Shoop Laboratories, from this ingredients and most effective prescription. Its effect on Constipation, Biliousness, Sour Stomach, Bad Breath, Sallow Complexion, etc., is indeed prompt and satisfying.

No griping, no unpleasant after effects are experienced, and Lax-ets are put up in beautiful lithographed metal boxes at 5 cents and 25 cents per box.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry must be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made on certain conditions, by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

The homesteader is required to perform the homestead conditions under one of the following plans:—

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of the homesteader resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Six months' notice in writing should be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of intention to apply for patent.

Indigestion Ruins Complexion

The Sallow Pale, Tired Woman Usually Has Stomach Trouble.

The good looks of every woman depends largely upon the proper working of her stomach and other internal organs.

If your stomach is strong and digestion is good, the cheeks blush with color, eyes dance and sparkle, breath will be pure and your hair smooth and glossy.

Let indigestion creep in, and the skin becomes sallow and rough, pimples break out, eyes get dark-circled, ill breath is all too apparent.

Get the stomach toned up with Dr. Hamilton's Pills—they increase the secretion of the gastric juices, promote vigorous digestion, increase the supply of blood and thereby invigorate the entire system.
